Medical Master

Chapter 1431: Can Fang Qiu Return to His Home Country?

“Well done.”

General Will burst out laughing when hearing the Mayia doctor also found a cure for the mysterious virus.

As he smiled...

He walked fast out of the command room, heading for the Murica Medical Association.

In the Murica Medical Association...

Fang Qiu and Antonio succeeded in healing their patients. After that, the representatives of the six kinds of traditional medicine were invited out of the isolation rooms. They came to the Murica Medical Association's hall.

The medical exchange conference's final result had come out. It was time to reward winners.

In the hall...

The Murica Medical Association's staff members and David, the young man who had welcomed the six descendants, were all there.

Everyone was chatting with each other.

Doctors in the Murica Medical Association had taken a firm attitude of exclusion to traditional medical skills. But after Fang Qiu and Antonio eliminated the mysterious virus in succession, they actively came forward and talked to them.

However...

More people surrounded Antonio instead of Fang Qiu.

For Murica people...

Although Antonio was the Maya descendant of the ancient medical skills, he could be regarded as a westerner. After all, his home country Mexico adjoined Murica.

For the Murica people, this country was indeed closer to them than Huaxia.

Favored by more people from the Murica Medical Association, Antonio raised his head proudly. He triumphantly looked at Fang Qiu from a distance as if saying he was equally good.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He smiled faintly.

That was the outcome he wanted.

In fact...

With his real ability, Antonio could never eliminate the mysterious black substance. He made it only because of Fang Qiu.

After Fang Qiu cured Lester, he thought of a way to get away — assisting someone else in eliminating the black substance!

It was because...

He needed another person to kill the virus. Only then could he get a chance to get rid of Murica.

Of course, he didn't choose randomly.

In his heart, Fang Qiu analyzed the five people. Hinndu, Egyptt, and Babyloon were not in harmony with Murica, not to mention they were far away. Murica would never value such countries.

Then he had two choices: Antun from the South Murica tribes and the Mayia doctor Antonio. Both of them lived in countries close to Murica.

Quite a lot of Murica people were racially prejudiced. Since Antun was from a primitive tribe, they strongly discriminated against him. In contrast, Antonio, living in Mexicco, had a much better background.

Moreover, Antun's treatments looked like witchcraft, dances, and sacrifices in ancient times. They conflicted with Murica's image as a research superpower. As for Antonio, he treated patients with herbs like doctors of Huaxia Chinese Medicine. Such medical methods appeared much more regular, which could be explained with scientific methods more easily.

With comprehensive consideration...

Fang Qiu eventually chose the Mayia doctor Antonio!

The overall checkup result proved Lester was fully recovered. After that, Fang Qiu walked out of the isolation room. He wandered around the quarantine area, observing his rivals' treatment methods.

While he watched Antonio...

Fang Qiu secretly spread his Divine Consciousness and attracted some Qi of Heaven and Earth. First, he cut off a trace of golden internal Qi. Then, relying on Divine Consciousness, he let the Qi of Heaven and Earth carry the golden trace through the air. Without anyone noticing it, he put it into Antonio's patient. After it consumed all the black matter, Fang Qiu withdrew his golden internal Qi.

The process looked simple.

But it also took Fang Qiu a lot of effort.

But now, it seemed...

His plan succeeded!

At this time...

"Patter, patter, patter..."

"Haha."

A burst of footsteps came with loud laughter.

Everyone looked over.

There...

A middle-aged man in the general's uniform strode over, followed by several soldiers and some reporters.

"General."

Seeing him, everyone in the Murica Medical Association's hall bowed down before him.

Fang Qiu did the same as others.

There was no expression on his face, but he secretly observed the general.

"General Will."

As the Murica Medical Association's president, John Clark had never said a word to Fang Qiu and Antonio. At this time, he quickly approached the general and said with a smile, "You're here so soon."

"Of course..."

General Will laughed, walked up to everyone, and said, "I've heard the detailed report about this medical conference. The final winners are Antonio, who represents Mayia traditional medicine, and Fang Qiu coming here on behalf of Huaxia Chinese Medicine!"

With this...

General Will glanced at the others and said, still with a broad smile, "However, according to the report, other representatives of traditional medicine also made great progress. They didn't make it only because there was not enough time. Nevertheless, their efforts are worthy of our recognition. We should applaud them for that!"

After he said that...

Everyone applauded.

The reporters who walked in after General Will began to take photos from all angles.

Before General Will...

Besides Fang Qiu and Antonio, the other four people nodded in agreement at his words. They knew General Will was giving them an out. They didn't make any progress. How could their useless endeavor be praiseworthy?

However, when the general said so, the related news reports about this competition would have a less harmful effect on them and the traditional medicine they represented!

"I came here in person to announce the final reward."

General Will said under many media outlets' cameras, "The final bonus is 100 million dollars. The money will be divided equally between Antonio and Fang Qiu. Each will get 50 million dollars."

When Antonio heard the statement...

He smiled happily and proudly.

Fang Qiu was the first to cure the virus, but every time General Will mentioned the winners, he would say Antonio's name first. Obviously, the general wanted to suppress Fang Qiu by him.

With this general's help, it would be easy for him to stifle Fang Qiu.

Anyway, he had found a way to cure the mysterious virus!

Fang Qiu was also aware of his situation.

But he didn't think there was any problem.

That was the result he wanted.

The more Murica people liked Antonio, the better it was for Fang Qiu. It would be a good thing if they attached more importance to Antonio!

“Sir.”

After General Will announced the result, Fang Qiu took the initiative to stand up and say, “We have found cures for the mysterious virus, and the medical conference is over. So, can we go back now?”

“No.”

General Will denied his suggestion and said, “Since you have arrived here, you should stay for a few more days. It’s a new virus. Since we don’t know much about it, we need you to stay and observe the situation for a few days. Your patients have just been cured. What if the virus comes back after you leave?”

At this point, General Will walked up to Antonio, patted him on the shoulder, and said, “Keep it up!”

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He frowned.

It seemed not so easy to get away!

At the same time...

The reporters on the scene posted all the news online in the first place. The winners and the amount of bonus they received had also been publicized. Soon, all of this caused a heated discussion on the Internet.

“Fang Qiu completed the task first. Why did he have to share the bonus with Antonio?”

“This is a little unfair to Fang Qiu, right? I think he should get at least 60% of the bonus. How could the money be divided equally?”

“The medical conference’s purpose is to cure the new virus. The treatment result decided the outcome. They healed their patients almost at the same time. In this case, the bonus should be divided equally. It should be like this!”

“That’s right. The money should be divided equally between the winners. This is the right and fair thing to do.”

“How could someone from Huaxia take away all the bonus?”

Netizens commented one after another.

According to the online comments, most Murica netizens discriminated against Huaxia people in their hearts. Compared with the Huaxia people, the Mayia people were at least related to them in some aspects.

In the Murica Medical Association...

After announcing the reward distribution, General Will was ready to see the examination results of the two cured cases. He would go to see Lester in person and ask about his situation.

But as soon as he moved...

“Sir.”

An aide who had been following him suddenly came over and whispered in General Will’s ear, “I just received a notice: a large number of people in the base were found to have been infected by the mysterious virus. An infected person ran out of the biological laboratory over there. He was caught, but the mysterious virus has contaminated the whole base because of his appearance!”

“What?”

When General Will heard this, he was greatly frantic.

He was so worried that his face turned pale.

“Go.”

Suddenly, General Will turned around. Pointing at the six representatives of traditional medicine, he shouted anxiously, “All of you, go back with me and wipe out all the viruses!”

With this...

He immediately took Fang Qiu and the others out of the Murica Medical Association. They got in the car and left!

Behind them...

The Murica Medical Association also issued a notice in the first place.

They announced that the six representatives of traditional medicine would continue cooperating with the Murica Medical Association. To develop better drugs for the new virus, they all needed to develop the treatment and research behind closed doors for a period. Therefore, the six doctors on behalf of traditional medicine could not return to their home countries for the time being!

Murica netizens heard the news.

They felt nothing wrong about it.

In their eyes...

This seemed to be what they should do. There was nothing wrong with the Murica government. Moreover, they were only curious about traditional medicine. Who would care about the situation of those representatives of traditional medicine?

...

In Huaxia...

“Since the conference was over, Fang Qiu should be able to return to Huaxia, right?”

Li Ji was talking to someone on the phone at the military base.

“Not for the time being.”

A voice came from the phone, “The Murica Medical Association has just issued a notice. They intend to continue cooperation with the six representatives of traditional medicine. So, they will not let anyone go back home for the time being!”

“Um?”

Hearing this, Li Ji immediately frowned.

“He has found a cure for the virus. Why don’t they let him go?”

“Has anything unexpected happened?”

“Damn it!”

Li Ji cursed secretly and hung up the phone. Gritting his teeth, he murmured, "Wait a minute. If Murica dares to restrict Fang Qiu, we can only report it to the higher-ups. Our country will take him back with national power!"

Medical Master

Chapter 1432: Recruiting and Buying off

Outside the Murica Medical Association...

Fang Qiu and the other five people stood beside a military truck.

All the soldiers coming with General Will quickly cleared the scene. After driving away all the reporters, they let the six people get in the truck.

Four soldiers were guarding the spacious compartment.

As soon as they got in the car...

One soldier took out several specially made eyeshades and directly put them on the six men.

Then...

They helped the six representatives sit down.

In this regard, none of the six people showed any discomfort.

Early in the Murica Medical Association, they could tell from General Will's tone that something was wrong. When General Will's aide reported, he lowered his voice. But because he was used to speaking loudly in the army, his voice was not low. Everyone heard it more or less. They knew there seemed to be something wrong with a base.

Whether it was a military base or any other base, anything called a base in Murica must be kept secret.

Therefore, when they were put on eyeshades, they felt nothing unusual.

They sat down.

The truck moved.

“Eh?”

When the truck began to move, Fang Qiu was shocked and bewildered.

People wearing eye patches could not see. But usually, they could identify and remember the truck's route with their other senses.

Especially an expert like Fang Qiu, he could get the truck's entire route with his eyes closed.

But this time, the situation was obviously different.

It seemed this eyeshade was specially designed to guard against this.

Wearing this blindfold, Fang Qiu felt the truck had been going straight since it started. But when they got into the truck, it faced the Murica Medical Association. When going straight ahead, wouldn't it smash a big hole in the Murica Medical Association's wall?

“This eyepatch can disrupt people's senses?”

Fang Qiu was amazed.

However...

He thought about it carefully. His phone and the face of Lin Yu were also made because of scientific and technological progress. This eyepatch was much more advanced than the two items he had.

Technology was not limited to the present.

Although he found this, Fang Qiu was not in the mood to remember the route. He could detect the base regardless of its well-concealed position with his powerful Divine Consciousness. Thus, it was useless to remember the route. He might as well take the opportunity and have a good rest.

