Chapter 1451: He Is Cured!

Needle knife? Fire needle?

As soon as the old man heard this, he was immediately confused.

He had never heard of what a needle knife or fire needle was.

“Needle knife is made of a kind of metal material, in the shape similar to a needle and a knife. It’s a type of acupuncture tool.”

Seeing that everyone was confused, Fang Qiu took out the two tools and showed them to everyone while explaining.

“The shapes and lengths of the needle knives are slightly different. Generally speaking, they are about 10 to 15 cm long, and their diameters vary from 0.4 to 1.2 mm. The needle knife is divided into three parts: the handle, the needle body, and the needle knife. The width of the needle knife is generally the same as the diameter of the needle, and the blade edge is sharp.

“The features of the needle knife are: simple, convenient, cheap, and workable.

“In short, it is simple in treatment, convenient to use, low in cost, and obvious in effect.”

As Fang Qiu spoke...

He took out a set of needle knives, which had jade handles as wide as a finger, like silver needles but the tips with blades. Fang Qiu showed them in front of everyone and then continued, “In Chinese Medicine, the needle knife is in great use. It can turn a large number of terminal diseases into treatable ones. It can turn difficult ones into quick healing ones. It can turn open surgeries into closed-off ones. It can turn complicated treatments into simple ones. And it can turn the injury-pain treatment into something close to injury-free and painless.”

Fang Qiu finished the introduction of the needle knife.

He then picked up another box of needles.

He continued to introduce, “Fire needle is a unique medical system of acupuncture in Chinese Medicine. It has a history of thousands of years in Huaxia. The earliest book recorded is The Yellow Emperor’s Classic of Internal Medicine.

“Fire needle technique is one of the treatment methods used to quickly insert burning needles into acupoints to treat diseases. It is recorded in some ancient medical skill books in Huaxia like Lingshu Guanzheng, Shang Han Lun, Qianjin Yi Fang. It has the effects of warming the meridians, dispersing the cold, and smoothing the meridians.”

After that...

Fang Qiu started to treat the patient while he was continuing to say, “Rheumatoid arthritis is a chronic and systematic disease with unknown causes and mainly in inflammatory synovitis. The purpose of the Chinese Medicine treatment is to prove that strengthening body resistance and eliminating pathogenic factors, balancing the Yin and Yang, and adjusting the functions of the meridians in the viscera, can relieve pain, suppress the reaction of the inflammation, reduce the swelling of joints, correct and prevent the abnormality of joints, and improve the function of the limbs.

“At present, most scholars of Chinese Medicine believe the causes of this disease are as follows: The weakness of the three organs, liver, kidney, and spleen, is the internal cause, while the wind-cold and strain are the main external cause, and the blockage of the meridians is the key factor.

“Therefore, I treat the patient with the needle knife, coupled with the fire needle. The needle knife is used to relieve the physiological imbalance caused by trauma and strain, which will cause biomechanical disorders, soft tissue adhesion, scars, contraction, and so on. It has the effect of clearing Qi, blood circulation, relaxing meridians, clearing congestion, and so on. And the fire needle plays a synergistic role in acupuncture and heat therapy. It can stimulate the Qi in meridians, disperse swelling, promotes the absorption of sterile inflammation, and so on. In fact, it has the effect of nourishing the spleen, liver, and kidney.”

Speaking of this...

Fang Qiu paused for a moment. Then he continued to treat the patient while saying, “According to the diagnosis, the patient is suffering from arthralgia.”

“So, our treatment is mainly to clear inner heat, eliminate moisture, and promote blood circulation.”

After that...

Fang Qiu focused on the treatment.

Half an hour later...

“It is done!”

Fang Qiu put away the medical tools and said, “You can go to the hospital for a checkup.”

Hearing that...

The patient quickly stood up and rushed to the hospital for a check-up.

All the media at the scene sent one of their reporters to follow behind the patient.

Meanwhile...

On the other side...

Arya, the doctor from Egyptt, who had encountered a patient having the same symptoms as Fang Qiu's patient, had not yet cured his patient, and so did Sam, the doctor from Babyloon.

Arya and Sam both heard the news from the media that Fang Qiu had cured his patient, and the patient had left for the hospital to do a checkup.

They couldn't help getting anxious.

As for another three doctors...

They had been paying attention to the competition among Fang Qiu, Arya, and Sam. In the face of the news that Fang Qiu had cured his patient first and the other two had not yet cured theirs, the three doctors' expressions did not change at all. They continued to stand by coldly.

Just a while later...

The checkup results from the hospital came out.

It showed that the disease of Fang Qiu's patient had been completely cured!

The joints of the old man had recovered to the level of 30 to 40 years old, which was very healthy.

The news got around.

"Clap, Clap, Clap..."

In the Huaxia Clinic, there was a sudden burst of applause.

In the meantime...

There was still no news of Arya and Sam. They kept treating their patients.

When they were eager to cure their patients as soon as possible and compete with Fang Qiu, they heard the news from the media.

The checkup result confirmed that the patient treated by Fang Qiu had been completely healed.

When they heard this...

Arya and Sam changed their expressions in an instant.

“It seems that you’ve won.”

Before the second patient arrived, the reporter of MBC stepped forward and asked Fang Qiu, “Do you have anything to say about this?”

“Excuse me, you get in the way of my patient.”

Fang Qiu looked behind the reporter and said.

Hearing that...

The reporter was slightly stunned. He then looked back and saw a plump middle-aged woman coming. The reporter gave a wry smile, quickly stepped aside, and continued to pay attention to Fang Qiu.

“May I know...”

Fang Qiu asked.

“I have diabetes.”

Before Fang Qiu finished asking, the patient said directly, “It’s been a long time. I’ve been taking medicine to control the disease. However, I couldn’t help taking some forbidden diets sometimes, so I couldn’t control my blood sugar.”

Hearing that...

Fang Qiu directly began the Four Methods to Diagnose a Disease.

He had cured the secretary-general of such a disease once during the World Medical Exchange Conference. Otherwise, he would not have gotten the 30-minute speech time.

It was just because Fang Qiu had such a treatment experience before that he could treat this disease with ease.

Soon after...

The second patient was cured.

Yet...

When Fang Qiu had cured the second patient and gotten the checkup results from the hospital, Arya and Sam still hadn’t cured the patient with rheumatoid arthritis.

This situation came as a surprise.

There was no doubt that it was reported by the reporters immediately.

As a result, the netizens of Murica learned that Fang Qiu had cured rheumatoid arthritis and that the patient had gotten the examination report from Wahton Hospital, confirming that he was cured completely.

Fang Qiu even cured the diabetes of the second patient.

However, Arya and Sam had not finished the treatments for their first patients yet.

The internet was in an uproar.

“It’s so real. They were defeated by Fang Qiu just like that?”

“No way. When they were interviewed by the TV station, they were both full of confidence. Why is it so difficult for them to treat the first patient with a complicated disease? Based on their efficiency of treatment, even if they can cure the disease in the end, I’m afraid that the patients treated by them in three days will not be as many as those treated by Fang Qiu in two days.”

“Isn’t it obvious? The doctors from Egypt and Babyloon have lost. They lost to the doctor of Huaxia Chinese Medicine.”

“I’m looking forward to the final result now. I wonder if they can cure this disease.”

“It’s okay if they can cure it, but if they can’t, they will lose their reputations completely.”

In the heated discussion of Murican netizens...

Fang Qiu had received the third patient.

The third patient entered the room.

It was a middle-aged man, who looked in his forties and was slightly overweight.

“Hello.”

“Hello, Dr. Fang Qiu.”

The patient also smiled mildly and sat down at the diagnosis table. Before Fang Qiu could ask, he said, “I have a heart attack. I went to the hospital for a check-up. It’s said that I have congenital heart disease and also Myocarditis. I’ve stayed in the hospital once before. Now, because of this disease, I even quit my job. I’ve been recuperating at home, which caused my wife to take charge of our family. I’m eager to take on the responsibility of being a man. But every time I went for a check-up and treatment, the doctor always advised me to rest and not do any work for the recent few years. However, this disease has never been cured, and from time to time, I will relapse.”

“Can you cure it?”

After that, the patient asked with expectation and hope.

“Sure.”

Fang Qiu said confidently, “You’re in the prime time of a man. As a doctor, I will do my best to help you get out of pain and let your family be proud of you again.”

“Really?”

The patient was excited.

“Calm down.”

Fang Qiu quickly reached out and patted the patient on the shoulder, saying, "Don't be too excited. Before I help treat you, I need to carefully examine your body to confirm the final treatment method."

"Okay."

The patient nodded with a smile.

"Lie down, please."

Fang Qiu pushed the bed over and let the patient lie on it. He felt the patient's opened meridian before penetrating the patient's body with his spiritual force for a detailed examination.

As a result, Fang Qiu found that there was indeed something wrong with the patient's heart. It seemed to be caused by an incomplete development during his infancy. Such a problem rarely affected children, so it was almost hard to be found out at their young age. It would not be stimulated until they were under the strain of exhaustion when they were getting older.

Fang Qiu found out the cause of the disease.

He didn't hesitate at all and immediately started the treatment.

This time...

He used acupuncture treatment, too.

At the same time as he inserted the needles, Fang Qiu secretly injected his internal Qi into the patient's body. He started by unclogging the patient's cardiovascular. Then, he controlled his internal Qi to reach the part where the patient's heart was not fully developed. He didn't stop until he helped the patient make up all the incomplete parts of his heart.

"It is done!"

After the treatment, Fang Qiu stopped.

At the request of Fang Qiu, the patient followed the media reporters to Wahton Hospital for a check-up.

Meanwhile...

Over there...

Arya and Sam finally finished treating their first patients suffering from rheumatoid arthritis. Like Fang Qiu, they asked the two patients to go to the hospital for an examination, followed by media reporters.

Both of the patients lived in Wahton, so they also went to Wahton Hospital for a check-up.

Half an hour later...

The results of Arya's and Sam's patients were released.

The treatment was ineffective!

They still had rheumatoid arthritis.

When they got the check-up reports, the two patients were dumbfounded.

All the media reporters were even more shocked.

No one had expected that the treatments of Arya and Sam would fail.

Notably...

Like Fang Qiu, they were also the descendants and representatives of traditional medical skills. It was too hard to believe that Arya and Sam failed to treat a regular disease like rheumatoid arthritis.

What on earth was going on?

At the same time, the check-up result of Fang Qiu's third patient, that middle-aged man with a heart attack and myocarditis, came out.

His physical indicators were all within the standard.

And his heart had no problem at all.

He was cured!

Chapter 1452: ALS Is Also Called Hemiplegia

The media from both sides met at the hospital.

After seeing the examination results of the patients from both sides, the media did not dare to delay for a moment, and they immediately released notices.

The next moment...

Almost all the media who were paying attention to the medical competition released the latest news at the same time.

“Breaking news: The check-up result of Wahton Hospital has been released. The treatment of Arya, the doctor from Egyptt, has failed. The patient's condition has been relieved a little, but it has not been cured. The disease is still there.”

“Breaking news: The examination result of Wahton Hospital has been released. The treatment of Sam, the doctor from Babyloon, has failed. The patient’s condition has not been relieved, and his condition is still serious.”

“Breaking news: Fang Qiu’s third patient, who has congenital heart disease and myocarditis, has been examined by Wahton Hospital, showing that his heart has no problem at all. His congenital heart disease has been completely cured!”

These three pieces of news were posted on every media’s Twitter.

And it was posted three times in a row.

As soon as the three pieces of news were released, the netizens of Murica were in an uproar.

“What the fuck, Huaxia Chinese Medicine is awesome!”

“I suddenly remembered the arrogant remarks made by Arya and Sam in the interview last night. They thought that they could cure all kinds of difficult miscellaneous diseases, and they were so overconfident that they could defeat Fang Qiu. Now that I think about it, it’s so ridiculous!”

“Isn’t the gap among them too fucking big?”

“Who says no? Fang Qiu has cured three people. They have just cured one each. The most terrible thing is that they did not cure their patients.”

“Oh, my dear! This should be the first patients they met after they announced that they would challenge all the difficult miscellaneous diseases in the competition, right?”

“I finally understand one thing. Fang Qiu is not arrogant, but those who tried to challenge him are arrogant because challenging Fang Qiu is already being arrogant to them!”

