Chapter 1311: This Crap, Feeling Aggrieved!

After Chen Peilun entered the police station, Fang Qiu turned around to leave.

As he made his way to the airport, he dialed Li Ji's number.

"Hello?"

The phone was connected.

"Check out a bank account for me."

Fang Qiu said, "I've texted you the account number. I want to know about the transactions in this bank account for the past few months."

"Alright, I'll give you an answer in the afternoon."

Li Ji nodded knowingly and hung up.

Although Chen Peilun had turned himself in, Fang Qiu had to continue his own investigation.

He needed to confirm something. Were Chen Peilun and Li Guangsheng telling the truth? Could there be any other hidden secrets?

Fang Qiu arrived at the airport.

He bought an air ticket and flew back to the cultivation base to take charge of matters there.

The matter was under detailed investigation, yet its chain reaction wouldn't quieten down any time soon. Therefore, Fang Qiu had to be always ready to deal with unexpected situations.

In the afternoon...

In the office of the Beijiang cultivation base...

Fang Qiu received a call from Li Ji.

"What did you find out?"

Fang Qiu asked when he took the call.

"I checked it out."

Li Ji's voice sounded a little dismal. "Money entered the account through various channels and appeared scattered. Most of the sources could not be traced. But finally, I checked up on them and managed to find the originator."

"Who was it?"

Fang Qiu hurriedly asked.

"It's not just one person."

Li Ji gave a light sigh and continued, "This matter is related to several Chinese Medicine companies."

Fang Qiu was stunned by that.

“What Li Guangsheng said is true?”

“To avoid causing a public outcry, you must be careful how you handle this.”

Li Ji reminded him, “After all, it’s by no means a trivial matter. Too many companies are involved in this. Once it is made public, it’ll severely damage the reputation of the Chinese Medicine industry. Your Renyi Group could be unyielding support, and stand firm in this severe crisis. But our country can’t stand such a massive upheaval. The Chinese Medicine industry, which has just risen, can’t afford it either.”

Indeed...

Fang Qiu knew if Li Guangsheng told the truth, the whole thing would become complicated.

Judging from the information provided by Li Ji...

A huge number of Chinese Medicine companies had been involved in this matter.

The Chinese Medicine industry accounted for not only a small share of the global economy. If all the Chinese Medicine companies in the market involved in this matter were exposed, people would lose trust in traditional Chinese medicine. What was worse, the incident might cause financial turmoil!

“I’ll send you the list and the series of evidence later. You can decide how to deal with them then.”

Li Ji said.

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu nodded to show he understood and ended the call.

A minute later...

The list and information were sent to Fang Qiu's mobile phone.

He opened the list. When Fang Qiu scanned through the long list of names in silence, his face instantly changed — he felt shocked and outraged!

As Fang Qiu had expected...

It was exactly what Li Guangsheng had said.

Almost all the well-known Chinese Medicine companies were on this list, including the thirty companies that provided traditional Chinese medicine for his company!

“Great.”

“On the surface, they provided qualified medicinal herbs, but behind the scenes, they harbored such evil intentions!”

Fang Qiu was furious.

In the beginning, each of the 30 companies offered 50 million Huaxia coins to come aboard and secure a place to provide Chinese medicinal herbs for the Foundation.

However, it had only been a short time.

Why would these people bring trouble upon themselves?

They had also invested in the Foundation.

So, what the hell was their purpose?

Suppressing the anger in his heart, Fang Qiu pondered for a while.

But no matter how he thought about it, he couldn't figure out why these companies would do this.

"Whew..."

Fang Qiu shook his head and tried to clear his mind.

It had already happened.

There was no point in thinking about why they would do this.

He clicked on his phone's contact list.

He quickly found Zhao Shanlin's phone number and dialed it.

"Hello?"

The call was soon picked up.

"Mr. Zhao."

Fang Qiu called out and said, "Could I trouble you to do something?"

"Go ahead."

Zhao Shanlin's voice could be heard.

“I want you to help me find out the actual situation of Chinese medicinal herbs in the market.”

Fang Qiu said.

“Investigating the market?”

Zhao Shanlin asked with a smile, “I’ve wanted to do that for a long time, but I’ve been busy. I happen to be free these days, so I’ll go out and investigate later.”

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu nodded.

He remembered what Xu Miaolin had said quite clearly: traditional Chinese medicine had become the deadliest barrier in restricting the development of Chinese Medicine!

The efficacy of traditional Chinese medicine was no longer as potent as before.

But Fang Qiu didn’t know the specific situation of traditional Chinese medicine in the market today.

After such a scandal, he should try to find out the actual situation. He’d better learn about the status quo of traditional Chinese medicine, in case of an emergency!

After the phone call...

Fang Qiu continued to view the materials.

After he went through the entire list and the chain of evidence of all the dirty deals, Fang Qiu lapsed into a morose silence. The facts made his blood boil. In a towering rage, he even wanted to overturn the table!

He knew...

Once this matter was exposed, the market for traditional Chinese medicine would become volatile. It would bring immeasurable harm to the Chinese Medicine industry!

“This is why they had nothing to fear, right?”

At the thought of this...

Fang Qiu lapsed into complete silence.

Meanwhile, he felt anger rising sharply inside him!

Here...

The news that Chen Peilun had turned himself in quickly spread to the Blackhill Gate Village police station.

Because this case happened in Blackhill Gate Village, it was handled by the local police station. The police stations and departments in other places could only assist in the investigation.

As soon as the message was received...

Chief Pan Mingrui took his subordinates to Yangcheng Airport. When they received the bank card from Chen Peilun, they began interrogating him overnight without returning to Blackhill Gate Village.

After an entire night of interrogation...

Pan Mingrui got the final result and his confession.

Upon learning the truth, Pan Mingrui was shocked to the core, and sweat kept trickling down his forehead.

As the head of a police station, he couldn't believe it was true.

Those who were involved...

Almost all of them were today's big names and major companies.

Pan Mingrui could scarcely believe it, but all the evidence was irrefutable!

However...

He was just the chief of a small police station in a village. How could he handle such a serious, major criminal case? Although he wanted to accomplish something big, he didn't dare to deal with this case that involved so many people.

Almost all the Chinese Medicine companies had a part in it.

As the chief of a police station, he knew he couldn't decide how deep he could probe into this matter and what to do next. After all, nowadays, when dealing with a case, they should consider it from the law and social influence!

Without any other choice...

Pan Mingrui could only call and report the issue to his supervisor and wait for orders from the higher-ranking officials. He would do whatever they requested him to.

In the capital...

The incident about the shoddy drugs has widely spread the society and set off a long and heated discussion online. By taking this opportunity, the major Huaxia Chinese Medicine companies began to promote drugs produced by their own companies.

Surprisingly...

Employees watched these companies prosper with each passing day. Meanwhile, bosses of these companies turned on their computers in their offices and entered a video conference room.

The video conference room was very well hidden.

A few minutes later...

Many people entered the video conference room.

They were the bosses of all the major Chinese Medicine companies in the market. They were all here for a meeting.

"The meeting begins."

When everyone was present, one of them locked the meeting room. In this way, no outsiders could have access to enter the room, and no meeting participant could leave without permission before the meeting was over.

"According to the intelligence information, they have already tracked us down."

The meeting host asked, "Everyone, how do you plan to deal with this matter?"

"Deal with it? Humph."

One of them sneered disdainfully and said, "Why bother? I don't believe they dare punish us!"

"I think that they will when they discover the truth. Although they won't crack down on all of us, they will punish one as a warning to others. Of course, none of us would be willing to be the fall guy. Therefore, we should work together and pick a scapegoat. For example, we could set up a shell company and shift all the blame to it."

A middle-aged man with a square face said.

"It's not necessary!"

A man with gray hair shook his head coolly and said, "It's not the time to find a scapegoat yet. Even if the clues have led to us, they'll have to think twice before they take any action against us. Before they target us, there's no need for us to look for a scapegoat in a hurry. We only need to wait and see. And I believe they won't dare to turn the tables. Fang Qiu just has to swallow the anger and humiliation!"

As soon as he said that...

Everyone nodded in agreement.

This was what they had expected.

"Everyone, please."

The middle-aged man with gray hair spoke again and said with a light smile, "Don't forget: this is just a starter. We haven't yet begun our following plans."

All the others nodded and smiled when they heard that.

"Then that will do for the present."

The meeting host said, “However, I want to remind everyone. For our ultimate goal, everyone must work together and should not give in.”

All the people nodded in unison.

On the other side...

Pan Mingrui’s report to the leadership quickly got the attention of the higher-ups.

The report was sent from the police station at the county level to the provincial one. Finally, it reached the Public Security Department.

After learning the truth about the whole thing...

This was a real headache, even for the Public Security Department’s leader, who was also at a loss about what to do.

Helplessly, the leader could only report to his supervisor!

However...

Even the higher-ups didn’t know how to deal with this matter properly. After all, it involved too many people.

In the end...

Fang Qiu received a call.

“Beep, beep, beep...”

Sitting in the office, Fang Qiu got a call from the higher-ups.

“Hello?”

Fang Qiu answered the phone.

“Fang Qiu.”

A voice came from the other end of the phone, “I am from the Public Security Department. Some doctors from your Three Billion Foundation were found to have prescribed shoddy medicine. The truth has been uncovered and you must have known about it by now. This matter involves too many people, and you are the victim. So the higher-ups decided to ask for your opinion. How do you want to deal with this matter?”

“If you insist on dealing with it according to the law, we will listen to your opinion and let the law take its course!”

“However, the impact of this matter is too great. There are too many big things and important people involved in this. You have to think carefully before you make the decision.”

The voice stopped there.

Fang Qiu fell silent.

Chapter 1312: All Refuse to Provide Medicinal Herbs!

The call had not ended yet, but no one spoke.

Fang Qiu remained silent.

On the other side, the staff of the Public Security Department remained silent. He waited quietly for Fang Qiu's answer.

After a long time...

"Then settle the matter and keep it a secret."

Fang Qiu spoke in the end.

He had considered it for a long time, but when Fang Qiu said this, he felt deeply aggrieved!

He was the victim of this incident!

It almost ruined the Foundation's reputation!

Those people...

The bosses of those Chinese Medicine companies destroyed Li Guangsheng and Chen Peilun, brought misfortune to several doctors, and even nearly killed four patients!

Fang Qiu was filled with righteous rage. This evil thing they planned harmed him and many others, so he was eager to get justice.

But...

He couldn't do that.

His only option was to suppress his anger with all his might!

"Whew..."

After he heard Fang Qiu's answer, the person who called him finally breathed a sigh of relief. Then, he said, "Well, we'll let the intermediary shoulder the blame. He'll be responsible for everything. His friend actually doesn't have complete knowledge of this matter. So, we will just detain and fine him."

The man concluded.

Fang Qiu felt even more aggrieved.

He could hardly control himself and felt that he was about to explode with rage.

But...

At the thought of the overall situation, he could only hold back the deep sense of grievance in his heart.

He took in a large gulp of air.

Fang Qiu spoke up. When he was about to agree with it, he paused for a moment. Then he abruptly changed his mind. "Let's defer the decision and not close the case yet. Carry on with the interrogation. I want to fight against them!"

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the line.

"Okay."

After thinking for a moment, the other party agreed with the suggestion. "But you still need to consider the possible impact."

"I understand."

Fang Qiu acknowledged this with a nod.

He also wanted to close the case as soon as possible and let others know that the low-quality medicine had nothing to do with him and his Foundation. But he just couldn't grin and bear such a result!

Fang Qiu was a Chinese Medicine doctor.

In his eyes, after what these despicable people did, how could traditional Chinese medicine have a promising future?

He still needed to wait a little longer.

He had to wait for Mr. Zhao Shanlin's market research report. After he read it, he would reconsider how to deal with this matter.

"Knock, knock, knock..."

As soon as he finished the call, there was a knock on his office door.

Then...

The door was pushed open, and a familiar figure came in.

"What are you doing here?"

Fang Qiu was stunned when he saw the person.

It turned out to be Jiang Mengjie!

"Tell me, have you found the truth and the real criminal? After all, I'm working for the Foundation."

Jiang Mengjie asked.

“Yes, I found both.”

With a nod, Fang Qiu said, “However, this matter is tricky. We can’t solve it for the time being.”

At this point...

Fang Qiu shook his head and asked, “Let’s not talk about it. You came to see me. What’s the matter?”

“Mm.”

Jiang Mengjie nodded and said, “Yes. We are short of medicinal herbs because our supply of medicinal herbs was cut off. Last time, these countryside clinics got some, but all their medicinal herbs have been sealed up. Now, all our tens of thousands of clinics have no medicinal herbs to sell.”

