

Chapter 3025 Returning to Concordia

After intense overtime work, the construction almost ended at Whitedew Plains.

The various institutions of the Martial League, such as the Ground Force, Medicine Force, and Information Force, had been fully established.

Currently, the entire Whitedew Plains was densely populated. A wall had been erected along the Death Peak Mountains to prevent inadvertent intrusion.

The medicinal fields, which Matthew cherished the most, had also been cultivated. It didn't occupy a large space, but the land was fertile with an abundant source of nimbus. It was considered a valuable land.

Matthew had mentioned the matter regarding the adopted daughter to Sasha, but she hadn't made a decision.

Hence, the matter was simply put aside.

Matthew gently smiled as he caressed Sasha's cheek. "I'll be back soon. If you have any questions about martial arts practice, you can ask Ivy. If you encounter any difficulties, you can also approach her."

Although Sasha could grasp the situation, she didn't spit it out. "Don't worry about me. We're not in any danger right now."

Before she could finish her words, Matthew pulled her into his arms.

"I'm leaving now. I've prepared many medical books for you in the room. If you're bored, you can read them. Of course, you can also have afternoon tea with Leanna."

Sasha didn't know whether Matthew was genuinely naive or just pretending.

Letting his own wife have tea with a woman who has feelings for him? Isn't he worried about any misunderstandings?

She knew the situation very well, but she didn't say it.

In exchange for a peaceful life, she feigned that nothing was out of the ordinary.

Before leaving, Matthew sought out Leanna again. She had been busy with Creative Cloud Group and various internal affairs of the Commercial Union.

Therefore, Matthew didn't want to disturb her further. After leaving a message, he prepared to return to Concordia.

"Matthew, we're going out."

Matthew was taken aback by Shawn's bruised and swollen face.

"What's wrong? Did you get caught by someone's husband for cheating?"

Shawn almost jumped due to anger. "You're the one who's cheating! Although the people on the mountain are strong, they..."

He was about to criticize the people on the mountain for being rustic when he felt chills all around him.

He could feel terrifying eyes staring at him intently.

"They're all exceptionally handsome and beautiful," he flattered exaggeratedly.

The focused gazes on Shawn dissipated. He couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

Matthew shook his head helplessly upon seeing the situation. "Stop talking nonsense. What's the matter?"

"It's all because of Elijah." Shawn pointed directly at Kasen, who was not far away. "He seems to be on drugs as his strength has skyrocketed. I wanted to compete with him, but he didn't hold back at all. It's painful!"

Shawn was so agitated that he accidentally aggravated his injuries.

Matthew had heard Shawn mention this matter before, but he hadn't taken it seriously.

Now, Matthew finally realized that the power unleashed by the Red Lotus Fire far exceeded his medical knowledge.

It was certain that the Red Lotus Fire could alter a person's constitution. Nevertheless, the nine-colored brilliance it emitted could make one's strength soar.

Upon seeing Matthew remain silent for a long time, Kasen thought he had offended him by hurting Shawn.

Just as he was about to apologize, Matthew suddenly nodded. "Good. Having such an opportunity is your good fortune. Let's end this topic. Kasen, I'll leave everything to you. Prince, follow me."
