Chapter 1781 Intercepted the Ship!

Somewhere in Autranssy...

In a luxurious hotel...

“John Doe is still on the Southwest Island.”

Tony, the leader of the Murica group, came to a suite. Seeing Little Saint Lord, he reported in the first place, “We received inside information from the Autranssian officials. The surveillance cameras caught John Doe on Southwest Island yesterday. He has dived into the water and is at sea with a cargo ship to Huaxia.”

“Running away?”

Little Saint Lord raised eyebrows.

“I don’t know yet.”

Tony smiled and said, “I can guarantee my information is accurate. The Autranssian officials have contacted the cargo ship to stop it. Besides, they have sent people to intercept it. It is unknown whether they can do it!”

“I can guarantee he won’t escape.”

Little Saint Lord smiled faintly and looked at Tony. “So, what are you going to do?”

“As soon as we received the news, my men hijacked a helicopter nearby.”

Tony said, "Now, we are ready to set off at any time."

"Go ahead."

Little Saint Lord ordered with a wave of his hand.

...

About 20 sea miles away from Autranssy...

After the notice from the Autranssy government, a huge cargo ship immediately stopped and floated on the boundless sea.

It was not in the open sea or the territorial waters of Autranssy. It only belonged to Autranssy's exclusive economic trade zone. All the cargo ships took this route.

The Autranssy authorities could ask it to stop because the cargo ship hadn't yet entered the open sea.

The distance was 20 sea miles, which was 37 kilometers.

When the Autranssy authorities issued the order...

The water police from the surrounding islands rushed over at a very fast speed.

Usually, the speed of a speedboat was between 40 and 60 knots. The speed of a node was equivalent to one sea mile per hour. The water police's speedboats could move faster. Therefore, they only spent less than 20 minutes covering 20 sea miles.

When the water police of Autranssy arrived...

The captain of the cargo ship looked confused.

He had no idea what had happened, but because his ship was under the jurisdiction of Autranssy, he could only let the water police check it.

They rummaged the ship and even sent people to dive into the water to check.

As it turned out...

After checking around, they found nothing suspicious on the ship and ensured that John Doe was not on it.

Everyone couldn't wait to examine the bottom of the boat. The divers sent down for inspection floated up with lots of compressed air bottles.

When everyone saw so many compressed air bottles, their expressions instantly became nervous.

"Sir, we found nothing else at the bottom of the ship except for these compressed air bottles."

These divers introduced the situation.

After their report...

The water police officers coming from afar were immediately stunned.

"Nothing else is there?"

"These compressed air bottles were at the ship's bottom, but he was not there?"

These water policemen were all dumbfounded.

“Where did that person go?

“Without the air bottles, where could he go?

“Could it be that he had swum away first?”

The water police officers immediately gave the order and spread out to search.

They suspected that John Doe had fled to other places when he noticed the cargo ship had stopped.

However, after searching for a long time, they found no clue.

Without any other choice...

The water officers could only request the cargo ship to return after a brief discussion.

At this time...

The helicopter plundered by the Murica side also carried Little Saint Lord and his subordinates here.

“What’s happening?!”

Sitting in the passenger seat, Tony looked at the chaotic scene below him and asked.

“It seems the Autransian officials haven’t yet found John Doe.”

In the driver’s seat, a Murican said, “They should be forcing this cargo ship to return!”

As the others heard that...

Tony looked at Little Saint Lord sitting in the back row.

He was surprised to see him carefully sensing the surroundings with his eyes closed.

After a while...

“Let’s go. John Doe is not here.”

Little Saint Lord opened his eyes. Shaking his head, he said, “Go to the nearby island!”

The pilot heard his order...

Immediately, he flew the helicopter and headed for the nearby island.

Right now...

Near Southwest Island...

The Autranssy authorities carefully investigated the big ship to Inndonesia and verified everyone’s identity. After that, the large ship sailed out of the port.

On the deck of the ship...

A woman looked at Southwest Island in the distance. Putting her palms together devoutly before her chest, she secretly prayed.

“John Doe, you must return to Huaxia safely!”

...

The official port of North Island...

A large cargo ship sailed out of the port.

This cargo ship was from Papya New Geinea, which was also its destination.

For the Autransssian customs...

This large cargo ship was a merchant ship traveling back and forth between Autransssy and Papya New Geinea, so they had never landed suspicious eyes on this ship.

After a careful inspection, they let the ship go.

However...

In the sea...

A figure was attached to the bottom of the ship.

It was none other than Fang Qiu!

He had no compressed air bottle because Fang Qiu didn't need it.

The compressed air bottle was just a diversion to confuse the Autransssian officials. But for an eminent expert like Fang Qiu, holding his breath was a piece of cake.

The world record for holding breath was 22 minutes.

Even a normal person could hold his breath for 22 minutes. As a top-level expert, Fang Qiu could hold his breath for one or two hours even without using internal Qi. Besides, Fang Qiu could still use Turtle Breathing Technique, right?

When he felt suffocated, he might as well stick his head out and take a few breaths.

On Southwest Island, about 50 sea miles away from North Island...

At Little Saint Lord's request...

With the helicopter they had snatched, these Muricans quickly flew to the sky above Southwest Island and hovered in the air.

Over there...

Mason, the Autransian expert at the SS level who was sent over in the first place, also arrived at Southwest Island.

Seeing the helicopter wheeling above Southwest Island, he was not surprised. But before long, he received the news from the Autransian officials.

A helicopter was taken away.

Muricans did this!

Upon receiving this message, Mason subconsciously looked up at the helicopter still hovering in the sky. To his surprise, he saw Tony, the Murican group's leader, in the passenger seat of the helicopter!

When he saw Tony...

Mason hated him so much!

When guarding the Yuan Yang Fruit in the desert, Tony brought over the people of various countries and pressed on them at every stage. Under pressure, John Doe got the Yuan Yang Fruit at last.

They didn't pursue this matter further.

Now, how dare they rob a helicopter so brazenly?

They didn't take Autranssy seriously.

These people were overly arrogant.

It was intolerable!

Without any hesitation...

Mason dialed a number.

"Hello?"

A familiar voice came from the other end of the phone.

"There is a helicopter over Southwest Island. It has been hijacked. These Muricans and Nirvana members are in it. I want you to cut off all communication devices of this helicopter right now. Then fire a missile at it and blow them all away!"

Mason flew into a rage.

“Got it.”

A reply came from the phone before he hung up the phone.

Above Southwest Island...

“How is it going?”

Little Saint Lord stopped sensing with his eyes closed and woke up. After a few times circles, Tony turned around, looked at him, and asked.

“No.”

Little Saint Lord shook his head and stretched out his hand, saying, “Go to the island ahead!”

Upon closer inspection...

Little Saint Lord pointed at North Island about 50 sea miles away from Southwest Island!

“Go over there.”

Tony quickly informed the pilot.

The helicopter turned around and flew quickly toward North Island.

Halfway through the flight...

“Swoosh...”

A harsh sound broke through the air and came from a distance.

“Oh, no!”

Tony’s face sank. He pushed open the cockpit door and leaped down from the sky.

The others did not dare to hesitate and jumped into the sea one after another.

They had already seen it.

A missile was shooting fiercely toward them.

Just as a group jumped down, the missile zoomed over and accurately hit the helicopter. It blasted the helicopter into pieces all over the sky in a flash.

Flames rose into the sky.

Under the impact of the explosion...

Since many people were on the islands nearby, this group of people didn’t dare to use their abilities at all. They could only fall freely into the sea.

They were in a mess.

They couldn’t believe these Autransian officials dared to launch missiles in such a densely populated area.

Soon...

After the explosion...

The helicopter was bombarded into pieces and fell into the water.

After a long time...

Little Saint Lord held his head above the water.

He was now 20 sea miles away from Southwest Island and 30 sea miles from North Island. People on the island couldn't see him at all.

His face darkened as soon as Little Saint Lord popped his head out of the water.

He didn't expect it.

He was looking for John Doe, but the Autransian officials attacked him at this time!

Besides...

After the investigation just now...

He vaguely felt John Doe had run away.

Otherwise, John Doe might have already been exposed. After all, these Autransian officials had made painstaking efforts to find him.

"John Doe, I will never let you run away like this!"

With an angry curse, Little Saint Lord suddenly raised his hand and bit off a piece of flesh from the back of his hand. Speedily, blood flowed out of the bite mark.

As blood gushed out, a stream of grayish-white energy rose from Little Saint Lord's palm. Like smoke, it slowly rose up and blended with the blood. A drop of very strange energy was hence formed. Like a bullet, it shot right into the place between Little Saint Lord's eyebrows!

At this time...

These Muricans also poked their heads out of the water.

They saw a strange red and white pattern flickering between Little Saint Lord's eyebrows. It was spinning rapidly.

A while later...

"Clack."

With a crisp sound, the pattern stopped rotating.

"Puff."

When Little Saint Lord opened his eyes, a scene of another place suddenly flashed across his eyes. Then he could not help but open his mouth and spat out a mouthful of blood.

"What are you doing?"

Tony asked curiously.

"This is a forbidden skill of Huaxia: Eight Trigrams Divination!"

Little Saint Lord narrowed his eyes and added, "I've already seen the scene around John Doe, but it's better not to use this kind of forbidden skill."

As he spoke, he wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth. He chased in one direction at high speed, and an expression of pain flitted across his face.

Behind him...

Tony gave Little Saint Lord a thumbs-up sign with a look of surprise.

Chapter 1782 John Doe, Stop Right There!

"Splash, splash, splash..."

An undercurrent was surging rapidly in the boundless sea.

In the distance...

An arrow-shaped ripple caused by an undercurrent was clearly visible.

Under the water, a figure rushed fast forward like a torpedo shot out of a submarine.

With a closer look...

A total of five people were behind this figure.

Two were Nirvana members in black robes, and the other three were Muricans led by Tony.

The one at the forefront was undoubtedly Little Saint Lord.

At this time...

Little Saint Lord was squinting his eyes.

A layer of grayish-white energy wrapped around him, completely isolating him from the ice-cold seawater.

Just now...

John Doe was very likely to have escaped from Autranssy. When he noticed this, he hurriedly adopted Eight Trigrams Divination, a forbidden skill. It caused a lot of damage to his spiritual force. As a result, he was still dizzy.

Nevertheless...

At this price, he saw where John Doe was and the place he was hiding.

It was in this direction!

Without any hesitation, Little Saint Lord found the right direction and chased after him at full speed.

While moving fast toward John Doe, he recuperated and healed the severe injuries caused by using the forbidden skill.

However, it wasn't easy to recover from a mental injury like this. Little Saint Lord would have to experience a long period of confusion and muddle. This would weaken his combat effectiveness.

The most terrific thing was...

Part of such an injury was permanent.

Therefore, in the beginning, Little Saint Lord did not dare to use this forbidden skill. However, when sensing that John Doe might escape successfully, he had no choice but to use this skill.

Before this...

Little Saint Lord had fought with John Doe once.

Through that battle, Little Saint Lord clearly understood how powerful John Doe was.

If John Doe was pulled up a notch, his strength would reach the same level as his. Little Saint Lord knew it would be more difficult to kill John Doe then.