With this in mind...

Fang Qiu calmed down and looked internally at the trace of golden internal Qi.

There...

The golden internal Qi was the same size as before. It didn't grow a little bit.

Fang Qiu had thought the golden internal Qi could grow a little after it swallowed so much black matter. Unexpectedly, it didn't change at all.

Looking at the lotus shadow in his Dantian, he found it still very weak.

There was a long way to go before it condensed!

At this time...

All of a sudden...

"Screech!"

The sudden brake caught everyone in the truck off. As the truck stopped, they lurched forward.

“Clatter.”

Footsteps could be heard. Someone seemed to have gotten in the car.

After a while...

The car continued to move.

“Take off your blindfolds.”

Suddenly, General Will spoke.

Fang Qiu was stunned and immediately took off his eye patch.

The other five people also took off their patches and turned to see General Will.

At this time, he was sitting in an independent wooden armchair. No one knew when the chair was moved in the truck. General Will eyed the six doctors with an indifferent look.

“Are you curious?”

Seeing their confused looks, General Will smiled faintly and asked.

“Where are we going?”

The Hinndu doctor Sinda asked, “What do you want to do?”

Two questions...

He spoke out the doubt of all the doctors.

“Good question.”

General Will smiled and said, “As for our destination, you will know it when you arrive. Then, I hope you can do your best to cure more patients!”

“Well, let’s talk about that when we reach our destination.”

“Now, listen to what I want to do.”

With this...

General Will turned to look at Fang Qiu and Antonio, saying, “I know you have excellent medical skills. Everyone, I mean all six of you, not just Fang Qiu and Antonio, I ask you a question: would you like to become a citizen of Murica?”

When Fang Qiu heard it...

He raised his eyebrows.

Little did he know Murica try to tempt them.

More or less, their expressions changed. Like Fang Qiu, they didn’t expect General Will to ask such a question.

“Now, you know what I want.”

The six people were shocked, but General Will didn't feel anything wrong. Instead, he said with a confident smile, "Countless people in the world want to join Murica. However hard they try, they can't get a permanent residence card in Murica. Now, with a gentle nod, you can get a green card. Do you still need to think about it?"

"Impossible!"

The Egyptt doctor named Arya frowned and said, "I come here on behalf of my country. I should always be responsible for my country and ancient medical skills."

The others nodded in agreement.

In their hearts, national honor was more important.

Even Antun, who lived in the primeval forest, was absolutely loyal to his tribe!

"You don't have to answer so quickly. It's not too late to reply after listening to the conditions Murica government can offer."

General Will said, still full of confidence, "If you want to accept it, you won't join us as ordinary people but as important scientific research experts. Having such identities, you will live a carefree life with big houses, luxury cars, fame, and countless money!"

"In addition, as long as you work according to my requirements, I will not set any restrictions on you. That is to say, you are completely free!"

"If you intend to promote traditional medicine, our government will offer assistance. We can help you advertise not only in Murica but also all over the world. Even better, we can recruit students for you."

When the five doctors heard all of this...

Their faces changed again.

This time, their expressions didn't turn ugly. Instead, their eyes began shining.

"Of course, that's not all!"

Fang Qiu had always been silent. Seeing the others' sparkling eyes, General Will turned to Fang Qiu and said, "If you are willing to stay and contribute to Murica, I will give you a research grant of no less than 500 million dollars a year. Besides, you can get a reasonable and legal identity. Then, the whole world would know you have a very high status!"

After that...

General Will smiled again and asked, "Well, tell me: are you willing to join Murica?"

As soon as he finished speaking...

"I accept it!"

Sinde, the Hinndu doctor, immediately agreed.

"Me too."

The Babyloon doctor also replied promptly.

"I agree."

Antun, the doctor of South Murica tribes, smiled and said, "I live in the primary forest of South Murica tribes, but I'm also a Murica!"

"Well..."

The Egyptt doctor Arya was a little hesitant. He had just refused the offer with a firm attitude. If he changed his attitude abruptly and agreed now, wouldn't it be too embarrassing?

"The premise of patriotism is that your country cares about you. Does your country love you?"

General Will looked at Arya and said, "Murica loves you!"

"All right."

Arya finally gave up thinking. He nodded and said, "I'm in."

"What about you?"

General Will looked at Antonio.

In his eyes...

Antonio and Fang Qiu were the two most important people.

He invited the other four people who failed to cure their patients for this moment!

After all, people liked to follow the trend.

If one agreed, there would be a second. When two people agreed, there would be a third.

Now...

The four of them had agreed, and the necessary preparation was made. Next, he would wait for Antonio and Fang Qiu to answer.

"I'll join too."

Without hesitation, Antonio said, "Mayia people have no country now. I'm so overwhelmed with grief when living in Yisral. It's a great honor to join Murica!"

General Will laughed.

That was exactly what he wanted.

He had solved one of the two tricky problems.

"Fang Qiu, what about you?"

General Will turned to look at Fang Qiu, intending to solve his last and most challenging problem.

"No!"

Fang Qiu shook his head with a poker face, his tone firm.

"Oh?"

General Will was stunned. He didn't expect Fang Qiu to refuse resolutely. At once, he raised his eyebrows unhappily and said, "Have you thought it through? If you make such a decision, your Chinese Medicine will miss a great chance to rise in the world!"

Over there...

The five people who had agreed to join Murica looked at Fang Qiu, sneering at him. In their eyes, Fang Qiu's pride was nothing before Murica's generous offer!

"No, I won't accept it!"

Ignoring the five people, Fang Qiu turned around and looked at General Will calmly, saying, "Huaxia is already on the rise. Besides, all the conditions you offered are not attractive to me, and I don't need Murica's help!"

"Is that so?"

General Will sneered and raised his right hand.

The truck immediately stopped moving.

"No hurry. You still have time to think about it."

General Will stood up, turned around, and got out of the car with a sneer.

"Disagree?"

"When you enter the secret military base, it's not up to you!"

"Do you want to leave after seeing Murica's military secrets?"

"Unless you are dead!"

“Otherwise, you must stay in Murica forever until you die!”

The truck started again.

As soon as General Will left, the four soldiers in the truck took action again and put on special blindfolds for Fang Qiu and the other five people.

“Sure enough. Things are out of control.”

While putting on the blindfold, Fang Qiu secretly sighed in his heart.

This time, he refused.

It meant he openly fell out with the Murica government. Then the Murica government would focus on suppressing him.

Medical Master

Chapter 1433: Arriving in Amazing Basin!

In an unknown corner of the world...

There was a dark cliff facing the sea. Less than five meters before the cliff were more than a dozen people in black. They were kneeling on the white beach, seemingly waiting to welcome something.

Rustling sounds of waves smashing against the beach were heard.

“Boh!”

Suddenly, there came a sound like a bubble breaking.

There...

Before the incomparably steep cliff, layers of ripples suddenly appeared out of thin air in mid-air one meter above the ground. Then a foot emerged from the ripples.

The ripples spread.

A figure walked out of these water ripples.

The man wore a pair of cyan cloth shoes in an antique design. With a belt inside and a gauze cloak outside, he was dressed like scholar in ancient times.

After he appeared...

In mid-air, water ripples materializing out of thin air quickly quieted down. It seemed as if they had never appeared.

"Lord Virtuous, welcome you out of seclusion."

The moment the strangely dressed young man appeared, a man in black kneeling on the beach immediately shouted.

"Lord Virtuous, welcome you out of seclusion."

The others quickly echoed.

"Get up."

Lord Virtuous stepped forward slowly, his feet making no sound on the beach. Then he waved at all the people kneeling on the beach.

When the dozen man in black heard his words...

They immediately got up but still lowered their heads. No one dared to look up at the young man they called Lord Virtuous.

“What happened recently?”

Facing the sea, Lord Virtuous asked.

“My Lord.”

A man in black instantly stepped forward. Lowering his head, he said, “Crowning Lord has died. It has been confirmed. We found his body in the sea. It has rotten throughout. We confirmed his identity by the objects on him and the black bones of his arms.”

“Mm.”

Lord Virtuous nodded with understanding. Then he said indifferently as if it was just a trivial matter, “Life is like a journey. The dead ones have just gone somewhere else. When he died, he was buried at sea. It is a great relief for him.”

After that...

Lord Virtuous asked, “Is there anything else?”

“No.”

The man in black immediately shook his head and said, “At your request, all of us try our best to keep a low profile and hide during this period. We didn’t show up in Huaxia Wulin nor fight against anyone there.”

“Mm.”

Lord Virtuous nodded with satisfaction.

“This is the information you want about John Doe.”

The man in black took out a packet of information and handed it to Lord Virtuous, saying, “All the information about John Doe is here. We don’t know where to get any more information!”

“Nowhere to gain information?”

Lord Virtuous took the document from the man in black, narrowing his eyes. Then, a layer of energy Qi burst out from him.

“Whoosh.”

A gust of wind, carrying a huge wave, rushed over from a distance. It violently smashed against everyone. In the blink of an eye, the seawater rose higher and reached the waists of these men in black.

There, Lord Virtuous...

When the huge wave rushed over, a vacuum appeared around him, completely blocking out all the seawater.

Even the white sand on the beach around him did not get wet!

Soon...

The tides receded.

After reading the information about John Doe in his hand, Lord Virtuous handed it to his subordinate and said, "Check his whereabouts. I'll handle him myself."

"Yes."

The man in black took the documents and replied promptly.

Then, he moved.

After that, he left with others to find out where John Doe was.

...

Murica...

After driving for a long time, the truck finally stopped.

However, just as Fang Qiu and the other five doctors were about to take off their blindfolds, the four soldiers in the truck moved over and escorted them to sit in another place.

Soon after...

Fang Qiu heard the wind blowing.

At once, Fang Qiu knew he had been taken to a plane.

Well...

Fang Qiu didn't worry too much about it. Instead, he closed his eyes for cultivation.

These doctors had no idea how many hours had passed when the plane landed. The six of them were escorted off the plane by soldiers. Then, they boarded a military helicopter with a vast cabin.

A few more hours later...

The helicopter landed. The six doctors were taken to a ship and went on their trip.

Along the way...

They had transferred four different means of transportation.

Moreover, they spent no less than a few hours on each means of transportation.

"What is going on?"

"I'm afraid we have already left Murica."

Fang Qiu thought to himself.

He was wondering if he should release his Divine Consciousness. At this time, the ship stopped.

The soldiers led each of the six doctors on a motorcycle.

Fang Qiu could hear the wind rise and fall.

Soon...

The motorcycle also stopped.

When they got off the motorcycles, they could finally take off their blindfolds.

They opened their eyes.

The other five narrowed their eyes in pain and reached out their hands to rub them hard.

