Chapter 71: Confusion, Three Huts

"Thanks, father!" Qin Huaiyong heard her words and saw her cheerful bowing decorated with her water-like eyes and flower-like smile, and he could tell she was thrilled.

This kid was kind and friendly as she didn't mention anything that could make him feel embarrassed, and her smile looked so sincere.

So from now on, Wanru would be raised by Ruolan, and he knew Ruolan's characters which would make her treat this kid very well. Therefore, he thought he didn't owe her.

Qin Huaiyong didn't stay on the mountain for a long time. He comforted Qin Wanru with a few sentences and then left.

Madam Xin and Luo Xiaowan left on the same day after they finished their lunches. Qin Wanru sent them to the foot of the mountain, and she whispered with Luo Xiaowan many issues. Finally, she followed Madam Xin and left reluctantly.

"Miss, let's go back!" Qing Yue took a glimpse at the forest at the back mountain and reminded Qin Wanru and said. Even though it was in the daytime now, Qing Yue felt worried because the accident happened here to Qin Yuru.

"Nothing to be worried about." Qin Wanru shook her head. Madam Xin went down towards the back mountain. Looking around, she found a path and said, "Let's go further."

"Miss, where is this path leading to?" Staring at this separate path and said worriedly. She was not familiar with this place and was concerned if any accident happened. She was very alert because of Madam Di's scary behaviors.

"No idea, just go!" Qin Wanru fell on several clusters of orchids by the path.

There were only several clusters, and none of them were in top quality but the most ordinary one as if they grew by the roadside randomly. All of them were blooming in yellow flowers, which were not large but delicate. It was not super gorgeous but subtle enough that a gravel path was dotted with several clusters of orchids like this.

A gravel path was unfolding in front of her, and it was precisely the one that brought Madam Xin and Luo Xiaowan down the mountain. While this path was leading the foot of the hill, so where was this one leading?

It was rarely likely that both paths led to the same destination, which was the foot of the mountain. Moreover, both of them scattered gravels, and Jingxin Monastery wouldn't do something unnecessary.

"Come, let's go have a look!" Qin Wanru found it imposing, so she turned around and lifted her foot.

"Miss, I think we shouldn't go!" Qing Yue was very worried. Although she still followed behind Qin Wanru, she was concerned.

"It's alright!" Qin Wanru shook her head. Standing and looking at the path for a few more minutes, she lifted her foot again, and an assumption just came into her mind. However, she didn't know if her guess was correct, so she would explore it yourself.

Finding her Miss was so determined, Qing Yue had no way but followed behind her and walked carefully into the forest.

After a few steps, a turn came into their views alongside with several orchids which were blooming in small flowers and demonstrating an attractive posture. Those orchids looked normal but emanated a sense of elegance of the autumn day.

In the wake of several turns, Qin Wanru stood there to have rest as the path was leading them to go up and down from time to time. She looked back and found the path was going up generally. Far away, the land of grass had three huts resting on it, and several tall and beautiful bamboos growing behind huts.

It was the purple bamboos which were different from other ordinary green bamboos.

She smiled slightly. It seemed that she found it.

She approached the huts and found it was locked, and the windows were shut tightly as well. Then she turned to the back of the huts and found several purple bamboos, bunches of orchids. This was a serene accommodation.

She lifted her head and knew that this place was below the side of the top of Jingxin Monastery and was not behind it. She could see a few Buddhist halls above Jingxin Monastery. Smoking of incense was drifting in the air, and the peaceful Buddha's rhythm could also be heard, but all of these would not bother anyone.

This was an excellent place for meditation and learning the knowledge of Zen.

"Miss, nobody is around!" Qing Yue walked around the hut for three times but found nothing, "maybe this is a deserted house, it seems that no one is living here for a long time."

"Someone is living here!" Qin Wanru shook her head and spotted a bamboo hat, which was still wet, hanging outside the door.

She looked at the sun in the middle of the autumn day. The bamboo made hat could not be wet if it were put in the sun for a long time.

Qing Yue followed Qin Wanru and saw the wet bamboo hat as well. She couldn't help but touch it and got surprised, "Miss, it's wet. Who... who is living here? Who would choose not to live in Jingxin Monastery but here? Couldn't it be... be some male pilgrim?"

"No!" Qin Wanru shook her head. It was widely known in Jiangzhou that Jingxin Monastery would never keep any male pilgrims to stay overnight, and even her father would never break the rule.

If a male pilgrim could be retained here, then it would be impossible that an easily found path like this would be ignored even in people's gossips.

"Female pilgrims would live up on the mountain, and male pilgrims are not allowed to live here. So who else would live here except all the pilgrims?" Qing Yue asked in confusion and raised her head to check around. "Miss, this is a nice place for living. It's quiet, and it has good scenery. Both Jingxin Monastery and the mountains are in the view."

Qin Wanru's cherry-like lips bent up and smiled, "does it have to be some pilgrim?"

"Who would live in the mountain if it's not a pilgrim?" Qing Yue asked that unconsciously.

Qin Wanru pointed up there with a smile on her face, but she didn't say anything. Looking at this hut, she skewed her beautiful head to the other side a little bit and started to think.

Qing Yue followed her movement and looked up, but she found nothing except the sky and the Buddha hall standing.

"Miss, there is only a Monastery up here, and is nun of Monastery living here?" Qing Yue didn't see anything, so she pouted her mouth. But when she finished her sentence, she jumped up surprisingly, "ah, Miss, is it the nun from Jingxin Monastery?"

Qin Wanru walked around the hut but concluded that nothing was around it. So she put her concentration on the vast land of grass. She took a few steps and squatted there. Then she noticed three clovers which looked the same. This grass had three leaves, which made them look normal if Qin Wanru had never read any medical books. However, she now knew that these clovers were herbs.

She raised her eyes again and checked other places. It was not a vast land of grass that they were standing on but a grassland where planted many herbs. Her smile grew wider now.

"Let's go back now!" Qin Wanru stood up while her eyes were still lingering on the hut. She stared it carefully again and said.

"Yes, Miss!" Qing Yue looked at Wanru eagerly who seemed to be very confident, but Qing Yue still didn't understand anything.

They took less time than they came here. Qin Wanru walked on the path and turned into the forest. Jingxin Monastery was behind this forest.

Qin Wanru relocated herself for the best position and saw the Buddha hall that she had seen from the hut and also the Zen room of the Jingxin Monastery master.

The Zen room of the Jingxin Monastery master was not in the center of the Jingxin Monastery but somewhere a little bit far from it.

Standing outside the Zen room of Jingxin Monastery master, Qin Wanru hesitated for a few seconds and walked in. The nun waiting at the door bowed to her before went into the room and reported her visiting message to the master of Jingxin Monastery.

After a while, a nun showed up, "Second Miss Qin, our master invited you to go inside!"

Qin Wanru smiled politely, asking Qing Yue to stay by the door, and she walked into the room along.

The fragrance of the incense emitting from the censer on the platform was floating in the room quietly and beautifully. The aroma of the Buddha's incense differed from other normal ones as it conveyed tranquility and could make people feel secure and composed. The minute she walked in, she felt much more refreshed.

It seemed that the master of Jingxin Monastery who was sitting on her knees on the rush cushion didn't feel surprised on seeing her at this moment.

"Nun, can I ask something about Mingqiu Nun?" Qin Wanru stepped forward and sat on her knees on another rush cushion. She bowed, with her heading lowering down, and asked.

"She is not here." The master of Jingxin Monastery replied kindly.

"Nun, can I ask if Mingqiu Nun is still in Jiangzhou?" Qin Wanru added.

"Maybe she is, and maybe not. After she left Jingxin Monastery, it became unnecessary for her to tell me where she is going." Jingxin Monastery said with a smile. Her eyes filled with profound significance when they fell on Qin Wanru.

"Do you think if I can find Mingqiu Nun?" Qin Wanru changed her way in asking.

"Well... that depends on your destiny. Fate comes and goes. It sounds easy, but sometimes it can be tricky!" The words of the Jingxin Monastery master made people think.

Qin Wanru became more curious because of her words. Her long eyelashes fluttered, and she raised her big black eyes, smiling and looking at the master of Jingxin Monastery, "Could you please bring a word to Mingqiu Nun for me?"

"What do you want to tell her?"

"I want to ask Mingqiu Nun to teach me medical skill please." Qin Wanru sat upright, and the smile on her face disappeared, which made her look more serious now.

"This depends on your fate!" Jingxin Monastery smiled to Qin Wanru and said. Then she reached to pick up three incenses by her side and gave them to Qin Wanru. She pointed to the censer burner on the corner of the platform by the window and said, "go and burn some incense, then you'll know if you have the fate!"

Qin Wanru stood up and accepted the incense with respect. Walking to the incense platform, she ignited the three incenses and planted them into the incense burner when she was drawn attention to an opened book on the platform.

That was a medical book which was different from the one she had before. After she was reborn into her current life, Qin Wanru has read the book for a long time and was so familiar to its content that she could almost remember everything in it. Therefore, she could tell that this one was different.

But the layout and binding of the book shared some similarities with the one she owned, and some contents were precisely the same.

"Is this the following one?" Qin Wanru turned around and asked Jingxin Monastery master. Although she never heard that her medical book had a following one, the page she turned on contained more sophisticated instructions and the herbs showed in the pictures and texts were strange to her as well.

This medical book was more esoteric than the one she had before.

Jingxin Monastery master looked at Qin Wanru and laughed out loud suddenly. She was observing Qin Wanru mildly, “that medical book, you finished reading already?”

Qin Wanru returned to the rush cushion and sat down, and she replied while sat respectfully and uprightly, “I have read it comprehensively.”

“What do you think of it?” Jingxin Monastery master asked with a smile.

“I want to learn medicine.” Qin Wanru crouched over the ground to demonstrate her sincerity to Jingxin Monastery master respectfully. She was determined as this was the reason she came here today.

Medicine was the technique to protect her! To save herself and also for the one who saved her!

Medical Princess

Chapter 72: Asking the Accommodation of the Distinguished Guest in the Capital City

“Since you eagerly want to learn medicine, you should show your sincerity!” Jingxin Monastery master said with a glance and a smile which embraced profound meanings. Then she closed her eyes and started to recite the sutra with beads rolling in her hands.

Unexpectedly, she put on a face that showed her reluctance to talk with Qin Wanru.

A nun walked in, and she folded her hands respectably to Qin Wanru, “Second Miss Qin, please!”

Qin Wanru had to leave as she saw Jingxin Monastery master went into her meditation already.

She walked out of the room, Qing Yue followed her in a hurry and asked with concerns, “Miss, why did you find Jingxin Monastery master to do?”

“Nothing!” Qin Wanru stood by the door and shook her head. However, she didn’t leave but looking down to the other side, where the land of grass came into her sight. If she walked further, she could also see a corner of the hut.

Qing Yue saw it too, but she was stopped by Qin Wanru’s smile when she was about to say anything. Qin Wanru turned around and walked back. Her eyes squinted slightly and thought if Jingxin Monastery master was attempting to examine her sincerity.

The medical book on the platform, her medical book?

The medical books but obviously belonged to the same set.

What did it mean?

Suddenly, an inspiration flashed in her mind, the medical book laying on the platform was the critical point because Jingxin Monastery master became much more amiable and talkative after she asked about that book. So was it admission to her?

It was not enough that Jingxin Monastery master approved her. She wanted to get trained by the best medical teacher, who was the Mingqiu Nun. Therefore, she required her approval as well.

On the way back to her room, Qin Wanru kept considering this question. After she sat down, an idea suddenly came upon her as her medical book was taken away by Chu Liuchen unreasonably.

Where was the mysterious Chu Liuchen? It was easy for him to find her but never easy for her to see him.

How to find Chu Liuchen on earth while staying at home at the same time? This was the critical problem, but Qin Wanru couldn't solve it.

She thought for a while and finally decided to talk with grandma. If anyone knew anything about Chu Liuchen, that person could only be Old Grandma!

When Qin Wanru went into her room, Old Grandma's medicine was ready. She took medicine from the young girl servant and sat on the stool by the bed. Blowing the hot burning medicine liquid down to the right temperature, she served and fed Old Grandma the medicine liquid by a spoon. After Old Grandma finished her medicine, girl servant took the bowl, and Qin Wanru picked up a towel using it to wipe Old Grandma's lips gently.

"Grandma, why is Aunt Shui not here?" She put down the towel and looked around curiously and asked. Usually, Shui Ruolan would be here at this time.

