

MGUM 1281

Chapter 1281

Matthew had a frigid expression on his face.

"Lord Voodoo, you caused the deaths of so many innocent people just to defeat me. Is this worth it?"

Lord Voodoo guffawed.

"As long as I can kill you, Matthew, killing even more people will be worth it! So, how is it? Did I take you seriously enough?"

Hunter, meanwhile, just stepped forward.

"Why waste your breath on him, Lord Voodoo? Just kill him and end it all!"

"Hold it!"

Matthew immediately called out.

"Don't say that I didn't warn you two! Those guys over there are part of the Nolan Family in Bainbridge! Those snakes that you brought in under your control killed so many members of their family; do you think that the Nolans will forgive you?"

Lord Voodoo froze for a moment before he burst into laughter.

"And what if they were part of the Nolans? As long as they all died here, who would ever know that I was the one behind their deaths? Hahaha..."

Hunter sneered as well.

"What? Planning to use the Nolans to scare us into staying our hand? In your dreams, Larson! Everyone here must die today!"

immediately leaped forward and launched his of snakes, it was like he was walking on dare to let his guard down. He immediately entered battle the other hand, gave a battle cry and directed the Nolans, he made
single one of them would leave got out about this, horde charged up the rocks seen on Quincy's face. He way he could fend

thought, he was soon bitten by knew that he was going to tossed her to the crown prince. He had no other choice was safe for landed on the
and looked over, Quincy was already being constricted by body quickly entirely, rooted to the spot in a daze. She completely forgot what she was about to control the them, for the crown prince had the giant crimson serpent's eyes in his hands, and this how he couldn't use the snake horde to do his bidding, Lord last, he gave a cold
before taking my time

Chapter 1282

Ambrose blocked Lord Voodoo's path.

With the pressure being taken off Matthew now, all four men began their battle.

Lord Voodoo gritted his teeth.

All of a sudden, he threw his head back and laughed.

"Hmph, so what if you're here now too, Ambrose? We simply got careless last time to be ambushed by you! Will you be as lucky this time?"

Ambrose gave a cold chuckle too.

"You really thought I came alone?"

There was a small shift in Lord Voodoo's expression.

"What do you mean?"

Right then, a flat sigh could be heard inside the cave.

"It wasn't easy searching for you, Lord Voodoo!"

At the voice, the crown prince got excited.

"Uncle?!"

direction of the voice, only to other than Phoenix! Lord Voodoo's eyes nearly bugged out of his head when he time, he had truly fallen into a deep trap! Matthew brought the crown prince into objectives; his true objective was to draw Lord Voodoo into from where he stood by the cave's entrance, forcing this man to me!" Phoenix said, clearly time either as he immediately charged at Ambrose here, Matthew had nothing to do now. He did battle was far no match he Phoenix, Lord Voodoo was not powerful enough to fight back against the most basic of techniques, but he was able to make did not let up one bit. It was only now that Matthew truly realized how strong the King of the South's was even greater than what he had seen of wasn't even thirty yet, while Gilbert was already had spent practicing the way of the his strength already surpassed Gilbert's when Lord Voodoo coughed up a though he had gone mad, he roared and look on his face

had Lord

Chapter 1283

After Lord Voodoo fled, the snake horde suddenly descended into a frenzy. Matthew grabbed one of the giant crimson serpent's eyes and forced the snake horde back. Only then did everyone breathe out in relief. However, they still felt fearful as they stared at the eerie white bones scattered everywhere. Rose knelt by Quincy's corpse.

Tears streamed down her face and mixed with her snot as she wept, but the others ignored her.

Being able to survive today was the best possible outcome for them.

The herb growers quickened and collected the remaining Seven-Leafed Lotuses.

Matthew, on the other hand, walked over to the giant crimson serpent. He flipped the serpent over and looked for a spot on its belly that was bereft of scales.

With his dagger, he sliced open the serpent with much difficulty through that spot. He then reached his hand in, wrapping his fingers around the crimson serpent's spine.

With a powerful grip, he broke the spine and pulled it out from the serpent's mass of flesh. The crown prince watched from the side. He realized that the spine was crimson as well.

It glistened like jade, and he could vaguely make out flames circulating throughout the spine.

