Chapter 831: Heavy Rain! End of Shooting?

“Coconut fiber, bring some coconut fiber.”

When the withered grass caught fire, the others shouted in surprise. Soon, coconut fiber was set on fire. Fang Qiu carefully put the coconut fiber into the hole he had dug in advance, and then put some dry branches on it to let the fire burn completely.

“Fang Qiu, you are awesome.”

Ying'er gave Fang Qiu a thumbs up. It was the first time she had ever seen someone light a fire in this way in wilderness survival. In other similar shows, the fire was lit either by drilling wood or bringing their flint. This was the first time she had seen it, and it seemed much simpler and more practical than drilling logs to make fire.

“Cracking...”

Fang Qiu breathed a sigh of relief when the fire was in full swing, and said, “Next, we have to have someone guard the fire. Don’t let the fire go out.”

“That’s for sure.”

Liu Qingshi said happily, “Everyone is hungry. Since there is no pot, let’s just start grilling. Just use a wooden stick!”

“No.” Fang Qiu immediately shook his head to stop him, and said, “The sea wind on this island is too strong, and some burnt wood ash will blow up. It is not good for your health if you accidentally eat it, and if you grill it directly, you can’t control the temperature and it is easy to waste ingredients.

“But we don’t have a pot. What else can we do if we don’t grill it?” Ying’er asked.

“It’s simple.” Fang Qiu smiled slightly, and said, “Isn’t it just a pot? Didn’t the ancients eat cooked food without a pot?”

“Wait, I’ll make the pot for you.”

With that, Fang Qiu smiled mysteriously and immediately walked towards the beach. When he circled the island in the morning, he had found a pile of rubble on a rocky beach. He didn’t know who made it. There was a pile of rubble on the seashore. Someone probably had piled it up when he came to the island to play. There were still many stones scattered around.

When he came to this place, Fang Qiu didn’t go to the high pile of rocks. Instead, he went around and found a round stone slab about half a meter in diameter. He washed it clean with sea water and brought it back.

“Where did you find it?” Seeing the slab, everyone was stunned.

The stone slab was very thin, with a thickness of fewer than two centimeters.

“Over there.” Fang Qiu pointed to the stone pile, and then said, “Isn’t this just a ready-made pot? Can you imagine eating a slab barbecue on this uninhabited island?”

Everyone started to lick their lips before they could answer. Soon, they found four stones to support the four corners of the slab to raise it, left fire holes on all sides, and started to barbecue while filling the wood.

The ingredients had been washed in advance, so everyone just picked them up and put them on the slab. As for shark fin, since the shark was rotten after being left overnight and attracted many flies, Zheng Weilian decided to throw the shark away after discussing it.

While they were grilling, Huang Huachao and Ying’er brought fresh water. Everyone enjoyed the meal.

"Come." When eating, Liu Qingshi specifically beckoned to several PDs to come forward to take a good shot, and said, "Look carefully. When you go back to edit, don't forget to show it to Liu Guobin. He will be pissed off!"

"Liu Guobin, didn't you expect it?" Gu Jianguo grinned, and said to the camera, "We've survived with no pot or fire, haha!"

Soon, after they had a nice meal, they patted their belly with satisfaction. They were lying on the beach and enjoying the pleasant afternoon sun, and even started their lunch break.

However, just when everyone was enjoying the sun bathing comfortably and about to fall asleep, Fang Qiu suddenly sat upright with a cry, and said while looking up at the sky, "I feel that there may be rain tonight, and it's heavy rain!" After he said it, others raised their heads to look at Fang Qiu in surprise, and then looked up at the cloudless sky.

"No way?" Liu Qingshi said.

"Look, the sky is cloudless. It doesn't look like rain at all?" Huang Huachao was also confused.

"How can it rain in this weather?" Gu Jianguo seemed to have just woken up from the nap, and looked at Fang Qiu in a daze, "It won't rain, right?"

Ying'er frowned and said, "I heard that the weather on the sea changes very quickly. Maybe it will rain. But if it rains, it will be terrible. We don't have any rain gear, and we can't stay outside overnight."

At this time, "there is no rain," A PD saw that everyone started to panic, and immediately said, "I have checked it, and I am sure that there is no rain."

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief. Fang Qiu raised his eyebrows again and said, "The weather forecast says there is no rain in this area. It does not mean that there is no rain near the island. I feel it will rain."

Hearing his words, everyone was puzzled.

"The weather is so good, and PD also said that there is no rain. How can you tell that there is rain?" Liu Qingshi asked.

"I feel it." Fang Qiu shrugged.

He just felt it, and of course, everyone did not believe it. They continued to relax and sunbathe. Wearing sunglasses, Liu Qingshi wandered next to Fang Qiu, but he patted his belly and read doggerel, "Bighead, don't worry about rain. Others have umbrellas, while I have Fang Qiu."

After hearing his recital, everyone laughed, and they all recited after him.

Fang Qiu could only smile silently. Everyone thought he was just talking nonsense and worrying too much. But he felt that it might rain.

As a master, he was very sensitive to the weather.

However, seeing that everyone didn't take it seriously, Fang Qiu didn't say any more. After all, judging from the current weather conditions, there was no sign of rain. But when the sun was about to set, the clear sky suddenly became gloomy with the advent of the sunset, and the sea breeze that had felt comfortable under the shining of the sun also became shady.

Looking at the sky that suddenly became gloomy, they felt a sense of wind and rain. The sudden change of weather shocked everyone.

"D*mn, is it raining?" Liu Qingshi was dumbfounded.

"The damn weather, how can it change so suddenly?" Gu Jianguo was also dumbfounded.

"It's over. We don't have any rain gear, and we still wear little clothes. If the rain is heavy, how can we stand it?" Ying'er started to panic.

Indeed, they wore too little. If the rain was heavy, they would not be able to hold on, and the shooting would not be possible. The most important thing was that the clothes she was wearing were beach casual clothes. When the rain came, her figure would be fully exposed under the wet clothes and even the color of her underwear would be seen by others. The directors were also confused.

Before they came, they had carefully checked and determined that there would be no rain on this uninhabited island, so they had arranged for the three days and two nights of island survival. If they had known it was going to rain, they certainly wouldn't have sent the six MCs to the island wearing so little clothes.

They were surprised. Director Liu Guobin immediately called the local guide.

However, he learned from the tour guide that the rain came suddenly, a local thunderstorm. After he heard the news, the director team was even more anxious.

What should they do?

When he was nervous, Liu Guobin immediately contacted the four PDs on the island through his headset, and said, "According to the local guide, this rain is a sudden thunderstorm. You can discuss this with MCs and the guests. If they are willing to continue, we will continue and we will find a way to overcome the difficulty. But if they cannot continue, we will leave as soon as possible."

Soon, four PDs asked the MCs. Ying'er wanted to leave quickly at first, but then Liu Qingshi and others all shook their heads to express their unwillingness to leave.

On second thought, Ying'er realized that this was a rare opportunity to present a positive image to the public, and the show also conveyed positive energy that no matter what difficulties one encountered, one must face them bravely.

Finally, after careful discussion, they unanimously chose not to quit.

"Tell the director." Liu Qingshi spoke on behalf of everyone, "Since we are here, we will never give up. No matter what suffering we will encounter, we will stand up to it. Isn't it just wind and rain? No big deal!"

Although everyone seemed to be quite perseverant on the surface, they secretly complained.

“Son of a b*tch, it’s too late to leave now. As long as we can survive tonight, we will leave in the morning tomorrow. Isn’t it just one night? It will pass soon.”

Fang Qiu looked up at the rolling dark clouds in the sky.

He thought to himself, the storm was not a trivial matter!

“The station is not going to work. We should quickly find a cave to take shelter from the rain. Remember to bring the fire. Fire can repel insects and ensure the temperature.” Fang Qiu reminded.

“Is there a cave on this island?” Everyone frowned solemnly.

“This island is quite big.” Fang Qiu said, “We have been here for so long, and we haven’t gone deep into it. If we want to stay, we have to go in and look for one. Even if we can’t find a cave, the big trees inside can at least protect us from most of the wind and rain.”

Everyone nodded clearly.

“Let’s go. I’m ahead, you follow me.”

Fang Qiu waved his hand and said, “You may not know that some of the animals are poisonous. Just follow me. Don’t walk around.” Others immediately lined up and followed Fang Qiu obediently.

Fang Qiu picked up a wooden stick and walked towards the depths of the island. As he walked, he beat around with the stick, trying to scare away poisonous animals such as snakes, insects, rats, and ants. There was no need for sticks at all.

All the movement around was under Fang Qiu’s control. The stick was only used to help him behave more like an ordinary person.

As they walked, “Do not move!” Fang Qiu suddenly said.

Everyone screamed and stopped. All of them froze in situ.

“What’s happening?” Liu Qingshi asked.

Fang Qiu didn’t answer him. He walked straight to the big tree in front. When everyone was puzzled, he slammed his hand and quickly grabbed a snake out of a thorny bush next to the big tree!

Chapter 832: You Have the Food and You Are the Boss

“What!!!”

The scream of surprise rang under the gloomy sky in the jungle on the island, which was wet and dense. Seeing the snake in Fang Qiu’s hand, Song Yaqi and Ying’er went pale in an instant, and the two of them were so scared that they hugged each other tightly and did not dare to look at it.

The faces of the five male MCs also changed in shock.

It was just that their surprise wasn’t as obvious as the two girls.

“It’s not poisonous. Don’t be afraid.” Seeing that the two girls were scared, Fang Qiu hurriedly comforted them and then quickly threw the snake far away.

“Go on,” Fang Qiu said.

Others continued to follow him and walked into the depths of the jungle.

It was just that now everyone was more cautious than before. Every time they took a step, they would carefully look at the situation around their steps before they dared to take afoot.

Only a few steps away, there suddenly came a sound of rapid footsteps.

A PD who had been following by the side of the team rushed to Fang Qiu, and said with embarrassment, "Sorry, I didn't take it just now. Can you find another snake to show it again?"

Hearing his request, Fang Qiu was speechless.

"How desperately do you want attention?"

With a wry smile, Fang Qiu said, "Let me see if there are any more snakes."

With that, he moved on.

As they walked on, everyone found that the terrain was getting higher and higher, and there were no more snakes, insects, rats, ants or the like.

"I see it. I see it." Gu Jianguo, who was walking in second place of the team, suddenly started shouting. While yelling, he pointed his fingers diagonally forward and said, "There is a big hole there. I saw a cave under that big hole."

"Good." Fang Qiu nodded, and said, "I saw it too, but it's not a hole. It's a small strait."

Fang Qiu immediately led everyone over.

They came nearer and found that it was a sunken trumpet-shaped terrain, which was connected to the sea outside, with a layer of shallow water and many reefs in sight.

There was a hole inside. The hole was very big, three to four meters high, and it was dark inside, so they couldn't see anything.

"Great." Seeing the cave, Ying'er finally breathed a sigh of relief. She immediately grabbed Song Yaqi and said, "The cave is big enough for all of us. We won't be afraid of the heavy rain."

Song Yaqi smiled and nodded. Liu Qingshi had found a wooden stick and said to Fang Qiu as he walked to him, "How about we men go in together to see what's going on inside?"