"I asked her to go down the mountain to prepare for the wedding ceremony!" Old Grandma smiled, which indicated that she was in a good mood, and her voice was not that hoarse anymore.

"Leaving the mountain now?" Qin Wanru asked randomly and her eyes lit up. She held Old Grandma's hands and said happily, "Will Aunt Shui marry into our family?"

"Yes, your father agreed already, and the wedding will be held recently. I am free here, Zhuozhuo is taking care of me, so I asked her to get prepared. This is a right and decent marriage though it was in a rush. However, we couldn't abandon the rules and regulations. I am afraid that your Aunt Shui didn't understand many rules, so I asked Nanny Duan to follow her to go down the mountain as well!"

Old Grandma smiled and caressed Qin Wanru's hands, then she said amiably, "from now on, you'll have Aunt Shui as your company. She'll protect you. I could have protected you as I did in the old days, but I'm old if I... then your marriage would be gossiped and schemed in the future, which will toil hard all your life, so I dare not to be perfunctory!"

Qin Wanru lowered her head slightly to hide the disappointment and coldness in her eyes. In her previous life, her marriage was controlled by Madam Di, and now because of the accident here in Jiangzhou, her marriage went through ups and downs, including engagement, breaking up, re-engagement, and breaking up again, and again. She undertook three times' breaking up in engagement, which would ruin her reputation no matter how good she was, and not mention that she was obliterated.

Madam Di controlled her marriage in the name of her mother, which made nobody wanted to marry her but ended up her marrying into Zuo Mansion only for warding off imminent death and bringing happiness to the mansion at last.

"Grandma, don't be worried this time because I have Aunt Shui. And Aunt Shui has me on her side to help her take care of you and be filial, so you'll live long!" When Qin Wanru lifted her head again, she was smiling already. She reached to hold Old Grandma's hand and her look was filled with her affection and respect towards Old Grandma which made her eyes went wet.

She was such a good kid, how could Madam Di do something so vicious like that.

"Grandma, are you going back to the capital city?" Qin Wanru's thick and long eyelashes fluttered and asked with a smile.

"Zhuzhuo was so smart, maybe soon. Your father's job transfer order would come soon!" Old Grandma nodded her head and showed a bright smile. At least the situation was not bad now. She would not be worried as Ruolan was raising Zhuzhuo. Although Ruolan, as the second wife, was a little bit lower than Madam Di, she was a legal wife, who could help her protect Zhuzhuo.

"Did anyone send a message from the capital city?" Qin Wanru shook Old Grandma's hands and asked like a spoiled child, and her big black eyes made Old Grandma felt so worried about her.

"Don't be upset, Zhuzhuo. This thing is real!" Old Grandma thought Qin Wanru didn't want to stay in Jiangzhou after all those accidents.

"How could grandma be so assured that someone from the capital city is visiting us?" Qin Wanru, blinked her eyes happily and asked.

"Yes!" Old Grandma laughed and caressed her hair. Even if she was not her grandchild, Old Grandma still loved her so much because this kid was both good-looking and cute, and she was only a little bit naughty but still behaved well and would never have evil ideas.

"Who? Can grandma tell me how sent the message? Duke Yong Mansion?" Qin Wanru asked like a spoiled kid.

On seeing her innocent look, Old Grandma smiled and replied randomly, "Not only Duke Yong Mansion but another distinguished person in the capital city also delivered the message."

Old Grandma had no good feeling about Duke Yong because of Madam Di.

"Is someone from the capital city visiting us? Will he live in our mansion?" Deliberately, Qin Wanru looked very curious and made up her decision to figure it out which, however, was totally like a kid asking in a randomly.

"He lived in the mansion for a short time and left now." Old Grandma surely couldn't tell a kid an essential thing like this, so she just mumbled her words and said.

Qin Wanru suddenly felt nervous, and her face turned pale, couldn't... couldn't he leave in this critical moment?

"Where did he go, grandma? Did that man from the capital city go back? Qin Wanru blinked her eyes, which made her long eyelashes almost touch Old Grandma's palm.

"He didn't go back yet. I heard he is living in the accommodation, but I didn't know anything else. This is your father's business. You're just little girl. How come you have so many questions?" Old Grandma flicked her finger on Wanru's head and criticized her with a laugh.

Old Grandma knew all these only because Qin Huaiyong revealed some information to her, but she didn't know the real identity of Chu Liuchen.

Although Old Grandma was criticizing her, her voice and movements were both very gentle which didn't have an influence on her. Qin Wanru pretended to be an innocent kid knowing nothing and talked with Old Grandma for a while. When she saw Old Grandma looked a little bit tired, she left the room.

She walked outside and asked some girl servants and old women to serve Old Grandma in all efforts, and then she left.

Last night, Chu Liuchen went to her room and left in the morning. Could that accommodation be someone near Jingxin Monastery?

She suddenly remembered father did have an accommodation nearby because when she accompanied grandma to rest in Jingxin Monastery, father would stay over night in an accommodation nearby.

"Qing Yue, where would father live when he arrived late in Jingxin Monastery in the past? Do you know?" Qin Wanru thought and asked.

There was a time when father left very late, and Qing Yue once sent him out of Jingxin Monastery.

"I knew, General had accommodation in our mansion for rest. And I asked the servants beside General who said he lived in accommodation at the back of the mountain." Qing Yue followed Qin Wanru to go outside and said.

"Do you know how to get there?" Qin Wanru felt relieved and thought it would be great as long as Chu Liuchen didn't leave.

"I knew some but not all of them. I used to send general to an intersection at the back mountain of Jingxin Monastery, and I saw a yard far away, but I didn't know that was the one!" Qing Yue thought and said. She didn't send general to the yard that time as the general asked her to stop and go back home far away from the yard.

"Go check it!" Qin Wanru made up her mind, so she turned around and went to the back mountain of Jingxin Monastery.

She didn't know why Chu Liuchen came to Jiangzhou and also had no clues about the time he would leave. If he really left, where would she find him? That medical book was essential to her medical learning so that she couldn't lose it.

"Yes, Miss! I'll check the situation in front of us, so Miss doesn't go now!" Qing Yue nodded her head and trotted ahead of Qin Wanru to lead her way. Although she didn't know what Qin Wanru was planning to do, her miss said that, so she had to be obedient to her. Qing Yue now had solid faith in Qin Wanru.

Servant and master were walking towards the back of the mountain one by one. They turned to the path which Qing Yue still remembered and then went through the forest. Then they saw a yard far away.

The accommodation didn't have a large yard or a high wall, and it looked desolated which shared many similarities with the yard of Jingxin Monastery. Qin Wanru walked to the door, and she even saw a few strings of smoked bacon hanging under the roof. It looked like a normal family during the New Year festival.

The only inconsistency with the simple yard was a beautiful lad wearing a red gown.

Sitting in the solely wooden lounge chair in the yard, he closed his eyes and rocked the lounge chair, which made him look very carefree. Having a book by his hand, Qin Wanru found that book was familiar to her and she knew it directly. That book was her medical book which he snatched from her.

The lad wore a sophisticated appearance which portrayed elegance. His red gown made this handsome lad walking out of an ink-landscape much more colorful, showing his deep-rooted dignity and his elegant distinguished status. All of those elements mingled together contributing to this coordinative picture as if he was born to look like this.

“Did you see me enough? If so, then come in!” Chu Liuchen didn’t even open his eyes but knew someone was standing by the door.

Medical Princess

Chapter 73: A Scheming Male Fox

So she was found!

Qin Wanru didn’t feel surprised. Although this yard was empty, it didn’t mean nobody was around.

She came to see him at the very beginning, and she felt relieved when she found he was still here and in accommodation near Jingxin Monastery.

“Childe!” Qin Wanru walked in front of him, and then she stopped and bowed respectfully.

“What’s the matter?” Chu Liuchen raised his eyebrows and opened his eyes. It seemed that he was not surprised that she could find him here, and then he turned several pages of the book randomly.

Xiao Xuanzi grabbed a stool from nowhere and placed it in front of Chu Liuchen, who raised his eyes and took a glance at the stool only for fun.

Qin Wanru understood the situation and sat down quietly.

She was short, and now she became smaller after she sat there. She blinked her eyes and lifted her head to look at Chu Liuchen. She was looking down upon him when standing here.

“Childe, I need your help...” Qin Wanru pondered for a while and thought perhaps she should better speak it out directly.

But her words were interrupted by Chu Liuchen randomly, “do you think you have too many things to ask me? I am swamped and can’t help you everything!”

“Childe, it’s different this time!” Qin Wanru bit her lips with a grumble, leaving her eyes lingering on the medical book. If he didn’t take her book away, she wouldn’t have something to bother him this time.

“You want this book?” Looking at her begging face, Chu Liuchen raised the book by his hand and asked.

“Childe, that book is mine!” Qin Wanru looked at Chu Liuchen with her water-like eyes and said.

"So, you want..." Chu Liuchen closed the book and slapped it on the rail, squinting at her carelessly.

"So please give me back the book!" Qin Wanru blinked her beautiful eyes and pressed on with hope.

"What if I don't want to?" Chu Liuchen laughed in an overwhelmingly attractive posture and appearance. But was this kind of hegemonic behavior really matches his identity?

Qin Wanru felt speechless.

"Childe, that book is mine!" Qin Wanru reiterated.

"So?" Chu Liuchen put down his medical book and reached one of his hands to pull a beautiful strand of her scattered hair maliciously.

Her hair was smooth, which made him feel comfortable through fingers. Chu Liuchen desired to stroke her hair every time he saw her, even if he couldn't touch it, he would feel satisfied in pulling her hair. Her hair felt like the cat he raised before, both of them were soft!

Indeed, he pulled it again impolitely.

"Sore!" Qin Wanru didn't expect he would pull her hair with his full strength. She yelled with pain and reached to slap his hand in a hurry.

Chu Liuchen's hand dodged from her hand swiftly and pinched her little chubby face, which made him feel so happy that he burst out a laugh.

This girl was so funny!

He liked her annoying but helpless face as she couldn't do anything to him, and this made him feel very happy.

Just like right now, her upper lip was sucked in a little bit and tightened her cherry lips blowing up her cheeks as if she was about to blow bubbles. This was so funny.

"So how should I do to make you return the book?" Qin Wanru slapped his hands subconsciously but she didn't make it, so she pulled her stool backward to stay away from Chu Liuchen and then she asked.

"What about that stamp?" Chu Liuchen didn't stop her pulling the stool, he looked very happy.

"What?" Qin Wanru sat upright and asked with alert.

"For exchange with the book!" Chu Liuchen replied in a lazy way.

"I... I earned it by taking care of your Tangqianyan in front of the hall." Qin Wanru said.

"Did Tangqianyan bloom? How well did you take care of it?" Chu Liuchen raised his eyebrows and squinted, delivering profound meanings in his words.

His question made Qin Wanru speechless.

The flower didn't bloom either die, or she could say it only survived because it was not thriving. She asked Nanny Yu to look after Tangqianyan last time she went up to the mountain but had no idea of how was it now!

"The flower didn't adapt to the soil and water here!" Qin Wanru replied uneasily after she thought for a while.

"So you mean if I replanted it in the capital city, it'll get better?" Chu Liuchen asked in a smile.

His words made Qin Wanru much more nervous and moaned in her mind as she thought this childe would only play it for several days. By the time she returned the flower to him, she would have nothing to do with the flower no matter it was dead or alive, "so childe didn't plan to raise the flower yourself?"

"You can help me keep it!" Chu Liuchen scratched his chin randomly and showed a look that he only took it for granted, "You just make Tangqianyan bloom!"

So keeping the flower alive was not enough, and she had to raise it vigorously and beautifully. Qin Wanru felt stressed, and she put on an unhappy face, fluttering her long and lowered eyelashes and biting her lips.

"So... my medical book?" Qin Wanru thought and found no way but accepted it. As long as the flower didn't die, it could bloom someday, so she just raised it!

"Exchange it with the stamp!" Speaking in a leisure way, Chu Liuchen looked a little bit tired and unreasonable.

"Ok, I'll give you the stamp!" Qin Wanru only hesitated for a second and agreed immediately. Then she asked tentatively, "so the flower?"

"You have to try your best to raise the flower, or how could you get the seal?" Chu Liuchen said in an importune way.

That meant she had to return the stamp and take care of his Tangqianyan until it bloomed, and then she could finally get her medical book, which was hers initially but got robbed by him.

She used her own belonging to do business for him, and it seemed that she took up his advantages as if she used her stamp to exchange two other things from him.