While they were talking...

Jiang Mengjie walked to Fang Qiu’s desk, sighed gravely, and continued, “These clinics are open for patients, but the patients have to buy medicine from other places where they get their prescriptions. Due to this, the prices of medicinal herbs in pharmacies have increased more or less. It may not be a big deal for people in the city, but for people in the countryside, the medicine prices are indeed a little high. Now everyone is asking how we are going to solve this problem. What should we do?”

Fang Qiu listened to her carefully.

His face darkened.

The sense of grievance in his heart surged again.

Fang Qiu, who had been busy investigating the case, had never thought of this.

And now...

This was the problem.

In the countryside, there were 60,000 doctors, 60,000 clinics, and 60,000 villages with patients waiting for the medicine that would save their lives.

Before the truth was found out, Fang Qiu was reluctant to purchase medicinal herbs from those Chinese Medicine companies, but what else could he do now?

Would he have to swallow the grievances in his heart and beg those medicine merchants?

Fang Qiu went quiet for a moment.

He pondered over this problem for a long time.

“This is the list of a few pharmaceutical companies.”

Fang Qiu wrote a list, handed it to Jiang Mengjie, and said, “Get in touch with the drug makers, but don’t contact these pharmaceutical companies.”

Jiang Mengjie took the list and had a look.

She found out to her surprise...

It included all the well-known Chinese Medicine companies in the current market.

After skimming through the list, Jiang Mengjie frowned and said, "Besides these pharmaceutical companies, the others are not big. You want to get the medicine from those smaller companies. Are you sure about that?"

"Let's do this for now."

Fang Qiu sighed softly and said, "We'll cover the shortfall for the time being. Let's discuss it after the matter is fully resolved."

There was no other way.

This was the only solution Fang Qiu could see at the moment.

He could only stifle his indignation first.

However, as a doctor, Fang Qiu couldn't let the patients suffer, no matter how wronged and displeased he felt. Since those patients were either in pain or about to die, he couldn't treat their illnesses lightly!

"Contact our original suppliers of medicinal herbs to see if they are willing to continue to supply us with the medicine."

Fang Qiu said. For the sake of the patients, he had to be forbearing.

"Okay."

Jiang Mengjie nodded knowingly and said, "I'll contact them right away."

After that...

She walked out of his office.

In the office...

After Jiang Mengjie left, Fang Qiu clenched his fists and took a deep breath. Then he strode out of the base and dashed into the depths of the desert.

“Boom, boom, boom...”

A series of thunderous explosions immediately erupted from the depths of the quiet desert.

After a long time...

The deafening noise died down.

As the yellow sand rose and dispersed, Fang Qiu stopped.

Before him...

There was a huge sand pit!

Undoubtedly...

He had created this sandpit on the ground.

At this time...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

Fang Qiu’s cell phone suddenly rang in his trouser pocket.

He took it out and had a look.

Jiang Mengjie was calling him.

“How did it go?”

Fang Qiu, who had just vented most of his anger, answered the phone in a calm voice.

“There were 30 Chinese Medicine companies that supplied us with medicinal herbs. I’ve contacted them, but all of them adamantly refused to continue providing us with medicinal materials. They said that before the truth was found out, they didn’t want to cooperate with our Foundation.”

Jiang Mengjie said solemnly.

“Humph!”

Fang Qiu snorted coldly.

“These evildoers were impudent enough to say such high-sounding words!”

Fang Qiu had just given vent to his anger.

Because his pent-up anger was released a little, he could face this matter calmly.

The more sober-minded he was, the more he could think things through.

“Something’s not right.”

Fang Qiu suddenly thought of something.

This group of people spent so much time and effort to make such a big plan. Their purpose was to frame the Foundation and him, wasn't it?

And now...

The truth had been uncovered.

As soon as the misunderstanding was cleared up, the public would no longer target Fang Qiu.

In this case...

Would this group of people let this matter end so easily?

It cost them so much effort, money, and energy to set all this up. How could they allow Fang Qiu to crack it with such ease?

So, what if he had found out the truth?

They were in the dark. Even if they were found guilty, they had countless ways to get away with it. In particular, they knew well this matter could exert an enormous impact. Once the truth was announced, it would cause great turmoil.

Therefore, they felt emboldened and had nothing to fear.

Since it was so...

They weren't even afraid that the truth would be revealed to the public. How could they possibly give up?

Perhaps...

They still had a backup plan!

At the thought of this...

Fang Qiu's eyebrows rose and he said, "Contact them again an hour later and tell them the truth has been found out. There is proof that our Foundation was not involved at all!"

"Hum?"

Jiang Mengjie, slightly taken aback, asked, "I don't think you're in a good state. Since this investigation is complete, you should have a good rest. Don't get too anxious. It's the first time I've seen you under such great pressure."

"I'm fine."

Fang Qiu replied with a smile, "Rest assured. I'm only 20 years old. I'm very young and can take great pressure."

Jiang Mengjie looked at Fang Qiu.

She frowned slightly and couldn't help feeling sorry for Fang Qiu.

Here...

Fang Qiu knew perfectly well.

Since he wanted to compete with them, he had to figure out their true intentions. Only in this way could he handle them unflinchingly. Otherwise, many similar problems would arise and make things difficult for him!

When Jiang Mengjie left.

Fang Qiu found the number of the police station in Blackhill Gate Village on the Internet and dialed it at once.

"Hello, this is the police station."

A police officer answered the phone.

"I'm Fang Qiu. Could you put me through to Chief Pan?"

Fang Qiu asked.

"Okay, please wait a moment."

The police officer nodded and put the phone aside.

About two minutes later...

"Hello?"

Pan Mingrui's voice came from the other end.

"Chief Pan, I'm Fang Qiu."

Fang Qiu said, "I specially called you because I hope you can do me a favor."

“What?”

Pan Mingrui was startled.

“How could Fang Qiu need my help?”

“I hope you can show the investigation progress on your police station’s official Weibo account. It can prove that the Three Billion Foundation had nothing to do with this case.”

Fang Qiu said.

“Well...”

Upon hearing this request, Pan Mingrui couldn’t help but hesitate.

“The public has the right to know.”

Fang Qiu added, “Besides, this matter is indeed not related to our Foundation.”

After he finished speaking...

Pan Mingrui carefully thought about it.

His words made sense.

Fang Qiu and his Three Billion Foundation had been wronged. Although he didn’t dare to announce the truth of the case, he could at least prove their innocence.

“Okay.”

Pan Mingrui had intended to consult his supervisor about that. However, after careful consideration, he finally gritted his teeth with determination and nodded in agreement.

As the head of a police station...

He could undertake this job.

Moreover...

He heartily sympathized with the Foundation.

After all, it was built with the health of the villagers in mind. Besides, it was just an announcement that was not related to the Foundation. Issuing the statement wouldn't violate the principles.

“Thank you.”

Fang Qiu expressed his gratitude.

Sure enough...

Not long after, the official Weibo account of the police station in Blackhill Gate Village released an announcement.

“Following is the progress of the case in Blackhill Gate Village: Three Billion Foundation doctors selling fake traditional Chinese medicine. We've finished the preliminary investigation. According to the related clues and evidence, the case of shoddy traditional Chinese medicine is not connected to Mr. Fang Qiu and the Three Billion Foundation. Because this case is very complicated, it is not convenient to reveal the specific details.”

Chapter 1313: They All Refused!

The police station in the Blackhill Gate Village released the post.

It soon attracted the attention of all the netizens.

‘Three Billion Foundation doctors selling counterfeit drugs’ undoubtedly became the hottest topic that captured everyone’s attention.

The recent incident occurred in Blackhill Gate Village. So, this police station, as the local law-enforcing agency, had received considerable attention from netizens.

So...

Not long after the announcement was published on Weibo, hundreds of thousands of people viewed it!

One after another, netizens reposted and commented on it, giving likes.

Ten minutes later...

The netizens on Weibo burst into an uproar!

“It’s not related to the Foundation?”

“It isn’t related to Fang Qiu or the Foundation?”

“That is to say, Fang Qiu was not incompetent in handling the affairs of the Foundation. Did someone deliberately plot against him?”

“Since the police have said so, Fang Qiu and the Foundation should be innocent. It seems that we have misunderstood them.”

As more and more netizens commented on this matter, Fang Qiu’s fans instantly got excited and exalted!

They would never forget what had happened.

When this incident just broke out, they were besieged by many people and endured a lot of grievances. They felt too ashamed to defend themselves. Some of them didn’t even dare to log onto Weibo!

And now...

It was their turn to be proud and elated!

“Where are the douchebags who slandered our legendary Fang Qiu? Come out!”

“You directed volleys of abuse at him. This time, you must have received a really nasty shock.”

“We told you this matter was unrelated to Fang Qiu and the Foundation. Where are those who slandered Fang Qiu and his Foundation?”

“Amazing. Once again, conspiracy theorists have received a big slap in the face. It’s wonderful.”

“Many people had fiercely criticized Fang Qiu and the Foundation on this matter. Tell me, aren’t you ashamed of your conduct.”

Finally, Fang Qiu’s fans could hold their heads up and say they were right. They couldn’t help issuing a hail of vigorous counter-blows.

Soon, Fang Qiu's fans dominated the comments section of the Weibo account of the police station in the Blackhill Gate Village.

That was not all.

The official announcement declared that Fang Qiu and the Foundation had nothing to do with this matter at all. Meanwhile, Fang Qiu's fans created a brand new topic: 'Rumor-mongers who spread false news about Fang Qiu Always Get A slap in the Face!'

As soon as the topic was brought up...

It made it to the top of the trending topic list on Weibo in merely ten minutes. After that, as the news spread like wildfire, its ranking shot up at an amazing speed in the list of most popular topics!

Less than half an hour passed...

It took the top spot in the list of the most popular topics!

Everyone who clicked on the topic could see this...

Almost all of these comments were left by Fang Qiu's fans. With every word they said, they vehemently condemned those who had cursed Fang Qiu and the Foundation, including these conspiracy theorists!

None of these people refuted them.

However...

A one-sided battle was dull!

Fang Qiu's fans, proud and self-satisfied, spent more than half an hour searching for those conspiracy theorists. However, no one stood up to retaliate against them. These fans were bored and no longer challenged their opponents relentlessly.

"Since Fang Qiu and the Foundation were not involved, why was the news not released earlier?"

"As his fan, I strongly call for the police to find out the truth as soon as possible. We can't disappoint people like Legendary Fang Qiu, who do good things for the people."

"That's right. It's so disappointing. When Legendary Fang Qiu was framed, he must have been under intolerable psychological pressure. I just can't imagine it!"

"I could still remember that slap. Legendary Fang Qiu and the Foundation are innocent. Why did he have to take that slap? He was there to save people!"

"The above comment is right. Fang Qiu received that slap only because he was in a hurry to save patients!"

"I completely misunderstood Fang Qiu. He must have suffered a barrage of criticism and had genuine grievances. If I were him, I would have had a nervous breakdown long ago."

"On the way to save people, he harbored no regrets. He didn't complain when the woman slapped him before the camera. Instead, he undertook all the responsibilities. He was even willing to pay for the patient's treatment. I wronged such a good person for so long. How could I not believe him in the first place?"

"I'm sorry. I let Fang Qiu down, but I promise I won't do it again!"

For a time...

Lots of netizens began to admit their mistakes under this topic.

Not only Fang Qiu's fans but also passers-by left their apologies under the topic. It was because they had indeed misunderstood Fang Qiu. When they thought about it, they felt guilty. How much had Fang Qiu suffered?

On one side...

When Fang Qiu's relatives and friends saw the news released by the police, they were all relieved.

Even the police released a statement that clarified the whole matter. It meant that the incident had nothing to do with Fang Qiu and the Foundation. In this case, they no longer had to worry about Fang Qiu.

At the cultivation base...

When the Foundation got involved in the scandal, Jiang Mengjie returned to the cultivation base. She could only work there because the Foundation was under investigation.

Meanwhile...

The police station in Blackhill Gate Village published an announcement on its official Weibo account. As the Foundation's senior executive, Jiang Mengjie certainly saw it in the first place. When she saw the police had come forward to clarify the issue, she couldn't help but be shocked.

"How did he manage it?

"How could he ask the police to prove his innocence?"

While Jiang Mengjie was surprised...

Without hesitation, she called Qiming Pharmaceutical Company. It was the first to announce on Weibo that it would no longer cooperate with the Three Billion Foundation.

Before this...

She had already made a phone call, hoping the company could continue to provide them with Chinese medicinal herbs. However, Qiming Pharmaceutical Company gave her a firm reply.

It would never cooperate with the Three Billion Foundation before the truth came out!

And now...