Moreover, John Doe knew Little Saint Lord had come out to deal with him in person. When John Doe fled back to Huaxia this time, he would never appear again in the near future. No matter how much Little Saint Lord wanted to kill him, there would be no chance.

Besides, Qingyun was in Huaxia!

These considerations brought Little Saint Lord a sense of crisis. Deep down, he would never let John Doe escape.

Behind him...

Four Muricans came. But after Fang Qiu killed one, there were only three Muricans left.

All three Muricans were highly competitive.

But they were much weaker than Little Saint Lord.

Therefore, the three of them could only choose to stay with the remaining two members of the Nirvana Organization. They had been trying to keep up with Little Saint Lord.

Dozens of sea miles away...

The cargo ship heading to Papua New Guinea sailed quickly on the sea.

At the bottom of the ship...

Fang Qiu had been staying in the sea with this ship for nearly 40 minutes. Yet, he hadn't used his internal Qi. He had been pressing himself flat against the bottom of the cargo ship with his eyes closed.

Fang Qiu didn't feel secure to use his internal Qi. He would only use internal Qi when he was completely safe.

Anyway, it had only been 40 minutes. He could still hold his breath!

When he almost ensured that he was safe, Fang Qiu immediately set up a shield of internal Qi to push back the seawater around him. Then, with the Great Hand of Destruction, he could drive the air above the sea surface to him like he attracted the Qi of Heaven and Earth.

Since he was in the sea, Fang Qiu didn't use his Divine Consciousness to explore the surroundings. After all, the water-type energy in the sea was too intense. Even if any usual energy appeared in the sea, this water-type energy could easily cover it.

Although he did not use his Divine Consciousness...

Fang Qiu had an excellent sense of hearing far exceeding ordinary people's.

He was meditating with his eyes closed.

All of a sudden...

“Clatter...”

A very clear sound of something piercing the water suddenly came from behind.

Fang Qiu listened to the spinning sound of the cargo ship’s propeller for 40 minutes. Thus, he could distinguish it from other different sounds.

“Hum?”

Hearing the water-breaking sound, Fang Qiu immediately frowned. Then he opened his eyes under the water and looked toward the sound.

When he saw it, his face changed dramatically.

He saw a figure dashing toward him at lightning speed from a distance.

He settled his gaze on it.

In shock, Fang Qiu saw Little Saint Lord of Nirvana Organization!

“How does he know I’m here?”

Fang Qiu was quite taken aback.

He had done everything in a cautious and secretive way. How did Little Saint Lord find it out?

There...

“It’s this ship!”

After chasing for a long time, Little Saint Lord finally saw the huge cargo ship before him and its number printed on the side.

With his forbidden skill, he had seen this scene and the number on the ship’s side. Then, there appeared the scene of John Doe hiding at the bottom of this ship!

In hot pursuit...

About 300 meters away from the cargo ship, Little Saint Lord endured the pain in his head and dived into the water. At high speed, he rushed to the bottom of the cargo ship.

“Sure enough, I have been discovered!”

Seeing Little Saint Lord’s action, Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes.

Because of this, he could see everything around him more clearly.

He happened to find five figures behind Little Saint Lord rushing toward him.

“How did they discover me?”

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

He directly activated his internal Qi.

Swiftly, Fang Qiu got some air from the space outside of the water and took a breath. Activating his Divine Consciousness, he scanned his body carefully.

However, he found nothing suspicious.

He wondered if someone had installed something like a signal transmitter on him.

But evidently, no such equipment was on him!

But...

At this point, Fang Qiu had no time to think about it.

Little Saint Lord was right here under his nose.

Fang Qiu waved his right hand.

“Swoosh...”

A sharp sword light immediately flew out of his hand like a bullet. Carrying a penetrating blast of energy Qi, it made a sudden strong forward movement to confront Little Saint Lord, who was coming at Fang Qiu.

Over there...

Little Saint Lord also found John Doe.

But due to his mental trauma, his vision was a little blurred. His mind was also a little hazy and muddled.

Therefore, when he saw the strike John Doe launched, he paused a little before making a move to block it.

This scene was unusual.

Fang Qiu happened to see it.

A strange look of pain appeared when Little Saint Lord paused and resisted the attack.

“Is he injured?”

Thinking of this, Fang Qiu immediately turned around and fled.

Judging from Little Saint Lord’s performance just now, Fang Qiu knew he was not at his peak.

But even so...

Taking this chance to kill him was a challenging mission.

More importantly...

There were five more rivals behind him.

What if these people rushed over and surrounded him? He couldn’t escape even when Little Saint Lord was injured.

So...

Fang Qiu could only run away.

Of course, he couldn't run to the sea surface. The only way to escape was to go deep into the sea!

"Swoosh..."

The internal Qi was running.

Fang Qiu produced an electrifying burst of speed and dived deeper into the sea like an ignited rocket.

"Stop right there, John Doe!"

Little Saint Lord let out a ferocious roar, his face in anguish. Immediately, he changed his direction and chased after the enemy into the deep sea.

Behind him...

When Tony and his subordinates from Murica saw this, they were in high spirits.

In fact, they didn't fully believe the so-called Eight Trigrams Divination of Little Saint Lord. In their eyes, it was impossible for John Doe to escape from Autranssy.

But now...

They were astonished when seeing John Doe in the sea.

The three Muricans were dumbfounded when seeing John Doe dive into the deep sea. To their astonishment, Little Saint Lord found John Doe!

Besides...

John Doe was hiding in the boundless sea.

No one in the world could find a person hiding so deep. Even satellites could hardly capture him.

Despite all the adverse conditions, Little Saint Lord found him.

At this moment...

The three Muricans were very shocked.

In the past, they looked down on Huaxia, thinking it only had an undeserved reputation.

But now it seemed...

Huaxia's Eight Trigrams Divination performed by Little Saint Lord was indeed beyond their imagination. Except for Huaxianese, no one in any other country could do it.

In shock...

Tony and the others lost no time chasing John Doe at full speed.

John Doe was their most significant goal in Autranssy.

He was even more important than the Yuan Yang Fruit.

After all, John Doe had a considerable adverse impact on Murica's development. They would grasp every opportunity to kill John Doe.

As long as they could kill John Doe, they might be willing to give the Yuan Yang Fruit to Nirvana Organization!

More importantly...

John Doe held the Yuan Yang Fruit.

Ahead of him...

After leaving the bottom of the boat, Fang Qiu sank with surprising speed.

Soon, they arrived at the bottom of the sea and saw a dense mass of rocks.

He released his Divine Consciousness.

Fang Qiu noticed that the six people behind him had gathered together, ready to surround him from different directions.

He continued to dive down.

In the blink of an eye, Fang Qiu went deep into the dense coral reefs below.

The stretch of coral reefs was like a stone forest in the water.

After he dived down...

After a few fitful flashes, Fang Qiu quickly disappeared in the coral reef.

Behind him...

“Split up and go after him.”

Seeing John Doe disappear, Little Saint Lord shouted angrily, “No matter what, we must get him. I have to kill him today!”

Without any hesitation, the two Nirvana men in black immediately split up to chase after John Doe.

As for these Muricans...

“Do as what Little Saint Lord says.”

Tony said, “Once you find John Doe, shout out loud immediately!”

Apparently...

These Muricans were very afraid of John Doe.

Under the circumstances, they had no idea where John Doe was hiding. If he launched a surprise attack against each of them. They really couldn’t stand it.

However...

Hearing Tony’s order, the two Muricans couldn’t say anything more. They immediately scattered and rushed into this coral reef to search carefully.

Chapter 1783 Draw Forth a Sea Monsters!

In the coral reefs...

Fang Qiu raced through the seawater like a fish.

But...

This coral reef, similar to a stone forest, wasn't large. It only covered an area with a radius of 50 meters.

Fang Qiu knew he couldn't hide in it.

He could only pass through this area as fast as he could.

And behind him...

Not finding any trace of John Doe, Little Saint Lord and these Muricans were looking for him in the coral reefs very carefully.

At the same time, some people were observing the situation in the distance.

Fang Qiu knew well where these people were.

Judging from the positions of these people, they had occupied almost all directions. No matter which direction he moved in, they would find him.

"What should I do?"

At the other end of this coral reef, Fang Qiu hid behind a stone pillar-like coral at the exit and carefully observed the surrounding situation.

Just as Fang Qiu was thinking about how to escape from their encirclement...

All of a sudden...

There was a commotion behind him.

He turned to look.

Over there...

A dense mass of fish swam toward him from the coral reef.

Upon closer inspection...

There was a mess of fish.

The water was thickly covered with fish too many to be counted.

Seeing the school of fish, Fang Qiu withdrew the internal Qi around him into his body. Then, with a gurgling sound, he got into the shoal of fish. By swimming together with the fish, he quickly sneaked out of this coral reef.

Over there...

Little Saint Lord of Nirvana Organization and these Muricas also saw this large group of fish.

“Go and have a look.”

Tony shouted at a subordinate not far away from him, pointing to the school of fish.

Hearing the order, the Murican immediately rushed toward the school of fish without hesitation.

He had been frightened when looking for John Doe in the coral reef. The terrain in this area was too complicated. He didn't know where John Doe was hiding at all.

It was much easier to investigate the school of fish.

The most important thing was that he could take this opportunity to leave this dangerous place.

With a heart full of joy...

The Murican quickly approached the school of fish.

As far as he knew, fish were creatures that feared humans. Once someone appeared, the school of fish would disperse.

Therefore...

In his mind, no one would be so stupid to hide in the shoal of fish.

As long as he went there, he could scare the fish away.

But...

He had forgotten that they were in the deep sea.

This was the fish's territory, and they were the outsiders.

A mighty dragon can't crush a snake in its lair. These fish were not offensive, but how could they fear humans in their territory?

What was more, these fish couldn't see people at the bottom of such a deep sea.

"Swoosh..."

The man rushed to the edge of the school of fish. Because an energy shield around him was protecting him, he took advantage of this and hit the school of fish, trying to disperse them.

However, when he crashed into the fish, he found he couldn't break up the stock of fish.

These fish were not afraid of him at all.

Even if he thrust himself into the fish, they only swam aside to make room for him.

This Murican was upset.

He couldn't even break up with a herd of fish. Wasn't that ridiculous?

With this in mind...

The Murican broke out again and pounced on the center of the fish. No matter what, he must break the school of fish apart.

Just then...

The group of fish made a sudden turn and swam straight down into an area of coral reef with complex terrain.

This Murican's plan failed again.

With a heart full of depression...

The Murican turned around, ready to return and report that there was no problem with this school of fish.

However, just as he turned around, he saw Tony staring at him. With a wry smile, he continued to chase after the fish.

Meanwhile, he waved his right hand!

A stream of energy quickly gathered in his palm.

It seemed that...

He planned to kill the school of fish with energy.

At this moment...

He had already followed the school of fish to another stretch of coral reef.

Catching up with the fish, the Murican raced over and waved his hand. But to his surprise, a long black sword suddenly emerged out of the fish.

When the Murican rushed over, the long sword hidden in the school of fish suddenly flashed with golden radiance.

In a flash...

Like cutting the tofu...

The sword went straight through the energy shield around the Murican and penetrated his throat.

The next moment...

A hand stretched out from the school of fish and dragged the man inside.