Qin Wanru felt so wronged, extremely wronged.

But she must have that medical book.

"Yes, childe, don't worry, I remembered! I'll take care of the flower for you!" Qin Wanru said. She couldn't believe she would fail on a flower. If she were not able to make it bloom, she would turn to find a professional gardener because it was only one pot of flower.

"Alright!" Chu Liuchen looked satisfied about this, so he replied happily. Though he was still young, his left Qin Wanru an impression that he transformed into a fox behaving and thinking like a human being.

"So childe, please give it back to me!" Qin Wanru took a deep breath and wiped away the complaint on her face, and said seriously.

"Give me yours to me?" Chu Liuchen reached out a hand, and he showed the same wronged look like Qin Wanru as if he was the one getting bullied. He looked at her with inevitable confusion, "you won't take advantage of me, will you?"

Qin Wanru warned herself, again and again, stop being angry, stop.

She ground her teeth to swallow her grumble, “what do you want, childe?”

“Stamp? Don’t you tell me that you didn’t take it? It’s so important, and you won’t just put it aside randomly!” Chu Liuchen looked up and down Qin Wanru, and it seemed that he was guessing where she hid it.

His words made Qin Wanru blushed.

“What? You don’t want to give it to me?” Chu Liuchen picked up his eyebrow.

“You... you want it now?” Qin Wanru ground her teeth and looked around.

“What? Were you thinking of owing me? You took me so many advantages, and you did something like this, this is outrageous!” Chu Liuchen was charging her which made Qin Wanru begin to sweat. Was him an actor? His behaviors made her look like a perpetrator abandoned her family.

“I’ll take it out in the room!” Qin Wanru stood up suddenly because she couldn’t bear it anymore. She hung the stamp on her neck and it was impossible for her to untie her knot outside here.

Chu Liuchen didn’t embarrass her this time. He waved his hand to her with a laugh, which implied that she could go into the room now.

Qing Yue followed Qin Wanru into the room and helped her to untie the button for taking the stamp out. Finally, she also helped her to tie it up again.

Qin Wanru took Qing Yue back to the yard after everything was done. She passed the stamp to him and said unwillingly, “here you are!”

Chu Liuchen smiled and reached out his hand.

But suddenly, Qin Wanru took her hand back, “childe, when will you give it to me?” This stamp was so critical to her that she would never give it up.

“It depends on that flower!” Chu Liuchen seemed in a good mood as his beautiful eyes and eyebrows were all relieved.

“What if the flower didn’t bloom?” Qin Wanru thought she should better ask everything clearly.

“Then the stamp is mine!” Chu Liuchen smiled ambiguously. Leaning back and lying down, he was not impatient or in a hurry to reach out his hand for it.

Nothing could penetrate this stone!

“What does childe want this stamp for? Does it have anything useful to you?” Qin Wanru forced a hollow laugh. This Prince Chen was too difficult to deal with. With so many circuits and traps, he was still not confused but she was dizzy already. However, she couldn’t understand why Chu Liuchen was targeting her on earth.

"Whether it's useful or not is my own business!" Chu Liuchen looked at her thoroughly and a glimpse of leisure flashed in his beautiful eyes, finding her slightly pouting mouth. His words contained profound meaning, and he slapped the medical book for several times, "don't you want this book?"

"I want!" She had to suffer his threat, although she already knew his intention. She ground her teeth and gave her stamp to him.

Gracefully, Chu Liuchen accepted her stamp in her reluctant look and waved it in front of her. He then took a glance at Qin Wanru complacently, and he pushed that medical book towards Qin Wanru slightly, "here you are!"

Since the medical book was almost pushed to the ground, Qin Wanru reached out her hands and tried to hold it in a hurry.

"This medical book is good, didn't know how gave it to you!" Chu Liuchen asked randomly.

Qin Wanru was worried that the medical book was broken. She turned several pages for checking and didn't notice the mysterious light in his eyes while asking, so she replied aimlessly, "Jingxin Monastery master gave it to me."

"You want to learn medical skills with Jingxin Monastery master?" Chu Liuchen examined the tiny heading lowering down slightly in front of him, and he couldn't help but pull her bun.

"Ah! Sore!" Qin Wanru didn't even look up but slapped towards that hand messing up her hair.

That hand escaped flexibly.

Chapter 74: A Letter From the Queen

"Not Jingxin Monastery master but her sister in class." Qin Wanru missed slapping his hand and answered randomly.

She achieved her purpose, so now she stood up and planned to leave.

"You are leaving now?" Chu Liuchen asked with a smile. It seemed that he was in a mood which made him talkative and easy to communicate with, and of course, only seemingly.

"If possible, does childe want to ask me for anything else?" Qin Wanru asked carefully.

"I don't have anything else now, but I think you'll come to find me for other businesses." Chu Liuchen sighed, wearing an elegant and harmless smile. He would think like this if Qin Wanru didn't have any connections with him before.

"I... I'll find you for other things later?" Qin Wanru blinked her eyes and didn't know if he was joking or taking it seriously.

"I don't know. I'm tired, and I want to sleep because I stayed up late all night. My arms felt painful too!" Chu Liuchen closed his eyes, and suddenly he turned from an elegant lad into fatigue but a beautiful one.

Qin Wanru blushed, and she tossed a shy and angry look at him, turning around and leaving instantly. She was afraid to slap this sick and arrogant lad uncontrollably if staying any longer.

Certainly, that was just an idea!

Hearing her leaving, Chu Liuchen opened his eyes, and a smile was visible on his pale lips carrying some tiredness in a lad's age.

"Childe, Queen asked you to go back to the capital city please, a letter arrived!" A guard ran from the dark corner outside the room and presented him a letter respectfully.

"I don't want to read!" Chu Liuchen replied indifferently, but a smile remained on his face. However, the smile was frigid which made Xiao Xuanzi lowered his head hurriedly. His eyes, nose and mouth all indicated that he was already a motionless wooden man.

"But... but the Queen has something essential to tell you!" Feeling the coldness and bitterness in the air, the guard dared not to lift his head.

His long and slender fingers reached to the letter from the guard's hand, leaving the guard to sigh heavily and relieved. Finally, he would like to read the letter and he could finish his task.

But for the next second, this relief disappeared because what he heard was only the sound of tearing the letter and his gentle voice, "tell her to forget it! She is trying so hard now, what was she doing earlier! I never know she is such an amiable mother!"

He said in a mild voice, but the meaning in his words had a gloomy and bloodthirsty feeling, the guard couldn't support him and he kneeled, "childe..."

Chu Liuchen shook his hands and said impatiently, "go back to tell her, I'll not die in a short time. Tell her don't put on a face that she really cares about me. I'm not a three years old kid allowing her to fool me around!"

After he finished the sentence, he turned his head aside and picked up a handkerchief to cover his mouth as he began to cough violently.

Xiao Xuanzi went into a panic immediately, he came to his side, patting his back gently, "sir, are you alright? Don't worry, speak slowly!"

Chu Liuchen continued to cough, and it seemed that he couldn't stop now.

"Why you don't leave!" Chu Liuchen had to pat him on the back gently while yelling strictly to the guard who was still on his knees.

The guard dared not to say anything else and retreated in a rush.

Chu Liuchen coughed a longer time after the guard left. Xiao Xuanzi brought him warm water and he took a few sips to breathe smoothly again.

"Sir, are you feeling better now?" Xiao Xuanzi was worried.

"I'm fine, won't die!" Sarcasm was hanging on Chu Liuchen's lips, which were as pale as a piece of white paper. Everyone could tell that he was in bad condition.

"Sir, how about I invite Jingxin Monastery master to help you? Maybe she was the person we're finding, and magic doctor Qi has said that the person is living around!" Xiao Xuanzi persuaded him. Actually, he has persuaded him several times recently, since Jingxin Monastery master could be the person they kept finding, why he didn't want to see him?

The longer he dragged to visit the doctor, his health condition would be worse.

"Why in such a hurry!" Chu Liuchen found it challenging to stop coughing, so he touched his sore head and leaned back heavily on the lounge chair.

"Sir, it's better to cure your disease earlier." Xiao Xuanzi came to rub his head gently as he knew every time after his coughing, he would feel dizzy and headache for a while.

"If I recovered, others will be worried, so it's not bad now!" He mumbled in a low voice but loud enough to make Xiao Xuanzi hear everything.

"Sir..." Xiao Xuanzi went red because he was so worried, "you really want to play and travel around continually?"

"Of course, I'll go back!" Chu Liuchen said indifferently, lying calmly there without any attitude.

Xiao Xuanzi became less worried when he heard this master would go back. He was afraid to see him abandon himself outside and keep playing around, neither visiting any doctors nor going back to the capital city. If he really did something like this, he would die outside and think of this, Xiao Xuanzi felt so heartbroken.

"Then when will you go back?" Xiao Xuanzi wiped his tears and asked.

"How many Fenghua Glazed Cups did we find?" Chu Liuchen didn't answer his question. Under the sunshine, his long and curl eyelashes reflected on his face, making his face look transparently pale and morbid.

"We already have seven or eight ones!" Xiao Xuanzi answered. Although Fenghua Glazed Cup was very precious, they found a lot. On the way from the capital city to Jiangzhou, they have already collected seven or eight ones.

"Sir, do you want to check them?"

"No, I don't have many people I can use. It's good enough to find all of these. Are there anyone expecting me to find something big?"

Chu Liuchen replied indifferently.

It was out of anyone's expectations that Fenghua Glazed Cup could be found in Ningyuan Army General's Mansion. He was only threatening that little girl for fun, never thought it really existed and it was different from all those previously found ones. This was a surprise.

But he didn't plan to tell anyone about this surprise.

Accident or not, who cared!

Who dared!

That was an excuse at the very beginning as nobody expected him to achieve anything. What they expected the most maybe was his sudden death in outside, and that result could end up everything.

"Sir, I think it seems to be the Second Miss Qin!" Xiao Xuanzi understood Chu Liuchen, so he certainly knew what his excuse to leave the capital city this time was.

"What's the difference if she seems like or not, and the daughter of Ningyuan Army General was not bad as well!" Chu Liuchen smiled a little bit, which added some strength to him and his previously pale face. He now no longer looked like a beautiful lad in an ink-painting who was pretty enough but had no strength.

"Sir, you could ignore that. But for your own business, the Queen, urged you for a long time, even the Emperor... also said that, so you need to consider it!" Xiao Xuanzi rubbed Chu Liuchen's forehead gently, mentioning him mildly. Since they are heading back to the capital city now, then that troublesome business would be re-mentioned in front of him.

"Yes, of course, I'll think about it!" Chu Liuchen laughed, and his eyes were always curved even if they were closed. A lad in his fourteen or fifteen years of age could look so beautiful like he was not a real human being, which made Xiao Xuanzi took a deep breath secretly. Even if he didn't look real, his master was the best looking man.

And since he was laughing, which could indicate his solid confidence.

"So do you want Jingxin Monastery master to help you with your disease?" Xiao Xuanzi suggested immediately in his good mood.

"That would be ok as well!" Chu Liuchen didn't reject his suggestion this time.

"I'll arrange it right now!" Xiao Xuanzi said thrillingly.

"You don't need to go, just ask Qin Huaiyong to do it." Chu Liuchen told him indifferently.

"Yes, yes!" Xiao Xuanzi only hoped Chu Liuchen could see the doctor, and he didn't care about the rest things, so now he nodded his head constantly.

His master was born to have this illness, which was also called as Foetal Poisoning, which made him very weak innately, and everyone thought he wouldn't live long. Even the doctors in the palace had nothing to do with his disease but said they would try the best and follow his fate, and it was impossible to cure him. However, that was not true.

His master had a hope to get recovered.

Xiao Xuanzi has an inexplicable sense of trust towards Chu Liuchen, regarding that his master could do anything as long as he wanted.

Now that Chu Liuchen set up a specific answer, Xiao Xuanzi didn't feel worried anymore. He was nervous every day since they left the capital city, only being worried that his master would abandon himself when he was unhappy.

When Qin Wanru came back, she saw Chu Liuchen was lying in a large lounge chair with his head resting on a light orchid pillow, and it seemed that he fell into sleep already. He covered himself with a big black cloak which had a cluster of bamboo on it, demonstrating elegance.

Even though she met him multiple times, she had to admitted that Chu Liuchen always left people a beautiful image. All his movements were like a picture, carrying a sense of dignity and fairy. He could even lie there still to convey the tranquility and the beauty of life.