The police had already clarified the matter. Was it time for Qiming Pharmaceutical Company to resume its medicine supply?

“Beep, beep, beep...”

After she dialed the number, Jiang Mengjie was full of expectation, as she waited for the Foundation to return to its normal operations.

She was a strong and independent woman.

Although she couldn't be considered a successful career woman, she carried herself with great pride and dignity.

In her opinion...

Such a thing happened not long after she joined the Foundation. In her mind, it seemed to be her responsibility. Thus, she was very keen to get the Foundation back on the rails!

“Hello?”

After a long time, the call was finally connected.

“Hello, Mr. Luo.”

Jiang Mengjie hurriedly said, “The local police station in Blackhill Gate Village, where the incident happened, has issued a notice on Weibo. It stated that our Foundation had nothing to do with counterfeit traditional Chinese medicine. Did you see that?”

“Oh? Is that so?”

A slow and careless voice came. “I didn’t see it. I’ll go and have a look now.”

After that...

He hung up.

Jiang Mengjie was shocked, for she didn’t expect him to end the call so quickly.

However...

The man had said he would take a look at the announcement from the police station, so Jiang Mengjie didn’t dare to disturb him. She could only wait.

She waited for about ten minutes.

Ten minutes later...

Jiang Mengjie called Mr. Luo again.

“Hello?”

The phone rang for nearly 30 seconds before it was picked up.

“Mr. Luo, have you seen it?”

Jiang Mengjie asked.

“Oh, not yet.”

A perfunctory voice sounded from the phone, “I’ll go and see it now.”

Then...

Once again, he rang off abruptly.

Jiang Mengjie frowned deeply.

She had a feeling that something was wrong.

She also had a temper and could be nasty. But at this time, she thought of Fang Qiu and the Foundation he had set up with so much effort. Thus, she could only suppress the anger in her heart and wait for the result quietly.

In a flash, another ten minutes had passed.

Jiang Mengjie dialed again.

“Mr. Luo, you must have seen it this time, right?”

When Jiang Mengjie got through, she asked directly.

“Yes, I’ve seen it.”

Mr. Luo answered briefly. “I saw it, but we have to discuss it further.”

“We need you to give us the exact time.”

Jiang Mengjie frowned and said, “How long will it take for you to finish your discussion?”

“I’m not certain about that.”

His voice came from the phone, “It’s not a small matter. We should have a full discussion.”

At this point...

Jiang Mengjie didn’t want to continue this meaningless talk, so she hung up the phone.

She knew it.

Mr. Luo was putting her off with false words!

What she said didn’t matter to him at all.

At the other end of the phone...

After Jiang Mengjie hung up on him, the middle-aged man with gray hair chuckled. Then, he turned to his computer on the desk and went on to read the documents.

On the other side...

Jiang Mengjie ended the call.

Immediately, she rushed to Fang Qiu's office.

"How is the situation?"

Fang Qiu asked when he saw Jiang Mengjie.

"Not good."

Jiang Mengjie shook her head and said, "I've tried to contact Qiming Pharmaceutical Company. It was the first to withdraw its cooperation with us and release the news. That was why I wanted to start with them. As long as this company relented, the other Chinese Medicine companies would follow suit, but..."

"You were rejected?"

Fang Qiu asked.

"Not really."

Jiang Mengjie shook her head and said, "I called him three times. In the first call, I told him to read the announcement issued by the police. Then, I called again and asked if he had seen the police's notice. In the last call, he said he saw it but needed some time to discuss it before he made a decision. I asked him how long it would take, but he couldn't give me a definite answer."

"I think he was stalling and wasting our time. He clearly had no intention to continue to cooperate with us."

Fang Qiu heard her report.

“Don’t worry.”

Fang Qiu comforted her with a smile, “There will always be a way to solve this problem. Don’t bother about such a trifling matter. Just take it slowly, one step at a time.”

As Fang Qiu comforted Jiang Mengjie...

He sneered in his heart. “It seems he is going to show his colors!”

“Then what should I do next?”

Jiang Mengjie asked with a frown.

“Well.”

Fang Qiu thought for a moment and said, “I’ve given you a list of Chinese Medicine companies. Contact them and ask if they would like to continue to provide us with Chinese Medicine herbs!”

“Okay.”

Jiang Mengjie nodded and turned around to leave.

He Xue had arranged a temporary office for her. Back there, Jiang Mengjie began to contact the Chinese Medicine companies on the list.

As a result...

Every time she made a call, she got turned down!

Some said they did not have enough supply of medicinal herbs.

Some made an excuse about the market prices have risen. They had to charge higher prices. However, when Jiang Mengjie enquired further, their prices were twice as high as the market prices.

Some people even claimed that they had never heard of the Foundation. Thus, Jiang Mengjie could only patiently introduce it to them. However, they hung up the phone impatiently.

Chapter 1314: I'll Wait and See!

Helplessly...

Jiang Mengjie could only turn back and tell Fang Qiu about this situation.

After Fang Qiu heard her report, his face turned gloomy.

"Contact the other Chinese Medicine companies, those you haven't contacted yet."

Fang Qiu said.

"Okay."

Jiang Mengjie nodded and agreed.

This time, she didn't leave. Instead, she called one company after another in Fang Qiu's office.

Aside, Fang Qiu watched her calling.

In the end...

Jiang Mengjie finished a round of calls. Though no company directly rejected her, none gave a definite answer.

Fang Qiu witnessed the whole process.

His face became colder and colder.

"First, they incriminated us with planted evidence. Then, they cut off the supply. They must have already made audacious plans."

Fang Qiu sneered.

Nearby...

"It's not working."

Jiang Mengjie said with a worried face after she contacted all the companies.

"Wait."

Fang Qiu comforted her with a smile. "It's okay. I've asked Mr. Zhao Shanlin to investigate the situation in the Chinese Medicine market. Let's wait for his investigation result first."

"Then what about these doctors in the countryside?"

Jiang Mengjie frowned and said, "Now all the doctors in the countryside are waiting for us to solve the problem, and so are many of the patients."

“I see.”

Fang Qiu thought it over and said, “Let them give the patients the prescriptions and ask them to buy the medicine elsewhere. Don’t charge the consultation fee. In this way, our patients can save some money to buy medicine. As for the doctors, the Foundation will compensate them according to the number of patients they had seen.”

“This seems to be the only way out.”

Jiang Mengjie nodded in agreement.

She knew it.

It was the best solution at present, but the Foundation would be under a great deal of pressure.

This method meant the Foundation would have to support these 60,000 doctors.

In just one day, merely the consultation fees of these doctors would cost them a lot of money!

Anyone else wouldn’t have the courage like Fang Qiu.

After all...

Fang Qiu didn’t set up the Foundation for money but for the doctors and patients!

Next...

Jiang Mengjie issued a notice instantly.

Over here...

Fang Qiu left the Beijiang cultivation base and rushed again to the site of the incident in Blackhill Gate Village.

Upon arrival, Fang Qiu went straight to the police station.

He was here to obtain all the evidence!

Before this...

Fang Qiu made up his mind: no matter how wretched he felt, he had to restrain his temper for the sake of his doctors, the patients in the countryside, the traditional Chinese medicine market, and the development of Chinese Medicine.

But now...

Even after he swallowed the humiliation, he wouldn't bring peace to the world.

His opponents had set up a series of interlocking traps and were waiting for him to step into them.

Fang Qiu was notably cool-headed.

Faced with this situation, he knew very well the consequences: his continuous concessions and compromises would only worsen the matter.

Since they pressed hard against him step by step...

Fang Qiu could only play with them by not overturning the tables.

"Let's see who will have the last laugh!"

He entered the police station.

Fang Qiu who knew his way around this police station went straight to Chief Pan's office.

When he saw Fang Qiu, Pan Mingrui was very puzzled. "Why is Fang Qiu here again?"

It turned out that Fang Qiu needed all the evidence for this case. Pan Mingrui wanted to refuse his request. However, on second thought, he recalled that Fang Qiu could even mobilize the police station in Yang Cheng. Obviously, he had some connections with the higher-ups. Otherwise, the police in Yang Cheng wouldn't hand over the suspect to him for interrogation.

That was to say...

The higher-ups must have acquiesced to Fang Qiu's actions in the past few days.

At the thought of this, Pan Mingrui handed over all the evidence he had found to Fang Qiu.

With the evidence...

Fang Qiu immediately set off to the base.

Meanwhile...

When he received all the evidence...

Under Jiang Mengjie's arrangements, the Foundation implemented a brand-new policy for doctors in the countryside.

Before this...

Doctors in the numerous countryside clinics were quite worried.

All their Chinese medicinal herbs had been sealed, and they received no new herbs. Worse still, these patients wouldn't leave even after they received the prescriptions. They stayed and waited for the medicine.

After all, traditional Chinese medicine in the clinic was cheap.

Since they couldn't get low-price medicine, many patients refused to pay the consultation fees. Doctors who worked in the clinics were now in a very awkward situation and they did not know what to do.

For these doctors, the most stressful part was...

After knowing they couldn't get the medicine, many villagers were unwilling to queue. They gathered in the clinic and waited to see the doctor until they could buy the medicine. Some of them were seriously ill.

Whenever there were any dangerously ill patients, these doctors could only help and examine them as soon as possible. They could ask someone to buy medicine for them from other pharmacies or do some simple treatments, like acupuncture.

Under these distressful circumstances...

All the doctors in the countryside felt very uncomfortable.

As soon as the subsidy policy of the Foundation was implemented, all the doctors in the countryside clinics were considerably relieved.

These clinics were back on track.

Since the medical fees were waived, the patients were willing to queue up to see the doctor.

These doctors got busy gradually. In their hearts, they couldn't help praising Fang Qiu.

They had just found a job that could fulfill their dreams. Their greatest dread was that they might be out of work.

Now...

When they saw how Fang Qiu reacted so actively, plus the Foundation's new policy, they finally felt relieved. In their hearts; they had greater confidence in Fang Qiu than before.

Soon...

With the implementation of the Foundation's policy, the countryside clinics began to return to normal. Those pharmaceutical companies that had been paying attention to this matter soon heard the news.

Half an hour later...

The leaders of major pharmaceutical companies once again gathered in an online conference room.

"Everyone knows the news, right?"

At the beginning of the meeting, a man with gray hair said, "Three Billion Foundation has implemented a new subsidy policy. They waived the medical fees to compensate their patients for the recent medicine price increase. Meanwhile, they offered subsidies to the doctors."

"What a surprise. Fang Qiu is quite tenacious. We cornered him, yet he didn't even think about begging us!"

"I did receive a call from the Foundation."

“Who didn’t get it? They called every one of us.”

“Is Fang Qiu going to pay for the battle against us?”

“He can afford it.”

“Indeed. Three Billion Foundation is not his only investment. He could pay the price. And if he is determined to confront us head-on, he can even support the Foundation with his money for a few years. During this period, he can plant herbs and open an industrial chain. In particular, his recent deeds will help him to gain more favor from the public. One day, he might succeed in making a complete supply chain of cultivation, production, diagnosis, and sales. In the meantime, the public’s love for him would reach its peak. At that time, not to mention one of us, all our companies and the whole industry would have to face tremendous impacts and challenges!”

“That’s a possibility a few years later. It’s hard to say whether he can hold on for a few more years!”

“That’s right. If he wants to achieve that, we should prevent him from achieving his goal!”

All of them were engaged in a heated discussion...

“Okay.”

The middle-aged man with gray hair, who was the leader, suddenly laughed and said, “Since everyone has decided, I’ll give you a suggestion. What do you think?”

“Now, Fang Qiu is supporting the doctors and patients with his money. Targeting these doctors is now meaningless. Although the Three Billion Foundation has many doctors, the number is limited. Thus, we will have to put him under tremendous pressure and make him helpless and exhausted. Then, he’ll have to ask for our help!”

“Therefore, there is no need for us to continue to target the Three Billion Foundation or those doctors. Patients are our greatest leverage!”

“Medicinal herbs are essential to patients. Fang Qiu waived the treatment fees to lower the medical cost of patients. Let’s raise the prices of all the medicinal herbs. In this way, those patients in the countryside can no longer afford the medicine!”

At this point...

The middle-aged man couldn’t help laughing in smug satisfaction.

“Great.”

A young man applauded and said, “Mr. Luo, you really live up to your reputation as the man who led the Qiming Pharmaceutical Company to the top of the pharmaceutical industry. It’s a brilliant idea.”

“That’s a good idea. All our companies hold almost 80% of the Chinese Medicine market. If we join forces, we can all raise the prices!”

“A great measure indeed. But if prices are raised too high, I’m afraid the government will intervene.”

As soon as he mentioned the government...

Everyone froze. A sudden silence fell over the room.

