

Chapter 2351 The Order From Bainbridge

After a while, Matthew panted heavily and was already covered in sweat.

Although he only suffered minor injuries, they were still draining his physical strength.

"Mr. Larson, give up already. If you continue like this, you will only exhaust yourself. We have no intention of hurting you!" Kenzy warned him.

Matthew didn't reply. He just looked determined as he swung his weapon, the Bloodreaper.

At this point, he was well aware that he was gradually losing his strength, but he couldn't give up.

He wouldn't let the Nolans get hold of Stanley and Tiger because Billy would never abandon them.

Matthew was merely buying time. He was waiting for Billy to appear.

"Come on. As long as I don't fall, you won't be able to take them away."

Following a loud roar, he clenched his fists and prepared for battle.

The experts surrounding Matthew turned their attention to Kenzy, asking for his opinion.

At this point, Kenzy understood Matthew's determination.

"Let's grant his loyalty some respect."

Following an order, everyone attacked.

The attacks coming from all directions overwhelmed Matthew for a moment.

Wave after wave of punches and strikes landed on him continuously.

Although they were all controlled, the continuous accumulation made it impossible for Matthew to defend himself.

Of course, it also caused him great pain.

Just then, a phone rang and completely disrupted the fight.

Seeing the caller ID, Kenzy frowned, sensing that something was wrong.

Sure enough, when he answered the call, an indifferent voice came from the other end of the line.

"Come back!"

The two simple words carried a dominant tone.

After a momentary hesitation, Kenzy tried to remind the caller.

"Ms. Gianna, what about the family—"

Before he could end his sentence, the call was already hung up as the other party didn't even give him the chance to finish.

Staring at the phone for a long time and being in a dilemma for some time, Kenzy made up his mind.

"Stop!"

As soon as he spoke, the group of experts attacking Matthew immediately stopped.

Then, they silently retreated behind Kenzy

"Mr. Larson, you are truly skilled, but you hide your true strength under a false appearance. I hope to cross paths with you again in the future."

After he said that, every one of them vanished into thin air.

Stanley Carlson had to obey Gianna's orders.

After the other party had left for a long time, Matthew finally breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, Brittany managed to contact Gianna in time.

Luckily, Gianna was also someone who valued principles.

Otherwise, today's matter would not have been resolved so easily.

Dragging his exhausted body, Matthew returned to the villa.

The next day, after dealing with his external injuries, Matthew prepared to return to Bainbridge.

"The Nolan Family shouldn't be bothering you for a while. Here's the prescription. Apply it twice a day, and you should recover in about two weeks."

He handed the prescription to Stanley and Tiger.

As soon as Tiger heard that Matthew was in a hurry to go to Bainbridge, he became anxious.

"Mr. Larson, are you in such a hurry? You finally came back, but we haven't repaid you for saving our lives."

If Matthew hadn't coincidentally returned to Eastshire, the two brothers would have been in trouble.

"We're friends, so you don't have to repay me. I'm just glad that both of you are fine."

"Then at least let us treat you to a meal as a token of gratitude. We haven't even thrown a welcoming banquet for you yet."

If it were any other time, Matthew would have agreed.

After all, they hadn't had a meal together for a long time.

But now, he not only had to inform Levi about the Sandels' matter, he also had to look for Billy.

Matthew couldn't let go of his worries until he saw him.

"I'll treat you guys to a meal the next time I come back."

After declining their offer, Matthew set off for Bainbridge once again.