Xiao Xuanzi didn't feel expected on seeing her come back, and he waved to her gently.

Qin Wanru collected all her ideas and stepped forward.

"Second Miss Qin, can you help me give the massage to my master's forehead because he was coughing seriously and didn't recover from it yet!" Xiao Xuanzi lowered his voice for not interrupting Chu Liuchen, "I need to go into the room and make the medicine for him."

"Is there anyone else here?" Qin Wanru checked around.

"Yes, but those are some guards, they're too strong which will make our master feel painful!" Xiao Xuanzi whispered.

So your master was made from glass, and could break if using more strength? Qin Wanru hesitated for a second and nodded her head reluctantly.

Xiao Xuanzi became very happy and showed a palm and fist salute to her respectfully. Then he left the sit to her.

But he was squatting there, and he pulled the stool that Qin Wanru was sitting on it before and invited her to sit down, "Second Miss Qin, please sit and give the massage, it'll be more comfortable, I'll come back soon! I think he is now sleeping!"

"When will he wake up?" Suddenly, an insecure feeling came upon Qin Wanru.

"I... I can't tell about that, maybe he'll wake up soon, but longer... it depends on how tired he is!" Xiao Xuanzi looked helpless and replied ambiguously.

So, no idea?

Qin Wanru ground her teeth unhappily because she thought Chu Liuchen did this on purpose, he knew she would come and even calculate the time of her arrival.

But the point was she was the one asking for help!

If she knew she would come back so fast, then she wouldn't leave in a hurry...

Chapter 75: Dead Knot, Unstoppable Before Death

"Why did you come back again?" The lad sounded lazy and tired, which really matched his current condition.

"There was someone on the path!" Qin Wanru didn't wonder why Chu Liuchen knew the person who was rubbing his head got changed, and she said unhappily.

"People from Magistrate Qi Mansion?" Chu Liuchen smiled suddenly, and he put Qin Wanru's little hand to another place for a massage.

"I don't want to meet Young Lady Qi!" Qin Wanru's slender eyebrows frowned unconsciously as she didn't want to see Qi Rongzhi at this moment, especially when Qi Rongzhi looked so arrogant and aggressive, taking a bunch of girl servants and wives.

She blocked her way back to Jingxin Monastery.

Qing Yue had a sharp observation, and she saw a massive crowd of people far away. In this case, Qin Wanru was able to hide early again.

"I heard that this Young Lady Qi and the Young Lady on your mansion are two big jokes in Jiangzhou, both of them have a terrible reputation. It's better for you to stay away from them! Remember, plays with people with a good reputation, and of course, those people are not the best for sure, but you can only live long if you are sophisticated enough."

Chu Liuchen said randomly.

His words sounded reasonable, which made Qin Wanru fell into silence for a while.

"You should learn from your failure. Not all of the consequences should be resolved by impulse." Chu Liuchen was in a good mood, which made his beautiful face showed smile, and it was rarely seen that he neither bullied Qin Wanru nor made her embarrassed and drove her out.

Qin Wanru, who initially thought it would be hard to make him accept her for a while, looked at him with surprise.

"What, you think what I said was wrong?" Chu Liuchen raised his eyebrows.

"How come, everything you said is right?" Qin Wanru laughed in a fake way. She didn't want to meet Qi Rongzhi now so that she couldn't offend this Prince Chen.

"You sincerely thought I was right?" Chu Liuchen opened and lifted his eyes all of a sudden, and his black eyes were pure and beautiful like clear spring water. He seemed to be harmless to everyone!

"Of course I think you're right!" Qin Wanru had to stay sober, as she wouldn't believe that this Prince Chen could be so harmless.

He was really malicious!

Now she was sitting on a stool, giving a massage to Chu Liuchen's forehead. The moment he opened his eyes, they had an intimate eye contact which allowed Qin Wanru to see his long and curl eyelashes trembling clearly. Like any normal beautiful young lads, he also had a warm smile which could drown any young girls he met.

However, Qin Wanru believed his gentle and harmless look was only in the surface.

Fluttering her long eyelashes, she shunned away from the eye contact, "do you still feel a headache?"

She felt her hands very sore.

"Still feeling headache!" The gentle expression on this beautiful lad disappeared, and a harmless look dominated his face. Staring at her extremely poorly, he showed his shallow color lips, which made people feel sorry for him. At this moment, she had to swallow the words she just said.

"Childe, I have another issue to handle. I want to leave!" Qin Wanru thought for a few seconds and changed her statement.

"I'm not useful to you right now, so you want to leave?" A smile climbed to the corner of Chu Liuchen's lips which washed away his sickness on his face, and now a gentle and elegant beautiful lad was reborn. If sarcasm eluded his eyes, he could be much more gentle and graceful.

"How could childe think like this? I have a business to handle. Since now Aunt Shui was absent by grandma's side, and I'm on my own now. If grandma couldn't find me, she'll be worried." Qin Wanru became more respectful gradually. Her eyes, nose, and mouth integrated to complete her logic and sentences, and her intention was evident too, and she also looked very calm.

But she felt nervous as she had no idea if Prince Chen could let her go.

Chu Liuchen pressed his hand and turned sat up straight, replying lazily, "your massage was good! If I was not comfortable in the future, you come and help me."

"I'll surely help you if I'm available!" Qin Wanru didn't understand his meaning, so she replied carefully.

"Alright, you can leave now! I'm busy here, so I can't see you off!" Chu Liuchen waved his hands and said generously.

Qin Wanru got relieved and stood up, bowing to Chu Liuchen, "childe, then Wanru is leaving now!"

"Just leave. Go!" Chu Liuchen waved his hands.

Received his permission to let her go, Qin Wanru was relieved, and she turned away to leave. When she arrived at the intersection of the path leading to Jingxin Monastery, she found Qi Rongzhi was not there anymore after her hanging over at the Prince Chen's place. This saved her many troubles.

She had nothing to talk with Qi Rongzhi, and she didn't think her visiting embracing good intention towards her.

But out of her expectation, Qin Wanru escaped from Qi Rongzhi but not from Qi Tianyu who was waiting for her outside her yard.

Seeing her coming behind a tree, Qin Wanru pretended to ignore him initially, but he called her name which halted her.

"Sister Wanru!" Qi Tianyu walked towards her in a hurry.

"First Young Master of the Qi Family, how do you do?" Qin Wanru stopped and asked politely after she bowed to him. She also stepped back a little bit to keep with Qi Tianyu in the distance.

"Sister Wanru... you... you are too formal and overpolite!" Qi Tianyu saw her movement, and he stopped, mumbling in his voice and looking embarrassed.

"First Young Master of the Qi Family, we used to have nice relationships between our two families, and you're my sister-in-law in the future somehow. That's why I didn't avoid you, but now, you're nothing to me!" Qin Wanru lifted her head and she replied Qi Tianyu impolitely with eyes emitting a sense of coldness while staring at him, "I didn't think First Young Master of the Qi Family has the necessary to find me at this moment!"

The two families couldn't go back to the relationship they used to have in the past after this accident.

"I... I have the potential to develop my relationship with Yuru in the future..." Qi Tianyu mumbled in his voice.

"Qin Wanru interrupted him with a sneer, "First Young Master of the Qi Family, are you awake or you're still sleeping? There was no possibility that we two families could bond together in the form of marriage, and we'll not get along with each other. What did Big Sister say to make you so assured that you two have a future?"

Qin Wanru exposed Qi Tianyu's intention for making up a fake peace directly.

"You... Qin Wanru... you're so mean!" Qi Tianyu changed his facial expression, where anger gradually dominated it. He looked at Qin Wanru with some bitterness, "isn't it your fault? If you didn't make a mess like this, Yuru is my wife already."

"So, you're blaming this accident on me? It was me that asked Qin Yuru to attach that royal branch in the capital city only for fighting to have you? Qi Tianyu, even if nobody has ever told you, please looks into the mirror and reflects you before going outside."

She was not surprised about his answer, so she sneered and replied to Qi Tianyu without avoiding his intention. A fierce anger sparkled in her eyes while she clenched her hands so tight that her nails cut into her palm.

It was painful, but less painful than her feeling!

In her previous life, she was viciously pushed into the abyss of blood and sin, taking the blame, which wasn't hers.

"Qi Tianyu, you're really nothing!" Hates accumulated in her two lives left her only this sentence, and when she finished it, she turned around and walked towards her yard.

The astonishment on Qi Tianyu's face made his handsome face got frozen for a second. He was always arrogant but was pushed away by Qin Wanru without any mercy. Feeling angry and reaching out his hands, he blocked Qin Wanru's way in front of her impolitely.

Qing Yue stepped up in a hurry and blocked in front of Qin Wanru.

"Qin Wanru, I didn't care what you said. What I only know is I like Yuru and will never like someone as mean and stupid as you!" Those words were squeezed out of Qi Tianyu's mouth. At this moment, he couldn't retain his elegant image of a prince, and his eyes were like getting quenched by poison.

"If it weren't you, this accident would never happen. If it weren't you, Yuru could only marry me, and no matter what she is thinking, that is the fact as she couldn't get rid of me. Qin Wanru, I won't let you go easily!"

Qi Tianyu said it word by word, ensuring Qin Wanru could clearly understand his solid bitterness and brutality. She slowly smiled to Qi Tianyu in front of her, who lost both his coolness and decency.

Although she was not tall, her bright and water-like eyes containing with a clearly sarcastic look shooting into Qi Tianyu's eyes and was not inferior to him neither in age nor height. A faint smile lingering on her curl lips, although it had girl's childishness, it was as bitter as a sharp sword.

That bitterness was even more penetrating than Qi Tianyu's brutality.

"Qi Tianyu, I'll wait for you ally yourself with Qin Yuru and hurt me! We'll never stop this battle until we die!" She said gently, but it seemed that her hatred was carrying with the blood from the Jiuyou Hell. After Qi Tianyu retreated several steps, he found the unspeakable coldness coming from nowhere made him lost control and step back.

Qin Wanru, in his opinion, who was always stupid, has ever been so acute! He suddenly felt stunned and dazed when his eyes fell on Qin Wanru straight back.

Qin Wanru sneered and walked by Qi Tianyu, with her head lifting and a ferocious smile engraving on her face. That was her previous life's hatred and resentment alongside with the words she didn't utter. Since they couldn't get along with each other very well, then there was no need to present a fake peaceful word while guarding against others and scheme an evil plot.

The purpose of Qi Tianyu's arrival for today, whatever it was, would not be friendly. For her previous life, even Qi Tianyu later knew the truth, and he was still targeting her, which made her so confused. Now she found that Qi Tianyu kept blaming everything on her stubbornly regardless of the truth.

He thought she was the origin of evil and was endeavoring to trample her into the mud. In this case, there was nothing to say between them!

In her previous life, Qi Tianyu and Qin Yuru imposed on her the dead knot, and for her current life, she still couldn't untie it so that she wouldn't stop it before death...

Chapter 76: Poor Thing, An Attack Coming From Nowhere

Getting dwarfed by Qin Wanru's vigor and strength, Qi Tianyu just watched Qin Wanru walking into the yard and closing the gate.

"Prince, what should we do?" Qi Hai whispered in his low voice after he saw Qin Wanru Qin Wanru's leaving.

"We go back!" Qi Tianyu got calmed and again and ground his teeth. Pressing down his fear, he thought that was only a young little girl, so what she could do was only say some hateful and useless words.

He cursed himself about his panic just now, which made him unexpectedly sweat at the back on his vest.

"But Young Lady Qin's accident..." Qi Hai said carefully.

The purpose of their today's visiting was to invite Qin Wanru to help Qin Yuru for speaking some positive words, and Qi Tianyu was even thinking of fawning over Qin Wanru only for winning her help. Initially, he didn't think it would be hard because Qin Wanru could surely do it as long as he asked her.

But Qi Tianyu didn't expect Qin Wanru could be so strict and tough, and ripped their relationships on the very beginning of this conversation.

Therefore, they reached a "stop after we die" consequence before he had a chance to say anything to fawn over her. Qi Tianyu was also wondering why the issue was beyond his imagination so much.

Shouldn't Qin Wanru make the compromise after he coaxed her for a few words!

"Yuru has to deal with her own issue now, and she deserves it!" Turning around, Qi Tianyu sneered and walked out of Jingxin Monastery helplessly.

He didn't understand why Qin Wanru was treating him like this. Were there any tricks on it? As Yuru has said, was Qin Wanru trying to impose the playing hard-to-get game on him? She was only a little girl, how could she understand so much!

