

Medical M 1441

Medical Master

Chapter 1441: Thank You

“Phew...”

A heavy gasp came from the giant python’s mouth.

The two gurus of the blood clan came head-on toward it. Slightly, the enormous snake drew back its upright upper body.

It was ready to attack at any time.

Two gurus rushed over.

Just as they were about to make a move...

“Whoosh!”

The sound of piercing wind came. Like an arrow leaving the bowstring, the python’s enormous head vehemently shot toward the two gurus as suddenly as lightning.

It was even faster than a guru.

Seeing this, the two gurus from the blood clan hurriedly brandished their thin swords in their hands, intending to attack.

However...

Just as they raised their sharp blades, the giant python's head had already rushed before them. Frighteningly, it opened its mouth in a flash.

A stream of pulling power burst out of the python's mouth, directly acting on the two gurus of the blood clan.

Because of the terrifying force of attraction...

It bent these big trees nearby and almost flattened them.

As this terrifying suction force broke out, General Will and the others in the distance were shocked.

Fang Qiu was hiding in the canopy of a big tree 10 meters away from the giant python. Yet, he also gasped in shock when feeling this formidable attractive force.

This python's explosive power was overwhelmingly strong!

Its power could almost parallel and even surpass a guru's.

The two gurus of the blood clan...

They didn't even have time to react. This enormous monster took the two gurus by surprise and sucked them into its mouth. With a violent bite, it ground them into pieces between its four rows of teeth, swallowing them all.

At the edge of the wetland jungle...

"Good heavens!"

Seeing this frightening scene, the scientific researcher looked panic-stricken. An outpouring of horror filled his eyes.

A moment ago...

He had been fearless. As a research specialist from Murica, he had seen many large and fierce beasts. All ferocious monsters showing up, with no exception, were killed by Murica experts.

But this time, he saw this desperate battle with his own eyes. The two super experts had been protecting them. But the python ate them with one bite!

At this moment, the fear lurking deep at the bottom of his heart sprang up eventually.

"Don't panic!"

General Will goggled at the giant python with no intention of attacking.

"Ge-general."

The researcher trembled and pleaded, "Our strength is much inferior. We are no match for it. How about we give up and call for backup?"

"Give up?"

General Will's face fell as he said, "Impossible. We've been looking for active matter for so long. How can we let this chance go so easily?"

With this...

General Will stretched out his right hand and reached into the pocket inside his shirt. From there, he pulled out a tube of bright red liquid medicine!

“This, this is?”

The researcher was amazed and instantly calmed down.

“Wait here!”

General Will snorted coldly and strode forward. As he approached the giant snake, he opened the potion tube. He threw back his head and downed all the liquid medicine.

“Crack, crack, crack...”

After drinking the potion, General Will immediately squeezed the glass tube into powder. Meanwhile, an exceedingly overwhelming aura of energy burst out from him. It was even more potent than that of the two deceased gurus of the blood clan!

The immense beast felt General Will’s striking aura.

“Hiss...”

The giant python immediately became alert. As it stared at General Will, it let out a soul-stirring hiss.

“Damned beast!”

When General Will was seven or eight meters from the giant snake, he took off his coat, flexing his highly strong muscles. Then he reached to his waist and pulled out a dagger more than 20 centimeters long. Holding the dagger with an underhand grip, General Will let the power come from his feet and shot out. Like a crazy beast, he rushed straight toward the python’s enormous body.

“Chirp!”

The giant python sharply opened its mouth wide, making an unpleasant loud high noise from its throat. Its colossal body, full of powerful muscles, instantly began to shake. With a flip, it changed its posture, trying to surround General Will and strangle him to death!

But right then...

General Will fiercely kicked the giant python and gained momentum. He intended to leap up on the giant python's head.

Unfortunately...

He jumped up from the ground while the giant python was looking down at him.

As such...

Just as he leaped into the air, the giant python opened his mouth wide to get him.

On the crown of a tree...

"He is dead."

Seeing this, Fang Qiu started shaking his head.

In his opinion, General Will could hardly duck this attack. The enormous snake would tear him apart in a twinkling and gobble up his body in one go!

But the next moment...

The scene entirely beyond Fang Qiu's expectations appeared.

There...

The python pounced on him with its mouth wide open. However, General Will forcibly stopped as he dashed in the air. Then, he flashed aside and narrowly dodged the python's crushing bite.

"Gee?"

Fang Qiu was amazed.

He didn't expect General Will to make such an exceedingly difficult combat movement.

For Fang Qiu, General Will was doomed from the start. He knew General Will was not a real metahuman — he reached such a high level by medicine.

An ordinary person suddenly obtained such great power. Even after practicing many times, he couldn't complete the movements that martial arts practitioners of equal strength could do!

It was beyond Fang Qiu's expectation that General Will could do this.

Even though his moves looked a little stiff, he was pretty good.

"Whoosh, whoosh..."

The python missed its target.

In a frenzy of rage, it rapidly swam out and surrounded an area with a diameter of about 20 meters around General Will. Its long body made two circles, surrounding General Will like city walls.

Then...

It opened its mouth, pouncing on General Will in the encirclement to bite him.

This time...

General Will no longer dodged.

Surprisingly, he wielded his hand to fight against the giant python.

“Clap, clap, clap...”

A series of collision sounds came.

Looking down from a higher place, Fang Qiu saw General Will move flexibly. The power he burst out was irresistible. When the giant python crashed down on him, he could beat it back with punches.

“Um?”

Seeing this, Fang Qiu was slightly shocked.

To his surprise...

General Will possessed matchless power.

Fang Qiu had noticed that he was not an ordinary person. After drinking the potion, he exerted immense strength beyond Fang Qiu’s imagination.

“Could this guy be a metahuman?”

Fang Qiu was surprised.

At the start, Fang Qiu thought General Will was going to die. But then, his actions kept changing and rapidly matured. It looked like he was progressing during the battle. Gradually, his movements and postures became sophisticated.

In surprise...

An energy fluctuation quietly spread out.

As the energy wave appeared, Fang Qiu's heart skipped a beat. Immediately, he shifted his eyes to the Life Fruit next to the giant python.

A layer of light-reflecting leaves like glass prisms had been surrounding the fruit. At this time, they had utterly unfolded. The dazzling rays of light they emitted dimmed little by little. It seemed the fruit was absorbing the light.

Inside these leaves emerged a thumb-sized green fruit as tender as petals. It was slowly giving off a pure aura of energy!

"It's about to mature!"

Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes.

In the meantime, the python in the fierce battle also turned around and glanced at the Life Fruit. Trapped by the python, General Will also sensed the energy emanating from the Life Fruit. Instantly, his fury flew like a river, and he began to attack the giant python like crazy.

He must break through the giant anaconda's tight encirclement. Only then could he get the Life Fruit. When he was trapped like this, the behemoth would swallow it once it had ripened.

At that time...

The huge python would do everything to obtain the Life Fruit. He might be seriously injured!

To prevent such a tragic ending, General Will had to launch a fierce attack and attract its full attention.

Right then...

Fang Qiu was hiding in the crown of the big tree. He chose a direction neither the python nor General Will could see him. Then, he jumped down from the high sky and quietly landed on the ground. When the python and the man fought fiercely, he came to a big tree closest to the Life Fruit, hiding behind it.

Before long...

Competition between the giant python and General Will was reaching fever pitch!

After a while...

“Buzz.”

A wave of energy fluctuation suddenly surged out from the Life Fruit and swept out in all directions.

The fruit was ripe!

The giant python was about to engulf the fruit whole.

However, General Will pressed on and attacked its heart. Helplessly, the giant python fought back.

At this time...

“Whiz!”

Fang Qiu, hiding nearby, rushed out and flashed to the Life Fruit. Swiftly, he grabbed the mature Life Fruit, turned around, and ran away.

“Thank you ! ”

Taking the Life Fruit, Fang Qiu expressed his sincere gratitude to General Will before running away.

General Will caught his words.

He spotted the Life Fruit in Fang Qiu’s hand. Immediately, he stormed and raged in a fit of temper.

The python fighting against General Will took action and roared furiously at the sky. Its thick and sturdy tail suddenly swept across the field.

“Bang, bang, bang...”

There came a string of mighty thumps. The tail flattened all the trees within reach. Hit by it, even researchers and Murica soldiers hiding in the distance spat out blood and died!

Medical Master

Chapter 1442: Fang Qiu VS Python!

“Crack, crack, crack...”

A series of crisp sounds burst out from the depths of the jungle. One after another, these towering trees scattered over the wide area fell under the crazy lash of the giant python’s tail!

This terrifying tail sweep slaughtered more than half of the soldiers and specialists who followed General Will here!

When General Will saw this miserable sight...

“Ah!!!”

With a furious roar, General Will glared fiercely in the direction where Fang Qiu escaped. Then, he neatly waved the dagger in his hand, and the giant python was about to chase after Fang Qiu. Taking this chance, he jumped up a few times and came close to the giant python’s heart. He biffed it with his left hand, crashing one scale. After that, he fiercely waved his right hand and thrust the dagger deep into the crack of the scale!

He exerted so much strength that his whole arm reached under the scale. It was even immersed in the python’s tight muscles.

The muscles contracted to expel the foreign object, exerting an overwhelming force on it.

“Crack!”

A crisp sound rang out.

The immense pressure crushed the bone in General Will’s arm!

His face changed.

General Will immediately pulled his hand out of the python’s python.

He wielded the dagger to launch a second strike. In horror, he saw the giant python turning its head. Its blood-red eyes with angry fire stared at him coldly!

The huge snake abruptly opened its mouth.

A blast of unparalleled fierce energy Qi erupted from its mouth. Like an air cannonball, it bombarded General Will's head.

Opposite it...

General Will seemed to have noticed its intention. He tilted to one side before the "air cannonball" hit him. The blow seemed to have landed on him but only narrowly missed.

The giant python went into a rage, and the Life Fruit had been taken away. How could the general be in the mood to fight with the giant python? At once, he flashed aside, leading the crazy giant python to chase after Fang Qiu at lightning speed.

In a rage...

The giant python rolled and twisted wildly, advancing fast. Along the way, it crumpled ordinary vines and even towering trees.

Everywhere it passed became flat!

Up ahead...

Fang Qiu withdrew at full speed.

He got the Life Fruit, ruined the Murica military base, and copied all the necessary information. In addition, Murica soldiers and scientific researchers had suffered heavy casualties.

There was no need for Fang Qiu to stay.

Like a flash of lightning, Fang Qiu left General Will and the giant python far behind in a blink.

Behind him...

Fang Qiu was running fast ahead while the giant python chased him. General Will's face was overcast.

He was no match for the giant python in a frenzy!

What would happen if he continued the chase? He wouldn't catch up with the person who stole the Life Fruit. What was worse, he would be entangled by the giant python.

With this in mind...

General Will immediately sped up.

Gradually, he distanced himself from the giant python, but the latter was still in hot pursuit of him!

General Will looked back and then straight ahead.

He was surprised to see several wooden houses conical in shape. Besides, there were some simple buildings built from wood.

A primitive tribe?

When General Will saw this primitive tribe, his eyes kindled with excitement!

Finally, he found an opportunity to escape!

Without any hesitation...

General Will sped up, leading the giant python to the primitive tribe.

Before the tribe, General Will didn't intend to stop — he rushed straight ahead.

When these local tribesmen saw the giant python, their faces dramatically changed. In a great hurry, they snatched up their hunting weapons to battle against the boa.

This giant python blindly bit anyone it saw!