The whole process was silent. There was no resistance, and no trace of blood leaked out.

Fang Qiu pulled him into the shoal of fish.

With a wave of his right hand, Fang Qiu secretly drove a trace of his internal Qi to completely cover the wound on his throat, preventing blood from flowing.

Moving along with the school of fish, he came to a relatively large reef, threw the dead body down, and covered it with a large reef.

At the same time...

In the first area of the coral reef, Little Saint Lord and the others had finished searching the entire zone of hundreds of square meters. But still, they didn't find any trace of John Doe.

They seemed to have thought of something.

In unison, everyone immediately looked up at the coral reef area ahead.

At a glance...

They saw the school of fish had swam above a large sheet of the coral reef ahead — the fish didn't seem to have been affected.

As for the Murican who followed up to chase after the fish, he had disappeared.

This creepy situation paled Little Saint Lord and the others.

“Swoosh...”

A group of people immediately rushed forward.

As a result...

As soon as they came up, they saw a corpse under the coral reef, moving with the water flow.

This scene looked horrifying.

Tony’s face instantly darkened.

He didn’t expect the people he sent out in person would die without a sound.

They didn’t hear any unusual sounds.

How could this be?

Why would this happen?

“John Doe!!!”

Tony roared furiously.

Near him...

Little Saint Lord shifted his gaze to the school of fish.

“Swoosh.”

Little Saint Lord made a move and waved his right hand. Instantly, a stream of grayish-white energy was condensed into a Horse-chopping Saber in his hand. Then, with a wave of his arm, a blazing ray of saber light erupted from his saber and charged at the school of fish.

At the sight of this...

Fang Qiu had been hiding in the school of fish. Under the cover of the fish, he moved around safely. But he no longer waited and immediately flew out, quickly running into the distance.

The moment he escaped...

The beam of saber light arrived and cut all the fish into two halves!

The blood spread everywhere.

“You can’t run away, John Doe!”

His face suddenly twitched when Little Saint Lord saw John Doe escaping again. With some pain on his face, he set off in pursuit at once.

Behind him...

Tony launched a full-blown attack and pursued John Doe relentlessly, his face filled with rage.

This time, he only brought three people with him. Since John Doe had slaughtered two of them, only one subordinate was fighting side by side with him!

How could he possibly swallow his anger?

Tony wanted revenge.

He was determined to kill John Doe!

“Swish, swish, swish...”

Water-splitting sounds appeared in the depths of the sea.

However...

They could hear these sounds.

They were too deep in the sea to hear any sound. At most, they could only hear the sounds made by themselves when moving forward.

Of course...

Different from the world outside...

At the bottom of the sea, the resistance and pressure of the water slowed them down a lot. But even so, they could move much faster than the creatures in the sea.

“A clingy bunch of mad dogs!”

After a cold snort...

Fang Qiu needed all his wits to find his way out.

He was thinking about how to stop these people from going after him.

He could hardly succeed if he mindlessly tried to get rid of them. These people must have gone crazy. How the hell could they give up their chase for him?

The only way out was to find something else to stop them!

Then, what could stop them here?

Marine life!

With this in mind...

Immediately, Fang Qiu took the jade holding the Yuan Yang Fruit from his chest pocket and opened it.

Just as he opened it, the Yuan Yang Fruit's Spiritual Qi spread out on all sides.

This was incredible.

With the fluctuation of Spiritual Qi...

All the creatures in the surrounding sea suddenly became very vehement and agitated.

As the Yuan Yang Fruit's Spiritual Qi fluctuated, many creatures in the sea were tempted, including sharks, whales, electric eels, sea snakes, and all kinds of fish. They all rushed over wildly and quickly.

In literally one minute...

This region was packed with a dense crowd of marine life.

Fang Qiu was shocked by the great stir before him. Surprisingly, the fluctuation of the Spiritual Qi of the Yuan Yang Fruit could cause such a fantastic reaction.

Besides...

Most shockingly...

Fang Qiu sensed a particularly abnormal energy aura 80 kilometers away. The exceedingly powerful and enormous aura seemed to be coming from a sea monster!

First of all, he carefully judged the sea monster's direction. Then, Fang Qiu immediately rushed over there.

Behind him...

Little Saint Lord and the others followed closely behind.

In no time...

Fang Qiu smartly made his way into various sea creatures as they closed in on him from the front. Because there were too many of them, Fang Qiu disappeared as soon as he rushed in.

Little Saint Lord followed suit.

Behind them...

Tony and the others also rushed in.

In the blink, this area in the deep sea became highly chaotic.

They couldn't even spot a human shadow as they rushed into the crowd of fish and other marine life.

Two Nirvana members had followed Little Saint Lord here. When they got into the crowd of sea creatures, they moved together, not daring to act alone.

As for the Murica group...

Tony, blinded by anger, rushed in after Little Saint Lord. The only one left tried to go with the two Nirvana members but failed.

He had no choice but to slow down to stay safe.

Meanwhile...

In the dense crowd of marine life, Fang Qiu did not go on escaping. Instead, he closed the jade in the first place and put away the Yuan Yang Fruit. Then, at a leisurely pace, he hid next to some large marine animals and waited for the arrival of the sea monster.

Chapter 1784 How About Making a Divine Exploration Again?

Fang Qiu knew very well.

If they continued to rush forward in this direction, it would not be long before they encountered the sea monster.

Once they came across a sea monster, he would be the first one entangled by it.

Fang Qiu wouldn't be stupid enough to put himself in that dangerous situation. Thus, while darting into the crowd of marine life, Fang Qiu slowed down. He injected a large proportion of his energy aura into a shark and hid the rest.

With this, he made the shark the target of Little Saint Lord and Tony, taking them to the sea monster. At the same time, he hid among these sea animals and advanced slowly in the opposite direction.

Once the sea monster entangled Little Saint Lord and others, he could perfectly get rid of them!

“Hmm?”

When Fang Qiu was slowly swimming near a big fish, he suddenly saw a Murican, who moved languidly through the school of fish before him.

“He is the last Murican here besides Tony, right?”

“Why is he here?”

“And he seems very careless.”

Staring at him, Fang Qiu narrowed his eyes and quietly approached him under the cover of the big fish.

As soon as Fang Qiu approached him...

He was surprised to find that this guy was whistling.

“He looks so idle and relaxed.”

Fang Qiu sneered secretly.

Fang Qiu silently went deeper into the sea. Then, without making a sound, he floated up from the place right below him.

The Murican still looked ahead while whistling casually, turning his eyes to observe the situation around him.

As he whistled...

All of a sudden...

The Murican felt something behind him.

He turned around with a puzzled look.

But as soon as he turned his head...

His eyes widened in an instant.

Right before him...

An extremely familiar face appeared before him.

It was John Doe!

When he turned his head, John Doe had already cut open the energy shield with his two fingers glowing with golden light.

“Hush...”

Just as the man opened his mouth in panic and was about to shout...

Fang Qiu waved his right hand.

His palm sealed the man's mouth. From his palm center, a stream of energy Qi burst out. It poured into the man's body, instantly crushing all his viscera.

There was no room for the man to struggle.

After all, these people following Tony were just at the S-plus level.

"Woo, woo, woo..."

The internal Qi was rushing wildly in his body.

Since the Murican couldn't save energy in him, he couldn't resist the attack at all.

In no time...

His internal organs were smashed into pieces.

The next moment, blood and pieces of internal organs kept gushing out from his mouth and dyed this area red.

Because all kinds of sea animals were swimming around, Fang Qiu didn't deliberately hide the blood. Anyway, these sea creatures were fighting and killing. Their blood had made this area red.

Soon...

The fresh blood attracted a few sharks.

They tore the dead Murican into pieces and ate it up in less than a minute.

At this moment...

“Screech...”

An incomparably sharp and loud cry came from a distance.

As the shrill sounded, the seawater around this area began to surge wildly. The sea creatures were so scared that they scattered in all directions.

Fang Qiu knew what was happening.

Little Saint Lord and the others must have encountered the sea monster.

Without delay...

Fang Qiu immediately followed these marine animals that were scared away by the sea monster and came back.

He moved at lightning speed.

In the distance...

“John Doe’s aura is in the mouth of this sea monster.”

Little Saint Lord stood before the huge sea monster like an electric eel and said with a gloomy face, “Did John Doe get eaten alive by this giant electric eel?”

Aside...

Tony, who followed closely behind, added with a cold face, "Does he want to use the sea monster as his shield?"

Little Saint Lord turned around and glanced at Tony.

He looked at Tony scornfully as if looking at an idiot.

Then...

He abruptly turned his head and began to look around.

"We've been deceived. John Doe is not here at all."

While searching in a hurry, Little Saint Lord spoke.

"But John Doe's aura is in this sea monster's belly!"

Tony asked with a puzzled face.

"Do you think a sea monster can digest John Doe?"

Little Saint Lord pursed his lips.

"What do you mean?"

Tony suddenly raised his eyebrows and asked, "We have been pursuing something else instead of John Doe?"

"Yes. John Doe must have run away."

His face was gloomy to the extreme when Little Saint Lord said this.

At this moment...

“Whoosh, whoosh...”

Two figures came together.

With a closer look...

They were the two black-robed men from Nirvana Organization.

“Where are my people?”

Tony immediately asked.

“We haven’t seen him.”

The two black-robed men shook their heads in unison.

Tony looked around and found the sea monster had swept across this area. All the sea creatures fled in all directions in fear. There was not even a single fish, let alone a human being.

That was to say...

His last subordinate was gone forever?

“John Doe killed one of my men again?”

Tony's face contorted into a savage expression.

All the people who came with him were dead?

Only he was alive?

How could he bear the consequence when going back?

"Go back the way we came."

Little Saint Lord looked painful, and his face couldn't help twitching in pain. Then, he ignored the enormous electric eel and returned to find John Doe.

Just then...

"Screech!!!"

This huge sea monster suddenly opened its mouth, revealing its sharp teeth with very jagged edges. It screamed at the three people who were about to run away. Then, it twisted and erupted a layer of thunder and lightning. With astonishing speed, it slithered toward Little Saint Lord and the others.

In the face of danger...

Little Saint Lord narrowed his eyes and waved his right hand violently.

He slashed wildly at it with his Horse-chopping Saber. It turned into a huge saber shadow and fiercely flew forward to cut the electric eel fiercely.

With a great crash...

An earth-shattering wave sounded.

The next moment...

When the electric eel rushed over like made, the huge saber shadow knocked it far away. Although the strike didn't kill the eel on the spot, it caused severe injuries.

In the distance...

Just as a huge wave suddenly shot up to the sky from the sea far, far away...

Fang Qiu had returned to the cargo ship. He got prepared and flew up from the sea, speedily darting to the cargo ship. Without anyone noticing, he went straight into the deepest part of the warehouse. There, sitting down cross-legged quietly, he completely concealed his aura.

The mountainous wave fell.

The electric eel was sent flying. From the deep sea, Little Saint Lord and the others burst out of the water surface and began to observe the surroundings.

However, after searching around for a long time, they found no clue.

"Young Lord."

Tony couldn't stand the fact that John Doe had successfully escaped again. He couldn't help saying to Little Saint Lord. "You know Eight Trigrams Divination, right? You can use it again. I believe John Doe can never escape from you."