"But... Young Lady Qin was about to go to the capital city, if the Big Prince didn't help her, she and Big Prince were able to..." Qi Hai reminded him and said.

Actually, his reminding was unnecessary. Qi Tianyu understood so clearly, notably, Qin Wanru violently unveiled his mask which was only for hiding the ugliness just now.

"Tell her I couldn't help her now and ask her to try her best!" Qi Tianyu found it annoying now, and he even thought Qin Yuru's words were annoying too.

"But, Young Lady Qin... will blame Big Prince by then!" Qi Hai kept pace with Qi Tianyu in a hurry and stepped out of the gate of Jingxin Monastery.

"If she really wanted to blame, then blame me! And from now on... just let her go!" Qi Tianyu felt much more annoying. But he couldn't understand how could Qin Wanru, a little girl, dared to talk to him like this. In the past, she always followed and called him "Brother Tianyu"!

Was the cruel and bitter girl he just saw equaled to the delicate and harmless one he knew in the old days?

"But... Young Lady Qin..." Qi Hai still wanted to say something for Qin Yuru, but he was interrupted by Qi Tianyu impatiently, "are you the servant of me or Qin Yuru's servant, why you always speak for her!"

"I... I am really your servant!" Qi Hai got stunned and was endeavoring to present his loyalty in a hurry.

"Since you are my people, then shut up!" Qi Tianyu replied with no hesitation. Wearing a sullen face, he strode towards the outside. Now Qi Hai dared not to speak anymore and he was only trotting after him.

Leaving Jingxin Monastery, they saw a large flat ground on the right side, and there were some horses and carts of pilgrims waiting there. Qi Tianyu's horse was tied to one of the trees by the side as well.

Qi Tianyu stormed towards it and when he was about to untie his horse from the tree, he blacked out followed a fierce blow on his head which made him fall on the ground instantly.

The servant, who was following him behind him, fell minutes ago before him.

The two guards, one by one, dragged them into the forest nearby, kicking them hard from outside the bag which half-covered them. They left until they hit both of them and their bags bumped on the tree behind them heavily.

It was the night when Qi Tianyu woke up. It was total darkness before his eyes. He ripped the sack off his head for a few times and finally got rid of it. He felt dizzy when he saw the dark sky, and then he touched his forehead, finding it was swollen already.

Qi Hai woke up at this time too. He pulled off the sack and saw Qi Tianyu's bruised nose and swollen face, and then he started to scream in panic. Crying out loudly and crawled to him in a hurry, "Big Prince, how are you? Big Prince..."

"Shut up!" Qi Tianyu snarled at him. Rubbing his forehead, he sat up and felt his entire body was as painful as got stampede by someone.

"Big Prince, did we get plotted against, why they did that to us?" Qi Hai sat up and cried with one hand on his waist.

Unreasonably, he got beaten by someone, and the most important thing was he didn't know whom.

"Go, let's go back!" Qi Tianyu knew he couldn't find them even if he tried. Otherwise, they wouldn't beat him after he was put into a sack before he got hit.

He struggled to stand up by getting supported by a tree. With one foot standing on the ground, he suddenly felt so painful that he shrank it back. He didn't know how his leg bone was.

"Big Prince, are you fine, I will support you!" Qi Hai wiped away his tears and stood up with him. Supporting Qi Tianyu, he didn't know how was his injuries and also had no idea about where was his foot got bumped, and he was a little bit limped.

Qi Tianyu gritted his teeth and went out with his servant supporting him. He will go to the capital city early tomorrow morning.

"I'll invite the people in control to figure it out!" The servant was very angry; he wiped his tears and said.

"It's not necessary. It has to be Ningyuan Army General!" There was coldness flashing in Qi Tianyu's eyes. Except for Qin Huaiyong, no one dared to do this in Jiangzhou Prefecture with magistrate. It would definitely be the Qin Huaiyong who arranged people to follow Qin Wanru and saw what he just did to her.

He felt intimidating about this thing too. Qi Tianyu dared not to make any troubles. He sneaked to get on the mountain this time because he didn't want his father know it. So he had to suffer the consequence himself.

But Qi Tianyu could never expect that this wasn't the last time he got hurt unfortunately.

Watching their leaving, the two guards showed up behind the tree. They looked at each other and went to report to their master.

Qin Wanru didn't know Qi Tianyu was clouted with head in a sack after he left her. But when news about his leaving came to her the next morning, she was thrilled.

The reason that she could receive Qi Tianyu's news accidentally was that people from the mansion visited them and Qin Yuru was said to go to the capital city last night. It was precisely that moment when Qi Tianyu was finding himself some troubles. Therefore, she asked old woman news about Qi Tianyu.

One was heading for the capital city to get married and one for visiting his favorite girl, but they chose different road as they didn't know each other very much. However, Qin Wanru believed, the two people would have more connections in the future.

But she was not scared!

This current life, she wouldn't be the one who got plotted and harmed, and she wouldn't be the Qin Wanru who was confused and thought they maybe get misled.

The medical book arrived the next morning to the Zen room in Jingxin Monastery.

Like the last time, the Zen room of Jingxin Monastery master was tranquil, and the master was reciting sutras on the rush cushion. Qin Wanru was brought in by others, and she chose another rush cushion to sit down. Picking up a medical book by her side, she read it carefully.

Jingxin Monastery master took a long time to finish her reciting, but Qin Wanru, reading her medical book by her side all the time, didn't show any impatience as if she didn't get distracted at all. Actually, a nun came in and asked if she wanted to eat something, but she only shook her head.

It was peaceful in the room which made people forget eating.

Jingxin Monastery master didn't stop, and Qin Wanru didn't leave either.

When Jingxin Monastery master stopped her task, she opened her eyes and looked at Qin Wanru in peace. Thus, Qin Wanru put down her medical book and bowed to Jingxin Monastery master with sincerity. Then she handed over her medical book.

"You truly want to learn medicine?" Jingxin Monastery looked at her medical book and asked.

"I really want to learn!" Qin Wanru lifted her head, looking at Jingxin Monastery master with her lucid eyes and her reliable determination.

"It was tough to learn medicine!" Jingxin Monastery master sighed, "My sister thought you were suitable for learning it, but I always believe you're not."

"It's such an honor that Mingqiu Nun showed her affection to me, and I'll try my best." Eagerness was filled in Qin Wanru's eyes.

"For this issue... you should better ask her!" Jingxin Monastery shook her head helplessly and pointed outside with a subtle smile on her face, "do I need to ask someone to send you there?"

"No, thanks, nun!" Qin Wanru smiled slightly when bowing again, and then she stood up.

"Do you mind if I brought a lunch there?" Jingxin Monastery master smiled. It was perfect for a smart and patient kid like her to study medicine. Especially her sister also thought this kid was very talented. But she didn't know what her sister was thinking now!

Her sister had a temper like a spoiled child too. In the past, she was dying to have Qin Wanru become her student, but now she was unwilling to do so.

"I don't mind!" Qin Wanru nodded her head and reply.

Lunch was put in the food basket outside the door, and Qing Yue was carrying it. Qin Wanru didn't ask who was Jingxin Monastery master sending it to and she just asked Qing Yue to pick it and follow her to leave.

So she passed Jingxin Monastery master's examination, but the following one was the most critical one. Since she wanted to study from Mingqiu Nun, and it all depended on her decision!

The door of the hut was tightly locked, and it seemed to be empty looking outside.

Qing Yue put down the lunch and looked around with astonishment where nobody was nearby, "Miss, this can't be Mingqiu Nun's accommodation?"

"It should be!" Qin Wanru nodded her head. She met Mingqiu Nun in Jingxin Monastery, and she wouldn't know Mingqiu Nun was not living in Jingxin Monastery but here if that coincidence didn't exist.

"But..., but there was no one living here. What should we do? Where is this lunching sending to?" Qing Yue asked in confusion as her sight was concentrating on the door's iron lock, which was hanging high above, how could someone living here.

Qin Wanru picked up the food basket to the front door carefully and her water-like eyes were focused on the tightly locked iron lock, and observing it carefully.

A locked room had no possibility that someone was still living in, but what if it was not locked?

Based on this assumption, she started to observe it more carefully. She smiled from the bottom of her heart after she saw it. With a smile climbing on her red lip, she neglected this assumption last time.

Reaching out her hand and putting it on the chain, she pulled it hard...

Medical Princess

Chapter 77: An Obscene and Provocative Man

The lock dropped!

Qing Yue almost goggled as she couldn't believe that the still tightly locked chain dropped on the ground. She mumbled, "It was... it was not locked, and it was only hanging on the door!"

Who could know that this lock was only put on the chain but never locked the door?

"Good, sharp observation!" A laugh came from the room inside the door.

"Mingqiu Nun!" Qin Wanru stepped back and said with profound respect.

The door was opened in Qing Yue's astonishment, and a nun showed herself up in front of them. She was in her thirties and looked much younger than Jingxin Monastery master. Wearing a plain cloth, she looked beautiful, gentle and amiable with her slender eyes looking at Qin Wanru.

"You really want to learn medicine?" Mingqiu Nun smiled at Qin Wanru gently.

"I really want to learn medicine!" Qin Wanru nodded her head, and she kneeled, "please, nun, let me be your student!"

Mingqiu Nun didn't reply her instantly, she looked at Qin Wanru's face for more observations, and that made her smile more obvious. She thought Qin Wanru could be a good student before, but she was refused by Old Madam Qin and Qin Wanru in the past. Later, she discarded this idea, and for this time, Qin Wanru wanted to learn again, but she was afraid that this was only her short interest, so she set several examinations for her on purpose.

Examinations for plots, observations, and patience!

And Qin Wanru passed all of them!

She was more satisfied with Qin Wanru, "since then, you can follow me and learn medicine!"

Hearing Mingqiu Nun's response, Qin Wanru went exhilaration, and she made several solemn Chinese salutes profoundly and respectfully to Mingqiu Nun.

Mingqiu Nun supported her to stand up with a smile and took her inside the room.

After they got back to the room, Qin Wanru bowed to Mingqiu Nun respectfully again and served her the tea which Qing Yue just gave to her. Then she stood up as asked.

"Did you read the medical book I just gave to you?" Asked Mingqiu Nun who received her tea and took a sip, putting it aside.

"Yes, I read it!" Qin Wanru answered.

"Since then, I'll give you a short test!"

"Master, please give me the test!"

"You don't need to call me master because you're not a nun but daughter of a prestigious family. My student was supposed to be a nun, so you still call me nun!" Mingqiu Nun said and smiled.

"Yes!" Qin Wanru nodded her head and reply.

Next, Mingqiu Nun asked her some questions about the contents and practical operations on the medical book. With the medical skills of her previous life, adding with the knowledge she carefully learned after the rebirth in her current life. No matter what the Mingqiu Nun asked, Qin Wanru could answer fluently without any stammer.

Her performance made Mingqiu Nun much more satisfied. Entering in the inner room with a not large iron box in her hands, she pushed it to Qin Wanru, "you go to my sister's place and take the medical book there. The book in her hand, which concentrates on operational practice, is the following one of the book in your hand. I'll deliver you specific solutions of syndromes and a set of golden needles used in acupuncture. Now you're living in Jingxin Monastery, so you come to learn here every morning, and then you go back. For the beginning and the middle of the month, you'll come here for learning practical operations!"

Thanks, nun!" Qin Wanru was thrilled, and she took the box by both of her hands respectfully.

Returning from Mingqiu Nun's place, Qin Wanru visited the Zen room of Jingxin Monastery master and took the following medical book before visiting Old Grandma.

Old Grandma was in stable condition and good mood, but worrying about Shui Ruolan's wedding business of not getting fully prepared, so she asked Qin Wanru to go and check if there was anything required. But no matter what was needed, money was never a concern as Old Grandma took another five money cheques with Qin Wanru.

Qin Wanru knew Old Grandma was afraid that Madam Di made any other troubles. She nodded her head as she was concerned about Madam Di who didn't have a personality for settling down, so even if Old Grandma didn't mention it, she wanted to visit Shui Ruolan.

The village at the foot of Jingxin Monastery was not large, but it was decorated and people's enthusiasm ignited the atmosphere. A large "Xi" (happiness) was hanging at the front gate, spreading the news that this family was about to have a wedding ceremony. People in the village found this suddenly emerging wedding interesting, so crowds of people were gathering outside the house in groups and gossiping about the details.

Some people were gathering around the door when Qin Wanru arrived in a carriage. They were only for watching the scene for fun, and when a carriage arrived, some bold ones would turn to the front of the carriage for witnessing the person sitting inside.