General Will eased himself away. After shooting a menacing glare at Fang Qiu, he ran away in panic.

Here...

“Whoosh, whoosh, whoosh...”

Briefly blocked by members of this primitive tribe, the giant python lost its target. On the spot, it began attacking all the people of the primitive tribe in a burning fury.

At this time...

Other people of this tribe nearby also rushed over, holding various weapons. They banded together to kill this giant python.

After all, they made a living by hunting.

If they could slaughter such a behemoth, they would be admired by tens of thousands of people!

What a pity.

They were all ordinary people.

This giant python was not something they could resist!

...

In a dense forest not far away...

Fang Qiu was watching all this.

He had fled in this direction. When he came here, he paused momentarily and found a primitive tribe. General Will and the python were still moving swiftly to catch up with him. He had predicted that these locals would face a terrible crisis back then.

Therefore, Fang Qiu stopped and hid somewhere.

He wanted to see...

Could these people of the primitive tribe escape? He could leave in relief if they could stay safe. However, he had never expected these locals to stay and fight against the python.

The most disturbing thing was that except for members of this tribe, even people of other nearby primitive tribes had run over.

If he left regardless of their safety...

All these people would become the python's food.

The python's mouth would become so many people's tomb. Fang Qiu couldn't stand it, whether as a doctor or a human being, not to mention he brought this dreadful disaster to these people.

After all, General Will and the giant python followed him to this place!

The giant python knocked many people high up into the air in a towering rage. It planned to let them fall into its bloody mouth.

Fang Qiu was in position.

He immediately flew out.

He was dressed in the same style as the local tribesmen and changed his face. He had already put on this human-skin mask when rescuing the representatives of traditional medical skills from five countries. Therefore, General Will did not recognize him.

“Whoosh.”

With an air-penetrating sound, Fang Qiu flew straight out, holding a rattan. It was as thick as a thumb and about two meters long.

As he emerged, the giant python was about to swallow some people.

“Pa!”

Fang Qiu waved his right hand.

The rattan whip in his hand instantly cracked in his hand. Then, he brought the whip down on this giant python’s head with enormous force.

He lashed it with this whip.

A crack appeared on the scales of the python’s head, but no explosion occurred.

Apparently...

This giant python was much stronger than the smaller one.

This could be seen from its size.

However...

No matter how formidable it was, Fang Qiu was not afraid!

After the whip fell, he waved his hand. A flow of energy Qi burst out of him, sending all the tribe members below flying. They landed 15 meters away.

“Chirp!”

At the sight of Fang Qiu, it opened its mouth wide and roared wildly at Fang Qiu. A mighty gust of energy Qi sprayed out of its mouth, fiercely pouncing upon Fang Qiu like a gust of wind.

Before it...

Fang Qiu immediately accumulated his internal Qi.

In an instant, an energy shield materialized before him.

It enveloped him!

The shield blocked all the energy Qi bursting out of the giant python’s mouth.

But right then...

Since its attack didn't work, the giant python lunged forward and tried to swallow Fang Qiu whole.

"You like getting beat up?"

Fang Qiu shouted angrily and swung the whip in his hand. The weapon wrapped in his internal Qi lashed against the python's lower jaw.

Although it was hit...

However, this lashing only shook the python's head a little, unable to change its attack direction!

"Um?"

Fang Qiu was shocked.

Right away, he flashed aside to dodge.

"Whoosh."

With its mouth open, the python vehemently jumped on Fang Qiu, causing a great gust of wind. However, it missed the target.

"What powerful strength!"

Fang Qiu stepped aside and stared at the giant python with a frown.

As the python missed its aim, Fang Qiu was astonished when seeing the boa's back. There was a fist-sized bloody cut near its heart.

Fresh blood kept flowing out from the wound.

At this time...

“Howl!”

The giant snake abruptly turned its head and pounced on Fang Qiu fiercely.

It pounced and bit. This time, there was something more. Fang Qiu saw thickly dotted dagger-like icicles burst out of his mouth!

“What the hell?”

Fang Qiu’s face abruptly changed. He vigorously raised the rattan whip and hit the python’s head hard. Meanwhile, he threw the whip away. By using the supporting power, he leaped up into the air. He whooshed aside and dodged the python’s attack, instantly rushing to the giant python’s back.

Like an intelligent monkey, he jumped and moved flexibly. Soon, Fang Qiu reached its heart, where the fist-sized wound was.

Fang Qiu didn’t think too much about it.

He clenched his right hand.

An energy sword took shape in his hand. Then he stabbed fiercely into the bloody hole and swung his hand with all his might.

Suddenly, the incomparably sharp astral energy of the sword broke out from the divine sword. It cut the flesh on the right side of the python’s heart into two halves. Even its scales were cut open neatly!

“ROAR!!!”

Feeling the excruciating pain, the giant python abruptly turned around. Once again, it pounced on Fang Qiu to bite him.

Right away, Fang Qiu dispersed the divine sword in his hand and flew back to retreat.

The next moment...

The giant python uttered a long and loud cry while swimming wildly.

It slithered for a while.

Suddenly, it fell to the ground powerlessly and stopped moving.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He sneered and sprinted at it.

He was about to rush to the giant python's head. Suddenly, the horn on its head erupted a ripple of extremely dense dark green energy.

The serpent had been lying on the ground. Abruptly, it sprang up at startling speed like a poisonous snake hunting in the dark. Now the sharp horn on top of its head gave off brilliant rays. It vehemently came at Fang Qiu!

Medical Master

Chapter 1443: You Will Die Soon!

“Humph.”

When the giant python rose, Fang Qiu snorted and moved.

He suddenly backed away as if he had long been prepared for this.

Deftly, he dodged the giant python's attack.

The mammoth snake was upset.

It howled at the sky.

But...

It could no longer raise its head. Fang Qiu had sliced through its flesh and left a large cut near its heart. Whenever it attempted to lift its head, a large amount of blood would gush out of the big wound. In an instant, it became powerless.

It felt as if half of its body had been destroyed.

It let out another roar.

A flow of exceedingly terrifying energy burst out from the only corn above its head. It slashed at Fang Qiu like a flash of lightning.

“Not good!”

Fang Qiu was shocked. Without hesitation, he immediately activated his internal Qi and formed a thick energy shield around him.

“Pa!”

With a thunderous sound, dark green lightning flashed on the unicorn above the python's head. Sudden flashes of lightning mercilessly struck Fang Qiu's energy shield. A tremendous force poured down upon Fang Qiu. Though protected by the energy shield, he was sent flying backward and bumped against the trunk of a big tree.

"My gosh."

It gave Fang Qiu quite a start.

He had never imagined this python could burst out such a powerful destructive force. The blow was as devastating as that of Crowning Lord!

"This fellow must have eaten a lot of the Heaven Treasures."

In shock...

Fang Qiu gazed out toward the giant serpent.

There...

After this attack, the dark green energy in the horn above the serpent's head had been exhausted. It seemed the power it had stored could only support it to launch one attack.

As the strike knocked Fang Qiu into the air...

The giant python abruptly turned its head and fled madly into the distance.

The python was well aware of the situation.

It couldn't defeat Fang Qiu. If this fight continued, it would die. So, it could only run away!

After all, this anaconda grew so large after eating many Heaven Treasures. More or less, it had some intelligence.

Otherwise, it couldn't have been pretended to be dead with the intention of killing Fang Qiu.

Unfortunately...

It was not smart enough. The smaller anaconda was cut into two pieces, but it could still swim and sway wildly.

In contrast, when this bigger one played dead, it remained absolutely still. How could Fang Qiu not see its true intention of feigning death?

Now...

It was just trying to run away when knowing it couldn't win.

But how could Fang Qiu let it escape so easily?

"It seems I have to end the battle as soon as possible."

When the giant python escaped, Fang Qiu focused his eyes on its heart. There was a fluorescent coating of energy repairing its wound. With the energy's nourishment, the injury near the boa's heart was healing quickly.

Beyond doubt...

By eating Heaven Treasures in the primeval forest, the serpent stored up energy little by little. Finally, it obtained this stream of healing energy. This boa didn't activate the power because its wound was not severe.

Fang Qiu opened its wound. The large cut caused a fatal blow to this anaconda. Only then did it release all its energy.

“Whoosh!”

Seeing this, Fang Qiu flew over without hesitation.

He also knew what would happen next.

This gigantic snake was of malicious intent. Once it recovered, it would fight back. At that time, without his protection, all members of the primitive tribes here would be its food!

Therefore, he could not let it go.

The giant python was not as fast as Fang Qiu. Because of the serious injury, it moved much slower than before. In a twinkling, Fang Qiu caught up with it.

“Roar!”

Fang Qiu pursued it relentlessly. On its way to escape, the python turned its head and roared at Fang Qiu. However, Fang Qiu ignored it. He got ready and made a running dive, reaching its back as fast as a sharp arrow. Then in a few leaps, he jumped to its heart.

This time...

The giant python was scared. While rushing forward fast, it curled up. It was like a car at 120 kilometers per hour braking suddenly.

The terrifying inertia carried the giant python into the air. It made a circuit in midair. It smashed against several towering trees, breaking them in half!

With a closer look...

Fang Qiu had been standing on the back of the python. The impact didn't knock him off the snake's back, even when it fell heavily onto the ground.

“What a pity. Its energy was wasted.”

As the python fell, smoke and dust rose, covering the sky. Fang Qiu clenched his right hand in the fly ash, and the divine sword instantly condensed in his hand.

A golden stream of light flashed across the blade.

“Sizzle.”

With the sword humming, Fang Qiu brandished his sword to cut.

At this time...

In the face of death, the giant python suddenly opened its big mouth and pounced on Fang Qiu. It looked ferocious as if it was going to tore Fang Qiu into pieces.

Unfortunately, it was too late.

The humming sword approached it fast.

Half of its body near the heart was cut open. This sword strike completely chopped the snake in two!

“Boom!”

When Fang Qiu cut through the python, it opened its bloody mouth wide to bite him. An overwhelming powerful energy Qi burst out of Fang Qiu, sending the python's head flying.

“RUMBLE...”

After the boa's colossal body was cut into two halves, it twisted wildly in the jungle as if it were still alive.

“Phew...”

Fang Qiu let out a long breath.

He could feel streams of pure energy aura surging from the snake and dispersing between heaven and earth.

After a while...

The giant serpent became motionless and completely dead.

“Patter, patter, patter...”

Footsteps could be heard.

Members of the primitive tribes ran from all directions, looking at Fang Qiu with admiration. They ran to the giant snake and began to dance rhythmically.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He turned around and left.

None of these people from the local tribes looked scared. They stepped over and dragged the python's dead body, ready to carve up the meat!

Behind them...

Fang Qiu was about to turn around and leave.

“Hee, hee...”

All of a sudden, an eerie sneer was heard.

Fang Qiu heard this laughter.

He immediately stopped and turned to look.

There...

To his astonishment, General Will came out of the bushes aside, staring at Fang Qiu coldly with a sinister smile.

“You didn't leave?”

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

Just now, he was in a hurry to save these tribesmen in danger. Since Fang Qiu did not use his Divine Consciousness to explore the surroundings, he did not know General Will was hiding nearby.

Anyway...

General Will was Fang Qiu's next target after he killed the giant python.

Since General Will took the initiative to come to him, Fang Qiu no longer needed to search for him.

“Surprise!”

General Will burst out laughing. He stared at Fang Qiu and asked, “Now, tell me the truth. Who are you? I invited the representatives of traditional medicine from six countries and brought them here. Did you take them away? Where are they?”

