

Chapter 2459 Soul Chain Strangling Technique

After two resounding crashes, the bloody scene didn't happen as expected. Instead, the sickles were pushed away by an external force when they were less than half a foot away from Doe.

"Golden Bell Shield!" exclaimed Matthew involuntarily upon seeing the ancient bell formed by the faint golden light around Doe's body. This was his first time witnessing the defensive technique of the Fo Sect's 72 Ultimate Techniques. Now, it seemed that this technique's defensive ability was indeed formidable. It should be noted that the two sickles that had been knocked away were now fully embedded within the diamond rock!

However, the battle did not stop at this moment.

Seeing his weapon being knocked away, Zech also showed surprise. However, this was not the time to be distracted. As the distance between both sides continued to close, he tapped the ground with his toes. In an instant, he soared into the air like a flying dragon. This was his secret technique—the Soul Chain Strangling Technique!

With a silver flicker in his eyes, the iron chain that was previously entwined around him moved swiftly like a long snake. In the blink of an eye, it formed the shape of a spiral vortex, enveloping Doe within it. As he yanked it with both hands, the green glow on the sickles instantly permeated the whole iron chain.

Before Doe could react, the iron chain instantly contracted.

As for the golden bell shield that emitted a faint golden light, it shattered upon contact with the green glow.

Without any pause, the iron chain bound Doe at once. No matter how hard Doe struggled at this moment, the sturdy iron chain wouldn't budge an inch. Furthermore, as a result of corrosion by the green glow, black flames began to rise from his clothes. When the iron chain came into contact with his skin, it produced an intense burning sensation, coupled with the corrosion of his flesh and blood.

Doe couldn't help but let out a roar of pain.

Seeing this scene, the elder of the Anbe Family instantly burst into triumphant laughter. "Haha! It seems that we've got this match in the bag. Among our peers, no one can escape Zech's Soul Chain Strangling Technique. Even the elders of our family have a hard time dealing with this technique."

Following his boastful words, people from other forces also came forward to congratulate him. "Congratulations, Elder Anbe. Now that Mr. Zech is going to win this match, not only will he win back our country's ten islands, but he'll also elevate our Land of Divinity's prestige!"

"The Anbe Family is truly full of talented individuals."

"At the end of this trip, the Warriors Association will surely give a handsome reward."

"Indeed, had the Anbes not stepped forward, our trip to Cathay would have been a complete failure."

Listening to their words of praise, the elder of the Anbe Family laughed even more happily, and the wrinkles on his face almost squeezed together. "It's really nice of you all to say that. Naturally, it's our family's duty to bring glory to Emsgate. Had we been like certain people, Emsgate would've ended up in a sorry state." As he spoke, his gaze intentionally or unintentionally darted toward Mylo.

Mylo, who was beside him, was not a fool either. Faced with their mockery, he couldn't help but sneer. Humph! They don't even know about my plans. Had it not been for my provocation, the Martial League's Great Elder wouldn't have agreed to raise the stakes so high. Now that we're going to win, no one is singing my praises. What's even more annoying is that not only are they sucking up to the Anbes, but they're mocking me in secret!

The more he thought about it, the angrier he became. He couldn't help but swear under his breath, "What are you all so smug about? The outcome of the match hasn't been decided yet. Who wins and who loses is still uncertain. Those who are laughing so arrogantly now will be the ones crying later when the tables turn."

Of course, these words were just him venting his dissatisfaction. In his heart, he also believed that victory was certain in this battle. Needless to say, he also hoped that Emsgate would win this battle.