The carriage stopped at the door, waiting for Qing Yue to support Qin Wanru get down it, and everyone around was exclaiming overwhelmingly.

"Who's... who's the Miss? She looks so attractive like a fairy." Someone was whispering aside.

"Is this Second Miss Qin?" It seemed that someone had seen her before, and his exclamation was a little bit loud, which appealed Qin Wanru to look aside slightly and a thirty years old man came into his sight. The man was wearing like an ordinary village person, very skinny and obscene, and he shunned away from Qin Wanru' searching.

Qin Wanru turned around and was supported by Qing Yue for walking inside.

"Second Miss Qin? Which family's Second Miss?" Someone asked in a lowered voice because he didn't get Qin Wanru's identity. Many people have a surname called Qin in Jiangzhou, not only the Qin Mansion of Ningyuan Army General or other affluent and populated Qin Mansions, the countrymen would consider all of them as wealthy families, and all the misses were qualified to be called as Miss.

"The Second Miss from Ningyuan Army General's Mansion!" It was still the voice of that man. Sneering appeared on Qin Wanru's lips. She was hanging around on the street in the past, but because she was less favored than Qin Yuru and couldn't wander on the road as free as Qin Yuru, she then had fewer chances to walk on the way.

A normal man in the village could recognize her in a second with substantial certainty, and he had dishonest behaviors, it was never a normal anymore.

"She was the one... who smashed the bridal sedan chair..." His words reminded many people, and they realized all of a sudden.

Qin Wanru went into the yard and waved her hands to ask others closing the gate. However, she didn't leave but stood there.

"That was exactly the Second Miss Qin, nobody know what she is plotting. Is she planning to marry Big Prince of the Magistrate Qi again?" The man instigated the crowds with his words out of the door, and his voice was not low, which allowed Qin Wanru to hear him inside the door.

Her cherry lips showed a beautiful curl when she was smiling, but it looked cold.

"No way!"

"Impossible, wasn't that marriage dissolved?" Someone doubted. The whole thing was influential enough to make everyone in Jiangzhou. The countrymen were absent by then, but they all heard about it.

"You'll wait and see it, and it would be a great show! We'll see her smash the bridal sedan chair!" The man said in a proud voice.

Then he spoke some provocative words, and Qing Yue became outrageous, "Miss, I'll teach him a lesson in case he was speaking nonsense there."

"Ok, take the two old women by the door with you!" Qin Wanru didn't stop her but turned around and smiled. Her smile underlined her prestige and her power.

"Yes, Miss!" Qing Yue didn't expect Qin Wanru would agree with her request so fast that she became so surprised and led the two rough old women with her opening the door. The two old women held two thick sticks by the door in her hands.

The front gate was opened abruptly; Qing Yue walked out and turned to the man's direction. The two old women were standing behind her with thick sticks. Everyone outside the door got stunned on seeing their behaviors.

Qin Wanru turned out as well. Standing at the front door, she watched the scene indifferently.

The man shrank back behind other people. But Qing Yue was coming towards him which allowed him to go nowhere. She stood in front of him and slapped him in his face, "smash the bridal sedan chair? You want to try again?" "Or you want to make a trouble again?"

"Ah, how could you slap me?" The man who got slapped became stunned. He caressed his scorching face and snarled in a sudden realization, and then he wanted to slap Qing Yue as well.

Finishing the slap, Qing Yue stepped back already, and the two old women stepped forward with sticks in their hands which intimidated the man from making things worse.

"Who are you? And why are you speaking nonsense here? Do you want to make a mess?" Qing Yue sneered. She picked up some of Qin Wanru's styles and behaviors in these days, and now she was doing a good job.

"You little girl, what're you driveling about!" The man barked, "Everyone was gossiping, and why did you beat us? So General's Mansion doesn't allow people to talk!"

He was undoubtedly making trouble because he was exaggerating his issue to everybody's business, and place General's Mansion to the opposite of everyone, and that was not something an ordinary countryman would do. Qin Wanru sneered and waited for him to reply. No matter what was going, this shouldn't be a calculated occasion.

She would unveil the things and beat people off the guard.

"Others were only watching for fun, but you're vilifying our General's Mansion. I don't know which sent you as a spy, but how dare you vilifying General's Mansion!" Qing Yue sneered and stepped forward, "who gave you the courage that you dared to do something like this!"

She made an aggressive remark which upgraded his behavior opposite to General's Mansion, and now everyone on site felt unbearable. People looked around and walked back, leaving that man alone.

"What... What nonsense! I'm only here for watching something funny... how could I gossip about so many things!" The man went into a panic when he saw the crowd hiding him was retreating, and he argued loudly.

"You were only watching this bustle, but still finding troubles on purpose. You really had dirty intentions even for watching a show. Don't make us find you doing anything wrong, or... you'll get punished by your criminal behaviors!" Qing Yue sneered and warned him, and then she walked towards Qin Wanru with two old women following behind her.

Qin Wanru was looking at the man and saw his facial expression changed and became more panic than the moment Qing Yue slapped in his face, because he now had new ideas.

She brought Qing Yue back to the yard.

Shui Ruolan got the message already and asked someone to invite her.

In the main room, the red silk was hanging down, and the red "Xi" was attached to everyone. Shui Ruolan's clothes were not pure red but were not as plain as what she was wearing as usual. She wore a blue outfit with red patterns embroidered on it which her look younger than regular days.

"Wanru, what just happened?" She saw Qin Wanru and pulled her over. Then she checked her face and found no accident, and this made her relieved.

The accident happened outside the door was reported to her early.

Chapter 78: Layout, One Accident after Another

"I'm not hurt!" Qin Wanru shook her head and comforted her, "grandma asked me to see how is the arrangement here, and what do you need? If there were any shortages, I'd buy them and arrange them for you. Grandma said that she wanted you to marry into General's Mansion with other people's respect, and she didn't want you to feel wronged."

Qin Wanru took out several cheques from her sleeves and handed them over to Shui Ruolan's hands, "Aunt Shui, grandma was afraid that you didn't have enough money, so she asked me to send you more."

Looking at the cheques in her hand and realizing they were Old Grandma's private money, Shui Ruolan felt her nose went sour and wanted to cry. Old Grandma was treating her as a daughter and was doing everything for her with all efforts for years.

"Aunt Shui, if there is anything wrong, just ask Nanny Duan to come back and tell them, here is not the mansion!" Qin Wanru blinked her beautiful eyes and reminded Shui Ruolan.

Shui Ruolan got calmed, and sharpness flashed in her eyes because she was not stupid. Of course she understood Qin Wanru's meaning, so she nodded her head immediately, "Wanru, don't be worry, if there were anything wrong, I wouldn't force myself to make it."

Qin Wanru became less concerned on hearing this. She was so worried that Shui Ruolan underestimated any accidents and became impulsive. When that really happened, everything would be too late!

Now that everything was negotiated and tackled with, Qin Wanru talked with Shui Ruolan for a few sentences and tossed a glimpse at Nanny Duan, and then she retreated.

Nanny Duan also followed behind her.

"Nanny Duan, can you do me a favor to find out who was slapped by Qing Yue by the door just now? And send someone to watch him." Standing in the corridor, Qin Wanru whispered to her. That filthy look man was very suspicious, and if she didn't pay much attention to him, he could have escaped!

Nanny Duan understood the gravity of this issue, so she nodded her head as the response and asked someone to follow that man. Before long, they heard about the man in detail.

"He is a lock jerk who idles around, getting married once and having an old mother in his home. However, his wife found he didn't have a decent job and was living off others, so she ran away with others. All in all, he was not a good person, and he also made friends with riff-raffs.

Nanny Duan reported all she heard to Qin Wanru.

"Where was this bully idling usually?" Qin Wanru stood on the path, picking up a red maple leaf from the ground and checking one of its holes, and asked indifferently.

"I heard he was idling in some villages here, and he did a great job in idling around because many people knew him, so he was kind of somebody here." Nanny Duan was a meticulous person, and she had prepared to answer Qin Wanru questions before Qin Wanru asked her to collect these messages.

"He is not finding troubles in Jiangzhou?" Qin Wanru said.

"No, he isn't in Jiangzhou. There are many jerks in Jiangzhou town, and he is not qualified to get ranked in this list. So he should better idle in his own territory. In the past days, he was leading a life that would not make him starve to death, but without any reason, he became a little bit rich recently." Nanny Duan frowned and as she was talking about this man, she found something weird.

"What did that happen?" Qin Wanru raised her eyebrows, and a slight smile showed on her pinky little face because she understood now.

"Last night, he not only brought much food for his mother, but also he invited some of his brothers who used to follow him and had a feast."

Nanny Duan has undertaken many experiences, although it was Qin Wanru who kept asking her and she was answering, she still realized some underlying meanings, “Second Miss, is there anything wrong with this jerk? Why he earned so many money by the time Miss Shui was about to get married, and he even invited some jerks like him to eat a big meal, what he was scheming?”

The deeper they thought, the more suspicious it became.

“Initially, I was only thinking to figure out what kind of person was vilifying General’s Mansion in the crowd, Nanny Duan, do you think I should tell this to grandma?” Qin Wanru bit her little lips and put on an embarrassing look which made her childish little face so adorable.

She shook the maple leaf in her hand and narrowed her feline eyes!

“For this issue, you should better not tell Old Grandma now, and I’ll ask others to have an eye on him, ensuring he won’t do something like he did that day.” Nanny Duan thought for a while and said.

Before they figured it out clearly, Nanny Duan thought they should not startle Old Grandma because if it were only a small issue or they didn’t have pieces of evidence, Old Grandma was only sharing their astonishment and concerns, and that had no help at all!

“Then I have to bother Nanny Duan to concern about this issue. If you found something else, please remember to tell grandma or father.” Qin Wanru lifted her head and looked at Nanny Duan and told her.

Nanny Duan was a prudent person, and this issue really mattered, allowing no mistake at all!

“Don’t worry Second Miss, I understand.” Nanny Duan looked very grave because the reiteration of Qin Wanru showed that she was really thinking of this issue.

Qin Wanru picked up the leaf by her hands and approached to that hole on it, lifting her head and looking through the hole where a broken sky unfolded in front of her eyes.

The sky was vast, but because of the hole on the leaf, she could only see a small scale of it, and maybe that was the meaning of the proverb—man couldn’t see the forest for the trees! She smiled faintly and She bent up her lips slightly. At this place, she was not the only one who couldn’t see the forest for the trees!

After the conversation with Nanny Duan, Qin Wanru didn’t linger for long but went to the room of Shui Ruolan and said goodbye to her. Then she brought Qing Yue back to Jingxin Monastery and prepared to wait for news from Nanny Duan calmly.

She and Nanny Duan neither mentioned Madam Di, but they both understood Madam Di inevitably got involved in it.

For the next few days, Qin Wanru went through in peace. In the morning, she would visit Jing Qiu Nun for medical learning, and in the afternoon, she would talk with Old Grandma for making her happy!

Since she laid the foundation in her previous life, she learned everything quickly. Jing Qiu Nun found it was nothing hard for her to learn the basic, so she skipped some elementary parts and taught her acupuncture.

In a few days, Qin Wanru's hands were dotted with multiple needle marks, especially on the part where her thumb met the wrist because that was the most convenient part for doing the acupuncture. However, her hands, white, flawless, and tender before she learned medicine, were red and swollen.

Old Grandma felt so worried about her that she almost forced Qin Wanru to stop learning. However, Qin Wanru had made up her mind, and she continued learning even though her hands were as swollen as steamed buns. She didn't say any complaints but was always smiling like a flower. Therefore, Old Grandma couldn't say anything!

Fortunately, she located her needles accurately except for those beginning ones, and her swollen hands gradually came back to normal. Additionally, Jing Qiu Nun made her medicine for reducing her swollen condition, and it worked well!

Few days passed by, one afternoon when Qin Wanru talked with Old Grandma for a while, she left Old Grandma and saw Nanny Duan was coming towards her in a hurry, so she stopped.

"Second Miss!" Nanny Duan was walking quickly, which made her perspire seriously. She made an abrupt stop when she saw Qin Wanru blocked the yard's gate with her small body. Wiping her sweat away, she considered Qin Wanru as her leader for somewhat reasons.

"Nanny, is there anything wrong?" Finding Nanny Duan's sweat on her face, Qin Wanru waved to her and turned to stand aside, and then she asked Nanny Duan in a low voice.