"Bullshit!"

John Doe ran away, and Little Saint Lord exploded with anger. Hearing Tony's impractical suggestion, he was even more furious.

Before this...

He used it once. But since then, he had been suffering along the way.

Because of the side effects, he found it hard to concentrate. From time to time, pains in his brain would disturb his thoughts and impair his judgment. Otherwise, he believed that John Doe would never shake off him.

"Did he ask me to do it again?"

"If I did it the second time, I would lose my mind, wouldn't I?"

"At that time, my spiritual force would collapse.

"Even if I found John Doe, I still couldn't kill him. He might escape again and even kill me instead!"

Therefore...

Little Saint Lord would never again use Eight Trigrams Divination, the forbidden skill, to find John Doe's whereabouts!

Tony saw that Little Saint Lord was in a towering rage.

Knowing he was no match for Little Saint Lord, Tony dared not say anything else. If he irritated Little Saint Lord, he might slaughter him right now.

His death would represent a complete failure of Murica.

For the sake of his life...

He'd better admit defeat.

Well...

Little Saint Lord and the others lost their target.

Deep in the sea...

The electric eel wrapped in flashes of lightning was boiling with rage.

It realized the thing attracting it here had disappeared. What was worse, it was injured.

The sea monster was in a frenzy.

Deep in the sea, it was writhing around frantically. According to its memory, it wound its way to the place where the Yuan Yang Fruit's Spiritual Qi emerged!

But nothing was there.

There was not even a single fish around that it could vent its anger on.

Unable to take its anger out, the electric eel could only choose one direction and moved wildly.

After it swam for a while...

It saw a giant cargo ship.

This time, the electric eel got a target. It screamed, broke out of the water, and rushed straight toward the huge cargo ship.

It attempted to wrap itself around the cargo ship and gave it a deadly electric shock to vent its anger!

Inside the ship...

Fang Qiu had been resting with his eyes closed. But hearing the electric eel's screech, he immediately woke up and opened his eyes.

Then he let out his Divine Consciousness and immediately saw the situation outside.

To his great surprise...

This sea monster came here. It seemed that it was going to attack the cargo ship!

At this time, his show was not over yet.

The crew on the cargo ship were scared out of their wits.

They had never seen such a monstrous and terrifying creature!

"Damned!"

Fang Qiu cursed in his heart. Immediately, he rushed out of the cabin, moved, and rose into the air. With a wave of his hand, he burst out a ball of energy and hit the electric eel before flying quickly away.

In the distance, Little Saint Lord found no clues and was going to leave. But when he caught sight of what was happening, his eyes glittered as he flew out in pursuit.

On the cargo ship...

Those people, who watched the sea monster in horror, saw someone fly away. They were even more terrified that they could hardly say anything.

After the electric eel and the flying man left, the captain immediately ordered the ship to advance at full speed. They had no guts to stay here any longer.

Fang Qiu fled as fast as he could.

In the sky behind him, four people were madly in pursuit of Fang Qiu. A giant electric eel was also crazily chasing its target in the sea below them, kicking up billows!

Chapter 1785 Sneaking Into a Small Island!

“It seems that I have to find an uninhabited place.”

Fang Qiu smiled wryly.

He had escaped just now.

However, things did not go as he had expected.

To be honest...

Fang Qiu had never thought the sea monster he lured over would attack the cargo ship. For one thing, there was a long distance between the cargo ship and the customs.

For another, Fang Qiu had expected a fierce battle to happen between the sea monster and Little Saint Lord and the others. This battle could hold them back.

With the strength of Little Saint Lord and the others, they could eventually slay the sea monster or drive it away at least.

To his dismay...

The expected battle did not take place.

What was worse, they didn't even get rid of the sea monster.

Fang Qiu didn't know what had happened. But clearly, he felt Little Saint Lord had been flying above the sea surface, and the sea monster was injured.

He thought carefully about this matter.

Little Saint Lord and the others must have injured the sea monster and left the battlefield. They got rid of the sea monster deep in the sea, which irritated it. That was why it took the initiative to attack the cargo ship.

It looked like...

His plan didn't work out.

He didn't cast off Little Saint Lord and the others and nearly got all the people on the ship killed!

Frankly...

If Fang Qiu didn't care about the lives of those people on the ship, he could easily get rid of Little Saint Lord and the others. Little Saint Lord and others would soon leave as long as he hid his aura and let the sea monster attack the cargo ship.

However, Fang Qiu was not that kind of person.

He couldn't bear to see people in mortal danger without lifting a finger.

In particular...

He lured the sea monster over.

"The open sea is just ahead."

Fang Qiu had been heading for the open sea according to his escape route. The open sea was outside Autranssy's economic trade zone.

It was rare to meet people on the open sea, which could be considered the center of the entire ocean. It was far away from every country. Because of the illegal organizations and pirates there, few merchant ships were willing to travel across the high seas.

The sea monster wouldn't be a threat as long as he lured it there.

Soon, Fang Qiu flew rapidly into the high seas.

While he was moving forward...

Fang Qiu suddenly saw an island in the distance.

"I'm at the high seas, right? But how can there be an island?"

Fang Qiu was surprised.

Usually, an area in the sea with an island could not be regarded as high seas. Each island had its own exclusive sea area, which was the sea within 16 to 18 sea miles from the island.

But...

There shouldn't be a problem with the existence of this island. Perhaps it was a wild island that only belonged to an exclusive area that didn't belong to any country. Since there was no exclusive economic zone, it was included in the high seas.

Looking around, Fang Qiu found this sea island was covered in lush green vegetation. There was no beach. The island was only surrounded by huge rocks.

"It should be an uninhabited island."

Fang Qiu carefully scanned the island but found no trace of human survival. There was not even a ferry.

Moreover, this island was at least a few hundred sea miles from the nearest continent.

Judging from the long distance, no human could live on this island.

With this in mind...

Fang Qiu immediately sped up.

He rushed straight to the deserted island and into its dense jungle without scruples.

Behind him...

Seeing this, Little Saint Lord and the others chasing hotly after him couldn't help sneering.

If John Doe kept running, they would feel a little troubled. It was because they advanced almost as fast as John Doe. They might not catch up with him even if going after him for a long time. If they were lucky to catch up with him, almost all their internal Qi would be consumed.

However, if John Doe chose to hide on this island, the result would be different.

They could go to the island and search for John Doe at any time.

Even better, they could surround the island, besiege John Doe, and kill him.

For Little Saint Lord...

John Doe was courting death by doing this!

John Doe was flying before others...

As long as five minutes after he threw himself into the island, Little Saint Lord and the others finally arrived.

"Surround the island and keep your eyes open. I'll go in and have a look."

Little Saint Lord ordered.

"Yes!"

The two Nirvana men in black immediately separated and flew in different directions to guard the island.

Tony, who had followed them here, stood where he was, and formed a triangle to guard the island in midair with the two men in black.

Here...

Little Saint Lord rushed straight into the dense plants and trees on the island. Quickly, he closed his eyes and began to sense John Doe's aura carefully.

But when he closed his eyes, a look of pain appeared.

The side effect of the forbidden skill still existed.

It had brought him a mental hit. Thus, when using his spiritual force to explore the surroundings, he was in terrible, unbearable pain!

Yet...

To find and kill John Doe as soon as possible...

Regardless of the pain, Little Saint Lord forcibly used his spiritual force to search for John Doe's aura.

However...

After he explored for a long time...

But he didn't find anything noteworthy.

Once again, John Doe used his special method of concealing his aura and hid himself.

Little Saint Lord gritted his teeth in anger.

Without such an excellent hiding technique, John Doe would have died countless times.

He was furious to the extreme!

In his opinion...

John Doe was nothing like the one described in the legend of Wulin. The man he had chased all the way was simply a coward!

In another place...

After rushing into the jungle of the island, Fang Qiu quickly found a bush and hid there. Then he sat cross-legged and covered his aura swiftly and entirely.

In the meantime, he unleashed his Divine Consciousness and let it spread fast.

Fang Qiu saw all the routes of Little Saint Lord and the others.

Thanks to the careful detective work of his Divine Consciousness, Fang Qiu saw Little Saint Lord land on the island. However, he did not look around.

Instead, Little Saint Lord had been standing still, trying to sense his aura.

The other three flew into the air and surrounded the island.

“They don’t seem to look for me on the island?”

Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows.

He landed on the island because he wanted to block the views of his enemies by using the various obstacles on the island. Then, he would look for opportunities to kill one or two of them. Little by little, he could consume the strength of Little Saint Lord and others.

To his dismay...

This time, his enemies didn't go into the trap.

Perhaps, the eerie death of the two Muricas had alerted them.

Nevertheless...

Since he had arrived on the island...

Fang Qiu wouldn't give up. He could wait a little longer.

If his enemies couldn't wait any longer, they might take the initiative to land on the island.

Moreover...

The three people flying in the sky couldn't keep watching the island like that all the time, could they?

Flying would consume their internal Qi and energy.

While flying and guarding in mid-air, their energy would be consumed continuously. They must land and recuperate after burning too much energy.

There would be a chance for Fang Qiu.

At that time...

If they landed in the places below their current positions, the three of them would be on different sides. Then, Fang Qiu could attack any one of them secretly. But no one would guard this island if they decided to recover together. Fang Qiu could leave the island and go very far into the sea when they were resting!

The furious sea monster had followed them here, swimming and roaring wildly around the island. Once Fang Qiu dived into the sea, he would act faster than it.

It couldn't catch up with Fang Qiu.

"Swoosh..."

Little Saint Lord got ready and rose into the air from the island. Hovering above the island, he was trying to find John Doe's traces with his naked eyes.

Meanwhile...

Fang Qiu began to recover secretly.

He applied the guiding technique.

At a fast pace, he absorbed the Qi of Heaven and Earth and replenished all the internal Qi he had just consumed. At last, he returned to his peak state.

Over there...

Little Saint Lord also landed on a place and began to recover.

In the sky, the three of them were still holding on.

“These guys are not easy to deal with.”

Fang Qiu’s eyes narrowed.

In the sky, the three people were still vigilantly observing the movements on the island without the intention of resting.

Once John Doe showed up, they would give alarm calls without hesitation.

Besides...

Fang Qiu heard it just now.

Little Saint Lord told the three people they could take turns guarding the island. When he recovered, he could take the place of someone. In this way, there would always be three people above the island.

This decision put Fang Qiu into a difficult situation.

Obviously...

Little Saint Lord was different from other enemies he had met.

This fellow looked young but seemed pretty sophisticated!

Even the Murican, who had always been arrogant, was willing to listen to his arrangements. Of course, it was because of his much superior strength. But even if the Murican refused his order, Little Saint Lord wouldn’t kill him.

After all, it was common knowledge that both sides were working together now.

On the island...

The two sides were locked in a stalemate.

In the shallow water around the island, the giant electric eel was darting around like made with lightning all over its body. Occasionally, it would wind around a huge rock by the sea and roar at the island before jumping back into the sea.

...

In the distance...

The cargo ship heading for Papy New Geinea was sailing at full speed.

On the ship...

A crew member, holding a monitor connected to the wire, was staring tongue-tied at the scene on the island in the distance.

Although the images were fuzzy, he was still absolutely astounded.

