

Chapter 2902 Matthew Is Loyal

Lucius continued to speak incessantly, like an elder lecturing a younger family member.

"Take it as a compensation. Please accept the Prayer Wheel Method. Just don't spread it."

After saying that, Lucius handed over Bloodreaper and the Prayer Wheel Method to Matthew.

Matthew remained silent. He didn't know what to say. Lucius wasn't entirely wrong. He just wanted to fulfill his daughter's happiness. He simply wanted to embrace his grandchildren. However, he shouldn't have made the decision alone. He shouldn't have concealed everything and allowed them to get married without knowing Matthew's family situation.

This was a contradictory matter that couldn't be judged as right or wrong.

Lucius walked to the front of the door and suddenly stopped. He uttered a sentence, "By the way, I heard from someone that your wife and subordinates have found their way here. They are at the foot of the mountain. But it seems that their situation is not very good."

As soon as he finished speaking, a breeze swept by his side.

"Brat!"

Matthew, who was anxious, was about to rush to the foot of the mountain when he suddenly heard Lucius shouting. He turned around and saw a black shadow shooting toward him. He reached out and caught it, only to find that it was a Stone Token. Although it looked similar to the token he had seen before when Feather was in trouble, there were subtle differences.

"This is the token for entering and exiting Sacred Mount. Although the Sacred Mount does not interfere in worldly affairs come to Sacred Mount if you encounter danger and I will protect you!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Lucius' figure disappeared.

"Thank you, Mr. Lucius!"

After expressing his gratitude, Matthew immediately turned his head and hurried toward his wife.

Kasen found the crown prince and the others while holding the unconscious Sasha.

"What happened to Mrs. Larson? She was fine just before we left, right?"

The crown prince stood up anxiously, and if it weren't for Paintaker holding him back, his recently healed wound might have burst open again.

"We found Mr. Larson."

"It's just that..."

"Just what? Stop beating around the bush."

The crown prince was already impatient. Seeing Kasen's hesitant expression only made him more irritated.

"We saw Mr. Larson getting married to another woman and Miss Cunningham fainted out of anxiety."

As he explained, he settled Sasha on the ground, and at the same time, Paintaker reached out to check her pulse.

"Are you sure you didn't see it wrong? Matthew is a loyal person."

The crown prince simply didn't believe what Kasen said.

Evander added, "Could there be a misunderstanding? I also don't think Mr. Larson is that kind of person."

For a moment, everyone furrowed their brows.

Meanwhile, Paintaker encountered a problem. "Oh no! Miss Cunningham is suffering from severe fatigue and depletion of vital energy. I don't have any medicinal herbs for treatment. If we delay too long, it will cause serious harm to her body."

Over the years, he had always collected medicinal herbs as he traveled, but apart from some commonly used treatment pills, he had no other supplies. Now, he wanted to treat Sasha.

As soon as these words were spoken, the already tense atmosphere became even more oppressive.

"Kasen, help me go see Matthew."

Facing the crown prince's request, Kasen looked bitter and said, "The people on Sacred Mount know our identities. They will never give us a chance to get close to Mr. Larson."

He had been blocked by two experts. Otherwise, he would not have returned to find Paintaker.

"I don't care. I must ask him in person. Mrs. Larson is in danger now. Even if I die in front of them, I can at least be true to my conscience by standing in front of her."

The crown prince ignored the discouragement of others and made a determined effort to stand up.

Just then, a voice emerged from behind.

"What is it that you want to know, Prince?"