“It doesn’t matter who I am.”

Fang Qiu shook his head indifferently and said, “The six people? They are dead already!”

“Dead?”

General Will narrowed his eyes and immediately said in a cold voice, “I don’t care if they are dead. I can look for more doctors to replace the dead ones. See? You are seriously injured, and you will die soon!”

“Is that so?”

Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes. Waving his right hand, he pulled out a rattan whip from the bushes beside him.

But opposite him...

General Will put his hand into his trouser pocket — he actually took out another tube of bright red liquid medicine.

“Is this the blood essence of vampire descendants?”

Fang Qiu poked his eyebrows and asked.

“Haha...”

General Will laughed while opening the tube. Then, he threw his head back, pouring all the medicine into his mouth. When he crushed the bottle in his hand, he stared at Fang Qiu. “You are proud of your mighty power, aren’t you? Let me show you the real strength of the blood clan!”

With this...

His eyes were covered with a layer of blood-red light, and a very powerful aura burst out of him. His aura was as potent as and even more robust than that of the few gurus.

“I’d like to drink your blood!”

With a frantic roar, General Will immediately charged at Fang Qiu.

“You’re overestimating yourself!”

Fang Qiu snorted coldly.

He could sense that General Will was only a little stronger than an ordinary guru. In comparison, he was not inferior to the giant python Fang Qiu had slaughtered!

In this situation...

How could he compete with Fang Qiu?

“Pa!”

Just as General Will rushed over, Fang Qiu violently waved the rattan whip in his hand and lashed at him.

“Humph.”

General Will grabbed one end of the rattan whip and rushed up at Fang Qiu without stopping.

When Fang Qiu saw this...

He sneered.

A considerable force burst out from his hand, and he pulled the whip violently.

General Will, who had grabbed the rattan whip, was caught off guard and dragged fast to Fang Qiu.

However...

General Will had experienced countless big battles, so he did not panic. Instead, he waved the dagger and fiercely cut off the vine whip. Then he slashed at Fang Qiu's neck.

“Are you so eager to kill me? But your bone isn't completely healed.”

Fang Qiu saw his deformed arm. Evidently, his hand bone was broken.

With a sneer...

He threw away the rattan whip in his hand and waved it violently.

Fang Qiu grabbed General Will by the arm so quickly that he couldn't react in time.

“What?”

General Will was shocked at Fang Qiu’s terrific speed.

But right then...

“Crack!”

A crisp sound was heard.

Fang Qiu smashed his broken hand bone. This time, General Will suffered more than a bone fracture — his bone was shattered into powder!

“Ah...”

General Will roared angrily. He loosened his grip, and the dagger fell to the ground with a clang.

At this point...

Suppressed by the tremendous power from Fang Qiu’s hand, General Will was utterly panic-stricken. His eyes on Fang Qiu were full of horror!

“You, you?”

General Will glared at Fang Qiu in shock and fury.

“Me?”

Fang Qiu snorted and casually waved his right hand.

He threw General Will out like tossing a rubber ball. In the end, General Will bumped into the trunk of a big tree in the distance.

However...

General Will acted as if he couldn't feel the pain.

The moment he fell onto the ground, he abruptly straightened up and turned to run without hesitation!

“Do you think you can escape?”

With a flash of cold light in his eyes, Fang Qiu immediately chased after him!

Medical Master

Chapter 1444: Expecting Fang Qiu to Accompany Throughout the Visit

“Whoosh!”

A sharp, piercing sound broke through the primitive jungle.

General Will rushed ahead.

His face was filled with panic and fear.

He never expected the tribesman chasing him to be so terrifyingly strong. He slayed the giant python.

More than that, he broke his arm with one blow.

Although General Will had drunk the potion to ease the pain, he couldn't use his right hand. And because of this, he had lost his weapon.

He was already outmatched. How could he possibly win without an intact arm and weapon?

In fact...

When General Will was spying on the man...

He already knew he was no match for the tribesman.

From the way he fought the python, General Will could see the gap between himself and the tribesman. The nameless primitive was able to subdue the giant python. In the end, he found an opportunity to kill it.

General Will had done damage to the python. Nevertheless, the man could cut its body in half. This fact proved the tribesman's peerless strength.

Initially, General Will had planned to leave quietly. When finding reinforcements, he could come back to seize the fruit containing the active substance.

Yet...

He saw the boa's blackish-green lightning blast the primitive man away. In his opinion, the local must have been injured!

In addition, he had a tube of medicine.

So he bravely stepped forward to confront him.

The result came out.

The man didn't appear to be injured at all!

Since being promoted to a general, he had never been afraid again. Everything in his eyes was not considered difficult. No matter what happened or what kind of enemy he faced, he could readily handle them.

But this time, it was different.

He was terrified — he felt a strong sense of death approaching him.

In a panic...

General Will turned his head.

The powerful primitive man was still flying in mid-air, in hot pursuit of him. He was getting closer at an incredible speed.

At such a sight...

General Will gritted his teeth. Then he sprinted forward while scanning ahead as if searching for something.

This area was over a hundred kilometers away from the military base. Yet, Murica troops had already surveyed this whole region during the construction of the military base. They assessed the terrain and discovered: besides the dense forests, the area had mostly tributaries of the Amazing River.

He was searching for one tributary.

He was clear about his situation.

If he only relied on his speed, he would never escape. The only chance of survival was to get into the water. These underground tributaries were like a labyrinth. How could he have an opportunity to escape from the powerful primitive man? He could only dive underwater and run away through these tributaries!

“There it is!”

He searched for a while.

Just as Fang Qiu was about to catch up, General Will finally saw a not-too-wide tributary.

Without any hesitation, General Will rushed over and jumped in.

“Hmm?”

Fang Qiu caught up and saw the ripples still spreading on the water’s surface. Immediately, he stopped and did not jump into the river to pursue.

“The time is up.”

Looking up at the sky, he estimated the time in his mind.

Fang Qiu gave up the plan to chase after him.

General Will posed no significant threat to him, and the Murica military base had already been destroyed. Many soldiers and research experts were killed or injured. The Murica military couldn’t rebuild the base in the short term!

And one more thing...

General Will was already seriously injured.

Even if he could survive for a while, he couldn't cause any major trouble.

Most importantly, he must quickly change back to his identity as Fang Qiu. After all, he had to cooperate with Li Ji to continue acting!

...

In the Presidential Palace of Murica...

Traditional medical representatives such as Fang Qiu were gaining popularity in Murica. Before long, a senior official at the Presidential Palace received a letter from Huaxia.

The letter clearly stated one thing. An influential Huaxia leader would be visiting the Murica in five days. Hence, they requested Fang Qiu to accompany them throughout their visit.

When the Murica government received the notice...

They did not overthink this matter. In their opinion, the Huaxia leader wanted to meet Fang Qiu only because he had just made a name in the Murica.

They immediately agreed to the request!

After all...

The Presidential Palace officials did not realize the underlying motive of the notice. These Huaxia people had sent a formal notice. Besides, they asked to meet a Huaxia citizen. In such a case, the Murica government had no grounds to reject their request.

They agreed.

Then the Presidential Palace's officials immediately contacted the Murica Medical Association.

...

In the primeval forest of Amazing Basin...

There was a very hidden river tributary. Lush vines covered this branch emitting a faint sound of water breaking.

Suddenly...

General Will emerged from the water. He first cautiously scanned the surroundings. Then he gasped for breath and crawled out of the river.

"Huff... Huff..."

As he reached the shore, General Will anxiously looked around again. He had to make sure there was no danger. And the skilled warrior of the primitive tribe was not chasing him. Then, from his pocket, he took out a high-tech compass resembling a wristwatch. Quickly, he ran in the direction it pointed.

Soon...

General Will arrived at the military base.

The base had already been roughly cleaned up.

The remaining few people saw General Will coming back.

They hurried out to welcome him back.

General Will finally returned to the base.

His tense nerves were finally completely relaxed.

He just changed clothes.

When he sat in the tidy command room...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

Suddenly, there was a phone ringing.

“Hello?”

General Will grabbed the phone on the command desk and answered.

“General.”

On the other end of the phone came a familiar voice.

It was John Clark, the Murica Medical Association’s president.

“John, what’s the matter?”

General Will asked.

“General, our association just received a notification from the Murica government. In five days, an important official from Huaxia will visit Murica. The Huaxia official requested that Fang Qiu accompany them, and the Presidential Palace agreed. So, you may need to bring Fang Qiu back in five days.”

President John's voice came through the telephone.

“What?”

General Will's face changed immediately when he heard this.

The moment he hung up the phone, he couldn't help but swear.

“Damn it, he's missing. How can I bring him back?”

General Will was outraged.

But he knew that this matter had risen to a national level.

If the high-ranking Huaxia official visiting Murica couldn't see Fang Qiu, they would suspect something was wrong. He might find it great difficulty to explain away this matter.

Originally...

Even if Fang Qiu didn't disappear, General Will was prepared to keep him in Murica. However, too many things had been happening in the past few days. He hadn't had time to report to his superiors.

Unexpectedly, the Presidential Palace agreed to the request of the Huaxia government. Since then, this whole incident was elevated to the national level.

Now...

He was in a difficult position.

If he didn't hand over Fang Qiu, he would cause big trouble!

But now, Fang Qiu has disappeared. Where could he be found?

And most importantly...

Without Fang Qiu, he had no idea how to explain to the Presidential Palace and the Huaxia people. The military base here in the Amazing Basin was top secret.

Should he report it truthfully? But it would expose the location of this secret military base.

No. Absolutely not!

Absolutely not!

Then what should he do?

General Will frowned tightly, thinking hard. He must find a solution within these five days. Otherwise, he would be doomed!

...

Then...

When General Will backed to the military base, Fang Qiu returned to the mountain cave area 10 kilometers away from the base.

He got back to the place where he had disguised himself. With his Divine Consciousness, Fang Qiu confirmed no one was around. Quickly, he took off his human skin mask and changed into his clothes. He then opened the stones at the entrances of the five caves one by one. There, he found the five people had not yet woken up from their coma. Immediately, he tied them up with his rattan whip and carried them to the riverbank one kilometer away. After tying himself up with the five people, he closed his eyes to sleep.

More than 10 minutes had passed...

With the help of his internal energy, Fang Qiu successfully woke up Sinde, the Hinndu doctor.

“Where the hell am I?”

As soon as he woke up, Sinde felt a headache and instinctively reached back to touch the back of his head. When he turned his head, he realized he was bound together with other doctors. More horrifyingly, they were all by a riverbank.

What a sight.

It astonished Sinde.

“Hey, wake up.”

Without hesitation, Sinde shouted at the people around him and vigorously shook his body.

Soon...

Everyone woke up.

As did Fang Qiu.

When he woke up, like everyone else, he looked bewildered.

“What place is this? How did we end up here?”

Fang Qiu asked.

However...

No one knew the answer.

Antun, the representative of traditional medicine from South Murica tribes, offered his help. Finally, the whip that bound everyone was untied.

“What happened to you all?”

Antonio asked.

“I only remember falling asleep and waking up here.”

Sinde replied.

“Me too.”

Others nodded in agreement.

“I suspect we have been kidnapped.”

Antun grabbed the vine that bound them up and said, “Judging by the way this vine was tied, it’s highly likely that the natives here kidnapped us. They surely saw that I was from a primitive tribe too. That’s why they didn’t throw us into the river.”

When the five doctors heard all of this...

The others rolled their eyes because they thought it had nothing to do with Antun. Of course, they had no intention of thanking him.

