

Chapter 2425 Burning Anger

Back at the stronghold arranged by the Damron Family.

The enraged Great Octavian turned around and kicked Orlaith directly, throwing her in the air.

"Who gave you the authority to make decisions on your own?"

Upon landing, Orlaith clutched her chest and wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth.

"Mr. Kaur, I apologize for my mistake."

The Great Octavian snorted coldly, then turned away.

"We have our ways to deal with Matthew. We don't need a junior like you to intervene."

"In consideration of the Baeddán Family's reputation, I won't hold you accountable, but be prepared."

"The Pascal Family has already lost their strongest genius, and now their two elite disciples are crippled because of your mistake. You'd better pray that the Baeddán Family can protect you."

After speaking, he left directly, leaving Orlaith, who was kneeling on the ground, bewildered.

Regret?

Of course, she was filled with regret.

Originally, she had thought that the experts from Orleans had invited Matthew merely to leverage his connection as the Holy Doctor for their herbal trade with the outside world.

However, she never expected that the Charm Master and Matthew would be so close.

If she had known about their relationship, she wouldn't have dared to provoke Matthew in front of the Charm Master.

Of course, what she regretted the most was inviting the two lunatics from the Pascal Family to join her.

If it weren't for them, things wouldn't have escalated to this point.

Now, not only was Matthew unharmed, but the two lunatics were completely crippled.

Most importantly, this matter was far from over.

The Pascal Family behind them, the Baeddán Family behind her, and the King of Rivenia. None of them would let her off easily.

Thinking of this, Orlaith felt a splitting headache.

If she can't handle this well, she would die a tragic death.

"D*mn you, Matthew. I, Orlaith, won't spare you even if I become a ghost."

Before coming to Bainbridge, she was full of confidence and admired by many people.

As the talented woman of the Baeddán Family, she had suitors flocking to her.

She even commanded over ten thousand people from the Thunder Clan, but now?

She was just a dispensable pawn, and all of this was thanks to that boy named Matthew.

When the detestable face appeared in her mind again, Orlaith gritted her teeth so hard they creaked.

On the other side, after the Great Octavian returned to his room, he went straight to the table and sat down.

Tilting his head back, he finished the tea in his cup, then squeezed it, and the expensive porcelain teacup shattered into pieces.

"They're all a bunch of idiots."

After the trip to Highsea, the Baeddán Family's representative's position as the executor was revoked.

The Octavian Sect behind him had put in a lot of effort to put him, the Great Octavian, in the position of the executor.

Their goal was to gain fame and fortune from it.

But now, before the mission was accomplished, he had made a serious mistake.

Regardless of whether this matter succeeded or not, he, as the executor, would not be able to escape the pursuit of the Baeddán Family, the Pascal Family, the Sky Palace, and the Golden Sword Sect.

All of this happened because of the reckless decisions of his teammates.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he became, and he couldn't help but slam the table.

At this moment, a woman dressed in a light veil, with a curvaceous figure, strolled out.

With her gentle steps, the full twin peaks, and the well-proportioned hips were faintly visible beneath the thin veil.

"Darling, what's wrong with you?"

"Who made you so angry?"

After speaking, she leaned her entire body against the Great Octavian's back.

"You scared me, you know."

"Don't you believe me? Just touch my heart, it's been jumping like crazy ever since you scared me."

As she spoke, she gently blew a warm breath of hot air into the Great Octavian's ear.

He was already filled with a burning rage.

Now being teased like this, he couldn't hold back anymore.

Suddenly, he stood up and pressed the woman against the table.

In an instant, the sound of ecstasy filled the room.
