Chapter 826

Chapter 826 Let Me Show You Something

After getting everything settled, Matthew went back to Leanna's place.

Of course, Matthew only told Leanna that an Orleanian accidentally left their centipedes here instead of telling her the entire truth.

Upon hearing that, Leanna finally felt relieved. Nevertheless, she insisted on moving away and taking her friend back to the city. Beyond the need for questions, she was already traumatized by her suburban nightmare.

Matthew didn't stop her, as he knew that if the 72 clan leaders were at Eastcliff, they might actually start rearing poisonous creatures in the suburbs as well. Seeing that the creatures they brought along with them might starve to death if they didn't feed them, it seemed like the suburbs of Eastcliff weren't a safe place anymore.

When Matthew thought about the situation of the area around his villa, he realized that those poisonous creatures in the lake were placed there deliberately.

Judging from the situation, he could tell that the location wasn't their natural habitat.

At that moment, Matthew felt his heart constricting a little.

Usually, the 72 clan leaders would choose a remote area to rear their poisonous creatures to avoid others from finding out.

However, the lake definitely wasn't a remote place.

Could it be that someone is trying to stir things up by rearing poisonous creatures in the lake near the villas? Is someone working with the Orleanians and placing poisonous creatures there deliberately to archive something?

Matthew pondered about the possibilities of that.

The result of what happened near the villa was Jaden landing himself in prison and destroying his own reputation. Still, who benefitted the most from this? At the thought of that, Matthew seemed to have solved the mystery, suddenly jolting.

Although he did benefit from this, the person who truly benefited the most was the current Head of the Lach Family.

After all, Jaden's father was the rightful inheritor of the Lachs to take control of the family.

Still, after this issue, Jaden's father died while Jaden ended up in prison, causing the Lachs to lose both its inheritors.

So, the person who unquestionably benefited from this was the current Head of the Lach Family.

As for the villa area, the Lachs probably didn't care, as the position of the current Head of the Family wasn't stabilized yet, so they couldn't be bothered.

However, they surely thought that it would be useless for Matthew to take those poisonous creatures from the lake, as those creatures might have harmed him instead.

By then, the Lachs might be able to get the place back with a lower price and even profit from Matthew.

Matthew really had to admit that the Lachs made a smart move this time.

Although he couldn't understand what was going on exactly in the past, he finally connected the dots after everything that happened tonight.

It seems like I should pay the Lachs a visit. Billy gave me a year to take over the Ten Greatest Families of Eastcliff. Among the Ten Greatest Families of Eastcliff, the Jacksons are now under my command. Although the Lachs aren't as powerful now, they're still under the Ten Greatest Families of Eastcliff. I guess I can start making my moves on them now.

The following morning, Matthew headed back to Lakeside Garden.

Since it was still dawn, Natalie was still deep in her slumbers, and Matthew left for the Fields' villa after adjusting her blanket for her. When he reached the villa, Jinny was already in the living room, and she was trying to turn on the television. Upon seeing Matthew, she looked embarrassed before she greeted, "Hey, Matthew." Right then, Matthew smiled before he carried the pill furnace toward the couch. "Let me show you something." Immediately, Jinny went toward him. "What is it?" Matthew opened the pill furnace. At this moment, Jinny couldn't help but look taken aback after glancing at the pill furnace. The pill furnace was completely filled with rainbow centipedes, and it would definitely creep out anyone who was looking at it. Right then, Matthew observed Jinny's reaction. Although she looked stunned, there wasn't any hint of fear in her. This was unexpected for a girl. "W-What is all this?" Jinny asked with a curious look on her face. From the looks of it, it seemed like she was planning to touch these centipedes. At the same time, the centipedes got agitated the moment Matthew opened the cover of the pill furnace and started trying to escape.

Chapter 827 The Mysterious Jinny

Hearing Jinny's question, Matthew answered softly, "They are centipedes. Do you like them?"

You can try touching them."

Jinny looked surprised. "Really?! Can I... Can I touch them?"

Matthew nodded.

Right then, Jinny took a deep breath before she slowly placed her hand into the pill furnace.