“How about this?”

Mr. Luo said with a cold smile, “Send someone to contact Fang Qiu and lay our cards on the table. He can’t blame us for doing that if he still doesn’t give in.”

“Even if the government comes to us, we can give them an explanation: since Fang Qiu and Three Billion Foundation refuse to cooperate, we can only cancel the preferential policies for drugs. After all, the incident of low-quality drugs has just occurred. We are afraid that something will go wrong!”

All the people in the conference room heard his suggestion.

They nodded in agreement.

The meeting was over.

The group of people went to make their arrangements.

On the other side...

Fang Qiu, who had just returned to the cultivation base, heard the latest news — the major Chinese Medicine companies would withdraw the drug discount policies and even raise the prices of Chinese medicinal herbs.

“Bang!”

The moment Fang Qiu heard the news, he couldn’t help but hit the desk and his face turned gloomy.

He never realized...

These businessmen could be so evil-minded.

The current medicine prices were already very high, but how could they push up the prices brazenly?

They were driving these patients into a desperate situation!

Fang Qiu gasped in shock.

In a burst of uncontrollable anger, he took in a large gulp of air to calm himself down. Then, he murmured, “Since you’ve come this far, I’m curious when you will launch the attack!”

Undoubtedly...

Increasing all drug prices would create unrest in the market, which would greatly influence the nation's interest. In this case, the government should step in.

However...

Fang Qiu had only heard the news. The increase in the prices of Chinese medicinal herbs hadn't yet been officially put on the agenda. It meant the black-hearted businessmen released this news as a warning to him.

"Before you guys formally raise the prices, you should show your true colors, right?"

"Let's wait and see!"

Fang Qiu snorted coldly!

Chapter 1315: The Real Purpose, the Cultivation Skills!!!

A few days later...

"Rumble..."

The vibration of an engine could be heard outside the cultivation base.

After some detailed inquiries from several soldiers, a car quickly drove into the cultivation base.

A young man, who looked like a business elite, got out of the car with a briefcase. Then, led by a staff member, he came to Fang Qiu's office.

In the office...

Fang Qiu sat at his desk as he searched for something on the Internet with his computer.

"Knock, knock, knock..."

There was a knock on the door.

"Come in."

Fang Qiu replied casually.

"Mr. Fang, someone wants to see you."

The staff member came in and informed Fang Qiu. Then he asked the young man to enter the office. Everything he had on was branded, from his suit, and sunglasses to his briefcase.

As soon as the young elite was inside Fang Qiu's office...

Fang Qiu's eyebrows immediately shot up.

"Hello, Mr. Fang Qiu."

The man approached Fang Qiu's desk with a smile and introduced himself, "My name is Yang Wenjun. I'm here on behalf of the major Chinese Medicine companies that cooperated with your Foundation.

"You can go now."

When he heard that, Fang Qiu turned to the staff and said.

When the staff member left...

The man named Yang Wenjun had already sat down before Fang Qiu's office desk.

"What can I do for you?"

Fang Qiu looked at Yang Wenjun indifferently and asked.

"Sure enough..."

Yang Wenjun put on a professional smile and said, "I'm here to negotiate with you on behalf of the pharmaceutical companies. Of course, I believe you know which specific pharmaceutical companies I represent. I'll skip the usual preliminaries and come straight to the point."

"These companies entrusted me with the task of negotiating with you. They are willing to continue to provide your Foundation with the same amount of medicinal herbs as before. We can absolutely guarantee that there will never be any fake or inferior medicine."

Fang Qiu heard his promise.

Yet, he remained indifferent and silent as he waited for him to state their request.

He knew...

Those evil pharmaceutical companies finally couldn't help but have a showdown.

Great. It just so happened that Fang Qiu could take this opportunity to see their real purpose.

Yang Wenjun saw that Fang Qiu did not give him any reply.

He shrugged carelessly and continued as he looked at Fang Qiu confidently, “Well, in return, my clients need something from you: the cultivation technique of planting Desert Cistanche, Tianshan Snow Lotus, and Dendrobe.”

“Do take note that the cultivation technique they want isn’t for ordinary medicinal herbs but for top-notch herb medicinal herbs!”

After he said that...

Yang Wenjun looked at Fang Qiu avidly as he waited for his response.

After Fang Qiu heard his words...

He finally realized that the ultimate purpose of these black-hearted pharmaceutical companies turned out to be this!

Abruptly...

He cracked a smile.

He laughed happily in a fury of grief!

He was happy because he had figured out the wishful thinking of these heartless pharmaceutical companies. Meanwhile, his heart was filled with grief and indignation. To make more money, these pharmaceutical companies were gambling with the doctors working in the countryside and villagers’ lives!

These merciless merchants...

They shamelessly sought personal gain like greedy wolves!

On the opposite side of the desk...

When Fang Qiu burst out laughing, Yang Wenjun's expression changed slightly, and he instantly looked less confident. Meanwhile, a trace of displeasure appeared on his face.

He seemed to be very dissatisfied with Fang Qiu's reaction.

People like him were always full of confidence and they always thought they could easily handle all kinds of situations. But once he encountered setbacks, he would start to be impatient.

"You don't need to ask."

Though Yang Wenjun still didn't get a reply from Fang Qiu, he said, "We have confirmed that you provide the potential wonder medicinal herbs for Renyi Group, so you don't have to deny it."

"What if I turn you down?"

Fang Qiu asked indifferently.

"Seriously?"

Yang Wenjun immediately laughed and said, "You should know the consequences. If you choose not to share the technique, you won't get any medicine. I believe you've seen the rumors on the Internet. Not merely you but all the clinics under Three Billion Foundation can't get any medicine. At the same time, in all areas covered by Three Billion Foundation, the medicine prices will be back to normal or even be raised above the normal prices."

"Then what?"

Fang Qiu sneered.

“I hate to be blunt, Mr. Fang.”

Yang Wenjun stood up and said to Fang Qiu, “But my clients have carefully discussed it. Since you established a Foundation for public interests, you should take people’s well-being as your duty. I suggest you think about your doctors and all their patients and reconsider our offer.”

“Of course, as a Chinese Medicine practitioner, you have always been focused on promoting and developing Chinese Medicine. So, for Chinese Medicine, you should give some serious consideration to our offer. Since you have such a good cultivation technique, shouldn’t you spread it and benefit the whole world?”

At this point...

Yang Wenjun, full of confidence, waited for Fang Qiu’s answer.

In his opinion, Fang Qiu had been forced into a desperate situation. In any case, he would win the negotiation!

But the next moment...

Fang Qiu said.

“Scram!”

Fang Qiu’s reply was an unequivocal ‘scram’.

“Okay.”

Yang Wenjun nodded with a smile and reached out to get the contract in his briefcase. Suddenly, he stopped groping around in the briefcase and froze there. Then, with a blank expression, he looked up at Fang Qiu and asked, "What did you say?"

"I told you to get lost!!"

Fang Qiu ordered, stressing each word.

As soon as he said that...

Yang Wenjun's face instantly turned extremely ugly. He immediately pulled his hand out of his briefcase and stared at Fang Qiu. He threatened through gritted teeth, "I advise you not to cause damage to your own interest!"

"You're the ones who brought disgrace upon yourselves!"

Fang Qiu snapped.

"Humph!"

"You'll regret it!"

Yang Wenjun snorted angrily, shot up, and stormed out with his briefcase.

Just after he left...

Jiang Mengjie rushed in.

"I heard that the pharmaceutical companies have sent someone to negotiate with you?"

Walking into the office, Jiang Mengjie glanced at the departing back of Yang Wenjun, who flounced angrily out of the office. Then, she asked Fang Qiu with a puzzled face.

“Mm.”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “Next, to suppress us, these Chinese Medicine merchants will increase the overall price of Chinese Medicine herbs.

“What?”

Jiang Mengjie frowned and said, “The current price of traditional Chinese medicine is high enough. If they go on raising the price, how can patients afford it?

“Send out a notice: once these pharmaceutical companies raise the price officially, we will offer full subsidies. No matter how much they raise the price, we’ll fill the gap!”

Fang Qiu ordered coldly with a gloomy face.

“But...”

Jiang Mengjie’s frown grew deeper.

If that were the case, how much would they have to spend?

“There is no other option in this.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “Just do it!”

Outside...

As Yang Wenjun left the Beijiang cultivation base, he immediately called the others and spread the news of Fang Qiu's refusal to the drug makers.

As soon as they received the message...

These pharmaceutical companies immediately held a video conference.

"How could he turn our suggestion down?"

"More than that, he even refused to negotiate with us!"

"Humph, I didn't expect Fang Qiu to be so bold and resolute in his actions."

"Fang Qiu is not a fool. He has pulled off impressive achievements, so he has brains. I'm afraid it won't be so easy to subdue him."

In the video conference room, the executives of major pharmaceutical companies were all looking at each other in dismay.

Little did they foresee that Fang Qiu would refuse them so straightforwardly. According to their original plan, as long as Fang Qiu was willing to negotiate, they could get the cultivation method for one medicine first. As for the planting skills for other drugs, they could take their time and get them one by one.

Unexpectedly...

Fang Qiu didn't even give them a chance to talk and rudely drove out the negotiator.

He took no notice of the considerable pressure they put on him!

"At this point, we have to find a way."

Amid the depressing atmosphere, Mr. Luo, the gray-haired man from Qiming Pharmaceutical Company, said, "We have all underestimated Fang Qiu. Now I believe you all feel the same way as I do. This guy has started a mini crisis here. According to the latest information, his cultivation technology can greatly shorten the growth cycle of herbs. For example, Tianshan Snow Lotus can be harvested and made into medicine in only one month. If he cultivates all the other medicinal herbs with this technique, all of us will be doomed. Without the advanced cultivation skill, the potency of medicine produced by us is far inferior to Fang Qiu's!"

"We've gathered to plan something big because we were worried about this. Am I right?"

Everyone nodded in agreement.

Indeed...

They had united to fight against Fang Qiu and the Foundation because they feared Fang Qiu would plant other medicinal herbs with the magic cultivation technique of growing Desert Cistanche. In the end, there would be no way out for their companies.

"It can be seen that Fang Qiu is already preparing to fight back, so we can't give him a chance to develop. We must get his cultivation technique when he is not so strong. It's a matter of life and death!"

Mr. Luo's voice was heard.

In the conference room, everyone's faces gradually became solemn.

At first, they thought that they could easily thwart Fang Qiu by framing the Foundation. In this way, they could easily take the planting technique from Fang Qiu.

But now, it was apparent that their initial plan wouldn't work!

Soon...

This group of people got down to a serious discussion.

“Let me give my suggestion first.”

Mr. Luo said, “Firstly, we should try negotiating with Fang Qiu. After all, we are not locked in mortal combat yet. Fang Qiu refused us once but might agree with us the second time. When we can’t force him to give in, we can resort to inducements. We can spend some money to get the cultivation technique. This is the first-best plan.”

“Secondly, if Fang Qiu is determined to have a life-and-death struggle with us, we can only launch a public opinion attack. We’ll target the Renyi Group first, by cooperating with the Honggang media and foreign media. Do you remember the failure of Bawang Anti-falling Shampoo that year? We can do the same trick. We can ruin Fang Qiu’s reputation by linking Desert Cistanche products with cancer. Afterward, we’ll find a way to get the cultivation technique. It’s our second-best plan.”

“Thirdly, keep Three Billion Foundation as our target. We can join forces and accuse them of creating suspicious accounts and not conscientiously implementing policies. It’s our third-best plan!”

After Mr. Luo finished speaking...

He looked at everyone and asked, “What do you guys think?”

Medical Master

Chapter 1316: If This Continues, Chinese Medicine Will Be Over!

In the online conference room...

Everyone nodded in agreement when they heard Mr. Luo’s proposal.

“At present, all three strategies are feasible. They should work out well.”

“Then which one do we choose?”

“Since Fang Qiu refused to negotiate, he must be quite hostile toward us. So, we should pick up the third plan to crush him first. After that, we’ll talk about other things.”

“I agree! This ungrateful guy did not appreciate our kindness. We sent someone to discuss things with him, but he refused the offer. Since he doesn’t know how to appreciate favors, don’t blame us for being ruthless!”

“No. We should proceed step by step. Fang Qiu would likely have obtained the key evidence of the case. But under pressure, he would not dare to release it. In this situation, we can’t corner him. If forced to a dead end, he may release the evidence. Both of us will be weakened by the dispute.”

Upon hearing these words, everyone fell silent.

Indeed.

A cornered man would do something desperate!

They had pushed Fang Qiu too far. If they carried out their deadly schemes, they were not sure if Fang Qiu would expose their crimes.

“Then what should we do?”