“I wonder why these people have the nerve to challenge Fang Qiu. As far as I know, too many patients were cured by Fang Qiu, and none of them had a common disease. However, it only took a very short time for Fang Qiu to cure them. That is why I root for Fang Qiu. But what about the other doctors? They don’t have any significant treatment cases as Fang Qiu. They have always been flattered, which led everyone to think that they were at the same level as Fang Qiu in terms of medical skills. Now, that’s clearly not the case.”

“Yeah, the only one who has made great achievements in the treatment cases is Dr. Antonio from Mayia. Like Fang Qiu, he has cured the new virus. So I think ... the competition will end up between Mayian medical skills and Chinese Medicine.”

“I’m looking forward to the battle between the two civilizations!”

In an instant...

The Murican netizens began to talk about it on the internet. In addition to criticizing Arya and Sam, they drew most of their attention to Fang Qiu and Antonio.

What a pity.

Even with all the fuss, and even though they had been so disgraceful, the netizens’ attention was still on Fang Qiu. With the failure of the treatment, it seemed that the Murican netizens had disdained to mention the names of Arya and Sam.

...

In the Huaxia Clinic.

Just as the internet was in an uproar...

The female reporter of MBC also told everyone on the spot the news from Wahton Hospital.

Now...

The people from Huaxia, who came to the scene to watch and support Fang Qiu, all applauded and cheered for him. They were all extremely excited.

They saw with their own eyes that Fang Qiu had defeated the representative of traditional medical skills of other countries, and they witnessed Fang Qiu completely showing the national prestige and the power of Huaxia Chinese Medicine.

In the applause and cheers of the audience...

Fang Qiu saw his fourth patient today.

This was a middle-aged man, about 40 to 50 years old.

“Hello, is there any problem with your health?”

When the patient sat down, Fang Qiu immediately asked.

“ALS.”

The middle-aged man looked at Fang Qiu. It looked like his whole body was being limp. He said, “I have ALS!”

Upon hearing his words...

All the people present were dumbfounded.

ALS...

It was also called motor neuron disease (MND). It occurred after the damage of upper and lower motor neurons, resulting in gradual weakness and atrophy of the muscles including the bulbar, limbs, trunk, chest, and abdominal muscles.

This disease was recorded in “The First Rare Diseases”.

Fang Qiu was a doctor.

He was very clear about the existence of ALS.

The cause of ALS was still unclear up to now. Among the case, 20% of them might have something to do with genetic defects. In addition, there were some environmental factors like heavy metal aluminum poisoning, which could cause damage to motor neurons.

Currently...

There were some main theories about the cause of the damage to motor neurons.

First, the neurotoxin accumulation. The glutamic acid accumulated among the nerve cells. Over time, it would cause damage to the nerve cells.

Second, the nerve cell membrane would be damaged by free radicals.

Third, the nerve growth factor (NGF) is lacking, disabling nerve cells to continue to grow and develop.

Anyway, until now...

ALS was a great challenging medical problem all over the world.

So far...

The cause of ALS couldn't even be found.

In this case, ALS could be considered the most difficult one among all difficult miscellaneous diseases!

Therefore...

Hearing the patient's words...

The reporters and all the onlookers on the scene looked so shocked.

They all knew that it was impossible to cure ALS.

Everyone was extremely shocked.

Just then, a voice sounded, "Fang Qiu."

The beautiful reporter from MBC stood up again and said, "A kind reminder for you. Among the several doctors who challenged all the difficult miscellaneous diseases, Dr. Sinde from Hinndu and Dr. Antun from South Murica tribes also received patients with ALS. Both of them have treated the patients for two hours, but the patients have not been cured yet."

"I don't need to compete with them."

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "This is the first case of ALS that I have come into contact with. I can't guarantee that I can cure him, but I promise to do my best to help him fight for even a glimmer of hope."

Hearing that...

Everyone applauded.

The patient also looked at Fang Qiu and nodded.

Meanwhile...

Soon, the news that Fang Qiu had received a patient with ALS came into the ears of Sinde and Antun, who were treating patients with the same disease.

In fact...

After receiving the patient with ALS, Sinde and Antun had begun to compete with each other secretly. However, Fang Qiu was the main target, so the competition between Sinde and Antun was not obvious, and it was not magnified by the media.

But up to now, they had spent two hours competing but still couldn't get a result. To their surprise, Fang Qiu joined the competition with them.

This time...

Everyone started to pay attention to Sinde and Antun.

When they first heard that Fang Qiu had joined the competition, Sinde and Antun frowned, for fear that Fang Qiu would cure the patient before them.

Then they had a second thought carefully.

Such a disease couldn't be cured. Since they couldn't cure it, Fang Qiu definitely couldn't, either.

Sinde and Antun were not the only ones who thought so.

As the news spread on the internet, the netizens across Murica all shook their heads.

“That’s impossible. I do hope that someone can cure this disease, but it’s really incurable.”

“It seems that Fang Qiu will lose this time.”

“Let’s pray. I don’t hope Fang Qiu to win. I just hope that Fang Qiu can cure this disease. In this way, there will be hope for the patients with ALS all over the world!”

Just a while later...

This news spread to Huaxia.

The netizens in Huaxia also saw the news that Fang Qiu was going to treat ALS.

In an instant...

Domestic netizens had a heated discussion on Weibo.

“Can Fang Qiu cure it this time?”

“Even though Fang Qiu has cured many terminal diseases, ALS is an incurable disease.”

“It’s just a sort of disease. I hope Fang Qiu can work harder. Even if he can’t cure this disease, he can definitely cure other diseases.”

“Why does it have to be ALS?”

The domestic netizens were all worried about Fang Qiu and sighed.

Everyone remembered it.

Previously, the ice bucket challenge for caring for patients with ALS had lasted for a long time all over the world. This disease was too difficult to cure, and there was no way to cure it at all. Therefore, it could only call out people to give more care and love to patients with ALS, enabling them to feel a trace of warmth.

In the Huaxia Clinic.

“Don’t be nervous. I’ll start the treatment for you right now.”

Fang Qiu walked up to the patient with a smile and said, “In fact, ALS is also recorded in the 5,000-year-old inheritance of Chinese Medicine in Huaxia.

“Almost all kinds of diseases listed in modern medical books, no matter how complicated the disease’s name is, have basically mature research and appropriate treatment methods, and even special prescriptions, in ancient Chinese Medicine books in Huaxia. ALS is one of them. This is the foundation of Huaxia Chinese Medicine that has been passed down for 5,000 years!”

When mentioning this...

Fang Qiu began to examine the patient’s body while continuing to say, “In fact, ALS is the same as Hemiplegia mentioned in Huaxia Chinese Medicine.

“In the ancient Chinese Medicine book, Suwen Maijie of The Yellow Emperor’s Canon of Internal Medicine, clearly defined it as ‘Hemiplegia’ and its symptoms, which were exactly the same as ALS. It was a deficiency of the kidney. It was also mentioned in Lingshu Febrile Disease as follows: the patient could not feel pain or move their limbs, and their minds were not clear. As long as they can speak, and even a little, the disease can be cured. But when it gets worse that the patient can't speak, it can't be cured. The cause of the disease starts from Yang, and then goes into Yin."

Speaking of this...

Fang Qiu swept across the confused media reporters and the patient, and he shook his head with a bitter smile.

He said all these in Huaxianese because he didn't know how to translate them into Anglanish, so those people couldn't understand what he was talking about at all.

"I'll give you a prescription."

Fang Qiu didn't say anything more. Anyway, he introduced everything as needed.

Fang Qiu sat back at the diagnosis table.

He picked up a pen and wrote down the prescribed medicine.

The prescription was a decoction with various herbals, including cooked dried Rehmannia, Cornus, Dendrobe, wine-soaked Desert Cistanche, Monkshood, Poria cocos, etc. Grind them into powder and divide all these herbs into 3 portions on average. Every time, take one portion, mixed with one and a half glasses of water, five slices of ginger, one piece of dates, and five or six pieces of mint. Then decoct them until 80% boiling, regardless of time.

Fang Qiu finished writing the prescription.

He directly handed it to Wang Sheng, who had been watching in front of the medicine cabinet. Fang Qiu said, "Get the medicine here. I'll decoct it myself."

Medical Master

Chapter 1453: He Can Move!

Just a while later...

Wang Sheng got all the medicinal herbs according to the prescription given by Fang Qiu and brought them in a bag to Fang Qiu.

Fang Qiu took the bag.

He went straight to the decocting area.

Fang Qiu began to decoct the medicine. He said, "The function of this prescription is to nourish the kidney's Yin and Yang and open up the apertures to remove phlegm. It's mainly used to treat Hemiplegia. The symptoms are: the patient's tongue is too stiff to speak. His muscles and bones are too weak to walk. The patient feels thirsty but doesn't want to have water. His feet are cold, his face is red, his tongue coating is yellowish, and the types of his pulse are deep, thin, and weak.

"The cause of this disease is the deficiency of Yin and Yang in his kidneys. The lack of heat will cause phlegm disorder and block the orifice. The cooked Rehmannia and Cornus can nourish the Yin of the kidney. Desert Cistanche can nourish the Yang of the kidney. The cooked monkshood can absorb the floating Yang. Lilyturf root and dendrobe can nourish the Yin and gather the fluid. Poria cocos can connect the heart and kidneys, open up the meridians, and reduce phlegm. Date, ginger, and mint can regulate the nutrition."

As he spoke...

Fang Qiu secretly channeled his internal Qi into the gallipot to maximize the efficacy of all the medicinal herbs and enhance their efficacy to the best.

In addition...

He also added a trace of internal Qi into the medicinal potion.

The medicinal potion was ready.

Fang Qiu poured out a bowl of medicinal potion and walked to the diagnosis table. After the medicinal potion cooled down, he let the patient take it.

The patient finished it in one gulp.

“Can I go to the hospital for a check-up now?”

The patient seemed to be very familiar with Fang Qiu’s treatment process. After swallowing the traditional Chinese medicine in pain, he immediately asked.

“Not now.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “You’ve just taken the medicine, and the effect of the medicine has not yet dissolved. It hasn’t been working in your body yet. So it’s not the time for a check-up now.”

“When will be the right time?”

The patient was stunned and asked with some concern.

It seemed that...

He was wondering whether Fang Qiu could cure his disease or not. That was why Fang Qiu held off time.

“It won’t take long.”

Fang Qiu smiled and replied, “Three hours is enough.”

Hearing that...

The patient breathed a sigh of relief.

“We’ll wait.”

The patient responded. Then he came to the rest seat on one side and waited quietly under the arrangement of Hua Xiuyuan.

The media reporters shifted their gaze back and forth between the patient and Fang Qiu.

Three hours?

Was Fang Qiu bragging?

Everyone knew that Fang Qiu had asked some patients to wait for 24 hours before and the final result was good. However, this time he was facing an uncommon disease.

It was ALS.

It was an incurable disease, no matter what!

Could Fang Qiu really cure the patient in three hours?

The media reporters doubted.

And meanwhile, they posted the news on the internet.

“Breaking news: Fang Qiu treats a patient with Chinese medicinal herbs. At present, the patient has taken the medicine, but he hasn’t gone to the hospital for an examination. Instead, he has to be waiting in the clinic for the next three hours per Fang Qiu’s request.”

The news spread out.

It immediately caused a large-scale discussion online.

“Three hours? No kidding!”

“It sounds impossible, but I keep hope that Fang Qiu can get success.”

“If it only takes three hours, isn’t it too short?”

“Is Fang Qiu confident to cure such disease?”

The netizens were talking wildly.

On the other side...

Dr. Sinde, who was treating the same disease as Fang Qiu, and Antun, the doctor from the tribe of South Murica tribes, also heard about the news of Fang Qiu finishing medication one after the other.

Hearing the news, they felt nervous.

They knew very well.

So far, even counting from the date of arriving in Murica, Fang Qiu had never had a case of ineffective treatment. He could even cure a new type of virus with Chinese medicinal herbs.

This time, Fang Qiu probably could cure ALS.

Sinde and Antun were worried.

At the same time, they also had some other thoughts.

In their opinion...

Such a disease was definitely the most difficult to cure in the world!