“What do we do now?”

Antonio asked, standing up and scanning the surroundings. “We’re unfamiliar with this place, and we don’t know if there are any fierce animals in this jungle. We won’t survive long on our own.”

“We can make a fire.”

Suggested the Egyptt doctor, Arya. “As long as we can start a bonfire, smoke signals will attract someone to find us!”

Everyone agreed that it was a good idea.

With these words...

They quickly divided the work, lighting a pile of damp wood on the riverbank.

Medical Master

Chapter 1445: Back to Murica

“Crack, crack, crack...”

The sound of fire burning rang out on the bank of the river.

Antun came from the South Murica tribes. With him here, a bonfire was set up easily in the primeval forest.

As the fire was lit...

The thick white smoke surged up to the sky wildly.

Here...

In the command room of the military base...

“Sir.”

General Will was sitting on a command chair, anxious to think of a solution. Suddenly, a soldier rushed in and reported, “We’ve found thick smoke 10 kilometers southeast!”

“Dense smoke?”

General Will was stunned and immediately asked, “Is there any surveillance camera over there?”

“There’s one aiming in that direction a kilometer away, but we can only learn about the general situation. We can’t see the details.”

One of them reported.

“Show me the surveillance images.”

General Will gave the order on the spot.

While they were talking...

The staff showed the surveillance video on the big screen of the command platform.

On closer inspection...

In the distance, a dense column of smoke rose high into the air.

“Send some people over to see what’s going on.”

General Will, panicked in his heart, narrowed his eyes. He feared that the expert who emerged from the primitive tribe might start the fire. At once, he gave up the idea of checking it out in person. Instead, he sent over his subordinates!

Without demur...

A squad rushed toward the rising smoke. On off-road vehicles, they advanced fast.

In just half an hour...

Soon, these cars returned to the base.

General Will came out to see the situation in the first place.

Surprisingly, Fang Qiu and the other five doctors were all in the car!

Seeing the six of them, General Will was pleasantly surprised. He hurriedly asked them to come down.

“Separate them and bring them into the interrogation room. I’ll question them myself.”

General Will gave the order.

In his opinion...

Something fishy was going on with the disappearance of these six people.

According to the great fighter from the tribe, the six people should have died a long time ago. How could they have survived until now? And they even lit a fire 10 kilometers away?

Could it be...

That primitive man lied to him?

But in that case, why would this group of people come back?

It was understandable that the other five people, in addition to Fang Qiu, came back. But why would Fang Qiu return with them? General Will was suspicious of him.

After all...

The other five doctors had chosen to join Murica, but Fang Qiu had never agreed.

Fang Qiu let go of such an excellent opportunity to escape and returned with this group. How could it be?

General Will was full of doubts.

He began to interrogate them one by one.

The first person to go through interrogation was Fang Qiu.

“Where have you been? What had happened?”

In the interrogation room, General Will questioned Fang Qiu with a severe look.

“I don’t know much about it.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “I only remember that I consumed too much energy when healing a patient. Because of my terrible headache, I fell asleep. When I woke up again, I was near the fire on the riverbank. A very thick rattan tied to the six of us. It looked as if we would be thrown into the river.”

“Riverbank?”

General Will raised his eyebrows and asked, “Anything else?”

“I know nothing more.”

Fang Qiu shook his head.

When General Will heard his answer...

Full of doubts, he moved to the second interrogation room.

However...

All the doctors in the six interrogation rooms told him the same thing. Antun, the representative of medical skills from the South Murica tribes even bragged to General Will. He was the first one to regain consciousness. Then he woke up everyone. They were saved because of his survival experience gained in the tribes. He untied the rattan and lit the log fire for everyone!

After General Will asked the six doctors all the questions...

He was still a little suspicious.

After all...

This matter was indeed a little abnormal.

If someone took them away to kill them, why didn't the person do it? All six doctors would have drowned in the river. However, they were thrown onto the riverbank instead.

If the person didn't plan to murder the six doctors, why would he capture them?

The person took them away. However, he neither killed nor rescued them!

Then why would he catch them in the first place?

The more General Will thought about it, the more strange he felt.

However...

For him...

The most important thing now was to return to Murica as soon as possible. He had to send Fang Qiu back safely!

Anyway, Fang Qiu had handed over his life-saving prescription. It didn't matter if he was here.

Those people in Huaxia were displeased.

If they didn't send Fang Qiu back, it would be hard to wind this matter up if anything irretrievable happened!

Without hesitation...

After the interrogation, General Will arranged for everyone to go back to Murica.

Like how they came here...

Fang Qiu and the others were forced to wear special eye patches on their way back. Then they were sent to the boat.

After getting off the boat, they got on the helicopter and got off. Then, cars picked them up.

It took them a whole day to return to the Murica Medical Association in Wahton.

The eyeshades were taken off.

The six of them felt as if they had been reborn.

“Alright.”

Looking at the six people, General Will, in a formal suit, said, “If you want to stay in Murica, you can live in the Murica Medical Association for the time being. I’ll arrange the following things for you. Anyone reluctant to stay can leave now!”

After his words...

Beyond question, Antonio and the other four doctors chose to stay. The Murica Medical Association’s staff led them back to their rooms.

Without hesitation, Fang Qiu left the Murica Medical Association and called Zhang Yicheng on the way.

Before long...

Zhang Yicheng drove Fang Qiu back to his manor.

Along the way...

Zhang Yicheng asked a lot of questions out of curiosity, but Fang Qiu made no reply.

After all, what he had experienced sounded too fantastic for Zhang Yicheng. Even if Zhang Yicheng worked for the Huaxia government, it was not appropriate for him to know it.

In the evening...

To welcome Fang Qiu back...

Zhang Yicheng prepared a big meal. Fang Qiu and his family ate and drank in the dining room while watching TV.

“CNN report: senior Huaxia officials’ visit to Murica is put on the agenda. They will come in a few days. Moreover, at the Huaxia higher-ups’ request, the Murica government has agreed to let Fang Qiu accompany them.”

Zhang Yicheng saw this news.

He immediately congratulated Fang Qiu with a smile. Fang Qiu could meet senior officials and even the president of Murica.

At this time, Fang Qiu realized something.

It turned out General Will came back in such a hurry because of this.

Well...

After Fang Qiu learned about this matter...

He calculated the time in his heart.

“The prescription will lose its effect in six days. Three days later, Huaxia leaders will visit Murica. Their visit will last three days. The schedule is just right.

“According to these arrangements, I have three days to carry out my plan before the leaders’ arrival!”

With this in mind...

Fang Qiu couldn’t help smiling inwardly.

He had these three days.

He should thank General Will for that. General Will came back in a great hurry. Otherwise, Fang Qiu wouldn’t have even had three days!

He had to make good use of the last few days.

Once the leaders came...

He couldn’t do anything else but stay around them.

“You’ve been there for so many days. Shouldn’t you rest for two days?”

After dinner, Zhang Yicheng strolled around the manor with Fang Qiu while talking to him.

“Rest?”

Fang Qiu was confused.

“You don’t have to see patients in the Huaxia Clinic, do you?”

Zhang Yicheng smiled and asked.

“I’ll do it!”

Fang Qiu answered with certainty, “It’s such a good opportunity. How can I not go? And for me, seeing patients is rest.”

“You’re indeed diligent.”

Zhang Yicheng shook his head with a bitter smile, “It’s great to be young. You seem to have boundless energy.”

Fang Qiu echoed with a smile.

For him...

It was relaxing to accept patients in the Huaxia Clinic.

After all, he had to work continuously for 24 hours every time he started seeing patients in Huaxia.

Moreover...

The most critical thing was...

He had just received half of the bonus as one of the two doctors who could handle the new virus. In this case, his influence must be greater than when he arrived in Murica a week ago.

He must make full use of this influence. Or wouldn't it be a tremendous waste?

Of course...

Fang Qiu didn't forget his purpose of coming to Murica.

He was here to promote Chinese Medicine. The magic power of Chinese Medicine should be displayed to the whole world.

He had returned, and the Murica Medical Association would release this news in the first place. At that time, some local media agencies would come to wait for him.

When he went to the Huaxia Clinic...

He would attract a lot of attention.

Because Chinese Medicine therapy could deal with the new virus, it harvested a large number of fans in Murica. Thus, Fang Qiu had to seize the chance and keep these fans. Meanwhile, he could attract many more fans. By doing so, Chinese Medicine would be recognized and accepted by people in Murica or even the world!

Early the next morning...

Fang Qiu got up early and trotted all the way to the Huaxia Clinic.

At this time...

The clinic had just opened.

When the director Hua Xiuyuan saw Fang Qiu, he was pleasantly surprised. On the spot, he invited Fang Qiu in and quickly got a diagnosis desk for him. Then, he asked all the doctors in the clinic to stop their work and assist Fang Qiu.

It was time to receive patients.

When the patients coming here saw Fang Qiu accept them, they were thrilled. After taking some photos, they shared the news in their social circles.

The news that Fang Qiu was seeing patients in the Huaxia Clinic spread quickly.

Soon after...

The reporters rushed over to report.

When the reporters released the news, it caused an uproar in Wahton.

Countless people ran to the Huaxia Clinic, lining up to see Fang Qiu.

Just as Fang Qiu had expected...

Yesterday, the Murica Medical Association revealed the information that Fang Qiu had come back.

However...

Everyone thought Fang Qiu would rest for a period after getting the bonus. How could he see patients in the Huaxia Clinic? To everyone's surprise, Fang Qiu still came!

In just an hour...

A long queue formed before the Huaxia Clinic. Except for those patients from Wahton, many came from other Murica states for Fang Qiu!

Fang Qiu took the bustling scene very calmly.

He started seeing his patients.

It was noon.

People from the Murica Medical Association came.

"Mr. Fang Qiu."

As soon as the staff member walked into the clinic, he went straight to Fang Qiu. After placing a bank card on the diagnosis desk, he said, "This is your bonus of 50 million Murica dollars. All the taxes have been deducted from the Murica Medical Association's account. Please feel free to spend the money!"

Medical Master

Chapter 1446: Challenge All the Complicated Disease

"Is it really 50 million dollars?"

"Even the tax has been paid. Is this really no less than 50 million?"

Outside the clinic, countless patients and onlookers in line were discussing enviously.

They had never seen so much money before.

It was a pity that what the Medical Association sent over was a bank card, not 50 million dollars in cash.

If it were cash, it would truly be an eye-opener for everyone present.

“Thank you.”

Fang Qiu took the bank card with a smile and nodded to the staff of the Medical Association.

“Please sign here.”

The staff of the Medical Association took out a certificate and put it on the table.

Fang Qiu took a look.

After confirming that it was a certificate of acceptance, he signed his name on it and handed it to the staff.

After getting the certificate signed by Fang Qiu, the staff of the Medical Association turned around and left.

Right then, all the media reporters at the scene who followed the Medical Association swarmed toward Fang Qiu.

“Mr. Fang Qiu, do you have anything to say about the fact that you just got a bonus of 50 million dollars?”

“You’ve donated 51 million dollars to Murica, Fang Qiu. What are you going to do with your bonus? Will you donate it to the Red Cross once more?”

“Do you have anything to say about the distribution of the bonus of the Medical Association?”

“You were the first to solve the new virus with absolute advantage, but you only got half of the bonus. Do you think it’s fair?”

Without hesitation, the media reporters asked all the questions that had been suppressed in their hearts for several days.

These days, there had been a sensation on the Internet.

