

Chapter 2559 Encountering Various Obstacles

After visiting the building, Matthew asked Sasha to take Vivian back home while he went to the abandoned factory in the suburbs alone.

The factory had gone through a few days of renovation and had now transformed into the new home for the Feather Guards Reserve.

That was right, the Feather Guards.

This was also something Matthew had planned for a long time.

It had not been implemented before in Eastcliff and Bainbridge.

On the one hand, it is because of the constraints from the major forces.

On the other hand, he had no opportunity or manpower to fulfill this plan.

Before coming to the Seraphis Province, Master Wyatt also analyzed the situation with him.

To establish his own forces, he must have a reliable and highly skilled organization under him to overcome obstacles for him.

At this moment, the plan was slowly starting to be implemented.

As Matthew entered the place, Evander and his team were giving the youngsters physical training.

"Pick up the pace. Only three kilometers left."

After a loud shout, Evander walked quickly toward Matthew.

When they met up, Matthew asked with concern. "Captain Calloway, thank you for your effort. How are the talents of these children?"

Evander was dressed in formal attire and nodded in satisfaction.

"They have a good foundation. After these few days of rest and basic training, they have developed their full potential but still need to work on their specific capabilities."

After Evander finished speaking, Matthew also turned his gaze to the group of youngsters who were jogging slowly.

The over eighty hundred pale faces from before now had a healthy flush.

Under the sweat, they were brimming with youthful vitality.

"They do look better. Captain Calloway, you have worked hard these few days."

"Mr. Larson, this is just my duty. It's not hard at all."

Once Evander finished, he bowed and saluted at Matthew.

His dedication and diligence were not without personal motives.

Although he was only in his forties, his term of office was about to expire.

In addition, he would also face the choice of resignation or transfer after the re-election of the Martial League.

If it were before, he would just go with the flow.

But after receiving guidance from his elders, he now saw a new path.

That path was Matthew, the young genius who had already become the Summit Warden at such a young age.

That was why Evander did everything he could to accompany Matthew to the Seraphis Province.

He wanted to become Matthew's strongest right-hand man.

Of course, they both understood that without needing to exchange any words.

After observing for a while, Matthew bid farewell and left.

Then, he went to the Western Suburb Mining Company.

Although Tanner's personality was a bit eccentric, his efficiency in handling matters was not bad.

In addition, they would be able to start working in a few days.

Seeing that everything had gone smoothly, Matthew felt relieved.

However, when he returned home in the evening, Sasha was sitting in front of the computer with a frown.

"What's wrong? Did something troublesome happen?"

Matthew approached Sasha from behind, bending over to embrace her and asking softly.

Sasha pointed at the computer first and then replied unhappily, "We have sent out the bidding information to potential cooperating companies since noon, but we haven't received any replies so far. It would be reasonable for no one to pay attention if it was about cooperation. We are a new company, after all. But it's abnormal that no one is replying to our renovation notice."

It was common to think that renovation companies would be eager to participate and compete in bidding for a large project like renovating an office building.

But they currently haven't received a single reply.

After listening, Matthew smiled and gently squeezed Sasha's shoulders.

"Don't worry. Leave this to me. You've had a long day, so go rest first."

After saying that, Matthew lowered his head and kissed her forehead.

Then, he urged her to take a rest.