However, Fang Qiu felt fine. At once, he looked around, only to find he was in a primary forest!

“Welcome to the military base!”

General Will came when the six doctors were confused about what was happening. With a smile, he greeted.

For a while...

Everyone couldn't help frowning.

No one knew where they were.

But right then...

Antun, the doctor from South Murica tribes, suddenly looked into the distance. Immediately, he pointed to the river there in surprise and asked, “Amazing River?”

After his exclamation...

Everyone was shocked!

General Will frowned.

To his surprise...

Someone recognized this place, though he had used many methods to hide it.

He was very dissatisfied with this, but General Will did not deny it or give a positive answer!

“Amazing Basin?”

Fang Qiu was a little startled.

He didn’t expect Murica to set up a military base here.

Beyond doubt...

It was impossible to escape from this place!

“Will I have to expose my identity as John Doe?”

Fang Qiu gritted his teeth secretly.

Once others knew he was also John Doe, his situation would be ten or even a hundred times more dangerous. What if he remained as Fang Qiu? But with Fang Qiu’s ability, how could he get out of this place?

“I can only take things one step at a time.”

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu took a deep draught of air.

Luckily...

A doctor was from the South Murica tribes. Otherwise, they wouldn't even know where this place was. Along the way, the Murica people had made so many preparations. The phone and satellite signals must have been completely shielded in this area. Therefore, he knew he could not find the location information on his mobile phone.

“Sir!”

Everyone was shocked when knowing they had arrived in Amazing Basin. Suddenly, a man ran out of the forest, rushed to General Will, and reported, “All the infected have been detained and isolated. All the people who have not been isolated have passed all the examinations. It has been confirmed that they are not infected!”

“Let's go.”

General Will waved his hand and led everyone into the forest's depths.

“The military base is right ahead. Most of the people in it have been infected with the new virus. I need your help to save the experts first!”

General Will said as he walked.

When the Maya doctor Antonio heard his words...

He flashed aside and darted forward like an agile cheetah.

General Will saw his positive response.

He nodded with satisfaction and turned to look at Fang Qiu.

Helplessly...

Fang Qiu could only follow up in a hurry.

They ran wildly all the way. In addition to Fang Qiu and Antonio, the other four doctors also followed them closely. Soon, they came to the depths of the primordial forest.

A military base that was very well camouflaged finally appeared before everyone.

They rushed into the base.

“Where is the isolation room?”

Seeing the people in the base, Antonio immediately asked.

Over here...

The people in the base had been waiting for rescue for a long time. They were clear that the few people were doctors. Without hesitation, they let Fang Qiu and others follow them. This group of people rushed straight into the isolation room of the base.

They arrived at the isolation room.

Fang Qiu and the others began to treat and save people.

There...

General Will and all his men brought many things from Murica to this place. There was traditional Chinese medicine, herbs, and various kinds of tools.

On General Will's order, all tools and medicinal herbs were sent to the six doctors.

Just when the six doctors got the tools and medicinal herbs...

They began to save people.

The first one to take action was Antonio, who had been eager to perform well.

Like in the Murica Medical Association's isolation room, he began decocting medicinal herbs. During the process, he kept chanting incantations. After boiling all the herbs, he gave the potion to the patient.

However, it didn't work!

His face darkened because of this failure.

Over there...

Fang Qiu was also treating his patient.

It was a piece of cake for him to cure the patient, but he didn't want his patient to heal so quickly.

Of course...

He decocted the same medicine and let his patient take it.

This traditional Chinese medicine was effective on the mysterious black substance, but its effect was not noticeable.

Though Fang Qiu's medicine hadn't cured the patient, it worked a little. Seeing that, Antonio immediately became anxious.

He knew what it meant.

Given some more time, Fang Qiu would cure his patient.

In the Murica Medical Association, he was slower than Fang Qiu in curing their patients. This time, he was determined not to lose.

When he thought of this...

Antonio didn't dare to get slack at his treatment. He exhausted all his strength, trying various ways to treat his patient. Yet, his strenuous efforts had no effect. This situation made him more and more anxious.

He felt increasingly strange about what was going on.

His treatment worked well in the Murica Medical Association, but why did it exert no effect on the patient here?

Nearby...

Seeing the extremely fidgety Antonio, Fang Qiu checked the time and felt it was almost time to finish his treatment. Then he secretly activated his internal Qi. Controlling a trace of golden internal Qi, he let it enter Antonio's patient and devour all the black substance.

He cured Antonio's patient.

After launching an all-out effort, Antonio saw himself finally succeed in curing his patient. Instantly, he laughed proudly and turned around. Pointing at Fang Qiu, he said, “Huaxia Chinese Medicine doesn’t live up to its name!”

When Fang Qiu heard his arrogant words...

He couldn’t help snorting in his heart.

Medical Master

Chapter 1434: Unconscious, Exploring at Night!

Fang Qiu continued to treat his patient.

Unhurriedly, Fang Qiu felt his patient’s pulse and fed him medicine, just like an old and experienced Chinese Medicine doctor.

And aside...

Antonio, the Maya doctor, glanced at the others proudly and sneered at Fang Qiu. Then he turned his attention to another patient and went over to treat him.

Ten minutes later...

After a long time, Fang Qiu finally cured one patient.

As soon as the patient recovered, he ran out of the isolation room.

These patients were all medical experts in the military base. They had been studying this mysterious virus, so they were terrified of it. The virus was removed, but he was in no mood to celebrate this significant breakthrough. Instead, they were busy getting out of this dangerous place, fearing being infected again!

Fang Qiu cured one patient.

He turned his head and glanced at the others.

He saw Antonio sweating profusely. He had treated the second patient for more than ten minutes, but his therapy didn't work.

No matter how hard he tried, it didn't seem to work.

It distressed and flustered him. He felt even more panic, especially after Fang Qiu also cured a patient.

Then Fang Qiu looked at the others.

They were all trying their best to treat their patients. Their treatments didn't have much effect, but they didn't dare to be careless. As long as there was a glimmer of hope, they would never let it go. The task was challenging, but they were quite clear about the benefit: if they could cure one person, their value would increase tenfold or even a hundredfold.

Therefore, they saved patients for their interests.

Outside the isolation room...

General Will observed every movement of the six doctors.

He was a little surprised when Antonio cured his patient before everyone else. After that, he focused his eyes on Fang Qiu, only to find he was working very hard to treat his patient. But even so, he used ten more minutes than Antonio to cure the patient.

"Could it be that Maya Medicine is better than Huaxia Chinese Medicine?"

General Will was a little surprised.

Huaxia Chinese Medicine was very competent. Though reluctant to admit it in his heart and on the surface, he had always been very clear about the fact. Otherwise, he would not have targeted Fang Qiu like this.

But now, it seemed...

Chinese Medicine in Huaxia seemed to have lost to Mayia Medicine!

General Will continued watching to see if Fang Qiu would exert more strength later.

But unexpectedly...

When Fang Qiu walked unsteadily to the next patient, he frowned at such a scene.

In the isolation room...

Antonio treated his patient in a hurry-scurry way. Seeing his nerves on edge, Fang Qiu deduced that he couldn't hold on for long. Soon, Antonio would feel drained of energy and faint!

Since Antonio would soon faint from exhaustion, he must pretend to be weaker than him. Fang Qiu had to maintain his inferior image.

Therefore, his footsteps became unsteady when Fang Qiu walked to the second patient.

Soon, he came to the second patient.

Fang Qiu felt the pulse to examine his patient, not in a hurry to assist Antonio in his treatment.

Instead, he continued waiting.

He knew very well.

Antonio was not in good status. Besides, he hadn't yet strained to the limit. If he helped Antonio cure his patient now, he would instantly relax and get better. Fang Qiu should cure Antonio's patient when he became agitated. If Antonio were overwhelmed by a surge of wild joy in a highly anxious state, he would pass out!

Of course...

While secretly observing Antonio's situation, Fang Qiu quietly activated his internal Qi and covered his forehead with a thin layer of sweat.

His face paled when sweat appeared.

It seemed he had consumed too much energy.

Right at this moment...

Antonio had tried all the treatment methods he could think of. However, his patient still hadn't turned better. Nervous to the extreme, he had no choice but to wait to see if the final treatment worked.

He was so tensed up that he was all in a fluster.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

Fang Qiu knew it was time.

With a stir of his mind, he secretly put a trace of golden internal Qi out of his body. It quickly penetrated Antonio's second patient. In no time, all the black substance in the patient was devoured.

Then he took it back!

Over here...

“It’s done. I made it again. Haha.”

Examining the patient, Antonio found the black substance in him had disappeared entirely. He couldn’t help laughing and said, “I cured another patient. I...”

Before he could finish his words...

Suddenly, he went limp and fell feebly — he relapsed into a coma.

Even...

Even when he was unconscious, his face was full of smiles.

At this time...

Fang Qiu also stood up in a hurry, ready to decoct for the second patient. But he fell and passed out when he stood up and took a few weak steps forward.

In the isolation room...

One after another, the other four representatives of traditional medicine looked back at them. However, no one took the initiative to diagnose and help them. Instead, they seized this chance and continued treating their patients.

This was a rare opportunity for them. Antonio had cured two patients while Fang Qiu healed one. But none of their patients had recovered. The two people who could handle the mysterious virus had fainted at this time. They should seize this period to catch up with them. So, how could anyone waste time on their competitors?

Outside the isolation room...

“What’s going on?”

General Will raised his eyebrows and asked.

“They might have lost all their strength and fainted.”

An expert had just had a complete physical examination. It showed the mysterious virus in his body had been cleared out. Standing beside General Will, he said, “After all, the treatment of this new virus is complicated and exhausting!”

General Will heard that.

He immediately waved his hand and ordered, “Hurry up. Take them away and let them have a good rest!”

Several people in isolation suits heard his words.

At once, they entered the isolation room and carried the two doctors away.

General Will watched as the two people were carried off on stretchers.

General Will’s frown grew deeper.

“After such a long time...

“Only three people are cured?”

“This speed is disappointingly low!”

“When could the mysterious virus be eliminated at such a slow pace? We shouldn’t depend only on the two people to treat infected people.

“Their treatment speed is not even as fast as the spread of the virus!”

“It seems I can only wait until tomorrow morning. When they wake up, I’ll ask them to hand over their treatment methods!”

When he thought of this...

General Will glanced at the other four doctors still trying hard in the isolation room. A trace of disdain and impatience flickered in his eyes. Then he turned around and said, “Take me to see the traitor. I want to interrogate him overnight!”

“Yes.”

The aide responded and immediately left with General Will.

Fang Qiu and Antonio had just cured three medical experts. At this time, they were the only ones left outside the isolation room.

...

Here...

After Fang Qiu and Antonio were carried out of the isolation room...

They were sent to a room.