As the news that Fang Qiu had cured the new virus spread, countless netizens began to discuss the reward of 100 million dollars. They didn’t expect that Antonio, who figured out how to cure the virus later than Fang Qiu, would get half of the bonus. At that time, it caused countless controversies on the Internet.

All the media reporters were also very clear that this was definitely a bombshell.

Unfortunately, they couldn’t reach Fang Qiu back then, so they had no way to interview him.

Now that Fang Qiu was finally back, they naturally had to get to the bottom of the matter.

“It’s very fair.”

In the face of the reporters’ questions, Fang Qiu said with a smile, “I always think that medical skills matter when they can cure diseases. Since he can do it, why can’t he get half of the bonus? It just took a little more time for him to do it than me. The final result is that we both get to cure the new virus, and it is wonderful!”

Hearing what he said, the reporters were stunned.

At first, they thought that Fang Qiu would fall out with Antonio for the huge sum of money. After all, they were not familiar with each other and Antonio had even taken the initiative to provoke him.

They didn't expect Fang Qiu to be so gentle and even speak up for Antonio.

This made the reporters very puzzled.

Fang Qiu explained, "In Huaxia, harmony matters the most. No one suffers losses in this matter, so I hope you will not hype this matter up."

He then changed the subject and said, "I'll now talk about how I'll use the 50 million dollars bonus."

Hearing that, the reporters all got focused, waiting for Fang Qiu to continue.

The patients and onlookers in the line also paid attention to Fang Qiu. They wanted to know how he would spend the 50 million dollars.

"Just now, one of you asked if I would continue to donate money."

Fang Qiu glanced at all the media reporters in front of him. He then shook his head and said, "I don't intend to donate this 50 million bonus to the Red Cross because I want to use it to set up a Chinese Medicine Foundation to support the development of Chinese Medicine in Murica so that more patients can be treated and be healthy again."

All the people from Huaxia on the scene immediately applauded and cheered for Fang Qiu.

The media reporters and the people of Murica also applauded.

Since Fang Qiu came to Murica, they trusted Chinese Medicine more and more. Now the Medical Association had announced that Chinese Medicine had cured the new virus, which made Chinese Medicine even more recognized by Muricans.

However, most Muricans were still wavering on whether to support Chinese Medicine or not. In terms of efficacy, they would definitely support it.

But the key was that this was not a matter of supporting Chinese Medicine because Chinese Medicine was not from Murcia, but from Huaxia.

Huaxia and Murica had been competing with each other for development internationally.

It would be strange for Muricans to support Huaxia Chinese Medicine.

Although the reporters were a little hesitant when applauding, they were still very dedicated.

They quickly recorded what Fang Qiu said and then turned around, ready to go back and write a draft for a news report.

But right then, Fang Qiu suddenly called out, "Wait a minute."

All the media reporters stopped and turned to look at him curiously.

"Does Fang Qiu have anything else to say?"

Initially, these reporters wanted to get some big news from Fang Qiu to attract attention. If, as they expected, Fang Qiu donated all 50 million dollars to the Red Cross as before, it would definitely be a bombshell.

However, Fang Qiu wanted to start a Chinese Medicine Foundation.

Although this could benefit the Muricans, the news would definitely not attract too much attention.

Fang Qiu smiled and said, "Please wait a moment, guys."

He also knew that if he made the establishment of the Chinese Medicine Foundation public now, it would certainly not cause a big reaction. It was even possible that some neutral Muricans would turn to Murica and start to hate Chinese Medicine.

Therefore, Fang Qiu had to release a piece of big news to make all the Muricans set aside the news of the Chinese Medicine Foundation first. After they fully recognized Chinese Medicine, they would naturally pay attention to the foundation and voluntarily help promote the development of Chinese Medicine.

And what he had to do now was to attract the public and use this limited time to completely make the Murican people recognize Chinese Medicine.

"I have a piece of news to announce. I'll have to trouble you guys to help me promote it."

Fang Qiu looked at all the media reporters and said, "From today on, I will be seeing patients in Huaxia Clinic for three days in a row. During these days, as a freshman of Huaxia Chinese Medicine, I will challenge all the complicated diseases."

After the reporters heard that, their eyes lit up.

They were not interested in the first half of what Fang Qiu said.

"He will be seeing patients three days in a row?"

"That's just redundant. He sees patients all the time."

But when they heard what he said at the end, they couldn't help getting excited.

They didn't care whether Fang Qiu was capable to achieve that or not. They just loved to hear him say that he would challenge all the complicated diseases.

To Muricans, Fang Qiu was challenging the entire Murica with what he said.

Not only the reporters but also all the people in the line and the onlookers were shocked by what Fang Qiu said.

“How confident is he to dare to say something like that?”

Soon, the reporters reported the news to the public.

As expected, the fact that Fang Qiu was going to establish the Chinese Medicine Foundation was ignored by a large number of netizens. Almost everyone in Murica was shocked by his challenge of all the complicated diseases.

There were heated discussions on the Internet.

When the netizens of Murica saw the news, they were immediately divided into two parties. One party thought Fang Qiu could do it, while the other kept belittling him.

“Too arrogant! He’s simply blindly arrogant!”

“Fang Qiu is so bold. How dare he issue such a challenge?”

“Does he really think Chinese Medicine is omnipotent? How dare he issue such an impossible challenge?”

“He’s simply acting stupid to gain popularity, isn’t he?”

Beyond doubt, most of the netizens in Murica were roasting Fang Qiu and Chinese Medicine.

In their opinion, it was absolutely impossible for Fang Qiu to complete the challenge.

And those who opposed this group of people were all from Huaxia.

Although they had been supporting Fang Qiu on the Internet and thought that Fang Qiu could complete the challenge, these Huaxia people were still wavering. They were willing to believe that Fang Qiu would be able to cure some seriously ill people, but it was not certain that he could cure all the complicated diseases.

However, everyone from Huaxia was proud of their motherland and naturally supported Fang Qiu.

Moreover, they were in Murica where people could say whatever they wanted.

“If it’s so easy to cure complicated diseases, those diseases wouldn’t be addressed as complicated. Fang Qiu is too arrogant. I’d love to see how he ends up!”

“Humph. Anyone wants to team up with me to go to Fang Qiu?”

“Count me in. I’m not sick, but I just want to see why he’s so arrogant about Huaxia Chinese Medicine and how he will end up.”

Soon, countless doctors in Murica teamed up to go to Fang Qiu.

Meanwhile...

After hearing the news, most of the patients in Murica, who were suffering from various complicated diseases, also rushed to Huaxia Clinic in Huaxiatown to have a try.

They couldn’t be cured by modern medicine, and they had been tortured by their diseases for a long time. Although they knew that it was almost impossible for them to be cured, they didn’t want to miss such an opportunity.

Before long...

Just as the people in Murica were discussing heatedly, the news was soon translated into the Huaxia language and spread to Huaxia.

When the netizens on Weibo saw this news, they all got nervous for Fang Qiu's sake.

“Master Fang Qiu, you must do your best!”

“Although Master Fang Qiu has excellent medical skills, it's really difficult to cure complicated diseases. I hope he can hold on. He must hold on!”

“If he were in Huaxia, he could deal with this easily. He's in Murica, and this matter has been hyped up by the media. If he sees a patient who has a complicated disease that can't be cured, things will be troublesome.”

“Fortunately, it's only three days. Master Fang Qiu will definitely make it through these three days. At worst, he can slow down the speed of seeing patients and try to buy as much time as possible!”

While the Huaxia netizens were worried about Fang Qiu, they also began to give advice.

Medical Master

Chapter 1447: Is Leukemia Hard to Cure?

At noon.

It was lunchtime.

“Beep, beep, beep...”

When Fang Qiu, who was having lunch with the staff of the Huaxia Clinic, suddenly heard his cell phone ring in his trouser pocket, he immediately took it out and found that it was a call from Zhang Yicheng.

“Hello?”

Fang Qiu answered the phone.

“I saw the news, Fang Qiu.”

Zhang Yicheng’s voice came from the phone. He said, “The news says that you want to use a bonus of 50 million dollars to set up a Chinese Medicine foundation, and you’ll stay in the Huaxia Clinic for three consecutive days to see patients and challenge all the complicated diseases?”

Fang Qiu nodded with certainty and said, “Yes, that’s true.”

“What...”

Zhang Yicheng gave a wry smile and said, “Isn’t your decision a little hasty? If you just want to see patients, you can even do it for three months, let alone three days. But you can’t challenge all the complicated diseases. There are countless complicated diseases in the world. Many of them can’t be cured by modern medicine and are almost terminal diseases. When you issue such a challenge, all the patients in Murica will target you!”

“I know that.”

Fang Qiu nodded knowingly and said with a smile, “Don’t worry. I know what I’m doing.”

“It’s not about knowing it.”

Zhang Yicheng advised, “This matter is not only about your own reputation but also about the reputation of Huaxia and Huaxia Chinese Medicine. If something unexpected happens, everything will be over!”

“I know that as well.”

Fang Qiu nodded and said with a smile, “I don’t think there will be any accidents. My purpose is to let everyone in Murica know about Chinese Medicine. This time, whether I can cure all the diseases or not, Chinese Medicine will definitely win!”

When Zhang Yicheng heard that, he fell silent.

“There are diseases that Modern medicine can’t cure. A large number of patients go to those doctors for treatment. Although I dare not say that Chinese Medicine can cure all diseases, I dare to say that it will definitely cure most diseases. If there are no accidents in these three days, the reputation of Huaxia Chinese Medicine will definitely soar in Murica. This is the first step for Chinese Medicine to really enter Murica and become international!

“Even if there is a disease that I can’t cure in these three days, it will never affect the reputation of Chinese Medicine, because I can cure other diseases, and I can cure diseases that modern medicine can’t cure. This will be enough!”

Fang Qiu’s tone was full of confidence.

He believed that he had made the right choice.

He had to make good use of these three days.

Sure enough...

No matter how close people were, they couldn’t believe that Fang Qiu was capable enough to cure all the diseases in the world. But Fang Qiu knew that he could. No matter what kind of disease it was, he could definitely cure it.

In addition to his own medical skills, Fang Qiu also had the Absolute Touch that could detect the problems in the patient's body with his hands. Even if the Absolute Touch didn't work, he had the spiritual force that could be used to see the interior of the patient's body directly.

Therefore, no matter what kind of complicated diseases there were, Fang Qiu was confident that he could find the cause.

As long as he could find the cause, he would definitely be able to cure the disease.

Moreover, he had the help of internal Qi.

Although he was full of confidence, Fang Qiu would not tell others about it.

He didn't think it would be necessary.

If he made an empty promise, people would only question him. Anyway, he had to do it, so he would let everyone see the result together.

He thought that by then, they would know how powerful and trustworthy Huaxia Chinese Medicine was.

"You're right."

After listening to Fang Qiu, Zhang Yicheng thought for a moment, nodded, and said, "Indeed, the reputation of Chinese Medicine is already well known, and your reputation is not bad. Now that you're doing this, everyone in Murica is paying attention to you, and that is equivalent to paying attention to Chinese Medicine. It can be imagined that there will definitely be various local patients from Murica coming to you for treatment. The media reporters will definitely keep an eye on you. I just hope that the diseases of the following patients will be rather simple.

"In this case, every time you cure a patient with a complicated disease, it will attract a lot of attention and response, and the reputation of Chinese Medicine will also soar.

“It’s best if you don’t need to see someone who can’t be cured. If you meet one, let them wait a bit.”

Zhang Yicheng said, “I won’t go over these three days.”