Any other girl would probably have been screaming at the sight of the centipedes, not to mention touching them, but Jinny looked like she really liked these little creatures as she reached forward slowly to touch the centipedes. At this moment, something weird happened. When Jinny's hand entered the pill furnace, those centipedes immediately stopped thrashing around as if they were being consoled. The moment Jinny's hand came into contact with those centipedes, they became obedient and gentle. It seemed like they honestly enjoyed Jinny's touch. It was common knowledge that these centipedes that were reared as poisonous creatures were extremely aggressive, not to mention reared poisonous centipedes. Even a normal centipede would have attacked immediately upon coming into contact with humans. However, these centipedes didn't react like that at all. It was miraculous.

Watching closely, Matthew nodded with a thoughtful look before sealing the pill furnace again and keeping the centipedes away. After that, he took a few large ceramic bottles that contained the five poisonous creatures from yesterday out before proceeding to release them. Right then, Jinny gasped again. Nevertheless, she looked even more excited instead of being afraid. As for the five poisonous creatures, they looked like they weren't going to attack anyone as they were extremely gentle toward Jinny and even allowed her to carry them. Most importantly, the red snake had venom all over its body, and those who came into contact with it would surely die. However, Jinny never felt anything while carrying the snake. It was almost too hard for anyone to believe it.

Upon seeing that, Matthew confirmed his thoughts that Jinny might just be the person that the 72 clan leaders were looking for. Still, he wasn't planning to reveal it yet. Even though Matthew didn't know the reason behind why these people were looking for Jinny, it was best to keep her sheltered because she couldn't protect herself yet. After keeping all the poisoned creatures, Matthew instructed Jinny not to leave the house. During these two days, the abscesses on Jinny's body had significantly reduced, and her clear skin came into view. Happy with her progress, Jinny did as Matthew told. After Matthew brought the poisonous creatures to the villa next door that was unoccupied, he used a secret technique to dispose of all of them. Although the poisonous creatures reacted well with Jinny, they were still life-threatening to other humans, and Matthew couldn't allow them to crawl all over Eastcliff!

After he was done, he packed his stuff and returned to Grand Garden. Upon entering the house, Matthew spotted Tate and Minerva. Right then, Tate and Minerva were surrounding Sasha and nagging her. On the other hand, Sasha was eating with an impatient look on her face. When they saw Matthew entering, Tate quickly exclaimed, "He's here! He's here! Matthew is back! Sasha, ask him about it if you don't believe me! Hey, Matthew, where did you go last night? Why didn't you return home the entire night? Was it fun hanging out with Leanna?" Nevertheless, Matthew only gave Tate a look and couldn't be bothered by what he said. Still, Minerva started snickering. "I bet you can't say anything because you're feeling guilty. Look, Sasha, we have proof now. I've already told you that this a*shole is definitely not a good person. Why didn't you believe in what I've said?"

After Sasha finished her oatmeal, she slammed her bowl on the table.
"Go and play hide and seek or something if you two don't have anything else to do! Am I not being clear? Matthew would never do something like that!"
Immediately, Tate retorted in an agitated manner. "Sasha... How could you trust an outsider instead of your own family? Do you even know what he's really thinking about? You can't get tricked by him! Someone like him is not worth your trust!"

However, Sasha chuckled coldly. "He's not worth my trust? Are you, though? The last time I lent you my car, you told me that your girlfriend would be driving, but you ended up driving the car. You even ran over a person, like, come on! In the end, my family still had to show up to settle things for you, so how dare you ask for my trust?"
Tate's facial expression turned awkward. "That's... That's in the past! Matthew, on the other hand, did something morally questionable. He's just a live-in son-in-law that leeches on us and cheats on you... Aren't you going to do anything about it?"
Sasha waved them off impatiently. "Don't worry about my family issues. Also, do not talk badly about Matthew in front of me in the future. Remember this, Matthew is my husband. He is my family! You guys are not!"
Then she got up and left, leaving those two with dark expressions on their faces.
At this moment, Minerva snapped in anger. "Sasha, why are you being so arrogant? So, are we not your family anymore just because you've become the president? We were just trying to be nice and warn you, as we are afraid of you getting tricked, but this is how you're treating us in return?"

However, Sasha glared at Minerva. "Stop acting like a good person in front of me! If you're really a nice person, you wouldn't have spread rumors that I owe you guys 1.6 million!"

Yet Minerva retorted angrily as well. "Well, you do owe us 1.6 million! I still have receipts with me. Do you want me to show you the receipts?"

Right then, Sasha got so pissed off she turned around and left as she really didn't want to care about those two anymore.

Matthew was changing in the room when he saw Sasha entering and chuckled softly. "Did they piss you off again? Why were you even offended by what they said?"

