

Merrier 948

Chapter 948 How About I Call You Sweetheart

Arissa eyed Benjamin, who was acting all high-handed. She hesitated for a while before walking over to him.

If I were to go and sit on the other side, he'd definitely be displeased.

Taking all that in, the six children chortled discreetly.

"Can't you be apart from Mommy for even a second, Daddy?"

Gavin poked fun at his father.

His eyes lighting up, Tim likewise fixated his gaze on Benjamin.

Zachary, Oliver, Jasper, and Jesse also stared at the man unblinkingly in curiosity.

"No," Benjamin answered.

Arissa was startled, the corners of her mouth twitching when she glimpsed his calm and unruffled expression.

"Hurry up and sit down to eat! We're all waiting for you."

Benjamin shot a look at her.

Arissa sat down smilingly. "Let's eat, Sweethearts!"

"Okay!"

Beside themselves with joy, the children picked up their forks and started eating.

"Okay."

time, the voice of the man talking to the turned to throw him a glare, only to meet his eyes. They were scorching to the point that they could almost reduce face flaming, she closer to her. "Am wildly, and she blushed to

was talking to the wasn't talking to him! Who cares about him? He wants me Benjamin's gaze darkened. "How about I jackhammer, the man's teasing robbing her told you to

for she hadn't expected him to see right through her

Gah! How embarrassing!

Benjamin's lips quirked up.

in their direction, she chastised him in course!" Benjamin replied with glued to her bright red face, the heat

man was hinting at something else, and her mind inexorably pretended to take food for

"Eat more, Sweethearts!"

for each of them

Benjamin was disgruntled.

"Have you forgotten something?"

Huh?

regarded him in

Benjamin looked displeased.

"What have I forgotten?"

Arissa appeared all innocent.