Chapter 1251

Ambrose slowly explained what had happened.

As it turned out, after he was driven out of the family, he wanted to take that woman away and cut all ties with these matters, but they were ambushed before they left the Northern Territory.

As a result, his wife was killed right in front of him. He was also brutally tortured and even got castrated.

Most importantly, Ambrose's daughter, who was still an infant at the time, had also gotten seriously injured.

Later, it was Shane who rushed over and rescued him.

In order to treat Ambrose and his daughter, Shane had to find a special cure that was only available in Orleans.

Hence, Shane took him into Orleans in search of this medicine, which was where they met Lord Voodoo.

Matthew glanced at Ambrose and said softly, "Uncle Ambrose, you don't have to be so polite to me. You're my father's brother, which makes you my uncle. Woodside is yours, and it will always be. I'm not looking to take it from you. I just hope that you can help me take revenge!"

Ambrose nodded immediately.

"Young Master, don't worry. Even without you, I will take revenge on this long-standing blood feud! Now that you're here, I'm even more confident!"

Matthew added, "One more thing, you must not reveal my identity to anyone!"

Ambrose replied, "Understood, Young Master. Since we don't know who the mastermind is yet, we can't disclose your identity."

Matthew nodded and immediately said, "Oh, that reminds me, I heard that there's some connection between Lord Voodoo and the destruction of the Larson Family. Is that true?"

Ambrose nodded.

They all had poison in their bodies. Moreover, Lord Voodoo happened to be there when the Larson Family tragedy happened. I suspect that it was Lord Voodoo who poisoned our family first, and nothing to worry about. I have to know what I'm doing at least,

Ambrose nodded.

His biggest suspect is Martin Newmont, the King of Rivenia! He is known as the sixth king of the world along with Shane. Rivenia is connected to many parts of the Northern Territory, and the two areas often have conflicting interests and tension between them. Martin often does things tyrannically, and he is always plotting something. He is the most likely

Chapter 1253

Ambrose explained, "Billy used to be a servant of the Nolan Family of Bainbridge, the top family in Cathay. Because of his gifted body, he got the opportunity to learn martial arts from the Martial Emperor, Percival Shawcross. Later, he fell in love with the young lady of the Nolan Family. However, in the eyes of the Nolan Family, Billy will always be a servant, and it was a huge shame for the young lady of the Nolan Family to fall in love with a servant. Therefore, they planned to kill Billy and separate the both of them"

Matthew sighed. He didn't expect that the First King of Eastcliff had gone through such a tragic past.

If Billy was still regarded as a servant even with his current power and achievements, Matthew couldn't help wondering how strong the Nolan Family was.

Ambrose continued, "The young lady was pregnant, and she eloped with Billy and tried to escape. The Nolan Family hunted them down several times, and even said that they would kill the young lady as well to save their reputation"

"During their escape, the young lady was injured. In order to save her, Billy went looking for Shane, but when he did, it was already too late. In the end, only the child was saved, and the young lady did not survive."

the young lady of the Nolan Family, Gabriel, who later became known as the King of Stagfort, arrived. Shane was angry about the Nolan Family's excessive methods, so he injured Gabriel heavily. Because of his sister's death, Gabriel said

Ambrose explained, "Your grandfather has a high status in Bainbridge at the moment. If you seek him for help, perhaps it will be easier to investigate the matter regarding the Larson Family"

After mulling over Ambrose's words for a long time, Matthew eventually shook his head.

"Forget it, don't tell him for now. When my mother escaped from the Northern Territory back then, she didn't look for my grandfather, but came to Eastcliff. She must've had a reason for that. She might've not wanted to bring harm to my grandfather"

Ambrose let out a sigh and nodded slowly.

After a while, Ambrose asked worriedly, "Young Master, c-can Crystal still be saved?"

Matthew's brows furrowed tightly.

"There is no cure for the Frost Charm. Ambrose panicked.

"Then...what will happen to her? Will she be frozen like this all her life?"

Matthew shook his head.

"The Frost Charm is an object of extreme coldness. I can try to find the opposite, an object of extreme heat, to neutralize the coldness, but doing this can only suppress the cold in her body and allow her to move. Still, when the heat and cold intermingle in her body, it will cause unbearable pain"

Chapter 1255

The next day, around nine o'clock in the morning, a group of people rushed to Woodside.

They were the group of herb growers Ambrose had mentioned.

Matthew went to see them immediately, because they had the Seven-Leafed Lotus with them, which was a kind of medicine of extreme heat that was crucial for Crystal at the moment.

Matthew planned to directly spend a huge amount of money to buy the Seven-Leafed Lotus from them, but he was rejected by these herb growers.

Their purpose was very clear. They planned to use the Seven-Leafed Lotus as a reward and find someone to do something for them.

