

Chapter 2541 A Youth With a Pure Heart

Overall, Matthew was quite satisfied with Danny.

Even though they hadn't known each other for long, Matthew could tell from the details that Danny was responsible, reliable, and possessed strong leadership abilities.

Noticing that Danny seemed troubled, Matthew spoke up and asked, "What's wrong? Do you have any questions?"

After hesitating for a moment, Danny took a deep breath and finally gathered the courage to speak.

"Boss, I have some companions who couldn't come over because they've been starving for a long time. So, I was thinking..."

Before he could finish his sentence, Danny glanced hesitantly at Matthew.

He was afraid that his words might displease Matthew. If that happened, he might miss this rare opportunity to fill their stomachs.

Although he hadn't finished speaking, Matthew already knew what he wanted to say.

Standing up, Matthew said earnestly, "Danny, right? Here's the deal. You can bring all your companions from Skargness with you. I'll accept them regardless of their age, but I have one requirement. They must have a clean background. Do you understand what I mean? If there are no other issues, let's meet here tomorrow at the same time."

When Danny heard that, tears instantly welled up in his eyes. Then, he nodded gratefully and turned around to share the good news with his companions, but before he could take a step, Matthew called out to him.

"Hold on. Go and buy some food first. I don't want you to be so hungry that you can't come tomorrow."

With that, Matthew took a stack of cash from Evander and handed it to Danny.

However, Danny didn't accept it.

"Boss, we haven't officially started working yet. We can't take this money!"

Seeing the sincere look in Danny's eyes, Matthew nodded slightly. By the looks of it, he hadn't misjudged Danny.

Good; he had a pure heart!

"Silly boy, this is an advance payment for your wages. You can consider it as a deposit. If you don't take it, I worry you'll run away tomorrow."

The lame excuse naturally couldn't fool Danny.

He wiped away a tear with his worn-out sleeve and reached out to accept the cash.

"Thank you, Boss! We'll be here on time tomorrow!"

After saying that, he turned around with teary eyes and ran out, but just as he reached the door, he suddenly stopped in his tracks.

Under Matthew's curious gaze, Danny fell to his knees. He bowed before he quickly left.

At that moment, Grayson watched Danny leave and then reminded Matthew.

"Mr. Larson, sorry if I'm being nosy, but these people's identities may be problematic. If the people from Skargness come knocking, it will probably cause huge trouble."

Having been in Hulwin for many years, Grayson had come into contact with the forces of the Seraphis Province many times.

He was well aware of their way of doing things.

They would come knocking if they found out that so many young people in their power had escaped.

When that happened, this group of young people would be a source of disaster for Matthew.

However, Matthew waved his hand indifferently. "It's alright. If I have the guts to accept them, I naturally have the confidence to keep them around."

More accurately, this group of young people was just a pleasant surprise.

Originally, Matthew only wanted to recruit some loyal bodyguards.

Unexpectedly, he managed to recruit this group of young people.

The most important thing was that there were many of them.

The plan that had been buried in his heart could now be implemented.

At that thought, he couldn't help but smile.

He had two plans that were not realized in the South and Bainbridge.

Unexpectedly, both plans were successfully implemented after coming to Seraphis Province.

With a joyful mood, Matthew gave some instructions to Grayson.

It was mainly about the layout and decoration of some shops.

As Matthew was talking, a stranger suddenly appeared at the door.