This high-definition surveillance camera was installed on the cargo ship. Moreover, he not only captured the current scene in the distance but even saw the sea monster appear, John Doe fly away, and Little Saint Lord chase after him.

The camera automatically took these pictures in the beginning. But afterward, the crew took the initiative to record everything.

This kind of experience was unimaginably horrifying.

They believed if this video was spread out, it would shock the whole world!

Chapter 1786 Catch the Whole Lot in a Dragnet

This cargo ship was heading for Papy New Geinea.

But the sailors and captain on the ship were all Autransssians going between Autranssy and Papy New Geinea to do business.

Besides, this incident happened in Autranssy's economic trade zone.

Therefore...

When the crew member was recording the video...

Immediately, the captain contacted the Autranssy authorities and told them everything he had seen.

Through the Internet, he even sent the video recorded on the surveillance video to the Autranssy Marine Police Headquarters.

As soon as the video was sent there...

No one dared to look at it. Instead, they quickly reported it. The news soon reached these Autranssian officials' ears.

When the Autranssian higher-ups saw this surveillance video...

They instantly knew the first person flying away was John Doe!

In addition...

These people chasing after him...

They were Nirvana Organization's Little Saint Lord and Muricans, who had been the target of their missile.

During this period...

They had been looking for John Doe at the seaport. Besides, they asked Mason to patrol around, searching for Little Saint Lord and Muricans.

To their astonishment, these people had already run to the high seas.

Fortunately, the island belonged to Autranssy. But since it had not been developed yet, no one lived there. That was why it was in the territorial sea but had no economic trade zone.

Nevertheless...

The territorial sea 18 sea miles from the coast was more than enough.

That was part of Autranssy's territory.

Since such a significant matter happened in their territory, the Autranssian higher-ups would handle it!

"Pass on the news to Mason immediately. He will be fully in charge of this matter."

The higher-ups in Autranssy gave the order.

At this time...

They were utterly exhausted from anxiety.

The matter about the Autransian leader became increasingly intensified in the entire Autranssy.

Right now, the leader wasn't in the mood to deal with these matters, and these higher-ups had been busy with his issues. After all, to repel foreign invasion, the country should maintain internal security first.

If they couldn't even guarantee the internal stability of their country, how could they care about these things?

Like this...

Mason was in charge of the entire matter.

For the Autransian higher-ups, Mason was the only one who could make a correct judgment on this matter.

After all, he was the only super expert at the SS level in Autranssy.

He was the best at dealing with metahumans!

Before long...

Mason, who was patrolling North Island, received the message from these high-ranking officials. Meanwhile, he got the video sent back from the cargo ship.

"Fuck, they escaped?"

Mason had been very kind and gentle. However, as the whole thing developed, his temper worsened.

Mason finished watching the video.

Since he had got military power, he quickly came to the command room of the nearby military base. Then he ordered, "Contact the nearest military bases right now. Let's mobilize all the missiles and blow up that island!"

"General."

As soon as he gave the order, the former general of this military base immediately stepped forward to stop him and said, "I didn't mean to stop you. The senior officials have given the order. Since you are the highest-ranking military officer, we must listen to you. But I advise you not to make such a reckless choice."

"Reckless?"

Mason raised his eyebrow.

"I mean, I'm better at leading troops to win a battle than you. I know what is the best time to use thermal weapons."

The general smiled and said, "That island is within our country's territory. How can we blow Autranssy's territory merely to deal with a few people? And we'll have to use so many missiles. Each missile is very costly. I'm afraid we might not bear the great expense."

"Do you know who they are?"

Mason snorted and said, "Every one of those guys on that island is comparable to nuclear weapons. Killing them is only good for us."

"Yes, they are formidable."

The general nodded with understanding and said calmly, "That was exactly why I said that. I've watched the video and know they are not ordinary."

"What do you mean?"

Mason asked.

"I heard that a military base had launched four missiles at the desert not long ago but didn't get the result they wanted, right?"

With a smile, the general shook his head and said, "Four missiles couldn't kill them in the desert. Do you think we can do that now with ten missiles on an island? Besides, they are in the boundless sea. With their outstanding abilities, they can easily avoid the blow, can't they?"

Mason's face darkened.

Indeed...

The general was right.

There was Little Saint Lord from Nirvana Organization, John Doe from Huaxia, and Tony from Murica. Missiles could easily hit none of them.

Even if a missile hit them, it might not kill these mighty experts.

Then, in this case...

Was it necessary to launch a missile?

Obviously not!

“Then what do you mean?”

Mason asked.

“I know what you and these higher-ups are thinking about. We can use missiles to deter other countries. After all, large stockpiles of weapons and ammunition are needed for each military maneuver. This mission can be regarded as a military exercise, but we can’t use it so easily.”

The general chuckled and said, “It’s very simple. For us, it’s better to leak these people’s information than to attack them. Disclose their location to the people of other countries. As soon as this message gets out, the people of other countries will rush over and fight with them in haste.”

“This way, we can consume their strength first. When they suffer great losses, we can seize the opportunity to bombard them with missiles.”

“The missile explosion would make a big difference!”

After saying that, the general chuckled.

“Okay.”

Mason immediately nodded.

He had become dizzy with anger.

Now, being reminded by the general, he figured it out.

He was in the dark. In control of medium-sized weapons, he could be a manipulator behind this battle. There was no need to bombard the island recklessly.

“Spread the news immediately. Find a way to inform those people from different countries and forces: Muricans and Nirvana members had caught up with John Doe. They are fighting for the top-level spiritual fruit in his hands!”

Mason gave the order.

Soon...

After the Autransian officials intervened to control the issue...

The news spread like wildfire. John Doe had escaped from Autranssy to an island on the high seas. Meanwhile, Nirvana Organization’s Little Saint Lord and Muricans were seeking after him. Very quickly, all the forces from various countries heard it.

These people from countries and forces worldwide missed John Doe in the underground river. After that, they analyzed the situation and went to different regions and ports to wait for John Doe.

However...

They obtained little information. For fear of the Autranssy authorities, they dared not go anywhere near them.

Therefore, they had no idea of John Doe’s whereabouts.

Now...

Hearing John Doe had fled to the high seas, these people of all the forces and countries were dumbfounded.

In particular, they learned that Little Saint Lord and Muricans had caught up with John Doe and were fighting fiercely on the island. Impatiently, they were eager to set off.

They rented speedboats and went hunting for John Doe on the sea. They brought a dozen buckets of oil to ensure they could arrive in time!

From all directions...

Speedboats, helicopters, and cruise ships set sail one after another, heading for the undeveloped island in the Austranssy high seas.

Over here...

The Australian authorities monitored each port.

In a military base...

Through the surveillance video, Mason saw people from all over the world go out to sea. Immediately, he laughed coldly.

So far, everything that had happened was exactly as he had planned!

In the meantime...

Because these Austranssians were active in spreading the news...

The news was quickly posted on the underground-force forum.

"John Doe has fled to the high seas!"

"Nirvana Organization's Little Saint Lord and these Muricans are pursuing John Doe relentlessly."

“John Doe has completely exposed his position. People from various forces worldwide are now rushing to him!”

...

News came one after another.

The underground-force forum became quite lively.

When the news came...

Almost everyone who heard it went crazy.

“What the hell! John Doe fled to the high seas?”

“It seems John Doe nearly escaped.”

“Unfortunately, they caught up with him.”

“This time, people from all over the world and the major forces have made up their minds: they won’t stop until they kill John Doe.”

“After all, John Doe took the top-class spiritual fruit from them. How could they let him go?”

...

Almost all the people on the underground-force forum were shocked.

In Huaxia...

These high-ranking leaders and He Gaoming got the news from the underground-force forum. All of them felt very worried and anxious for Fang Qiu.

Unfortunately, they were unable to help!

...

On the island...

“Damn it, when will they give up waiting for me?”

In the bushes, Fang Qiu cursed inwardly.

In the sky, all three people had changed their shifts. They still kept a careful watch over the island and had no intention of entering it.

“If this continues, these people will call their headquarters for reinforcements!”

Fang Qiu thought to himself.

Nirvana Organization had a lot of members.

If they came to help, he would have to deal with many more opponents. At that time, it would be even more troublesome for him to escape.

Not to mention that...

Murica also got involved.

Once they saw a golden opportunity to kill him, Fang Qiu even suspected Murica would send an aircraft carrier over.

Pondering over this matter, Fang Qiu knew he could no longer stay on this island.

But...

How was he going to leave?

Sometimes, clever people may be victims of their own cleverness. He seemed to have put himself into a desperate situation.

“How did this guy find out I was hiding at the bottom of the ship?”

Fang Qiu shook his head gravely.

He meticulously designed a plan and hid under the ship, waiting to leave secretly. But how did Little Saint Lord discover him? It really puzzled him.

Chapter 1787 A Bunch of Douchebags!

Fang Qiu clearly remembered it.

When Little Saint Lord chased after him, he took the lead, followed by others.

That was to say...

Little Saint Lord, instead of these Muricans, found him hiding at the ship's bottom.

From beginning to end, he did not reveal any energy aura. Then, how could Little Saint Lord find him?

Fang Qi pondered over this matter.

He didn't figure out what had happened.

Thinking about it, Fang Qiu suddenly recalled the scene in the sea when Little Saint Lord looked distracted in pain.

"Little Saint Lord found my trace. Does his injury have something to do with that?"

Fang Qiu shook his head.

He still couldn't figure out what the connection was.

But most importantly, he must think of a way to leave this island.

At present...

He had only four enemies.

However, after the four people took turns to rest, they recovered ninety percent of their energy.

Little Saint Lord was injured. But it was almost impossible for him to escape when the four people guarded on four sides.

Fang Qiu even thought about digging a passage from the island to the sea.

Yet...

The four rivals had been watching in the sky.

Little Saint Lord would soon notice it once he used his internal Qi to dig.

Without internal Qi, the digging speed would be very slow. There would be a lot of noise in the tunnel. At least, he needed a place to pile up mounds of dirt, right?

Fang Qiu had no choice but to give up this idea.

“I’ll have to deal with the weakest among the four and wait for an opportunity to enter the sea.”

Fang Qiu smiled wryly.

Under the detection of his spiritual force...

Fang Qiu was very clear about the strength of the four people. Little Saint Lord was undoubtedly the strongest, followed by Tony from Murica. The remaining two black-robed men had reached the S-plus level.

Hence...

These two black-robed men were the weakest of the four.

Little Saint Lord and Tony were in a diagonal. Randomly, Fang Qiu chose the direction of a black-robed man. Without delay, he hid his aura and quietly approached him.

When Fang Qiu came here...

He found the cliff was about 50 meters high.

Below it was the sea.

Huge waves were wildly rushing against the mountain.

Fortunately, the vegetation in this area was flourishing. The black-robed man in the sky couldn't see him hiding in it.

He looked around carefully.

Fang Qiu found this cliff very stiff. There was no way down at all.

That was to say...

Jumping off the cliff was the only way to enter the sea.

But when jumping down from a 50-meter cliff, he would reveal his position to his enemies.

He felt that the terrain was not good enough.

Fang Qiu shook his head helplessly and quickly turned to leave.

He went to the other black-robed man.

As a result...