After a long interval of silence, one of them asked.

“In my opinion, we should use the first-best plan!”

Another one said, “Though under our threat, Fang Qiu refused our offer. It was because he could afford to pay the price. We should stop using force as a form of intimidation. This time, let’s resort to inducements. We will give him whatever he wants. As soon as we get the cultivation technique, we’ll wrangle our way out of the tight corner.”

“I second that.”

Mr. Luo opened his mouth. “It’s exactly what I thought.”

The others heard their discussion.

They repeatedly nodded as they mulled over their thoughts.

“Okay, then it’s settled. Let’s start with the first-best plan!”

Mr. Luo finally made the final decision.

But at this time...

“But if Fang Qiu can’t go through with this, he might fight against us at the risk of mutual destruction. What shall we do then?”

The man asked with an extremely anxious look.

Obviously, he was a bit timid and overly worried.

But...

Weren’t the others beset by the same concern?

After his question, everyone fell silent.

“No way!”

There was suddenly a strained atmosphere. Mr. Luo frowned and said, "The government will never allow him to do so. The truth involves many big things. Don't forget that we are major taxpayers from all over the country. Even if Fang Qiu discloses the evidence, local governments will come to our aid."

After his little speech...

Everyone felt slightly relieved.

In their minds, Fang Qiu wouldn't dare to make this into a life-and-death situation. But after all, they had broken the law and were engaged in all kinds of discreditable affairs. It was normal for them to feel a little worried and afraid.

"Then, let's choose the person."

Mr. Luo thought about it and asked, "Any suitable candidates?"

In Beijiāng...

At the cultivation base...

"Boom..."

After he drove Yang Wenjun away, Fang Qiu waited in the office.

In the afternoon...

The sounds of an engine could be heard in the base.

Instantly, Fang Qiu walked out of the office.

He knew what was going on.

Even if those medicine merchants were ready to pester him, they couldn't have sent another person so quickly.

The person was unlikely to be a representative of those pharmaceutical companies. Then, only his people could freely enter and exit the cultivation base.

Recently, only one person had gone away.

It was Zhao Shanlin!

As Fang Qiu had expected...

When he came out of the office, he saw Zhao Shanlin hurriedly getting out of the car and walking over. He seemed to be quite worn out by the long journey.

"Mr. Zhao."

Fang Qiu walked up to greet him.

"I have completed the task you gave me."

Zhao Shanlin replied with a smile, but his face immediately darkened again.

"Let's go to the meeting room and talk."

Hearing that, Fang Qiu took Zhao Shanlin and the others to the meeting room.

Soon...

They came to the conference room.

Fang Qiu first asked someone to bring a pot of tea. After he poured a cup of tea for Zhao Shanlin and the others, he sat down at the conference table.

Zhao Shanlin also took his seat hurriedly. After taking a sip of tea he shook his head, looked at Fang Qiu, and said, "It's terrible. If I had not done this market investigation, I would never believe the Chinese medicinal herb market was like this!"

"What's the problem?"

Fang Qiu's face changed when he heard that.

Mr. Zhao Shanlin, who had always been mild, would only become serious when dealing with things related to traditional Chinese medicine.

And now...

He made these critical remarks. Fang Qiu couldn't help wondering how bad the current Chinese Medicine market might be.

"The status quo is much more serious!"

Zhao Shanlin shook his head and said, "We split up and visited practically all the centers that distributed Chinese medicinal herbs throughout the country. It was shocking to see all the undesirable scenes!"

"What did you find out?"

A frown crossed Fang Qiu's brows.

“Even Mr. Zhao Shanlin has said so.

“The facts about the pharmaceutical market might turn my stomach.”

“I’ve fully investigated the present market. Lots of chaotic phenomena exist. First of all, the market is glutted with fake and inferior products!”

Zhao Shanlin frowned and said, his face growing grave. “With the faster exhaustion of our wild medicinal plants, the prices of Chinese medicinal herbs have been rising every year. As a result, different species are mixed up on purpose, and many substitutes appeared in the market. In one distributing center for Chinese medicinal herbs, I saw herbs like bletilla tuber, Paris polyphylla, atractylodes rhizome, root of herbaceous peony, and Viola philippica. The consumption of their substitutes and inferior products is even higher than that of the genuine ones. The same is true for many other medicinal herbs!”

Fang Qiu heard his report.

His face fell.

He also didn’t expect the current Chinese Medicine market to be so chaotic.

However, judging from Mr. Zhao’s attitude, making use of shoddy drugs was just a minor problem.

Zhu Benzhen and the other two came back with Zhao Shanlin. Fang Qiu noticed that all of them looked solemn and serious.

“Besides low-quality products, the adulteration of herbs was more common.”

Speaking of this, Zhao Shanlin couldn’t help rebuking angrily, “Those black-hearted businessmen are utterly detestable. Some produced medicinal herbs using Epsom salts. What’s worse, most of their products are drugs that are in great demand, for example, umbellate pore fungus, rhizome of large-headed atractylodes, root of balloon flower, and coptis. Medicinal herbs processed with this chemical method look pale and are covered with crystal substances. Such herbs are heavier in weight and it's very difficult for customers to tell the genuine from the fake."

"I also came across a series of methods to increase the weight, such as adding talcum powder to radix paeoniae alba, sand grains to plantain seed, brown sugar to longan, dirt to cicada slough, and dyed sawdust to safflower. Patients are the ones who suffer when they take all these shoddy herbs!"

"Besides, they produce counterfeits with molds, look for replacements similar to genuine herbs, add medicine dregs, sell non-medicinal herb parts, and so on."

"Some counterfeits look so real that even I can't tell whether they're real or fake drugs."

"These counterfeits simply have reached the acme of perfection!"

Zhao Shanlin denounced indignantly, his face flaming with anger.

He must have been pissed off when he did a study of the market.

"In addition to counterfeiting, there is another big problem: profiteering.

At the mention of this, Zhao Shanlin could no longer sit still. He stood up and said, "Before being processed, herbs are regarded as subsidiary agricultural products. Thus, even poor-quality medicinal herbs can enter the market, and anyone can trade and sell them. As a result, sole traders and small companies undertake most of the jobs of growing, processing, and making herbs. However, the standard operating procedures of these people are poor. Their workshops are usually underdeveloped, with merely a few pieces of working equipment and they work amid primitive conditions. These places are usually poorly managed and with bad sanitary conditions. I even saw them spread the medicinal herbs on the road to dry them. Mildewed and worm-eaten medicinal herbs could be seen everywhere!"

"Well, that's not the worst part. The most worrying thing is that these products that vary dramatically in quality will face all kinds of competition in the market. Those dealers seek nothing but profits. They're willing to disregard moral principles for the sake of money. Cheap but medicinal herbs that only look good are the most favorable. These people are ready to sell anything to make money."

“As a consequence, more problems emerge in the Chinese Medicine market. Gradually, genuine and indigenous medicinal herbs vanished from the mercenary market. Herbs are no longer harvested according to the season. There are serious problems like herbs with excessive pesticide residue and the blinded introduction of varieties, etc.”

After that...

Zhao Shanlin kept shaking his head in great disappointment. After a heavy sigh, he turned to look at Fang Qiu and said, “Growers are suppressed, processors pay no attention to the hygienic conditions, producers are trying their best to use cheap herbs and increase the weight of the herbs, traders raise the prices in every possible way to make more money. All of this is the overall situation of the current Chinese Medicine market.”

“When a medicinal herb goes from the cultivation field to one patient, do you know how many times its price has increased?”

Zhao Shanlin asked Fang Qiu.

“I have no idea.”

Fang Qiu shook his head.

“20 to 30 times, at least!”

Zhao Shanlin said, “In particular, the prices of some high-end healthcare medicinal herbs will rise more than a hundred times. These herbs bring in huge profits!”

At this point...

“In the past few days, I hardly rested and visited all the people and firms related to the distribution of Chinese medicinal herbs.”

“With the information from the distributing center, I went to the small companies that collected and sold medicinal herbs. Also, I visited the self-employed households that planted medicinal herbs and the pharmaceutical factories. At last, I paid a visit to the market that sold the end products.”

“I’ve been to privately owned workshops. The sanitation was poor and their products were also of poor quality. There were some herbs that no longer had any medicinal effects, but they could still sell them to some enterprises.”

“Small enterprises would collect medicinal herbs from these individual workshops. In general, they divided medicinal herbs into three grades: effective, ineffective, and harmful herbs. Paying only meager prices, they take away all the medicinal herbs from the workshops. After that, they would carry out further processing. They would adulterate good medicinal herbs with poor ones to increase their weight and sell them at higher prices. As for those ineffective herbs, they would be further processed and turned into normal-looking herbs. These people would mix harmful medicinal herbs with some inferior ones and grind them. The medicinal powder could be sold at high prices!”

“The current situation of the whole market is exceedingly shocking!”

Zhao Shanlin said. He closed his eyes tightly as he recalled the miserable scenes he had encountered.

“The youngest.”

On one side, Zhu Benzhen had not spoken for a long time. Suddenly, he poured out his grief to Fang Qiu, “Mr. Zhao is right. We’ve seen everything. If it goes on like this, the days of Chinese Medicine will be over!”

Medical Master

Chapter 1317: A Way Out, Indigenous Medicinal Herbs!

Zhao Shanlin finished sharing his experience.

Fang Qiu also fell silent.

He had thought the Chinese Medicine market should be healthy. Inevitably, there were always some people who liked playing tricks, but on the whole, the Chinese Medicine market was not bad.

But now...

Zhao Shanlin's account of it shocked Fang Qiu to the core.

He didn't expect the situation to be so serious. While Mr. Zhao described what happened in great detail, Fang Qiu imagined those scenes, and his heart was filled with sadness.

Chinese medicine herbs...

They formed the foundation of Chinese Medicine!

Without available Chinese medicinal herbs, what would be the use of Chinese Medicine?

If the situation continued to worsen, as Zhu Benzheng had said, Chinese Medicine would be doomed!

When traditional Chinese medicine was no longer effective, even the most outstanding Chinese medicine practitioner would be useless.

"Mr. Zhao."

Fang Qiu looked at Zhao Shanlin solemnly and asked, "What do you think we should do?"

"Indigenous medicinal herbs!"

Zhao Shanlin expressed his thoughts. "We have to guarantee the quality of medicinal herbs. We need to make fundamental changes and standardize the cultivation techniques of indigenous medicinal herbs."

“Indigenous medicinal herbs?”

After Fang Qiu heard what he said...

On the spot, he began to mull over his idea.

What were indigenous medicinal herbs?

It was a specific medicinal herb produced in a particular place. For thousands of years, countless Chinese Medicine doctors had proved it to have the best medicinal property.

For example, there was pseudo-ginseng in Yunnan.

Pseudo-ginseng in Yunnan had more of the authentic properties of medicine than pseudo-ginseng in other places throughout the country. Thus, pseudo-ginseng in Yunnan could be regarded as an indigenous medicinal herb!

The cultivation of indigenous medicinal herbs appeared simple. Predecessors in ancient times had marked out the sites where the best local medicinal herbs could be cultivated. Therefore, medicinal herbs would be planted in the areas most suitable for them to thrive. However, the reality was far more complicated.

The most appealing feature of indigenous medicinal herbs was their outstanding efficacy. Effective medicinal herbs were the most popular, which would certainly be favored by pharmaceutical merchants. Those preferred herbs by merchants would attract a large number of individual farmers.

This was a cycle. But indigenous medicinal herbs might be ruined at many turning points in the cycle.

For instance...

To make more money, individual agricultural households wouldn't spend time creating a healthy growing environment for herbs. After the harvest, they didn't know how to preserve herbs well and pay attention to sanitation. As a result, medicinal herbs might get damp and mildewed.

Later, when pharmaceutical companies collected these herbs, many other issues would emerge.

With this, there would be problems at each stage.

How could it be so simple to avoid all these problems?

"Give me some time. Let me think about it..."

Fang Qiu agreed with Zhao Shanlin's proposed solution, but he had to carefully think about the specific details. He should know exactly what he would do.

At this time...

"Beep, beep, beep..."

Suddenly, Fang Qiu's cell phone rang and pulled him back from his deep thoughts.

He took it out and had a look.

It was a call from He Xue.

"Hello?"

Fang Qiu answered it without delay.

"Where are you?"

He heard He Xue's question.

"I'm in the conference room."

Fang Qiu said.

"Great. Someone dispatched by these Chinese Medicine companies came to our base, saying he was here to negotiate with you. What's going on?"

He Xue asked.