"Second Miss, something terrible really happened! It was the thing that you asked me to watch out!" Nanny Duan, wearing a pale face, followed her and she looked terrible. Before she stopped, she whispered to Qin Wanru.

"What did you know now?" Qin Wanru felt nervous, "it's Aunt Shui and father's wedding ceremony tomorrow, so that'll happen on tomorrow?"

Because of the wedding, tomorrow would be the day critical to all of them which allowed not a single mistake, and Old Grandma and Qin Wanru would go down the mountain for tomorrow.

"I heard that those local bullies were planning to smash the bridal sedan chair as what... what Second Miss had done on the day in front of the mansion's gate before." Nanny Duan wiped her sweat on her forehead again. It was such a critical issue that she couldn't decide herself, and she never thought that this would startle Old Grandma.

"How dare they?" Qing Yue said furiously, "didn't they feel scared of general's punishment?"

"They said... they said it was your behavior of smashing the bridal sedan chair inspired them, and they'll learn from you and do the same thing. They said it was her previous marriage's relatives didn't allow Miss Shui to remarry!"

Since Nanny Duan received this information, she felt like a cat on hot bricks. There was nothing worthwhile for gossiping on the general's side, but it was troublesome if people were gossiping about Miss Shui.

Miss Shui was a widow now, and if she didn't win her ex-husband's family's permission and aroused a huge fight, even if the general finally married Miss Shui, she and the general's reputation would be both ruined. Moreover, general's hands were tied because he couldn't punish Miss Shui's previous husband relatives, or it would be harmful and indecent.

"They learned from me and wanted to smash the bridal sedan chair?" Qin Wanru laughed, "Nanny Duan, you sure your information was reliable?"

"It's very reliable. I paid attention to them after Second Miss you left that day. I asked two people to watch them and both of them made this conclusion, "Second Miss, this.... this is Madam's idea, right?" Nanny Duan hesitated for a few seconds and said directly.

Although Second Miss was not an adult and she was a little bit shorter than her, Nanny Duan felt Second Miss was intelligent and sensible, so she felt secure to tell this thing to her before telling others.

"Don't tell this to grandma, tell father! You go down the mountain right now and find father, and then you tell him those bullies are finding troubles for us and ask him to put them into jail first." Qin Wanru's voice was gentle, but she said it in a strict and severe way without any hesitations, "make sure that all of them are caught in case they make troubles tomorrow."

"So... just tell general to catch them without any reasons? After all, we don't have any solid evidence!" Although Nanny Duan was experienced enough, her tactics were all picked up in her life in the backyard and she thought it was impossible to persuade anyone if lacking evidence.

"Nanny, if what you described happened, do you think it will influence father and Aunt Shui?" Qin Wanru put on a stern face and asked seriously.

"Yes, great impact. Miss Shui couldn't lift her head in front of others, and general's reputation... would get influenced." Nanny Duan thought and said.

"That's not enough. If Aunt Shui's ex-husband's family made a sensation and smashed the bridal sedan chair, it would be so shameful for Aunt Shui, and she didn't dare to go outside. For father, if someone were targeting on this issue, father's career path would be blocked!" Qin Wanru sneered and her long eyelashes fluttered.

"These two points mentioned above, evidence would be less significant. You tell father, and I believe he would make his decision clear."

Something like these, evidence was unnecessary, as long as they found anything suspicious, eliminating would be their only solution.

Qin Wanru believed Qin Huaiyong had resolution and courage.

Although Qin Wanru was digging the seriousness of this issue, she still looked calmed which soothed Nanny Duan too. She nodded her head, "Second Miss, then I won't visit Old Grandma but turn to meet the general?"

"Yes, hurry up, and come back quickly and stay with Aunt Shui. I'll leave the mountain with grandma, but I'm afraid it won't be easy." Qin Wanru nodded her head and coldness flashed in her eyes. Now that Madam Di was making trouble with Shui Ruolan's wedding, she wouldn't let them go easily.

Madam Di didn't want Shui Ruolan to marry into General's Mansion smoothly. On the one hand, she would deal with Shui Ruolan's business, and on the other hand, she would find trouble with grandma.

“Yes, Second Miss, then I leave!” Nanny Duan knew this thing didn’t allow any procrastination, so she turned around and left. Initially, she had no idea but sought to ask Old Grandma for a plan, and now she knew it was useless to tell Old Grandma after she understood Qin Wanru’s words. Therefore, she left Jingxin Monastery and jumped on her little carriage which brought her here and went down the mountain.

Qin Wanru went to the yard where carriages of all families were placed there and the carriage of Ningyuan Army General’s Mansion was waiting there already. A cart driver saw her and bowed to her in a hurry, “Second Miss, when’ll Old Grandma go down the mountain? I’m ready for everything now!”

“Everything was ready?” Qin Wanru picked up her eyebrows and asked.

“Yes, Second Miss, everything was ready.” The cart driver replied respectfully, but when he finished his sentence, a massive sound stunned everyone, and they all turned around, and a horrible scene came into their sight astonishingly...

Medical Princess

Chapter 79: The End of All the Plots, Old Grandma Comes Back!

A carriage, waiting by the side of the wagon of General’s Mansion, fell to the other side in the public’s staring, and then it bumped the carriage of General’s Mansion heavily.

That was the carriage which Old Grandma used to take, and now it was oppressed by the carriage by its side which made it lose its support and fell to another one. Thus wagons, one by one, were bumped and fell on the ground continuously.

A series of accidents.

After they recovered all the carriages back to their locations, they found the most damaged carriage was General’s Mansion’s.

The large carriage of Old Grandma’s, in particular, was horribly damaged. Because of hers was just opposite to the first carriage which bumped others, so it lost half of its roof, and the wheels were broken as well, and that meant it couldn’t be used anymore.

Other carriages were bumped and lost shapes. How could they bring them down the mountain, Qing Yue got stunned?

“Second Miss, it was the wheel of that carriage dropped, so it couldn’t stand and bump others.” The cart driver rushed to Qin Wanru and reported to her, and he was sweating all over him.

They were about to leave the mountain, but something like this happened. Qin Wanru frowned and her eyebrows were emitting a sense of coldness.

“What should we do now?” After a long while, Qin Wanru stopped frowning and asked calmly. She saw those completely damaged carriages without any panic as if she didn’t know they couldn’t put into use and Old Grandma couldn’t get down the mountain.

“Second Miss, do we need to borrow some carriages?” The cart driver asked while sweating.

"Where to borrow?" Qin Wanru said. They were many carriages parking here, but most of them were shabby and narrow and with oily inner walls. They were both beneath Old Grandma's status and was unstable while driving. Even if they could match Old Grandma's identity, she was still in sickness, so Qin Wanru dared not to invite her sitting in a small carriage like this and go down the mountain.

Nobody could be responsible for that if accident really happened.

"I... I... I don't know." The cart driver, who proposed this suggestion, found him awkward. He followed Qin Wanru's eyes and took a glance, and then he came to the conclusion that there was no suitable carriage there.

"Thinking of a method and dragging those damaged ones down the mountain and make them get fixed." Qin Wanru ordered.

"Yes... I'll drag them down the mountain. But what about Old Grandma?" The cart driver was sweating and panicking again, he looked very bewildered.

"Grandma, I'll ask herself, and you'll now go down the mountain!" Qin Wanru frowned, and she turned around for leaving. She no longer cared about the accident happened in the parking lot.

Finding she was leaving, Qing Yue followed her in a hurry. But Qin Wanru stopped suddenly after they only turned one corner.

"Miss, what should we do now? Old Grandma should get up now, right?" Qing Yue saw she stopped and asked.

Miss just came out from Old Grandma's place to check how the carriage was prepared, but now the carriage couldn't be used like this.

The carriage couldn't be put into use so that Old Grandma couldn't get down the mountain. If she didn't anchor the general's wedding ceremony, how would others spread the news and gossip about it? Shui Ruolan couldn't even get her wedding ceremony accepted.

A gloomier light was flowing in Qin Wanru eyes, and there was no need to say that this was Madam Di's plot. It was such a large carriage, and it was impossible to get rid of the wheel at any time you want. Thinking of the other two cart drivers who escaped her eye contact, she knew the accident had something to do with them.

Madam Di worked hard to make Shui Ruolan's wedding unacceptable.

Grandma couldn't get used to ordinary carriage, but someone's wagon could be borrowed and used. Qin Wanru believed that new carriage would be more comfortable than the one they used in their mansion.

Jingxin Monastery master had a carriage, a stable one, and when many female relatives from prominent and wealthy families got sick, they would visit Jingxin Monastery master, and they went back home by Jingxin Monastery master's carriage if they had inconvenience.

"You go to visit Jingxin Monastery master and tell her that I want to borrow her carriage." Qin Wanru thought and said.

"Is there a carriage in the monastery?" Qing Yue knew this for her first time and she was stunned with her eyes wide opened.

"Yes, go and borrow it!" Qin Wanru smiled slightly. The carriage was rarely used because Jingxin Monastery master just kept it for contingency. After all, all prestigious families prepared large and stable carriages.

Therefore, few people ever heard about this, and even Old Grandma had no idea about it before. If Qin Wanru didn't follow and learn medicine with Mingqiu Nun who mentioned this carriage on purpose, she would never know.

After she asked Qing Yue to go back to Jingxin Monastery master for borrowing the carriage, Qin Wanru went back to Old Grandma's place in a hurry. Old Grandma woke up already, and she was sitting there waiting for Qin Wanru to come back.

Qin Wanru didn't hide the secret in front of Old Grandma, and she told the accident about their family carriage to her.

When she finished her story, Old Grandma fully understood, so she coughed in a low voice and looked at her with approval. While feeling Madam Di was making trouble again, she also approved Qin Wanru's ability because her granddaughter really grew up and was no longer a childish kid.

The new wagon arrived very fast!

It was a large carriage which was possible to send a patient because it was wide and stable. Although it didn't have any exterior decorations, it had practical and straightforward things. It was also soft and thick!

Qin Wanru supported Old Grandma to get into the carriage and found it was in excellent quality. There was a huge bed, and it was suitable for Old Grandma lying on it.

There was a big window by the bed, so she wouldn't feel stifling lying there. Qin Wanru opened the window and put down the gauze curtain to keep the air fresh, making sure it didn't block the sight.

The carriage drove in stability, and it was more comfortable than the one Old Grandma used before.

"Grandma, take a rest, and I'll call you when we arrive!" Qin Wanru covered Old Grandma with quilt and whispered.

Old Grandma knew she was in poor health condition and she shouldn't force herself to do something beyond her ability now, so she nodded her head and closed her eyes. She would find Madam Di when she went down the mountain, but now she should retain her strength and energy.

Those damaged carriages of General's Mansion left the mountain first, and although they skewed to one side, it was impossible to drive them as long as it ran slowly.

The carriage was driving to the back yard of General's Mansion, and after several cart drivers jumped off the carriage, one of the cart drivers who talked with Qin Wanru previously reported to Madam Di.

Hearing the arrival of a few cart drivers and the absence of Old Grandma and Qin Wanru, Madam Di became less nervous but pleased, and she smiled proudly.

"Did Second Miss say anything?" Madam Di still felt concerned and asked. She always thought that girl was not so easy to manipulate.

"Second Miss didn't say anything but asked us to bring the carriages down the mountain and fixed them." Cart driver reported proudly.

"Didn't she ask you to bring them back immediately?" Madam Di furthered her question.

"The carriages were badly damaged like this, so how could we bring them back? Even if she asked, we could only answer like this." Cart driver became much more proud of himself.

His answer made Madam Di laugh and then she took a sip from the teacup by her hands and waved her hands to ask the cart driver to retreat.

Nanny Zhou was a flexible person, so she gave the cart driver some tips when he retreated, and that triggered a series of his appreciation and exhilaration before he left.

After the cart driver left, Nanny Zhou went back into the room.

"Let's see how this little girl could handle this!" Madam Di couldn't hide her smile anymore.

"Madam, you managed this plot from both sides, capable of hindering even an adult from addressing the troubles, let alone a childish Second Miss." Nanny Zhou fawned over Madam Di with a smile on her face, and her flattering words really went into her heart. This time, no matter how hard Second Miss was thinking, there was no way that she could resolve her plot.

"Shui Ruolan desired to marry the general with respect, but she forgot to check if she had the fortune. She was nothing more than a widow, so how impressive she thought she was. I'll make her the scandals of the entire Jiangzhou, even if the general agreed to marry her, what else could she do! It was not only Qin Wanru that knew how to smash a bridal sedan chair, and I can do it too!"

