

Chapter 2434 Neil Sky Takes the Stage

Mylo lamented that if the plan were executed as intended, it would have been flawless.

As long as those who took the tonic were sent to the stage as cannon fodder one by one, the geniuses of Cathay would be eliminated.

The grand plan would be a success in a sense.

Even if they couldn't defeat their opponents, they could still surrender as long as the existence of the tonic was not exposed, leaving the Martial League unable to find any evidence.

There was nothing they could do about it. They could only accept this loss.

However, the newly developed "miracle tonic" still had its instability.

The expected side effects that should have occurred after an hour unexpectedly happened more than ten minutes earlier.

It seemed that the previous plan had to be overturned and rearranged.

On the other side, in the elder's viewing area.

Even though Rhett had severely injured the opponent's elder with one strike, he still felt a raging anger in his heart at this moment.

From the moment the young Emsgate warrior went mad, Rhett had sensed that something was amiss.

However, he couldn't directly take action to capture the person in front of so many people.

This allowed Jorge to destroy the evidence. Afterward, he lowered his posture to stop any accusations from the Martial League.

His strategy of advancing by retreat was simply to avoid punishment for interfering with the rules of the Martial League.

However, for a life taken, a life must be given in return, and the cause and effect had already been settled.

If Rhett wanted to hold Emsgate accountable, he would need evidence.

He could only do as much as severely injure the opponent.

The competition was not over yet, and the fight was still ongoing.

After the arena was cleared, Xenia strolled to the center of the stage.

"Don't waste any more time. Just send out your strongest fighters. Your strength may not be great, but you excel in unorthodox methods."

Although Xenia was not clear about the conspiracies and tricks used by Emsgate in secret, she sensed that something was amiss.

After hearing her mocking words, Mylo gritted his teeth and fell into hesitation for a moment.

Now that it had come to this, their side had very few skilled fighters left.

Although Emsgate had won several matches and eliminated many geniuses of Cathay with the help of the tonic, in the end, they would lose due to the difference in numbers.

According to the pre-match investigation, the opponent's top genius, Albus Nolan, was the only one who had appeared.

The remaining few were still in the observation stage, waiting for their skilled fighters to take the stage.

Upon thinking of this, Mylo looked back at the few remaining trump cards behind him and felt powerless.

A soldier against a soldier and a general against a general.

To win Cathay's Endless Sea, they must implement comprehensive suppression.

Otherwise, the number of victories would definitely be insufficient, and the sea route was of utmost importance.

After pondering for a while, Mylo finally set his gaze on the Sky Palace.

"Miss Sky, this person is also skilled in hidden weapons, like you. I'll have to rely on you for this battle."

After he finished speaking, Neil furrowed her brows tightly. Her original intention was actually to wait for Matthew to take the stage and openly defeat him.

Now, she was reluctant to deal with others.

Upon seeing her hesitation, the elder of the Sky Palace stepped forward and comforted her in a soft voice.

"Miss Sky, you have to see the big picture. There will be plenty of opportunities to deal with Matthew later. Moreover, the other skilled fighters who came to support us from the Land of Divinity are already on their way. When they arrive, we will have plenty of chances."

After listening to the elder's comforting words, Neil finally relaxed her brows slightly.

"I really can't accept it if I can't personally defeat Matthew."

As she spoke, she reluctantly walked onto the stage.

At this moment, the two women facing each other already had deep grievances in their hearts.

When the battle signal sounded, both sides wasted no time and immediately started fighting.
