Chapter 131 – Surrounding Israel (I)

Israel said some cruel words with a smile: “Snow White Madam, I know that Savage Claw’s Great Warlock Isadore admires you greatly. As long as we work together, then with some tricks, we can easily assassinate him. Afterwards, we’ll each eat half of his corpse; thus greatly upgrading our strength.”

Although hellion Great Warlock rank experts didn’t need to consume humans in order to preserve their reason, but devouring a Warlock of the same rank would still spell great benefits for them; therefore, this was the reason why hellions were one of the most terrifying enemies of humans.

A fierce voice came from that chunk of ice: “I won’t surrender and will never join you.”

Israel said with a slight smile: “No, you’ll surrender! You were stabbed by the legendary dagger Kiss of the Damned. Even with the legendary secret treasure Snow Ice Box, at the most, you’ll only be able to bear it for another three days. Three days later, your Snow Ice Barrier won’t be able withstand my erosion anymore and will vanish into nothing. After I capture you and implant you with my clan’s pure bloodline, then you’ll transform into a hellion. By that time, you’ll certainly change your mind and become my wife.”

The art of switching to the Hellion Clan’s bloodline was extremely terrifying. From the era of the 3rd Warlock Dynasty until now, the Hellion Clan was repeatedly attacked by human Warlocks, yet they still didn’t went extinct, but rather quickly developed after several ups and downs. That was only possible because the hellion’s art of switching bloodline was formidable.

If there was no Great Warlock defending Turandot Subcontinent, then the hellions could transform Turandot Subcontinent’s tremendous human population of more than 10,000,000,000 into low-level hellions within a year. Hellions were like cancer cells parasitizing the human body that would quickly spread if one was the slightest bit careless.

That chunk of ice became deathly silent. No matter what Israel said, there was no response from the chunk of ice.

As a Great Warlock, Israel’s perception was extremely frightening. No life form was able of escaping his perception within an area of more than a dozen square kilometers. But there were too many insects in this area; therefore, he didn’t notice that there were several mechanical mosquitoes spying on him.

One day passed in a flash. The black flames had already melted the crystal clear chunk of ice into a thin layer.

Israel suddenly creased his eyebrows, then looked southwards. With his extraordinary hearing, he could clearly hear the mechanical rumblings coming from that direction.

Israel said coldly: “Go, get rid of them!”

“Yes, Master! We’ll tear those lumps of steel into scrap iron.”

Outside the valley, the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes gave sinister smiles, before instantly erupting with the terrifying life force of pinnacle level-3 Warlocks. Their figure's shook and as if embodying three clusters of fire, they swept southward.

The three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes flew for six kilometers southward, before finally seeing densely packed four types of primary battle robots advancing in their direction. The troops surpassed 100,000 units and were composed of level-8 bladed robots, gunner robots, artillery robots and shielded robots.

When the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes saw this scene, their scalps turned somewhat numb and their rampant arrogance disappeared in a flash.

Every level-8 primary battle robot was more than five meters tall and was equipped with all kinds of military weapons. With just a single glance, one would know not to mess with them. As long as there were less than ten units of those level-8 primary battle robots, then the three brothers, the Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes, could easily destroy them. But against one hundred thousand primary battle robots, even if they went all out, they might not be able to completely destroy those level-8 primary battle robots.

Once the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes appeared, the level-8 gunner robots immediately adjusted their aim, before their gauss cannons rumbled madly and countless terrifying gauss cannon shells madly swept towards the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes.

In a split second, a network of countless red fire shrouded the sky.

Suddenly, a sense of danger pervaded the minds of the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes. They roared furiously. Countless flames formed a flame cover around them; following which, they directly fled into the valley covered in ice and snow.

The level-8 gunner robots' smart microchips were equipped with the most advanced trajectory prediction system and with the super computing optical computer within the Portable Fortified Stronghold, the Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes' escape root was completely sealed.

Countless gauss shells exploded on the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes' flame shields, crushing them after less than a second. In a split second, countless gauss shells bombarded the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes, riddling them with gaping wounds and causing a mist of blood around them; following which, they immediately fell to the ground.

If it was a level-2 extraordinary life form or lower, then they would have already been pummeled into mincemeat by those gauss shells. But the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes were pinnacle level-3 extraordinary life forms; even though they were pierced through by countless gauss shells, they still hadn't died.

Three bloody magical radiances shot up and directly merged with the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes' bodies that were nearly torn to bits. Their bodies riddled with gaping wounds at once recovered, only their complexions pale. They knelt weakly beside Israel and said with great shame: "Master, were very sorry, we aren't up to par with the task!"

Israel's eyes were extremely cold. He casually flicked his hand; flames congregated into an eye of flames and shot towards the sky

The sight within a radius of several dozen kilometers of the scene was entirely taken in by the eye of flames.

Israel silently recited an incantation. A second later, he pointed towards the sky.

A crimson radiance entered the sky, followed by countless fire elemental particles congregating.

As if a scene straight from hell, a large sea of fire quickly took form; five seconds later, it reached an area of several kilometers in radius. Fireballs fell from the sky, madly shooting towards the one hundred thousand primary battle robots down below.

Not long ago, Israel had taken advantage of this spell, Rain of Fireballs, and instantly slayed the several thousand units sent by Yang Feng to chase after Olerya.

The mechanical shielded robots among the primary battle robots raised their shields and instantly shrouded them selves and the primary battle robots that they were protecting with level-3 protective covers.

The rain of fireballs fell by the thousands and tens of thousands, bombarding the shielded robots' protective covers, before successively collapsing. Very strangely, they were absorbed by the level-3 protective covers and turned into energy for the level-8 shielded robots to use.

The new technology contained within those level-8 shielded robots enabled them to defend against energy attacks and then adsorb energy. Any energy attacks that didn't exceeded their defensive limit, the energy from the energy attack could be absorbed for their own use. Even though the mechanical shielded robots was a battle unit with the lowest level of xizu technology, yet it still had various miraculous powers.

Chapter 132 – Surrounding Israel (II)

Ten seconds later, the surrounding area of several kilometers in radius had become a tract of scorched black, with potholes and rising black smoke everywhere. The temperature pervading this place was so high, that it would be difficult for ordinary people to bear it.

Yet the primary battle robots still walk forward expressionlessly in this kind of place, moving towards the valley covered in ice and snow.

Israel's gaze became gloomy in a flash.

With Israel's strength as a Great Warlock, he could only cast a meteorological spell with such a large area of effect like Rain of Fireballs five times a day. Meteorological spells capable of annihilating a mortal army of several hundred thousand people with a singly terrifying blow was one of the reason why Great Warlocks stood at the summit of Turandot Subcontinent.

When Israel saw the one hundred thousand primary battle robots, seemingly unaffected by the rain of fireballs, he became extremely shocked and his gaze alternated between bright and gloomy.

Israel cast a spell by casually clapping his hands and sealed the place where the chunk of ice with Snow White Madam in it was; following which, he released a terrifying pressure belonging to a Great Warlock and roared out: "I'm Bear of Flames' Master, Great Warlock Joyman. The friend that just arrived, please come out to chat."

Bear of Flames was a first-rate Warlock group in Turandot Subcontinent and Great Warlock Joyman was it's Master. Israel and Joyman were the same person.

"I'm Yang Tie, a direct subordinate of Steel City's Yang Feng. I came to investigate the site where the third division of Steel City's mechanized infantry division was annihilated by someone. According to the information sent back by our subordinates, they were annihilated here in this area. Additionally, the one that annihilated them, used a large area of effect fire-attributed meteorological spell."

"Joyman, Your Highness, when we arrived, you used a large area of effect fire-attributed meteorological spell to attack us. Could it be that you're the one behind the attack on our Steel City?" A young man with oriental features stepped out from the rear of the mechanical army and asked coldly.

"You actually dare to talk with me in that way, you're quite brave!" Israel flew out of the valley. His gaze fell on Yang Feng. Instantly, a terrifying life force erupted and a spirit pressure as vast as the ocean immediately smashed towards Yang Feng.

As a Great Warlock, Israel had already exceeded ordinary life forms and was at the boundary of becoming a terrifying pinnacle being just like gods, ancient fiends, ancient devils and other formidable and other terrifying pinnacle beings. With his terrifying strength, he could kill a level-1 Warlock or lover with a glance.

At this moment, a level-8 shielded robot beside Yang Feng stepped forward in a flash, raised the shield in it's hand and instantly started a level-3 protective cover to block in front of Yang Feng.

The protective cover released by the level-8 shielded robot had comprehensive defensive ability. It didn't matter in the attacks were of the physical or magical nature, they were all equally unable of penetrating this level-3 defensive cover.

The gunner robots instantly adjusted their aims, followed by the frantic rumbles of countless gauss cannons, before madly shooting at Israel.

The artillery robots also adjusted their aims; following which, as if raindrops, countless missiles and shells madly shot towards Israel.