Even Fang Qiu could only possibly cure it, and the possibility was not greater than 20%.

In this case...

They just needed to stall for time. Once it was confirmed that Fang Qiu's treatment failed, they would announce that their treatment failed, which would not have a great impact on them.

Even Fang Qiu would fail in treatment, so why couldn't they?

And what was Antonio doing as the last descendant of traditional medical skills?

Dr. Antonio from Mayia kept watching aside.

For him...

It would be good if none of the three doctors could cure ALS.

In that case, Fang Qiu and the other two would drop their rankings together, and Antonio would be the only one left and become the biggest beneficiary.

As for Antonio, he only needed to do it step by step and cure the difficult miscellaneous diseases of the patients who came to see him. That would be good enough.

In the Huaxia Clinic.

Of course, Fang Qiu would not guess what the other representatives of the traditional medical skill were thinking.

He was waiting for the time for the medicine to take effect.

After confirming that no more patients with difficult miscellaneous diseases would come to seek medical treatment, Fang Qiu asked Hua Xiuyuan to transfer some of the ordinary patients over to him, and he continue to treat them.

Eventually...

Three hours passed.

And it was time to call it a day at the clinic.

The onlookers who had been paying attention to the time, as well as the media reporters, all shifted their gaze to Fang Qiu with great expectation at the moment the time came.

They were expecting Fang Qiu to make the next decision.

The patient also looked at Fang Qiu.

“Let me do a check-up on you.”

After seeing the last ordinary patient, Fang Qiu stood up and walked to the patient with ALS. He felt the patient’s opened meridians and then penetrate his spiritual force and internal Qi into the patient’s body for a while. After making sure that the patient’s condition had completely improved, Fang Qiu said with a smile, “Congratulations! You have recovered.”

“Uh?”

All the people present were shocked.

Even the patient widened his eyes, looking at Fang Qiu.

“Try to move your hands and feet to see if they are much more flexible than usual. Do you regain the feeling of youth and freedom?”

Fang Qiu said.

Hearing that, the patient immediately began to move.

He didn’t have ALS for a long time.

Therefore, he had not reached the point where his hands and feet were so stiff that he could not move. He came to see the doctor alone. When he came to see the doctor, even if he worked all out, the movement of his body was quite limited, and his whole body was like only bones left, extremely weak!

If it was another half a month or a month, his hands and feet might not be able to move at all.

Being in such a terrible situation made the patient feel great pain.

The patient was in a constant state of panic.

But now...

He heard from a doctor, a doctor of Huaxia Chinese Medicine, that he had recovered.

“Is this true?”.

His mind was full of disbelief and expectation.

The patient stood up first.

Then, he raised his hand, lifted his foot, and twisted his body.

It seemed that his movements were still small, but he could move now. He could even do some movements that he could not do usually.

Instantly...

The patient was so excited that his eyes were with tears.

He cheered in his mind, “I can move!

“I can move!

“Finally, I can move again!”

Seeing the patient’s movements, Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “You are too weak, too weak.”

Fang Qiu sighed.

Fang Qiu walked back to the diagnosis table and said to the patient, "You've recovered. However, you're too weak now because of your illness. I'll give you a prescription now. Get the medicine according to my prescription and take it back to nurse your health."

"Sure, I will."

"Before going home, you can go to the hospital for an examination."

Then...

Fang Qiu finished writing the prescription.

Fang Qiu handed the prescription to Wang Sheng and asked him to get the medicine. Then he handed the medicine and the prescription to the patient together and added, "I have put the decocting method of the medicine on the prescription in Anglanish. After you go back home, decoct the medicine and take it according to the method written in the prescription."

The patient quickly took it.

He did get hope from Fang Qiu's treatment, so he didn't want to disobey Fang Qiu, not at all.

Just then...

A middle-aged woman and a young man in his early twenties rushed in from outside. When they saw that the patient could move, they immediately bowed to Fang Qiu and thanked him. Then they quickly took the patient out to the hospital for examination.

When the onlookers and media reporters at the scene saw that the clinic's door was about to shut, they all escorted the patient, heading for Wahton Hospital.

Fang Qiu also followed everyone out.

On the way, he went back to Zhang Yicheng's.

Zhang Yicheng sent a text message to invite Fang Qiu for dinner, so Fang Qiu didn't stay in the clinic.

Soon after, Fang Qiu arrived at Zhang Yicheng's home.

Dinner was ready, and the table was set.

After washing his hands, Fang Qiu sat in the dining room with Zhang Yicheng and his family, chatting and eating.

At the same time...

When Dr. Sinde and Dr. Antun got the news that Fang Qiu's patient went to the hospital for examination, they stopped to ask their patients to go to the hospital for a check-up.

They were planning to take the opportunity to drag Fang Qiu into the water together.

Half an hour later.

All the check-up results were released.

“Breaking news: after a detailed examination by Wahton Hospital, Sinde, the representative of Hinndu traditional medical skills, is finally confirmed that his treatment of the patient was ineffective. The patient's ALS has not improved and is still getting worse.”

“Breaking news: after a detailed examination by Wahton Hospital, Antun, the representative of South Murica tribes medical skills, is finally confirmed that his treatment of the patient was ineffective. The patient's condition has not improved at all and is still getting worse.”

“Breaking news: after a detailed examination by Wahton Hospital, Fang Qiu, the representative of Huaxia Chinese Medicine, is finally confirmed that his patient’s condition has improved. The patient’s ALS has been cured, but he is still very weak. The hospital tried to retain the patient to recuperate in the hospital, but the patient and his family members did not agree. Instead, they go home with the prescription prescribed by Fang Qiu.”

These three pieces of news came out at the same time.

In the short three minutes...

It quickly occupied the headlines of all media in Murica.

On Twitter, a storm-like topic was directly formed, which shocked everyone.

It spread throughout the entire Murica.

With the spread of these three pieces of news, it caused a sensation!

“Is he cured?”

“Oh! It’s incredible. Fang Qiu really cured ALS .”

“Fang Qiu is a god-like man!”

“He even can cure ALS! How can a doctor of Huaxia Chinese Medicine be so strong?”

“Awesome. Fang Qiu is awesome! Huaxia Chinese Medicine is amazing.”

“This is absolutely the best news that has appeared all over the world in recent years. ALS can be cured!”

For a time, Murican netizens cheered.

Medical Master

Chapter 1454: An Admirable Highly-Skilled Doctor

While Murican netizens were cheering for Fang Qiu...

They also turned their attention to tomorrow's competition.

“In just one day, Fang Qiu has successively defeated Dr. Arya from Egyptt, Dr. Sam from Babyloon, Dr. Sinde from Hinndu, and Dr. Antun from the tribe of Southern Amolica. He won fair and square. The gap between them is more than a little.”

“How great Fang Qiu is! The only one who can compare with him is Antonio, the representative of Mayia traditional medical skills.”

“Who will win in the end, Fang Qiu or Antonio?”

“Those four doctors are so ridiculous. When they were not famous, they wanted to challenge Fang Qiu. Yesterday, when they were interviewed, they didn't take Fang Qiu seriously at all. What about now? I believe they can't wait to find a hole to hide in, right?”

“Haha, I finally understand why Fang Qiu has been unwilling to compete with them. It's because their medical skills are too low to attract Fang Qiu.”

“The four doctors deserve it. They attempted to take advantage of the popularity of Fang Qiu, but in the end, they embarrassed themselves!”

“We’ll wait and see what will happen tomorrow.”

“Among the five incurable diseases in the world, Fang Qiu has cured four. There is only one left, AIDS. Will a patient with AIDS show up tomorrow?”

“Even four of the world’s top five incurable diseases can be cured by Fang Qiu. Now, I’m afraid AIDS is the only one that can stop Fang Qiu.”

“Yeah. If no patient with AIDS showed up tomorrow, Fang Qiu would stand in an invincible position. Anyway, all diseases can be cured, and tomorrow is the last day Fang Qiu see patients in Huaxia Clinic. If there is no winner tomorrow, it will be difficult for us to have such a chance in the future to witness who is stronger between Fang Qiu and Antonio.”

“Here, I’d like to call on the patients with AIDS to go for Fang Qiu and Antonio for treatment tomorrow!”

Amid lively discussions...

It raised a topic on the internet about encouraging patients with AIDS to go to Fang Qiu and Antonio for treatment.

MBC seemed to have seen everyone’s expectations for the competition between Fang Qiu and Antonio tomorrow.

MBC took action again.

This time...

Not only the TV news but also the announcement on the internet instantly attracted the attention of all the people across Murica.

“Because of the challenge to all kinds of difficult miscellaneous diseases issued by Fang Qiu and Antonio, MBC has decided to hold a significant activity for Murica and the whole world. We found twin girls with AIDS, who were infected with HIV by their mother before they were born. To meet the expectations of netizens around the world, we hope that tomorrow, Fang Qiu, who represents Huaxia Chinese Medicine, and Antonio, who represents Mayia traditional medical skills, can treat the twins separately, one for each!”

This piece of news was released.

Immediately, it caused an uproar across Murica.

Millions of people thumbed up for MBC, commenting that MBC deserved to be the largest TV network media of Murica.

However, when the other media companies saw this, they reposted it one after another. They had no intention of falling behind. After all, other media outlets could not beat MBC in all respects, and MBC had already seized the opportunity in advance. Even if other media companies started to look for such patients right away, they could not find the same patients with AIDS within one day.

With the reposts of the major media...

More and more people knew about this activity. People who had never paid attention to traditional medicine before also began to follow Huaxia Chinese Medicine and Mayian traditional medical skills due to MBC's actions.

Because of this, many people especially learned about traditional medical skills.

Somewhere else...

In the manor...

“MBC is so good at playing games. How could they do such a thing?”

Seeing the news, Zhang Yicheng couldn't help getting angry. He said to Fang Qiu, "Don't worry. Although there is great freedom in Murica, you have the right to say no. If you don't want to treat an AIDS patient, or you don't have full confidence in treatment, you can absolutely say no to them. No one dares to blame you."

Hearing that, Fang Qiu thought for a while.

"It is okay."

Fang Qiu shook his head with a smile and said, "Even though AIDS has no record in the history of Chinese Medicine, there was a highly-skilled doctor in the records of Chinese Medicine. He once researched AIDS."

"His name is Zhang Zhen. People in the Chinese Medicine industry call him Mr. Zhang to show their respects to him."

Speaking of this...

Fang Qiu smiled faintly and continued, "Mr. Zhang is the founder of the Academy of Huaxia Traditional Medicine. He is also a senior researcher. He has excellent academic attainments, and he is the pioneer of the research on the Syndrome of Traditional Chinese Medicine. He has been working hard on it for decades and has proposed the innovation theory of syndrome hierarchical structure. He has rich clinical experiences and is unique in the treatment of common diseases. He is good at treating difficult miscellaneous diseases. He devotes himself to the study of the law of traditional Chinese medical treatment of difficult diseases. And he established the TCM Smoothing and Regulating School of Yunling.

"According to his research records, Back then, Mr. Zhang was already in his 80s or 90s. However, facing the situation of AIDS rampage and many patients in urgent need of treatment, he was determined to accept the organization's arrangement and take the lead in research on Chinese Medicine for the treatment of AIDS.

"In Mr. Zhang's opinion, the characteristics of Chinese Medicine are the overall concept and treatment based on syndrome differentiation. To treat AIDS, it must be clear about the syndrome, pathogenesis, and occurrence regularity.

“In order to study and treat AIDS, Mr. Zhang personally led the staff of the project to go to all the cities and states in Nanjiang of Huaxia, conducted on-site research, and treated patients.”

Then...

Fang Qiu said in a tone full of admiration, “Mr. Zhang, regardless of his age and risks, directly communicated with the patients with AIDS face to face, felt their opened meridians personally, mastered the first-hand cases, and carefully collect the information about the Four Methods to Diagnose a Disease of Chinese Medicine. He led the staff to summarize and analyze AIDS’ unique cause and pathogenesis, the law of changes, as well as prognosis and outcome. He proposed that the treatment of Chinese Medicine should be mainly used to strengthen body resistance and eliminate pathogenic factors. Besides, combined with his years of experience in diagnosis and treatment, he personally developed two traditional Chinese medicine prescriptions and provided them for free use.