"Don't go in." Fang Qiu immediately stopped him and said, "I'll go in and take a look. You all stay away from the entrance. I don't know what's inside. Maybe if I go in, there will be something running out of it."

Hearing his words, everyone quickly spread out to both sides of the hole.

"Can you do it alone?" Liu Qingshi looked at Fang Qiu with some worry.

"I'll be fine." Fang Qiu smiled and nodded. He gave Liu Qingshi an affirmative look, and then said to the program team behind, "Give me the flashlight."

The people of program team responded quickly and handed him the flashlight.

"Wait." Just when Fang Qiu was about to go in, Liu Qingshi suddenly grabbed him and said, "It seems that the cave is very dangerous. Don't take the risk!"

"It's okay." Fang Qiu smiled and said, "Since I'm here, I have to take good care of you. I have one more identity now, your bodyguard."

"Then I will go with you." Liu Qingshi said.

"No need." Fang Qiu shook his head and said, "I can do it by myself. I can take care of myself, but I may not be able to take care of you later."

Liu Qingshi was embarrassed. But on second thought, Fang Qiu was someone who had even dared to fight with sharks.

There should be no problem for him to go into the cave.

“Well, be careful.” Liu Qingshi said.

“Okay.” Fang Qiu nodded and walked into the cave, holding a flashlight in one hand and a handheld camera in the other. Under the light of the flashlight, he could see all kinds of mosquitoes, snakes, and insects in this cave. There were also large swaths of bats hanging upside down on the top of the cave.

“Ah!” Walking to the center of the cave, Fang Qiu yelled fiercely.

While the roar spread, the qi in his body swayed away.

Suddenly, the snakes and insects in the cave were scared and ran away.

“Woosh...” The densely packed bats flew outside even more swiftly. Even the mosquitoes were all blown out. Most of them died, and the rest flew away.

Outside the cave, everyone was startled at first when they heard Fang Qiu’s roar.

Then seeing the dense bats rushing out of the cave, they were immediately frightened.

They had lived in the city and they had never seen so many bats. It was as dense as a disaster.

The bats flew away.

“Fang Qiu, are you okay?” Liu Qingshi hurriedly shouted into the cave.

"I'm fine." Fang Qiu immediately responded.

Everyone was relieved now. And this time, Fang Qiu took the flashlight and scanned the cave carefully. He found that there was still a thin path leading farther into the cave, but the outside was already big enough for everyone to rest.

After confirming that there was no danger, Fang Qiu stepped out and said to everyone, "We are lucky. There are some bats in the cave, and nothing else, but if you want to rest inside, you must find some banana leaves to make the bed. After all, it's the sea outside. The ground is a little wet. We'd better light the fire first, and after the fire dries it, we can sleep on the surrounding rocks."

"Fire, the fire is out." Huang Huachao came out and said, "The wind was too strong, and there was a lot of dew in the jungle. I tried my best to protect it, but it was still gone."

They found that the torch in Huang Huachao's hands was all wet, and everyone's clothes were also wet.

"Find banana leaves first." Fang Qiu said, "We will deal with the fire later."

With that, everyone ran out to look for banana leaves. Each of them found three or four leaves. They carried them back and laid them on the ground in the cave.

Due to the lack of light, they could only sit together back to back in the dark. Even the recording PD could only use a flashlight.

Fortunately, each of the staff of the program team has a flashlight in their hands, and they could hold on for a while.

"Boom..." Just when they had just sat down for a while, a terrifying thunder blasted.

Then the rain was pouring down. As the cold rain fell, cold air surged in and filled the cave.

Everyone suddenly felt a bit cold. After all, the six MCs were only wearing short shorts except Fang Qiu and Song Yaqi.

"It's no way to keep going like this." Fang Qiu frowned, and said, "If you are weak, you might catch a cold."

At this point, Fang Qiu stood up and explained to the crowd, "Everyone, wait a minute. I'll find some usable wood." With that, he directly picked up a banana leaf, put it over his head, and ran out in the rain.

"I am going too." Liu Qingshi also stood up and ran out with a banana leaf.

Others realized that they couldn't just sit by. The two men had gone out in the rain to look for firewood. They couldn't wait here all the time, so they started to pack around. Two PDs followed Fang Qiu and Liu Qingshi separately, and they were shooting through the rain.

At last, the two found a lot of wood, and especially put some dry wood in their clothes. After returning to the cave, they immediately took out the dry wood and put it aside, and rummaged around in the other wood, separating the unusable wet wood from the usable wood.

Then Fang Qiu dug a hole in the middle of the cave, and the program team immediately handed him a lighter, and finally lit the fire.

The fire just started.

"Look after the fire. I'll go out and get some sand." Fang Qiu said to everyone.

"What?" Liu Qingshi was surprised, and asked, "What will you do with the sand?"

"It will be useful for sleep at night." Fang Qiu explained.

"Why do we need sand when we sleep?" Everyone was puzzled.

Fang Qiu didn't explain it. Instead, he took a waterproof bag provided by the program team and went out directly to the beach. He quietly used internal Qi to isolate some moisture, and then started digging. He dug deep in the beach until he found dry sand.

He put the dry sand into the waterproof bag. After filling each bag, Fang Qiu returned to the cave.

"You got so much sand back. What are you going to do with it?" Everyone was still puzzled.

"Well." Fang Qiu chuckled and said, "You will know soon."

After everything was settled, they started to look at each other again. Many people's stomachs began to rumble with hunger.

The weather had been changing too fast, and they had no time to find ingredients for dinner. Now it was raining heavily outside, and there was no food.

Under the light of the fire, they turned to the program team unkindly.

"Well, could you be more active?" Liu Qingshi said, "Where are the instant noodles and the pot? It's such a heavy rain. Where do you expect us to find something to eat? We found this cave. You're staying in the place we've found. Aren't you going to show your kindness to us? If you don't, we will kick you out."

Hearing his threat, the staff of the program team all laughed awkwardly and guiltily.

"I can give you something to eat." The deputy director nodded and said, "But each of you must perform a show."

Everyone was furious.

"I won't perform!" Zheng Weilian was the first to protest, "There is no show to perform! We're too hungry to have the strength to perform any show."

"We don't care." The deputy director said stubbornly, "Anyway, anyone who performs a show will have food, and those who don't will have to starve."

On hearing the threat, everyone immediately gave in. "Okay, okay."

Liu Qingshi said with a wry smile, "You have the food and you are the boss."

The deputy director raised his head triumphantly.

"I'll do it first." Liu Qingshi stood up directly to set an example for others. He did a particularly funny dance, and even used it to tease the program team, which made the audience cheer.

Medical Master

Chapter 833: Fang Qius Amazing Talent!

After the dance was over, Zhang Junhe came out to show everyone the sounds of various animals, but he didn't mimic them very well. Everyone had wanted to boo him, but when they thought that if they booed, he would probably have no food to eat, so they could only applaud him quickly. After all, everyone had to eat together in the end.

Then amid repeated applauses, the six MCs all performed their shows. In the end, there were only two guests left.

"Qiqi, will you do it first?" Liu Qingshi said, "Next, let us welcome one of the most popular Chinese singers in the Chinese music world, and my personal favorite Chinese diva, Miss Song."

Hearing the introduction, Song Yaqi smiled, walked out under everyone's gaze, and said to the camera, "Then, I'll sing a song."

Everyone cheered immediately.

Song Yaqi's live music was something they didn't usually see.

"Well..." Amidst the cheers, Song Yaqi paused for a while, and then hesitated for a while before saying, "I will sing you a song Cold."

Fang Qiu burst out laughing when he heard it.

Everyone in the program team also laughed so hard that they were holding their stomachs, not daring to make a sound. The six MCs smiled bitterly in front of Song Yaqi.

"Oh, it's really cold now. Everything is so cold." They shook their heads and smiled bitterly.

Song Yaqi began to sing.

There was no background music, and it was very nice to sing a cappella. Everyone was charmed by her singing voice. Of course, they were not moved by the song so much to the point of being sentimental. After all, they were still hungry.

After the song, both the six MCs and the staff of the program team applauded. Obviously, Song Yaqi had a lot of fans here.

"Here's the last performer." Liu Qingshi continued to host, and said, "This last one is a man with excellent medical skills and outstanding singing abilities. He is our doctor, nanny, bodyguard and chef. Let's welcome our lovely performer Fang Qiu!"

Amidst everyone's full expectations and cheers, Liu Qingshi continued, "I believe we all know that Fang Qiu has various talents. As far as I know, there are flute, singing, Chinese medicine, etc., so I look forward to Fang Qiu's show very much. But I want to ask Fang Qiu a question. When do you think the rain will stop?" After he asked the question, others immediately turned their heads and looked at Fang Qiu.

"I guess, tomorrow morning." Fang Qiu glanced outside the cave and spoke.

Everyone was immediately depressed.

"Well." Zhang Junhe looked at Fang Qiu curiously, and asked, "How did you know it would rain? I still haven't figured it out yet."

"Yes, I don't understand it either." Zheng Weilian said.

"Fang Qiu is magical. He can even predict the weather. I want to learn this skill. If I can't make it as an actor, I can at least become a weatherman." Huang Huachao echoed.

Apart from the male MCs, the two girls and the staff of the program team were also quite curious. They didn't know how Fang Qiu had predicted it.

"Is it because of your Qigong practice?" Ying'er said curiously.

Fang Qiu smiled bitterly, and said, "It could be Qigong practice."

"Look, you are a Qigong master!" Liu Qingshi immediately said knowingly, and asked, "Come on. Tell me is there any benefit in practicing Qigong?"

"Yes." Fang Qiu nodded immediately, and chose the simplest function, "I can tell the direction in a place where there are no coordinates."

Everyone was shocked to hear it.

"D*mn, is it so awesome?" Liu Qingshi asked in surprise.

“Does it mean that you’re a human compass?” Zheng Weilian looked at Fang Qiu in shock, and said, “You are practically stealing other people’s talents. For example, for someone like me who will get lost in the city, I can’t even tell north, south, east, and west.”

“This is good, so good.”

Liu Qingshi said to Fang Qiu, “You can just perform this talent. Don’t perform anything else. Let’s watch it today. I want to know how you tell north, south, east, and west.”

Others also nodded in agreement, hoping to see this talent.

“Okay, then I will perform it.” Fang Qiu nodded and agreed.

“Okay, next, we will invite Song Yaqi, our diva, to come forward and blindfold Fang Qiu.”

Liu Qingshi somehow found a piece of black cloth and handed it to Song Yaqi. Song Yaqi came up with the black cloth and blindfolded Fang Qiu.

“Next, Fang Qiu, please turn around a few times.” Liu Qingshi shouted.

Fang Qiu smiled wryly, helplessly stretched his left hand to the right wrist, and stretched it straight. Then he pinched his nose with his right hand, bent down, and went around in circles.

“Turn, turn, turn... Whenever I tell you to stop, you stop.”

Liu Qingshi was like an ancient teacher, talking while turning his head. Fang Qiu started to turn.

One, three, five, ten... He turned a total of thirty or forty circles, and Fang Qiu was dizzy when he was told to stop.

Fang Qiu staggered, and then immediately steadied himself.

"Let's start now." Liu Qingshi shouted.