Israel hadn't thought that Yang Feng would go as far as to launch a sudden attack on him. Countless gauss shells instantly destroyed the level-4 life force continuously revolving around him; following which, countless gauss shells hit his body, immediately sending him flying, before crashing into the valley.

Countless shellfire rumbled, with all kinds of shells and guided missiles bombarding Israel and the three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes.

The three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes couldn't react and were immediately blasted into sieves by the countless shells.

Three level-8 bladed robots flickered madly amidst the hail of shells. They appeared in front of the three heavily wounded Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes in a single breath, before immediately chopping down at their heads.

The three Dragon-Winged Demonic Fire Apes were terrifying extraordinary life forms. They had extremely tyrannical battle prowess, comparable to pinnacle level-3 Warlocks'. However, due to a moment of carelessness, they were killed by the huge mechanical legion.

With every level of xizu technology that was cleared, terrifyingly, the battle prowess of the mechanical legion would rise geometrically.

"Stop!! I'm Bear of Flames' Master, Joyman! Do you really want to be enemies with my Bear of Flames?"

Along with a raging roar, a flame storm instantly gushed out of the valley and formed a pillar of flames, blocking the mechanical legion's long range attacks.

With his hair disheveled and bleeding from the corners of his mouth, just like a flame demon, Israel stood in the middle of the flame storm and glared angrily at Yang Feng.

Every Great Warlock rank expert was at the peak of Turandot Subcontinent. In the Turandot Subcontinent, the words of Great Warlock Joyman, who was now Israel's avatar, carried great authority, while he himself was the target of veneration for countless people.

Yang Feng waved his hand and the attack ceased. His expression fierce, he roared overbearingly: "You actually dared to attack me. If you don't give me a proper explanation, then I'm getting rid of you here and now and then gonna lead my mechanical legion to raze your Bear of Flames!"

Israel's eyebrows creased slightly as he had a headache: "Why did I ran into such a moronic silk pants at this time? Doesn't he knows that even if he hides amongst those mechanical golems, I would only need three moves to kill him?!"

In peace times, Israel would definitely break into that mechanical legion and kill Yang Feng and then quickly leave. No matter how strong that mechanical legion was, there was no way for it to contend against a Great Warlock.

But Great Warlock Snow White Madam was currently sealed in the valley. If she were to be released, then Israel would be in big trouble.

The legendary dagger Kiss of the Damned was a level-4 secret treasure used for assassinations. In Turandot Subcontinent, the Hellion Clan didn't had more then four of them. Without a Legend rank secret treasure, it was nearly impossible for someone below the Great Warlock rank to injure a Great Warlock. With a Legend rank secret treasure, even an Apprentice Warlock had a chance of assassinating a Great Warlock.

Legend rank secret treasures were very rare and even Great Warlock rank experts might not have one, with many Great Warlocks from weak backgrounds being forced to use level-3 secret treasures. Israel wouldn't give up the opportunity of obtaining two Legend rank secret treasures.

Israel's eyes flickered with a fierce glimmer as he weighed the situation repeatedly, before finally making a compromise. He repressed his anger, dispersed the flame storm cover and casually tossed a bottle of elixir towards Yang Feng: “Regarding this matter, I’m the one in the wrong. This is Neins Soul Elixir, it’s an ancient elixir capable of improving one’s soul aptitude. It can also be used to break through a bottleneck. With it, a level-1 Warlock has a 30% chance of promoting to a level-2 Warlock.”

Yang Feng quickly caught that vial of elixir. He immediately opened it and let a mechanical tentacle penetrate the elixir.

<Initiating the analysis of the elixir! Analyzing the feasibility.>

<The elixir can be analyzed and synthesized!>

<Initiating the analysis model!>

<With the current computing power, it is estimated that the elixir will be completely analyzed after 1 hour!>

After the construction of the Portable Fortified Stronghold was completed, the analytical and computing power of the Portable Fortified Stronghold’s optical computer by far surpassed 3796’s. Only because of this would an ancient elixir like Neins Soul Elixir be so quickly analyzed.

Chapter 133 – Surrounding Israel (III)

Yang Feng put away the Neins Soul Elixir. He revealed his greedy nature by continuing overbearingly: “This little bit is not enough compensation. I want a complete corpse of a Great Warlock rank extraordinary life form. At the very least, it should contain its magic core and skeleton. If it has bloodline essence, then that’s even better.”

Israel’s eyes flickered with a fierce glimmer, but he suppressed his rage and instead said coldly. “A complete corpse of a Great Warlock rank extraordinary life form! Are you joking? It’s such a precious treasure! Even if you add up your entire Steel City, it still wouldn’t be worth as much.”

The corpse of a Great Warlock rank extraordinary life form was of astonishing worth, with everything about it being a treasure. Extraordinary life forms from whose bloodline essence could be extracted; their skeleton, fur and magic core were precious alchemy materials that could be refined into Legend rank secret treasures.

The corpses of Great Warlock rank extraordinary life forms were precious treasures for which there was demand but no supply. Once such a corpse appeared in an auction house, it would attract a lot of Great Warlocks to compete for it.

Yang Feng said with a smile: “That’s right, I was just thinking about refining a Legend rank secret treasure and offer it to Steel City’s City Lord, Yang Ye. But I’m currently short on materials. Hand over a complete corpse of a Grand Warlock rank extraordinary life form and I’ll put this matter to rest.”

Israel’s eyes flashed with a touch of cold killing intent, before he said coldly: “Yang Tie, you even dare threaten me? You’ve got guts! Don’t you know that your life is in my hands? If I want to kill you, then even those many mechanical golems won’t be able to protect you!

Israel was a hellion Great Warlock rank expert disguised as the Bear of Flames' Master, Joyman. He was a bigwig high above the masses and his words were of tremendous weight. But now he was actually being threatened by a level-1 Warlock; therefore, it's only natural for him to have killing intent towards the other.

Yang Feng swept Israel with a glance, his eyes flashing with a touch of contempt, before saying with a sneer: "Joyman, Your Highness, such a bigwig like yourself being so meek and mild, to the point of apologizing to myself, it surely must be because there's an item in that valley that you must have. You could kill me, but my mechanical legion would definitely rush into the valley and seize everything within. The alchemy of Steel City's City Master is peerless under the heavens. Steel City still has at least three more mechanical legions of like this, are you sure that you can take care of several such mechanical legions by yourself?"

Israel's eyes instantly surged with endless rage, but he forced himself to calm down. With his strength, killing someone inside this mechanical legion and then escaping was really easy. But to destroy the mechanical legion made up of one hundred thousand level-8 primary battle robots, that would be very difficult.

Great Warlocks were truly the strongest beings on Turandot Subcontinent. But as long as the enemies' strength reached a certain extent, then human wave attacks could also be used to overrun a Great Warlock.

Israel was silent for a moment; following which, he casually waved his hand and immediately sent an up to five meters long corpse of a direwolf covered in blue fur flying towards Yang Feng: "This is the corpse of a Blue Docfen Demonic Ice Wolf, the magic core and bloodline essence are included. Take it and leave!"

Yang Feng received the corpse of the Blue Docfen Demonic Ice Wolf and took a careful look at it, his eyes flashing with a touch of satisfaction.

Although the Blue Docfen Demonic Ice Wolf was one of the weakest level-4 extraordinary life forms and its strength was far from that of formidable beings such as human Great Warlocks and dragons, but it was still a level-4 extraordinary life form and its fighting strength was extremely frightening; it was a being capable of tearing the majority of pinnacle level-3 Warlocks to shreds. As long as it was modulated in the Portable Fortified Stronghold; then before long, a new mechanical battle beast comparable to a level-4 extraordinary life form would appear.

Yang Feng waved his hand and kept the corpse of the Blue Docfen Demonic Ice Wolf inside a Dimensional Crest, before casually throwing the Dimensional Crest towards a level-8 shielded robots. That level-8 shielded robots immediately retreated into the crowd of primary battle robots.

Israel's eyes surged with to killing intent. He suppressed his anger, forced out a trace of a smile and said: "Please leave."

Yang Feng stared at Israel as if looking at an idiot and said with a chuckle: "Joyman, are you really that stupid? Did you really believe that I would keep my word? Since even you are tempted by the treasure inside the valley, then how can I let it slip past me?!"

Practically at the same time, all the gunner robots and artillery robots opened fire, with countless gauss shells shooting towards Israel.

The countless horrifying gauss shells instantly destroyed Israel's life force cover, before directly bombarding his body, piercing through his flesh and crashing him into the valley

Endless shellfire, practically without respite, locked onto Israel and madly bombarded him.

"Yang Tie, I'll kill you!! There's no one in the entire subcontinent that can save you! I'll not only to kill you, but also everyone else from Steel City!!"

A flame storm instantly took shape and formed a barrier, easily withstanding the bombardment of Yang Feng's flame storm barrier.