After throwing them onto the bed, the people who brought them here closed the door and left.

As soon as they left...

Fang Qiu immediately opened his eyes.

After sensing for a while, he found no one outside and no cameras in the room. In no time, he got up and looked aside. Antonio was lying unconscious next to him. He stretched out his right hand and pressed several acupuncture points on him. This way, Antonio would stay in a coma for a longer time.

Then...

Quietly, he walked to the door.

He carefully listened to the situation outside and released his Divine Consciousness. He breathed a sigh of relief when ensuring no one was outside. Then he gently opened the door and flashed out at breakneck speed.

Last time, he made a breakthrough, and the lotus shadow showed up in his Dantian.

Since then, Fang Qiu's Divine Consciousness became different.

In the past...

His Divine Consciousness was a technique to explore treasures. His Divine Consciousness gradually possessed more functions as his strength and spiritual force improved. For example, he could track the remaining energy aura in the air, lock his Divine Consciousness on a martial arts practitioner, and so on.

Fang Qiu was surprised to find some unusual changes with the last breakthrough. In the past, his Divine Consciousness could trace martial arts practitioners and energy auras. Now, it could easily detect ordinary people and things like radars.

In other words...

Fang Qiu's invisible Divine Consciousness had become his third eye. It was a special one that could help him see many more things.

Of course, the field of this vision was not wide. His Divine Consciousness could cover an area with a radius of 60 kilometers, while this vision could only make him see everything 100 meters around him.

After all, using this ability was excessively exhausting!

With this vision, Fang Qiu sensed no one within 100 meters. Therefore, driven by curiosity, he rushed out of the room and sneaked into this secret military base.

He didn't act fast.

Because he detected no one around, Fang Qiu did not hurriedly thrust himself forward. Instead, he explored carefully and sneaked in quietly.

He kept searching around.

"Crack."

He heard a barely audible sound.

Fang Qiu came to an abrupt halt.

Exploring around with his Divine Consciousness, Fang Qiu saw a crossroad at the corner 10 meters ahead. At the top of the intersection was a red dot as big as an ant. It constantly turned around.

“A camera? A scanner?”

Fang Qiu was shocked.

To his great surprise...

Such an item was installed in this military base.

Usually, a military base would hardly be invaded. Thus, such bases didn't need tight security. This equipment with a camera and a scanner could be regarded as intruders' unbeatable rival. With built-in programs, it wouldn't react when scanning the people in the base. But it would sound an alarm when picking up anyone or anything not belonging to this military base!

Fang Qiu had also seen such a device in the military base of Huaxia.

But...

Ordinary invaders would find this equipment very difficult to cope with. For Fang Qiu, it was easy. He just needed to rush over at full speed.

Nevertheless, Fang Qiu was surprised. “What secrets are hidden in this military base? Why would such a strict defense system be installed here?”

Medical Master

Chapter 1435: The Base's Secret!

“This base is hidden in the depths of the primary forest in the Amazing Basin. So, why is it so heavily guarded?”

“What on earth is this base for?”

He was full of doubts.

Fang Qiu stared at the scanning camera ten meters away. By using his Divine Consciousness, he soon found its pattern.

When it turned to the other side, Fang Qiu wrapped himself with internal Qi. Then, the camera couldn't detect his body temperature. He flashed over.

Since internal Qi covered up Fang Qiu, the scanning camera couldn't sense its temperature. In addition, it couldn't capture Fang Qiu's figure when he crossed the corner with astonishing speed.

Through the scanning camera...

Fang Qiu went straight ahead and kept exploring the surroundings with his Divine Consciousness.

As he walked...

“Um?”

Suddenly, Fang Qiu caught a flash of red light from the corner of his eye.

He took a closer look.

There was a row of inconspicuous red lines on the tunnel wall ahead. These lines were densely arranged. If Fang Qiu didn't look closely, he couldn't see them. They emitted red lines like infrared rays, which fluctuated back and forth from top to bottom. Such red lines completely covered the walls in that area.

“Infrared scanning?”

Fang Qiu stopped and checked carefully with his Divine Consciousness, only to find no one around.

This situation...

It made Fang Qiu even more confused.

This area looked like a deserted place in the military base. How could there be such a sophisticated defense?

There must be something fishy going on!

Under normal circumstances, only places with many people were the most critical.

But on second thought, crowded areas were very likely to draw the enemy’s attention. In contrast, the enemy would usually ignore those empty places.

Or rather...

No one guarded this uninhabited area. Was it simply because there were not enough people?

With this in mind...

Fang Qiu raised his head and looked around. The infrared scanning area covered the whole space, and there was no gap for him to pass.

But...

After all, it was a machine.

Fang Qiu had been training with the special forces. At that time, he had learned the countermeasures for infrared scanning.

The simplest and most direct way was to reflect the infrared rays with mirrors. When the machine received the reflected signals, it knew no objects had blocked its signals. This way, he could walk over this area with ease.

Fang Qiu had no mirror...

But...

He had internal Qi!

He directly condensed the internal Qi into an energy layer. With it, he could reflect the infrared rays effortlessly.

He moved his right hand.

Fang Qiu secretly triggered his internal Qi.

He released his internal Qi, leading it to the area ahead. It condensed into an energy barrier in the middle of the infrared scanning area. Then it was divided into two parts, forming a gate.

When it was done...

Fang Qiu walked straight over.

He went deeper.

While walking, Fang Qiu found this area increasingly strange. Every ten meters or so, an infrared scanning area would appear. And every thirty meters, there would be an infrared camera.

This situation made Fang Qiu even more surprised.

After he walked about 50 to 60 meters...

Fang Qiu came to a very quiet place. This tranquil place appeared so scary!

He scanned around with his Divine Consciousness.

Fang Qiu found the infrared scanning system didn't cover the surroundings. This place was an unguarded area composed of about four very large rooms.

Fang Qiu couldn't hear anything in the four rooms in the corridor.

But with his Divine Consciousness, he could feel many people were in each of the four rooms!

"What the hell?"

Fang Qiu immediately walked to the door of the first room to see what was going on inside. As a result, he found the door was closed — a work card was needed to open it!

He couldn't open the door.

In this case, he could only use his Divine Consciousness to investigate!

He found a relatively hidden corner and stood in. Fang Qiu immediately activated his Divine Consciousness and carefully explored the situation in the first room.

“A doctor? No... he’s a scientist. A researcher?”

“The computer, the bed, and the surgical tools!”

“Is this a lab?”

Fang Qiu explored the room inch by inch.

Unexpectedly...

As he searched around...

“Um?”

Suddenly, through his Divine Consciousness, he saw two nutrition capsules. He felt the two people lying in the nutrition capsules. They were soaked in a strange green nutrient solution.

A researcher was standing before the nutrition capsule, collecting data.

Fang Qiu concentrated his attention on exploring.

He saw the data recorded by the researcher on the paper.

There was a series of data like the alienation percentage, the body-strengthening degree, and the physical endurance.

“Body-strengthening?”

Seeing these figures, Fang Qiu was shocked.

Next...

There...

The researcher brought a finger-sized glass bottle with a drop of bright red blood in it.

The researcher opened the nutrition cabin, sent the blood drop in, and closed it.

Then...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

Suddenly, the nutrition cabin connected to numerous tubes and lines rang out.

A piece of data appeared on the computer screen.

The mutation level: 100%!

At this time...

The person in the nutrition cabin suddenly opened his eyes.

He glanced at the researcher standing outside the nutrition cabin. Then he reached out his hand indifferently, pushing open the nutrition cabin’s door. He got up and walked out.

The moment he was out...

The muscles on his body began to bulge. Meanwhile, an aura precisely the same as that of Lester suddenly burst out from his body.

Feeling this aura, Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

Just as he was shocked...

The bulging muscles of the man who had just walked out of the nutrition cabin suddenly began to twitch. His face was filled with unbearable pain.

The researcher immediately pulled the man to the bed and quickly locked his hands and feet with shackles on the bed. Afterward, he kept connecting many tubes to this man.

When Fang Qiu saw such a scene...

His face immediately darkened.

He didn't expect that.

Murica was developing this anti-human biotechnology?

It seemed that...

They wanted to create a large number of experts.

Judging from the aura, Fang Qiu guessed that this method might have created Lester, the Murican special envoy.

However...

From the current situation...

He knew this biological technique had side effects. However, various data were recorded, and the researcher could cope with the situation calmly. It seemed their research had reached a critical stage.

Fang Qiu didn't expect Murica people to do such a thing.

But...

On second thought...

In addition to vampires, Murica barely had any inheritance from ancient times. Even the vampire had its roots in Europa. Vampire descendants in Murica didn't have pure vampire blood in their veins.

In this case...

Without any inheritance, Murica could only rely on their technology.

Relying on scientific and technological advancement, they became one of the five major countries in the past few decades. It seemed Murica was going to dominate the world.

However...

Because of the lack of inheritance, Murica could hardly gain an advantage in the competition for ancient ruins and similar resources. As such, its development was limited!

If this situation went on, the other four major countries would surpass Murica and even become much more potent than it.

The Murica government was well aware of this.

Perhaps...

That was precisely why they would carry out this anti-human research!

When Fang Qiu thought of this...

He knew he had discovered a shocking secret about Murica. Yet, he didn't find much information about it and only knew Murica was doing research. Why would they develop this biological technique? What were their research directions? Fang Qiu did not yet know all the answers.

However...

Just as Fang Qiu was about to explore in detail...

"Patter, patter, patter..."

Footsteps suddenly sounded.

"Someone is coming!"

Realizing this, Fang Qiu immediately opened his eyes.

Without thinking too much, he immediately flew back and quickly returned to the way he came.

Now...

He was in this military base as Fang Qiu. Once he was discovered, others soon would discover his other identity as John Doe.

Therefore, he couldn't take any risks.

Anyway, he had already known Murica was doing this kind of research. Next, he just needed to steal the research materials in this military base without being discovered!

Soon...

Back in the room...

Fang Qiu observed carefully and made sure no one entered the room.

Then he quickly went to bed.

Secretly, he used his internal Qi to disguise himself. When his face looked paled again, he fell asleep.

...

Early the next morning...

When the Maya doctor woke up, Fang Qiu also opened his eyes.

At this time...

Two soldiers were already standing in their room.

"Follow us. The general wants to see you!"

Seeing the two of them wake up, one soldier called out to them.

When Antonio heard it...

He turned to look at Fang Qiu and sneered disdainfully. Then he stood up and walked out of the room after the soldiers, and Fang Qiu followed them closely.

Soon...

The soldier led them to a place similar to a conference room.

At that moment, General Will was on the only armchair in the room.

"Here you are."

Seeing the two of them, General Will smiled faintly and waved his hand, motioning for them to sit down. Then he said, "You should be very clear about yesterday's situation. You two can't cure all the people infected with the virus in time. My purpose is very simple: I want your treatment methods!"