Everyone's attention was focused on Fang Qiu. Fang Qiu shook his head and stretched out his hand, with his palm down.

He drew a circle, just like he was brushing a plate in mid-air, then pointed his finger directly and said, "This side is east, this side is south, this side is west, and this side is north!"

With that, everyone hurried to look at the compass on the phone of the staff of the program team.

They found that he was right.

"D*mn, so accurate! How did you do it?" Liu Qingshi asked in surprise.

The others were all shocked too.

"It's easy." Fang Qiu took off the blindfold and said, "I judge by the magnetic field lines of the earth. I can feel the magnetic field lines from the South Pole to the North Pole of the earth, but I don't know where they passed through my hand exactly."

Everyone was stunned to hear it. Why did it sound scientific, but felt very illusory?

"Simply put, how do you feel it?" Liu Qingshi asked on behalf of everyone.

"The human body is very powerful." Fang Qiu smiled, and said, "Come down, you will get a big surprise. You have all these functions, but you are obstructed."

Everyone applauded, though they did not fully understand it.

“Well, although I don’t understand it, it sounds very advanced,” Ying’er said.

Fang Qiu was speechless.

Why was everyone so careless and uninterested? He still had a lot to say.

At this time, “Okay, the performance is over,” Liu Qingshi quickly turned his head and said to the program team, “Is it time for food now?” When others heard his words, they all turned their heads.

The people in the program team saw the fierce look of everyone. They immediately brought out two boxes, one of which was filled with instant rice while the other was filled with instant noodles. They could choose what they wanted to eat.

Anyway, purified water was also available. The program team also provided a pot and boiled a pot of instant noodles, while those who chose to eat instant rice directly used cold water. On such a day, it was rare to have a hot meal, and everyone enjoyed it.

Several people who chose instant noodles even drank the instant noodle soup without leaving any residue.

Those who chose to eat rice went even further, and they didn’t even let go of a drop of peanut oil. After dinner, they rested very contentedly and chatted for a while. As the weather got colder and colder, they became sleepier.

“You guys keep talking. I’ll go to bed first.” Zheng Weilian was very sleepy because of his old age.

“Wait a minute.” Fang Qiu hurriedly shouted and said, “Follow me.”

Fang Qiu added a lot of dry firewood to make the fire burn up, and then dug a hole in the place where he slept. Although others didn’t know why he was doing so, they all did it. After they dug their holes, Fang Qiu immediately fished out the blackened wood from the fire and distributed it to everyone. He threw the wood into the hole that had just been dug.

Then he brought out the dry sand he had dug.

“This is my purpose of digging sand.” Fang Qiu smiled and distributed the sand to everyone, filled it in the hole, and then covered it with banana leaves.

With that, others lay down on it and suddenly felt very warm and comfortable, just like sleeping on an earthen bed.

Everyone gave Fang Qiu a thumbs-up. In the fire pit, the fire continued to burn.

Everyone was chatting warmly and gradually fell asleep.

Early in the morning the next day, “What’s wrong, Ying’er?” Song Yaqi, who had just woken up from her sleep, was lying next to Ying’er, and asked with a worried look, “Why are you so hot?”

Others also woke up one after another when they heard it.

They went over and found that Ying’er was very hot all over. Several MCs panicked.

The staff of the program team also panicked. Ying’er had a fever!

But they were on an overseas island. Although they could send her to the hospital, it would not be easy to deal with. When Fang Qiu, who had just returned from morning exercises outside, heard that Ying’er had a fever, his eyes lit up. He immediately said, “Let me have a look!”

The show had been on for so long, and it was almost over now. Now, he finally got an opportunity to show Chinese medicine. If it weren’t for showing Chinese medicine, why would he have been on this show?

Seeing that Fang Qiu was back, everyone immediately relaxed a bit.

After all, Fang Qiu was a doctor, and a genius doctor recognized by the public. Fang Qiu walked up to Ying'er and stretched out his hand to check Ying'er's pulse.

"How is she?" Everyone asked nervously.

"Nothing serious," Fang Qiu smiled and said, "She has a cold, and there is heat in her body. It may be that she caught a cold last night, so it is wind-heat type common cold. It is not a big problem."

Everyone was relieved to hear it.

"Fortunately, I brought something special." Fang Qiu chuckled, and then took out a piece of cloth from the pocket of his coat. He opened the cloth, and they found that it had a set of silver needles in it.

This was the oldest silver needle set, which was made by the ancients for easy carrying. Fang Qiu was on the show this time to promote Chinese medicine, so he had prepared a set of acupuncture tools because acupuncture plus Qi was the most effective and the best emergency technique.

Fang Qiu had thought that the set of acupuncture tools would be useless, but unexpectedly, at the end of the show when he was about to finish recording and go home, he was given a chance to use it.

It was just perfect!

Medical Master

Chapter 834: Are There Treasures Here?

"You even brought acupuncture tools?"

Seeing Fang Qiu take out the silver needles, several MCs and Song Yaqi were surprised.

"Just in case. I didn't expect to use it anyway." Fang Qiu smiled.

While taking out the silver needles, he said to the camera in the PD's hands "Ying'er's current condition is flushing and hot body, sweating all over, yellow tongue coating and big pulse."

"In traditional Chinese medicine, these symptoms are the invagination of warming pathogens."

"In other words, there are heat evils in the body, so the internal and external temperatures are different, and the lesions are created because the heat is in the air, so I choose the three heat-clearing points, Hegu point, Quchi point, and Dazhui point, as well as the Neiting point. The three acupoints, Erjian point, and Fenglong point are the main acupoints, which are used to clear the heat."

As he spoke, Fang Qiu directly used the needles. According to what he had said, he chose three silver needles to pierce the first three large acupuncture points of Ying'er. Then while continuing to pierce the needles, he said, "Her high thoughts are dizzy, so I use the water channel and Shixuaner points as matching points, and use acupuncture to reduce the method."

"We're currently recording a show and the surrounding environment is not so good, so I directly use Qi to help Ying'er heal." Fang Qiu said deliberately.

Then he continued to pierce the needles. A few minutes later, he stopped.

"All right." Fang Qiu put away the silver needles.

The temperature of Ying'er's body finally dropped, and she became sober.

"Bring her something to drink to replenish her energy." Fang Qiu shouted.

Liu Qingshi immediately handed over a cup, which was filled with coconut juice she had just poured. The fever had been going on for a while, so Ying'er was very thirsty. She drank the coconut juice in one gulp.

"Huh..." Song Yaqi helped Ying'er to her feet. Ying'er let out a long sigh, then glanced at everyone and said, "I'm feeling much better."

"It's not hot anymore." Song Yaqi touched Ying'er's forehead and said in surprise.

"Are you sure you're all right?" Liu Qingshi stepped forward and asked with concern.

"Well, I'm all right." Ying'er nodded firmly, and said, "Fang Qiu is very good. I am not hot now, and I'm not afraid of cold. I don't feel dizzy, either. I feel pretty good."

"Wow." Liu Qingshi turned his head, looked at Fang Qiu, and asked, "Fang Qiu, is she cured, or does she temporarily cool down?"

"She's cured." Fang Qiu smiled and nodded, "I use even Qi. If I couldn't cure her, wouldn't it tarnish the reputation of Chinese medicine?"

"Of course not." Liu Qingshi patted Fang Qiu on the shoulder, and said, "Seriously, since I was born, I have never seen a doctor like you. If Ying'er was at home today, she would have to go to the hospital. It would take one or two days and she may not be cured after taking a lot of medicine. You just used the needles to cure her so quickly. Chinese medicine is awesome!"

"Yes, if I get sick next time, I will come to you directly." Zheng Weilian said.

"Me, too." Zhang Junhe echoed immediately.

"The person who needs Genius Doctor Fang the most is our diva Song Yaqi." Huang Huachao suddenly said. He smiled and said, "Don't forget, Qiqi is our national singer. She must have been busy holding concerts, activities, endorsements, etc. for the past few years. Her working hours are super long, and she often stays up late. It is very bad for her health. A cold or fever may be bad for her if she can't sing a song temporarily. If our Doctor Fang is there, the problem will be too easy to solve. "

Everyone agreed.

"I'd like Fang Qiu to be my doctor, but I can't afford it." Song Yaqi smiled.

“Actually, I’m not awesome. It’s Chinese medicine.” Fang Qiu said.

“Indeed, Chinese medicine is amazing.” Ying’er immediately nodded in agreement and said, “I used to think that Chinese medicine is too troublesome. Chinese medicine requires a lot of time to boil. Only today I’ve discovered that Chinese medicine is not troublesome at all, and the effect is much better than I thought. I think I will only choose Chinese medicine if I get sick in the future.”

Apart from the MCs, even the staff of the shooting crew and the program team felt that Chinese medicine was very powerful. Fortunately, Fang Qiu was here.

Otherwise, this episode of the show would not be complete. Liu Guobin soon heard the news. After learning that Ying’er’s illness had been cured by Fang Qiu, he was also greatly relieved.

“We’re glad that Fang Qiu is here.” He sighed. Liu Guobin thought carefully about the past few days of recording the show. If Fang Qiu were not present, he didn’t know how many accidents might have happened this time.

Thinking of it, Liu Guobin immediately picked up the walkie-talkie and ordered, “It’s about time. That’s it for this episode. Get ready and ask them to record the ending. It’s time to leave.”

After receiving the news, the staff of the program team immediately told everyone about it the cave.

After they heard the recording was over, the six MCs and Song Yaqi were relieved.

Such miserable days were finally over, and they were about to leave this uninhabited island! However, just when they started to record the ending of the show, “Wait.” Fang Qiu put away the silver needles and suddenly shouted, “I think there may be treasures hidden here!”

With that, it immediately attracted the attention of everyone on the scene.

“What?” Liu Qingshi looked at Fang Qiu in shock. While questioning him in surprise, he reached out and touched Fang Qiu’s forehead, and said, “You don’t have a fever. I thought Ying’er’s fever was transmitted to you.”

“Fang Qiu, our show is a reality show. This survival show is not a treasure hunt show.” Zheng Weilian said.

“There is nothing in this d*mn place. Where is the treasure?” Zhang Junhe also echoed.

Even though they questioned it, they were all confused when they heard it.

The word treasure seemed to be far away from them, and they didn’t understand why Fang Qiu suddenly said it.

“Are you kidding?” Song Yaqi also looked at Fang Qiu suspiciously, and said, “Are there treasures here?”

“Haha, Master Fang must be joking with us.” Ying’er also smiled, and said, “Although this is an uninhabited island, there are often people who will spend holidays on this island. Even if there were treasures, they would have found them.”

It seemed that Ying’er and Song Yaqi was trying to ease the embarrassment for Fang Qiu. However, Fang Qiu didn’t feel embarrassed at all. Instead, he said to the staff of the program team, “Is there a flashlight? Give me a flashlight.”

Everyone was taken aback.

“Do you plan to hunt for treasures in this damn place?” Liu Qingshi was stunned. While patting Fang Qiu on the shoulder, he said, “Dude, the show is over and we can go home. Stop messing around!”

Others didn’t understand why Fang Qiu was so stubborn that he even asked the program team for a flashlight.