Israel stood loftily in the center of the flame storm. Like a flame fiendgod, his eyes emitted two streams of flames; deep within his eyes, there was a raging fury. He had never been so duped before; but today, this trifling ant of a level-1 Warlock did it, making his fury rise to the limit.

"There's no elixir for stupidity! You're so stupid that you can't help not being duped, but I'm here to help you. Now that you were cheated once, later on, you'll have your psychological defenses up and your human behavior will benefit greatly; therefore, you should be thankful. But instead, you want to kill me? That's truly biting the hand that feeds you."

Yang Feng's figure suddenly retreated and entered the area protected by level-8 shielded robots, greatly contrasting with his cynical remarks.

"Very well. I'll thank you properly and repay your kindness by cutting you into pieces!" Israel's eyes spurted furious flames with every word he said.

After finishing speaking, Israel's figure shook and at once nine flame arrows detached from him, frantically shooting towards the mechanical legion.

Those nine flame arrows at once arrived before the mechanical legion.

Every level-8 primary battle robot was equipped with level-2 protective covers or higher. At the nick of time, the entire mechanical legion flared with a large protective cover.

The nine flame arrows hit the mechanical legion and pierced through more than 90 bladed robots, incinerating them in the process.

Israel's expression was somewhat unsightly as he watched the more than 90 bladed robots turning into cinders. With his current strength, he could only release the level-4 spell Nine Flame Arrows ten times a day. In other words, if he continued to cast such a spell like Nine Flame Arrows, then he would at most be able to destroy more than 900 bladed robots before depleting his spirit force. Even if he continuously drank precious elixirs to recover his spirit force, destroying two thousand primary battle robots in one day would already be his limit.

Chapter 134 – Surrounding Israel (IV)

In Turandot Subcontinent, level-2 Warlocks were already the Masters of many small principalities. Even in Warlock College Antalya, level-2 Warlocks were elders of the council of elders with sky-high statuses. On the whole, there were less than two thousand level-2 Warlocks in Warlock College Antalya.

Being capable of killing two thousand level-2 Warlocks in a day, Israel's strength was extremely terrifying. But he came across such a freak of a mechanical legion, only like this would he appear somewhat helpless.

Yang Feng hiding within the mechanical legion sneered: "Joyman, Your Highness, this little bit of power isn't enough to kill me! Could it be that as a Great Warlock, you're only capable of this much? That's truly too weak."

"You'll know of what I'm capable after I'll tear you into pieces!"

Israel was so angry that he instead started smiling. His figure shook, countless flames shot into the sky and turned into the level-4 extraordinary life form Byron Demonic Flame Bear. It was up to six meters tall with raging flames all over.

Level-4 extraordinary life form Byron Demonic Flame Bears were second only to dragon-type extraordinary life forms of the same rank. If they had the ability to fly, then they would be able to even contend against dragons.

The figure of the Byron Demonic Flame Bear shook and like a terrifying tank, it swiftly shot towards the mechanical legion.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

When the Byron Demonic Flame Bear morphed Israel shot into the mechanical legion, he brandished his huge bear paws and slapped the mechanical legion's primary battle robots.

Whether it was a bladed robot or a shielded robot with the strongest defensive strength, their protective covers were like thin sheets of paper before Israel's bear paws, unable to withstand a single strike.

Spare parts spattering everywhere as the primary battle robots blocking in front of Israel were all flung back with a single slap. They simply couldn't withstand a single one of Israel's mighty strikes.

Within just a few breaths, Israel had torn to shreds more than one hundred of the mechanical legion's primary battle robots and killed his way right before Yang Feng.

"Amazing! So fierce, worthy of a Great Warlock rank expert!!"

Even though he was protected by countless primary battle robots, Yang Feng still didn't feel the least bit secure, as if he could only depend on his own power to withstand Israel.

The hundred level-8 shielded robots in front Yang Feng had already formed a defensive array. They lifted their shields and started their level-3 protective covers, superimposing them, to block in front of Yang Feng.

"Although I don't have a way of killing those one hundred thousand mechanical golems, but now that I want to kill you, there's no one in Turandot Subcontinent that can save you!!"

Israel uttered a proud beast-like growl and forcefully shattered layers upon layers of the level-3 protective covers with each slap, before crushing a level-8 shielded robots in front of him.

Within a few breaths, the level-8 shielded robots blocking in front of Israel were one by one sent flying. A huge hole was torn in the defensive array, exposing Yang Tie.

“Lowly ant, to actually dare play me for a fool, a honorable Great Warlock; for that, you’ll have to use your life to atone for your sin!” Israel’s eyes flashed with a touch of ruthlessness, he extended his claw towards Yang Feng’s head and as if pinching a bugs head, pinched fiercely.

Yang Feng’s eyes flashed with a touch of a peculiar glint, before revealing a trace of a smile: “To burst in so readily, I don’t know if you’re just a fool or think too highly of yourself!”

Israel saw Yang Feng revealing a trace of a smile and he suddenly had a feeling of extreme danger surging within.

In an instant, they eyes of 50,000 level-8 primary battle robots flickered red and they detonated the bombs within them.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

The terrifying shock wave from the fifty thousand level-8 primary battle robots exploding shrouded a surrounding area of several kilometers in radius. A huge mushroom shot into the sky, with countless spare parts and stones spattering everywhere.

Suddenly, a violent hurricane burst out from the mushroom cloud, blowing away countless ash and smoke.

With one of his arms blown, his face bruised and traces of scorched black all over his body. With a frantic expression, Israel came out from the explosion site; he felt fear and anger within: “That lunatic! To actually detonate so many mechanical golems! Such a madman! The value of this mechanical golem legion is much higher than a legendary secret treasure’s.”

After all, the destructive force from those fifty thousand level-8 primary battle robots detonating wasn’t gathered in a single point; therefore, merely heavily injuring Israel. If the destructive force from those fifty thousand level-8 primary battle robots detonating were to be gathered in a single point, then the explosion would tear Israel to shreds. Nonetheless, those fifty thousand level-8 primary battle robots detonating still cost Israel his right arm.

Israel had just left the smoke resulting from the explosion, when the eight meter tall Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear drilled out of the ground behind him, before fiercely swinging it’s paw at him.

With their power of earth manipulation, Mofen Demonic Polar Bears were terrifying extraordinary life forms on the same general level as dragons. It’s all-out strike once more injured heavily the originally heavily wounded Israel.

Israel was enraged. He spat out and a cluster of magic flames instantly pounced at the Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear.

The Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear flickered with an earth-yellow radiance. Instantly, a layer of thick rock armor appeared on it. Simultaneously, it once more swung its paw violently at Israel, sending him flying.

When Israel was sent flying, he suddenly felt pain from his back. Instantly, more than a dozen long blade cuts appeared on his back, with large amounts of blood spurting from them.

“Invisible freaks! Fuck!!”

Israel’s battle experience was very abundant. He slapped with the back of his paw towards an empty place, crushing more than a dozen Phantom Hunters.

The Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear once more approached, taking advantage of the split second when Israel was distracted, it slapped him, breaking the bones of his chest in several dozen places.

After he suffered heavy damage from the Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear’s strike, Israel spat a mouthful of blood, recovered his human form, turned into a cluster of flames and shot towards the sky, escaping northwards.

The reason why human Great Warlocks were terrifying was because it was very difficult to kill them as they had many means, with countless escaping spells among them.

A fierce gust of wind sprang up in the middle of the sky. The Mechanical Black Dragon, that had been hiding amidst the clouds, abruptly flew out from within the clouds. As swift as a clap of thunder, it dropped from the sky and pierced through Israel’s heart with its claw, before digging out his hellion core.

“Motherfucker!” Israel gave a cry full of indignation and grief.

The Mechanical Black Dragon slapped Israel with its claw, crushing his viscera and sending him flying towards the ground.

Chapter 135 – Profiteering

“At last he’s dead. Great Warlocks are really hard to deal with.” Yang Feng walked out from amidst that huge mechanical legion, looked at Israel’s corpse that was dragged until in front of him and heaved a long sigh of relief.

To the current Yang Feng, defeating a Great Warlock rank expert was easy, but to kill a Great Warlock was nevertheless very difficult.

Yang Feng had to first lure him in, then heavily injure Israel by detonating fifty thousand primary battle robots and then follow up with surprise attacks. That’s the reason why he could kill Israel.

In Turandot Subcontinent, seven human Great Warlocks were individually killed by either assassins or teams of three to four Great Warlocks. In a one on one confrontation, it was very difficult for a Great Warlock to kill another great Warlock. Only if a Great Warlock had a special secret treasure or had strength approaching a Starry Sky Warlock’s, only then would it be possible for him to kill another Great Warlock in a one on one confrontation.

Engineering robots arrived from afar and started gathering all the wreckage from the battle field.