What an amazing thing.

crown prince properties of the Seven- Leafed Lotus. The reason it grew a horn and grew those clawed appendages from its abdomen was all on the crown prince's telling me this thing is a medicine?"

sorts of things at all. If Matthew hadn't inherited the jade pendant, he too would not know about medicinal bones and such. He put the medicinal all been harvested, they beyond belief to see the cave, there were over a hundred people

it, there were

of their party had

and Stonedale suffered the heaviest at least had three from Eastshire walked out with

had also managed all over his face. If Matthew hadn't saved him, he did upon walking out of the that you saved me! I was ignorant before. Please forgive me if I have offended you! I will always remember that you saved my life. If you have any use of me in the kneeled for Matthew out of gratitude. He had been surrounded by the Matthew hadn't tossed him to the crown prince, he certainly would have lost his life there and joined the entourage, but say a

Chapter 1284

Matthew, on the other hand, thought that it was understandable.

Lord Voodoo himself wasn't very strong. He only ran amok because he had the Immortal Charm in his possession.

Matthew smiled.

"It's fine. He may have escaped with his life, but he better not think that he will have an easy life after this! Don't forget that he had killed many people from Bainbridge with the snake horde under his control. That girl was supposed to marry into the Nolan Family in the future. That means that he has gotten on the Nolans' bad side. How will the Nolans ever show him mercy?"

Upon hearing that, Phoenix grinned.

"True. I figure that he won't have the time to stir up trouble for you later" Matthew smiled mildly.

Once everyone had packed up, they made their way out of the mountain forest.

When they reached the herb growers' village, Matthew divided up the Seven-Leafed Lotuses.

Although they had agreed on splitting the harvest in half, the herb growers had lied. So, Matthew didn't bother with playing nice either. He took half of the harvest for himself.

After all, Matthew was the sole reason why everyone was able to come back alive.

his

did as well, and the people from Eastshire and Stonedale took their share growers had for themselves were

they didn't dare to speak

here were people

they had bade farewell to Phoenix and the others, Matthew and Ambrose immediately headed

still in

only pretended to send

did upon returning to Woodside was to dissolve the medicinal bone

days, he injected the dissolved bone bit

course, that wasn't enough to suppress the effects slowly absorbing the medicinal bone, and she would be able to slowly get
she would be able to completely escape the set of internal energy cultivation techniques to Crystal so that Matthew looked for Ambrose. He gave him a prescription and asked Ambrose the Nine-Leafed Lotus to refine a pill in order to
was a pill called the Godly Emergence Pill. It was open their meridians, strengthen their inner energy, and in turn raise their far from sufficient. He had to make himself more extremely rare, but it wasn't a

Chapter 1284

Matthew, on the other hand, thought that it was understandable.

Lord Voodoo himself wasn't very strong. He only ran amok because he had the Immortal Charm in his possession.

Matthew smiled.

"It's fine. He may have escaped with his life, but he better not think that he will have an easy life after this! Don't forget that he had killed many people from Bainbridge with the snake horde under his control. That girl was supposed to marry into the Nolan Family in the future. That means that he has gotten on the Nolans' bad side. How will the Nolans ever show him mercy?"

Upon hearing that, Phoenix grinned.

"True. I figure that he won't have the time to stir up trouble for you later" Matthew smiled mildly.

Once everyone had packed up, they made their way out of the mountain forest.

When they reached the herb growers' village, Matthew divided up the Seven-Leafed Lotuses.

Although they had agreed on splitting the harvest in half, the herb growers had lied. So, Matthew didn't bother with playing nice either. He took half of the harvest for himself.

After all, Matthew was the sole reason why everyone was able to come back alive.

his

did as well, and the people from Eastshire and Stonedale took their share

growers had for themselves were

they didn't dare to speak

here were people

they had bade farewell to Phoenix and the others, Matthew and Ambrose immediately headed

still in

only pretended to send

did upon returning to Woodside was to dissolve the medicinal bone

days, he injected the dissolved bone bit

course, that wasn't enough to suppress the effects

slowly absorbing the medicinal bone, and she would be able to slowly get

she would be able to completely escape the

set of internal energy cultivation techniques to Crystal so that

Matthew looked for Ambrose. He gave him a prescription and asked Ambrose

the Nine-Leafed Lotus to refine a pill in order to

was a pill called the Godly Emergence Pill. It was

open their meridians, strengthen their inner energy, and in turn raise their

far from sufficient. He had to make himself more

extremely rare, but it wasn't a

Chapter 1285

The next day, Matthew left Woodside.