Unlike several MCs, the staff of the program team hoped to get some more highlights. Although Fang Qiu said that there were treasures here and they didn’t believe it, they couldn’t refuse Fang Qiu flatly after he said it. Maybe Fang Qiu really could do something unusual.

Thinking of it, the deputy director immediately asked the staff to give Fang Qiu a flashlight.

“Well, well...” Seeing this, Liu Qingshi immediately smiled bitterly. He tried to stop them but decided not to. He could only look at the deputy director and all the staff of the program team and said, “Are you kidding? Do you believe him?”

No one in the program team responded. They could only turn their attention to Fang Qiu.

As a result, after taking the flashlight from the staff, Fang Qiu turned on the flashlight directly and went deeper into the cave.

There was a pile of gravel there. Large and small pieces of rubble were all piled up high, like a hill, blocking the huge cave. At the top of the huge pile of rubble, there was a narrow path that was just wide enough for one man alone.

Fang Qiu was walking on the pile of rocks, and there were a lot of rubble falling down, which looked quite dangerous.

Everyone was very nervous. A PD followed Fang Qiu. He had to shoot and see what Fang Qiu was going to do, and what was there in the depths of the cave.

When he reached the pile of stones, Fang Qiu did not take the narrow path but directly illuminated the side rock wall with the flashlight. He pointed to the spot illuminated by the flashlight, and said to everyone, “There are words here.”

When they heard it, they were all curious, and they cautiously stepped forward to take a look.

Fang Qiu had noticed these words when he entered the cave yesterday, but he had remained silent. He wanted to wait until dawn to tell everyone.

Now, the time was right.

Soon, six MCs, Song Yaqi, four or five PDs, and even the deputy director couldn't help but curiously take a look at it.

They immediately saw two archaic characters on the rock wall.

"Yong Le?" Liu Qingshi, who knew a little about calligraphy, read these two characters, feeling both surprised and confused.

"These words seem to have been here for a long time." Zheng Weilian said to Zhang Junhe next to him, "Don't you like antiques? Do you think these characters were engraved by someone?"

"Nonsense." Zhang Junhe gave Zheng Weilian a blank look, and said, "If they weren't engraved by humans, could it be a bat's work?"

"Well..." Zheng Weilian laughed awkwardly, and said, "Look, is it modern, or has it lasted a long time?"

"If I can tell, I wouldn't be here recording a show."

Zhang Junhe glanced at Zheng Weilian again, and then glanced at the two words. He suddenly raised his brows, and said, "This moss is overgrown. These two words have certainly existed for a long time, but I don't know exactly when."

"Well." Liu Qingshi pointed at these two words and said to Fang Qiu, "Even if these two words have existed for a long time, it doesn't mean that there are treasures in the cave. With these two words, how can you be so sure that there are treasures here?"

Chapter 835: The Martial Arts Moves on the Wall!

"Don't you guys know it?" Hearing Liu Qingshi's suspicious words and seeing the suspicious look of everyone around him, Fang Qiu said speechlessly, "Don't you know such simple historical knowledge?"

Everyone was stunned.

It seemed they were despised.

Fang Qiu explained, “Yong Le is the reign title of Emperor Zhu Di. Why do you think these two words appear here?”

“Why?” Zheng Weilian asked.

“Yes, why?” Zhang Junhe looked confused.

“Can you just say what you have to say all at once? Don’t keep asking questions all the time.” Liu Qingshi complained.

“All right.” Fang Qiu shook his head and smiled bitterly, and said, “I just want to mention it to remind you. Since you can’t think of it, then I’ll just say it straight. Zheng He’s Voyages to the West, have you heard of it?”

Everyone suddenly realized it.

“D*mn, why didn’t I think of it?” Suddenly, Liu Qingshi slapped his forehead and said, “I feel sorry for my history teacher.”

“Yong Le and Zheng He, it makes sense.” Gu Jianguo said, “However, I remember that Zheng He’s voyages to the West were supposed to do maritime transactions. Although it said that he brought a lot of gold and silver treasures, the money must have been spent on buying Western goods. At that time there seemed to some sort of bartering. Do you think there are any out-of-print antiques at home and abroad hidden here?”

“D*mn.” Zhang Junhe said in surprise, “This means that Zheng He stayed here back then? If this is the case, it would be awesome!”

Everyone was talking about it. Some members of the program team even took out their mobile phones and started searching the Internet for news about Zheng He's Voyages to the West. When everyone was talking about it on the pile of rocks, Fang Qiu said, "Although I think there are treasures here, they might not be what you've expected. But the possibility of finding the remains of Zheng He's stay in the past is not small."

With that, Fang Qiu stretched his hand towards the top of the pile of stones, and pointed at the narrow path, beckoning everyone to go deeper.

But after hearing Fang Qiu's words, everyone hesitated.

Now, they should have packed up and prepared to go back to China by boat and plane, but this so-called treasure was tempting. There was a high probability that there would be no gold and silver treasures, and there should not be any antiques, but finding the remains left by Zheng He in his day was also a major event.

This kind of opportunity to verify history was not something one could run into casually, and maybe it only happened once in a lifetime. Everyone hesitated whether they were going or not.

The deputy director immediately contacted Liu Guobin.

"Hello?" The walkie-talkie was turned on.

"Is the recording over?" Director Liu Guobin's voice came from the walkie-talkie.

"Mr. Liu, something is going on!" The deputy director responded, "Fang Qiu found two ancient words in the cave where we've been temporarily staying. He said it seemed to be related to Zheng He's Voyages to the West. He also said that there might be treasures in this cave. Even if we won't find the treasures, there is a high probability that we will find the ruins left by Zheng He's Voyages to the West when he passed here. But we don't know anything about the depths of this cave now. We don't know if there is any danger in it. What do you think we should do?"

"What???" Director Liu Guobin was taken aback when he heard the report from the deputy director.

He was also stunned. Damn, he was so lucky. If they could find the ruins of Zheng He, this show would be listed on the national priority list and it would probably become a hit in the future.

Anyway, this episode must be aired. Even if they couldn't find it, it was good to make a gesture.

Thinking of it, Director Liu Guobin immediately said, "Zheng He's Voyages to the West is a major event in our country's history. If we can find the relics left by Zheng He, it will be very valuable to our country's historical research. As a member of the Chinese nation, we need to make contributions to the country's historical records as much we can. Now that we have found clues, we should go to investigate them. But you must pay attention to safety. If you encounter any safety problems, you must leave as soon as possible. Safety is the top priority in everything!"

"Yes." The deputy director nodded immediately.

This phone call was recorded by the PD. He knew it was a good opportunity for the director to shine, and what the director said had lived up to his expectations.

After he finished the conversation with the director, the deputy director stood up directly, faced the six MCs and two guests, and said, "I have calculated it carefully. You arrived on this island in the afternoon on the first day, and it is early in the morning now, which means this recording time is not over, and it's not time to leave yet. Although the boat and air tickets have been booked, you still have to wait a few hours to get to the airport. So the suggestion from our program team is to explore it to contribute our own strength to the record of our history and culture. Maybe there is something wonderful in it!"

Everyone smiled when they heard it.

But they were secretly cursing the deputy director.

"What the hell? Could there be something wonderful? It's pitch dark. What if something goes wrong?"

"They are insane! Do they think this is a treasure hunt show?"

“They’re so shameless. How can they torture us like this?”

It was not that they didn’t want to explore it, but that they just didn’t like the sudden change of attitude of the program team, as if they were forcing them. If the program team had asked them to decide whether to leave or not, they would have gone without any complaints.

However, since the director team said so, they had to continue to record the show!

So they got together to discuss it.

After a few minutes’ discussion, they decided to go in and check it out.

After the final decision was made, the program team became so generous that they immediately prepared some outdoor equipment and necessary items such as flashlights and water for everyone.

After all, they were also afraid of accidents.

Everything was ready. Fang Qiu took the lead and walked onto the narrow path first, and everyone lined up in a row behind him.

The narrow path was only four or five meters long.

After crossing this path, a very wide, large and deep cave was ushered in. The inside of the cave was quiet and dark.

The moment he entered this cave, Fang Qiu was startled.

He felt that there were many times more poisonous animals such as snakes, insects, bats, etc. in this cave than outside. If others saw them, they would certainly scream.

Besides, everyone was now walking in the narrow path behind them. If there was any movement, these bats would rush outside, and he was afraid that it would cause some serious accident.

Thinking of it, Fang Qiu did not dare to hesitate at all. He immediately released his aura to shake all the snakes and insects in this dark cave into hiding. They did not dare to move at all, and even the bats hanging upside down on the cave did not dare to move.

Under such a circumstance, Fang Qiu illuminated the road ahead with the flashlight and led everyone on.

After walking more than ten meters, he used his internal Qi to isolate the sound and drove all the bats out of the cave.

They went on for a while. There suddenly came a voice from behind.

“It’s strange. Why doesn’t it feel right? Why is there no living thing? It stands to reason that mosquitoes should like this place very much, right?” Someone whispered.

When Fang Qiu heard it, he can’t help but think to himself, it’s me, okay? If I left, the snakes and insects here can make you scream!

Everyone was surprised.

When everyone was surprised, “Ah!!!” a scream came suddenly.

It was Song Yaqi.

She was walking beside Fang Qiu. After crossing the narrow path, everyone was no longer walking in a row, but side by side.

She slipped, but Fang Qiu quickly turned around and held her back.

“Thank you.” Song Yaqi thanked him.

“It’s okay, be careful.” Fang Qiu smiled slightly and said to everyone, “Everyone, be careful. No one comes here all year-round, and the road is not easy to walk on. We’d better support each other on the way.”

Everyone nodded one after another, and they were alert. It seemed that everyone had subconsciously regarded Fang Qiu as the leader of the team in this treasure hunt.

“Stop!” While walking, Fang Qiu suddenly called out to stop.

Everyone stopped immediately.

“There is a mark on the wall here.” Fang Qiu used his mobile phone to illuminate it and saw some strange marking patterns on the wall.

“There are also some here.” Liu Qingshi walked forward and found one place.

After taking note of them carefully, they kept going. But the deeper they went, the more signs they found, and even some humanoid patterns.

No one else could understand these pattern marks.

Fang Qiu was shocked when he looked at them one by one.

These patterns were some martial arts moves!

“Could it be that some senior master stayed here in ancient times?” Fang Qiu became more curious about the depths of this cave.

In addition to the marks left by Zheng He's Voyages to the West, why there are patterns left by the martial arts masters? He was confused.

They kept moving forward and went deeper and deeper.

Under the leadership of Fang Qiu, they had gone a long way.

Suddenly a ray of light appeared in the front.

"There is light ahead!" Ying'er, who had always been particularly worried and scared, pointed and nodded, shouting in surprise.

"Is it the end?" Fang Qiu looked forward and let out a sigh of relief.

He thought to himself, could the doubts left along the way be answered at the end of this cave?

Others were also excited.

Everyone had been depressed in the dark cave. They immediately relaxed a lot when they saw the light.

"Let's go up and take a look." Liu Qingshi beckoned and shouted.

Then they continued to observe the surrounding rock walls, looking for clues, while they moved forward quickly.

Soon they came to the end of the cave.

They looked up and saw that at the end of the cave, there was a winding crack and the light was shining from it. With the light, they could see the surrounding environment and situation.

