

Chapter 3023 Understanding the Situation

There were times when people couldn't figure out a solution.

As Matthew pondered, his brow furrowed deeper.

Upon noticing his expression, Leanna quickly interrupted, "Don't worry too much about this matter. The financial market in Cathay has been stable for a long time. Its foundation is strong.

"If those financial magnates from Montiria cause trouble, it just shows their incompetence. The family forces and business alliances will find ways to deal with it. You don't have to overthink it."

Matthew found her words reasonable. After all, no matter how capable he was, he was just a human.

When faced with severe challenges, there would always be someone to deal with them.

Plus, he had to deal with numerous matters in Seraphis.

"By the way, do those multinational agents from Montiria have any follow-up actions?"

"Of course they do."

Leanna gulped down her coffee and casually took a document.

"They're very arrogant. They openly came to us, intending to purchase at one-tenth of the original price."

After a quick glance at the document, Matthew asked puzzledly, "Would the enterprises agree to this?"

"They don't have any option. They can't sell such huge inventories to their own people. They either suffer the loss and face bankruptcy, or they agree. The situation forces them to do so. It's a lesson for them."

Matthew nodded. "You're right. I'll contact Gadel later. Since Montiria caused such a fuss, there must be someone behind it."

Although this issue was resolved, there would be other conspiracies and plots coming.

Seraphis could be in chaos, but the market must remain stable.

Gadel called before Matthew was able to contact him.

"Young Master Larson, how are you doing? Long time no see. Let's meet for tea sometime."

Sensing the joyful tone, Matthew's eyes narrowed. "Is Princess Fiorenna pregnant?"

"You bet! You should have seen the expressions of my brothers; it was priceless. Also, my father is overjoyed to learn that he's going to become a grandfather. You must come to the baby's full moon celebration."

Matthew and Gadel had a long chat.

Even over the phone, Matthew could feel Gadel's happiness. "Congratulations! Anyway, I want to ask you something."

Before he could speak, Gadel said, "Are you asking about Night Vine or the recent market crisis?"

"You guess? Adults won't make choices."

"Mr. Larson, it's not that I don't want to tell you." Gadel's joyful tone suddenly turned serious. "The situation is very complicated. Let me put it this way: the Montiria Royal Family is in chaos. It either ascends or perishes. Various factions have entered the power struggle stage.

"Hence, anyone eligible for the throne is enhancing power like mad, including my father. Do you understand?"

Both of them fell into silence for a moment.

After a while, Matthew said calmly, "I understand."

"Mr. Larson, I'll always remember your kindness. If you need my help, I'll definitely assist."

The call then ended.

Matthew stared at his phone for a long time without raising his head.

Gadel's intentions were clear.

Whether pertaining to the matters of Night Vine or the recent market chaos, the entire royal family and financial magnates in Montiria were all involved.

Gadel was not exempted.

Matthew understood what Gadel had told him just now. However, it didn't mean he could accept it.

"It seems I have to change my plans."