Although fifty thousand primary battle robots had detonated, but as long as their wreckage was gathered and a bit of energy was consumed, then they could be manufactured anew.

In Steel City's sphere of influence, Yang Feng had already built quite a few large nuclear power plants. With their support, there was no shortage of energy until the Portable Fortified Stronghold was upgraded to a level-2 Portable Fortified Stronghold. It was only because of this that he would so decisively detonate fifty thousand primary battle robots.

"A cute and adorable loli. Snow White Madam, an expert famous for more than a century in Turandot Subcontinent. How come she's a loli? The World of Warlocks is really wonderful."

As soon as he entered the valley, Yang Feng saw Snow White Madam in the chunk of ice and his eyes lit up.

"Steel City's people? I'm Snow White Tower's Snow White Madam. I'm very grateful for saving me. After I recover, I'll compensate you accordingly." A cold voice came from within that chunk of ice.

Yang Feng said with a slight smile: "I'm a subordinate of Steel City's Sir Yang Feng, the fifth division's division commander, Yang Tong. Snow White Madam, I'm officially inviting you to join Steel City."

An angry voice arrived from the chunk of ice: "You want to profiteer?"

Yang Feng said with a slight smile: "It's up to you how you look at it. Steel City's alchemy is peerless under the heavens, but is still lacking in terms of high-end combat strength. Therefore, we need for you to join Steel City."

Snow White Madam said coldly: "Impossible! I'm the Master of Snow White Tower, I definitely won't join any other forces."

"I'm sorry to hear that. Now I'll have to apply some fairly crude methods!"

Yang Feng snapped his fingers. The Mechanical Black Dragon slapped its wings and dropped from the sky like a small mountain. It opened its mouth and instantly shot from its dragon breath gun, bombarding the chunk of ice protecting Snow White Madam.

Under the bombardment from the dragon breath gun, the thin layer of the chunk of ice covering Snow White Madam was weakened.

300 gunner robots quickly activated their external flamethrowers. They spurted long flame dragons, shrouding the chunk of ice covering Snow Ice Madam in flames and weakening it in the process.

That Mechanical Mofen Demonic Polar Bear gave a furious roar. It rushed inside the flames, brandished its huge bear paws and fiercely slapped at the chunk of ice covering Snow White Madam. With each slap, the huge chunk of ice would be sent flying. The huge chunk of ice covering Snow White Madam was continuously weakening.

Yang Feng smiled and tried to sway Snow White Madam's mind with his words: "Snow White Madam, you can still join Steel City. After all, we are a human force. As long as you join Steel City and are willing to serve Steel City, then You'll definitely receive the appropriate courtesy. If you continue to be so obstinate, then once you surrender and loose the initiative to join; at that time, you won't have as high of a status."

From the chunk of ice came an infuriated voice: "Scoundrel, you're just a vulture!

"Very well, then I'm a vulture."

"Your shameless!"

"If you say that I'm shameless, then I'm shameless!"

A round of expletives came from the chunk of ice with Snow White Madam within it. But she obviously had an excellent upbringing; and so, she would only use a few benign expletives repeatedly; like shameless, vulture, despicable and others. Yang Feng would also cheekily let her scolded him.

Snow White Madam scolded for a while, then went silent for a moment, before saying dispiritedly: "Stop your attacks! I agree to join Steel City."

The crystal clear chunk of ice barrier couldn't withstand the attacks of Yang Feng's mechanical legion. At most, the chunk of ice barrier would last for several hours before collapsing.

Yang Feng raised his hand and the attacks ceased.

Snow White Madam promptly dispersed the chunk of ice surrounding her and fell weakly to the ground. An aura of deathly stillness spread from her small abdomen and swiftly reached her pretty face, making her look extremely haggard.

The Legend rank dagger Kiss of the Damned had a very scary curse attached to it. Even a Great Warlock rank expert like Snow White Madam, once she got stabbed by it, she would have her life force slowly drained until finally dying.

Merely being stabbed by the Kiss of the Damned, a Great Warlock like Snow White Madam had her means of coping with it. But she was also heavily injured by Israel's sneak attack. And when she escaped until here, she no longer could suppress the Kiss of the Damned's powerful curse and could only choose to get herself icebound.

"Quite the strong curse. I'll come up with a method to help you get rid of it." Yang Feng's eyebrows crease slightly. He pressed the Dimensional Crest on his chest, retrieved a syringe with liquid nano-robots, pricked Snow White Madam's right hand with it and then injected the Liquid Nano-Robot Elixir into her.

As soon as those liquid nano-robots entered Snow White Madam's body, more than half of them were immediately destroyed by her strong vitality.

The true bodies of Great Warlock rank formidable beings had extremely terrifying immunity, their formidable life force being capable of destroying a lot of foreign bodies. A lot of toxins had no effect on Great Warlocks.

Yang Feng was slightly alarmed within: “Amazing! Great Warlock rank experts are really scary. It seems that its necessary to get more knowledge pertaining to Warlocks or manufacture a level-2 Portable Fortified Stronghold to upgrade the level of technology. Otherwise, the liquid nano-robots won’t be able to continue exercising their control over the stronger beings.”

Liquid nano-robots was a practically infallible method that Yang Feng used to control others. But now that he used it on Snow White Madam, more than half of the liquid nano-robots were destroyed, making him greatly alarmed and alert.

But Snow White Madam was seriously injured, with the decline of her physique being very eye-catching. Her life force was also greatly impaired and therefore didn’t kill all the liquid nano-robots that invaded her body.

The liquid nano-robots absorbed Snow White Madam’s strength and life force and swiftly matured, seemingly becoming a part of her while merging with every nook and cranny.

After seeing this, only then did Yang Feng heaved a slight sigh of relief and revealed a trace of a smile.

The data pertaining to the evolution of the liquid nano-robots was obtained first-hand by Yang Feng. With this first-hand data, 3796 could quickly develop a Liquid Nano-Robot Elixir capable of controlling Great Warlocks.

Chapter 136 – Snow White Madam Joins

Snow White Madam saw everything with some unwillingness, before saying coldly: “You don’t look like you’re in a hurry to help me heal.”

Although Snow White Madam didn’t knew what Yang Feng had injected her with, but after her immune system started killing large amounts of the liquid nano-robots, she realized that it definitely wasn’t anything good.

“Don’t worry, Steel City’s healing arts are also unparalleled under the heavens!” Yang Feng gave a confident smile, then grabbed the Legend rank dagger Kiss of the Damned and pulled it out from Snow White Madam’s abdomen.

In a split second, a terrifying curse power erupted, guiding Snow White Madam’s blood to madly surge towards the wound where she was stabbed by the Kiss of the Damned, about to burst out of her body.

Countless liquid nano-robots were quickly stirred towards Snow White Madam’s wound and swiftly formed new blood vessels, flesh and skin on her wound, and guided Snow White Madam’s blood to circulate in her body.

Countless liquid nano-robots jointly exerted their power, swiftly stimulating Snow White Madam’s hidden apertures, stirring her life force.

An extremely overbearing life force instantly erupted from Snow White Madam’s delicate body; countless black curse-smoke left through her eyes, ears, mouth and nose.

The countless black curse-smoke continuously gathered into all kinds of human faces and issued extremely mournful wails.

A full ten minutes later, Snow White Madam was limply lying on the ground, drenched in perspiration. She was panting heavily and traces of red welled up on her face.

Those liquid nano-robots stirred Snow White Madam's life force, instantly dispersing the curse in her body, but also injuring her vitality; she needed to rest for a while in order to recover.

After Snow White Madam dispelled the curse, her charming and supple temperament was shed. While emitting a noble and ripe temperament, she swept Yang Feng with a glance and said lightly: "What kind of elixir have you injected me with?"

Yang Feng said with a slight smile: "This elixir serves as a precaution against betrayal. If you wholeheartedly serve Steel City, then it'll be a panacea. But if you betray Steel City, then it will be the deadliest poison."

Snow White Madam mocked: "Forcibly injecting a young lady with poison, is this Steel City's modus operandi?"

Yang Feng said with a smile: "As an expert with the combat strength of Great Warlock rank; the current me still doesn't have the qualifications to let you slip through my fingers."

Snow White Madam continued calmly: "What do you want from me?"

Yang Feng said: "I want the secret method West Extreme Cold Ice Phoenix Art as well as all the spells and knowledge that you wield."

Snow White Madam didn't resist, wisely agreeing: "Very well!"

The corners of Yang Feng's mouth rose slightly, revealing a trace of smile.

Shi Xue was extremely talented. She had promoted to a level-1 Warlock faster than Yang Feng. She'd been stuck on the verge of promoting to a level-2 Warlock long ago. As long as she was given the complete version of West Extreme Cold Ice Phoenix Art, she then could swiftly break through and promote to a level-2 Warlock. Moreover, with her peerless talent and Yang Feng's tremendous resources, promoting to a Great Warlock would be merely a matter of time.