Fang Qiu responded with a smile and said, “Don’t worry. I’ll never do anything I’m not sure of!”

“Okay.”

Hearing Fang Qiu’s confident voice, Zhang Yicheng cheered and said, “I’m looking forward to seeing you win and see you bring Chinese Medicine to the international stage!”

After that, he hung up the phone.

“I’ve thought about it, Fang Qiu.”

At the dining table, the director of the Huaxia Clinic, Hua Xiuyuan, said, “In the past few days, we have taken turns assisting you. Although our medical skills are not as good as yours and our means are not as brilliant as yours, we have seen a lot of complicated diseases in our decades of practicing medicine. Maybe we can help you with something.”

“Thank you very much.”

Fang Qiu nodded to express his gratitude.

“What are you thanking me for?”

Hua Xiuyuan shook his head and said, “You’re going all out for Chinese Medicine and our development. How can we just stand by?”

“That’s right.”

Wang Sheng chimed in, “I’ve wanted to contribute to Chinese Medicine for a long time, but I’ve never found a good opportunity. My medical skills have not reached the point where I can cure any disease. Now that there’s finally such an opportunity, I will never let any accidents happen. Anyway, I’ll be in charge of observing the patients by then. If I spot any complicated diseases, I’ll try to tell you in advance so as to deal with them better.”

“That won’t be necessary.”

Fang Qiu shook his head with a smile and said, “Since I dare to challenge all the miscellaneous diseases, it means that I have enough confidence to deal with them. Huaxia Chinese Medicine is open and aboveboard. We don’t need to make these secret moves. As long as we do our best, we will definitely get the reward we deserve. At least I can guarantee that any hospital in Murica can’t cure the disease that I can’t cure!”

Hua Xiuyuan and the others were shocked.

Then, they all looked at Fang Qiu with admiration.

They thought that he was indeed not ordinary with such profound medical skills and such virtue.

After dinner, Fang Qiu rested for a while.

Meanwhile...

According to the instructions of Fang Qiu, Hua Xiuyuan directly set up a sign at the door. “In the next three days, we will only receive patients with obstinate diseases. As for the other patients, you can go to other doctors of Chinese medicine next door for treatment!”

In order to separate the patients, Hua Xiuyuan divided the Huaxia Clinic into two parts.

The right part was all handed over to Fang Qiu to see patients. The partners of the clinic took turns seeing patients on the left part of the clinic.

After all, what Fang Qiu was going to challenge were complicated diseases.

If the clinic didn't deliberately separate the patients, Fang Qiu would only treat a few patients with complicated diseases in the next three days under the circumstances that he had such a big reputation. If all the patients with minor diseases came to queue up to see the doctor, it would be inconsistent with Fang Qiu's original intention of challenging complicated diseases.

The clinic opened in the afternoon.

Under the arrangement of Hua Xiuyuan and the staff of the clinic, all the patients with minor illnesses were led to line up next door.

By the right part of the clinic, there were no patients in front of Fang Qiu's table.

It seemed that those patients with complicated diseases had not arrived yet.

However, before the patients arrived, almost all the media reporters in Murica had arrived at the Huaxia Clinic in Huaxiatown.

Even MBC, the largest TV station in Murica, had specially sent reporters to follow and report the incident all the way.

Some people even set up live stream equipment inside the clinic, ready to broadcast Fang Qiu for the next three days.

Sitting at the consultation desk, Fang Qiu closed his eyes to rest.

In the blink of an eye, the reporters were all pointing their cameras at Fang Qiu, and most of them were doing a live stream. Some were even reporting on the spot.

When Fang Qiu saw this situation, he was very calm.

“Hello, Fang Qiu.”

Just as other media reporters were busy with the equipment, a very beautiful woman in a professional suit with yellow hair tied behind her head suddenly walked to the consultation table of Fang Qiu with a photographer and said, “I’m a reporter from MBC. May I ask you a few questions?”

Fang Qiu heard it and immediately opened his eyes.

He had never heard of other TV stations in Murica, but he had heard of MBC and knew something about it.

MBC, an acronym for a news network in Murica, was launched in June 1980 to provide around-the-clock news programming via satellite to limited networks and satellite TV subscribers.

MBC was best known for its international news network that provided live global news coverage twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

MBC International News Network provided live coverage of all breaking news.

Around the world, more than 210 countries and regions broadcasted MBC’s news.

Therefore, in Fang Qiu’s opinion, MBC was facing the entire Murica and even the whole world.

“Sure.”

Fang Qiu nodded matter-of-factly as he opened his eyes.

“Okay.”

The reporter nodded with a smile and said, “I won’t ask more questions about your challenge of all the complicated diseases. What I want to ask is that compared with your usual workplace, the venue here is obviously a little smaller. Now the news that you will challenge all the complicated diseases has spread throughout Murica. I believe that countless people will soon queue up to seek your help. Will you consider finding a bigger venue? I think there are still many businessmen in Murica that are willing to sponsor such a big event.”

“That won’t be necessary.”

Fang Qiu immediately shook his head and said, “I’m not going anywhere. I’m just going to see patients here because this is a clinic, and the other places are not. Chinese Medicine doctors should be seeing patients in the place where Chinese Medicine is, and Chinese Medicine is very strict.”

“I see. Okay then.”

The beautiful reporter shrugged her shoulders, smiled, and asked Fang Qiu a few more questions casually. Then, she stepped aside and continued to report on the livestream.

It was half past twelve in the afternoon.

Finally, here came the first patient.

Under the attention of all the media, a woman walked into the clinic with another woman’s help.

She went straight to Fang Qiu’s consultation desk and sat down.

“Hi.”

Seeing the patient, Fang Qiu smiled and asked, “What’s the trouble with you?”

“I have an incurable disease.”

The woman sitting at the consultation table looked at Fang Qiu and said, “I have leukemia. Is it a complicated disease?”

Medical Master

Chapter 1448: Autism

“She has leukemia!”

As soon as the patient finished speaking, all the media reporters present couldn’t help exclaiming.

No one could expect that the first patient would have such a disease. It was horrible.

Outside the clinic.

Hearing the patient’s words, the Huaxia people who came to Huaxiatown to cheer for Fang Qiu couldn’t help praying for Fang Qiu secretly.

That was because it was really difficult to cure leukemia.

While everyone was amazed by the patient’s words, Fang Qiu, who was sitting at the consultation table, surprisingly nodded with a faint smile and said to the patient, “It is.”

The patient heard that.

With a flash of hope in her eyes, she hurriedly asked, “Can you cure it?”

“I’m 70% sure that I can.”

Fang Qiu smiled.

Then, he immediately began to feel the patient's opened meridians.

“Leukemia is a very serious disease. Western medicine calls it blood cancer. In Chinese Medicine, leukemia is characterized by anemia, accompanied by symptoms, and a tendency to bleed. It belongs to the category of “fatigue” and “blood syndrome”. This disease is a chronic debilitating disease characterized by the loss of viscera, Qi, blood, Yin and Yang due to multiple causes.”

Fang Qiu began to explain how to treat leukemia with Chinese Medicine while feeling the patient's opened meridians.

“The causes include weak endowment, excessive strain, poor diet, prolonged blood loss, external poison, internal injury, and mismanagement.

“In the ancient Huaxia medical book Plain Questions, it is written that the principle of ‘those who are deficient should be nourished’, and the treatment of ‘deficiency labor’ is based on the basic treatment principle of nourishment.”

Speaking of this, Fang Qiu let go of the patient's hand and continued, “However, two aspects should be kept in mind when supplementing.

“One is that therapeutic prescriptions to benefit Qi, nourish Blood, nourish Yin and warm Yang must be taken according to the different pathological properties.

“Secondly, the prescriptions and medicines should be selected in close combination with the different disease locations of the five internal organs to enhance the target of treatment.

“Chinese Medicine says that the spleen and stomach are the sources of the posterior as well as the sources of Qi and blood. When the spleen and stomach are healthy, the viscera, limbs, and bones can be nourished, and the kidneys are the foundation of the innate.

“Pay attention to the nourishment of the spleen and kidney. When one’s innate and posterior parts are both healthy, it can promote the recovery of various internal injuries.

“Therefore, the treatment of deficiency consumption should focus on nourishing the spleen and kidneys. In addition, there is the heart, which governs blood, the liver, which harbors blood, the lung, which governs Qi, and Qi, which produces blood, so the treatment should also take into account the nourishment of the heart, liver, and lung.”

After Fang Qiu finished speaking, he also finished examining the patient.

Glancing at the reporters around who were listening to his explanation and confused, Fang Qiu shook his head with a chuckle and then said to the patient, “You’re suffering from a heart-blood deficiency.”

The patient was stunned and couldn’t understand.

“Your tongue is pale, your pulse is thin and knotty, and your face is not florid.”

Fang Qiu took out a set of acupuncture needles from the consultation table and said, “This is the main symptom of heart-blood deficiency. Do you often have palpitations and suffer from forgetfulness and insomnia, and dreaminess?”

“Yes, yes, I do.”

The patient understood what he meant and immediately nodded repeatedly.

There was hope in her eyes.

This was out of her expectations.

Fang Qiu didn’t ask anything. He felt her opened meridians and knew the symptoms that made her very distressed. It was really amazing.

Hearing the diagnosis of Fang Qiu and the patient's answer, the media reporters were very surprised.

Right at this moment, Fang Qiu was ready to start the treatment.

"I'll treat you with acupuncture."

While speaking, Fang Qiu took out the silver needles and began to do acupuncture directly.

The selected acupoints were Zhongchang, Guanyuan, Qi Sea, Xinyu, and Zusanli.

As he inserted the needles, Fang Qiu secretly mobilized the patient's internal Qi to have her acupoints stimulated. At the same time, he controlled his own internal Qi and mobilized the patient's internal Qi.

Half an hour later...

"It's done."

After the treatment, Fang Qiu stopped to take out the needles. Before the patient could ask, he said directly, "Go to the hospital for an examination."

The patient looked at Fang Qiu hesitantly.

After Fang Qi urged her, she quickly stood up, walked out of the clinic with an inexplicable look on her face, and rushed to Wahton Hospital.

As soon as the patient left, the media reporters on the scene immediately sent some people to follow the patient to the hospital.

In the clinic.

The second patient had yet to arrive.

Fang Qiu took a look outside the clinic and then sat down to rest with his eyes closed.

At this time, the reporter of MBC came up to him again.

“Fang Qiu, did you really cure the patient just now?”

The reporter stood on the side of the desk and asked Fang Qiu, who was resting with his eyes closed, “It only took you 30 minutes to see the patient, and then you sent her to the hospital for a checkup. Are you really confident?”

“Of course.”

Fang Qiu opened his eyes and answered.

When the reporter heard that, she stopped asking questions.

While waiting, time passed quickly.

About half an hour later.

“Beep, beep, beep...”

The beautiful reporter of MBC received a phone call from her coworker who followed the patient to report on the spot.

“Hello?”

The beautiful reporter answered the phone and deliberately pressed the speaker button.

“The patient has recovered.”

A very excited voice came from the phone. Her coworker said, “The examination results of Wahton Hospital have come out. The patient is very healthy, and there is no problem with her at all. The patient’s leukemia has been completely cured.”

Those words spread out.

All the people present widened their eyes at the same time.

All of them stared at Fang Qiu in shock.

No one could expect Fang Qiu to have cured the patient with leukemia in just half an hour. His medical skills were amazing.

“Wonderful!”

Outside the clinic, a Huaxia man cheered excitedly and clapped hard.

