

Chapter 2686 Joshua Causing Trouble With People

In Emden Hall, as Matthew attended to the patient in front of him, a group of people suddenly rushed into his field of vision.

"Dr. Larson, h-help!"

Joshua quickly grabbed Matthew's hand after releasing his companion.

"Dr. Larson, my friend has been feeling weak all day for no reason. Please, you must save him!"

"Don't worry, it's my duty!"

Matthew noticed that the patient's face was pale and lifeless, so he quickly approached to examine him. However, as soon as he touched the person's wrist, his eyebrows furrowed.

There were no signs of illness. It seemed to be a result of consuming Ground Devil Grass, which causes such symptoms. And that Ground Devil Grass is as unappetizing as rotten fish, not even suitable for consumption.

Furthermore, the patient's palm was unusually rough, with faint calluses, which were not caused by doing farm work.

When he glanced at the patient's companions, some began to avoid eye contact, intentionally or unintentionally.

If it's not guilt, then what can it be? Are they here to cause trouble again?

With this thought, Matthew withdrew his arm. "There's nothing wrong with your friend. Just rest for the afternoon, and he'll be fine."

Joshua expressed his gratitude to Matthew, and as he helped his companion to stand up, he discreetly handed over a small red flower.

Just as the group was about to leave, the pale-faced patient suddenly slumped to the ground and vomited uncontrollably.

Joshua thanked Matthew, and as he helped his companion up, Matthew secretly slipped a red flower petal to him.

Just as they were about to leave, the pale-faced patient suddenly went limp and fell to the ground, vomiting uncontrollably.

"Brother, what's happening to you?"

"Joshua, my stomach feels terrible, like it's on fire. Am I going to die?"

Matthew couldn't help but chuckle after seeing their appearance. This guy actually knows a bit of pharmacology. The red flower petal from the Ground Devil Grass is a good emetic, but it's a bit unpleasant.

On the ground, Joshua looked at his companion in agony, his previously worried expression turning dark.

"What did you do to my brother, you quack doctor?" That look and tone were quite convincing. And such a dramatic scene immediately attracted the attention of the patients initially waiting in line!

"What's going on?"

"What did he eat to vomit so miserably?"

"Did Dr. Larson make a mistake and harm the person?"

Joshua felt proud when he heard the doubts from the crowd, although his face still showed extreme pain. "This quack doctor doesn't know what he gave my brother, causing him to become like this."

And just as Joshua was about to grab Matthew by the collar, Matthew simply tapped his foot and floated back half a meter.

"If you guys want to cause trouble, that's one thing, but to actually want to fight? Do you even know the title of Emden Hall's crown prince?"

When he turned around, he suddenly remembered that the crown prince seemed to have already left. Awkward! This brat always disappears at critical moments. Sooner or later, he'll be tied up in this shop.

Joshua's anger grew stronger as he caught sight of his companion's pitiful state. "You quack, doctor! If you don't explain today, I'll smash this lousy clinic of yours!"

After saying that, he signaled to his subordinates to prepare to attack!

"First, I didn't give your friend anything to eat. Furthermore, do you really think I'm foolish enough to believe that he intentionally swallowed Ground Devil Grass and Butterfly Flowers to cause trouble in my clinic?"

Joshua's angry expression suddenly froze when Matthew exposed his thoughts with a single remark.

D*mn, this brat is really something. He can even figure that out. Of course, now is not the time to be surprised. Since he's been discovered, let's just attack directly.

"You quack doctor, trying to shift the blame in front of me. Brothers, smash this clinic for me!"

The onlookers scattered as they saw they were about to fight, and they tried to avoid getting caught in the crossfire. But before they could even lift their feet, Matthew's figure suddenly flickered and disappeared before their eyes.

When he reappeared, he was already in front of the crowd.