“Since then, Mr. Zhang had never relaxed his exploration and research on AIDS. He thinks that the treatment of AIDS in Chinese Medicine is an exploratory work. Without mature treatment techniques, methods, and drugs, developing in-depth research is more important.

“Hence, over a dozen years, Mr. Zhang has been sticking to the job of AIDS prevention with Chinese Medicine. He has guided the descendants in detail to develop scientific research and clinical treatment of AIDS with Chinese Medicine, and he has made excellent achievements.”

Hearing that...

Zhang Yicheng nodded with understanding.

Zhang Yicheng seldom stayed domestic and had little research on Chinese Medicine, so he never heard of such a story about Chinese Medicine.

“Coincidentally, I saw Mr. Zhang’s research at my tutor’s place.”

Fang Qiu said with a smile, “People with AIDS are also my patients. As a doctor of Chinese Medicine, no matter what patients I face, I will do my best to treat them with all my efforts.”

“Hmm.”

Zhang Yicheng nodded and sighed, “Mr. Zhang is a great doctor. At such an old age, he is still willing to work on the front line for the patients and even disregards his safety. His spirit is admirable.”

“Sure.”

Fang Qiu nodded in agreement and said, “This is Chinese Medicine, the virtue of doctors of Chinese Medicine, the benevolence of doctors!”

“Come on.”

Zhang Yicheng patted Fang Qiu on the shoulder and said, “I am sure you can do it. With so many senior doctors of Chinese Medicine exploring the way ahead, I believe the future of Chinese Medicine is promising.”

...

Early the next morning...

Before dawn, Fang Qiu was jogging all the way to the Huaxia Clinic. He made everything ready.

It was time to receive patients.

Fang Qiu just opened the door of the clinic.

Outside, it was crowded with onlookers and dozens of media reporters.

The leader was still the beautiful female reporter from MBC who interviewed Fang Qiu two days ago.

There was no explanation.

The media reporters went straight into the clinic and began to take photos, report, and witness the event on the spot.

Meanwhile...

A young girl in her early twenties walked into the clinic. She looked very confident. She didn't feel inferior at all, and she didn't care about other people's opinions either.

"Good morning."

Fang Qiu sat at the diagnosis table, seeing the patient with a smile.

"Good morning."

The girl sat at the diagnosis table, looked straight at Fang Qiu, and said, "I'm one of the twins with AIDS."

"You are very strong."

Fang Qiu nodded with a smile.

"Thank you."

The girl smiled happily and said, "I'm strong because I've met a lot of people who don't dislike or fear me like you over the past 20 years. I'm very grateful to them. Of course, I hope that you can help me cure my disease."

"I will do my best."

Fang Qiu nodded.

The media reporters began to shoot and record.

Just then...

“Your sister has arrived over there.”

The beautiful female reporter from MBC walked up to the patient, put her hand on the girl’s shoulder, and said, “Both of you will receive treatments at the same time. Try to be as relaxed as possible. You are a confident girl. You must believe that you will recover!”

“Thank you.”

The girl thanked the female reporter.

And over there...

Everyone at the scene knew that Dr. Antonio from Mayia had also received an identical AIDS patient at the same time.

Everyone was looking forward to seeing who could cure AIDS in the end.

Of course...

When the twin girls with AIDS came to Fang Qiu and Antonio at the same time, all the media reporters posted information about the two girls on the internet in unison.

Soon, it attracted the attention of millions of netizens.

“Do they really have AIDS?”

“I didn’t expect MBC to find and bring the AIDS patients here.”

“This disease can be controlled by drugs now, but once one is infected, he can’t live without the drugs for the rest of his life. Can Fang Qiu and Antonio cure it?”

“I look forward to it!”

“Come on, get started quickly.”

The netizens were full of expectations.

In the Huaxia Clinic.

Fang Qiu took a deep breath and then started to diagnose the girl with a smile.

Similarly...

After receiving the patient, Antonio made a speech confidently on the spot, telling everyone that his medical skills were the best, and AIDS could definitely be cured.

After that, under the gaze of all the onlookers and all the media reporters, he began to work.

Medical Master

Chapter 1455: Chinese Medicine Is Ineffective

The treatment began.

“AIDS is a highly harmful infectious disease caused by infection with HIV. HIV is a virus that can attack the human immune system. It takes lymphocytes, the most important part of the human immune system, as the main attack target, damages the cells in large quantities, and causes the human body to lose its immune function, resulting in the human body being easily infected with various diseases and occurring malignant tumors. The death rate of this disease is relatively high.”

Fang Qiu started to check while saying, “As for AIDS, the treatment of Chinese Medicine is to strengthen body resistance and eliminate pathogenic factors, attack and supplement each other so as to achieve the purpose of rebuilding the immunity.”

Speaking of this...

Fang Qiu paused for a moment.

Then he continued, “Many people are curious about what prescription Chinese Medicine can be used to treat AIDS. I can tell you that there is a very powerful and experienced Chinese Medicine senior in the Huaxia Chinese Medicine industry. After decades of research, he has come to the conclusion that strengthening body resistance and nourishing the body are two common methods for treating AIDS in Chinese Medicine.

“Chinese Medicine divides patients with AIDS into three types: low body resistance with ambushed pathogenic factors, low body resistance with strong pathogenic factors, and low body resistance with potential pathogenic factors. Different types need different methods to treat. Some need strengthening body resistance to detoxify and eliminate pathogenic factors. Some need internal energy to detoxify and strengthen the foundation. And some use the foundation to strengthen vitality so as to achieve the purpose of rebuilding immunity.”

With that...

Fang Qiu also finished the Four Methods to Diagnose a Disease.

But...

After the diagnosis, Fang Qiu frowned again.

Even though the senior summed it up very well, no specific medicine in Chinese Medicine that could cure AIDS. Fang Qiu wondered, "What prescription should be used for the treatment according to the treatment trend the senior summed up?"

Then, an idea popped up into his mind.

In the meantime, Fang Qiu's mind kept popping up with the ancient prescriptions he had obtained before. Then, like how he solved the problem of dark materials, Fang Qiu secretly began to think about it carefully. He found out all the relative prescriptions and coordinated with each other to form a new prescription.

Soon after...

Fang Qiu came up with a prescription that might work.

He immediately wrote down the prescription and handed it to Wang Sheng to get the medicinal herbs.

Then, under everyone's gaze, Fang Qiu decocted the medicine himself.

Half an hour later.

Fang Qiu used his internal Qi to drive out all the medicinal properties and stimulate the effects to the maximum. After boiling, he poured out the medicinal potion into a bowl, cooled it down, and handed it to the patient.

"Take the medicine, please."

Fang Qiu said.

Without hesitation, the girl held the bowl with one hand, pinched her nose with the other, and quickly finished the whole bowl of medicinal potion.

“Good.”

Seeing that the girl had finished the medicinal potion, Fang Qiu nodded and said, “It is not showing the effect for the time being. I need three hours to confirm the efficacy.”

“Okay.”

The girl nodded and sat down aside to wait quietly.

And meanwhile...

Fang Qiu sat at the diagnosis table and waited.

Perhaps it was because everyone knew that Fang Qiu was competing with Antonio in the treatment of AIDS today, so no other patients with difficult miscellaneous diseases came, which gave Fang Qiu some time to think.

He pondered for a long time.

Fang Qiu still thought that his prescription should have an effect, but he was not sure about what extent the effect would reach and whether it could cure the disease or not.

The key was that Fang Qiu couldn't find a specific medicine that could cure this disease even after thinking about it for a long time.

Three hours passed.

Under the witness of everyone...

Fang Qiu walked up to the patient and began to give her a careful examination.

As a result, he found that it was not that effective.

“How is it?”

The girl stared at Fang Qiu expectantly and asked, “Dr. Fang, have I recovered?”

“No,” Fang Qiu replied.

Fang Qiu shook his head. “The effect of the medicine you just took is not obvious.”

Upon hearing his words...

The girl was stunned.

The onlookers and all the media reporters were stunned, too. They looked at Fang Qiu in confusion.

What did that mean?

Did he say the effect was not obvious?

Did it mean that the treatment had failed?

Had the invincible legend of Fang Qiu been shattered?

“What happened?”

“Does this mean that it can’t be cured?”

“It doesn’t have an effect!”

“I wonder how Antonio is doing. Can he cure it?”

Everyone whispered, and no one dared to speak loudly. The atmosphere in the whole Huaxia Clinic was particularly dignified.

“Don’t worry.”

Seeing that the girl was in a daze, the hope in her eyes was gradually extinguished, and her face became gloomy, Fang Qiu suddenly laughed. He said, “I’m a doctor. I’ll do everything I can to treat you. If it doesn’t work this time, let’s find another way. There’s always a way to cure you. You must firmly believe that there’s hope!”

“But...”

The girl looked at Fang Qiu and nibbled her lower lip.

“Don’t say it.”

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, “I haven’t given up yet. Why are you giving up?”

“Calm down. I’m going to make the second prescription now.”

As he spoke...

Fang Qiu returned to the diagnosis table and sat down. He quickly wrote down another prescription, which he had thought out during the time he had been waiting just now.

After writing down the prescription, Fang Qiu went to get the medicinal herbs and decoct them himself.

Just a while later...

He brought another bowl of medicinal potion and let the girl take it.

“Let’s wait for another three hours and see.”

Fang Qiu said.

Then...

Everyone was waiting quietly again.

Fang Qiu continued to ponder.

Three hours passed quickly under everyone’s attention.

Fang Qiu came to the girl to check again.

“Is it going better this time?”

The girl asked carefully.

“No,” Fang Qiu replied.

Fang Qiu shook his head again and said, “The effect is still not very good.”

Hearing that...

Everyone present couldn't help feeling disappointed.

"Is there really no way to solve it?"

"Even Fang Qiu can't cure it. Is this disease really incurable?"

"Well, from now on, AIDS will become the world's first incurable disease!"

People began to talk about it secretly.

And meanwhile...

Just like the onlookers, the media reporters, who had been worried, all frowned. They started to contact Antonio.

After asking about the situation over there, they learned that not only Fang Qiu but also Antonio, the descendant of Mayian traditional medical skills, couldn't do anything about AIDS!

All the Huaxianese on the scene breathed a sigh of relief at this news.

However, they still felt depressed, and it was getting more and more uncomfortable in their hearts.

They all had mercy on the girl.

They didn't wish to see such lovely young twin girls would be tortured by this disease for the rest of their lives.

Everyone hoped that Fang Qiu and Antonio could cure their diseases.

The atmosphere was so oppressive that people didn't even dare to breathe heavily.

Fang Qiu frowned tightly. He returned to the diagnosis table, closed his eyes, and pondered again.

After a long time...

Fang Qiu opened his eyes and smiled bitterly.

An idea came to his mind, "Chinese Medicine also needs to improve.

"Our ancestors have already developed Chinese Medicine to this extent. What our modern Chinese Medicine needs to do is not only inherit our ancestors' medical skills but also continue to promote the development of Chinese Medicine so as to constantly make improvements!"

Then...

When Fang Qiu recalled the ancestors who had promoted the development of Chinese Medicine from generation to generation, he couldn't help sighing in his heart, "Chinese Medicine is a treasure that has been passed down in Huaxia for 5,000 years, but we, as the doctors of Chinese Medicine, only take the inheritance from our ancestors. Many people can't learn all the things left by their ancestors in their entire lives. But how many of our ancestors indeed mastered all the medical skills? They didn't, but they still spared no effort to promote the development of Chinese Medicine. Otherwise, there would be no current Chinese Medicine at all."

After a while...

Fang Qiu heaved a sigh inwardly.

Back to reality...

It was true that there was no good way to treat AIDS with medicine.

Like everyone else, Fang Qiu also hoped to cure the patient and give her a brand new and complete life.

Under such circumstances...

The only thing he could do was to treat it by force.

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu opened his eyes, looked at the patient, and said, “The effect of herbs is not very good, but there are many treatment methods in Chinese Medicine. This time I’ll treat you with acupuncture. You’ll definitely get better. Don’t worry.”

As Fang Qiu spoke...

Fang Qiu directly took out a set of silver needles.

He quickly walked up to the patient, comforted her with a few words, and began to treat her with acupuncture.

This time...

Fang Qiu was not sure what specific acupuncture points were.