Upon coming over, Fang Qiu found it was also a towering cliff as high as 70 to 80 meters.

"Did Little Saint Lord assign their positions again?"

Fang Qiu suddenly raised his eyebrows.

There was no way Tony would notice those details.

Along the way, there seemed to be only one person who could think of all the details — Little Saint Lord!

Fang Qiu hid in the jungle.

In the sky, there was the easiest way for him to enter the sea. However, Little Saint Lord was guarding it. Gently, he took a gentle breath and narrowed his eyes secretly.

Unlucky for him...

Little Saint Lord was guarding the easiest way for him to go into the sea. In this case, he couldn't escape from that position. It was the most difficult for him to go away from the places guarded by the black-robed men on both sides. Tony defended the remaining area.

Fang Qiu quietly approached him.

As expected, he found Tony was guarding a somewhat messy reef area.

It would be very easy to go into the sea from here.

"But Little Saint Lord has considered all of these details. How could he not know which direction I'll choose?"

Fang Qiu glanced at Little Saint Lord again.

He saw that...

Even when floating in mid-air, his eyes were still closed. Little Saint Lord was constantly sensing the aura of energy on the island.

“Perhaps, it will be easier to go down from the 70-meter-high cliff.”

Fang Qiu thought to himself.

But...

Although that was what he thought, he was not sure yet.

He found he couldn't figure out what Little Saint Lord was thinking. Unlike his previous enemies, this guy seemed particularly cunning!

Just then...

“Buzz...”

There came the sound of a propeller rotating from a distance.

Quietly, Fang Qiu looked over to see what was going on.

There, a helicopter was rushing over quickly from a distance.

But it was not an Autransian military helicopter. It was a helicopter that tourists could rent in the major coastal cities in Autransy.

When the helicopter arrived, the faces of Little Saint Lord and the others darkened.

They were not afraid that ordinary people would come over by helicopter.

It was because...

They had seen four Soviett people sitting in the helicopter!

Fang Qiu also saw them.

“Why are they here?”

Fang Qiu was surprised.

“This is?”

“Roar, roar...”

The noise of the speedboats came.

Hearing that, everyone looked over again.

A large number of speedboats and cruise ships appeared on the sea in the distance.

With a closer look...

These people were from the major forces of various countries.

Little Saint Lord and Tony saw this scene.

They frowned.

The next moment...

All these people flew out of their respective vehicles and tightly surrounded the whole island from all sides.

In the jungle of this island...

Fang Qiu couldn't help smiling wryly again at the sight of this.

He didn't expect many more people would come before he chose the way to dive into the sea.

Great!

The entire island was tightly surrounded.

How could he find a way to escape now?

Without other choices...

Fang Qiu returned to the island's center and hid quietly, thinking about how to deal with the tricky situation.

Before long...

A conversation came from the sky.

"John Doe is hiding on the island and hasn't come out yet?"

"I'm shocked. The well-known John Doe becomes a coward today."

“Humph, does he think we can’t do anything to him when he is hiding on the island?”

“It’s not a good idea to keep guarding like this. He can recover on the island, but it’s strenuous for us to stay in the sky.”

“Find a way to force him out!”

“How?”

“It’s very simple: fire!”

“Burn the whole island. I don’t believe he won’t come out. Even if he can withstand the fire, he will have no place to hide when all the plants on the island are burned to ashes!”

When everyone heard that...

Their eyes lit up.

“What a brilliant idea!

“No matter how mighty John Doe is, he must have an instinctive fear of fire!

“Besides, so many people are around this island. It is impossible for John Doe to escape, even if he is eager to get out.

“Under the fire attack, John Doe will escape. Once he rushes out, he will fall into our trap and immediately be besieged by everyone.

“Even if John Doe forcibly uses the energy shield to resist the fire, the flames can quickly burn everything on the island.

“By then...

“There will be no shelter on the island but only a layer of dust.

“John Doe will have nowhere to hide!”

This proposal was perfect in everyone’s eyes.

Yet...

Little Saint Lord, still with a frown, didn’t look relaxed. He looked hesitated but didn’t say anything or stop the others.

Since Little Saint Lord and these Muricans didn’t intend to stop them...

The one who gave this suggestion darted over and approached the place with the most prosperous plants. There, he waved his right hand.

Instantly, a ball of burning flames formed in his hand.

It was fired as he waved his arm. In an instant, it ignited the dense jungle on the island.

This person...

He was a metahuman of fire element from L’hexagone.

Flames grew. All the people flying high couldn't help sneering while waiting for the fire to force John Doe out. It looked as if everyone was utterly confident that John Doe could not escape.

In the jungle of the island...

"A group of douchebags!"

In his heart, Fang Qiu smiled scornfully and complained.

Almost all the plants on this island were green and luxuriant. Few had withered.

When fresh plants were burnt, the biggest problem was that they would produce a large amount of thick smoke.

And these dense clouds of smoke...

It happened that the smoke could be his cover.

Fang Qiu was not in a hurry.

The fire element metahuman from L'hexagone ignited one side of the island. Afterward, he flew in another direction and set another place on fire before reaching other areas.

Just like that, he quickly made a circle around the island.

Flames were shooting from every part of this island.

Just as Fang Qiu had expected...

Burnt by the raging fire, large amounts of thick smoke immediately came out of these fresh plants, soaring to the sky.

At this moment...

Billowing smoke rose.

Hiding in the center of the island, Fang Qiu saw this scene.

It was about time for him to act.

Right away, he got ready and zoomed toward Tony without using his internal Qi.

He made this choice because at this moment...

The sea wind was blowing toward Tony.

Dense smoke swirled. With the sea wind, thick fumes urged madly toward Tony.

Under cover of the great cloud of smoke...

Fang Qiu quickly came to the reef area with a mass of rocks. Quietly, he threaded between the rocks under thick smoke and sneaked into the sea.

Over there...

Little Saint Lord, raising his eyebrows, had been carefully searching for John Doe's aura with his eyes closed.

However...

When all the plants on the island were burning, he still didn't feel any trace of energy aura related to John Doe. He wrinkled his brows more deeply in concentration.

Fang Qiu slipped into the sea.

Under cover of the rolling thick smoke, Fang Qiu swam fast toward the deep sea. He only depended on his swimming skills and still didn't use any internal Qi.

Autranssy...

"It's time to fire!"

From the satellite, these people in the Autransssian military base saw sheets of flames on the island. Using thermal imaging, they detected a sizeable burning area and mistakenly thought a fierce battle started on the island. On the spot, missiles were fired as ordered.

"Swish, swish, swish..."

Three military bases near the coastline were launched simultaneously.

Three missiles shot at the island from three different angles.

Now that...

All things on the island were almost burned up.

But no one saw John Doe. With curiosity, everyone approached the island, trying to find traces of John Doe.

But just as the group of people landed on the island...

The three missiles arrived!

Chapter 1788 Being Followed All the Time!

In the sea...

“Splash, splash...”

Deep in the sea, Fang Qiu stuck to the bottom of the sea. By vigorously waving his arms, he swam forward at a breakneck speed. He was even much faster than those frightened sea creatures around him.

“These people came just in time.”

Fang Qiu couldn't help laughing secretly.

In the beginning...

He had to take a considerable risk to jump off the 70-meter cliff before he could enter the sea.

In that case, he was absolutely certain that he would be discovered.

To his surprise...

These people coming here chose to set a fire!

They helped John Doe escape, didn't they?

For those people from different countries and forces, setting a fire was a perfect way to force John Doe out. But it was also an ideal chance to escape in John Doe's eyes.

Fang Qiu couldn't help laughing. The people of the major forces and countries were still waiting for Fang Qiu to leave the island to escape from the fire.

He couldn't use his internal Qi to speed up, but he escaped joyfully.

"Rumble!!!"

Suddenly, an enormous explosion came when Fang Qiu fled more than 100 meters away.

Even though he was in the deep sea...

Fang Qiu could still hear the loud explosion. It sounded a little dull in the water.

...

On the island...

These people from various countries and forces had just landed there. In shock, they saw three missiles falling from the sky before they could react!

High up in the sky...

Tony's two subordinates had been killed in a row. As the Murica group's leader, Tony remained cautious this time and did not rush to the island in the first place with others.

Little Saint Lord and the two Nirvana members in black also stayed put.

They had witnessed the strange thing when the two men got killed without making a sound.

This was why they had never dared to search for John Doe on the island.

These people of various countries and forces could sound out the situation for them.

They wanted to see how John Doe would slaughter them on the island. In passing, they could find out where John Doe was.

To their astonishment...

Before John Doe made a move, the missiles arrived!

These people deserved to die.

Little Saint Lord laughed grimly.

Tony also laughed out loud.

They knew these people must have hurried over after receiving the news. Since Little Saint Lord and these Muricans might snatch the Yuan Yang Fruit from John Doe first, they anxiously set fire to the island as soon as they arrived. When the fire died, they all rushed to find John Doe and gain the initiative.

But it was a tragedy that...

They didn't notice something critical — obviously, the Autranssy authorities deliberately leaked the news that John Doe was on this island.

These Autransssian officials got the news but did not send anyone over. How could this matter not be fishy?

About this...

Even Little Saint Lord didn't expect it.

In his mind, they could completely get rid of the Autranssy authorities when getting close to the high seas.

Unexpectedly, these Autransssian officials sent missiles here.

They must be mad to carry on such a frantic wrecking activity!

"John Doe, it's time for you to show up, isn't it?"

High in the sky, Little Saint Lord squinted at the island like a battlefield below. The fire had burnt it black.

These plants had nearly been burnt to ashes. Bombarded by the missiles, they turned into a layer of black fragments covering the island.

When he looked around...

These lush and luxuriant plants even reached places 70 meters high. Yet, they were all in a hideous mess now.

The explosion tore three holes in the island with unique terrain.

It looked like a newly opened quarry.

The entire island had almost lost all its cover, turning into pitch-black.

In this case, John Doe could hardly find a place to hide.

Not to mention that...

The power of three missiles should never be underestimated.

Even if John Doe was not seriously injured, they must have slightly wounded him, at least.

As such...

Little Saint Lord felt John Doe was doomed to die!

Somewhere else...

“Swoosh.”

Just as the reverberation of the explosion passed, Tony flashed aside and rushed onto the island in an instant.

He saw the scene.

The three missiles hurt most of the people of the significant forces and countries from all over the world.

It was the best time to weaken these forces!

Muricans died. How could the people of other countries stay sound and safe?

At this time...

They could see the situation on the island from the sky. But since the island was filled with smoke, they could hardly see the surroundings after entering it.

In the air, Tony had clearly observed the situation on the island and found those seriously injured people. Without hesitation, he charged at them.

These people...

These missiles caught them off guard and caused severe internal injuries. While waiting for help, they didn't even have the strength to save themselves, not to mention running for their lives.

As Tony approached them in this situation, these people knew they were closer to death.

Wherever he went, people would die.

When his figure flickered around, he kept stabbing these injured people to kill them.

Very soon...

In the blink, many people from various forces had lost their lives.

In particular, under the cover of the smoke, these people from major forces and countries didn't know Tony had murdered their people.

Little Saint Lord also saw what Tony was doing.

But he did not disturb him.