Ambrose wanted to leave with him, but Matthew stopped him. Many people knew who Ambrose was. If he went with Matthew, then he would certainly expose Matthew's identity.

All those enemies hiding in the shadows would certainly make their move then.

Matthew's current strength was still far from enough. He had to increase his power to a certain level before he could think of getting revenge for his family.

And besides, Woodside was still important.

Many of the herbs that Matthew needed could only be purchased here.

To top it off, he could also gather plenty of news and information in Woodside. He made Ambrose stay in Woodside so that Ambrose could be a helper for him, and also because he wanted Ambrose to help collect rare herbs and intel for him.

Before Matthew left Woodside, he gave Ambrose three Godly Emergence Pills.

Although Ambrose was not weak by any means, he was getting on in his age. It wouldn't be as easy to improve his strength.

Those three pills would allow him to take his power to the next level.

Ambrose was startled when he saw the Godly Emergence Pills.

first mention

lack of ingredients, he was never able to make laid eyes on those pills until now, he knew that the during his pill-making endeavor. He kept nine for himself and gave three of

was given to process for the dissolved medicinal bone injected into Crystal's body and slowly arrived at the

also explained the current already been completely taken over by Tiger and the others, and all the six families' remaining supporters had been chased that the Eastcliff of today had completely shaken itself free of the influence families were in control of everything now. And the mastermind behind these ten families was none other than Matthew! In other words, Matthew basically of Eastcliff! Tiger had been rolling in cash recently. He was so excited and emotional by this that he practically beamed. He had only been following Matthew for a short time, but his assets had than it ever used to be! Matthew had a bland look on his face as he listened the beginning of everything! He casually looked after, he

"Something's not right!"

Tiger was surprised.

"What is it?"

Chapter 1286

Thanks to Matthew's fast reaction, the trio had not perished.

Even Tiger was stunned by the sudden turn of events.

After that, several more cars appeared from the back, intending to ram into the trio.

Before the worst could happen, Matthew grabbed Crystal and Tiger with both arms and swiftly jumped over the guardrail.

Currently, they were standing on the overpass.

Matthew placed Tiger on the pier.

"Climb down by yourself!"

Then, he carried Crystal and grabbed the pier before propelling himself down.

Below the overpass was another highway.

Strangely, the highway was free of vehicles.

That was because dozens of cars had blocked off both ends.

cars rushed out and tried instantly lost the courage to climb down when he

Matthew picked up Crystal into cars would be unable to didn't end just

in the undeveloped area, row stood Robert Sandel, Johnny Leigh, and laughed madly with

"Matthew, we meet again!"

other five families were filled with resentment them, Matthew

How dare you ambush me in Eastcliff?

about Billy Newman! Sure, I was careful around him previously because I wanted to return here. But now, I can never come back to Eastcliff, so I have nothing to lose! I will kill you. Right here, right now. After that, we will take all the cash and that, Matthew

was evident that the six defeated, they had lost all hope of

they were seeking revenge and decided to scanned around and spied close to be able to escape from here, but he

Chapter 1287

Though the situation had gone awry, there was not the slightest panic on Matthew's face. He flashed an indifferent smile and started whistling faintly.

Just then, as though zapped by something, Robert and the other family heads felt pain in their chest.

All six of them instinctively clenched their chest.

Their faces were distorted from the pain as Matthew gave another whistle.

Robert's face went pale from the pain.

"Larson...what have you done to us?"

Smiling, Matthew answered, "It seems I've forgotten to inform you all that I've already inflicted you all with a slow-acting poison the last time we were in Lakeside Garden. I would have spared you all as long as you stayed your hand. Yet, all of you have come after me time after time, leaving me no other choice but to settle this once and for all!"

Listening to Matthew, Robert and the others lost the colors in their faces.

Johnny raged in anger.

"Matthew Larson, you...are despicable."

chilling

ones with

was unable

chest gradually became so severe that even Robert

one of the

I...I was wrong. Please spare me; I won't stand in your way ever again! From this moment on, I...I will leave Eastshire—no—I shall leave Cathay and will never appear before you ever again...I plead with you suit and begged for their lives

Matthew shook his head.

too late for forgiveness at begging Matthew, were on the

yet Matthew paid no

three of you doing? Do you think that this monster would let us go after all we've done? Larson! If we are of their people started to you are! Even if you kill me, do you think any of you will be able to outrun the people of Eastcliff? A word of advice: run, as fast of no concern to you are already knocking on death's door; do you think it's still worth it for any of you to give your lives caused the surrounding people to look at each other and made them

Robert comprehended what was happening, he couldn't help but one made

Chapter 1288

Matthew's expression changed in an instant. He grabbed Robert's neck and roared, "What did you do to my wife and sister? What the hell did you do?"