At this instance, Sasha explained angrily, "I'm not offended. I'm just worried that they might use what happened today as an opportunity to move into our place. Do you remember how stressful it was during those few days that they stayed over ever since what happened previously? What should we do if they come over again?"

Nevertheless, Matthew assured her softly. "It's alright. You don't have to be bothered by them. Once I settle everything, we will move to Lakeside Garden together. We've just got to be patient till then."

However, Sasha rolled her eyes at him. "You should stop mentioning Lakeside Garden. Once the company earns profit, any two bedrooms and one living room house would be fine. As long as we won't be staying with them any longer, I'm happy even if we end up in a cob house!"

Laughing, Matthew pulled Sasha into his embrace before saying softly, "Dummy, how could I let you stay in a cob house? If I could, I would even get you the moon.” Right then, Sasha felt her body going soft as she really enjoyed what she was feeling at this moment.

After hugging for a while, she gave Matthew a seductive eye roll.

“Alright. You’re going to make me late for work! I mean, I still have to earn money to take care of you, my little baby! Haha!”

Sasha couldn’t help but burst into laughter after what she said, while Matthew chuckled as well. “Sure. I can’t wait to be taken care of like a baby!”

Then she used her slender finger to poke Matthew on his head. “You wish! Earn some money so that I can be a rich woman that stays at home in the future!”

Immediately, Matthew straightened his back. “Yes, madam!”

The two of them gave each other a look and laughed.

Meanwhile, Tate and Minerva, who failed to get between Sasha and Matthew, looked pissed off.

“Is Sasha stupid? I can’t believe she’s not even questioning Matthew about him not returning the entire night yesterday! What the hell? I was the one who witnessed Leanna picking Matthew up, and they didn’t even return that night! How is that alright?” Tate complained in anger while Minerva waved him off. “Whatever. Don’t talk about it anymore. You’re not even on Matthew’s level when it comes to women!”

Chapter 829

Chapter 829 You Should Go Look For Leanna Right Away

Nevertheless, Tate was relentless. “What do you mean? How... How am I not on his level?

I’m way taller and better looking than him. I have more knowledge than him as well as a better family background, not to mention that I studied in a foreign country! He should be the one who is not on my level!”

Minerva chuckled coldly. “If you’re that great, why couldn’t you get Leanna? If you could do that, do we still have to come over to this place? Haha! Have you heard that Leanna has more than 20 suites like this in Eastcliff?” Immediately, Tate’s face brightened up. “Is that true? She’s that rich?”

Minerva exclaimed, “Of course! I’m sure you know that all my friends are Eastcliff’s elites, and they know everything that happens in the circle. Leanna’s assets alone can be compared to the richest family among the Ten Greatest Families of Eastcliff, the Sandels.

Think about how rich she is!”

Right then, Tate sucked a cold breath in before an excited look appeared on his face. “If... If I can get her, does it mean that we are going to be rich?”

Minerva asserted, “That’s why I keep telling you to focus on Leanna. I mean, look at Matthew. Although he’s not on your level, he still managed to hit on her, so why can’t you do it when you’re so much better than him?”

Tate nodded aggressively. “You’re right. I should start focusing on Leanna.”

A while later, he spoke up awkwardly. “But how can I get in contact with her? Matthew is an a*shole, and he would never give me Leanna’s phone number even if I asked. It’s impossible for ordinary people to even be able to meet her. If only I had Leanna’s phone number, I would have been able to get her!”

Stunned as well, Minerva pondered for a moment before she suggested, “Why don’t you just go to look for her?”

“Look for her? Does it work like that? Lucia has been going over to her company a few times now, but she can’t even manage to meet Leanna once, so how would it work for me?”

Right then, Minerva giggled. “You fool! Can’t you think of a good idea for once?”

Taken aback, Tate asked, “What idea?”

Minerva explained, “Isn’t Leanna close to Matthew? Just tell them that Matthew sent you over to give Leanna something because he’s busy. By then, you’ll be able to see her. With your status as well as your features, I’m sure Leanna will change her attitude toward you after you guys talk for a while.”

Tate’s eyes brightened up. “That’s a great idea, Minnie! Alright. I’ll go to her company now!

Haha! I’m going to win this! Minnie, are you coming along? Let me put up a good show for you!”

However, Minerva waved him off. “It’s fine. Stop annoying me. I’m talking to my boyfriend!”

Immediately, Tate was stunned. “Boyfriend? Since when do you have a boyfriend? Didn’t you say that you don’t like Cathay men?”