After there was a problem with the Foundation, He Xue was afraid that something bad would also happen to the Renyi Group. She helped Fang Qiu call the police and detain a few doctors who had escaped. After that, she devoted herself to the Renyi Group's affairs and thoroughly checked all the group's medicine. Meanwhile, she had to discuss the problems about the various drugs with major domestic pharmaceutical companies and some foreign companies. She had been so occupied that she was not clear about Fang Qiu's business, so she had to ask him on the phone.

"Bring him to my office. After I receive him, let's have a meeting. I'll update everyone on the latest situation."

Fang Qiu explained patiently.

"Okay."

He Xue nodded in response.

Then she hung up.

"Mr. Zhao, please go and have a rest first. Let's have a special meeting later."

Fang Qiu said.

“Okay.”

Zhao Shanlin nodded in agreement.

He just returned in a hurry and did not have a good rest yet. Moreover, he had been too agitated by the current situation about the Chinese medicinal herbs and could not sleep well in the past few days and didn't even have time to take a shower.

He could take this interval to take a shower and relax a little.

“You three can leave too.”

Fang Qiu said to Zhu Benzhen and the other two people.

“Mm.”

The three of them nodded in succession.

After that...

The five of them walked out of the conference room.

Fang Qiu walked toward his office while Zhao Shanlin, Zhu Benzhen, and the other two returned to their dormitories.

A minute later...

Fang Qiu arrived at his office.

At this time...

He Xue was waiting outside the door with the visitor.

“Hello, Mr. Fang Qiu.”

When he saw Fang Qiu, the man standing with He Xue came over immediately. He bowed to Fang Qiu and stretched out his hand, saying, “My surname is Qu. I’m Qu Tianneng.”

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

He went straight into the office without shaking his hand or replying.

“I’ll go and prepare for the meeting first.”

Because Fang Qiu was not quite himself at this time, He Xue didn’t follow him into the office. Instead, she turned around and left.

Qu Tianneng, who had followed her here, walked into the office after Fang Qiu.

“Go ahead.”

Sitting down at his desk, Fang Qiu looked at the middle-aged man named Qu Tianneng before him and asked, “What do they want to do? Are they going to continue to threaten me?”

“No, no, no.”

Qu Tianneng hurriedly stepped forward with an obsequious smile. He sat at Fang Qiu's desk, smiled, and said, "You misunderstood us. How could we threaten you? I'm here to talk with you. We'll have a fair, just, and open negotiation."

"So, you want to play in a fair, just, and open way?"

Fang Qiu laughed sarcastically.

"Here's the thing."

Qu Tianneng ignored the sneer on Fang Qiu's face and said, "You must have been very clear about what they want, so I won't explain too much. I don't know what your last negotiation was with my clients, but I can assure you: I'm here to seek pleasant cooperation with you."

"Let's cut the crap."

Qu Tianneng took a contract out of his briefcase, put it before Fang Qiu, and said, "One billion!"

"Your cultivation technique is superb. It has attracted my clients' attention. Your cultivation technology can contribute a lot to the development of Chinese Medicine. Have you ever thought about that? You've been working hard to advance Chinese Medicine, haven't you? Now there is such a great opportunity before you."

"If you're willing to share it, my clients can pay the money instantly. With the money, you can help the public. Meanwhile, your cultivation technique can be spread widely. Once my clients use this technique, they can produce many more potent Chinese medicinal herbs. We can sell Huaxia medicinal herbs all over the world if we join forces. In this way, not only can it benefit human beings, but it can also promote Chinese Medicine worldwide and it can gain international recognition."

"You can achieve two things at one go. Why don't you do it?"

Qu Tianneng looked at Fang Qiu with a smile.

“That’s a good consideration.”

Fang Qiu smiled scornfully and asked, “My cultivation methods and your clients’ patent technologies, which ones do you think are greater?”

“Hum?”

Qu Tianneng was stunned and didn’t know why Fang Qiu suddenly asked this question. He was a little confused.

“Well, I think my cultivation skills are more valuable.”

Fang Qiu continued, “In this case, I’d like to pay one billion to buy all your patents. Let me help you benefit all mankind. What do you think of it?”

“Anyway, I am devoted to promoting Chinese Medicine and benefitting human beings. It’s more appropriate for me to do this, isn’t it?”

As soon as he finished speaking...

Qu Tianneng was stupefied with amazement.

He did not expect Fang Qiu to suggest such a thing.

Fortunately, he came with other backup plans. Otherwise, Fang Qiu’s suggestion would have extinguished his hope!

“Just listen to me.”

Qu Tianneng quickly changed the topic and said, "As long as you agree to sell your cultivation technique, we can pay you more. After getting your cultivation technique through normal channels, we'll fully support your Foundation to help more patients and even provide some free drugs."

"Of course, we'll also assist you in developing your business. With our strength, as long as we want to do it, we can rapidly make you one of the top ten cultivation giants in the country or even in the world. But first of all, you should sign this contract!"

Opposite him...

Fang Qiu listened, his face expressionless.

Looking at Fang Qiu's poker face, Qu Tianneng frowned slightly and tried to persuade Fang Qiu from different aspects.

But no matter what he said, Fang Qiu remained unmoved.

Eventually...

After he spoke for a long time, Qu Tianneng couldn't think of anything else to say.

He uttered the last sentence and was about to ask Fang Qiu again.

"Have you finished?"

Fang Qiu asked abruptly.

"Mm."

Qu Tianneng quickly replied, "Then what do you think of it?"

“Get out!”

Fang Qiu gave him a blank stare.

“Ah?”

Qu Tianneng was taken aback.

“Wait.”

Qu Tianneng finally understood Fang Qiu’s intention and hastily added, “Tell me if you want anything more. We can agree to any terms if you agree to share your cultivation technique.”

“You can get lost now!”

Fang Qiu snorted coldly.

Fang Qiu couldn’t transfer his cultivation method. But even if he could, he would never share it with these despicable and black-hearted businessmen!

“How about you take some time to reconsider it?”

Qu Tianneng asked with a grin.

“Get out right now!”

Fang Qiu shouted out loud.

“Okay, okay, okay,”

Qu Tianneng seemed to be frightened. He shot up from his seat and said with a flattering smile, “Think twice about it. This is my business card. Call me at any time after you think it through.”

After that...

He left his card on Fang Qiu’s desk and turned to leave.

Qu Tianneng walked out of the cultivation base.

His face instantly changed.

He took out his mobile phone and made a call.

“The negotiation is over. This guy refused point-blank to cooperate!”

At the other end of the phone...

Mr. Luo, who had received the news, narrowed his eyes and said, “I see.”

Then he ended the call.

Mr. Luo quickly clicked on his phone, opened a WeChat group, and quickly sent a message. “The first-best plan failed. Let’s prepare for the second-best plan!”

Here...

Fang Qiu returned to the conference room. He found all the people were there except for Jiang Mengjie.

After all, this was a meeting of shareholders. Although Jiang Mengjie was the Foundation's senior executive, she was not a shareholder. Thus, she had no right to attend the meeting.

Fang Qiu walked to the conference table and sat on the host seat. He frowned and said seriously "I have to tell all of you the very stark reality!"

Medical Master

Chapter 1318: I'll Give Them a Nightmare!

In the conference room...

All the shareholders from the Renyi Group were seated around the conference table.

Everyone's eyes were fixed on Fang Qiu, who had just entered the room.

"The stark reality?"

Yang Ningyuan and Li Qihua had just rushed over. They exchanged confused glances.

Near him...

He Xue was also very curious.

What was this stark reality that Fang Qiu had mentioned?

However, Zhao Shanlin, Zhu Benzhen, and the other two people didn't seem curious about Fang Qiu's words. Instead, they took what he said for granted.

The four of them mistakenly thought the stark reality mentioned by Fang Qiu was the chaos of the current Chinese Medicine market!

But Fang Qiu's following sentence made them frown as well.

"It's not about the case of counterfeit drugs or the Chinese Medicine market. Instead, I want you to know the stark reality that we're all being pushed to the edge of a cliff!"

Fang Qiu's gloomy voice was heard.

Everyone in the meeting room was shocked.

No one knew what was going on.

What did Fang Qiu mean by this?

Although everyone present hadn't been in frequent contact with Fang Qiu, they knew Fang Qiu very well. Nevertheless, they had never seen Fang Qiu being so serious and gloomy.

Fang Qiu's face darkened.

He was telling everyone they were in serious trouble!

"Fang Qiu, hasn't the Foundation's matter been temporarily settled? The police have already issued a notice that the Foundation was not involved in any way, right?"

Zhao Shanlin asked.

"Sure"

Fang Qiu nodded and said, "We can put aside the matter of the Foundation for the time being. It is just a trivial problem compared to what I'm going to say."

"A small matter?"

All the others were shocked.

How could the crisis of the Foundation not be a big deal? Then, what big issue would Fang Qiu talk about?

They exchanged glances.

Everyone became very serious.

"The previous matter was directed at the Renyi Group and me from the beginning!"

Fang Qiu took a deep breath, looked at everyone, and said, "The truth of the matter has been revealed. These Chinese Medicine merchants in the current market united and elaborately planned the plot against the Foundation."

The news came as a surprise...

In the conference room, the faces of the group changed in shock.

"Do you mean all the Chinese Medicine merchants in the market?"

Li Qihua asked, frowning.

"That's right."

Fang Qiu nodded with certainty and said, "I've got all the evidence. First, they found a widely known intermediary who engaged in all sorts of illicit trading in Yang Cheng. This man's name was Li Guangsheng. These united pharmaceutical merchants provided him with a large outlay and benefits. Then Li Guangsheng came forward and found a few doctors and asked them to sell shoddy medicinal herbs. To ensure that their tracks would be covered, these medicine merchants transferred the funds from these illicit activities for Li Guangsheng to Chen Peilun's bank card. Then, Chen Peilun, a pharmacy owner, would hand over the money to Li Guangsheng."

"I've checked all the facts myself. Li Guangsheng was about to escape abroad but was intercepted at the airport. Chen Peilun also went to the police station to turn himself and I accompanied him!"

When everyone in the conference room heard this...

Their faces turned ghastly.

"Why would they do that?"

Zhao Shanlin asked in confusion.

"The Foundation is not their ultimate target. But by using it, they could attack you and eventually our Renyi Group?"

Yang Ningyuan asked and his frown deepened.

"You're right."

Fang Qiu nodded and said, "A few days ago, they sent a negotiator to talk to me. I had never figured out the real purpose of their attack against the Foundation. After I met the negotiator, I finally learned about their ultimate goal. They had no intention of overthrowing the Foundation. Instead, they've been coveting our cultivation technique for the Desert Cistanche, Snow Lotus, and Dendrobe!

"What?"

All the people present were instantly shocked.

“For our cultivation technique?”

He Xue’s face instantly darkened as she said, “These people are bold and highly ambitious. How could they set their greedy eyes on our cultivation technique?”

“We can’t give it to them.”

Zhao Shanlin shook his head and said, “No matter what, our cultivation technique is unique. We all know everything we have earned today is through it. They are trying to sap the roots of our group!”

At this moment...

They finally understood how serious this matter was.

No one had expected this.

How could those pharmaceutical companies be so delusional?

“The negotiator came and threatened me with the medicine prices. If I refuse to give them the cultivation technology, they would stop supplying all the Chinese Medicine drugs to our Foundation. In addition, they would raise all the prices of Chinese medicinal herbs. As a result, we would have no medicine for our patients, who were too poor to buy their medicinal herbs at higher prices!”

Fang Qiu’s eyes narrowed as he said this gloomily.

“What’s your decision?”

He Xue immediately asked.

"I refused."

Fang Qiu added, "I've released a new subsidy policy for the Foundation. No consultation fees will be charged, and the Foundation will compensate doctors for their losses!"

"Mm."

He Xue nodded knowingly.

When the others heard this, they nodded in agreement.

Indeed...

It seemed to be the best solution they could think of.

"Before this meeting, I met the second negotiator they sent."

Fang Qiu said, "Compared with the threat last time, they seem to have come up with new tactics. They offered one billion to buy our cultivation technology, but I rejected them again."

"Is the negotiator the man I saw just now?"

He Xue asked, cocking her eyebrows.

Now, she finally understood why Fang Qiu's expression looked so strange when he saw that person.

"Yes."

Fang Qiu nodded.

“I shouldn’t have brought him in.”

He Xue shook her head as she spoke.

“It isn’t your problem. Even if you didn’t bring this person in, they would find other ways to negotiate with me.”

Fang Qiu soothed her.

Aside...

The others could no longer conceal the shock in their hearts.

“May I confirm it? A group of Chinese Medicine companies has been trying to grind us down. Are there only a few companies or all of them?”

Li Qihua asked.

“There are more than 80% of the Chinese Medicine companies that have earned themselves a reputation. Only those unknown small companies didn’t join them.”