As he said that...

A soldier came in with pens and paper and handed them to Fang Qiu and Antonio.

"No problem."

Taking the pen and paper, Antonio began writing with a smile. As he wrote, he said, "As a Murica citizen, it's my honor to contribute to the country!"

"Very good."

General Will nodded with satisfaction, then looked at Fang Qiu and asked, "What about you?"

“I don’t care.”

Fang Qiu shrugged and started writing. After writing down the third prescription and the imperfect fourth one, he handed them to General Will.

Medical Master

Chapter 1436: A Giant Python!

“Is this your treatment method?”

General Will asked, raising his eyebrows doubtfully. How could Fang Qiu write down the detailed prescription so readily?

“Yes.”

With certainty, Fang Qiu nodded. “But it’s not complete. Part of the therapy I displayed requires my unique skills. Hence, the healing speed is fast. With only this prescription, patients will recover in about ten days.”

“Really?”

General Will was overjoyed at his words.

Fang Qiu couldn’t unreservedly pass on his medical skills in handling this virus to them. Though aware of this, General Will wouldn’t force Fang Qiu to tell his method without reserve. Fang Qiu offered a prescription that could eliminate the mysterious virus in about ten days. He was delighted with such progress.

“I’ve already written the prescription. You can try it.”

Fang Qiu said.

When General Will heard it...

He no longer hesitated. Right away, he waved his hand and beckoned his aide over, saying, "Take the prescription and check it. I want to know its exact effect."

"Yes."

The aide immediately nodded and left quickly with the prescription.

In the room...

General Will still stared at Fang Qiu, trying to find something in his eyes.

However, Fang Qiu remained cool.

How could he give the most effective prescription to Murica without reservation?

In fact...

The prescription he handed over was indeed effective. The effect should be good, especially within ten days of taking the medicine.

But it was hard to say if it would have any effect after ten days.

Therefore...

In the ten days...

Fang Qiu had to find a way to leave with the fourth prescription in his mind. This one could completely wipe out the black substance, and he would hand it over to his country!

General Will doubted Fang Qiu but had great faith in Antonio.

In his opinion, Antonio was already his subordinate, a loyal one!

Soon...

The test result came out.

"Sir."

The aide came to the conference room with the result and called out, "It's effective."

With this...

He handed the research report to General Will.

"Okay."

It worked! General Will was overjoyed. He looked at Fang Qiu with great satisfaction and said, "Well done."

Fang Qiu took it lightly.

"Fang Qiu."

Eyes on Fang Qiu, General Will said with determination, "Once again, I sincerely invite you to join Murica. Join my country and contribute to its future development. Then, I can give you everything you want!"

"No."

Fang Qiu shook his head firmly and said, "I'm from Huaxia. I won't join any other country in my life."

"Oh?"

Unexpectedly, General Will did not get angry. Instead, he smiled faintly and stood up with complete confidence, leaving without saying anything else.

General Will walked away.

Fang Qiu and Antonio got up to leave.

But right then...

"The two of you."

The aide returned and said, "Follow me to the isolation room and continue to treat our medical experts."

After that...

He took Fang Qiu and Antonio to the isolation room.

Helplessly, Fang Qiu and Antonio could only keep applying treatments as they were asked.

Soon...

Fang Qiu and Antonio returned to the isolation room and continued handling patients.

Doctors from the other four countries were still treating patients in the isolation room. However, their therapies had no effect. A whole day went by, but they cured no one.

The most helpless thing was...

Their treatment methods didn't work. The four of them had even begun to exchange experiences. But even so, they made little progress in their treatments.

As soon as Fang Qiu and Antonio entered the isolation room again...

Ignoring the other four doctors, they started to treat patients.

During the treatment...

Fang Qiu had been checking the surroundings with his Divine Consciousness.

An hour later...

"Patter, patter, patter..."

Fang Qiu heard footsteps.

Then he turned around, looking out of the isolation room. Surprisingly, he saw soldiers pulling some people from the local primitive tribes into the base.

"Could it be that they use these people to develop anti-human biotechnology?"

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

He had been curious about it. Their biological technique still had a way to go to full maturity. Then, there must be a lot of unexpected situations. Usually, Murica people would never do such brutal and inhuman experiments on their soldiers. Without Murica soldiers, who would they experiment with?

After thinking for a long time, Fang Qiu still couldn't figure out how their experiments had come this far.

Now, he understood.

It turned out these Murica people conducted experiments on the people of the primitive tribes in Amazing Basin.

After all...

These primitive tribes had little connection with the outside world. Some people or even a few tribes might disappear from the world, but so what? Their disappearance would not attract any attention from the outside world.

"If so, isn't it too inhumane?"

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu knitted his brows.

Of course...

Not only Fang Qiu...

People of the local primitive tribes were caught and brought here. Seeing this in the isolation room, Antun couldn't help frowning.

He also came from a primitive tribe. So, he knew what manpower meant to a primitive tribe.

More importantly...

In his heart, these people of the local tribes were like his brothers.

He saw such a scene and felt upset, but so what? He could only frown. There was nothing else he could do.

Near him...

Fang Qiu saw Antun's expression, yet he said nothing about it. Instead, he continued treating his patient calmly.

"This military base is remote, and the defense inside is tight. I can escape only by causing a commotion!"

"Even if I can't get away, I must at least find a chance to contact Li Ji."

"But signals of phones and satellites in this area have all been blocked. I can't send out any messages. It's almost impossible to contact the outside world, let alone get cooperation."

Fang Qiu pondered over this matter.

Nevertheless, he felt he should take it easy.

Waiting patiently, he could find a suitable opportunity in the end.

Just like yesterday...

Fang Qiu healed one patient and helped Antonio cure two. Then, he lay back down again.

In the evening...

Fang Qiu quietly got up and walked around the military base.

However, he didn't find anyone's trace.

Fang Qiu intended to enter the four labs doing anti-human research. He might find some research materials there and bring them back to Huaxia.

However...

Key cards were required to open the four labs. Since he could see no one around, he could only give up this idea.

...

The next night...

Fang Qiu continued to explore. After walking around the military base, he still didn't see anyone. He had no choice but to leave the military base quietly and search outside.

He wondered if there were any other primitive tribes or local aborigines.

He looked around.

No one was found.

Helplessly, Fang Qiu could only expand the search area.

However...

He detected no one within ten kilometers around.

Fang Qiu was speechless about this result. Just as he was about to return to the base...

All of a sudden...

A whooshing sound was heard.

On closer inspection...

Fang Qiu was astonished to see a giant python on a big tree not far away.

“An python!”

When Fang Qiu saw it, his eyes suddenly lit up.

Pythons in Amazing Basin were the world’s largest pythons. They lived in South Murica and were as thick as an adult man’s waist.

Pythons like water. Usually, they would stay on mud banks and hide underwater, hunting water birds, turtles, water hogs, crocodiles, and so on.

According to the records...

Its mouth’s maximum opening angle was 180 degrees. It has no chin, and its four rows of teeth can move independently. Since its snakeskin could stretch, it could swallow prey much bigger than itself.

Fang Qiu saw this python.

He immediately came up with a plan.

The simplest way to make the military base fall into chaos was to attack the python. Afterward, he could lure it to attack the military camp!

When Fang Qiu thought of this...

Fang Qiu immediately moved closer to the giant python.

But just after a few steps...

The python suddenly turned its head and stared at Fang Qiu.

Usually, a python's head was small. Its head should only be one-fifth of the thickest part of the body.

But...

The python before Fang Qiu was different.

Its head was as thick as its body, even bigger than a human head.

Most crucially...

Fang Qiu spotted a fist-sized bump on its head. It looked as if the python was beginning to grow a horn.

"No way. How could the Murica troops not notice such a huge python?"

Fang Qiu was shocked.

The Murica forces must have been here for a long time. Otherwise, they would not have been able to build such a well-defended military base.

In this situation...

Such a giant python was slithering in this area. How could the Murica troops not notice it?

Could it be...

Did this python just arrive at this place?

Looking down at the tree where the python was, Fang Qiu surprisingly saw a river bank. There were deep snake-shaped marks in the mud.

It seemed that...

This python had just reached this place.

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu was sure the Murica military didn’t know about this python. Overjoyed, he caught the python’s eye. He picked up a leaf from the vine with his right hand, vehemently throwing it toward the boa.

Controlled by his internal Qi, the leaf instantly flashed to its head top. Like a sharp blade, it instantly made a bloody cut on the boa’s fist-sized bump.

“Swish...”

The python suddenly opened its mouth wide. After an indescribable strange cry, it twisted and zipped madly toward Fang Qiu at lightning speed.

Medical Master

Chapter 1437: Copying Information!

“Rustling...”

The giant python slid fast into the jungle, making the sound of crashing waves. It flattened all the plants along the way.

Up ahead...

Fang Qiu advanced unhurriedly.

After two days of observation, Fang Qiu was very familiar with the periphery of this military base.

Seen from above, the base in camouflage looked like a jungle. But when he watched it in the forest, it resembled a turtle shell, and the base’s entrance was right under the turtle shell.

Outside the entrance was the tight security circle made by Murica soldiers. This ring was composed of many buildings similar to watchtowers. Though built with modern materials, they were all covered with camouflage.

The isolation room was on the left side of the base entrance beneath the tortoise shell. It was a large room.

Fang Qiu and the others were arranged to rest in a room at the base’s entrance.

In the watch circle around the base entrance, many Murica soldiers were on guard. The entire Murica base’s guard ring surrounded the base entrance.

Most Murica soldiers were still living in the military base. They were under the command of General Will.

What Fang Qiu had to do now...

He must lure this python to the periphery of the base. Then, Murica soldiers would notice it. It would be best for him to lead the python into the base.

At that time...

Its arrival would create terrible confusion in the entire Murica military base.

Such a giant python with a horn on its head was obviously different from ordinary python!

In this case...

It would not be easy for the Murica troops to kill this python.

Besides, with their behavior styles, the Murica troops would never give up killing the python. After all, such a huge snake posed a great threat to them and made them feel stressed.

Ten kilometers...

Fang Qiu alone could quickly go such a long distance, but this python was excessively big. Although its speed was not slow, this trip cost the python a little less than 20 minutes.

Fang Qiu could only keep the same speed as it and attack it from time to time.

They came to the forest only about ten meters away from the base.

Fang Qiu immediately stopped and turned his head.

There...

The python in hot pursuit of him opened its mouth wide and threw itself on him. It seemed to swallow him in one bite.

As its sizeable fierce-looking mouth suddenly came at Fang Qiu...

With a wave of his right hand...

Fang Qiu snapped a branch as thick as a little finger from the tree near him, waving it vigorously.

“Pa!”