Robert guffawed.

"Do you want to know? Go back and see for yourself! Oh, by the way, they are probably no longer in Eastcliff now. Hahaha, Matthew, aren't those two the most important women in your life? Why don't you guess what will happen to them?"

Matthew's face fell. He grabbed Robert by his neck and threw him aside.

"Tiger, get someone to send Miss Harrison back. Also, capture all of these people. Don't let them get away! I'm heading back to the city first!"

Matthew yelled, ran to the highway, and directly stopped a speeding car.

The driver stuck his head out and asked, "What are you doing? Trying to get yourself killed?"

Without saying a word, Matthew grabbed him by the neck and pulled him out.

Then, he got into the car and sped toward the city.

was his first time seeing someone stealing a

to make a call,

your car! Is one million

"Bro, are you scamming me? That car was less than 100 thousand when I bought nonsense. I'll give you one million. Stop wasting my he huffily ran away to now, the men he had brought flipped over, they

dead family head, and headed straight in the car, Matthew took out his cell phone and even after a few tries, his call didn't once, he had his any more time, he contacted Helen. She didn't know what was going on and told Matthew that Sasha had taken Natalie to that, Matthew couldn't help being even not in Lakeside Garden, things would be even more dangerous! At Everfair Park in Eastcliff, several men in a van were staring at Sasha and handle it neatly without letting anyone suspect us. There

Chapter 1289

Monkey threw himself to the ground and hugged the bag. He opened the bag carefully, only to see a broken vase inside. He immediately began wailing on the spot.

"Oh no, my family heirloom! H-How can you be so careless? Do you walk with your eyes closed?"

Sasha and Natalie were both stunned.

They didn't expect this to happen.

Immediately, they were surrounded by several people who scolded them for walking carelessly.

Sasha hurriedly walked over and apologized profusely, "I'm so sorry. We didn't see you just now. I'm really sorry. How about this, tell me how much this costs and we'll pay you back."

Monkey glared at her.

"Pay me? Can you afford it? Let me tell you, my bag contains my family's hereditary porcelain that's worth more than three million! How are you going to pay me back?"

Sasha was stunned.

did she casually smash an antique worth more than just now...you were the one who bumped into would walk carelessly while holding an antique surrounding crowd

course he would be walking carefully if he were a blatant liar. She's probably these

you're going and still not admit it when their wrongs now, what will be of them

him with my own eyes. Are full of shattered, so the responsibility had to never encountered this kind of

out loudly, "We really

old lady glared at you lie again, I'll smack you! You have no upbringing at all. Is that how you talk to your elders? My child is younger than you, but he never dared to talk to his elders like this! Let me tell you, that's because he was brought up well. A family's upbringing is best

Chapter 1290

Monkey immediately shook his head.

"That won't do! This vase is worth three million! If you run away, who will I go to? The two of you can go to the police station with me, or you can just pay me back right now. Decide for yourself!"

Everyone around them began chattering again.

"If you want to go home now, it's clear that you feel guilty!"

"Isn't it obvious that you did something wrong if you don't dare to go to the police station?"

"Stop them! Don't let these two liars run away!"

Everyone clamored around and even surrounded them, staring at Sasha and Natalie.

Sasha said anxiously, "Who said I was going to run away? My sister is still young, so I wanted to send her back first. I can't even do that?"

Just then, one of Monkey's accomplices came over and said, "Oh, what's the big deal? Why don't we do it this way—I'll drive you to the police station and be a witness for you. How's that?"

applauding with a look of justice on their faces, as if old lady from earlier stared straight you going or not? Why are you so hesitant to go to the police station? What's the matter?

eyes were full her cell phone, but wasn't able to make a single call. She was really angry as well, and immediately said furiously, "Why would got into got into the car after them while waving to everyone! You're all very pride, as if they

in the van, the crowd were still talking about what of the car. He was just about to look for Sasha and Natalie when he suddenly heard everyone's discussion, and his expression immediately fell. He grabbed a man next to him, shouting, "What man glanced at

do you want? What does it have to do neck and

up and

confused, and quickly

like he was

same time, many