Inside a heavy-duty transport aircraft.

"It's really true that every Great Warlock is a moving treasure-trove."

Yang Feng scanned a space ring obtained from Israel's corpse and his eyes immediately flashed with a touch of delight. Israel's space ring was high-level goods, with a space of 30*50*50 cubic meters.

Inside that space, chests were neatly arranged, with 1,000 magic stones each. There was a chest with top grade magic stones, that couldn't be acquired on the market. One top grade magic stone was equivalent to 1,000,000 low grade magic stones; that is to say, that chest with 1,000 top grade magic stones was worth more than 1,000,000,000 low grade magic stones. Apart from the chest with top grade magic stones, there were still several hundred chests with high grade magic stones, 30 with mid grade magic stones and 200 with low grade magic stones.

Apart from magic stones, the space was filled with all kinds of rare and peculiar magical ore, extraordinary life form's skeletons, extraordinary plants and alchemical elixirs. There was a large number of documents; real estate deeds, ore vein mining contracts and other important documents among them.

In a corner of the space, there was a large pile of secret treasures. Among the various secret treasures, there was an exquisite necklace exuding traces of faint blue radiance carefully stored in a crystal box.

Yang Feng's mind moved; he retrieve the crystal box, opened it and took out the blue necklace. From his right hand, traces of scanning waves were released, swiftly scanning the blue necklace.

<Insufficient data, unable to carry out the analysis. According to the item's materials and its fluctuations of energy, it should be a level-4 secret treasure from this world."

"A Legend rank treasure, I've struck it big." Yang Feng's eyes lit up. He passed the necklace to Snow White Madam resting beside him and said: "Old freak, what is this?"

The ice-cold Snow White Madam, as if a kitten with its tail stepped on, widened her eyes and cried out: "What do you mean by old freak? I'm not old! I'm only 180 years old this year, I'm a young lady in her prime! Do you understand? I'm still a young lady in her prime!"

"180 years old is still not old? Women at this age would already be great great great grandmothers."

"Lack of culture is really scary! In this world, there are many extraordinary clans with by far longer innate lifespans than humans'. Like the pure-blooded Elf Clan, they have an average lifespan of 1,000 years. An 180 year-old elf is barely an adult and is merely equivalent to an 18 year-old human young lady. The Dragon Clan has lifespans of several thousand years, an 180 year-old dragon hasn't yet matured."

"I'm currently a Great Warlock and my lifespan is at 1,100 years; 180 years old is only equivalent to an 18 years old ordinary human young lady. Don't talk about things that you don't know; or else, just like a country bumpkin, you'll appear very uncivilized." Snow White Madam glared at Yang Feng with contempt.

"Oh, an eighteen year-old young lady, then I'll shall call you little Snow White."

"What do you mean by little Snow White? I have a name, it's Dephilia."

When chatting with Dephilia, Yang Feng discovered that this Snow White Tower's Master seemed to be somewhat simple-minded; she was easily led by him, unlike an experience old freak that lived for 180 years.

Yang Feng conjectured within: "She might have secluded herself for too long when practicing cultivation; ignorant to the ways of the world and to the fickle minds of people. Only like this, would a traitor be able to stab her."

In the World of Warlocks, outstanding strength didn't represent abundant experience nor craftiness. On the contrary, many powerful Warlocks were research crazed and simple-minded. Dephilia was hiding in Snow White Tower, wholeheartedly practicing cultivation. Even though she was called Snow White

Tower's Master and her status matchless, but she wasn't the one to manage the everyday affairs and naturally wasn't as crafty as Yang Feng.

Chapter 137 – Legend Rank Secret Treasure

Yang Feng handed Dephilia the blue necklace and asked: "Dephilia, what is this?"

Dephilia received the blue necklace, her beautiful eyes erupted with a trace of a dazzling light; she gently caressed the blue necklace and said: "It's the Legend rank secret treasure Heart of the Ocean. With it, the level-4 defensive spell Sky Flower Water Curtain can be triggered twice a day. It strengthens the power of below level-4 water-attributed spells by 100%, level-4 water-attributed spells by 50% and level-5 water-attributed spells by 20%. It can also nourish the wearer's physique and spirit force."

Yang Feng's eyes flashed with a touch of delight; he took the Heart of the Ocean: "Good stuff! It's just right for me!"

Dephilia mocked somewhat jealously: "It's a lady's necklace. A grown man like yourself wants to wear it, don't you feel ashamed?"

The Heart of the Ocean was clearly a lady's necklace and it would conflict with Israel's fire-attributed spell; it was because of this that he didn't wear this Legend rank necklace.

Dephilia was very fond of this exquisite and formidable Heart of the Ocean. But the Legend rank necklace secret treasures was extremely rare; in the entire Turandot Subcontinent, there were only four Legend rank necklaces currently known.

Yang Feng said with a slight smile: "It doesn't matter. I'm currently low in strength, the key point is my survival."

In the World of Warlocks, there were no limitations to survival. The Heart of the Ocean could trigger the level-4 defensive spell Sky Flower Water Curtain two times a day, it was equivalent to having two additional lives.

"Humph!"

Dephilia snorted somewhat unhappily and turned her face to the side, no longer paying Yang Feng any attention.

Yang Feng also began to reflect on the merits and demerits of today's battle: "With regards to Great Warlock rank experts, detonation tactics are still too lacking in terms of destructive power. The main reason being that I'm unable to gather the power of the explosions in a single point; the range is wide enough, but the power is too lacking. Next time, I should directly bury a small nuclear warhead within my avatar. Looking at the current data, a small nuclear warhead is enough to kill a Great Warlock rank expert. However, this tactic can't be casually exposed. Once used, then the enemy needs to be killed; otherwise, it'd lose its effect if exposed."

The reason why human Warlocks could coerce countless planes, defeat countless extraordinary life forms, gods, fiends, devils and other terrifying beings, was because they wielded countless spells; different circumstances required different spells to deal with the enemy.

Once Yang Feng's detonation tactic was seen through, then it would be very difficult for it to threaten Great Warlock rank experts. If Great Warlock rank experts were to thoroughly study Yang Feng's primary battle robots or his nuclear warheads, then they wouldn't wait for Yang Feng to approach them and then detonate the nuclear warhead inside him. That way, Yang Feng would have sent his troops to be destroyed by the other party in vain.

Because Israel didn't know about Yang Feng's two killer moves, namely the Mechanical Black Dragon and the Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear, he was caught off guard and was killed by Yang Feng.

If Israel were to be prepared in advance, then Yang Feng would at most only be able to defeat him.

Because Warlocks once dominated countless planes, they had a high degree of acceptance of all kinds of knowledge. As long as there were enough Warlocks in a research team, then they could decipher any knowledge and react accordingly.

The reason why Yang Feng previously hadn't exposed his two trump cards – namely the Mechanical Black Dragon and the Mechanical Demonic Polar Bear – when dealing with the snake hellion legion, was because he wanted to keep these trump cards for when he had to deal with Great Warlock rank experts. And it really was a KO move. The tactic of detonating a nuclear warhead, Yang Feng intended for it to act as a reserve trump card, only using it at the most critical moment.

Bailu City, the capital of Senarus Principality.

"Dame, there's trouble! Steel City's mechanized infantry division has chased us until here!"

Olerya had just woken up and arrived at the main hall of the hall, when Emma hurried towards her and reported the bad news.

Olerya's pretty complexion changed and she exclaimed: "Fuck, wasn't the mechanized infantry division already wiped out by Sir Israel?"

Emma said with a pained expression: "The one wiped out was Steel City's third mechanized infantry division. The one currently chasing after us is Steel City's fifth mechanized infantry division."

Within Hellion Clan, snake hellion legion was considered to be a very strong legion. But surprisingly, they were chased until their lair, leaving Emma very furious and helpless. However, when thinking about the terrifying battle prowess of the mechanized infantry division, Emma couldn't help but feel slightly fearful.

When Emma and Olerya led the snake hellion legion to flee, the two people relied on their terrifying military might to kill an unknown amount of mechanized infantry division's warriors. But all of those warriors were robots. No matter how many of them they killed, those robots would never feel fear and their moral would never decline. They would only attack, keep attacking and massacre their subordinates.

The snake hellion legion's warriors were also seasoned warriors, but against that fierce and unafraid of death mechanical legion, their tyrannical fire power and the nearly endless killing, they still felt fearful.

Olerya made a prompt decision: "Let's immediately withdraw our clansmen from Senarus Principality!"

“Older sister, you currently don’t have the authority to issue this order.” Following a seductive laughter, a beautiful woman – slightly resembling Olerya – arrived smilingly. The woman had a seductive waist, huge twin peaks, a blue ponytail and very alluring looks.