Medical Master

Chapter 836: An Ancient Heros Last Words!

This was a very wide space. It was twice as wide as the entrance of the cave where they had stayed yesterday. The ground here was made of flat stones. From the place where light could be seen to the hole at the end, it was a distance of about thirty or forty meters long.

Among them, there were many things, such as rotten woods, branches, clothing, etc. “What is this?” While everyone was observing this magical cave like that in a blockbuster, Liu Qingshi, who had been looking for clues out of curiosity over there, suddenly shouted. He waved to everyone quickly and said, “Here are many words. Come and see if any of you know these words.”

Hearing his words, they immediately walked over. Without a flashlight, the sunlight coming in through the crack allowed them to clearly see the words on the rock wall. “Wow, how did they engrave so many words?”

“I remember that on Zheng He’s Voyages to the West, he took a whole fleet of soldiers, so those soldiers might have engraved those words. It was really not easy to engrave so many words.” Everyone sighed. Unlike others, as soon as he saw the words on the wall, Fang Qi was shocked.

Others couldn’t see it, but he could clearly see that an ancient text on this rock wall was not engraved with a tool at all, but was written directly with a finger. Fang Qiu could write a similar text, but it would be absolutely impossible for him to write such an elaborate one. The calligraphy was just so beautiful, like writing with a pen on paper. It seemed that it hadn’t been affected by the rock’s texture at all. The author must have deep inner energy to have written such a thing. A general master could never do it!

“Why can’t I understand it?” Ying’er frowned, looked at the text on the rock wall, and said, “There are a few words that seem to be understandable, but after a closer look, I don’t know what exactly they are.” “They’re all ancient Chinese,” Fang Qiu said.

“Can you understand them?” Song Yaqi looked at Fang Qiu curiously. “I can.” Fang Qiu nodded affirmatively.

“Then why don’t you translate the text for us?” Liu Qingshi asked. “I can do the translation, but you have to let me read it first, right?” Fang Qiu smiled wryly. They quickly made room for Fang Qiu and allowed him to stand in the front and center position to read it.

“I, Yang Yizhi, broke into the sea with Zheng He at the Central Plains, and it has been more than seventy...” Fang Qiu looked at every word quietly.

But with each word he read, the shock in his heart increased. Judging from this text, it was indeed an ancient martial arts senior who had left this text!

From the side, everyone also worked hard to read every word carefully, trying to translate the whole article by themselves, but after reading it for a long time, they still didn’t understand the meaning. In the end, they really couldn’t understand it, and had to give up. They turned their heads and looked at Fang Qiu.

Seeing the shock on Fang Qiu’s face, they became even more curious. “Have you finished reading it? What is written on it?” Ying’er asked anxiously.

“Huh...” Fang Qiu let out a long breath, blinked his eyes and said, “I’m finished.”

“What is written on it?” Liu Qingshi asked immediately. The PD also hurried forward and gave Fang Qiu all the shots.

“The text is about the last words written by a man of the Ming Dynasty in our country before he died!” Fang Qiu said.

“What?” Liu Qingshi was surprised.

“How is this possible? How could it be possible that so many words were written by one person? You said it was written. This was clearly carved, right?” Zheng Weilian said. “Yeah, how did he write this? Was there anything that could be used to write so deeply?” Zhang Junhe was also curious.

“When I look at it, it doesn’t look like it was written before death. It feels like it was carved by many people together.” Song Yaqi was also very skeptical. After all, they were all ordinary people. How could they think of someone who could write on the rock wall with his finger?

“Forget it. Tell us, what does this text mean when translated?” When everyone was doubtful, Liu Qingshi asked.

“We guessed right.”

Fang Qiu pursed his lips, and said, “This is indeed the relics where Zheng He and his men had left on his Voyages to the West. The person who wrote the text as his last words on the rock wall was an old guard under Zheng He’s command.” After hearing it, everyone began to listen carefully.

Fang Qiu continued, “Back then, on Zheng He’s Voyages to the West, they encountered pirates in this place. At that time, Zheng He led a lot of soldiers, which was the strongest fleet at the time. Besides, they had made a lot of preparations before going to sea and specifically recruited many fishermen who had lived on the seaside all year round on the boat. So they were not afraid of pirates at all, and completely defeated them from the front.

“However, due to the Emperor’s instructions, Zheng He did not stay any longer and left directly. The old guard volunteered to stay because of his old age. He meant to frighten the group of pirates and keep the place safe. He didn’t want more people to encounter the persecution of pirates.

“In the beginning, Zheng He didn’t allow it.

“But later, the old guard said to him, a man would be very lucky to be born between the heavens and the earth, and die on the sea!

“Finally, Zheng He agreed.” Fang Qiu sighed softly.

Around him, everyone who was listening to Fang Qiu’s story was shocked by the courage of the old guard. “And then?” Liu Qingshi asked.

“At that time, Zheng He left enough food and fresh water for the old guard. He hoped the old guard could persist until the day he returned. Then the old guard stayed here for a whole year. All merchant ships passing by and encountering pirates were saved by him time and time again, and his strength deterred the pirates in this area.

“Finally, because of being blocked all the time, the pirates could do nothing with it, so they could only leave and disappear.

“After the pirates left, the old guard relaxed. But with his old age and the physical injuries accumulated in countless previous battles, his vitality gradually weakened. He discovered that he would die soon. So he went out to sea with a single knife and killed all the pirates still lurking around before he finally came back here, wrote these last words, and died!”

When he finished, Fang Qiu was very emotional.

This old guard must be a super guru who was able to go out to sea alone. He must have master-level strength at least! Everyone was shocked after they heard the story.

“He was an ancient hero!” Liu Qingshi said with admiration, and then suddenly laughed, and added, “But why does it feel like a legend? A man killing all the pirates by himself, how did he do it?”

“He had the ability to leave these last words before he died. How do you think he did it?” Fang Qiu asked.

This question aroused everyone’s infinite imagination.

Indeed, someone who had the ability to leave this full text of last words before he died was certainly not an ordinary person!

“Do you know his name?” Ying’er said, “The name of such a hero should be remembered forever.”

“Yang Yizhi.” Fang Qiu pointed to the first line on the rock wall and said, “His name is Yang Yizhi.”

“Since these were his last words, where is his body?” Song Yaqi suddenly asked.

Everyone was surprised to hear it. Fang Qiu also froze.

Yes, where was the body of this predecessor who had kept this place safe? Thinking of seeing so many snakes and insects when entering this cave, Fang Qiu suddenly had a bad feeling about it.

“Let’s find it!” Fang Qiu said immediately, “Everyone, look for it with me, and we must find the bones of the predecessor!”

Everyone who was still immersed in the story scattered around to look for it.

Fang Qiu was also frantically searching everywhere because such an old hero must not suffer after death!

“I found it.” A few minutes later, Liu Qingshi suddenly shouted.

Everyone turned around. Liu Qingshi was standing in a corner of the cave and waving to them.

Fang Qiu hurried over and took a look. In this corner, there were indeed some bones scattered. The skeleton was not in the shape of a human being at all. The body seemed to be destroyed, and the bones were scattered everywhere.

He squatted down, picked up a bone, and looked at it. It was crystal clear like jade! This was the characteristic of a guru!

“As expected, he is a guru.” Fang Qiu frowned again, and muttered, “But, how come the bones are scattered all over the place? Has anyone moved them?”

At this time, everyone who had gathered around also picked up the bones and looked at them. “Is this a human bone? Why is it so beautiful?”

“This is the first time that I’ve not been scared by human bones. This bone looks too unusual. On the one hand, I respect the ancient hero very much. On the other hand, I think this bone is really peculiar. Looking at this bone, I believe that he must be a guru of martial arts!” Liu Qingshi said.

Everyone nodded in agreement.

“Let’s gather the bones and put them together before we bury Mr. Yang Yizhi,” Fang Qiu said. Hearing his words, everyone nodded one after another, and then they began to look around for collecting all the bones for burial.

However, some of the bones were missing as there was only a part of his bones in this corner, so everyone could only continue to look around. Song Yaqi and Ying’er had always been together. Although there was light, the two girls were still a little scared. When they were searching, they walked towards the entrance of the cave at the end. It seemed that the world outside the cave could give them enough sense of security.

But as soon as they walked out of the entrance of the cave, there suddenly came a cry of surprise. The two girls stood at the entrance of the cave, frightened and pale. They were shaking all over, as if they could not even move.

They screamed.

Those who were still looking around in the cave immediately turned around and ran towards the two girls quickly for fear that something would happen to them. Soon they rushed to the entrance of the cave, and while guarding the two girls behind them, they looked forward.

With only one glance, the faces of the male MCs turned pale, and their eyes were full of panic and horror. At this time, Fang Qiu also rushed over.

He went straight through the crowd, walked to the forefront, and looked out of the cave!

Medical Master

Chapter 837: He Tried to Kill the Serpent with Sea Water!

Fang Qiu saw the situation at the entrance of the cave. Outside the cave, there was a jungle. Under the scorching sun, the jungle was full of vitality.

It was just that, in that jungle, a pair of gray-brown vertical eyes were staring at them. Almost everyone could see it. Outside the entrance of the cave, there was a big pit in which there were a few broken wooden boxes. After being battered by wind, sun, and rain for many years, the wood was rotten. It could be clearly seen that the wooden boxes contained some yellowish things.

On this pile of wooden boxes, a big boa constrictor as thick as a human calf with black stripes all over rested on these tattered boxes, as if it treated these wooden boxes as its nest.

“Hiss...”

It seemed to have been frightened by the screams of the two girls. The big python straightened its head fiercely to stare at everyone, quickly sticking out and withdrawing its tongue. This scene scared everyone. They had never seen such a serpent before. It looked as big as an anaconda, but the pattern on its body was completely different from that of an anaconda. It was a giant venomous snake.

All of a sudden, the MCs all trembled with fright. This serpent instantly reminded them of a terrible movie, the Anaconda Disaster! Could any of them beat this serpent?

Everyone was scared. But just when everyone was stepping back in fear, the eyes of Fang Qiu, who arrived last, reddened in an instant, and his anger burst out. He actually felt the presence of the Qi of Heaven and Earth in this serpent!

Before coming here, Fang Qiu had used his Divine Consciousness to sweep the island once and found that there were no Heaven and Earth Treasures on this island. Then, how could there be Qi of Heaven and Earth in the snake in front of him? The only possibility was that it had eaten the flesh of the deceased hero Yang Yizhi here!

The guru's physical body was comparable to a Heaven and Earth Treasure, and even better. At this moment, Fang Qiu finally understood why the bones of Yang Yizhi were scattered everywhere. It turned out that this snake did it! But could a snake live for hundreds of years?

An ordinary snake obviously couldn't have lived for so long, but after eating the flesh of a guru, the snake was likely to fall into a long sleep to digest it. If this was the case, it was absolutely possible.

"I'm going to kill you!" When he thought that a respectable old hero had been eaten by a snake after he died, Fang Qiu couldn't help but burst out with anger, and his eyes were full of coldness.

Its crime was absolutely unforgivable!

"You guys go back." Suppressing the anger in his heart, Fang Qiu waved his hand to signal everyone to step back.