“Clap, clap, clap...”

The others also applauded one after another.

All the reporters present were shocked. They couldn’t help following the Huaxia man on the scene and applauding Fang Qiu.

All of a sudden, the whole Huaxiatown burst into applause.

MBC's live broadcast got on TV at the first possible moment.

In the aspect of the TV network, the other media would definitely not be able to compete with MBC.

But that might not be the case on the Internet. When the news broadcasted by MBC that Fang Qiu had cured a patient with leukemia was broadcast all over the world, the major media of Murica received the videos, photos, and text sent by the reporters on the spot right away.

In just three minutes, all the media updated their Twitter one after another. Not only did they describe the treatment in detail, but they also attached a lot of photos and videos. Some media even took the opportunity to release the link to the live stream on the Internet.

It was beyond doubt that as the news broke out, the online world in Murica was immediately shocked.

“Holy shit, did Fang Qiu really cure leukemia?”

“That’s amazing!”

“If he can even cure this disease, he can definitely cure my disease. I’m going to Huaxiatown in Wahton. I’ll ask Fang Qiu to treat me.”

While the netizens were shocked, many patients who didn’t want to believe in Huaxia Chinese Medicine and Fang Qiu saw the hope that they hadn’t seen for a long time at this moment. They immediately booked tickets and rushed to Wahton.

In the clinic, Fang Qiu took a short break.

Then, he called Hua Xiuyuan over to deal with all the media reporters present.

“In order to complete the challenge of all complicated diseases, I hope that all of you can help to send a message to everyone in Murica.

“In these three days, I will only see patients with different diseases. Of course, if people have the same disease, they can come over after three days. If they can’t wait that long, I will treat them according to the situation.”

When the reporters heard this, they immediately helped to send the message.

Meanwhile, Hua Xiuyuan also came to the door of the clinic to help Fang Qiu select patients.

In the afternoon.

When it was 1:30 p.m., the second patient came.

Walking into the clinic was a woman with light skin, who was holding a little girl’s hand.

The girl’s eyes were dull, and she held a doll in her hand. She had golden hair and looked very cute, but there was no smile on her face.

“Hi.”

The woman took the girl to the consultation table and sat down. She looked back at a young man with light skin standing in front of the door. After receiving a comforting look from him, she looked back at Fang Qiu.

“Hi.”

Fang Qiu nodded with a smile and asked, “What’s the trouble with you?”

“It’s not about me.”

The woman shook her head. She then picked up the girl to have her sit on her lap, saying, "It's the girl."

Fang Qiu looked at the girl and asked, "What disease does she have? Has she been diagnosed?"

The woman's eyes turned red, and she said with a sad expression, "Yes. It's autism."

Autism was a subtype of pervasive developmental disorder that was prevalent in males and began in infancy and early childhood. It was characterized by varying degrees of language developmental disorders, interpersonal difficulties, narrow interests, and stereotyped behavior, with a large proportion of patients having significant mental retardation.

This disease was not uncommon in today's world, and there was targeted treatment in large conventional hospitals, but the effect was not too great, so this disease could also be included in the difficult diseases.

A reporter asked, "Can you cure this disease?"

"Yes."

Fang Qiu nodded affirmatively.

Then, he walked up to the little girl, examined her, and said, "According to Chinese Medicine, autism is located in the brain, but is related to the heart, liver, spleen, and kidneys, because, from the perspective of Chinese Medicine, the heart is the primary organ in the internal organs, and diseases related to the mind, difficulties in communication, and language disorders are all caused by the problems with the heart.

"Chinese Medicine also believes that emotional lesions are related to the loss of liver drainage, and the kidney is the master of congenital. Congenital genetic factors or congenital brain damage can lead to the development of brain lesions.

“Based on these points, Chinese Medicine believes that the general pathogenesis of autism is the congenital brain deficiency, and also related to the deficiency of the acquired heart, liver, spleen, and kidney regulation!”

After that, Fang Qiu smiled at the little girl and then said to her mother, “I can treat her with acupuncture.”

With the consent of the girl’s mother, Fang Qiu began the acupuncture treatment.

He chose the acupuncture points according to the autism treatment in Chinese Medicine.

The first acupuncture point he worked on was the Sishen Acupoint.

The second one was the Zhisun Acupoint.

The third one was the Naosan Acupoint.

...

Soon, the silver needles were inserted all over the little girl’s body.

Because Fang Qiu was particularly accurate, the little girl didn’t seem to feel any pain.

Fifteen minutes later.

Under the stimulation of acupuncture and internal Qi, the little girl’s lifeless eyes gradually showed a trace of vitality. She had been staring at the plush doll in her hand before, but now she curiously looked around, and a smile appeared on her dull little face.

Medical Master

Chapter 1449: The Five Major Incurable Diseases

“Mom.”

The little girl spoke in a hesitant voice, and then the smile on her face suddenly became sweeter.

“Mom, mom.”

After shouting a few times, the little girl put down the plush doll in her hand, struggled to jump down from the woman’s leg, and then began to look around curiously. When she saw the reporters and onlookers around her, she was not as scared as before to hide behind her mother. Instead, she smiled sweetly.

When her mother saw this, she couldn’t help crying. Then, she picked up the little girl excitedly and burst into tears.

Seeing that, the little girl actually extended her hand to wipe away her tears.

A man rushed into the clinic excitedly and hugged the little girl and her mother tightly.

At this point, all the media reporters present knew that the girl was cured.

“Clap, clap, clap...”

The media reporters applauded one after another.

The others at the scene applauded as well.

They saw this scene with their own eyes. They saw a lovely little girl with autism cured by Fang Qiu.

This was truly touching.

Applause rang out.

The media reporters also took action one after another and uploaded the photos and videos taken on the spot to Twitter at the first possible moment.

And there was a caption – “The second case of Fang Qiu challenging a complicated disease with Chinese Medicine: The little girl with autism was cured on the spot!”

On the Internet, countless people were looking forward to the tweets of these media outlets, not to see how many people Fang Qiu could cure, but to see how Fang Qiu would be embarrassed and how the arrogant doctor will end up from there.

When they saw the news that Fang Qiu cured the first patient, they were very shocked.

They didn’t expect that Fang Qiu could really cure that disease.

But those people were merely shocked.

Now, when they heard that Fang Qiu had cured an autistic child and even saw the contrast between the child’s appearance before and after the treatment through the video, their hearts began to soften.

After all, many of them were parents.

Seeing the smile on the little girl’s face, everyone no longer hoped that Fang Qiu would be embarrassed. Instead, they hoped that Fang Qiu would be able to cure more people.

At the same time, there was a heated discussion on the Internet.

“He can actually cure it?”

“He saved a young child. He gave the child new hope.”

“I hope he can cure more children. For children with autism, their lives are too miserable.”

“Fang Qiu is a good doctor.”

“Chinese Medicine is amazing. It can even cure autism so quickly.”

“Chinese Medicine is incredible!”

It was beyond doubt that those who believed in Fang Qiu believed in Fang Qiu and Chinese Medicine even more, while those who even opposed Chinese Medicine finally began to waver.

In the heated discussion, everyone began to look forward to Fang Qiu’s third patient.

They all wanted to see what kind of miracle Huaxia Chinese Medicine could create.

In the Huaxia Clinic...

After the little girl’s parents left with the little girl, Fang Qiu finally saw the third patient, a middle-aged man in his fifties.

“Hi.”

The patient came to the consultation table and sat down.

“Hi.”

Fang Qiu nodded with a smile. Without moving his hand, he asked directly, "Are you suffering from a liver disease?"

"Hmm?"

The patient was stunned and asked in surprise, "How did you know?"

"People with severe liver disease can become somewhat darker in complexion, and you're a man with light skin, so the contrast is obvious, plus you look like an alcoholic with your cloudy eyes and scattered body. Drinking hurts the liver. So I guess you're suffering from a liver disease."

Fang Qiu smiled.

"You're right about that."

The patient sighed softly and said, "It's cirrhosis."

Fang Qiu asked, "It seems that you've been an alcoholic for many years. Am I right?"

"Yes."

The patient nodded without any doubt and said, "I used to be an alcoholic. I was addicted to alcohol. Later, I spent a long time quit drinking. I finally succeeded, but my body seems to be losing it."

Speaking of this, the patient shook his head with a sigh and added, "Maybe I wouldn't be like this if I had started to quit drinking earlier."

Fang Qiu asked, "Are you sure you have quit drinking?"

"I'm sure."

The patient nodded with certainty and said, "I don't want to drink now. I just want to vomit when I smell the liquor. My family, who once left me, have come back to me. I love them, and they love me very much."

While speaking, the patient looked back outside the clinic.

Fang Qiu followed his gaze.

In addition to a middle-aged woman who was about the same age as the patient, there was a group of young men and women standing outside the door. Obviously, they were a family.

"I believe you."

Seeing this, Fang Qiu nodded with a smile and said, "I'll treat you."

By then, the reporters had already released the news.

All the people at the scene fixed their eyes on Fang Qiu, and they were all doubting him.

Cirrhosis was irreversible. It was a serious disease that could be called a terminal illness.

Could Chinese Medicine really cure it?

On the Internet, the netizens were heatedly discussing it.

When they heard that the patient was an alcoholic, many people asked Fang Qiu not to treat him, which formed great controversies on the Internet. But then the media reporter released the news that the patient had quit drinking and had his family accompany him. Only then did the controversies gradually weaken.

In the clinic.

“Come up and lie down.”

After the diagnosis and identification, Fang Qiu directly wheeled a hospital bed over and let the patient trip on it.

“I’ll treat you with the chiropractic of Chinese Medicine. It can promote the blood circulation of the human body, dredge the meridians, and remove congestion. Different techniques also have different therapeutic effects on the viscera,” said Fang Qiu.

While speaking, Fang Qiu asked the patient to take off his shirt.

Then, he began chiropractic.

As he was doing it, he secretly injected some internal Qi into the patient’s body, leading it to rush to the liver. Then, he directly wrapped it with the internal Qi and nourished the patient’s liver little by little, making the ill liver fibers gradually dissipate and the liver return to normal.

Because the liver fibers of the patient were relatively serious, it took Fang Qiu a long time to nourish his liver. It took about half an hour before it was done.

The chiropractic restored the patient’s liver to its normal vitality.

“It’s done.”

Fang Qiu withdrew his hands.

The patient got up from the bed and looked at Fang Qiu in disbelief. He seemed to be in a state of confusion. He didn’t know if Fang Qiu could really cure the disease by pressing him a few times.

“You can go to the hospital for an examination.”

Fang Qiu didn't explain much. He said those words directly and then went back to his desk to sit down.

When the patient heard that, he hurried to the hospital for an examination.

As for the media reporters, they also sent out some of their men to follow him.

Half an hour later, the news came.

The patient with cirrhosis was completely cured.

As the news spread to the Huaxia Clinic, it also spread on the Internet.

“Oh my god, he's cured?”

“This must be the real incurable disease. Anyway, I've seen people who are addicted to alcohol. Few of them can survive.”

“How many lives has Fang Qiu saved?”

“Isn't Huaxia Chinese Medicine too awesome?”

The netizens were stunned.

After receiving the news, everyone at the scene was also shocked.

From the beginning to the present, they had never seen Fang Qiu use any medicine or use a scalpel. No matter how difficult the disease was, he only used his hands and silver needles.

Moreover, his patients were all cured on the spot.

This made everyone feel unreal, but these things really happened in front of their eyes.

In the end, they could only give warm applause to Fang Qiu for his performance.