Fang Qiu said.

“So many?”

Zhu Benzhen exclaimed in surprise.

Before this, everyone thought their rivals were just the 30 Chinese Medicine merchants that cooperated with the Foundation. But it turned out that there were many more opponents in addition to them.

They were under the siege of the entire Chinese Medicine industry!

The more they thought about it, the more stunned they became.

“Damn it. They must be green with envy, right?”

Zhou Xiaotian stormed, “They all rise against us when we have found a different way to make a buck. How could they come up with so many insidious and caustic tricks? ”

“These people are seized with crazy ideas.”

Sun Hao also denounced indignantly, “They’d better hope I don’t find any chance to deal with them. I’ll crack them down at any opportunity!”

“It seems they still don’t know the relationship between Fang Qiu and the Renyi Group. They wouldn’t have dared to do this if they had known it.”

Zhu Benzhen said.

“You’re wrong.”

Yang Ningyuan said, shaking his head, “Once they know Fang Qiu is the Renyi Group’s chairman, they will do something even more insane!”

After such a statement...

Fang Qiu, Li Qihua, and He Xue nodded in succession.

“Our Renyi Group is the largest company on the market. They don’t dare to offend us only because they don’t know who the Renyi Group’s chairman is. They are afraid of displeasing anyone they shouldn’t and can’t provoke. They might even suspect that the Renyi Group belongs to the country, so they daren’t do anything to the Renyi Group. Then, they could only try to find out why the Renyi Group could outshine others. At last, they dug out information about our cultivation technology.”

Yang Ningyuan analyzed the situation. “If they discover Fang Qiu is the Renyi Group’s chairman, they will go even further and make a desperate move. Therefore, we should keep it a secret. At least, they know that Li Qihua and I are managing the group. We have some prestige and power in the business circle, but we still work under the chairman. Think about it. How can anyone have the guts to go against such a mysterious and powerful leader?”

Fang Qiu nodded approvingly.

“Let’s talk about this.”

Yang Ningyuan changed the subject. “Now, we’re in the open while our opponents are undercover. They can do everything possible to deal with us, but we can’t expose the evidence of their crimes in our hands. After all, this matter involves too many things and people. Once we produce the evidence, this issue will become a major public scandal and exert a devastating impact on society. The stock market will be severely affected, not to mention the Chinese Medicine industry. The local authorities won’t allow their evidence of crimes to be released.”

Everyone heard his words.

Their faces darkened.

Zhu Benzhen and the other two felt even more aggrieved. Their eyes turned red with anger, but they didn’t know what to do.

“They’ve sent over two negotiators in a row. These pharmaceutical companies seem to be determined to get our cultivation technique. The first time, they failed to intimidate us. The second time, what they offered didn’t work. This time, I guess they may soon use unscrupulous means.”

Yang Ningyuan said with a worried frown.

The others also looked solemn.

The most unfortunate thing was that they didn’t know what dirty tricks the other party would use. Even if they wanted to defend themselves, they didn’t know where to start.

For a moment, everyone began racking their brains for a solution.

“Let’s take corresponding measures as the situation calls for!”

Seeing how the others were so worried, Fang Qiu broke into a smile.

“Do you have a good solution?”

He Xue asked hastily.

“I shared the information with you because I need your help.”

A mysterious smile flickered across Fang Qiu’s face. After turning the second negotiator out of the door, he suddenly had an idea.

In the past, after taking into account the social stability and the current hard-won situation of Chinese medicine, he couldn’t bring himself to ruin everything.

As a result, his opponents thought he was at their mercy.

Fang Qiu admitted that he didn't dare to wreck the overall situation, but it was the same with his rivals, wasn't it?

It was hard to say which side was more likely to bow down before threats!

He wanted to have some fun with these people without damaging the overall situation.

He would crack down on these profiteers!

The bad guys should get their just deserts!

The world needed justice!

Righteousness is doing what is right!

Then, he said, "Next, all of us should pay more attention to their movements. Meanwhile, Brother Yang and Brother Li, please keep an eye out for their dirty tricks. If they start doing anything evil, I'll make them sorry. But I will make them suffer even if they do not make any moves!"

"Hey."

Hearing this, Yang Ningyuan frowned slightly and asked, "You want to do it in a big way regardless of the consequences?"

"No."

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "I'm going to give them a nightmare! I'll make sure they can never wake up from it!"

“A nightmare?”

Li Qihua paused and asked with a smile, “I’m quite curious about it. What are you going to do?”

“They’re convinced I couldn’t bear to jeopardize our overall interest. Yes, they’re right. I can suppress my indignation and swallow the insults.”

Speaking of this, Fang Qiu sneered. “Because I have to consider the overall interest, I can’t punish them on a grand scale. But, I can crush them one by one!”

Medical Master

Chapter 1319: Counterattack Begins!

Fang Qiu had just finished speaking.

Everyone instantly thought of the few pharmaceutical companies destroyed by Fang Qiu!

Yang Ningyuan and Li Qihua were super impressed with that. They entered the pharmaceutical industry by taking advantage of Fang Qiu’s power. Last time, they successfully took over the few pharmaceutical companies crushed by Fang Qiu. On this basis, they gradually achieved success.

It had only been a little more than a year.

“Did Fang Qiu just declare his intention to fight on?”

The others were thinking hard about a way out. All at once, their gloomy faces brightened when they heard Fang Qiu’s words.

At present, in Huaxia and even the whole world...

Fang Qiu was the most elite and attention-grabbing leader in the Chinese Medicine industry. His decision carried enormous weight.

If Fang Qiu had made up his mind to deal with these pharmaceutical companies, he could destroy them one by one without much effort.

After all, few pharmaceutical companies could guarantee the quality of all their medicinal products.

The most important thing was...

Since the current Chinese Medicine market was in such a mess, how could their drugs be good?

It was easy to find fault with them.

“We know who our enemies are. As long as they dare to make a move, I’ll instantly let them live in continual fear of being ruined in the next second. I’d like to see who can win in the end!”

Fang Qiu snorted coldly.

Zhu Benzhen and the other two people listened attentively to him.

Their eyes kindled with excitement. They looked at Fang Qiu, full of confidence and expectation.

At that moment, they suddenly felt that Fang Qiu...

The Revenge King, who had once stunned them totally, had been revived.

Heavy blows would soon bombard those who had a hand in going against Fang Qiu!

At this time...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

All of a sudden, Li Qihua’s mobile phone rang.

It was a text message.

Li Qihua picked up his phone and took a look. Then his eyebrows instantly shot up and he said, “It seems we don’t have to keep an eye on them. They have already started playing their rotten tricks.”

“Hm?”

Everyone was stupefied at the news and turned to look at Li Qihua in unison.

“Let me read it for you.”

Li Qihua turned on his phone and said, “This is the headline news of Apple Daily, the biggest newspaper in Honggang: A world-shaking scam? The Earthly Immortal Pills from the Renyi Group may contain carcinogens!”

When all the people in the conference room heard the news...

Their faces changed drastically.

“They directly targeted our group’s medicinal herbs! How could they be so wicked?”

He Xue abruptly rose to her feet and rebuked in anger, “Aren’t these people afraid that we’ll fall out with them?”

“Take it easy.”

Yang Ningyuan shook his head, motioning for He Xue to sit down, and said, "Even if we look for them in the name of Renyi Group, they will shift the blame onto the Desert Cistanche planted by Fang Qiu. They will keep themselves out of the mess."

"There's no need to fear rumors."

Zhao Shanlin shook his head scornfully and said, "A straight foot is not afraid of a crooked shoe. No matter how many rumors they spread, it can't change the quality of our medicine."

"But these guys have gone too far this time!"

He Xue was displeased.

"Yes, they're way out of line."

The anger in Zhu Benzhen's heart flared up.

"The youngest, there is no need to talk nonsense with these guys. Just do what you have to do. Finish them off!"

Zhou Xiaotian also exploded with rage.

"I agree. Being merciful to the enemy is being cruel to ourselves. They've been raining heavy blows on us, but we could only passively respond to their attacks. It's time for them to see what we can do!"

Sun Hao said.

With this...

Everyone, including Zhao Shanlin, Yang Ningyuan, and Li Qihua, looked at Fang Qiu, their eyes filled with anger.

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu met everyone’s blazing gazes. A cold light flashed across his eyes and he said, “In that case, let’s get started!”

Once he announced it...

Everyone burned with righteous indignation.

It was going to be a large-scale clash.

It would be a thrilling business war that would make one’s blood boil in excitement.!

“Everyone, listen to me.”

Fang Qiu’s eyes narrowed and he began to assign tasks.

Initially...

They had faith in Fang Qiu’s abilities. But when they faced such an unexpected situation, they were still a little worried and thought it would be difficult to find a solution quickly.

However, when Fang Qiu made the arrangements, everyone’s eyes brightened visibly.

They did not expect this at all.

It was extraordinary that Fang Qiu had actual solutions to these tricky problems.

Especially when they heard the last part of Fang Qiu's plan, everyone in the conference room couldn't help gasping in wonder. Even Yang Ningyuan and Li Qihua, who were used to the big picture, were astonished!

Fang Qiu, who could come up with effective measures, was a wise man with a broad outlook!

"What do you guys think?"

Fang Qiu asked after he revealed to them the whole plan.

"We will fully support you."

Zhu Benzhen and the other two people stood up together and expressed their determination.

After they discovered the truth...

The three hot-blooded young men had been holding back their anger for a long time. Finally, they got an opportunity to wipe out their opponents. How could they not do their best?

"I support your decision."

Even Zhao Shanlin, who always had a mild disposition nodded in agreement without hesitation.

"I'm in."

He Xue also nodded in support.

Well...

In her mind, Fang Qiu had always been a mighty leader. But because she had been managing the group's affairs, there were hardly any chances for Fang Qiu to show his strength. As a result, He Xue didn't know how capable Fang Qiu was. But when she heard Fang Qiu's whole plan, she was even more confused about his mysterious capabilities.

Anyway, she couldn't come up with such a plan.

Notably...

It was a perfect plan, way better than any other solution!

"Brilliant young fellow!"

Yang Ningyuan laughed heartily and said, "In the beginning, Brother Li and I were perfectly happy to merge our companies into your group because you were in charge. Now we're even more certain that we made the right decision. Stick to your plan. We'll spare no pains to support you."

"We should avoid trouble when necessary. But when it's time to launch an all-out offensive, we must crack down relentlessly on our enemies with deadly accuracy and speed!"

Li Qihua chimed in with the others.

Apparently...

All the shareholders were unanimous in supporting him.

On the other side...

In the WeChat group of pharmaceutical companies...

“Haha, the news has appeared in the newspapers in Honggang. In a few hours, the news will spread all over Honggang, to the other cities, and even foreign countries.”

One of them reposted a piece of news from Honggang and attached a message with a triumphant smile.

“This time, let’s see if he will be ruined.”

“What if the Renyi Group blames us for the incident?”

“It’s none of our business. Our target is the miraculous Desert Cistanche grown by Fang Qiu, not the Renyi Group.”

“That’s right. We have freedom of speech in this era. How could we even not be allowed to question a product?”

“Haha, isn’t he a tough guy? I’d like to see him become anxious and unsettled when the number of critical remarks from the public against him rises!”

“Humph, he is merely an insignificant Chinese Medicine doctor. How dare he go against us? How reckless of him!!”

“He will have to pay the price of going against our whole industry!”

“Wait and see. He’ll weep bitter tears of remorse.”

“Ha-ha!”

In the WeChat group, leaders of major Chinese Medicine companies were feverishly swapping their imagined scenes with glee as they visualized how miserable Fang Qiu would be. Whenever Fang Qiu’s troubled look came across their minds, they would feel a quiver of excitement.

They chatted with each other.

Suddenly...

Someone released a screenshot in the group.

They clicked on it — it was the latest post on the Three Billion Foundation's official Weibo account.

They took a closer look.

"The latest progress of the case: according to the results of the police's investigation and sufficient evidence, Qiming Pharmaceutical Company was found to be one of the parties involved in the case of shoddy traditional Chinese medicine. Therefore, our Foundation has decided to stop all business dealings with Qiming Pharmaceutical Company. Meanwhile, we have officially filed a criminal charge against it to the Capital Intermediate People's Court!"

There was also a photo in this post.

It was about...

It turned out to be an indictment. The prosecutor was Three Billion Foundation, and the defendant was Qiming Pharmaceutical Company!

At the sight of the screenshot...

Everyone in the WeChat group of pharmaceutical companies was startled!

"@Mr. Luo, what's going on? Have you received a summons from the court?"

"Is this guy crazy? How dare he pick on Mr. Luo?"

