

Chapter 2784 Healing And Assault

Upon receiving Matthew's instructions, Gadel had no choice but to temporarily suppress the anger within him. He closed his eyes slowly, and soon, he felt a warm current flowing through his body.

As a wave of chill spread throughout his body, he couldn't help but shiver. Suddenly, he felt a surge of energy that he hadn't experienced in a long time. Looking at the delicate and translucent Princess Fiorenna beside him, little Gadel couldn't help but feel a sense of arousal.

This was a long-lost impulse, and it was particularly intense. However, with outsiders present, he had to restrain this long-lost excitement.

"Mr. Larson, you are truly skilled!"

Beside him, Fiorenna also noticed Gadel's reaction. Her gaze followed his strong figure, and when she saw his proud posture, she blushed.

Now that her body had fully recovered and the coldness that had tormented her for a long time had disappeared, her husband's restlessness secretly stirred her up as well. For a moment, she also felt a bit disoriented.

At this moment, Gadel couldn't help but marvel at Matthew's medical skills. The hidden illness that he had put so much effort into resolving had been easily cured by Matthew.

Matthew looked at the restless couple in front of him and didn't say much. After all, he had personally adjusted their bodies, so he naturally understood their physiological reactions.

"Your Highness, the treatment is over. You can discuss your condition with each other. I'll rest for a while."

As he spoke, Gadel and Matthew exchanged a glance and nodded at each other with a knowing smile.

"Mr. Larson, I will personally host a banquet to express my gratitude later!"

The only response he received was Matthew waving his hand as he walked away.

"My love, what should we do now..."

Now that Gadel not only had a stronger physique but also more energy, he became even more excited when he thought about the scene after Fiorenna became pregnant.

"No, not in this place. How can we—"

Before Fiorenna could finish her shy words, Gadel had already embraced her in his arms.

"The entire Peterburg is mine. Nowhere is off-limits!"

At this moment, the entire hot spring room was filled with Gadel's hearty laughter.

In the shadows, the few experts who had been protecting Prince Gadel understood what was about to happen next. After exchanging secret signals with each other, they were about to retreat.

However, before they could get up, a dark figure suddenly appeared, carrying a torch, and attacked Matthew and Gadel at an extremely fast speed.

"Oh no, it's a rocket!"

After a cry of alarm, several secret guards, their eyes bloodshot, moved at their fastest speed to protect Prince Gadel.

As for Matthew, he only heard a "be careful!" and the next second, a deafening explosion resounded through the sky!

"Protect His Highness!"

Outside the hot spring room, the guards who heard the commotion instantly turned red-eyed. They couldn't believe that such a large-scale explosion could occur under such tight security. Most importantly, who would have thought that someone would dare to attack Peterburg?

At that moment, the forces stationed near Prince Gadel quickly converged toward Peterburg.

The captain of the guards outside the hot spring room spoke directly, his eyes red.

"Prince Garrett, Princess Iris, for your safety, please return to your own rooms as Peterburg has been attacked by unknown assailants."

After saying this, he immediately led his subordinates and rushed toward Prince Gadel's location.

"Why should I go back?"

The sudden explosion frightened Iris, causing her to turn pale. If she were also caught in such an explosion, there would be no chance of survival. At this moment, she hurried back to her own castle, where she could find solace.