Fang Qiu directly inserted the needles into two acupuncture points that might be helpful for AIDS treatment. Then he controlled his internal Qi to have it run through the patient’s body. After a while, he felt that HIV was not afraid of internal Qi at all and that internal Qi could not kill HIV either.

Fang Qiu was very surprised.

But...

When he think it over, he thought it made sense.

There was no cure for the virus. How could it be so easy to kill?

In this case...

Fang Qiu had to use his golden internal Qi.

Without a second thought...

Fang Qiu directly transferred a trace of golden internal Qi into the patient's body.

Fang Qiu was very confident that his golden internal Qi could definitely kill all HIV since it could even swallow up all the mysterious dark materials.

As expected...

As soon as the golden internal Qi entered the patient's body, HIV started to escape wildly.

However...

The speed of those HIV was too slow. The golden internal Qi could easily catch up with them. Then, like an eraser, it wiped away all HIV.

Under the control of Fang Qiu, the golden internal Qi ran through the girl's entire body, killing all the HIV.

After all this...

Fang Qiu pulled out the needles.

He looked at the girl with a smile and said, “Rest assured. You can go to the hospital for an examination now.”

Then...

He stood up and walked to the door.

“Fang Qiu.”

The beautiful reporter from MBC immediately called out and caught up with him. She asked, “The examination results of the patient haven’t come out yet. Where are you going?”

“I’m going to help.”

Fang Qiu looked back at the reporter and then continued to walk outside, saying, “I’ll go to Antonio’s to save the other girl.”

Everyone at the scene heard what Fang Qiu said.

With a flash of inspiration in their eyes, the reporters immediately followed Fang Qiu closely and went out.

Of course, there were a few reporters who followed the girl to Wahton Hospital.

Soon...

Fang Qiu arrived at the entrance of the Murica Medical Association.

In a specially set up medical tent, Antonio was busy treating the patient.

Medical Master

Chapter 1456: Does Fang Qiu Make It?

In the beginning...

In the square outside the Medical Association, there were a total of five such medical tents. The representatives of traditional medical skills, including Hinndu, the South Murica tribes, Babyloon, Egyptt, and Mayia, all received patients here.

But in just one day, only one was left out of the five medical tents.

Right now...

There were too many onlookers on the spot, and the weather was good, so the cloth on all sides of the medical tent was pulled up. Countless people were around the outside, fixing their eyes on Antonio, who was treating the patient inside.

Just like Fang Qiu, Antonio had been treating the girl with AIDs for over six hours, but it did not work very well. Antonio had used all the available methods. However, the patient's condition didn't improve at all.

So many people were watching, and so many reporters were shooting.

Antonio felt great pressure. After working a day, he was covered in sweat all over.

Just then...

Fang Qiu came.

Hearing the footsteps outside of the crowd, all the onlookers and reporters on the scene made way for Fang Qiu and the reporters behind him to walk into the tent.

“Why is Fang Qiu here?”

“Has he cured the other girl?”

“It’s said that Fang Qiu could not do anything either, right?”

“I heard that the patient Fang Qiu treated has headed for the hospital to do a check-up. The final result has not come out yet. So we are not sure whether that girl has recovered or not.”

Everyone began to talk in whispers.

In the heated discussion...

The reporters, who followed Fang Qiu here, explained the situation to everyone present.

At the sight of Fang Qiu, Antonio’s face immediately darkened.

“Relax, please. The reason why I’m here is to see the patient.”

Fang Qiu said, “As we all know, our patients are twin sisters. I have finished the treatment for my patient. I won’t do anything here until the check-up result came out. If you can treat this girl, I will stand aside quietly. If you can’t, I will help treat her.”

Then...

Fang Qiu stood aside and looked at Antonio. The patient in the medical tent looked exactly the same as the one Fang Qiu treated, except for her hairstyle. Fang Qiu motioned for Antonio to continue the treatment.

“Humph...” Antonio snorted coldly in his heart.

Antonio took a deep look at Fang Qiu and frowned. Then he said, “This is one of the five incurable diseases in the world. It can be regarded as the world’s top one without a doubt. I have to admit that I can’t cure it.”

Hearing that...

All the people present were shocked.

Then, they all shook their heads and sighed.

If Antonio admitted that he couldn’t cure the disease early in the morning, it would definitely shock everyone on the scene.

However, it had been a whole day. The hope in everyone’s hearts had been destroyed again and again.

Therefore, when Antonio made this announcement, everyone seemed to have known about the result. They were not too shocked or sighed for long.

After all...

Everyone had mentally prepared during watching the whole day’s treatment.

Antonio finished speaking with a bitter smile.

All the people at the scene naturally shifted their eyes to Fang Qiu.

If Antonio couldn't even cure the disease, Fang Qiu would be the only doctor who could cure it.

But...

Could Fang Qiu really make it happen?

Just then...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

All of a sudden, the phone of the beautiful reporter from MBC rang.

“Hello?”

The reporter took out her phone and saw that it was her colleague, who followed Fang Qiu's patient for the check-up. She immediately pressed the answer button and put the speaker on.

“Good news!”

An extremely excited voice was heard over the phone. “The check-up results have come out. This girl is cured of AIDS. The hospital has given her a comprehensive examination. As it turns out, all the HIV in her body has disappeared as if it never existed. Moreover, her immune system has begun to rebuild. As per the doctor, as long as she recuperates for a period of time, she will completely become a healthy person.”

The voice spread out through the phone speaker.

The eyes of all the people at the scene gradually changed from doubt to shock.

“What shocking news!”

“Oh, dear! Is this true?”

“Does Fang Qiu make it? Did Fang Qiu really cure AIDS?”

“It’s incredible. Fang Qiu is great. He’s a fucking great!”

For a moment...

Various exclamations spread wildly from the crowd of onlookers in all directions.

The reporters on the scene were even more excited.

Following that...

Several other media also received the same news one after another.

Fang Qiu also heard the exciting news.

Without hesitation, Fang Qiu took out the silver needles he brought from the Huaxia Clinic. Then he walked straight to the girl sitting in the tent under the incredible gaze of Antonio.

“Are you the elder sister or the younger one?”

Fang Qiu squatted down and asked with a smile.

“I’m the younger one.”

The girl answered with a smile.

“Your sister has recovered. I’ll do the same for you right now. I will do acupuncture with silver needles. Don’t get nervous. It won’t hurt.”

Fang Qiu said.

“Got it.”

The girl nodded firmly. She seemed not afraid at all.

Then...

Everyone fixed their eyes on Fang Qiu.

Antonio gritted his teeth and watched in disbelief.

Fang Qiu inserted the needles without hesitation.

While twisting the needles, Fang Qiu secretly controlled a trace of internal Qi and had it run through the girl’s entire body. Then he transferred the golden internal Qi to the girl’s body to eliminate all the HIV in her body.

After a while, it came to the second treatment.

Fang Qiu did it much faster.

It took less than ten minutes to clear up all the HIV in the girl’s body.

Fang Qiu pulled out the silver needles. He stood up and said to the girl, "You can go to the hospital for an examination now."

Hearing that...

The girl got up and thanked Fang Qiu. Then, accompanied by some media reporters, she rushed to Wahton Hospital for a check-up.

All the media reporters immediately swarmed forward.

They conducted various interviews with Fang Qiu.

"Did you use the most common acupuncture therapy of Chinese Medicine, Fang Qiu?"

"How did you cure AIDS?"

"Can AIDS be cured by Chinese Medicine?"

"Are you confident that you can cure this AIDS patient?"

"Are you sure you can cure a patient that even Antonio can't cure?"

The reporters threw many tricky questions at Fang Qiu.

In the face of the reporters' enthusiastic interviews and inquiries, Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows and said, "The patient has been to the hospital for a check-up. Let's talk about it when the results come out, okay?"

However...

The reporters continued to ask questions, but Fang Qiu didn't answer any of them.

The reporters had no choice.

They then switched to interviewing Antonio.

However, Antonio felt too embarrassed to receive interviews.

If Fang Qiu didn't succeed in his treatment this time, it would be okay for Antonio. But if Fang Qiu succeeded, Antonio would be completely disgraced.

In the face of the reporter's interview, Antonio had no choice but to keep a straight face and say nothing. He was waiting for the final result, like Fang Qiu.

Soon after...

"Beep, beep, beep..."

Many media reporters' phones rang.

Some of them were video calls.

The reporters answered their phones.

"The girl is cured of AIDS."

“Fang Qiu cured AIDS again.”

“The twin girls have been cured of their AIDS. They will get recovered soon. They can be back to normal life in the future!”

The same news was heard from the other end of the phone, and the reporters over the phone were all in the same excitement.

The next moment...

Hearing these words...

All the people present smiled knowingly.

They were excited, too.

The other girl was cured, too.

The twin girls were both cured of AIDS.

Fang Qiu gave the twin girls a brand new life, which was just like many others!

In Huaxia.

Even at six o'clock in the early morning, millions of people were paying attention to the news, waiting for the final treatment result.

The news spread from Murica to Huaxia.

Many Huaxianese immediately reposted the news that Fang Qiu had cured AIDS to domestic Weibo.

The netizens in Huaxia saw the news.

They were all excited!

“As expected, Legendary Fang Qiu made it. Superb!”

“Awesome. Fang Qiu is invincible.”

“I knew Fang Qiu could make it.”

“This time, let’s see what those foreign doctors would say. Let’s see if they still have the nerve to deny Chinese Medicine.”

“It’s so great! Since Fang Qiu has cured AIDS, the whole world will pay attention to Chinese Medicine. Huaxia is going to rise, and so is Chinese Medicine!”

“Dr. Fang, you deserve your reputation!”

...

In Murica.

Outside the Medical Association...

After receiving the examination report of the second patient with AIDS, all the reporters on the scene went crazy instantly.

Actually...

They should have been excited when the first patient with AIDS was cured.

However, after receiving the good news, Fang Qiu went straight to treat the second patient with AIDS. So everyone's attention was attracted to the younger twin girl.

Now...

The second one was also cured.

So everyone's accumulated excitement burst out in an instant!

The onlookers on the periphery began to cheer like crazy.

"Fang Qiu, Fang Qiu, Fang Qiu..."

At this moment, Huaxianese, people with tanned skin, people with light skin, men and women, old and young, all raised their right hands high and called out the name of Fang Qiu.

And the reporters quickly shot this exciting scene.

In the Carnival-like atmosphere, reporters also gathered around and interviewed Fang Qiu again.

Antonio, as the original protagonist of this game, seemed to have been forgotten. He was squeezed out by the dense media reporters.

And over at Fang Qiu's side...

"Everyone, please make way. I'm looking for someone."

Fang Qiu motioned to the crowd. Then he reached out to point to a female reporter among the crowd.

Yes, it was the beautiful reporter from MBC.

She had been tracking Fang Qiu all the time.

Noticing that Fang Qiu gestured to her, the beautiful reporter, who had been squeezed afar, immediately smiled. The other reporters frowned and made way for her to walk up to Fang Qiu.

“As far as I know, MBC has always been doing live streaming, right?”

Fang Qiu asked.

“That’s right.”

The beautiful reporter nodded and answered with certainty.

“Great. I’d like to say something.”

Fang Qiu nodded and said, “I hope the whole world can see me on the live stream.”

“Sure, you are qualified.”

The beautiful reporter immediately agreed. Then she said, “However, I need a few minutes to contact our headquarters and arrange a headline for you. You also need a few minutes to get ready.”

Medical Master

Chapter 1457: I Am Correcting It

“Okay, I’ll wait for you.”

Fang Qiu nodded.

Hearing that...

The other media reporters stopped talking. They quickly called their headquarters to turn on the live-stream port. In this way, they could do the live streaming on the spot.

Clearly, MBC attached great importance to the few minutes of the live stream and even arranged for Fang Qiu a headline to the whole world.

Live streaming was different from the internet.

The headline of the MBC TV network would spread to every corner of the world!

To these media, the international attention did not have much effect, but the attention of Murica was different. Even though these media were not a match for MBC, they would not miss such an opportunity to get a share of the benefits.

On the other side...

The beautiful reporter from MBC had contacted the headquarters.

Three photographers from MBC came to the innermost area and took videos of Fang Qiu from three different angles, ready to do the live streaming.