There came a crisp sound.

The python’s bloody mouth came near Fang Qiu. In no time, he whipped its head backward and shut its mouth.

On closer inspection...

Another bloody wound appeared on the python’s head. Even its scales were shattered.

The whip fell.

Fang Qiu threw the branch in his hand.

When he irritated the python, Fang Qiu lurched and whizzed toward the military base 10 meters away. No one could see him since he was as fast as a gust of wind.

However...

The python could locate him.

Its tongue was equivalent to a chemical detector. As its prey moved, its scales could detect it. Moreover, its pair of eyes was a thermal sensor!

Therefore, no matter how fast Fang Qiu was, the python could still feel him.

“Swish...”

When the python opened its mouth, an ear-piercing roar of rage came from its throat.

Next...

The tremendous python wound its way in the direction where Fang Qiu darted away with a flash of speed.

“Crack, crack, crack...”

Wherever it passed, all the plants were destroyed.

On the periphery of the military base...

In watchtowers within the warning circle...

The Murica soldiers had been relaxing for some time. Hearing the python's blood-curdling scream, they shivered and abruptly jumped up.

In a hurry, they looked outside.

In the darkness...

A huge monster materialized out of thin air and slithered into the military base.

Under the base's top that looked like a turtle shell...

There were lights at the base's entrance.

The monstrous creature rushed to the base entrance. Soldiers on the watchtowers were utterly taken aback.

"Pa!"

A gunshot rang out.

A Murica soldier fired.

Soon after...

"Clap, clap, clap..."

Gunshots rang out wildly. Countless bullets shot toward the python from all directions. Those bullets shattered its scales and shot into its muscles.

The gunshot wounds didn't do the huge snake much harm. The python was in a towering rage. Attacked by numerous bullets, it became even more furious and turned around. It wagged its muscular tail violently, lashing one watchtower with it.

“Pa!”

There came a crisp sound.

The python's tail, covered with blood, crashed a watchtower with great force!

Then, it swung its tail.

It shattered the two watchtowers at the base entrance.

Two Murica soldiers fell from the towers. The python opened its mouth wide, swallowing the soldiers and their guns.

Such a terrifying scene...

People in the other watchtowers were shocked.

The gunshots stopped for a moment.

At the same time, many soldiers were hurriedly contacting and warning the people inside the base.

Meanwhile...

The python turned its head angrily and swam quickly into the base.

Next...

“Chirp, chirp, chirp...”

In the base, the ear-piercing siren filled the air.

Receiving the report, General Will didn't dare to hesitate. He led a large group of subordinates and rushed out of the base, ready to besiege the python.

Right at this moment...

The chief offender the python had been pursuing was on the other side of the wall. However, the python didn't know about it.

That was right.

Fang Qiu went straight back to the lounge in the first place.

The python hadn't yet made a terrible scene outside. Before its invasion started a panic, Fang Qiu knocked out all five people sleeping soundly in the lounge.

Then, he stood at the door, spreading out his Divine Consciousness to carefully observe the movements outside.

The python swam past the corridor outside the door, heading fast for the base. At this sight, Fang Qiu couldn't help laughing.

He knew it.

His plan had succeeded.

Then...

He just needed to wait for the python to escape. Then, he could take away all five doctors!

After a while...

“Rat-tat-tat...”

The continuous sound of gunfire and bullets flooded in.

“Whoosh!”

Outside the door, something moving fast penetrated the air.

Due to his Divine Consciousness’s careful detective work, Fang Qiu learned that the python was covered with wounds. It flashed past the base and swam toward the river 10 kilometers away, leaving a blood trail on the ground. It was on the run.

General Will, the head governing the entire military base, would not let it go. He quickly chased after it with several experts.

This military base...

It stood for General Will’s dignity.

A giant snake broke through his military base, which humiliated him.

He had to salvage some pride!

General Will left.

Most of the soldiers began to clean up the battlefield.

Fang Qiu quickly locked the door.

Then, with the sheets in the room, he tied up the five guys knocked unconscious by him. He found a chance and sneaked out of the military base.

He dashed in the opposite direction of the way the python and General Will left.

He had explored the area within 10 kilometers around.

In this direction...

Some caves there looked like the rooms the local primitives used to live in. There was a big stone at the door of each cave.

A few minutes later...

Fang Qiu came to a place 10 kilometers away.

He untied the five people in a coma, leaving one of them in the first cave he met. He also left him some food. After moving a big stone to block the cave, he continued to move forward.

Just like that, he left one person in each cave on the way.

In the end...

Fang Qiu placed the five people in different caves.

He left food for them.

They had considerable medical skills but moderate physical strength. Thus, they could not move the large rock blocking their doors. Even if they woke up, they would not attract the Murica troops' attention in a short time.

The five of them settled down.

Fang Qiu shuttled through the forest, looking for some vines, leaves, and the like. Then, he made himself look like a native of the aboriginal tribes.

Afterward...

He quietly returned to the military base.

When he was in the military base...

The Murica soldiers were still cleaning up the battlefield. Many were rebuilding the watchtowers.

General Will and the others had gone to hunt the snake. Since none had returned, no one in the base noticed these doctors had disappeared.

So...

With a swoosh, Fang Qiu rushed into the base at full speed like a gale.

It was late at night, and these Murica soldiers focused on cleaning the ruins. Therefore, no one noticed someone dashing into their base.

Fang Qiu was very familiar with this place.

Upon entering the base, he quickly got ready and sprinted for the four high-tech labs.

This time...

He didn't wait any longer.

Before the first lab, he violently blasted the door open.

"Bang!"

A loud bang sounded.

The experts in the lab were greatly startled.

Fang Qiu scanned around.

As expected, he found a person from a local tribe lying in the nutrition capsule. In addition, a dying tribesman was locked on the hospital bed.

"Damn it!"

With a curse, Fang Qiu knocked out all these specialists before they could react!

Fang Qiu didn't expect that.

These people were indeed experimenting on members of the local tribes!

In a frenzy...

Fang Qiu knocked all the experts in the lab unconscious.

He immediately copied all the information on the computer before moving to the next room.

Before long, he beat all the experts senseless, copying all the information in the four labs.

But...

When Fang Qiu copied the information and was about to leave...

“Chirp, chirp, chirp...”

An ear-piercing alarm suddenly sounded.

It seemed that...

Fang Qiu must have triggered an alarm when copying the information. At once, he checked the data he copied and found it remained intact. He was instantly relieved and put it away. Then, he destroyed all the computers in the four labs!

At this time...

“Boom...”

Suddenly, three overwhelming auras inside the base sprang up.

Medical Master

Chapter 1438: Who? Who on Earth Were They?!

“This place has gurus?”

Fang Qiu was astonished when feeling the powerful energy aura coming from the depths of the base.

In the past two nights, he had searched around the military base. There was no one else except for some ordinary soldiers, medical experts, and scientific research experts.

In that case...

How did these three gurus come out?

Could they all have a way to hide their auras?

Or were they three artificial gurus?

When Fang Qiu thought of this...

He immediately frowned.

Murica did well in hiding its strength if they were artificial gurus. Moreover, they could prove the core biotechnology grasped by Murica might be much more horrifying than what he had seen.

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu was not in a hurry to escape. Instead, he deliberately slowed down. As he ran out, he never stopped making moves. He was determined to destroy everything he could see in the military base!

Soon...

Three guru-level auras erupted out from the depths of the base. In an instant, it appeared before Fang Qiu.

“No!”

Seeing the three people giving off guru auras, Fang Qiu breathed a sigh of relief in his heart.

He didn’t run away in the first place.

It was because he was waiting for the three gurus.

He wanted to see if these three gurus were ordinary humans!

Now...

The three gurus emerged before him.

At a glance, Fang Qiu saw their ghastly pale faces and sunken cheeks. It was apparent they were not created by biochemistry technology. They were genuine descendants of Murica vampires!

Since they were not artificial gurus, things would be much simpler.

“Boom!”

Fang Qiu flashed aside. He smashed up the base while diving for the base entrance.

The three gurus saw this.

They were furious at once.

They chased after him with a terrifying force. Helplessly, they couldn't move as fast as Fang Qiu. Even if other things also occupied Fang Qiu, he was still faster than them.

The military base was not big.

Fang Qiu sabotaged the base while circling it. After ruining the command platform and all computers, he leaped up and darted out of this base.

The three gurus couldn't catch up with him no matter what. In the hell-for-leather pursuit, they became increasingly furious.

Fang Qiu was before them.

He never withdrew his disruptive force. Along the way, he slayed all Murica soldiers he came across.

Seeing this, some Murica soldiers dared not confront Fang Qiu head-on. They could only run fast to hide and shoot from a distance!

There...

On the riverbank 10 kilometers away from the military base...

With several experts, General Will followed the python to the riverbank of Amazing River. The python entered the water, but they were still unwilling to let it go. They had been trying various ways to attack the escaping python hidden underwater!

But after a prolonged attack, the python was still alive.

Right then...

“Bang, bang, bang...”

A loud bang came from the military base in the distance.

General Will abruptly turned his head.

“Sir.”

An expert coming here with the general suddenly shouted, “Someone raided the base and destroyed a large part of it. Even the three vampires have been out to defend the base!”

“What?”

When General Will heard the report, his face darkened. “With three members of the blood clan guarding the base, how could anyone ruin the major part of the base?”

With this...

General Will instantly looked sullen.

Even the three blood clan members couldn’t guard against the base.

The enemy alone made a surprise and unstoppable attack on the base. How powerful would the person be?

What was worse...

All of this seemed to have been premeditated.

At first, this giant python came out of nowhere. When he was lured away, the base was under attack!

“Damn it!”

General Will cursed angrily, casting a hostile glare at the Amazing River. The deep water in it flew gently. He waved at his subordinates and shouted out, “Withdraw. Let’s return to the base!”

After that...

He no longer cared about the python hiding in the river. Turning around, he rushed back to the base, ready to help!

Unfortunately, they proceeded too slowly.

Just as they turned back for the rescue...

Fang Qiu slaughtered along the way and finally got out of the military base. Hotly pursued by three gurus of the blood clan, he came to a tropical rainforest seven or eight kilometers from the military base.

“Are you vampire descendants?”

Fang Qiu stopped and turned to look at the three of them.

He suddenly remembered the scene he saw with his Divine Consciousness when exploring the base for the first time. In the lab, an expert in scientific research added a blood drop to the local people lying in the nutrition cabin.

The aura emitted from the blood drop was precisely the same as that of the three gurus.

At that time...

Fang Qiu sensed the aura of the blood drop was the same as Lester's. At present, he knew the blood drop should have been extracted from these three people.

When Fang Qiu thought of this...

He immediately understood.

The three gurus, also vampire descendants, made up the experimental biotechnology foundation of this military base. The blood of these gurus was used to strengthen ordinary people by improving their genes!

