

Chapter 3020 Market Manipulation

The market operated without mercy. It only enforced elimination without leniency.

Amidst the chaos, an unexpected surge of purchasing trends swept across the coastal cities of Cathay and Montiria.

A significant influx of Montiria procurement agents, known as multinational agents, started invading these two places.

Meanwhile, orders with increasing values began to flood in.

Confronted with such a thriving market, manufacturers put more effort into making use of equipment and staff.

The staff's work shifts increased, with operations running non-stop every day.

Following the achievement of profits, manufacturers and corporations began simultaneous industry development.

At the same time, a group of agents from Eshesh lowered the prices of their equipment in disguise. They continuously sold the equipment to those eager corporations.

The scenario seemed to be highly auspicious.

At Basha's Sacred Mount, with the unwavering efforts of the staff, the Martial League headquarters was almost completely built. It was ready for living and working.

After Leanna recuperated from her injuries, she immediately started working.

Nevertheless, upon realizing the anomaly in the Cathay market, she promptly instructed Creative Cloud Group to investigate. She was dazed upon receiving the findings.

Meanwhile, after Sasha recovered, Matthew had been accompanying her.

Since she was ready for cultivation, Matthew didn't mind sharing his knowledge. He taught her the Divine Skill and Mortal Skill, as well as guided her throughout her practice.

Under such meticulous direction, Sasha finally got to delve into the compendium, just as she wished.

"I can feel the nimbus of hara."

Upon opening her eyes, a hint of excitement appeared on Sasha's face.

She now possessed the ability to follow in Matthew's path.

"That's good."

Matthew truly rejoiced for Sasha. Excelling in martial arts not only enhanced her physique but also enabled her to protect herself in peril.

The most crucial point was that achieving the advanced grandmaster level would greatly prolong her life.

Indeed, Matthew was unwilling for her life to end as they just fell in love.

"When you become a master, you must protect me. I'll hide behind you when I'm in danger." Matthew coquettishly pinched Sasha's nose, causing her to pout.

"You only know teasing me."

"Ah! Sasha is hitting me!"

After being punched in the chest by Sasha, Matthew fell to the ground and acted mischievous.

As he opened his eyes, he saw Leanna approaching anxiously.

He instantly became serious. "What's the matter? Is there anything?"

Leanna greeted Sasha with a forceful smile.

"Sasha, there's an urgency. Mr. Larson needs to come over."

Sasha promptly agreed as she understood the gravity of the situation from Leanna's demeanor.

"Wait for me." Upon saying that, Matthew followed Leanna to the office.

"Matthew, we're in trouble. They've set traps in the Cathay market."

Leanna placed a thick file in front of Matthew.

"These are the recent international agents that have surfaced in Cathay. After investigation, we found that they all seem to be large corporations registered with capital exceeding millions. They've been founded for a long time, with complete documents and stable performance. However, it's all fake."

Leanna paused and showed the financial data of a company in Montiria.

"For instance, this company has been established for over twenty years. However, we found that their financial data was falsified.

"Meanwhile, this rubber group only started its business last month."