“Since when did I say that he’s from Cathay? He’s a polite Amithian that is way taller and hotter than you are. Moreover, he has a high job position in Wayne Group as well. He’s a really outstanding man! I’m telling you, if I get married to him, we will be rich in the future!”

Tate exclaimed in shock, “Really? High job position in Wayne Group?

That’s a huge enterprise! I heard that Timothy Wayne’s status in Eastcliff is right below Billy Newman! If he works in the higher level of Wayne Group, he’s definitely an outstanding man!”

At this instance, a proud look appeared on Minerva’s face. “That’s why you should stop bothering me. Your future brother-in-law is still waiting for my reply, so it’s time for you to leave!”

Chapter 830

Chapter 830 Confessing to Leanna

Tate did as Minerva said and rushed excitedly to Creative Cloud Group.

Just when he arrived at the main door, the security guard stopped him.

Leanna was quite stand-offish, so not everyone was allowed to enter Creative Cloud Group.

Tate gave the security guard a look.

“Hey, I came yesterday too. Did you forget about me? My dad is Jonah Campbell, the president of Gonzalez Corporation’s branch office in Cathay. We have many business dealings with Creative Cloud Group, and we just signed a contract yesterday...”

Tate went on and on, but the security guard remained indifferent, as if he had never heard of this guy before.

In the end, Tate ran out of options, so he could only say, “I came with Matthew. Matthew Larson. Do you remember him?”

Immediately, the security guard switched his attitude to respect and courtesy. “Oh, you’re

Mr. Larson’s friend! I’m so sorry for the rudeness earlier. Um, is there anything you need?

Perhaps I can ask the receptionist to arrange it for you?”

No way! You must be kidding me! Dude, after everything I wasted my breath on, nothing compares to Matthew’s name?

I meant more as Matthew’s friend than I did as the son of Jonah, president of Gonzalez Corporation’s branch office in Cathay?

What the hell?

Tate complained in his mind, but he dared not say anything aloud in case the security guard chased him away.

Following the slight delay, the security guard took him to the receptionist. Once the receptionist heard that Tate was Matthew's friend, she immediately put a smile on her face and welcomed him warmly. Tate wasn't feeling too great about it, but still, he did as his sister had told him. "Look, Matthew has something to attend to, so he asked me to come and meet President Sandel." With that, he anxiously looked at the girl. He didn't know if he would be allowed to see Leanna just by bringing up Matthew's name.

However, to his relief, the girl immediately replied, "Please wait for a moment. I'll give President Sandel a call!" The girl really wasted no time in getting to work. After a short while, she put down the phone and smiled as she said, "President Sandel will be waiting for you upstairs. This way, please." Urgh! This is so frustrating! Lucia visited this company so many times, but she couldn't even get a meeting with Leanna. But I only had to say Matthew's name, and I could get a pass to see Leanna just like that? With these thoughts in his mind, Tate went up to the building. He carefully tidied up his hair while he was in the elevator, and when the elevator stopped, Leanna's secretary was already waiting at the door. "Greetings. This way, please." The secretary brought Tate to Leanna's office. Leanna was sitting at her desk. She was wearing a fiery red dress today, which was quite a rare sight. The dress complemented her perfect figure, so she looked even more elegant today. Even though she still emanated the imposing aura, she now looked more like an alluring beauty than anything. Tate's breath was taken away at the sight of her.

What profound charm!

Tate could feel the passion burning inside him. She's so beautiful! So what if she's two years older than me?

Leanna glanced at him. "What business did Matthew ask you to come here for?"

Tate brushed his hair back and struck a pose he thought was the coolest. Then, he smiled as he said, "Miss Sandel, it's actually nothing too important."

"After meeting you last time, I was so enamored that I kept thinking of you ever since, and that was why I came to visit you today. I apologize if this was all too sudden!" Tate's words sounded like he had been rehearsing them for a while.

He wanted to appear gentlemanly in front of Leanna, and he also had to clarify how much he admired her.

Moreover, he had many years of experience, so he knew it very well.

When you confess to a woman, even if she didn't like you, she would still be elated.

Because that was proof of her charm!

As he finished his sentence, he raised his head with a slight smile. He was eager to see Leanna's reaction.

However, the moment he looked up, the only thing that greeted him was an object which was previously on Leanna's desk. It was now hurling toward him, and then it landed squarely on his face.