And other media also informed their headquarters and got permission to do the live streaming.

It was out of everyone's expectations.

Just because of a word of Fang Qiu...

In the blink of an eye, most of the media platforms in Murica switched all TV channels, online live streams, and so on, into live pictures in an instant.

And over here...

The various major media reporters were all making preparation, and all onlookers were cheering for the performance of Fang Qiu. While Fang Qiu stood where he was with a calm face. He didn't say or do anything but just waited quietly.

Five minutes later...

Almost all the media were ready.

The beautiful reporter from MBC got back to Fang Qiu.

“Dr. Fang, our headquarters is ready. Later, I'll count down and start the global live stream. Are you ready?”

The beautiful reporter asked.

“Yes, I am ready.”

Fang Qiu nodded and replied.

“Great.”

The beautiful reporter took a step back, took the microphone from a photographer, and then faced the three lenses.

“Three, two, one. Start.”

She called out.

The beautiful reporter stood straight in front of the cameras, faced the lenses, and said in a very professional manner and voice, “Hello, audience and friends. This is the MBC report. What you see now is a live stream on the spot.

“Fang Qiu has just cured two AIDS patients. The two patients have already received a very authoritative examination certificate. This is a very shocking result around the world.

“And now, our protagonist, Dr. Fang Qiu from Huaxia, has something to say. Let’s listen to him.”

With that...

The beautiful reporter turned around and handed the microphone to Fang Qiu. Then she stood to the side and was out of the camera.

At this very moment...

Fang Qiu became the center of attention around the world. As soon as he took the microphone from the beautiful reporter, all the reporters on the scene, all the people watching MBC on-site news, and all the people watching TV in Murica, shifted their eyes to Fang Qiu in an instant.

“Phew...”

In the face of the dense cameras, Fang Qiu heaved a sigh of relief. He said, “Hi, everyone who watching the live stream. Today, I’d like to say something about traditional medical skills and Huaxia Chinese Medicine.”

Fang Qiu began his speech.

“What makes a human be a human?”

Fang Qiu looked at the camera and said, “Why can human beings become the greatest animals in the world? Why can human beings rule the world? Because human beings are blessed by nature and have evolved for tens of billions of years. On the way of evolution inheritance, human beings have never been eliminated during the process of constant improvement. Why?”

“It’s because we humans are the treasure of this world, and the human body is the most valuable treasure!”

Fang Qiu paused for a moment.

Then he continued, “According to Huaxia Chinese Medicine, all the medicines in the world are in our bodies. Each person has over 300 acupuncture points, which are equivalent to over 300 medicines, and each acupuncture point has its corresponding efficacy. This is the foundation of Chinese Medicine. Of course, acupuncture points are not the only part of the human body, and Chinese Medicine does not only rely on acupuncture points to treat patients either. The reason why I tell you this is that I hope you can pay more attention to traditional medicine. Being able to survive in the long history is enough to prove that traditional medicine is significant and valuable!”

After that...

Fang Qiu paused for a moment. Then he added, “Of course, I also hope that everyone can keep a clear mind at any time. I can cure these difficult miscellaneous diseases, but it doesn’t mean that other doctors can do it. Chinese Medicine has its levels in Huaxia. Not every doctor of Chinese Medicine is high-skilled. A real doctor of Chinese Medicine will work all out to find a cure for any disease, I believe.

“In Huaxia, Chinese Medicine is a tradition. Many people learn Chinese Medicine, and more people know the magic of Chinese Medicine. However, it is because of the strength of Chinese Medicine that there are many impostors and quacks. So I hope you can see the reality. Go for the real doctors of Chinese Medicine when needed.”

Fang Qiu kindly reminded everyone.

Fang Qiu didn't intend to say these words.

However...

If he didn't say it, Chinese Medicine would be infinitely exaggerated to people all over the world, and they would think that Chinese Medicine is omnipotent. In that case, the publicity and the promotion of Chinese Medicine will be upgraded to the international level, but it would bring endless doubts and slander to Chinese Medicine. After all, there were many quacks in the Chinese Medicine industry. With Chinese Medicine becoming popular, people from Huaxia, as well as all other countries of the world, would probably deceive in the name of doctors of Chinese Medicine.

Therefore, Fang Qiu had to say so.

"In addition..."

Fang Qiu continued to face the camera and said, "Just now, I did cure two AIDS patients, but I have to tell every one of you frankly that I did not cure AIDS with Chinese Medicine.

"I used a special method. It's not the existing treatment method of Chinese Medicine."

Upon hearing his words...

Everyone present was stunned.

Then, everyone shook their heads and immediately threw what Fang Qiu said aside.

So what if he didn't use the treatment method of Chinese Medicine?

Anyway, he used medical skills, and the final result was that he cured the disease!

As for what method he used, who would mind?

“I could say that AIDS was cured by Chinese Medicine, but I didn’t, for I’d like to let you know that all traditional medical skills have been passed down and refined by our ancestors from generation to generation. What we have to do is not only learn from our ancestors but also bravely open up the path of development on the premise of inheriting.

“We can’t rest on past achievements. Every generation of our ancestors has been making progress in learning. We can’t stay in learning from them like this. With the expectations of our ancestors, we need to keep moving forward. We need to continue improving the level of Chinese Medicine to make it better and better. Our ancestors are watching us up there!

“The more Chinese Medicine declines, the more we have to rise!”

His speech was full of enthusiasm and passion.

After that...

Fang Qiu realized that everyone on the scene quieted down. No one made a sound. The place, which had been noisy and full of joy before, had completely quieted down. Everyone was focused on his speech.

“Lastly...”

Seeing that everyone was listening so attentively, Fang Qiu nodded gratefully and then continued, “Medical skills know no borders. Regardless of whether it is modern medicine or traditional medicine, to every doctor, the most important thing is how to save people more efficiently.

“Compared with modern medicine, traditional medicine is more perfect in terms of understanding life. After all, it has been through thousands of years. I hope that both modern medicine and traditional medicine can put aside prejudices. I hope that one day, Chinese Medicine and Western Medicine can be completely combined, and so can modern medicine and traditional medicine. Only in this way can medical skills be developed better and better, and we can do more for the patients.

“I respect traditional medicine, especially Chinese Medicine. Why? Because traditional medicine has the most fundamental understanding of life, and Chinese Medicine is the only one that has been passed down and has kept developing in the traditional medical field.

“However, Chinese Medicine doesn’t obtain the status and attention it deserved. It has gone a little far. I am correcting it.”

After that...

Fang Qiu bowed to the live stream camera lens of all the media present.

“Thank you all for listening to me. I’m not a talent or a big shot. I’m just an ordinary doctor of Chinese Medicine. Thank you, everyone!”

Then...

Fang Qiu stepped forward and handed the microphone back to the beautiful reporter from MBC.

In Huaxia...

Almost all the doctors of Chinese Medicine were paying attention to this live stream. They all saw and heard Fang Qiu. They remembered every word he said.

Then...

They couldn’t help but start thinking.

On behalf of Chinese Medicine, Fang Qiu defeated the representatives of other traditional medical skills. He had cured all the difficult miscellaneous diseases, including the world's five major incurable diseases. This should be very exciting and inspiring news for all doctors of Chinese Medicine.

However, what Fang Qiu said made them think deeply.

In Jiangjing...

“This kid's realm of thought grows loftier.”

After hearing what Fang Qiu said, Xu Miaolin, who was watching the MBC global news at home, couldn't help but sigh, “That's a good point. Doctors shouldn't be differentiated by Chinese Medicine or Western Medicine. There is only one mission for all doctors. That is to save people. The doctors who can save people are all good doctors.”

Over at the other side...

The live stream of Fang Qiu was over.

The picture switched.

All TV channels switched the picture to the hosts.

“Awesome!”

“That's great. Fang Qiu was so well-spoken!”

“It's amazing. I didn't expect Fang Qiu to be so broad-minded.”

“Fang Qiu has all the virtues that a doctor should have. He is the real doctor in the world.”

For a moment...

All the media in Murica gave Fang Qiu high praise and comments.

Really, they had never seen anyone with such good medical ethics.

Fang Qiu was a person who only cared about saving people.

Back here in Huaxia...

A Huaxia government official was going to visit Murica. He saw the news before leaving for Murica.

“This kid gave us an amazing gift this time. Great!”

The official chuckled and added, “It seems that we didn’t save him for nothing.

“Let’s go.

“Help him out of the control of Murican.

“He is a person who has made great contributions to Huaxia.”

Medical Master

Chapter 1458: Murica Is in Trouble!

Soon...

Under the attention of billions of people from Huaxia and Murica, the government official of Huaxia arrived in Murica. A friendly visit officially began.

Of course, the official did not come directly to Wahton.

Instead, he first arrived in Jork.

It was just a friendly visit and did not involve major matters of principle between the two nations. So the official of Huaxia specially chose three cities to visit.

The first one was Jork.

Fang Qiu took a flight to Jork after the three-day competition on difficult miscellaneous diseases. Led by the local government officials, Fang Qiu went to the airport to welcome the Huaxianese official and his delegation.

Upon seeing Fang Qiu...

The official of Huaxia was very satisfied. He immediately let Fang Qiu join his delegation with a smile. After that, he began to say hello to the local officials.

In the next three days...

Fang Qiu quietly followed the official of Huaxia, visiting three cities in Murican, Jork, Huston, and Wahton.

Meanwhile...

General Will, who was staying at home, also saw the news on TV that the Huaxia official visited Murica with Fang Qiu by his side. He couldn't help feeling furious, especially when he saw Fang Qiu.

“Damn it!”

Staring at the TV, General Will cursed angrily.

Because...

This scene was too unbearable for him!

“Fang Qiu,” General Will murmured in hatred.

He thought, “This person, who ranks first among all the doctors of traditional medicine and almost can cure all diseases, should have belonged to Murica!”

Actually...

General Will had always been very clear that the Traditional Medicine of several other countries was not comparable to Huaxia Chinese Medicine at all, and their descendants were no match for Fang Qiu in all respects.

However, Fang Qiu was too famous. As a general, Will could not ingratiate himself with Fang Qiu, let alone threaten Fang Qiu with force, because most of the people in Murica were paying attention to Fang Qiu. If Will did that, things would get ugly.

Under such circumstances...

Will had no choice but to keep looking for opportunities to suppress Fang Qiu. So, Will selected and cultivated one person who could compete with Fang Qiu. When Fang Qiu felt the great pressure of competition, he must want to have a strong backer. By then, Fang Qiu would be willing to work for Will and logically become a Murican.

But it was a pity.

Will didn't know that Fang Qiu had seen everything Will had done.

And most importantly, Will had no clue that the person he deliberately cultivated to compete with Fang Qiu was actually cultivated by Fang Qiu himself.

Of course...

All of this has not come to an end yet.

Fortunately, after the military base incident, Will finally found Fang Qiu and safely sent him to the official of Huaxia, who came to visit Murica.

This helped Will absolve most part of his guilts.

However, the Presidential Palace had heard about the destruction of the military base in Amazing Basin, the destruction of the biological technology experiment, as well as the leak of information.

As a result, Will was disciplined for it.

Luckily...

Will basically completed the task of extorting money from several other countries by using the treatment method that Fang Qiu and others had mastered. Thus, his credit could get even with his faults, and he was not completely suspended.

After all, Will was a general.

Fang Qiu, a doctor from Huaxia, a college student, had turned Will into such a miserable state. Will was very angry and depressed about it.

Even so...

Will had no choice. What could he do?

Will could do nothing more than sit in front of the TV and expect Fang Qiu to leave Murica while waiting to be reinstated.

Three days passed quickly.

After the visits, Fang Qiu took the private plane with the official of Huaxia and left Murica.

On the plane.

When the plane take off, Fang Qiu couldn't help but smile.

The timing was just right.

According to his calculations, today was the deadline.

Tomorrow, the prescription of treating the mysterious dark materials, which he handed over to Murican, would lose its effect. By then, the conditions of those infected patients, who were being treated, would lose control, and the disease would inevitably break out again.

Fang Qiu couldn't help sneering inwardly.

He clearly remembered how those Murican forced him to come over and what they were up to.

Back then...

Fang Qiu didn't expect that he would have experienced so much since he arrived in Murica.

This time...

His trip to Murica was worth it!