“Is Fang Qiu going to declare war on all of us regardless of the dire consequences?”

“What does this announcement mean? Why did it only mention Mr. Luo’s company?”

In no time...

The atmosphere in the group changed.

In Qiming Pharmaceutical Company’s office building...

Mr. Luo was skimming through some documents in the chairman’s office. From time to time, he would scan the messages in the WeChat group, laughing out loud in smug satisfaction. Abruptly, he panicked because he also saw the screenshot.

“Damn it!”

Without sending a reply to the WeChat group, Mr. Luo hurriedly picked up the phone on his desk and summoned his assistant from outside.

“What’s going on? Why would Three Billion Foundation sue us? Why didn’t anyone inform me about it in advance?”

Mr. Luo asked angrily.

“I just got the news. Three Billion Foundation brought the suit before the court half an hour ago. We don’t know what’s happening either.”

The assistant answered in a panic.

“Go.”

Mr. Luo slammed his hand on the desk and ordered, “Go to the court right now and find out what’s happening!”

Immediately, the assistant turned around and hurried out.

However...

He didn’t need to inquire about it anymore.

It was because another screenshot was sent to the WeChat group.

This time, it was no longer about Three Billion Foundation’s official Weibo account. Instead, it was a post released on Fang Qiu’s personal Weibo account!

In this Weibo post...

Without any further ado, Fang Qiu presented the chain of evidence. He pointed out the relationship among doctors, middleman A, middleman B, and Qiming Pharmaceutical Company. In addition, there was enough evidence to prove these people didn’t do any formal business dealings with each other!

Fang Qiu’s Weibo account...

Tens of millions of people followed it.

Because of the latest scandal, some people unfollowed Fang Qiu on Weibo. Later, the police declared that the fake medicinal herbs had nothing to do with Fang Qiu and the Foundation. After that, those who no longer paid attention to Fang Qiu returned to his Weibo account and even brought many new fans.

As soon as this brand-new post was sent out...

Without a doubt, countless people viewed it immediately.

“What the hell! This is irrefutable evidence!”

“Qiming Pharmaceutical Company seems to be the first company to stop their cooperation with the Foundation and publicize their decision. When they released the news, they made a good impression on many people. I didn’t expect them to be the initiator of this scandal!”

“Oh, bloody hell! This company is so shameless. It kicked Fang Qiu when he was down and fooled all of us. Beyond all these, it was also the chief offender when it came to slandering the Foundation. That is extremely shameless!.”

Chapter 1320: He Is in Trouble, Not My Business

Just half an hour later...

Tens of millions of people browsed Fang Qiu’s Weibo post about the evidence.

On the Weibo...

All the netizens who saw this post forwarded and shared the post and it soon spread like wildfire.

After netizens learned the truth of the matter...

In a flash, their anger, which had accumulated for more than ten days, finally erupted.

Numerous people crowded into the official Weibo account of Qiming Pharmaceutical Company and left all kinds of abusive remarks.

“Shameless rubbish! These people are worse than beasts. They carried out sordid moves and kept slinging mud at others to vilify their reputation!”

“Shame on you. How could such a company survive in this era? The Food and Drug General Administration should investigate this company thoroughly. Since they could even slander the Foundation, they must have dared to do other stuff. Perhaps, all the drugs produced by this company are inferior!”

“Tell your boss to go to hell right now. He even had the guts to frame Three Billion Foundation! It is a non-profit organization that is doing everything for the citizens’ health. How could you attack such a kind organization and brazenly frame it? How could a company with ill intentions be qualified to sell medicine?”

“Fuck, I’ll never buy any of your products from now on.”

“A bunch of bastards! All your conscience must have gone to the dogs. It’s an insult to my eyes to look at you!”

All sorts of abusive remarks flooded the official Weibo account of Qiming Pharmaceutical Company.

Meanwhile...

In the chairman’s office of Qiming Pharmaceutical Company...

“Mr. Luo, bad news.”

The secretary rushed in and said, “Our company’s official website has been hacked. All the previous contents are gone. We can only see three words.”

“What are they?”

Mr. Luo asked with a gloomy face.

“Heartless Drug Maker.”

The secretary said, gritting his teeth.

“What?”

Mr. Luo immediately accessed the official website using the computer on his desk. As expected, the official website had been hacked. There were three large, black words on the page: Heartless Drug Maker.

Aside it was an animated image.

It was a picture of a person’s heart being gnawed by a dog.

It was a mockery to show that the conscience of Qiming Pharmaceutical Company had gone to the dogs!

“Mr. Luo.”

Another person burst in and reported, “Something big happened. A lot of unknown netizens have accessed our company’s official Weibo account. Their messages and comments are all very vile. Our official Weibo account is nearly frozen. The network publicity department has turned off the functions for comments and reposts. But various posts against our company have appeared in the major online communities. Some people have posted our company’s inside information. Now, numerous calls that keep flooding in have nearly blown up our company’s phones.

When Mr. Luo heard the news...

He barked furiously, "What's the point of me paying you? Suppress this matter immediately, no matter how much it costs."

As soon as he finished speaking...

"Hello, Mr. Luo."

Another startled cry was heard.

A middle-aged man darted into the office in a fluster, holding a laptop that showed the stock market's real-time situation. He strode to the desk, put the laptop on it, and said, "Our company's stock hit an all-time low!"

"What?"

Mr. Luo shivered all over.

He suddenly grabbed the laptop and took a closer look at it. In an instant, his eyes filled with panic.

"Get lost! All of you, get out!"

Looking at everyone in the office, Mr. Luo stood up and ordered, "Do what you should do. Don't just stand here. Do not enter my office before this crisis is resolved!"

He didn't want his subordinates to see him in such a sorry state.

However...

He already looked so pathetic.

All the others walked out.

Mr. Luo fell back limply onto his chair. Then he hurriedly snatched up his phone on the desk, opened the WeChat group, and sent a message, "What should I do? My Weibo account has been closed because of the overwhelming insulting remarks. Hackers have shut down my official website, and my stock price has plunged to the limit. What can I do now? Tell me, what should I do next?"

He sent his message.

One minute went by. Then, three minutes... And five more minutes passed by.

There was no notification of any new messages in the WeChat group.

Mr. Luo could only hear the sound of the antique mechanical clock in his office.

"Tick, tock, tick, tock..."

The series of monotonous sounds made him extremely nervous and edge.

Ten minutes slipped by.

Still, there were no replies.

"Tick, tock, tick, tock..."

The clock still ticked away.

"Ah!"

In a great rage, Mr. Luo suddenly roared, seized the cup, and violently hurled it at the wall clock.

The large clock fell to the ground with a loud thud.

But its ticking sound still continued.

“Tick, tock, tick, tock...”

The awful sound didn’t go away...

It antagonized Mr. Luo further, driving him mad.

He suddenly shot up and stormed to the clock and trampled on it violently. Only then did his office quiet down.

“Tick, tock, tick, tock. It sounded like a death knell for me!”

“Damn. We agreed to share the hardships! We’re in this together!”

Grabbing his phone, Mr. Luo turned on the voice recording function and shouted into the phone, “My company is in trouble. Are you just going to stand by and watch?”

His message was delivered.

In the group chat, all the companies’ bosses saw it.

But...

They didn't know what to do for the moment.

Actually...

They did not respond because they were waiting. Would Fang Qiu wipe out all of them or only attack Qiming Pharmaceutical Company?

They waited for a long time.

After the Foundation announced the problem with Qiming Pharmaceutical Company, it took no further action.

In addition, after publishing the evidence against Qiming Pharmaceutical Company, Fang Qiu did nothing else!

It seemed...

This time, Fang Qiu only intended to bring down Qiming Pharmaceutical Company and did not target their companies.

After they confirmed it...

The other drug makers in the group finally heaved a sigh of relief.

And it was then that...

Someone replied in the WeChat group.

"Make a statement and say you're the victim of a frame-up!"

In the office...

As soon as the notification sound of WeChat messages came...

Mr. Luo, who had collapsed onto the chair, suddenly shuddered with excitement and grabbed his phone to check the message in no time.

However, after a glance...

His face was instantly filled with intense rage!

“Fang Qiu has the evidence. What’s the use of denying it?”

Mr. Luo strongly condemned the others, “Is it right for you to look on so coldly? When Fang Qiu dealt with me, he started a general war against us. I’m the first one. After this, none of you will get away scot-free. Fang Qiu will never let you go.”

Leaders of all the major Chinese Medicine companies in the group saw it.

They all snorted at his remarks.

Every one of them was sure that...

Fang Qiu would never dare go against all of them.

Moreover...

All the others could ensure their safety — they had asked the local leaders of officials to back them up. To avoid terrible consequences, they put pressure on the local government to protect them. Therefore, how could they believe Fang Qiu would act on impulse and sacrifice all parties’ interests?

No one replied.

With intense resentment in his heart, Mr. Luo said, "If Fang Qiu knows about the news released in Honggang, I won't be the only one who will be in trouble!"

After that...

In the group chat, all the major pharmaceutical companies' bosses were shocked.

Then...

Without any hesitation, they hurriedly withdrew the various bits of news that slandered the Renyi Group.

Once Fang Qiu noticed the news, no one knew how many more of the companies' deep dark secrets would be disclosed.

And most importantly...

Fang Qiu alone was a real headache for them. At this critical point, they wouldn't be so foolish as to make an enemy of the Renyi Group. For one thing, the group's mysterious chairman might be a high-ranking official. For another, Yang Ningyuan and Li Qihua, the seconds-in-command of the Renyi Group, were not people to be trifled with.

Therefore, it was best to remove those slanderous pieces of news as soon as possible.

More than ten minutes later...

All kinds of news about the frame-up were removed.

Once they knew that the messages had been recalled, those drug makers in the WeChat group were slightly relieved.

For them, one thing was certain.

They would not provoke Fang Qiu any further for the time being.

After all, none of them knew how much evidence Fang Qiu had. What if he had proof against all of them? In this case, Fang Qiu might not avenge himself in a big way. But if he chose to defeat them one by one by exposing their dark secrets, they would scarcely be able to cope with the situation!

“Humph, you’re starting to destroy all the incriminating evidence already?”

Seeing them quickly removing all the news that slandered Fang Qiu, Mr. Luo threatened them again. “I’ll give you some time. Hurry up and give me some solutions. We’re in the same boat. If you don’t help me out, don’t think that your businesses will remain unaffected by all this.”

Everyone saw this.

They were all scared as they feared that Mr. Luo would expose their evil deeds.

After all...

Mr. Luo, one of the members who made this big plan, had even hosted several meetings. Thus, he might have kept some videos and recordings, not to mention that he was a vital witness.

When Mr. Luo was forced to a dead end, he might fight at the risk of mutual destruction. Then, it would be a disaster for all of them.

“Mr. Luo, don’t act on impulse.”

“Yes, yes, yes. There’s no need to be impulsive. We’re facing the same challenges. How can we stand by and do nothing to support you? Now we’ll help you find a way out.”

Afterward...

Everyone began to look for ways and means to solve the crisis.

At the sight of these promises...

Mr. Luo’s gloomy face finally softened a little.

After a long silence...

“Mr. Luo, well, given your current situation, you will have to sacrifice some minor things to save the major ones. How about you learn from Fang Qiu? Stand up and take all the blame, then announce that you will conduct a rigorous investigation. Then, you can tell the public that someone in your company had secretly done the deed. Find a scapegoat and get him to bear the responsibility!

They all agreed on this.

This method seemed the only way to save Qiming Pharmaceutical Company from destruction.

But just as everyone animatedly echoed the view...

Mr. Luo raised a question.

“I’ve suffered such a heavy loss. Aren’t you going to make up for my loss?”

After he sent out the question...

To his disappointment...

Of one accord, they overlooked his request.

“This problem requires urgent action. You should make haste to launch a public relations campaign. We’ll talk about the rest after your company stabilizes.”

“That’s right. At this time, the most important thing is to react quickly. You must solve the problem first. The longer you delay, the more easily you’ll arouse suspicion. In the end, the impact of negative news against your company may last for a long time.”

“Go ahead and do it. Seize every minute to save yourself and your company!”

They urged him.

In this situation...

Although Mr. Luo felt uneasy about their answers, he could only act on their suggestions.

After a while...

The official Weibo account of Qiming Pharmaceutical Company released a statement.

“First of all, our company would like to sincerely apologize to the public. Before this, we did not know some of our employees were involved in this matter. At the same time, we are grateful for Three Billion Foundation’s supervision and Fang Qiu’s reminder. Our company has now joined forces with the police to conduct an internal investigation. We have made a vow to find the real criminals. At the same time, our company will willingly compensate the Three Billion Foundation for all their losses and bear all legal responsibilities!”