Everyone was already scared. With Fang Qiu's words, they all retreated boldly. But this time Fang Qiu took the initiative and stepped forward.

Liu Qingshi grabbed Fang Qiu's hand in a panic and said, "Fang Qiu, don't go there. It's a poisonous snake!"

Others also tried to stop him. But just as they finished, Fang Qiu's hand slid out of Liu Qingshi's hand directly like a loach.

They couldn't stop Fang Qiu and were very anxious. They all spoke to dissuade him, but Fang Qiu didn't listen at all.

The serpent also shifted its attention from others to Fang Qiu alone.

"Humph!" Fang Qiu snorted coldly, stretched out his right hand, and pulled out a vine directly from the bush next to him. After removing the branches and leaves, he started to make a slipknot that could be tightened with one pull, and then directly walked towards the serpent with the slipknot.

The serpent seemed to feel the danger. Its body began to swim, and its head tilted back slightly. It stuck out its tongue a lot faster than before as if it was preparing to attack Fang Qiu. Fang Qiu didn't care much about it.

If he could show his strength, he would have killed the snake with a slap, but after thinking about it carefully, he believed that it would be too merciful to kill the snake so easily. He wanted it to pay for its sin!

“Whoosh.” Just when Fang Qiu approached the wooden boxes, the serpent moved extremely fast, opened its mouth wide, and bit at Fang Qiu’s neck.

“Oh!!!” Ying’er exclaimed. Everyone closed their eyes abruptly at this moment.

In their opinion, it would be impossible for Fang Qiu to dodge it. But the next moment, just when the serpent was trying to bite him, Fang Qiu swooped forward, rolled over, and dodged its attack. Then he quickly stood up and took a long breath.

His performance was the same as that of a normal person, but Fang Qiu also showed a reaction speed that a normal person absolutely could not have. After all, this was not an ordinary snake. With ordinary people’s reaction power, he couldn’t have handled it at all. Fortunately, Fang Qiu was no ordinary man!

He dodged it. He crouched and stared at the serpent in front of him.

“There are sticks. Use a stick to press its Achilles heel.” Someone yelled.

“I’ll find a stick.” Liu Qingshi yelled, and immediately went back to the cave to find a stick.

The serpent once again attacked Fang Qiu. While rushing forward, it opened its mouth, revealing two black fangs growing in its upper jaw. If he was bitten, he would probably be killed instantly. The toxin of such a snake that had lived for hundreds of years, shed its skin numerous times, and eaten the body of a guru was definitely not something that ordinary people could withstand. There was probably no living thing in this world that could afford to be bitten by it.

“Woosh.”

As the snake attacked, Fang Qiu leaped sideways and jumped to the other side again to dodge its attack. At this time, Liu Qingshi shouted. "Here is the stick, Fang Qiu, take it." Fang Qiu turned around and saw that Liu Qingshi had found a thick wooden stick. There was a fork on the top of the stick, which could be easily used to subdue a poisonous snake.

While shouting, Liu Qingshi immediately threw the wooden stick in his hand towards Fang Qiu. Fang Qiu immediately grabbed the stick. Seeing that Fang Qiu actually used a weapon, the serpent became even angrier, and it kept attacking him.

However, its speed was too slow to attack him. After he took the wooden stick, Fang Qiu instantly swept the serpent directly and used the wooden stick to press the serpent's Achilles heel. The serpent moaned and immediately flicked its tail, trying to wrap Fang Qiu. But Fang Qiu caught its tail just as it flung it over. The serpent's head was immediately held under the wooden stick. It turned its head and bit at Fang Qiu.

"Oh..." Fang Qiu yelled, pretending to be panicked, and then grabbed the serpent's tail with both hands and ran out in one direction like crazy. When he ran, the serpent's body was immediately straightened by him.

Then as Fang Qiu was rushing forward, the serpent kept turning around to bite Fang Qiu, but as soon as it turned its head, it bumped into various shrubs and plants. After several rounds, it almost fainted. Along the way, Fang Qiu directly showed the speed of a 100-meter dash in college, and rushed forward frantically, regardless of whether there were thorns or stones in front of him. Under such circumstances, the serpent was getting weaker and weaker when it tried to turn around. It could only be dragged by Fang Qiu all the way and constantly whipped by trees, stones and thorns.

"D*mn, I'm an ordinary person now. I can't kill you, but I can kill you with seawater!" Fang Qiu got angrier as he ran.

While he was dragging the long serpent and running toward the sea, he quickly tied the vine to the snake's tail and strained on it so much that the vein sank into its flesh. To ensure that the vine would not be slipped open by the smooth scales of the serpent, Fang Qiu also picked some vines with barbed thorns and pierced the barbs into the flesh under the serpent's scales. The serpent started to struggle frantically in pain!

Fang Qiu didn't care. He just kept running with the serpent as fast as he could. This scene was shocking to everyone!

“What is he doing?” Liu Qingshi asked in a daze.

“What are you still waiting for? Hurry up and catch up with him.” The deputy director yelled to the PDs.

Hearing his words, they didn’t hesitate any longer, and immediately ran forward, but they did not choose the road Fang Qiu had run. Instead, they chose to go to the side of the road for fear that Fang Qiu would accidentally drop the snake that would bite them instead. They chased all the way.

But they discovered that Fang Qiu didn’t even mean to stop. He even traversed half of the island and ran directly from the center of the island to the beach where he had arrived at the island. Just when he arrived at the beach, he saw the director team headed by Liu Guobin, who had just gotten off the boat. They were walking on the beach and prepared to go inside. Several jet skis whose engines had just been turned off were tied to the beach, floating on the sea. The directors also saw Fang Qiu.

They were immediately shocked to see Fang Qiu dragging such a big poisonous snake in his hand. If this scene was put on the Internet, it would definitely attract more attention than an adult streaking.

“Hurry up and give me a jet ski.” Fang Qiu shouted.

Hearing his words, Liu Guobin quickly patted a man next to him to motion for him to drive the jet ski, while he shouted to Fang Qiu, “Don’t stop, don’t stop!

As he spoke, a staff member immediately ran over and drove a jet ski towards Fang Qiu. When he got to Fang Qiu’s side, he quickly untied the key line hanging on his body, jumped into the sea, and rushed out.

Fang Qiu did not hesitate. He rushed directly into the jet ski, dragging the serpent with one hand and grasping the key line with the other. Then he pressed down on the accelerator, and rushed out into the sea quickly.

While rushing forward frantically, he turned around and tied the vines that were binding the serpent to the back of the jet ski. At this time, the people behind caught up with him.

Seeing Fang Qiu's operation, everyone was dumbfounded. "What the hell is going on?" Liu Guobin looked at everyone and asked in surprise.

They explained it briefly. After listening to the story, Liu Guobin was shocked. He was shocked by their discovery, and even more, shocked by Fang Qiu's boldness.

Everyone was shocked, too. Fang Qiu was really amazing!

He was trying to kill this snake. The snake was a terrestrial snake, and the sea was salty, not to mention that Fang Qiu had inflicted so many wounds on the snake with barbed thorns.

Chapter 838: Treasures! Tons of Gold!

"Boom..." Fang Qiu stepped on the gas at full throttle and drove the jet ski straight into the deep sea. He came to the deep sea area several kilometers away from the island and then turned around. While allowing the jet ski to rush forward, he directly untied the vine tied to the tail of the jet ski. Huge expanses of spray were surging on the sea. After he untied the vine, Fang Qiu drove the jet ski more than ten meters away before stopping it.

He turned his head and took a look.

In the splash of water, the serpent with black stripes was struggling to swim wildly in the sea. There was no land on all sides, so it swam desperately towards Fang Qiu's jet ski.

"Humph." Fang Qiu let out a cold snort, started the jet ski directly, and took the serpent circling in the water.

No matter how the serpent swam, it could never catch up with the jet ski.

Fang Qiu was just coldly watching the serpent soaking in the sea.

Although the serpent was a very good swimmer, this was sea water instead of fresh water! Sea water was salty. The bodies of modern amphibians and many terrestrial reptiles were covered with bare skin. The cells in their bodies were easily in direct contact with the external environment. The concentration of salt in the fluids and blood of these animals was much lower than that found in sea water.

Therefore, in this case, once these reptiles entered the high-concentration seawater, a large amount of water in their bodies would leak out, causing excessive water loss and death. Some scientists had done special research.

Generally, amphibians and terrestrial reptiles could not survive for a long time in waters with a 1% salt content. In waters with a salt concentration of more than 1%, these animals would die soon. However, the current salt concentration of seawater generally reached more than 2%, and some were even as high as 4.2%. Therefore, the absolute majority of amphibians could not live in the ocean. Knowing this, Fang Qiu had taken this serpent into the deep sea.

Actually, at first Fang Qiu had just wanted to drag the boa constrictor to the beach to throw it into the sea, and then waited for it to swim back before putting it into the sea again. Fortunately, he had just run into the director team and gotten a jet ski. This was much more convenient. In the deep sea area, the boa constrictor was chasing the jet ski vigorously in extreme fright, trying to climb onto the jet ski to prevent the sea from harming it.

But no matter how it swam, it could never catch up with Fang Qiu. Moreover, there had been many wounds in its body, so the seawater penetrated its body faster. From afar, the PDs of the program team also drove their jet skis to come over for fear that something might happen to Fang Qiu. When they saw Fang Qiu walking the snake, they immediately stopped in the distance and continued shooting.

Finally, in the cameras of these PDs, Fang Qiu watched this boa constrictor in the sea indifferently as it was being killed by salt in terror. This last shot was taken. Looking at the dead boa constrictor, Fang Qiu was still indifferent. However, everyone knew that it was not that Fang Qiu was indifferent, but that this snake deserved it!

After all, after eating the body of a guru-level expert, the serpent had acquired Qi of Heaven and Earth, and it had lived for hundreds of years. It was probably spiritual. Therefore, when the boa constrictor stopped moving and these PDs in the distance were about to come over, Fang Qiu immediately reached out to stop them! As expected, after a few minutes, the serpent came back to life again and started chasing Fang Qiu's jet ski desperately again.

Unfortunately, this time, it didn't last for too long. In just five minutes, it lost all its energy, and then gradually stopped swimming. It turned its whole body over in the sea and exposed its belly. It was finally dead!

In order to avoid accidents, Fang Qiu approached it first. After confirming that the boa constrictor was dead, he pulled it back to the coast. Three PDs followed him. But when he returned to the shore, Fang Qiu found that the others were no longer there. "Did they go back to the cave?" He was surprised.

Fang Qiu dragged the serpent and walked towards the entrance of the cave. The PDs followed him from afar and kept shooting this scene. Looking at Fang Qiu's back, the PDs sighed. It was a subtle way to show his respect for the heroic predecessor who had passed away. Fang Qiu had finally taken revenge for the hero!

Thinking of the story of the old guard Yang Yizhi, everyone was emotional. It didn't take long before Fang Qiu came to the entrance at the end of the cave. All the staff of the program team led by Liu Guobin as well as the six MCs and Song Yaqi was greatly relieved when Fang Qiu came back.

But when Fang Qiu approached and they saw the serpent dragged by Fang Qiu in his hand, they looked shocked.

