

Chapter 34

After the call, Sarah was not sleepy at all!

She took in a deep breath. When she thought of how Leslie and her lover spent a night together, the hatred in her heart grew even stronger!

Sarah had completely forgotten that her boyfriend was Jensen. He would come to give her a piano lesson later!

Sarah didn't even have time to change her clothes before she knocked on Ashley's door.

Ashley opened the door and complained, "Sarah, why are you so early? Good thing your daddy went to work early. What if he didn't disturb him here?"

"Mommy!" Sarah squeezed in and quickly closed the door.

"What happened? You look very anxious," Ashley said as she looked at her daughter with a strange look. Then, she gently combed her long, disheveled hair.

"Mommy! I heard from my classmate that Leslie and Mr. Lester spent a night together!"

Sarah was panting heavily. Obviously, she was pissed off by this!

Ashley was stunned. "How is that possible? Didn't they say that she's not with Mr. Lester?"

"Mommy, my deskmate won't lie to me!" Sarah sat down on the sofa and covered her painful chest. "I hate her. If it weren't for her, how could Mr. Lester do this to me? Mommy! We must deal with her. We can't let her continue!"

Ashley frowned and said, "Deal with her? You mean to ruin her reputation?"

Sarah's malicious laughter echoed, "Yeah, if Leslie messed around with a few guys overnight, Mr. Lester wouldn't want her anymore. Such a dirty woman, even giving her away would be a waste!"

Ashley fell silent, thinking whether it was feasible.

"Mom, there's still a month before school starts. By the time my brother returns, that wretched woman will have gained even more of Dad's favor! What can we do then? So, let's strike first while Mr. Lester's feelings for her aren't too deep!"

Seeing that Ashley was deep in thought, Sarah could not help but ask anxiously.

Ashley gave her an unpleasant look and said, "You're just anxious, but you're right. Your daddy is getting more and more fond of her..."

"Mommy, hurry up and think of a way!"

"Didn't you say that your desk will hold a birthday party a week later? Most of the students will come, right?" Ashley asked with a chuckle.

"Yes, it will be Tuesday, next week!"

"Is there any bad boy who loves Leslie?" Ashley said casually.

Sarah's eyes lit up.

"That... Gregory Nixon! That guy is usually together with some little gangsters now. He changes girlfriends very well. Some girls in the class were harassed by him. He has also chased after that bitch, but that bitch didn't care about him. Gregory has always held a grudge against her!"

Sarah smiled. "Thank you, mommy. I know what to do!"

"That's good. If you succeed this time, I'm sure that Mr. Lester will never take a fancy to her," Ashley gently said as she combed her long hair.

But her eyes were sinister and cold!

Sarah breathed a sigh of relief and lazily placed her hands on the sofa.

"Mommy, you're so smart! No wonder..."

Ashley came to her side and sat down. She took Riley's shirt and said, "Of course, I need to focus on Riley. Otherwise, why would he trust us and give you so much money..."

Ashley's voice paused there, and Sarah looked at Ashley strangely, only to see that she was staring at the red lipstick print on the white shirt.

There was a red lip print and a faint fragrance, faint and very elegant.

The lipstick mark was not the kind that was obvious. It seemed that the woman who left the lipstick mark should be a woman with nude makeup!

"Mommy, what's this? Why there is a lipstick mark!" Sarah's eyes widened!

It could be imagined that Riley should be close to a woman, and that woman deliberately left this thing on his collar to display to Ashley!

Ashley's face turned pale. "It's just a red lipstick mark. It doesn't mean anything! But... before your daddy is really trapped in it, I have to get rid of it quickly. Otherwise, it will be more and more difficult to deal with it!"

Sarah said indignantly, "Mommy, you're so kind. Now you're much more beautiful than many women of the same age and have a good figure. Why isn't Daddy satisfied?"

Ashley chuckled and shook her head. "You just don't get how guys think. No matter how gorgeous, young, or charming a wife is, after spending so much time together, all that charm turns into boredom! The women out there are like fresh-picked cherries, tempting someone to take a bite."

Sarah Byrd widened her eyes, "Mom, are you saying that even if a man loves his wife a lot, he might still cheat after being married for many years?"

"Of course, what cat doesn't sneak around? Your father used to favor that woman's birth mother, but didn't I win him over later? However, if I can't get rid of that woman, I can endure it, as long as I remain the lawful wife!"

Ashley said coldly, with a hint of cruelty in her eyes!

"Mommy, can you really stand it?" Sarah frowned. She could not imagine Riley holding a beautiful young woman.

"You don't have to worry about this. Just do what you're about to do!" Ashley said softly. Then, she found her cell phone and made a call.

"Richard, keep an eye on the president and see which woman he is particularly close to."

"After it's done, I'll give you a lot of benefits!"

After saying that, Ashley hung up the phone, but she had all kinds of speculations in her mind.

Sarah stood up and said, "Mommy, I'll go back to my room first. I'll call those people to discuss it."

"Well, be careful. Don't let that bitch escape this time!"

"Don't worry, Gregory is not a simple person." Sarah chuckled, her voice full of malice!

This time, she must ruin Leslie's reputation!

Several days passed in a flash.

Jensen came every day to Sarah. Leslie pretended not to see him and ran out for a few days.

However, she had been to the nearby library these days, so Ashley and Sarah did not get any news.

In the afternoon of Tuesday, Leslie was reading and received a phone call from Sarah.

Sarah asked her to attend her friend's birthday party. Leslie was only one year older than Sarah, and Sarah was now a freshman in high school. Leslie did not know her classmate at all. 📖

Leslie didn't want to think about it, but Sarah kept pleading, which made her extremely confused. However, Sarah didn't give her the chance to choose, and said that she would pick her up that day.

Leslie raised his eyebrows and made a phone call to Mya, inviting her to attend Bonnie's birthday party.