Oleria took a step forward, her eyes instantly became snake-like vertical slits, the terrifying life force of a pinnacle level-3 Warlock revolved around her, before saying in a cold voice: “Tetyana, you want to go against my orders?”

Tetyana retrieved a document with a smile, then threw it at Olerya: “This is an order from the council of elders! Due to your defeat, you’re no longer snake hellion legion’s legion commander. I’m the newly-appointed snake hellion legion’s legion commander.”

Olerya received the document and carefully looked at it, her beautiful eyes surging with a trace of bitterness. She was deprived of all authority. Now, the highest commander of Snake Hellion Clan that entered the surface world was her younger sister, Tetyana.

Olerya advised bitterly: “Tetyana, the warriors in Steel City’s mechanized infantry division are mechanical golems. Those mechanical golems can operate Steel City’s various alchemical military weapons. They’re definitely not easy to deal with.”

Tetyana’s complexion was frosty as she said coldly: “Olerya, I’m the snake hellion legion’s legion commander now, please call me Dame Legion Commander. You’re now my subordinate and must obey my orders. Follow me into battle, let’s destroy Steel City’s fifth mechanized infantry division. If you disobey my order, then I have no choice but to capture you, seal your power and send you back.”

Chapter 138 – Fierce Battle In Bailu City

Olerya went silent for a while, before sighing faintly: “Yes! Dame Legion Commander!”

Tetyana laughed unbridledly, expressing the resentment that she had been repressing for several hundred years: “Hahahaha! For four hundred years, dear sister! You’ve been always oppressing me. All the good stuff, all the glory, all of it was for you to take; simply because you were born an hour sooner. And me? I could only live in your shadow. And now, I’ve finally surpassed you. I’ll show you the gap between the both of us. I’m Snake Hellion Clan’s strongest genius, not you!”

Olerya’s eyebrows creased slightly and she said slowly: “I’m sorry.”

Tetyana snorted coldly, turned around and went outside: “I don’t need your ‘I’m sorry’ and you aren’t sorry! I’ll prove it to you all, that I, Tetyana, am Snake Hellion Clan’s strongest expert. Snake Hellion Clan’s future Matriarch shall be me!”

There was a commotion inside Bailu City.

Countless boa cavalries gushed madly out of Bailu City, swiftly forming a 30,000 strong Bagru Boa cavalries legion in an open field.

Countless large and small poisonous snakes also gushed out of Bailu City, forming a large snake ocean on a large tract of land.

Tetyana, Olerya and Emma, Snake Hellion Clan's three great level-3 Warlocks stood loftily on the level-3 extraordinary life form Komatu Silver-White Demonic Horned Boa.

Senarus Principality was a human nation conquered by Snake Hellion Clan; according to the Hellion Clan's practices, this principality belonged to Snake Hellion Clan's territory.

Within Hellion Clan, not unlike in the human society, there were always struggles and endless infighting. Although, under the orders from the Hellion Royal Clans, all the hellions united and killed their way out of the under world; but there were still distinctions, each with their own sphere of influence. Only the areas occupied by the Hellion Royal Clans would have a large gathering of Hellion Clan's experts.

"They're here! This group of ants made the both of you flee in a sorry plight? The both of you are really wastes."

Tetyana stood on the head of the Komatu Silver-White Demonic Horned Boa. Her eyes became a pair of vertical slits, she could easily see the fifth mechanized infantry division more than twenty kilometers away. She gave a cold smile and ridiculed.

Emma's eyes flashed with a touch of anger, about to refute her.

Olerya reached out and stopped her adjutant.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Tetyana had just finished speaking, when flames flashed and self-propelled artillery shells dropped on the neat and orderly snake hellion legion. Along with the uninterrupted sound of explosions, hundreds and thousands of snake hellion legion's warriors with outstanding battle prowess were blasted into tatters by that shellfire. Blood splattered everywhere.

When Tetyana saw the snake hellion legion's elite warriors being blasted into tatters by the shell fire and their blood spluttering everywhere, her eyes turned extremely bloodshot and she screamed in horror: "Fuck! They're more than twenty kilometers away! What is it? Could they be human Warlock's magical artilleries? But weren't they unusable in field warfare?"

More than twenty kilometers away; Tetyana finally realized that they had military weapons capable of long range attacks. Personally witnessing hundreds and thousands of Bagru Boa cavalries being killed made her so angry that she almost wanted to vomit blood.

With Olerya's ample battle experience, she immediately cried out loud: "Those are Steel City's weapons, we must go over and destroy them!"

The self-propelled artillery had a wide range and formidable firepower, but once one gets near them, then they were just lumps of scrap metal.

"I don't need you to tell me what to do! Follow me, lets destroy those lumps of scrap metal!!"

With bloodshot eyes, Tetyana screamed, magical radiance flickered all over her body and a pair of wings grew on her back. She flapped her wings, shooting towards the fifth mechanized infantry division with a terrifying speed.

Olery and Emma looked at each other, before shooting after Tetyana.

The fifth mechanized infantry division's level-5 humanoid robots took out their gauss rifles, before madly shooting towards the sky.

A variety of anti-aircraft cannons, surface-to-air missiles and other anti-aircraft arms were started, forming a thickly dotted firepower network madly shooting towards the sky.

Tetyana immediately started Demonic Snake Morph, changing into a half human half snake monster. Her body was shrouded in matchless life force. With ghost-like movements, she evaded the majority of gauss bullets; simultaneously, the rest of the gauss bullets were deviated by her life force.

The hands of Olerya and Emma continuously flickered with magical radiances, shooting black rays of light at the surface-to-air missiles, blowing them into fragments.

With a rumbling, Lightning Supersonic Fighters dropped from the sky; their cannons rumbled, madly shooting at Tetyana's group of three.

The Lightning Supersonic Fighters were the reason why Olerya and Emma had to flee in a sorry plight. If the extremely fast Lightning Supersonic Fighters weren't present, then they could leisurely tear apart the battle robots down below.

Under the pursuit of the 100 Lightning Supersonic Fighters, countless shells bombarded Olerya's group of three, unleashing ripples on their life force covers, bringing them to the brink of collapse.

"Toxic Mist!"

Tetyana's beautiful eyes flashed with a touch of a cold glint; she gave a piercing howl, opened her mouth and spurted green mist; with the rising of the wind, it turned into a huge green poisonous mist, shrouding the mechanized infantry division's primary battle robots down below.

Toxic Mist, this was the strongest level-3 area of effect poison-attributed spell that Tetyana practiced. Once tainted by a trace of the mist, then even Earth Knight rank experts would be poisoned to death.

But the fifth mechanized infantry division was solely composed of robots, the green mist shrouding them didn't seem to have the slightest effect.

"There's no effect? As expected. But my spell isn't that simple!"

Tetyana gave a cold smile, then faced upwards and issued a piercing howl.

When the boas beneath the Bagru Boa cavalries heard the piercing howl, they opened their bloody maws and shot clusters of black venom towards the sky.

Tetyana extended a finger; with her as the core, a powerful suction swiftly gathered the countless churning black venom.

"Corrosive Snake Venom Rain!"

Tetyana waved her fair hand; like raindrops, countless black venom dropped from the sky and sprinkled the ground.

Drops of the black venom landed on the fifth mechanized infantry division's primary battle robots that were already tainted with the toxic mist; the mechanized infantry division's primary battle robots had white smoke sprang out from all over, they strangely dissolved and turning into scrap metal.

Chapter 139 – Defeating Snake Hellion Clan

Once the level-3 spell Toxic Mist and the level-3 spell Corrosive Snake Venom Rain were combined, then they would form a terrifying large area of effect poison-attributed spell. Even level-2 Warlocks, once they were corroded by the Toxic Mist, and then sprinkled by the Corrosive Snake Venom Rain, only death would await them. In order to cast this combined spell, it was required to draw support from countless Bagru Boas. Solely one level-3 Warlock was unable of casting this terrifying spell.

Olerya's beautiful eyes flashed with a touch of a complicated look as she watched Tetyana in the sky, before sighing faintly: "She really managed to mold this spell!"

Emma's eyes flashed with a touch of delight, she revealed a trace of a smile: "This time, it should be our victory!"

Tetyana watched the large amounts of primary battle robots down below melting in the corrosive rain, the corners of her mouth rose slightly and she revealed a trace of a smile.

"That's an amazing large area of effect poison-attributed spell. No wonder the status of Warlocks is so high in this world! Mortals simply can't resist the power of Warlocks. Even an army of one million mortals, if it didn't had the aid of Warlocks, then this spell would kill everyone in its wake."

On the other side, Yang Feng saw the fifth mechanized infantry division's primary battle robots being melted in that corrosive rain and he shivered slightly within.

In Turandot Subcontinent, Warlocks dictated from high above and mortals were unable to contend with them. Trough this battle, Yang Feng had a more profound understanding.

Yang Feng ordered with a cold smile: "Execute plan B!"