"D*mn." Liu Qingshi greeted him, looked at the serpent in his hand, and asked in surprise, "Did you really kill it? How did it die?"

"It was killed by salt," Fang Qiu answered. Everyone was stunned to hear it. Many of them really didn't know that terrestrial reptiles could be killed by the salt in sea water.

Looking at the corpse of this serpent and thinking about how it had died, Liu Qingshi couldn't help but silently mourn for it for a second. Of course, he didn't know the truth that Fang Qiu had found out. If he had known that the boa constrictor had eaten the body of the old guard, he would probably have been angrier than Fang Qiu. "It's good that it's dead. We wouldn't be afraid when it died."

After a simple comment, Liu Qingshi grabbed Fang Qiu excitedly and asked, "Guess what we found?" "What?" Fang Qiu stepped forward suspiciously. It turned out that everyone was in this big pit in front of the entrance of the cave.

At this time, the tattered wooden boxes in the big pit had been opened by them. He took a closer look and found that these wooden boxes were full of gold! "What do you think? Are you dazzled?" Liu Qingshi looked at Fang Qiu, and said very excitedly, "We just came back to check and were shocked by the gold. We counted together. There are several tons of gold at least!"

Hearing Liu Qingshi's words, Fang Qiu was stunned. "Are there really treasures?"

He hadn't expected that his offhand remark would actually come true, and there were really treasures on this island! "Aha, I didn't expect that you were right." Liu Qingshi patted Fang Qiu on the shoulder with excitement, and said, "We believe that the gold was probably snatched by the heroic predecessor from the pirates nearby that he had wiped out. I didn't quite believe it when you said that he wiped out the pirates, but I really believed it after I saw so much gold!"

"Good." Fang Qiu thought for a while, looked at Liu Guobin standing in front of the gold, and asked, "Was it all recorded?"

"Rest assured." Liu Guobin smiled and said, "We've recorded everything since we returned from the coastline, including the entire process of your first appearance in this place."

"That's good." Fang Qiu nodded. Although this was an uninhabited island, the rule of "finders keepers" didn't apply to such valuable things.

After all, this was a show recording. If a person came to this island and found the gold, he could have taken it away quietly, but now almost everyone had seen it. There were many witnesses and opinions.

It was obviously impossible to take it away.

"I will go in and see the remains of the hero." Fang Qiu dragged the boa constrictor into the cave. It turned out that they had found all the bones and put them together.

It seemed that everyone respected the ancient hero very much. After all, such a hero really deserved the admiration of everyone!

Fang Qiu felt sorry for the hero. He took the serpent to the side, and then put the bones into a human shape.

He was a doctor who naturally knew the bones of the human body very well. Although the others were not afraid of the bones of the ancient hero, they didn't know how to put them in the right places! That was why everyone had been waiting for Fang Qiu to come.

Soon, Fang Qiu put the bones together so that the whole skeleton was half lying against the wall. After putting them together, he took a closer look and found that the skeleton of the hero was obviously much larger than that of an ordinary person. It could be seen from the skeleton that he must have been a burly man when he was alive, otherwise, he would not have been strong enough to keep the area safe with one sword alone!

Standing in front of the skeleton, Fang Qiu bowed deeply. When others saw Fang Qiu's movement, they all walked over and bowed deeply to the skeleton of the predecessor.

The ceremony was over! Fang Qiu turned his head, looked at Liu Guobin, and asked, "Can we bring back the bones of the ancient hero and take him home?"

"I would like to." Liu Guobin smiled wryly, and then said, "But we can't decide on this, and there are tons of gold outside the cave. We can't handle it privately. I have to call the embassy and wait for their decision."

"OK." Fang Qiu nodded.

There was nothing they could do. They were abroad now, and they really couldn't deal with anything at will. After their conversation, Liu Guobin immediately walked aside and dialed the number of the embassy.

"Hello?" The phone was connected.

"Hello, I am Liu Guobin, the director of China's Run Wild & Survive program team. We found the remains of Zheng He's Voyages to the West and the bones of a guard of the Ming Dynasty. We also found a lot of gold," Liu Guobin said.

“What? Relic of Zheng He? Gold?” There was a surprising sound on the other end of the line.

“That’s right.” Liu Guobin nodded and said, “As for the quantity of gold, there are several tons of gold.”

“Oh my!” On the other side of the line, the embassy staff was shocked.

Did he know how much several tons of gold were worth? How dared he say so?

But on second thought, the staff of the embassy remembered that the caller had announced his name and work unit, and the program team had indeed filed a report. “Wait, I will send someone over immediately.” He hung up the phone.

The people from the embassy set off immediately. It didn’t take long for them to arrive at the uninhabited island. Under the guidance of the program staff, they found the detailed location of Liu Guobin and the others.

The moment they saw the gold, they were also dumbfounded! They hadn’t expected it either.

There were true ruins on this uninhabited island, and there were actually tons of gold! What should they do?

Chapter 839: Netizens Were Stunned!

“What do you think?” Standing next to the people from the embassy, Liu Guobin asked, “What about it?”

“What about it?” The people from the embassy were surprised, and then said, “Hurry up. Call and report to the government for an immediate news blackout. Don’t tell the local government. We will wait for the domestic decision.”

At the same time, Fang Qiu didn't care much about it. He asked for a particularly bright light stick from the program staff, and walked into the cave alone to see those human figures left by the heroic predecessor on the rock wall in the cave. The martial arts moves were recorded in the patterns.

Unfortunately, after he walked around and took a closer look, he found that the predecessor of the Ming Dynasty did not save all his martial arts. "Maybe he thought that this place was too remote to be visited by anyone, so he didn't keep it all because of a lack of interest."

"But these are enough." He whispered secretly.

He memorized all the records on the wall and began to learn and integrate them. When he finished it, all the matters concerning the bones of the ancient hero, the gold, and the remains of Zheng He had all been dealt with over there. As he just walked out of the cave, he saw a big ship off the island from a distance.

"What's the matter with this ship?" Fang Qiu asked, "Why is there a ship docking on this island at this time?"

"I don't know." Liu Qingshi shook his head and added, "I'm also surprised. Why is there a ship on this uninhabited island?" Others also shook their heads.

This made Fang Qiu even more puzzled. When he was about to go there and have a look, Liu Guobin suddenly pulled Fang Qiu aside, and whispered in his ear, "This is a merchant ship just passing by and the one that the government has contacted. It's going to secretly ship the gold back home. Otherwise, a billion dollars' worth of gold would cause endless trouble!"

"Is it national smuggling?" Fang Qiu was stunned.

"Don't put it that way." Liu Guobin patted Fang Qiu on the shoulder, and said with a look of justice, "Can it be called smuggling when it's ours in the first place? As Chinese, you should be more patriotic, Ok?" Fang Qiu smiled.

"By the way, there is good news." Liu Guobin continued happily, "The authorities told us that we are allowed to show this incident, but only the discovery of the treasure, and the rest won't be aired."

“Oh.” Fang Qiu nodded clearly.

This was great news for both the director and the TV station, but for Fang Qiu, it didn’t seem to be of much use. “You are really my lucky charm. We have had everything when you are here, first the sharks and then a storm. In the end we even found the treasures.”

Liu Guobin added excitedly, “This is new to a variety show.” Hearing his words, Fang Qiu looked at the director speechlessly, and asked, “Are you complimenting me or satirizing me for making trouble wherever I go?”

“Of course, I’m complimenting you.” Liu Guobin smiled.

“Oh.” Fang Qiu asked, “What are they going to do with the bones of the ancient hero?”

“Do not worry,” Liu Guobin said, “he is a hero with national righteousness and will not be treated badly by the government. The embassy said that this ancient hero was on a historical mission worth admiring. It is necessary to give him enough credit and his bones will be left here. After all, this place has inherited his will, and the government will send people to promote this place as soon as possible and set up a monument to further witness his heroic deeds.”

“That’s good.” Fang Qiu nodded. Although he wanted to bring the bones of this old man back to his hometown, it would obviously not be easy to find out his hometown after so many years.

The most important thing was that the old man’s will was to stay here and guard this sea area until he died. If he took his bones away, wouldn’t it be against his will? Therefore, Fang Qiu thought that this method was quite good. Everything was ready. All staff of the program team retreated to the beach and continued to record the end of the episode.

At the same time, under the arrangement of the embassy, they packed the gold and then loaded it on the merchant ship and transported it away. After the merchant ship finished loading and left, the people from the embassy allowed the program team to leave.

“All right.” Hearing the news from the embassy, Liu Guobin immediately announced to everyone, “I officially announce that the recording of this program is over.”

With that, the six MCs who had just finished recording the end immediately swarmed up and rushed towards the director and were ready to beat him. The director fled in fright.

The members of the shooting crew also successfully filmed the scene of several MCs chasing the panicked director. After everything was over, Fang Qiu went back to the cave again, bowed deeply to the bones of the old predecessor, and then left with the program team. After leaving the uninhabited island, the program team did not make any stops. They boarded the plane and returned to Huaxia.

At the Capital International Airport, the plane landed.

Everyone had changed their outfits. They walked out of the airport’s safe passage and said goodbye to each other. Everyone, including the members of the director team, expressed their gratitude to Fang Qiu for his excellent performance in the past few days. They knew that without Fang Qiu, they might not have been able to finish the recording these days.

Without Fang Qiu, there would not have been as many highlights in this episode as they were now. They were looking forward to this episode, and couldn’t wait to rush back to edit it. Of course, apart from the director team, the six MCs and Song Yaqi all knew that this show was destined to be brilliant. As long as the editing of the show was good enough, it would inevitably be a big hit once it was aired!

They were grateful to Fang Qiu for everything.

Therefore, everyone expressed their gratitude to Fang Qiu. Fang Qiu was humble enough to say that the program was a joint effort, and he hoped to see them next time.

After the program team left, only Song Yaqi stayed.

“I was surprised that your agent would allow you to participate in this kind of show.” Fang Qiu smiled and said, “But after these days, your performance was very good, and you are very talented in doing variety shows.”

“Thank you.” Song Yaqi responded with a smile, and then said, “Thank you for your care over the past few days, so that we... we were not so miserable.”

“My pleasure. I am a doctor after all,” Fang Qiu said.

“Well, I should get going. The agent is waiting for me outside.” Song Yaqi pointed at the safe passage, and then said to Fang Qiu, “Goodbye.”

“Goodbye.” Fang Qiu nodded.

After saying goodbye to her, Fang Qiu immediately booked a ticket to Beijiāng on the Internet. Then under the cover of Song Yaqi, he escaped the eyes of fans at the airport. After getting the ticket, he went directly to the VIP waiting room. As soon as the time was up, he boarded the plane and flew to Beijiāng. The plane he took was still on its way to Beijiāng when the program team had already begun to release the materials eagerly.

Of course, it was the director’s order.

This episode of the show was so shocking. How could he not release the materials in advance? Although there had been heated discussions caused by the participation of the two celebrities Fang Qiu and Song Yaqi before, it was not the final effect the director had wanted to achieve.

It was just a publicity stunt. The most important thing was the quality of the show! Of course, the release of the materials was not official.

It was done by the marketing accounts that the director team had often worked with. “According to reliable sources, Fang Qiu participated in a variety show. To fish for abalone in the sea for lunch, he encountered sharks. The situation is still unknown!”