Madam Di said in a smug smile, and she looked grimly.

She was deeply inspired by Qin Wanru's behavior of smashing Qi Tianyu's bridal sedan chair. Now that Qin Wanru has smashed once, it was nothing serious if she smashed it again.

Additionally, the one who would smash bridal sedan chair was Shui Ruolan's previous "mother-in-law", so even if Qin Huaiyong enjoyed high social status and power, he couldn't block people's gossip. Who cared if they were really Shui Ruolan's previous "mother-in-law", because by then, they would be so anxious to explain the entire issue? And since Old Grandma didn't show up, it was expected that she could refuse to accept this marriage because she didn't think it was not a decent one in her opinion.

Without the acceptance of Old Grandma and her agreement, even if Shui Ruolan were married into the mansion, she wouldn't be treated as a wife but a concubine. Since the marriage made a sensation, Qin Huaiyong wouldn't bear to lose his reputation, and he would allow Shui Ruolan to be his concubine. By that time, Old Grandma's arrival would be too late.

If Shui Ruolan were a concubine, it would be so easy for herself to fool her around. Even though Old Grandma endeavored to protect her, her health condition was not able to protect her.

"There won't be anything wrong about that person you chose, right?" Madam Di said with worries and took a glimpse to Nanny Zhou.

"Don't be worry, Madam. My nephew is a reliable person. If anything unexpected happened, Madam wouldn't get involved into it. We're only relatives to their family, and we didn't have connections with them for many years. However, I used to think he was poor, so I helped him when he was young, I know everything about him."

Nanny Zhou guaranteed and patted her own chest.

"That's fine. I didn't have anything to do with this accident, and will never get involved in it. You give anything to the general of what he wants. Remember, don't stop him. I'll see how he could get married this time!" Madam Di looked grim, and she ground her teeth. She prepared everything for Qin Huaiyong, but if there were anything wrong in the wedding, she was perfectly clean.

"Yes, Madam. I understand!" Nanny Zhou understood and said.

When they were talking, a girl servant rushed into the yard. After she heard what and Nanny Zhou was said in the room, she ran to the front of the door and reported loudly, "Madam, Madam, please go meet Old Grandma, she is coming back?"

"Who came back?" Both of them got stunned in the room, and they stared at each other for a while, and Nanny Zhou asked in astonishment. It was impossible that she could come back, how come!

"Yes, Old Grandma. She just came back, please, general and Madam go pick up and meet Old Grandma!"

Chapter 80: Reminding, A Useful Eyewitness

"Mother, why didn't you use the carriage in our mansion?" Qin Huaiyong helped Old Grandma get down the carriage, and he was surprised to see the nun getting off the carriage before Old Grandma.

"The carriage was damaged!" Old Grandma had a sound rest, and she looked energetic now.

"Damaged? What happened?" Qin Huaiyong got stunned, and then he frowned because he had a terrible feeling!

"I don't know, and I only heard that one of the carriages had a wheel loosed when Zhuozhuo went to check the carriages. What's more, the carriage with the damaged wheel smashed all other carriages we had in our mansion, and I could barely make here and anchor your wedding with Ruolan!"

Old Grandma said it without carrying any attitudes and expressions.

Qin Huaiyong changed his facial expressions, he was about to say something but Madam Di interrupted him, "mother, finally you arrived. The cart driver just told me that the carriage was damaged, and I was preparing to pick you up with other carriages."

After she finished her sentence, she rushed into the door, wiping her sweat on the face with a handkerchief, and it could be proved that she was really in a hurry.

"You knew mother's carriage was damaged?" Qin Huaiyong asked Madam Di in a terrible and unfriendly look, "why I didn't know anything?"

General, I was preparing other carriages for mother here in a hurry, so I forgot to tell you. I was thinking to find an ideal transport and go up the mountain with you to pick up mother." Madam Di said with fortunate smile, "Fortunately, it's such a blessing, Jingxin Monastery master had a carriage and even someone who could drive. Otherwise, it would be so terrible."

On her way coming here, she already learned the news, and now she also saw a nun standing by Old Grandma, so she understood that it was Jingxin Monastery master spoiled her plan and she was furious now. However, she had to pretend that she was grateful!

Qin Wanru stood aside and smiled, watching Madam Di suffered the consequence she delivered. One occurrence after another, no matter how much did her father trust Madam Di, his trust would abate this time!

Qin Huaiyong would not believe her unless she did practical measures for changing, and she could never bluff her way through!

Obviously, what Qin Huaiyong said next froze the smile on Madam Di's face.

"So what did you do for this, and where did you borrow the carriage? When did you plan to tell me and go up to the mountain for picking up my mother?" Qin Huaiyong asked, one after another. He kept hurtling his questions angrily towards Madam Di, completely ignoring Madam Di's rigid facial expression.

Nanny Zhou sensed the situation was unfavorable to them, so she explained for Madam Di in a hurry: "General, this accident just happened, and I was discussing it with Madam just now. We prepared to borrow a carriage with other well-connected Madams. The best carriage in our mansion is the one serving Old Grandma, but now it was damaged and couldn't be used."

"Other Madams? Which one?" In the past, Qin Huaiyong would be satisfied with her explanation, but now he decided not to make any compromises, so he sneered and said that. His eyes were concentrating on Madam Di's face, and he didn't show any mildness, "Madam Di, don't tell me at this critical moment, you were only planning but doing nothing."

"I... I... general, how could say that to me? You know, I care everything about you, and I even accept your decision of marrying Shui Ruolan. I gave you everything you wanted, when did I delay? Now, what's the attitude? So I'm treated like this even before the new bride marrying into our family?"

Madam Di got stammered because he was bombarding her, and she suddenly cried out, wiping her tears with the handkerchief and complaining about Qin Huaiyong, "general, I know you harbor anger and concerns to me because of Yuru's accident, but what I should do? Yuru is my daughter, and I gave birth to her. So I was supposed to watch aside and see her suffering? I know I did the wrong thing, but... but that was for our daughter, could you please understand me!"

Madam Di felt so wronged, and she lifted her face, which was drowned in tears, and she looked at Qin Huaiyong, "general, I didn't do anything wrong since I followed you. But I made the wrong judgment on Yuru's issue, but... but you can't completely deny me. I abandoned my life in the capital city, was it only for leading a life without trust!"

Madam Di almost cried her eyeballs out on thinking of her past time sufferings.

He used to be a Miss from a prestigious family, and she broke her engagement only for marrying Qin Huaiyong, and this was something worth mentioning for years in front of Qin Huaiyong.

After all, based on Qin Huaiyong's identity and condition, it was not a good marriage in Duke Yong.

Her words implied both directly and indirectly that she married someone beneath her.

Her words alleviated Qin Huaiyong's anger, and he became less aggressive.

"Mother, don't you like Aunt Shui? "Qin Wanru found they changed the subject and turned to something that Qin Huaiyong was grateful to Duke Yong, so she lifted her beautiful eyes and asked like a spoiled kid.

Only one sentence made Qin Huaiyong change his facial expression again, and he looked at Madam Di with grave doubts. Did Madam Di intend to distract his attention by crying and complaining?

He sent someone to tackle with what Nanny Duan was reported before, and he knew someone was targeting Shui Ruolan in the dark corner, and the most suspicious candidate was Madam Di. Before he figured this out, an accident about the damaged carriage happened.

Mother couldn't leave the mountain if the carriage were damaged. If Madam Di made any troubles by using this accident and if she smashed the bridal sedan chair, he would have no attention to bother with anything happening inside the mansion because he would be busy explaining everything to the outside. When Shui Ruolan was married into the family, but others did not accept her identity and status, the consequence would be visible.

It was Madam Di plotting everything behind his back for sure!

Suddenly, an idea that Madam Di asked someone to plot against Qin Wanru came into his mind, and coldness filled his eyes. To this woman, could he have any other ideas?

He has almost cheated again!

"Wanru, I knew you never liked your mother, and you heard about the matter happened to your Big Sister which felt you so wronged now, but don't be angry, I... I'll apologize to you! But I hope you don't target your mother anymore, your mother I only want to make atonement." Madam Di was moaning in her mind, and she wiped her tears with her handkerchief. Kneeling for Qin Wanru and putting on a face that she knew her mistake, she thought that Qin Wanru could do anything she wanted now.

Qin Wanru couldn't have her mother to kneel in front of her, so she shunned away, and a flexible old woman standing by Old Grandma's sidestepped forward and supported her to stand up.

But Madam Di was eager to kneel for real this time, and she wanted to kneel even an old woman was supporting her to stand up.

It turned into a tumult because they were dragging and pulling each other.

"Grandma, you're tired, do you want to have a rest for a while?" Qin Wanru stepped back to Old Grandma's side and asked her with a frown.

Old Grandma understood her intention and pressed her forehead and leaned back feebly with her eyes tightly closed. She ordered Qin Wanru in a whisper, "Zhuzhuo, you help me go inside and have a rest. It's such chaotic here, I don't have the energy to listen to, and you ask your father to deal with it himself." She finished her sentence, followed by several coughs.

Qin Huaiyong got furious when he saw Old Grandma was so tired but Madam Di kept making a sensation there, so he banged on the table so fiercely that all the tea set on the table jumped up and made crisp sounds, "are you done? If you finished your show, you go back and stop making any troubles for me."

The more he thought of the things that Madam Di has done, the more he felt she disturbing, and the more he loathed her.

"General, you... "Madam Di was in the high time of her show and got stammered because of Qin Huaiyong's behaviors.

"You stay in your yard and don't get out from it tomorrow in case you make any accident!" Qin Huaiyong sneered.

One case after another, and all of them had relations with Madam Di, so even he had no evidence, he could still know it was she who did everything and it was always she.

Qin Huaiyong would never expect that she did all of these if the accident in Jingxin Monastery didn't happen. Who could imagine that she would think of kidnapping Qin Wanru, and what else she wouldn't do?

Therefore, the person who was plotting against Shui Ruolan, damaging the carriage to prevent Old Grandma going down the mountain and anchoring the wedding could be Madam Di naturally.

"General, you... how could you do this to me?" Madam Di was astonished. If she couldn't attend this wedding, how would people judge her, and how could she visit other mansions as a decent guest?

"Someone leads Madam to have a rest so that she could calm down and relieve." Qin Huaiyong said with an angry face.

Hearing his words, two rough and ready old women standing next to Old Grandma dragged Madam Di to go outside, although Nanny Zhou wanted to help her, she saw Qin Huaiyong's face and dared not to step forward. So she was standing behind Madam Di and kept persuading him.

People followed Madam Di were all in panic, and they chased after Madam Di and retreated. All of a sudden, the room went back to peace.

"Mother, tomorrow's wedding, I have to bother you again!" Taking a deep breath, Qin Huaiyong reopened his mouth and said.

"Yong, don't worry. I'm old, but I'm able to take charge for only one day. What about the future?" Old Grandma sighed; she had mixed feelings too.

"From now on, Ruolan cousin will take in charge!" Qin Huaiyong raised his eyebrows and made his decision. He took a glance at Qin Wanru and became determined.

He couldn't divorce with Madam Di, but it doesn't mean he would treat her the same as he did before. He could give the title of his first lady due to his respect towards Duke Yong mansion, but it was just a title which the outsiders thought it was decent.

"Don't you feel worried that Duke Yong may intervene in it?" Old Grandma was worried too, and that's why she made many compromises to Madam Di for so many years.

"Don't worry, Mother." Qin Huaiyong comforted Old Grandma.

"It'll be excellent that you know what you're doing, and Ruolan is fine as well, but..." Old Grandma harbored misgivings, so she stopped.

"Father, will Duke Yong embarrass you and Aunt Shui?" Qin Wanru asked adequately, and she was frowning, and her tiny face showed worry.

Qin Huaiyong understood instantly since he was heading back to the capital city, it was necessary to tell the reasons of the decision he made to Duke Yong Mansion.

Qin Wanru's words reminded Qin Huaiyong, so he promised Old Grandma, "Don't worry, mother. I'll get ready for some things."

If he treated Duke Yong's daughter rudely, Duke Yong would find him trouble. Therefore, eyewitnesses, evidence, and the ones who intended to ruin his wedding, all of them he would figure them out, tied them up, and took them with him to the capital city.

Learning that Qin Huaiyong would take eyewitness to the capital city, profound darkness was flowing in Qin Wanru's eyes where nobody could see. They were not only eyewitnesses but could be useful in other places, so she reminded Qin Huaiyong of bringing them into the capital city for great use...