Instead, he just watched with a sneer, waiting for John Doe to appear.

He watched for a long time.

In the end, Tony returned from the island. The people below who were not seriously injured recovered from the shock brought by the heavy bombardment. When the smoke there had dissipated entirely...

Little Saint Lord's face changed.

He still didn't see John Doe. Even if he concentrated his spiritual force to feel his aura, he didn't sense any energy aura related to John Doe.

They started the fire and delivered missiles.

How could John Doe make no move at all?

Swoosh!

With a thought in his mind, Little Saint Lord immediately rushed to the island and carefully searched the entire island. However, he still didn't find John Doe or even a trace of his energy aura.

"John Doe escaped?"

Little Saint Lord's face clouded.

Since John Doe landed on the island, he had thoroughly thought about every detail, leaving John Doe no chance to flee.

Despite all his efforts...

Since John Doe landed here, he had been watching the entire island. But John Doe vanished under his eyes.

He disappeared without a trace as if he had never existed!

“Why would this happen?”

“Where exactly did John Doe go?”

“How did John Doe leave this island? When did he escape?”

Little Saint Lord narrowed his eyes and began to think with an ugly expression.

“Fire?”

He thought back on the whole matter.

Little Saint Lord found the only possible mistake: the fire set by this group of people!

Back then...

He wanted to organize these people to act.

But on second thought, setting fire to the island was a good idea. So many people surrounded this island. Under the gaze of so many people, John Doe wouldn't get a chance to escape.

“He must have escaped at that time!”

Little Saint Lord clenched his fists angrily with a long face.

He had waited for so long for this clever plan.

But John Doe successfully ran away because of this mishap?

In a rage...

Little Saint Lord immediately looked around.

But he didn't see anyone suspicious.

"Um?"

After observing for a while, Little Saint Lord suddenly froze and looked down at the sea around the island.

He found that...

The sea monsters that had been moving restlessly around the island disappeared.

No one knew when they went away.

Notably...

There was no movement in all directions.

They seemed to have gone far away!

“Has John Doe also entered the sea?”

Little Saint Lord became even more speechless.

That was to say...

John Doe escaped under his nose.

The more he thought about it, the more annoyed he became.

How could John Doe escape without noticing under the eyes of such a large group?

Even worse...

They didn't even notice the disappearance of these sea monsters.

...

Deep in the sea...

Fang Qiu could swim very fast.

Besides...

When he escaped, the island vibrated violently because of the explosion, bringing up huge waves in the sea.

Moving along with these high waves, Fang Qiu advanced much faster.

Fang Qiu didn't know where he had fled to.

Anyway, he had been observing with his Divine Consciousness.

When Little Saint Lord and others were completely out of the range of his Divine Consciousness, Fang Qiu breathed a sigh of relief.

This time...

He finally shook them off.

He was more than 80 kilometers away from them. Even with his extraordinary abilities, Little Saint Lord couldn't sense his energy aura.

Fang Qiu popped his head out of the seawater and deeply breathed. After activating his energy, he went on moving quickly toward his unknown destination.

At present...

Fang Qiu didn't dare to change his direction at will.

It was easy to get lost in the sea.

He might run back to Little Saint Lord and others if he went in the wrong direction.

With the help of energy, Fang Qiu quickly flew above the sea surface.

Suddenly...

"Splash, splash, splash..."

Something split the water.

Hearing the sound, Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows and immediately turned to look back.

To his surprise...

Layers of lightning flashed in the sea behind him.

“Is it the giant electric eel?”

As expected...

With a crash...

The giant electric eel broke out of the water with a loud bang.

It was spinning, making the surrounding seawater rotate rapidly. In the end, a vast vortex formed.

“Swoosh!”

As soon as it appeared, the electric eel roared fiercely at Fang Qiu.

“This fellow has been following me the entire time?”

Fang Qiu exclaimed in shock.

He remembered it very clearly.

It had been slithering restlessly around the island.

Since he saw it here, it must have followed him all the way.

Notably...

Though it was going after him, Fang Qiu didn't notice it.

This was a little scary.

"What a pity."

Fang Qiu shook his head and sighed softly.

He believed this electric eel had high intelligence. Otherwise, it couldn't have quietly followed him for so long. Besides, it should have taken a beating from Little Saint Lord. So, it had no guts to lure him here. It dared not show up until it arrived at the safe zone.

Even though it was intelligent, it was still a vicious beast.

"Screech!"

There!

Before Fang Qiu did anything...

The giant electric eel immediately let out a sharp scream. Covered with a layer of lightning, it opened its large fierce-looking mouth and pounced on Fang Qiu to bite him.

Chapter 1789 Meeting An Old Friend Again!

“Fight and win the battle quickly!”

Fang Qiu flashed aside and dodged the attack of the electric eel.

Then he clenched his right hand.

The divine sword instantly took shape in his hand.

The next moment...

“Whiz!”

A sword cry rang out, and a golden ray of sword light flew out of the sword.

In a split second, it slashed at the electric eel that had missed its target.

The electric eel suddenly turned around.

As it saw the golden sword radiance, flashes of lightning around it gathered fast into its mouth. A thunderball was then formed. Then it was fiercely shot to hit the golden sword light.

But the next second...

That lightning ball, like a block of tofu...

It was chopped into two halves by the golden ray of sword light Fang Qiu had released. Then, the sharp sword light moved on and rushed toward the electric eel.

In the face of danger...

The electric eel squeaked nervously and turned around in an attempt to escape.

However, the sword light zipped swiftly.

In the blink, it slammed against the monster.

It happened to hit the wound left by Little Saint Lord.

“Whiz!”

An incomparably crisp sound of slashing was heard.

Almost in an instant, the golden sword light cut the giant electric eel in half!

The electric eel died before it even knew what had happened.

The moment Fang Qiu slew the electric eel.

He vigilantly looked back. No one had noticed the fight and was chasing after him. Only then did he feel a little relieved.

When he loosened his grip on the long sword, the divine sword immediately shattered and disappeared into thin air.

Just then...

Suddenly...

“Buzz...”

Under Fang Qiu’s feet, water currents on the sea were suddenly stirred up and began to rotate.

He looked down.

Over there...

A huge black shadow rose to the surface of the sea.

“Um?”

Fang Qiu raised his surprised eyebrows.

The next moment...

“Splash!”

A thick water column lunged upward from the rotating seawater and bloomed before Fang Qiu, sending up pearly spray.

Below him, an immense black shadow floated up to the sea surface.

Oh, this was it!

“Hi, my old friend.”

When the enormous black shadow emerged from the sea, Fang Qiu couldn’t help laughing.

Indeed...

Surprisingly, what appeared before him was the whale he knew. It had carried him back and forth in the sea several times!

At this time, the whale opened its mouth. When it swallowed a large quantity of water, it also gulped the two body parts of the electric eel.

Its mouth was big enough to take the eel in one swallow.

Fang Qiu watched all this with a smile. When the high water column bloomed before he dissipated, he moved and quickly landed on the whale's back as before.

"Screech..."

The whale made a sound like a steam whistle. Fang Qiu could tell it was very excited.

It seemed to thank Fang Qiu for the eel. Every time it met him, something good would happen.

"Old friend, I'll have to trouble you again this time."

Fang Qiu smiled and patted the whale on the back. Then, pointing to the north, he said, "Go straight this way!"

"Tweet!"

The whale responded and set off in the direction that Fang Qiu pointed.

...

On the high seas...

Above the island belonging to Autranssy...

Everyone searched the island carefully for a long time, but they still couldn't find any trace of John Doe.

They knew John Doe must have run away.

This result...

It was unacceptable to the people of all countries.

However, they had to face reality no matter how hard it was for them to accept it.

It was because they were the ones who caused this disaster!

John Doe would never have escaped if they hadn't set fire to the island.

No one had expected that.

Shame on the Autranssy authorities! How could they launch a missile at this time?

Tony killed those people in the smoke brought by the missile explosion. As such, people from various countries and forces thought that they were bombarded to death by missiles.

Therefore, they put all the blame on the Autranssy authorities.

However, they had no way to ask for an explanation from these Autranssian officials.

When Little Saint Lord and Tony blamed the people from various countries and forces, their faces darkened, but they couldn't deny it.

On reflection, they realized their action must have given John Doe a chance to escape.

However, no one knew exactly what had happened.

Without other choices...

After a thorough investigation, they confirmed that John Doe was no longer on this island. This group of people could only go back to the Atransian continent.

After all, this continent was the closest to them.

It would take a long time for them to cross the high seas and return to other countries.

There would be no place for them to rest on the way. Besides, all kinds of vehicles brought by these forces and countries were also blown up by missiles, so they could only fly back.

When they flew in the air...

Everyone, including Little Saint Lord, was in a mess.

Back to the Atransian continent, they were so exhausted that they nearly fainted.

...

In the north of the sea...

The whale carried Fang Qiu to the north.

After some time...

They finally came across a ship on the boundless and empty sea.

It was not a cruise ship.

Instead, it looked like a very solid wooden boat.

It seemed to be a cargo ship too.

“Okay.”

Seeing the boat in the distance, Fang Qiu patted the whale’s back and said, “Old friend, I have to say goodbye to you now. I should go.”

“Tweet!”

The whale let out a whistle.

Fang Qiu flew up and zipped to the boat ahead.

Meanwhile...

The whale spat out another water column as if it was sending Fang Qiu off happily.

The boat seemed very far away, but at full speed, Fang Qiu soon reached its back.

He slightly lowered himself.

Moving at an astonishing speed close to the sea surface, Fang Qiu came to the stern of the boat. Then he quietly leaped up to the boat and rushed into the warehouse at a breakneck speed.

In the cargo hold...

Fang Qiu found a place to hide first.

He had restored his internal Qi on the whale's back and didn't need to recover at this time. After sitting down in the boat, he immediately closed his eyes and meditated. He concentrated his mind and covered the whole boat with his Divine Consciousness.

No matter how big the ship was, it didn't occupy an area with a radius of 100 meters.

Under his Divine Consciousness...

Fang Qiu saw everything on the whole boat very clearly.

It was indeed a cargo ship.

But...

There were quite a lot of people on this ship, and it carried a lot of goods.

After thorough research, Fang Qiu found the people on this boat seemed to be speaking the language of Philippeanes.

Fang Qiu had stayed in Philippeanes for a period.

Thus, he was familiar with the language in Philippeanes and could understand part of it.

Before long...

Fang Qiu learned that...

The boat's destination was Southeast Aesia.

"Although it's not heading for Huaxia, its destination is not far away from Huaxia. It's just right to go with this boat."

After Fang Qiu confirmed the destination...

He was relieved. Hiding all his aura, he closed his eyes to rest in the cabin.

According to the information he got...

It would take about ten days for the boat to reach Southeast Aesia.

It wouldn't be a long journey.

On the other side...

Half a day later, Little Saint Lord and the people of various countries and forces eventually return to the Atranssy continent.

When they returned to the Atranssy continent...

Little Saint Lord and the others did not dare return from North Island and Southwest Island. Instead, they changed to a new direction and landed on the coastline away from cities.

When they arrived in a small town...

They came across a parade.

Well...

Different from the previous parades...

Everyone in this town was excited as if they were celebrating something.

“What are you doing? Why are you at a parade?”