No wonder Fang Qiu didn't notice these three people's auras after entering the base. Since their blood essence was extracted, these vampires needed much time to remain dormant and restore their vitality!

"Go to hell."

Hearing Fang Qiu's question, one guru immediately dashed toward him in a towering rage. The energy around him rotated crazily and directly condensed into a layer of blood-colored energy. Like a storm, it emitted an extremely overbearing energy aura and bombarded Fang Qiu.

On closer inspection...

When the guru rushed over...

As he vehemently waved his hand, sharp nails grew out fingers. His palm turned like a bat's claw!

"He's indeed a vampire descendant."

Fang Qiu sneered inwardly and murmured, "So, if I kill you guys, I can suspend Murica's biological research?"

As soon as he finished speaking...

Fang Qiu moved.

"Whoosh!"

Like a wild beast in the forest, he charged at them at a hair-raising speed.

"Sizzle!"

There came a crisp sound.

Two gurus rushed up from the other two directions, attempting to besiege Fang Qiu. Horrifyingly, they saw Fang Qiu effortlessly tear apart the first guru at the forefront as if tearing a piece of paper.

One of them was killed in an instant!

"What?"

When the other two gurus saw this, their faces darkened.

Their companion was a guru.

How could he be slaughtered so quickly?

In shock...

The two gurus exchanged a glance, ready to turn around and escape.

But at this moment...

Fang Qiu had blocked their way.

“Whoosh, whoosh...”

Sword Qi surged. A golden light flashed across. Before they could react, they collapsed feebly and died.

It was not easy for Fang Qiu to kill a guru more than three months ago.

However, since the lotus shadow appeared in his Dantian, Fang Qiu’s combat effectiveness had far surpassed that of an ordinary guru.

As his fighting capacity increased greatly...

Slaying a guru was a piece of cake for Fang Qiu.

Moreover...

For the Murica military’s biotechnology research, the three gurus had lost a lot of blood and essence. As such, their strength was not at its peak. Therefore, they couldn’t escape from Fang Qiu.

After Fang Qiu wiped out the three gurus...

He observed the surrounding area, releasing his Divine Consciousness. No one else was around. After making sure of it, he squatted down. Thoroughly, he searched the three gurus and found a satellite phone. He turned it on to check and was delighted that its signal was not blocked.

Right away, he sent a string of letters to a Europa number with this satellite phone.

After that...

He mobilized his internal Qi, burned the phone into powder, and destroyed it!

...

Huaxia...

In a military base...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

A computer remaining still for a long time suddenly rang.

With a closer look...

The computer was connected to an old-fashioned mobile phone without an Internet connection.

With the sound of the computer...

The old-fashioned phone also lit up.

“Um?”

Hearing the sound, Li Ji abruptly turned around and stared at the phone connected to the computer in great shock. Then, he hurried over.

Before Fang Qiu went to Murica, Li Ji told him this phone number.

This number had been in service for many years. It was a Europa number.

He told Fang Qiu this number because it was highly secretive.

Li Ji thought he might not use this number.

But unexpectedly...

Today, a text message was sent to it.

He lost no time in opening the message.

There was a line of letters. Seeing this, Li Ji quickly fetched a pen, wrote it down, and immediately cracked it.

In his opinion...

This was a string of code.

These secret codes were designed exclusively for the special forces. Fang Qiu had learned them at the military base.

In no time...

The codes were translated.

“I see.”

Li Ji couldn't help laughing when seeing the meaning of these codes. With a smile, he murmured, “Don't worry. We'll soon back you up!”

...

Amazing Basin...

In a primeval tropical jungle...

Fang Qiu finished off the three vampire gurus and sent a text message. Afterward, he planned to return to the base. He wanted to see how the Murica soldiers reacted. Also, he might find a chance to rescue these people from the local tribes captured by Murica soldiers.

After all, human lives mattered!

In just three minutes...

Fang Qiu returned to the place 10 meters away from the military base. General Will had gone to chase after the python. But from a distance, Fang Qiu saw him back to the base.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He hid on the spot.

Outside the military base...

“Who is it? Who the hell is it?”

General Will went back to the military base. At the sight of his messy base, he poured out torrents of angry abuse.

In a rage...

General Will immediately walked into the base. When meeting the experts at the base, he took out a photo and showed it to them.

However, those experts couldn't recognize who knocked them out because they didn't even see the person.

Helplessly...

General Will could only quickly check the surveillance video.

But after scanning through the videos, he found he couldn't see who it was!

"Sir."

Just as General Will was about to lose his temper, a soldier suddenly rushed over and reported, "The six traditional doctors have all disappeared. The scene showed they must have been abducted!"

Medical Master

Chapter 1439: Following the Way

"What?"

The report from this subordinate added fuel to General Will's flames.

However...

Secretly, he breathed a sigh of relief in his heart.

The person who sneaked up on the military base must have aimed at Fang Qiu and the other five people. Fortunately, he had obtained the treatment methods from Fang Qiu and Antonio. Otherwise, he would have been in big trouble!

At this point...

“General Will. General Will!”

An excited shout suddenly came.

General Will looked over.

There...

An expert, holding the photo General Will had given him, excitedly ran into the command room under repair. Others sized him up with curious eyes, yet he didn't care about it. He rushed straight to General Will and held up the photo with excitement. Pointing to a fruit in the photo, he passionately explained, “A treasure! This is an invaluable asset. This fruit in the photo possesses the activated substance in the life movement we long yearn for day and night. It can improve our current method and help us create perfect fighters. Human genes could be developed for real!”

“Are you sure?”

The anger on General Will's face vanished. He was all smiles in wonderment.

Sure enough...

Compared with the transformation toward super fighters, everything among the ruins before him was worthless!

“Sure. I’m very sure.”

The expert immediately nodded joyfully.

“Okay.”

General Will looked even happier, and his eyes were full of burning desire. He said, “If that’s the case... Whatever the price is, we can pay it. So what if the base would be destroyed?”

At this critical moment...

The smile on General Will’s face gradually widened.

He had instigated this biotechnology experiment. Since he had been monitoring it, he was very familiar with its progress. Why was the experimental progress so slow? He was well aware of the reason: they lacked the bioactive substance.

Of course...

As a Murica general, General Will knew about the special groups in the world, like martial arts practitioners in Huaxia, werewolves in Rashk, and witches in Anglan.

There was one special group in Murica.

The blood clan!

They were the so-called descendants of vampires.

Vampire descendants had their roots in Europa. They had few branches and were small in number. As such, in terms of special forces, it had been at a disadvantage compared with other countries.

Since Murica was weak in this respect, General Will proposed biotechnology experiments.

Of course...

The foundation of such experiments...

It was based on the blood clan in the very beginning. The research department first studied this clan's genes. Then they tried to reverse other people's genes, intending to strengthen ordinary people and make them experts. These Murica researchers had tried various methods but could not change a person's genes directly.

Helplessly, to speed up the research schedule, they could only use a part of their research power to try something else while studying genes. The genes of the blood clan were taken and injected into human bodies. They were trying to complete this experiment with a more straightforward method. However, something unexpected happened during the experiments.

The blood essence of experts in the blood clan was injected into human bodies. No matter how sturdy the man was, he could not bear the genetic change. Because of this, many experimental subjects died suddenly.

Helplessly...

These Murica experts could only choose those who were particularly strong. After strengthening these people in the nutrition capsules, they continued experimenting with them.

But even so...

These experimental subjects still couldn't withstand that kind of power.

Through the comprehensive analysis of countless scientific research teams, these Murica people finally found the key: the bioactive substance.

Ordinary people didn't have this kind of bioactive substance. It only existed in the bodies of special groups like the blood clan.

This bioactive substance could strengthen humans and exploit their potential.

Because of the big benefits, the Murica researchers tried to make this active substance with technology. But it would die once this substance left anyone from the blood clan. Even if it were transferred directly to other people, it would become inactive.

Without other choices...

In severe distress, these Murica researchers could only find a way to create such a substance. Over the years, they had developed many kinds of active energy, but the human body could absorb none.

This was why their biotechnology experiments had not succeeded so far. By sheer luck, two successful cases appeared. However, they suffered significant side effects. The side effects killed one of them, and only Lester survived!

In this situation...

The bioactive substance's importance was self-evident.

Unfortunately, through research, they couldn't find a suitable substance or produce any.

Now...

They finally found it!

“Go.”

General Will was overjoyed. Immediately, he waved his hand and said, “Follow me. Let’s get this fruit!”

As he spoke, he left the military base with the expert and the scientific researcher. They drove all the way south.

Behind them...

Fang Qiu had been hiding on the periphery of the base.

General Will left with some people while Fang Qiu quietly returned to the military base. Some primitives from the tribes were locked up in the four biology technology labs. He finished off all the Murica soldiers in the base. Then he advanced fast in the direction where General Will had left.

At this time...

General Will and the others were already five or six kilometers away.

Fang Qiu followed them quietly all the way.

They reached the Amazing River 10 kilometers away from the base. However, Fang Qiu found General Will did not stop there. Instead, he bypassed the river and advanced toward the depths of the jungle.

“What are they going to do?”

Fang Qiu was curious.

“What could make General Will give up the military base?”

“Could there be another military base in the depths of the jungle?”

Less than 100 meters away...

While hiding, Fang Qiu carefully observed the team’s situation before him. He was surprised to see several experts in the group.

The strangest thing was...

General Will brought a research expert with him. They talked and laughed, looking particularly excited.

“I don’t feel quite right.”

Fang Qiu quietly shook his head.

“The military base was destroyed. Shouldn’t General Will be furious?”

“How could he be so thrilled?”

“Do scientific research?”

Thinking about it carefully, Fang Qiu immediately frowned.

He had a vague feeling that this group would do something unusual. It was a great, joyous event that could make them forget the unpleasant thing — their base had been destroyed.

When Fang Qiu thought of this...

He looked ahead and even completely spread out his Divine Consciousness. It covered the area within 60 kilometers around him. But he carefully sensed everything around but found nothing unusual.

“Could it be somewhere further away?”

Fang Qiu was confused.

This group of people had walked more than 10 kilometers. Plus the Divine Consciousness, he had searched the large area within 70 kilometers.

There was nothing unusual within 70 kilometers. Perhaps, something special was 70 kilometers away.

Fang Qiu withdrew his Divine Consciousness.

He continued tailing them.

But since they were in such a hurry, there must be something worth noticing. As long as he followed them, he could see it.

In the jungle...

The vehicle drove very slowly. It took them almost two hours to get more than 100 kilometers away.

They came to a very dense primeval rainforest.

“Screech!”

The car stopped.

Five hundred meters away, Fang Qiu also halted and went on observing them under cover.

Through this glance...