The fifth mechanized division immediately began dispersing; simultaneous, all battle units equipped with level-1 protective covers at once started them.

On the battlefield, several thousand battle units started their level-1 defensive covers.

Under the protection of the level-1 protective covers, the battle units survived the large area of effect spell Corrosive Snake Venom Rain.

A defensive spell!!! How can it be? How can those mechanical golems have defensive spells?" Tetyana was stunned as soon as she saw those several thousand battle units erupting with protective covers.

In Turandot Subcontinent, mechanical golems rarely had defensive spells; they basically only used their strength to crush their enemies. Mechanical golems with the ability to trigger defensive spells, every one of them was exceedingly terrifying and formidable; they were terrifying weapons comparable to level-3 Warlocks, they were trump cards for many powerful forces.

Those ordinary humanoid mechanical golems were actually capable of triggering defensive spells, that undermined Tetyana's common sense.

Tetyana's superposed level-3 spell destroyed more than half of the fifth mechanized division's battle units. The remaining battle units either madly attacked Tetyana's group of three or madly assaulted the Bagru Boa cavalries.

A variety of artillery bombarded the Bagru Boa cavalries. Every moment, there would be hundreds and thousand of Bagru Boa cavalries being blasted into pieces.

The one hundred Lightning Supersonic Fighters were also madly attacking Tetyana's group of three.

Olerya sensed that the Bagru Boa cavalries' auras were continuously disappearing and cried out loud: "Tetyana, Lets withdraw!! If we don't withdraw, then our clansmen will die!!"

Bagru Boa cavalries were Snake Hellion Clan's elite warriors. If those Bagru Boa cavalries were to all die, then Snake Hellion Clan's strength would sufferer greatly.

"No! Heed my orders, go destroy those lumps of steel!"

With bloodshot eyes, Tetyana opened her mouth and spurted out a black poison arrow. Like a black light, the black poison arrow instantly stabbed into a Lightning Supersonic Fighter.

In a flash, that Lightning Supersonic Fighter was being corroded. There was noise for a while. With white smoke rising from it, the fighter fell to the ground, before exploding and turned into a fireball.

Tetyana and Olerya, the two women were terrifying beings of the pinnacle level-3 Warlock rank, they were proficient in many kinds of spells. Even if it were the Lightning Supersonic Fighters, they also had the ability to deal with them.

Previously, as she was chased by the mechanical legion, Olerya was in a predicament. She lacked any ability to resist, only because she had to protect Snake Hellion Clan's warriors and Emma.

Olerya clenched her teeth, then opened her mouth and spurted out a black poison arrow. The black poison arrow hit a Lightning Supersonic Fighter; the fighter was immediately corroded and then fell from the sky.

Emma's figure shook and she landed on the ground. Her fair hands danced around, smashing those primary battle robots.

Lightning Supersonic Fighters were falling down and exploding.

A large number of Bagru Boa cavalries were torn into shreds amidst the shellfire. In this mad battle, everyone was in a killing frenzy.

The Bagru Boa cavalries, with their bodies of flesh and blood, finally managed to force their way through the shellfire blockade, before rushing towards the scattered fifth mechanized infantry division's primary battle robots.

A Bagru Boa arrived next to a primary battle robot, then opened its bloody maw and crushed the fifth mechanized infantry division's gunner robot with a bite.

That Bagru Boa had just crushed a gunner robot with a bite, when another gunner robot frenziedly shot at it with its gauss rifle. The hail of countless bullets pierced through the Bagru Boa, with blood splashing everywhere.

That Bagru Boa struggled desperately, it shot its huge snake tail and rammed it against that gunner robot, smashing the gunner robot apart. After destroying 2 gunner robots, the Bagru Boa struggled for a while and then finally died.

After the Bagru Boas managed to approach the gunner robots, for every Bagru Boa killed, 7 or 8 gunner robots would be destroyed. The tides of this battle were gradually turning in Snake Hellion Clan's favor.

The fierce and brutal battle had lasted for two hours.

After Tetyana destroyed the last Lightning Supersonic Fighter – she had a pale expression, was gasping for air and clutching the wound on her abdomen – she laughed unbridledly: “Haha, I did it! I wiped out Steel City's fifth mechanized infantry division! Hahaha, Olerya, my dear sister, have you seen it? I wiped out Steel City's fifth mechanized infantry division, I won!! I'm much stronger than you are!!”

There was no joy on Olerya's pretty face. She spat out a mouthful of blood, looked down below and sighed faintly: “However, the price we paid was too grievous!”

From the 30,000 Bagru Boa cavalries, only 3,000 remained. Olerya's adjutant, Emma, ??was also critically wounded. From the 1,000 Omogudo Flying Snakes, only 135 remained. It could be said that Senarus Principality's Snake Hellion Clan had been crippled.

“Even so, it's still my victory! As long as I win, then I can get a steady flow of reinforcements!”

Tetyana gave a crazed smile. She watched the unbridled revelry down below as the snake hellion legion's remnants were victoriously crying out loud and cheering; her beautiful eyes were replete with elation. As long as she could establish herself in Senarus Principality, then Snake Hellion Clan would continue to send her reinforcements from the underworld.

All of a sudden, Tetyana's smile froze. She looked into the distance and her beautiful eyes revealed a trace of fear.

In the distance, smoke and dust billowed, and mechanical rumblings reverberated.

APCs, tanks, self-propelled artillery and other military weapons were approaching.

In the clouds, Lightning Supersonic Fighters were shuttling back and forth.

“I'm sixth mechanized infantry division's division commander, Yang Tong. Let's begin the second round!” Suddenly, a beast-type bladed robot jumped above a heavy tank, it used its mechanically synthesized voice to laugh heartily.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

The mechanically synthesized voice had just sounded, when nearly endless shellfire immediately covered the several thousand remnant Bagru Boa cavalries.

Amidst the terrifying shellfire, Bagru Boa cavalries were being blasted apart, with mournful cries sounding everywhere.

“Why is this happening?! Why?!” Tetyana’s face paled, she spat out a mouthful of blood and fainted. She gave her all and used every bit of strength of Senarus Principality’s Snake Hellion Clan to crush and annihilate that mechanical infantry division. But at the moment of victory, yet another mechanized infantry division appeared. Under the contrasting emotions of overwhelming jubilation and overwhelming sorrow, her mind was crushed.

“Withdraw!!” Olerya’s pretty face paled. She issued a piercing howl, picked up Tetyana and became a black light escaping into the distance.

Emma also dragged her heavily wounded body along, she glared hatefully at the sixth mechanized infantry division, before fleeing in disarray.

The remnants of the snake hellion legion retreated in fright. A large number of primary battle robots entered the battle field and started sweeping it clean.

Yang Feng looked at the land littered with wreckage, his eyes slightly constricting: “Those hellions can’t be underestimated; just the Snake Hellion Clan was this powerful. And it wasn’t even Snake Hellion Clan’s entire power. It would be troublesome if I were to be targeted by the strongest experts from the allied forces.”

The under world’s allied forces had many clans among them; of which, the strongest were Dark Elf Clan and Hellion Clan. Snake Hellion Clan was merely a branch of Hellion Clan’s forces. According to the information displayed by Black Dragon Empire, Snake Hellion Clan had at least one Great Warlocks overseeing it, they shouldn’t be underestimated.

Yang Feng calculated within: “Nowadays, in order to expand one’s power, one would have to offend others; unless the other is a sissy. But expanding and not attracting the attention of the allied forces, that would certainly be a bit difficult. After occupying Senarus Principality, it is necessary to stop the expansion and observe the situation for a while.”

With Yang Feng’s current strength, it was possible to recover the majority of Southern States Coalition’s principalities captured by the hellions. But that would be too conspicuous. Once the under world’s allied forces joined hands, then it would be possible for them to uproot his forces.

“Long live Sir Steel Lord!!”

“Long live Sir Yang Feng!!”

“Long live Sir Yang Tong!!”

As soon as Yang Feng’s mechanical legion entered Bailu City, as if awaiting their savior, everyone in Bailu City warmly received them. Countless people rushed to join the army, taking the initiative to capitulate and draw closer towards Yang Feng, letting him easily capture the hearts of the majority of Bailu City’s people.

Chapter 140 – Rose Garden’s Invitation

Hellions needed to consume human flesh and blood in order to keep their reason. After Snake Hellion Clan entered Bailu City, they wantonly captured humans to serve them as rations. Moreover, they demoted all the humans to slaves, wantonly promoting their humiliation. Bailu City was just like hell. When Yang Feng arrived, not unlike an advent of a savior, he easily captured everyone's hearts.

Yang Feng took the opportunity to dispatch the sixth mechanized infantry division to move forward, driving out all Snake Hellion Clan's hellions from Senarus Principality and subsequently gaining a firm control over Senarus Principality's area of 120,000 square kilometers.