Fang Qiu not only promoted Chinese Medicine and let the world know how powerful Chinese Medicine was, but he also broke the vicious plan of Murican. Besides, he destroyed Murica's secret military base and biological research lab. And, he obtained data on biotechnology research and experiments of Murica.

Most importantly...

The Murican hadn't gotten a cure for the mysterious dark material.

For Murican...

There was no doubt that Fang Qiu had caused them great losses on this trip. But for Fang Qiu, this trip was quite productive, enabling him totally gain the upper hand.

Thinking of this...

Fang Qiu couldn't help but start to expect.

He wondered, "What expression will the Murican have when they find out that the prescription becomes invalid?"

After a night of flight...

On the morning of the fourth day...

The official's private plane finally landed safely at the capital airport.

The official got off the plane first.

And Fang Qiu followed.

"Dr. Fang."

Looking at Fang Qiu, the official shook hands with Fang Qiu. Then he patted Fang Qiu on the shoulder and said, "Keep it up."

With that, the official smiled.

Then he turned around and left.

After sending off the official...

Fang Qiu immediately booked an air ticket to Beijiing with his phone. After getting the boarding pass, he had to wait for another half an hour to get on the plane.

Before getting on the plane, Fang Qiu texted to Li Ji, telling him the flight information.

After a few hours, the plane landed at Beijiing Airport.

Li Ji was already waiting inside the airport.

Upon seeing Fang Qiu...

Li Ji immediately took Fang Qiu into the car, heading for the military base.

“Our cooperation is pretty good, isn’t it?”

While driving, Li Ji said with a smile, “You know what? I haven’t used that phone for years. When I received your text message, I was shocked.”

“It was urgent back then.”

Fang Qiu gave a bitter smile and said, “They blocked all the signals of phone and satellite. Only their satellite phones have signals, and I used it to text to you.”

“Didn’t you be found out?” Li Ji asked in surprise.

Then he said, “Usually, it is supposed to have a rigorous system monitoring all the sources of signals in the signal shield area. Whether a signal is sent out or not will be recorded by the surveillance.”

“I destroyed it.”

Fang Qiu smiled faintly. He said, “I destroyed all the monitoring instruments a few minutes after the text message was sent. I’m sure there’s no data left.”

“Well done.”

Li Ji laughed loudly. "It seems that your purpose of the trip to Murica was not to treat the patient, but directly to the military base, right?"

"That's right."

Fang Qiu nodded affirmatively and said, "Anyway, the whole thing is quite complicated."

"Oh, I almost forget."

Fang Qiu paused.

Then he took out a USB flash drive from his pocket and handed it to Li Ji, saying, "Here is the data I got from the secret military base of Murica."

"Huh?"

Li Ji was stunned. He looked at Fang Qiu with his face full of confusion.

"You should have heard about what happened in the first few days after I arrived in Murica, I suppose."

Fang Qiu explained, "Later, we were taken away to treat the patients infected by a new type of virus, which was the mysterious dark material. It turned out that they were doing research on the dark material in their secret military base, but accidentally, the infection broke out.

"We were brought to that secret military base.

"To our surprise, it is located in the primeval jungle of Amazing Basin."

When Li Ji heard this...

His expression didn't change at all. The Murican army was cunning, and they set up secret military bases all over the world. Li Ji had long known about that, so he wasn't surprised to hear that Murica's secret military base was located in Amazing Basin.

Fang Qiu continued, "In the military base, I found an opportunity to investigate. As a result, I found that the Murican army was conducting a biotechnology experiment. Moreover, they caught the residents from the local primitive tribe for experiments, trying to create metahuman."

Hearing that...

Li Ji widened his eyes and asked in surprise, "It's incredible!"

"This USB is stored with the data of the Murican army's biotechnology experiment."

Fang Qiu pointed to the USB with certainty.

"This is great!"

In shock, Li Ji suddenly cried out happily. He said, "You know what? We've long heard that the Murican army is doing anti-human genetic experiments. However, they've been hiding it so well that we can't find any clues, even though we've been trying to investigate it. Unexpectedly, you actually bring back the clues that we haven't found for so long on your overseas trip."

"This information is so valuable!"

With this...

Li Ji hurriedly and carefully put the USB into his pocket. Then he said with great excitement, "Well, you should go abroad more often. If you can bring us such clues every time, I won't have to spend so much effort doing investigations. I'll leave everything to you, haha..."

Fang Qiu knew that Li Ji was just kidding.

But he didn't think it was funny.

Soon, they arrived at the military base.

"Take a rest first. I have to report this information to the higher-up as soon as possible."

Li Ji held the USB flash drive and was going to report to his higher-up.

"Hold on."

Fang Qiu stopped Li Ji and said, "There's one more thing. I'd like to tell you. You can also see if you need to report it."

"What is it?"

Li Ji asked.

"I'm afraid that Murica will be in big trouble today."

Fang Qiu said, "They took away two prescriptions for the mysterious dark material from me, but the effect of the two prescriptions I gave them could only work for ten days.

"It's already the eleventh day today, so the two prescriptions will be invalid today."

Li Ji was stunned. He asked, "The representative of the Mayian medical skills also can cure it, isn't he?"

"I helped him in secret."

Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "From beginning to end, I'm the only one who can solve the mysterious dark material."

"Are you setting Murica up?"

Li Ji was stunned.

"Yes."

Fang Qiu nodded in agreement.

"Well, this..."

Li Ji kept rubbing his palms excitedly and pacing back and forth around Fang Qiu.

For a moment, Li Ji had no idea what to do.

Medical Master

Chapter 1459: The Medicine Loses Its Efficacy

"Um, um..."

After pacing back and forth for a long time, Li Ji said excitedly and cautiously, "Let me confirm it with you first. You said that the prescriptions you gave them were fake. So, have you worked out a real prescription for specific medicine to get rid of the dark material?"

"Yes, I have."

Fang Qiu nodded with certainty.

“That is to say, you don’t have to go there to treat it in person anymore. The patients just need to take traditional Chinese medicine to eliminate the mysterious dark material, right?”

Li Ji asked again.

“Yeah.”

Fang Qiu nodded again.

Hearing the positive answer from Fang Qiu, Li Ji became even more excited.

“Look...”

Li Ji tried to calm down.

He said, “I’ll report this matter and hand over the USB to the higher-ups. Let’s wait for their decision. Also, let’s see how the Murican government will react.”

“Okay.”

Fang Qiu nodded.

...

In Murica...

In a certain military base...

In the command room...

An aide, several scientific research experts, medical experts, and soldiers were standing below the command platform. They all looked particularly gloomy.

“What’s going on?”

General Will, who had just returned to the military base, questioned everyone standing below the command platform angrily, “What the hell is going on? Everything was just fine before. Why did the medicine suddenly stop working?”

Hearing that...

The group of people lowered their heads, and their faces turned pale.

“Who can tell me what the hell is going on?”

General Will couldn’t hold back his anger.

“General.”

A medical expert explained, “We have been following the prescription given by Fang Qiu to give medicine to the infected patients. As per Fang Qiu, the viruses in the patients’ bodies should have been eliminated in ten days. However, this morning, we found that the viruses in the infected patients’ bodies suddenly broke out again. No matter how much medicine they took, it didn’t work at all.”

“Use the Mayian prescription, then!”

General Will shouted.

“We’ve used it, but it doesn’t work either.”

The aide hurried forward to comfort General Will, saying, “We’ve had Antonio here and asked him to treat the patients, but it’s different from before. He treats the patients by all means this time, but the patients don’t get better at all. Now he is fainted because of exhaustion.”

“Bring Fang Qiu here!”

General Will roared.

“General.”

The aide smiled bitterly and said, “Fang Qiu has returned to Huaxia.”

Hearing that...

General Will shivered.

Only then did he realize that Fang Qiu had indeed left Murica.

But...

In this world, only Fang Qiu and Antonio could cure this type of mysterious virus. Currently, Antonio’s prescription has been invalid, and so has Fang Qiu’s. Fang Qiu was the only one who could cure this type of virus.

Without Fang Qiu, they could not stop the spread and infection of the mysterious virus, no matter what. When the time came, Murica would be in a big disaster.

The more General Will thought about it, the more anxious he became.

General Will murmured in his mind, "What to do?"

"What else can we do now?"

With an anxious emotion, General Will began to think it over.

Just then, the aide voiced out.

"General."

The aide stood up and said, "I have come up with an idea."

"What's that?"

General Will hurriedly asked.

"It's very simple."

The aide narrowed his eyes and said, "We should hold Fang Qiu accountable."

"What do you mean?"

General Will raised his eyebrows and asked.

"Well, we invited Fang Qiu to come to Murica to treat this new virus, didn't we? Fang Qiu has won a bonus of 50 million dollars, and we have given him an opportunity to promote Chinese Medicine. But the virus has not been eliminated up to now. Shouldn't we hold him accountable?"

Speaking of this, the aide paused. Then he added, "We can announce to the public that Fang Qiu's treatment is ineffective. Take back the 50-million-dollar bonus he uses to develop Chinese Medicine in Murica. Then, we can take this opportunity to launch a fierce attack on Huaxia and Huaxia Chinese Medicine. Huaxia has always attached great importance to reputation. If we do this, they will definitely stand out to deny it and prove the power of Huaxia Chinese Medicine. By then, we can ask Fang Qiu to come to Murica again and help us treat the infected patients. After all, he is the source of this matter, let alone no one else can cure this new virus.”

Everyone in the command room heard the aide.

The eyes of the others lit up.

It sounded like a good idea. However, would it really work by doing this?

General Will raised his eyebrows and thought for a moment.

“No, we can’t do that.”

Shaking his head, General Will quickly rejected the proposal. He said with a gloomy face, “Fang Qiu is now different. Not only is he popular among Huaxianese people, but he also has a large number of supporters in Murica. Once we take action against him, it will definitely cause a lot of public opinion. Moreover, Fang Qiu has been to the Amazing base, and he has known some of our secrets. Based on his current influence globally, if he publicized what he knows about us, it will inevitably cause big trouble to us!

“The most important thing is that we can’t say that the treatment of Fang Qiu is ineffective.

“I’ve seen Lester. He is an infected patient treated by Fang Qiu. The virus in Lester’s body hasn’t relapsed. Through the examination, it has been confirmed that he’s completely cured. We just used the prescription that Fang Qiu gave us. Once we take the prescription as an excuse, Fang Qiu will definitely get annoyed and claim that it’s our problem because we don’t know how to use the medication. By then, he’ll cure an infected patient in person to disgrace Murica.”

Notably...

As a general, Will was thoughtful to see through everything.

It was indeed as he said.

Now, everything was partial to Huaxia and Fang Qiu.

It was obvious that Huaxia had taken the initiative. If they provoked Huaxia at this time, it would be no different from provoking a lion that could kill anyone at any time.

“Then what else can we do?”

The aide looked embarrassed upon hearing this.

The others at the scene also frowned more tightly.

It didn't work this way, and neither did the other way. What else could they do?

“It seems that I have to send someone to Huaxia secretly to contact Fang Qiu in private.”

General Will shook his head and sighed.

In Huaxia...

In a Chinese Medicine Hospital in a city.

After reporting all the information he knew about, Fang Qiu took the opportunity to find a city to see patients.

Fang Qiu had just returned with honor.

Even without publicity, the hospital was filled with countless patients.

A young man in a formal suit, who looked quite elegant, rushed over here as soon as he heard that Fang Qiu was seeing patients in this city. He wanted to see what Fang Qiu looked like and have a conversation with Fang Qiu.

However, when he arrived at the hospital, he found that the hospital was full of people.

It was so crowded that he couldn't even move a step.

He couldn't even squeeze into the door of the consulting room where Fang Qiu was.

The young man had no choice.

He had to wait outside.

He waited for an entire day and night.

The next day...

The hospital was still full of people. Countless people were lining up to register for seeing Fang Qiu. The hospital registration with Fang Qiu was already fully occupied, but the patients were unwilling to leave. Anyway, they came here to see a doctor, so they continued to register with other doctors from various departments in the hospital.

The hospital was crowded and lively.

After waiting for a day and a night, the young man came up with an idea. So he trotted to the back door of the hospital.

As he knew...