In the clinic, Fang Qiu was still waiting for the next patient.

“It’s time to close the clinic.”

Hua Xiuyuan came over and said, “It’s already five o’clock in the afternoon. There should be no more patients with complicated diseases coming today.”

Fang Qiu asked, “How’s it going over there?”

Hua Xiuyuan said, “There are still some patients waiting to be treated.”

Fang Qiu suggested, “The clinic will be closed in half an hour. Lead half of the patients next door here. I’ll try my best to see all of them before the clinic closes.”

Under the attention of the media, Hua Xiuyuan did as Fang Qiu asked and led half of the ordinary patients next door to him.

It took Fang Qiu more than 20 minutes to see all those patients. But there were still no more patients with complicated diseases. Then, he got up and bid farewell to the reporters. After that, under everyone’s gaze and applause, he turned around and walked into the backyard of the clinic.

Everyone knew that although only three patients with complicated diseases had come to Fang Qiu today, there would be more patients with such diseases coming to the clinic tomorrow as the media reported what Fang Qiu did on the Internet, and all kinds of information had been spread.

Not only the people at the scene but also all the netizens on the Internet who were paying attention to this matter began to guess what kind of complicated diseases could trouble Fang Qiu.

Meanwhile...

After this day's treatment, the result of a voting system that appeared on Twitter early in the morning gradually went into reverse.

At first, more than 90% of the people voted in the system that Fang Qiu couldn't cure complicated diseases.

Only less than ten percent of the people were willing to believe in Fang Qiu and root for him.

And now, more than 50% of the people in the voting system believed that Fang Qiu could cure any patient he saw, and this situation was still changing. Gradually, more and more people believed in Fang Qiu's medical skills.

With the success of the cases that Fang Qiu dealt with on the first day, some people even began to launch a new topic on Twitter.

“What kind of disease can trouble Fang Qiu? Will it be motor neuron disease, cancer, AIDS, leukemia, or rheumatoid?”

“These are the world's recognized five major incurable diseases. I wonder which one of them can trouble Fang Qiu.

“What kind of disease will Fang Qiu face tomorrow?”

As soon as this topic appeared, the netizens began to discuss it enthusiastically.

Meanwhile, Fang Qiu, who had just finished dinner in the clinic and returned to the manor, was sitting and chatting with Zhang Yicheng in the rest area of the lawn.

Seeing the heated discussion on the Internet, Zhang Yicheng asked directly, "Can you cure all of these five incurable diseases?"

"Chinese Medicine is about dialectical treatment."

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "I can't guarantee that now."

Medical Master

Chapter 1450: Another Competition

"Come on."

Hearing Fang Qiu's answer, Zhang Yicheng patted him on the shoulder with a smile and said, "During these days you're in Murica, the reputation of Chinese Medicine has been growing day by day. Although your challenge of diseases that are hard to cure has only lasted for a day, Chinese Medicine has already become famous. The more people you cure, the more famous Chinese Medicine will be. The more people in Murica recognize it, the more they will trust it!"

"Yeah."

Fang Qiu nodded with a smile.

Right at this moment...

"The latest news is that after Fang Qiu, the Huaxia Chinese Medicine doctor, took the initiative to challenge all the complicated diseases, the traditional medicine representatives of Hinndu, Egyptt, South Murica, Babyloon, and Mayia also announced that they would officially receive patients tomorrow and challenge all the complicated diseases. It seems they want to have a competition with Fang Qiu and Huaxia Chinese Medicine."

A prompt suddenly came from the tablet in Zhang Yicheng's hand.

“Eh?”

Because Zhang Yicheng had been watching the news about Fang Qiu on the Internet, he clicked on a video of a news report, only to hear such news.

“These guys are doing it again?”

“Let's see what they are up to.”

Zhang Yicheng put the tablet on the table and watched the news with Fang Qiu.

On the screen, the reporters were already interviewing those seven representatives.

The first person to be interviewed was Sinda, the doctor from Hindustan.

“Dr. Sinda.”

A reporter stood in front of Sinda with a microphone and asked, “Last time you lost to Fang Qiu and Huaxia Chinese Medicine, and you didn't keep up with Fang Qiu in the treatment of the new virus. Now you announce that you will challenge all the complicated diseases. Are you doing it to compete with Fang Qiu?”

The reporter's question was very sharp and direct.

“I am.”

Without hesitation, Sinde said directly, “My medical skills can save people. The last time I lost to Fang Qiu was because I underestimated him and didn’t exert all my strength. I have made great progress on the new virus. It won’t be long before I get to cure it. This time, I will try my best to cure all the complicated diseases. Just wait and see.”

No one had expected that Sinde, who had been ridiculed by countless netizens for a long time, could still say such words shamelessly.

The second interviewee was Dr. Sam from Babyloon.

“I have absolute confidence.”

In the face of the camera, Sam boasted, “I haven’t competed with Fang Qiu face to face. In terms of the new virus, Fang Qiu beat it to me a bit. I have shown the magical medical skills of my country before, so everyone should believe that no complicated disease can trouble me. No matter what disease it is, I can definitely cure it!”

The third interviewee was Antun, the medical representative of South Murica.

“Although our South Murican tribe lives in the primeval jungle, we and the Muricans are a family. The traditional medical skills of our tribe should be the most acceptable traditional medical skills for the Murica people. So please believe in me, I will show you my real strength so you will see what South Murica is capable of!”

The fourth one to be interviewed was Dr. Arya from Egyptt.

“I’m a very practical person.”

In the face of the camera, Arya said, “Everyone has witnessed my medical skills. You can search for it on the Internet if you haven’t. I believe there must be videos of me treating patients on the Internet. I don’t know if either Fang Qiu or I is stronger. I believe everyone will have their own judgment. Now I choose to challenge all the complicated diseases, not to challenge Fang Qiu, but to completely show everyone my medical skills and let the world know how capable I am!”

The last interviewee was Antonio.

“Fang Qiu?”

In the face of the camera, he said disdainfully, “When treating the patients with the new virus, Fang Qiu can only treat one person while I can treat two. There are many people who can prove it, such as experts from Murican Research Institute, so it’s clear if Fang Qiu is better or I am.

“Me challenging him?”

“No, no, no. What I will challenge are all the tough diseases. The reason why I issue such a challenge is that I want everyone to know that compared with me, Fang Qiu is nothing!”

...

“Hah-hah.”

Watching the interviews of the five people, Fang Qiu laughed.

It seemed that these five people were filled with hostility.

“What’s wrong with these guys? Are they going to target you and not let you go?”

Zhang Yicheng raised his eyebrows and said, “They must be jealous of your popularity, so they want to find an opportunity to belittle you to get promoted.”

“Obviously so.”

Fang Qiu shook his head with a smile and said, “However, it doesn’t affect me or Chinese Medicine. On the contrary, it’s a great opportunity to prove that the five thousand years of inheritance of Chinese Medicine has not been interrupted.”

“Impressive.”

Hearing this, Zhang Yicheng couldn't help but give a wry smile. He stared at Fang Qiu and said, “Why do I feel that no matter what bad thing happens to you, you can turn it into a good thing?”

Fang Qiu smiled.

Previously...

For some reason, Fang Qiu had gathered the five representatives of traditional medicine, which made them famous by the way. After all, they all had traditional medicine skills.

Therefore, it was not appropriate for Fang Qiu to confront them head-on. Otherwise, he would appear too domineering.

But now, while Fang Qiu wasn't messing with them at all, they took the initiative to come at him.

Since that was the case, there was no need for Fang Qiu to continue to give in to them.

Anyway, there were only two days left.

“They want to compete with me?”

“Then let's have a competition.”

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu was filled with the desire to fight.

...

Early the next morning, Fang Qiu still came to the Huaxia Clinic early.

When he arrived, he saw that there seemed to be not many patients waiting outside the clinic, as well as onlookers and media reporters. Most of those people were from Huaxia.

This situation was far worse than yesterday's.

“Fang Qiu.”

Just as Fang Qiu walked to the door of the clinic, the beautiful reporter from MBC came to him and asked directly, “There don't seem to be many people here today. Do you think it's a pity?”

“No.”

Fang Qiu shook his head matter-of-factly and said, “I don't think it's inappropriate or a pity, because I'm here to see patients. What I need to do is to cure the patients who come to me. And this is just the beginning. Everything is still unknown. As long as there is a good result, it's enough for me.”

When the beautiful reporter heard that, her eyes lit up.

There seemed to be a hidden meaning behind Fang Qiu's words.

“Do you know that the other five representatives of traditional medicine have also openly challenged all the complicated diseases?”

Before Fang Qiu could answer, the beautiful reporter continued to ask, “Their challenge starts today. Yesterday, the five of them were interviewed by the media. Each of them was very confident in themselves. They said that they could definitely cure all the patients and showed their intention to compete with you. Do you have anything to say about this?”

“I want to thank them.”

Fang Qiu smiled.

The beautiful reporter was stunned and asked in confusion, "Why is that?"

"I want to thank them for their treatment. If it's because of me that they made this decision, then every time they cure a patient, they will make a little contribution to this world and traditional medicine, so I need to thank them."

Fang Qiu replied with a smile and then added, "Of course, if they really want to compete with me, I shall tell them that they can come to me here."

When the reporter heard that, she immediately applauded Fang Qiu.

"You've shown the justice and kindness that a doctor should have."

While applauding, the beautiful reporter continued, "Compared with you, not only the Murican media but even the patients with complicated diseases seem to believe in Antonio more, the Mayian medical representative. Most of the media and patients have gone to him. In this case, do you still have the confidence to accept their challenge?"

"I only need to challenge myself."

Fang Qiu smiled faintly and added, "If they insist on using me as a reference, they can only get the result that they can't catch up with me."

When the reporter heard that, she couldn't help laughing.

After a while, the clinic was open.

The first patient with a complicated disease who walked into the clinic was an old man in his sixties.

“Sir, what’s the trouble with you?” asked Fang Qiu as the old man sat down.

“I have a complicated disease.”

The old man smiled and said, “It’s rheumatoid arthritis!”

Upon hearing that, the media reporters on the scene were shocked.

They didn’t expect Fang Qiu’s first patient today to be so difficult to deal with.

At this time...

“I want to say something, Fang Qiu.”

The reporter from MBC walked out and said to Fang Qiu, all the other reporters on the scene, and the onlookers, “According to the feedback of several other reporters from MBC who reported in real-time, the other five traditional medicine representatives have also begun to treat patients. Among them, Dr. Sam from Babyloon and Dr. Arya from Egyptt are dealing with the same disease!”

As soon as she said that, the other reporters at the scene immediately got excited.

They didn’t expect that this peaceful war would start from the first patient.

On the other side.

Dr. Sam from Babyloon and Dr. Arya from Egyptt received this piece of news at the same time.

After learning that the patient Fang Qiu was treating was also suffering from rheumatoid arthritis, both of the doctors laughed simultaneously. They were both very confident.

At the same time, after hearing the news, Sinda, Antun, and Antonio all laughed and were ready to sit by and watch.

In the Huaxia Clinic.

After the beautiful reporter of MBC finished speaking, Fang Qiu began to examine the patient.

After asking for some information, Fang Qiu learned that the old man's rheumatoid arthritis was affecting his ankles and knee joints. He felt the old man's bones directly and carefully examined his elbow joints and knee joints with Absolute Touch.

"Sir."

After the examination, Fang Qiu said, "According to your condition, I will use the two treatment methods of Huaxia Chinese Medicine, the small needle knife and the fire needle, together to perform the treatment."