After gaining control over the entire Senarus Principality, Yang Feng wasn't in a hurry to continue expanding. Instead, he dispatched large numbers of engineering robots to begin construction of defensive fortifications in Senarus Principality's major cities.

After Senarus Principality was recovered by Yang Feng, the whole Turandot Subcontinent was shocked. Countless gazes gathered on Steel City, with the peak forces also taking notice.

When Steel City defeated Fernandro Principality's main forces, Turandot Subcontinent's peak forces only regarded Steel City as a small player and didn't pay it any attention.

Now that even the snake hellion legion was defeated and Senarus Principality was captured, only now did Turandot Subcontinent's peak forces started to acknowledge Yang Feng's Steel City.

Countless scouts and spies with all kinds of identities, like moths to a flame, secretly entered Fernandro Principality and then Steel City's headquarters, Black City, to search for any information.

At the same time, as if encouraged by Yang Feng, tyrannical human Warlock forces sprang up abruptly one after another, revealed their long hidden trump cards and erupted with formidable battle prowess. The allied forces' blood flowed in rivers.

While consolidating his forces, Yang Feng sent a mechanized infantry division to attack the Obscure Mountain Range, easily gaining control over that tract of land.

Obscure Mountain Range was fairly barren. There were no magic stone veins there; therefore, no one paid it any attention and Yang Feng could easily gain control over it.

With the Obscure Mountain Range under his control, Yang Feng intended to go there and carefully explore the other side of the planar gate.

Planar exploration was what every Warlock after promoting to a Great Warlock would do. Exploring countless planes, gaining their knowledge and inheritances, conquering them and obtaining their resources. While continuously exploring and conquering, human Warlocks could be located at the summit of various planes.

Just then, Yang Feng received an invitation.

Yang Feng pinched the letter and carefully looked at it for a while, before asking with some curiosity: "Rose Garden is holding a genius convention for young Warlocks, with the reward for the top three being a chance to practice cultivation at the Rose Divine Pool. Dephilia, is there anything special about this Rose Divine Pool?"

Sitting on the sofa opposite to Yang Feng, Snow White Madam Dephilia glanced at him and said: “Rose Divine Pool is a level-6 secret treasure and one of Rose Garden’s foundations. On other planes, level-6 secret treasures are called divine armaments.”

“Every three years, the Rose Divine Pool gives birth to a pool with miraculous powers. When practicing cultivation in the Rose Divine Pool, a Warlock could be transformed as well as get their soul aptitude upgraded.”

“In Rose Garden, more than 95% of the Warlocks are females, they only recruit the most gifted females. One of the most crucial factors why they can become one of the six great forces of Turandot Subcontinent is their possession of the Rose Divine Pool and the subsequent steady fostering of geniuses.”

“At one point, I also entered the Rose Divine Pool to practice cultivation. Afterwards, my cultivation advanced by leaps and bounds. It’s also the reason why I entered the domain of Great Warlocks so quickly. If I hadn’t entered the Rose Divine Pool to practice cultivation, then right now, I’d still be a level-3 Warlock. Perhaps I would have to wait another century, before I could promote to a Great Warlock. Therefore, I still owe Rose Garden a great favor.”

“Yang Feng, if you want to tread further on the Warlock Path, then you can’t miss this chance. Warlock College Antalya, White Elephant Ivory, Eyes of Justice, Savage Claw and Black Dragon Tower, they all have similar treasures. But in terms of effect, Rose Divine Pool is the best when it comes to Warlocks below the Great Warlock rank. Additionally, the other five great Warlock forces don’t let their non-core members use such treasures.” Dephilia said lightly.

Yang Feng’s eyes flashed with a peculiar glow as he said faintly: “It seems like I need to go to Rose Garden.”

Yang Feng was very shocked when he discovered that Rose Garden actually had a divine armament. The so-called divine armaments were personally created by different plane’s gods. Countless power and precious materials were spent in order to forge those treasures with miraculous powers.

Among the different worlds, there were many kinds of beings known as gods. Even the weakest gods had strength by far surpassing that of Starry Sky Warlocks. Each divine armament created by those formidable gods had terrifying abilities. Additionally, not all gods had the ability to create divine armaments, with some weak gods being unable to create one.

Rose Garden even had a Divine-rank secret treasure, their depth could well be imagined. Yang Feng had some understanding of why Turandot Subcontinent’s human Warlock would hold the allied forces from the under world in such contempt.

Three days later, the news of Snow White Madam joining Steel City swiftly spread through Turandot Subcontinent.

This piece of news immediately shocked Turandot Subcontinent’s human forces.

Steel City defeating the snake hellion legion and recovering Senarus Principality, that only made the formidable forces acknowledge it. But now that Snow White Madam – this Great Warlock rank expert – had joined Steel City, that meant that Steel City had already risen to a first-rate force, second only to Turandot Subcontinent's six great Warlock groups.

Countless forces sent gifts to congratulate Snow White Madam joining Steel City. If it were not for the allied forces from the under world rampaging all over, then there would definitely be countless experts going over to congratulate.

St. Rose City was located in the Rose Mountain Range, it had a population of up to 1,000,000 people.

Rose Garden was located in the depths of the Rose Mountain Range. No outsiders were allowed to enter Rose Garden, only Apprentice Warlocks and Warlocks of Rose Garden could enter it. St. Rose City was a city built for Apprentice Warlocks and Warlocks of Rose Garden to enjoy secular pleasures.

Aristocratic youngsters who desired to visit Rose Garden, businessmen who hoped to do dealings with Rose Garden and people with all kinds of objectives, they all gathered in St. Rose City, turning this city exceedingly prosperous.

"The places where the peak Warlock groups dwell are indeed high-end!"

Yang Feng looked at the towering buildings within St. Rose City, the spacious streets and the magic chariots speeding along. It gave one the feeling of an even more technologically advanced world than Earth.

"Hi! Ladies, do you need a ride?"

An extremely eye-catching silver convertible magic chariot came rushing from the distance, before halting in front of Yang Feng and delegation. A woman frivolously revealed a charming smile towards the several young ladies beside Yang Feng. The woman had fair skin, a head full of long red hair, was brimming with charm and wearing sunglasses.

"I've heard that there were a lot of lesbians in Rose Garden, but I didn't expect to encounter such a situation." Yang Feng was somewhat speechless as he looked at the sensual red-haired beauty.

Among Turandot Subcontinent's six great Warlock groups, Rose Garden was the only Warlock group dominated by women. The successive generations of Rose Garden's Masters were all outstanding beauties. Simultaneous, the successive generations of Rose Empire's rulers were all Empresses.

The number of lesbians in Rose Garden was high because there were more females than males. According to legend, the successive generations of Rose Garden had the most powerful lesbians in Turandot Subcontinent.

Shi Xue swept the silver convertible magic chariot with a glance and said with a slight smile: "Ask my big brother. If he says that we do, then we do!"

"We have a vehicle!"

Yang Feng gave a slight smile, pressed the Dimensional Crest on his chest and a glistening gold-plated ten-seated convertible luxury chariot with countless gems embedded appeared on the road.

Yang Feng gave the red-haired beauty a somewhat provocative look, then snapped his fingers and the convertible luxury car embedded with gems automatically opened its door.

Shi Xue and the several ladies boarded the convertible luxury car.

The guards standing beside Yang Feng successively pressed the Dimensional Crests on their chests and silver chariots instantly appeared on the street. Very quickly a fleet of luxury cars appeared on the wide passage.

The red-haired beauty took off her sunglasses, revealing an irresistibly beautiful complexion. She asked: "Are those Steel City's chariots? They appear to be quite good! What is their power source? Yang Feng, is it Steel City's newly developed high energy crystal power source?"

Yang Feng's eyes flashed with a touch of vigilance as he asked: "Who are you?"

The red-haired beauty said with a slight smile: "My name is Angelina, the oldest daughter of Her Majesty, Rose Empire's Empress, and Rose Empire's first successor. May I have the privilege of becoming friends with you?"

Yang Feng said with a smile: "It would be my honor."

Angelina asked curiously: "What is the top speed of your chariot?"

Yang Feng said with some pride: "This is a lightning dragon chariot, it can reach a top speed of 600 km/h."

In Turandot Subcontinent, the top speeds of magic chariots ranged between 80 km/h to 150 km/h in general. Magic chariots manufactured by level-3 Alchemists could reach top speeds in the range of 300 km/h to 400 km/h. However, there was a relatively small number of level-3 Alchemists and there was only a handful of magic chariots refined by level-3 Warlocks.

As for Great Warlock rank Alchemists, they generally wouldn't bother refining such toys like magic chariots. This magic chariot with its top speed of 600 km/h was already the peak chariot in Turandot Subcontinent.

"600 km/h!" Angelina's beautiful eyes flashed with a touch of excitement and she said with a smile. "Yang Feng, do me a favor. I want to participate in a car race, please join me in this race."