An Anglanish curiously stopped a marcher and asked.

“We’re celebrating.”

The marcher looked excitedly and exalted, saying, “The leader fell out of power. Our leader has been impeached and ousted from power. Now we should call him the former leader. His misfortune is the luckiest thing for our country!”

Everyone heard it.

“The Autransian leader was impeached and dethroned?”

This news...

It relaxed these people of all the forces and countries.

They didn't want to return to Autranssy, but they had no choice. Otherwise, they would die of exhaustion on the sea.

They had thought that...

When they came back, the Autranssy authorities would go against them and even bomb them.

Luckily...

It appeared that...

Since such a big event took place in Autranssy, no one would care about them.

This time...

They could finally rest in Autranssy for a few days.

Would they go back? Well, it depended on whether they could find more news about John Doe.

They walked out of the town.

The people of the various forces and countries separated and left in different directions. They didn't know each other's plans.

Since they had joined forces, Tony, Murica's representative, certainly chose to stay with Little Saint Lord and the others.

Soon...

This group came to a large coastal city.

“Young Lord.”

Just as Little Saint Lord was about to find a hotel to stay in, Tony called out and asked, “This time, is it really impossible for you to find where John Doe is hiding?”

“That may not be the case.”

Little Saint Lord shook his head and said, “Three days. I can check it out in three days!”

“Really?”

Tony’s eyes lit up.

“I’m sure.”

Little Saint Lord nodded affirmatively.

“Alright.”

Tony immediately replied, “Well, let’s part ways here. I’ll come to you in three days!”

“Okay.”

Little Saint Lord nodded matter-of-factly. Then, with two subordinates, he walked into the most luxurious hotel in the local area.

Tony squinted at Little Saint Lord’s back.

Why would he follow Little Saint Lord?

Little Saint Lord grasped Huaxia's Eight Trigrams Divination, so he could find where John Doe was hiding.

If Tony hadn't seen it with his own eyes, he wouldn't have followed Little Saint Lord here.

After all...

He had to consider his safety.

Nirvana Organization showed the world a kind face, but how could Muricans not know what kind of organization it was?

Besides...

Except for himself, all the people sent by Murica were dead.

To avoid any accidents in the next three days, he would rather hide in a place alone than do anything dangerous!

Here...

Little Saint Lord came to the hotel room. Through the floor-to-ceiling window, he looked in the direction Tony had left, and a meaningful look emerged on his face.

Chapter 1790 Actually, I Have No Choice Either

The time...

The time passed quickly without people noticing it.

In the three days, the whole Autranssy was in a festive atmosphere.

Very few people paid attention to the forces of various countries and forces. Many people even forgot about the Yuan Yang Fruit. Mason and others had been paying attention to this matter. But then, the country leader was brought down. After John Doe vanished, people from all the forces and various countries also disappeared from the sea. Since these news pieces soon spread widely, they gradually relaxed and no longer paid attention to this matter.

The news that their leader was forced out of power generated a barrage of online comments. It became a hot topic during people's leisure time.

According to the media, the former leader of Autranssy was the evildoer who ate his bitter fruit.

In the meanwhile...

In a luxurious hotel in a medium-sized city in Autranssy...

After three days of rest, Little Saint Lord had finally recovered to his peak. The negative influence of using the forbidden skill was also eliminated.

"Knock, knock, knock..."

There was a knock on the door.

Little Saint Lord had been sitting in the living room with his eyes closed. Hearing someone knock on the door, he raised his eyebrows and opened his eyes, revealing an unusual smile.

"Open the door."

Little Saint Lord said to a black-robed man standing aside.

The man in black immediately stepped forward to open the door.

As he opened the door...

A familiar figure appeared before them.

It was Tony, the leader of the group from Murica.

“Young Lord.”

As the door opened, Tony stepped in without ceremony. Walking toward Little Saint Lord, he said, “Three days have passed. I wonder if you have found John Doe.”

“There’s still one thing missing.”

Looking at Tony, Little Saint Lord said with a faint smile.

“What is it?”

Tony asked in surprise.

“You!”

Little Saint Lord pointed at Tony.

“You’re indeed a man of your word.”

Tony gave a loud guffaw and said, "It seems I'm still of some value to you. Otherwise, you wouldn't have waited for me instead of looking for John Doe."

Tony spoke with a smug look.

In his opinion...

Little Saint Lord was not entirely confident he could kill John Doe. Thus, he didn't start looking for John Doe before he came.

After all, he also found something. After Little Saint Lord used Eight Trigrams Divination, the forbidden skill, he behaved abnormally on the way to chase John Doe.

His abnormal behavior didn't look conspicuous, but it would be his fatal weakness in a life-and-death battle!

Therefore, Tony believed Little Saint Lord would suffer from the side effects after he again located John Doe with this method.

And he could make up this shortcoming of Little Saint Lord.

If one person couldn't do it, then there could be two!

The two of them surely would defeat John Doe.

"Now that you're here, I can get started."

Little Saint Lord nodded and stood up.

"Then let's begin!"

Tony was too impatient to wait.

“Come here first and sit down.”

Little Saint Lord came to the center of the living room. Pointing to the ground, he said to Tony.

“Do you need me to do that?”

Tony was startled.

“Of course. I can’t do it without you.”

Little Saint Lord smiled and said.

When Tony heard that...

He smiled.

Sure enough, he was crucial to Little Saint Lord.

Since he was so important, Little Saint Lord would never bear to hurt him.

Tony didn’t expect himself to be a treasure to Little Saint Lord!

With this idea...

Tony didn’t hesitate to follow his instructions. Walking to the center of the living room, he sat down there.

After Tony took his seat...

Little Saint Lord immediately took action.

A stream of grayish-white energy enveloped the two fingers of his right hand. He reached the ground and quickly drew an Eight Trigrams pattern with Tony as the center.

Outside the pattern, he drew a reverse Eight Trigrams pattern!

"This is?"

Tony asked with a puzzled face.

He looked a little hesitant as if he had sensed something unusual.

"This is a Fortune-telling Eight Diagrams!"

Little Saint Lord replied.

"Last time, you used this method on yourself, didn't you? And I haven't ever learned it. Is it okay for me to sit inside?"

Tony asked.

"Don't worry. You'll be fine."

Little Saint Lord walked over. Raising his right hand, he patted Tony's shoulder lightly.

Tony knitted his brows.

He immediately turned to look back.

As a result, he saw signs of change after Little Saint Lord patted him on the shoulder twice. The grayish-white energy circling his two fingers instantly condensed into an incomparably sharp dagger and stabbed straight at his back.

“What the hell are you doing?”

Tony’s face fell drastically. In a hurry, he reached out to block the incoming attack.

Just then...

“Boom!”

A monstrous cloud of energy Qi power abruptly erupted from Little Saint Lord. Like a tremendous mountain, it fiercely pressed down on Tony, who was extremely panicked.

This enormous pressure paled Tony.

He had no idea what was going on!

Under considerable strain, he had lost the sense of resistance. With a puzzled look, he watched Little Saint Lord mercilessly penetrate his back with the dagger transformed from the grayish-white energy.

“Clack.”

After a small click...

The dagger went straight into Tony.

Then...

Little Saint Lord loosened his right hand.

The dagger dispersed into gray-white energy and returned, lingering around him.

Although Tony could not see his back, he felt an agonizing and unbearable tearing pain radiating wildly all over his body from there.

The most terrific thing was...

He could feel his blood constantly flowing from the cut on his back!

He was flustered.

He wanted to break free.

However, when he tried to stand up, he found a highly feeble feeling all over his body, as if all his energy had been drained.

Just now, the pattern around him drawn by Little Saint Lord gradually lit up. It turned red and then black.

On the ground...

The blood gushing out from his back connected to the pattern on the ground.

He seemed to be the provider of the energy of the pattern on the ground.

“Don’t be frightened.”

Little Saint Lord stood before Tony and smiled. “You won’t feel too much pain. When I begin to operate, your life will be instantly absorbed. At that time, I can clearly see where John Doe is without hurting myself.”

“Don’t worry. When I find John Doe, I will fulfill your wish and kill John Doe to avenge you!”

When Tony heard this...

His face was filled with panic.

“Why? Why me?”

Tony asked in a tearful voice, “I’m your friend, an ally. Why me? You can find someone else. Why would you choose me?”

Little Saint Lord frowned and squatted down beside Tony.

“Honestly, I also have no other choice.”

Little Saint Lord shook his head and sighed softly. “All your subordinates are dead. I’ve also considered looking for other targets, but unfortunately, they haven’t cultivated the speed-up method. Only you Muricans have done it. You’re the only one who has survived after cultivating the speed-up technique. So, only you are qualified to sit in this position!”

When he finished speaking...

Tony was stupefied.

Eventually, he figured it out.

He finally understood it.

Nirvana Organization shared the speed-up technique with the world, not because they were generous and kind, but because they had greater hidden ambition!

Anyone who practiced the speed-up technique would be helpful to them?

At this moment...

Tony seemed to see the dreadful future. Nirvana Organization ruled the whole world and wantonly trampled on the sovereignty of Murica!

Knowing how important it was to send this message out, he was eager to release this news. He must tell his country about this and stop Nirvana Organization.

Unfortunately, he couldn't make it.

He didn't have the strength to do that.

On the ground, the pattern flashing black and red finally stabilized. One half became red, and the other black.

"I think, it's time."

Little Saint Lord stood up with a smile.

As Tony looked at him aghast, Little Saint Lord clapped his right hand and clawed at Tony's head.

The next second...

The Eight Trigrams pattern on the ground shone brightly!

Tony was pinned down and couldn't move at all. But at this moment, he couldn't help trembling all over. Several beams of light suddenly emerged from his chest. Like knives and swords, they pierced through him.

Fresh blood continuously flowed out from the wounds pierced by the light beams and spread out to the ground. All of it was completely absorbed by the glowing pattern!

Very soon...

With many bleeding wounds...

Though he was a vampire, Tony didn't hold on for long and trembled. When the blood in his veins dried up, he lost consciousness.

He was dead!

In the meantime...

Little Saint Lord took out a rag and threw it into the formation.

With a closer look, this rag seemed to be from Fang Qiu's clothes when he disguised himself in the desert town. It must have fallen off when he fought with Little Saint Lord for the first time.

The rags entered the formation and instantly collapsed.

Meanwhile...

The red and black light also shot up in an instant. In no time, a small Eight Trigrams pattern was formed and went straight into the space between Little Saint Lord's eyebrows.

The next moment...

Upon closer inspection...

One after another, different scenes appeared on the energy layer that completely covered his eyes.

Little Saint Lord saw these images.

He couldn't help but smile a little.

After a while...

As the red and black energy in his eyes faded, the smile on his face also faded.

"He's actually heading north!"

"Prepare to escape to Southeast Aesia?"

"I told you, John Doe, you can never escape!"

"When you get to Southeast Aesia, I'll give you a big surprise. Gee, gee..."

With this...

Little Saint Lord waved his right hand.

A gust of grayish-white energy swept out, covering Tony's dry corpse drained of blood. Then, it turned into a sheet of white flame and quickly burned Tony's body into ash all over the ground.

From an open window, a violent wind blew on the ash all over the ground, sweeping it away.