With the crowd in the hospital, Fang Qiu would not leave through the front door. The only way out was through the back door of the hospital.

As expected...

At 8:10 a.m., Fang Qiu came to the back door of the hospital and was about to leave.

“Fang Qiu!”

The moment he saw Fang Qiu, the young man immediately stood out and got in the way of Fang Qiu.

“Who are you?”

Fang Qiu just came down from the outpatient building of the hospital. He looked at the young man in front of him with a puzzled face.

Of course...

Fang Qiu wouldn't treat the young man as an ordinary person.

Firstly, at first sight of this person, Fang Qiu could tell that this person was not a patient. In addition, this person's physique was quite good, and he seemed to be a martial arts practitioner. Therefore, Fang Qiu was even more sure that this person was not ordinary.

Moreover, an ordinary person could not find the back door of the hospital.

“It doesn’t matter who I am.”

Looking at Fang Qiu, the young man smiled faintly. He said, “I have a question for you, and I hope you can answer me.”

“Sure, please.”

Fang Qiu nodded and looked at the young man calmly.

“Do you have a specific medicine for the new virus in Murica?”

The young man said with a smile, “You know what I mean. What I want is a specific medicine that is more effective than the prescription you gave them, but not the one that can only work for ten days.”

“How do you know that I gave the Murican government a prescription?”

Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes and stared at the young man curiously. He looked the young man up and down carefully and then said, “It seems that you are the one who accept the sponsorship from Murica, aren’t you?”

“Since it’s so easy to make money, why bother to waste so much effort? Don’t you think so?”

The young man grinned and said, “I won’t lie to you. As long as you tell me the prescription for the specific medicine, I’ll give you 50 million dollars, which is 300 million Huaxia coins in total. This amount of money is more than enough for you to enjoy the rest of your life, and even your next life if there will be one. I don’t think you’ll refuse, will you?”

“Do you think I lack money?”

Fang Qiu said with a sneer.

“I know you don’t lack money.”

The young man shook his head with a chuckle, then reached out to touch his waist and took out a sharp dagger. He said, “Look, you have to take the 50 million dollars, whether you want it or not. I’ll give you every cent you deserve, and you will have to give me the complete prescription I want, without any word missing. Otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude to you.”

“Excuse me, but I won’t take any cent from you.”

Fang Qiu snorted and was about to leave.

“Go to hell!”

The young man’s face turned cold. He was about to strangle Fang Qiu with his dagger to force Fang Qiu to give in.

Unfortunately...

His martial arts level was too low.

He was not a match for Fang Qiu at all.

The young man had just made his move.

Fang Qiu grabbed the young man’s wrist with one hand, then kicked his thigh, and held him to the ground.

Without hesitation...

Fang Qiu quickly took out his phone and called Li Ji.

Medical Master

Chapter 1460: Chinese Medicine Officially Launches Abroad

“Hello?”

The voice of Li Ji was heard from the other end of the phone.

“I met a person here. He asked me to give him a prescription for the new virus in Murica for 50 million dollars.”

Fang Qiu said with a smile, “It seems that Murica is in trouble now.”

“Wait a minute. I’ll send someone over right away.”

When Li Ji heard what Fang Qiu said, he immediately got the point. After responding, he hung up the phone and contacted the local army to capture the young man.

After a short while...

The police first came. They kept the young man in place. Fang Qiu left alone before asking the police to wait for the local army.

In Murica...

In the command room of a military base.

General Will sat in the command chair, narrowed his eyes, and waited anxiously.

“Sir.”

All of a sudden, the operator, who had been sitting in front of a computer in the command room, stood up and shouted.

“What’s up?”

General Will asked.

“General, I just received news that Huaxia privately announced that they have developed a specific medicine to treat the new virus, and they named the new virus as ‘mysterious dark material’.”

The operator reported.

“What?”

General Will immediately sat up from the commander’s chair, rushed to the computer, and looked at the message sent by their information department on the screen.

“According to the message sent by the information department, the specific medicine for treating this mysterious dark material was improved based on the prescription that Fang Qiu gave us. Huaxia also said that Fang Qiu’s stay in Murica was too short to study and improve the previous prescription. That was why it was ineffective.”

The operator continued to say.

Clap!

Seeing the message from the information department, General Will couldn't help but slam the table, and his face instantly turned blue.

He was in a terrible mood.

General Will finally figured it out.

He was fooled by Fang Qiu!

Fang Qiu didn't give him the real prescription at all.

The news that Huaxia had revealed privately was all excuses. Fang Qiu must have worked out a perfect prescription earlier. Otherwise, he couldn't have cured Lester.

The research and improvement mentioned by Huaxia were all excuses.

It was Fang Qiu who had lied to him, and Huaxia had cooperated with Fang Qiu to deceive the entire Murica.

Will was a general.

The moment he figured this out, the anger in his heart erupted like a volcano.

Just then...

"Sir."

Outside the command room, a voice suddenly sounded, "General Will, a high-level official from the Presidential Palace asked you to go to the Presidential Palace right now. He has something important to ask you."

“I got it.”

General Will gritted his teeth and said word by word with great resentment.

In Europa...

As the news from Huaxia was released...

The three major countries, Anglan, L’hexagone, and Rashk immediately contacted Murica to inquire about the news sent by Huaxia privately. As a result, Murica did not deny nor make a reply.

Under normal circumstances...

If Murica encountered such a thing, they would definitely stand up to refute it right away to protect their reputation.

However, this time, Murica did not refute it. Instead, they tried their very best to hold back their anger.

From this point...

There was no doubt.

As everyone knew, the news released by Huaxia was true. They realized that they had been tricked by Murica before!

For a moment...

All the major countries were furious, but they couldn’t do anything to Murica. They had to find a way to get the prescription for the mysterious dark material from Huaxia.

In Huaxia...

“Beep, beep, beep...”

On the high-speed train back to Beijiāng, Fang Qiu received a call from Li Ji.

Fang Qiu picked up the phone.

“Good news.”

On the other end of the phone, Li Ji said excitedly, “As expected, some problem occurred in Murica. They are having a headache about how to treat the mysterious dark material. Other countries had known that Murica has no way to treat the mysterious dark material at all. Now Huaxia is the spotlight in the whole world. They are all anxiously waiting for us to save them.”

“Things are going exactly as I thought.”

Fang Qiu’s lips curved in a smile.

Li Ji laughed smugly and said, “This time, we must have them pay the price. You can take this opportunity to make requests.”

“Requests?”

Fang Qiu grinned.

He had been waiting for this opportunity for a long time.

Now, he finally got this opportunity.

“Well, I’ve got two requests.”

Fang Qiu said, “Firstly, I want them to recognize Chinese Medicine. Secondly, I want them to allow doctors of Chinese Medicine and traditional Chinese medicine to launch the markets of their countries.”

“Okay.”

Li Ji immediately nodded and said, “This time, they can only rely on doctors of Chinese Medicine and traditional Chinese medicine. Even if we don’t ask them to recognize this, people all over the world will recognize doctors of Chinese Medicine and traditional Chinese medicine because of you. Anyway, it is indeed very beneficial to the development of Chinese Medicine to let them recognize it openly. After this incident, the countries of the world will no longer reject or suppress doctors of Chinese Medicine and traditional Chinese medicine, I believe.”

“I hope so.”

Fang Qiu nodded with a smile and asked, “How much money did our country make this time?”

“Huge amount!”

Li Ji said with a smug smile.

In the next few days...

All the countries said that they hoped to visit Huaxia. They established diplomatic relations with Huaxia and signed a large number of cooperation contracts. Of course, this was only on the surface. The public definitely didn't know what deals they made in secret.

With the end of their visits to Huaxia...

At present, three of the world's five major powers, Anglan, L'hexagone, and Rashk, had announced that they would officially recognize Chinese Medicine as legal, and meanwhile, they announced a plan for future development and support for Chinese Medicine. The first step of the plan was to introduce 100 doctors of Chinese Medicine each into their countries to open clinics, and the governments would fully support the clinics of Chinese Medicine, for which they even announced a tax exemption clause.

The announcements of the three major countries surprised people all over the world.

When they associated the trading between the three countries and Huaxia and the large number of contracts signed in a short time, people suddenly realized that this was a request made by Huaxia upon signing the contracts.

However...

Just as people around the world were making speculations...

Murica, which had held on for a few more days than the other three countries, couldn't hold on any longer. According to the requirements of Huaxia, Murica openly announced, that they recognized Chinese Medicine as legal, they would strongly support the development of Chinese Medicine, and they would also ensure the safety of every doctor of Chinese Medicine in Murica.

The news came out.

The whole world was in an uproar.

The five top major powers had all recognized Chinese Medicine as legal. This meant that Chinese Medicine would be promoted globally.

Of course...

The news that Fang Qiu had cured many patients with various diseases in Murica had already spread, so people from all over the world had great expectations for Chinese Medicine. Those who had seen a doctor of Chinese Medicine and received Chinese Medicine treatments in person were particularly willing to believe in Chinese Medicine. And those who had not received Chinese Medicine treatments were full of curiosity and doubts about Chinese Medicine. They did not reject the launch of Chinese Medicine at all.

After all, everyone liked good things.

In Huaxia... There was great joy in the country.

Especially in the Chinese Medicine industry...

After the four major powers recognized Chinese Medicine one after another, the Chinese Medicine practitioners were in an uproar, and they held a celebration.

Everyone was extremely excited.

These people were very clear about the current situation of Chinese Medicine.

They also knew how difficult it was to promote Chinese Medicine internationally. It was somewhat difficult to get the recognition of people in Huaxia, let alone to get the recognition of people in other countries.

However...

It had become true.

Chinese Medicine did it!

Not only was it recognized by most of the people in Huaxia, but it even also launched overseas countries. Chinese Medicine had been supported by countless people in Murica, and now it was also recognized by other major powers.

This meant that Chinese Medicine had officially launched abroad.

It was just like a dream.

This was the dream of everyone who devoted their lives to contributing to Chinese Medicine. Now this dream became true. Chinese Medicine went abroad finally.

How many years had it been?

The inheritance of Huaxia Chinese Medicine had never been stopped over five thousand years, during which, Huaxia Chinese Medicine had been praised by countless people in other countries and was secretly learned by some of them.

Chinese Medicine must have been abroad before, but it had not taken a complete step with an invincible posture.

Now, not only did Chinese Medicine take this step, but it also took it very steadily.

And all of this...

It was all because of one person.

It was Fang Qiu.

Without Fang Qiu, the people of Huaxia could not accept Chinese Medicine so quickly in just over two years, and Chinese Medicine in domestic could not grow so rapidly. Without Fang Qiu, Chinese Medicine would not have been shown at the World Medical Conference, and it would not have gone abroad today.

There was no doubt.

On this day, countless people were so excited with tears in their eyes.

And Fang Qiu had become the one worthy of respect and gratitude in the eyes of countless people!

Meanwhile...

Fang Qiu went back to the Beijiang cultivation base.

Fang Qiu, who was sitting in the office, also heard the news of Chinese Medicine and got to know the celebration held in the Chinese Medicine industry. He even heard that someone proposed to set up today as Chinese Medicine Day to commemorate the Chinese Medicine official launching abroad.

The good news came one after another.

Fang Qiu looked out of the window and smiled.

He opened a small window for Chinese Medicine to the world, but the future development of Chinese Medicine needed everyone's great efforts.

He couldn't do it alone.

The output of Chinese Medicine lies in culture, in letting people know the magic of Chinese Medicine, in saving people, and in morality.

Fang Qiu believed.

No matter what the situation of Chinese Medicine was now, the future of Chinese Medicine must be brighter, and it must be loved by people all over the world.

He turned his head back.

This was the secret document that Li Ji had given him.

The projects listed on it included the concession made by Murica in terms of trade, the two huge stones and natural gas mines found in the high seas by Huaxia, the International Undersea Mining Management Bureau issued the mining license to Huaxia, the oil interests of Huaxia in Zhongdong, including the issue of human rights, and so on.

This was an all-around concession.

It even mentioned the trade of various countries in Europa, and so on.

After reading the above information, Fang Qiu smiled even more happily.

This time...

Murica and Europa really suffered big losses.

Just as Fang Qiu thought it was about time, he turned to the next page. To his surprise, he saw a cooperation project with Egypt on it.