The first piece of news was released by a marketing account that had often released explosive news. As soon as the news came out, there was an uproar on the Internet.

The marketing account had attracted a lot of attention. Although the materials released were not necessarily true, most of them were topics of special concern. Therefore, as soon as the news came out, it was reposted and commented on by many people. All of a sudden, many random netizens were attracted.

Fang Qiu's fans who heard the news were also dumbfounded!

"Fang Qiu encountered sharks?"

"D*mn, is this true?"

"No way! He just went fishing for seafood, and met sharks?"

"Blogger, please make it clear. Did anything happen to Fang Qiu?"

"The news sounds fake, right? Fishing for abalone but meeting sharks? How could it be possible?"

"It's rumor. The blogger is just spreading rumors. I'm sure the blogger is an idiot!"

"The blogger has underestimated the program team too much. It is certainly not stupid. Do you know that an A-list celebrity is worth less than Fang Qiu? He charged 100 million dollars of medical fees. He donated one billion dollars. They finally managed to get Fang Qiu on the show, and they would certainly be very protective of him. How dared they allow Fang Qiu to go into the sea and encounter sharks?"

"That's right. Do you know how many precautions a program team would take during the recording? How could it be possible for him to encounter sharks? I swear, if Fang Qiu really encountered sharks, I will eat dog shit alive!"

All of a sudden, there were heated discussions on the Internet. The comment about eating dog shit alive was liked by thousands of netizens, and many of them kept screenshots of it.

A large number of netizens flooded into the official Weibo account of the program team and started various inquiries. However, when they were talking enthusiastically, the official Weibo account actually responded.

The account not only liked a certain “eating dog shit” comment, but it also directly replied on Weibo that, during the recording of the show, Fang Qiu did encounter sharks, and the situation was particularly critical. He also killed a shark in the sea. He was now safe and sound. They didn’t have to worry about him. As for the specific situation, they would know it when they watched this episode on time.

When that response came out, everyone was shocked!

“Damn, are they kidding? Fang Qiu killed a shark in the sea?”

“Are you joking? Fang Qiu might have encountered a shark, and had a narrow escape, but killing the shark? Do you believe it yourself?”

Even Fang Qiu’s fans didn’t believe it, let alone some random netizens.

After all, it was a shark in the sea!

Chapter 840: I Would Eat Dog Shit If They Found the Treasures!

However, when everyone was shocked by the news released by the official Weibo account of the program team, most of the netizens went to the Weibo page of the netizen who had left a message “eating dog shit alive” and left messages like crazy.

“Unexpectedly, it gave you a slap in the face so quickly.”

“Aha, you’d better be ready to eat dog shit alive.”

“Hurry up and eat dog shit.”

“Start the live streaming, and I want to watch you eat dog shit!”

“Don’t delete your Weibo message, because I have already taken a screenshot of it!”

Within just ten minutes, there were tens of thousands of comments under this message. Therefore, the blogger who had originally wanted to quietly delete the Weibo message was immediately dumbfounded.

But as a result, his Weibo followers had also increased by thousands.

Under such circumstances, the blogger could only quickly write on Weibo and explained that it was a joke and he would never do such a stupid thing again! When the blogger admitted his mistake, everyone laughed.

It was all over.

Everyone’s attention was back on the show. Unexpectedly, Fang Qiu had actually encountered sharks and even killed one. If this was true, he would be so awesome.

“They can’t reveal the content of the show, but at least they should tell us what shark Fang Qiu met?”

“It’s definitely not a tiger shark, because you will die if you encounter one!”

“Maybe it’s a great white shark?”

“You’ve guessed it wrong. A shark that can be killed, what kind of shark do you think it is? Of course, it is a small shark!”

“In ancient times, there was Wu Song fighting a tiger, and now Fang Qiu killing a shark?”

“Sharks are not that easy to kill, right? Even the meat of a dead shark is difficult to cut, let alone a shark that lives in the sea.”

All of a sudden, there were all kinds of speculations and limericks under the official Weibo account of the program team and they flooded the screen. But the official Weibo account of the program team just kept silent and let the netizens guess. Under such circumstances, the netizens’ expectations for the show greatly improved. Almost everyone was looking forward to the show and they couldn’t wait to see it.

Unfortunately, they had to wait a few more days.

The next day, when the first piece of news had aroused everyone’s curiosity, the second piece of news was released. This time it was still a marketing account with many followers.

“Shocking news! According to reliable sources, Fang Qiu participated in a variety show and discovered Zheng He’s treasures on an uninhabited island overseas. The total value of the treasures reached several billion dollars!” The article included the text and even some photos. After the news came out, everyone was shocked.

“D*mn, a total value of billions?”

“They must be bluffing. Billions’ worth of treasures? If they really found them, why would they need to shoot a variety show? They could divide the treasures and it will be enough for them to live a lifetime.”

“I would believe it when they said that Fang Qiu met a shark. What the hell is going on with the treasures?”

“The hype of the program team should have a bottom line. Please don’t hype up something that is not likely to happen.”

“Do you know what the concept of billions is? How could they have found billions worth of treasures so easily? Then the people of the whole country should follow them on the treasure hunt. What’s point of watching the show?”

Apart from leaving crazy comments on that marketing account, many others went to the official Weibo account of the program team to leave many messages like crazy.

“Why don’t you dare to admit it this time?”

“Stop doing all the hype! How can there be billions of dollars?”

“If you dare to admit it, I will admire you, but do you dare to admit it?”

“Are you kidding? Why didn’t you say that you found Roger’s treasures in One Piece?”

“Aha, is the program team going to train Fang Qiu as a real treasure hunter?”

Everyone was trying to provoke the official account of the program team, but the account never responded.

At this time, the “eating dog shit” netizen yesterday seemed irritated by the fact that the official Weibo account of the program team did not dare to admit it this time, and he immediately stood out.

“The program team is too brazen for hype. I swear, if they found the treasures worth billions of dollars this time, I would eat dog shit alive for real and I will never regret it!”

The netizens found that it was him again.

Immediately, everyone liked his message. There were also a large number of netizens who responded in the comment section under his message.

“Dude, it’s no fun to post this kind of thing this time. You absolutely won’t eat it this time!”

“What if there is a miracle? Dude, I’ll be waiting for you.”

“What are you waiting for? The official account doesn’t dare to reply. Obviously, it is hype. There is no such a thing.”

Seeing everyone’s replies, the “shit-eating” netizen was very proud. However, just when he was feeling proud, the official Weibo account of the program team suddenly updated again.

“During the recording of this episode, we did find some treasures, but not Zheng He’s treasures. They have a certain relationship with Zheng He. This is a real hero’s story. For the specific situation, please watch the show on time!”

With the reply of the official account, for the first time, everyone who had paid attention to this incident was shocked!

“D*mn!”

“D*mn!”

“D*mn!!!”

The comments under this message were unanimous. They were arranged very neatly for dozens of pages. The netizens were really shocked, and there was really nothing left to say.

Who could believe that the program team had actually discovered treasures worth billions of dollars? Wasn’t it too awesome? Greatly shocked, many netizens once again went to the Weibo of the “shit-eating” netizen.

“Aha, the official account replied and they really found the treasures worth billions!”

“I feel sorry for you. I know you wanted to turn the tables, but fell into a deeper pit instead.”

“I’m looking forward to it. I can finally see someone eating shit for real.”

“Please start live streaming.”

“Blogger, I am your fan, and I want to watch you eat shit.”

“Is your guarantee still valid?”

“If you’re a man, show it to me!”

There were ridicule, satire, and some aggressive comments. All kinds of messages occupied the poor man’s Weibo page. This time, the “shit-eating” man who had remained very confident was completely dumbfounded.

He had waited for several hours before he determined that the official account would definitely not post any confirmative Weibo message and then he posted something like that. But the official account seemed to be teasing him. Soon after he posted that, the official Weibo account of the program team actually replied. This was really aimed at him!

Under the pressure from thousands of netizens, he had no choice but to post something else. “I’m sorry. Please forgive me again. I promise that starting from today, I will never do it again!”

Netizens responded to this remark one after another.

“D*mn, did you admit your mistake again?”

“Dude, good for you. It’s brave of you to admit your mistake.”

“Since you apologize, I will let you go.”

“Although you are evading responsibility, you did not run away at least, so I chose to forgive you.”

“Oh, you’re cracking me up. Tell me honestly, how many times have you admitted your mistakes?”

“To be honest, everyone didn’t believe it. If it were not for the confirmation of the official Weibo account, I would not have believed it. So they shouldn’t blame you for this. We can only blame the show for being so awesome. As for your boast, I forgive you.”

Once again, everyone laughed because of him. Although they were aggressive at the beginning, soon they stopped urging him to do that. After all, everyone thought that this thing was really amazing, and such a thing happened once in a blue moon.

Apart from the netizens, the program teams of other TV stations’ variety shows, after seeing this news, were immediately dumbfounded.

“Isn’t it an endless drama?”

“D*mn, there are so many highlights. What did they do in this episode of the show?”

“It’s just one episode. What happened?”

Even the production teams of other variety shows were curious. One could only imagine how curious the netizens were! Netizens who couldn’t bear the temptation were starting to go crazy.

“I want to see sharks!”

“No, I want to see how Fang Qiu killed the shark and what shark he killed!”

“I want to see the treasures!”

“What are the treasures and why are they worth billions? We want to see Fang Qiu and Song Yaqi!”

“What treasures are they? Just tell us!”

Soon the discussion was getting heater and heater. Everyone rushed to the official Weibo account of the program team to leave tons of messages. They were eager to watch the show.

Under such circumstances, the program team soon felt the pressure from the public opinion.

It was the first time that they had felt that they were asking for it. Urged by the almost crazy netizens, the program team could only hold a meeting quickly.

At the Jiangzhe TV Station, due to the impact of the public opinion from netizens, the leader of the TV station immediately asked the program team to respond urgently and quickly come up with a solution.

Liu Guobin could only summon the main creators of the program team to a meeting.

“Let’s discuss it. What should we do now?”

In the meeting room, Liu Guobin directly projected the skyrocketing messages under the official Weibo account of the program team on the big screen, and said to everyone, “Now there are only two days away from Saturday, and there is no time. The official trailer of the next episode will be released soon. What shall we do now?”

“I think we can just leave it.” The director of operations said, “What we want is everyone’s attention to the show. The current situation is just what we’ve wanted. It’s no big deal. We can just soothe the leader for the time being. This episode is so attractive, so the show will definitely be a big hit when it is aired.”

“I don’t think it will work. Now the publicity has started. In any case, we have to quickly make the promotional video to meet the public’s expectations for this episode of the show and attract more loyal audiences. It is the most important thing now!”

Hearing his words, the other main creators of the program team nodded in agreement.

Liu Guobin pondered for a moment and said, "Yes. Just do it. Everyone will work 24 hours from now on. In any case, you must edit the first episode of the program and complete the post-production. Tomorrow morning, I want to see the promo!"

"OK." All the main creators responded in unison, with extraordinary momentum.

After all, everyone was encouraged by the popularity of the show. This was the first time they had been so proud of their work. They were too excited to fall asleep anyway.