Besides, the amount of money was not important to them.

In other words, Matthew had to compete with several other groups of people to get the Seven-Leafed Lotus.

Hence, he had no choice but to wait.

During the wait, Matthew looked for Ambrose to understand the situation better.

Noah's expression froze.

It was true that he couldn't do whatever he wanted in Woodside.

After a moment of silence, he gritted his teeth and said, "Chief Larson, you have to give us an explanation for this matter! You are insulting us by letting a pretty boy who depends on his wife to sit with us! Edmund, what do you think?"

Edmund nodded slowly, sending a hostile glance at Matthew.

Edmund was also an arrogant person.

Knowing that Matthew had no background or power, he didn't consider Matthew as his equal.

"This piece of trash is not qualified to sit here at all! Chief Larson, I hope you will drive him out! Otherwise, you are insulting the Ten Greatest Families of Stonedale!" Edmund said coldly.

Ambrose snapped and was about to lose his temper when a disdainful voice suddenly came from outside.

"Insult the Ten Greatest Families of Stonedale? If I humble you today, what can you do?"

Edmund was stupefied at once.

How could he expect the crown prince to have such a good rapport with Matthew? And besides, the crown prince was eccentric and volatile.

Over so many years, Edmund had never heard of him having a friend, let alone a close buddy. But now, he was treating Matthew as his sworn brother.

What's going on here? Edmund and Noah looked at each other in confusion, at a loss for what to do.

Having also heard of the crown prince's reputation, Noah dared not even fart in front of the man.

Ambrose, on the other hand, was awestruck.

Little did he expect Matthew to be on such friendly terms with the crown prince, who was known as the devil incarnate! Edmund looked embarrassed.

"Come on, quit kidding me, Prince. This brat is but a kept man who lives off women in Eastcliff. What right does he have to be friends with you? You must be joking, right?"

Edmund's already green face turned even greener as he turned to look at Matthew. It wasn't degrading to apologize to the crown prince.

After all, everyone in Stonedale knew that the crown prince was not to be messed with.

The problem was, if he were to apologize to Matthew, he would be too embarrassed to face anyone.

If word got out that he had apologized to a live-in son-in-law, how was he supposed to show his face in public in the future? Seeing that Edmund remained silent, the crown prince was peeved at once.

"Hey, f*cker! Didn't you hear me? Are you gonna apologize or die?"

Edmund's face crimsoned; he was really on the verge of a breakdown.

Just then, Matthew suddenly cut in, saying, "Prince, what happened between Edmund and me is just a little misunderstanding, actually. He didn't know me in person and was put up to this by Noah, so he wasn't to blame for this. How about you do me a favor and let this slide?"

The crown prince shot a glance at Matthew.

"Okay, since it's your own business, let's do as you say. Hey, Edmund, what are you waiting for? Now that you don't have to apologize anymore, hurry up and thank my buddy for that!"

The Hugheses changed color at once.

Did the crown prince just call Poison Spider to air his grievances right after killing the Hughes Family's heir? This makes it seem like he was bullied by the Hugheses! Meanwhile, Poison Spider comforted her son in a very simple way.

"Don't worry, my dear boy. I'm gonna call the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire and have them kick the Hugheses out of the Ten Greatest Families now. Just do whatever you want to do. You have me at your back!"

As the crown prince had put his phone on speaker, everyone heard very clearly what Poison Spider had said.

The crown prince then ended the phone call with a gloating expression.

"Tsk, ts. I wonder how the Hugheses' standing is among the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire. Guess whether you guys will be kicked out of the Ten Greatest Families?"

The Hugheses turned ashen at his words, especially the aged man who had spoken just now.

All of a sudden, he realized that he had screwed up big-time.

Soon afterward, they got a phone call.

Chapter 1260

After Ambrose had the Hugheses' dead bodies dragged away, everyone finally took their seats, and those from the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire elected a new representative.

After everyone seated themselves, Ambrose summoned the several herb growers over.

The herb growers were led by a stocky middle-aged man who wore a cheerful smile all the time.

"Hi, everyone. My surname's Peachy, but you guys can call me Silas" he said.

After exchanging a few words of greeting with everyone, he got straight to the point, saying, "Everyone, I know you guys are here for the Seven-Leafed Lotus. Since everyone's here, I have to let you guys see the real thing, or else someone's gonna think that we're trying to get something without paying anything."

Then, with a wave of his hand, someone next to him brought a wooden box over.

The wooden box was large, and it was wrapped in multiple layers of heat-insulation materials.

Even so, everyone could sense a wave of scorching heat radiating from it as they sat here.

Inside the wooden box was the Seven-Leafed Lotus, the hottest and heatiest thing on earth.

Matthew clenched his fists.