He saw a very strange forest ahead.

It was a marshy land.

There were many small water areas dotted about the ground. Apart from the trees, not even a single weed was in his sight. This area looked particularly refreshing and clean.

Most crucially...

Those trees were all very tall. Each was over 50 meters tall.

These tree trunks were very straight. Except for the canopies dozens of meters high in the air, the tree trunks without branches looked remarkably smooth!

“Um?”

Suddenly, Fang Qiu detected a smell of blood in the air while observing the situation ahead.

Fang Qiu quietly moved a few steps aside.

Right ahead of the car, a giant python loomed over them!

There was a punctured bump and a bloodstain on the python.

It was the previous one!

Fang Qiu was quite taken aback.

With a closer look, Fang Qiu found that all its scales had recovered except for its wounded head. They didn't seem to have ever been broken.

It seemed to have evolved.

At this time...

This python wound around a trunk, raising its head high and sticking out its tongue. It was confronting General Will and the others.

Its pair of blood-red eyes appeared very fierce. However, it showed no desire to attack. Seemingly, it was not here to fight but to defend.

In doubt...

Fang Qiu looked into the depths of the jungle on wetlands.

After this glance...

He literally jumped out of his skin.

There...

An even more giant python coiled up in the depths of the woods.

The thickest part of this giant python was more than one meter wide. Its body part around the heart and its tail were much thicker than the previous one's.

Especially the head...

Its mouth was so big that it could swallow a person with a casual bite.

Of course...

There was also a horn on the top of its head.

Different from the previous python, this one had a fully grown horn on its head. It was sharp, more than 20 centimeters long.

At this time...

The giant python was lying between several towering trees, slithering lazily. Not caring about the arrival of General Will and the others, the python didn't even bother looking back. Instead, it focused only on the area circled by its body.

"Is there something inside?"

As Fang Qiu thought of this, he looked toward General Will. He seemed not afraid of these two huge pythons at all. Instead, he was very excited.

"Sure enough, this fellow isn't ordinary!"

Fang Qiu sighed with feeling. Releasing his Divine Consciousness, he explored the area surrounded by the giant python.

Medical Master

Chapter 1440: Gurus Fighting Against the Python!

"Heaven Treasure."

Fang Qiu released his Divine Consciousness. Soon, he sensed a very subtle energy fluctuation coming from the depths of the swamp forest ahead.

The source of the energy fluctuation was in the deepest part of the jungle. A giant python circled the area.

“This aura...”

Fang Qiu thought of something and looked around.

He found a big tree nearby. It looked the same as the ones in the wetland before him. Quietly, he came to the back of the tree, tiptoed, and immediately flew up. Covered by the thick tree trunk, he rushed straight to the crown of the tree tens of meters high in the air. Then, under the cover of the canopy, he moved and flew forward.

He came to the sky above the wetland jungle.

Fang Qiu hid in the crown of a big tree on the periphery.

From this position, he could see everything below.

He looked over.

The center of the woods was 50 meters before him. The giant python was entrenched there. Because Fang Qiu was in a high place, he could see a dazzling sparkle in the encirclement formed by the giant python.

It was a fruit like a water drop hanging on a palm-sized plant.

The crystal-clear fruit was shining brightly.

It looked exceptionally beautiful.

Fang Qiu stared at the fruit.

His face changed dramatically.

The dazzling light from the fruit was harsh for ordinary people's eyes. But for Fang Qiu, its fierce glow could not block his sight. Therefore, he could see the fruit. It was shining with radiance because it was wrapped by a layer of leaves like prisms.

Surrounded by the sparkling and translucent leaves, a bit of green light emerged in the middle.

On the whole...

It was like a bud ready to burst.

"The fruit of life?"

When Fang Qiu stared at the fruit, his throat felt dry and constricted. Fang Qiu felt extremely thirsty, as if he had become dehydrated.

The fruit of life...

It was often called Life Fruit and ranked sixth on the ranking list for Heaven Treasures.

According to records...

The heaven essence formed its leaves, while the earth essence fostered Life Fruit. After a hundred years of nourishment, it bore a bud. When its fruit came into being, it would absorb the essence of heaven and earth. Then, the fruit would emerge from its outermost shell like a cicada sloughing its skin. As such, it was named Life Fruit.

Fang Qiu couldn't take his eyes off this No. 6 Heaven Treasure, feeling his mouth parched and tongue scorched.

A Heaven Treasure at such a high level...

Compared with those Fang Qiu had encountered before, this one was several times or even dozens of times rarer.

To his surprise...

He encountered one here!

In fact...

The Divine Consciousness cultivated by Fang Qiu was used to search for Heaven and Earth Treasures. But along the way, Fang Qiu didn't notice any unusual movements of the Heaven and Earth energy. It was because of Life Fruit's character.

Everything about Life Fruit was for its final fruit. There was the heaven essence in its leaves like a flower bud. In addition, its green stem under the bud absorbed the earth essence. All the essence from heaven and earth was transferred into the Life Fruit!

Since the Life Fruit needed the essence energy, not a single drop of it was not supposed to be wasted. There was a layer of light-reflecting leaves like mirrors. When the Life Fruit was ripe, these leaves would fall off. Only then would it emit its energy aura.

In this case...

Fang Qiu couldn't detect it with his Divine Consciousness. Thus, he could only watch it with his naked eyes.

“This Murica group must have come for it.”

Fang Qiu nodded to himself.

He saw the Life Fruit’s leaves spread out a little. It was like a bud getting ready to open.

Without this narrow gap, Fang Qiu wouldn’t have felt the strange movement of the energy just now.

“At this speed, Life Fruit will soon become ripe!”

Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes.

He turned to look at General Will and the others.

His eyes fell on the giant python confronting General Will and the others. In a flash, Fang Qiu figured out why the Murica troops had never discovered such a giant python in the jungle. It turned out it had been living in this place a hundred kilometers from the military base.

Since the Life Fruit was about to ripen, it moved to clear the military base!

The two giant pythons had lived here for at least hundreds of years. Otherwise, they would have grown so large.

“UAV!”

Facing the python, General Will waved his right hand and asked for the unmanned aerial vehicle.

His subordinate instantly released a drone aircraft. It rose quickly, and its camera caught the Life Fruit surrounded by the giant python.

The scientific researcher with this group saw the scene from the screen connected to the drone. On the spot, he called out in a frenzy of joy. "Yes, that's it. This fruit must contain a large amount of active substance. I can tell it is about to ripen from its growth state!"

"Great!"

General Will laughed out loud and said, "No wonder the giant python sent a smaller python to block us. It wants to keep this treasure all to itself."

"Attack!"

"Kill the smaller one before you strike the larger one!"

General Will ordered.

The squad following the smaller python here fired at it without hesitation.

"Clap, clap, clap..."

Gunshots rang out wildly.

Countless bullets hit the python in an instant.

"Chirp!"

The python opened its mouth wide and let out an ear-piercing scream. Then, it suddenly moved. With incredible speed, it began circling General Will and the others.

"Whoosh, whoosh, whoosh..."

The water and mud on the ground splashed in all directions. This python wound its way through the lush vines and trees outside the wetland with woods, smashing all the green plants.

“Whoosh!”

The Murica soldiers fired frantically at this fast-moving python. It suddenly swung its tail out of the blue, which swept over with tremendous force.

Almost all the plants in this area were flattened.

“Bang!”

There was a loud bang.

The tail knocked the off-road vehicle driven by General Will and the others ten meters away. It kept rolling and violently hit a big tree, causing an explosion!

A distance away...

The giant python coiling around the Life Fruit lazily raised its head and glanced at these humans with indifference.

There...

After its tail swept away the military vehicle with one blow...

The python suddenly turned around and opened its mouth wide. Madly, it pounced on General Will and the others.

“Rat-a-tat-tat-tat...”

The Murica soldiers fired wildly.

Previously...

They remembered bullets had penetrated its scales. Surprisingly, this python’s wounds completely healed in less than an hour. Even the new scales could block bullets. None of their bullets was shot into the python.

Only the horn on the python’s head and the bloody wound hadn’t recovered.

“Get out of the way.”

General Will shouted.

The giant python charged forward regardless of the severe consequences. When bullets hit its mouth, jets of blood sprayed everywhere. However, it was simply unstoppable!

“Whoosh.”

The python swept across this space.

Again, it turned its head angrily and lunged at the group of soldiers.

It swallowed several Murica soldiers that couldn’t react in time.

“Damn it!”

General Will cursed. Then he turned to look at the two aides in military uniforms behind him and said, "You two, go and kill it!"

"Yes."

The two aides answered, instantly erupting a burst of mighty Qi power.

"Gurus!"

Fang Qiu stayed on the crown of a tree dozens of meters high. When he felt the Qi power from the two people, his face suddenly changed, revealing an unreadable expression.

What a great surprise.

Two gurus accompanied General Will.

The giant python didn't pay attention to their battle. Perhaps, it was because enemies here were unworthy of its notice. But now that two gurus had appeared, it had to take this battle seriously.

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu turned to look at the giant python.

It had been coiling languidly around the Life Fruit on the ground. As Fang Qiu had expected, it lifted its head, gazing down at the two gurus fighting with the smaller python from a distance!

"Interesting."

Fang Qiu chuckled. Taking advantage of this period, he secretly hid his aura and figure. Quietly, he moved toward the wetland, approaching the Life Fruit.

A big tree was 10 meters away from the python and the fruit. When reaching its crown, Fang Qiu instantly remained motionless. He completely hid his energy aura and lowered his body temperature to that of his surroundings.

A distance away...

Two gurus took action. They surrounded the smaller python. One guru attacked its head; the other assaulted its tail.

With a closer look...

He found the two gurus were vampire descendants!

The Murica government must have hired them to protect General Will.

“Screech...”

Being besieged by two gurus, the python opened its mouth wide and roared angrily.

However, the two gurus didn't stop for a second. Each held a sword with a long thin blade. They would stab it at any chance.

In this case, the python couldn't simultaneously consider the tail and head.

Eventually...

One guru found a good chance and burst out a layer of the aura of blood. He stabbed the thin sword into the python's heart and violently sliced.

He cut the python in two pieces from its heart!

“Clap, clap, clap...”

Even though its head was chopped off, the python was still twisting wildly. Its mouth open and closed repeatedly, trying to bite its rivals. At last, the two gurus kicked the body parts into the air. When these bloody pieces fell into the jungle in the distance, they gradually stopped moving.

Right at this moment...

The giant python in the depths of the woods on the wetland had straightened entirely up. In a defensive counterattack posture, it repeatedly flicked out its brawny tongue, with its eyes fixed on General Will and his men.

“Kill it!”

After slaying the smaller python, General Will laughed out loud and gave another order.

The two gurus from the blood clan immediately set off, dashing toward the giant python.
