

Mia is Not 241

Chapter 241: I Don 't Have a Boyfriend

Tom, who was drinking tea, could not help but be surprised. This child really knew how to read medicinal herbs?

Amelia picked up the selected ginsengs. George tacitly handed over the basket and packed it. Just as the two of them were picking one to pack, they suddenly heard a familiar voice. "President Walton, you're here!"

Megan stood at the entrance of the shop and looked at George in surprise. As she was too surprised, she did not see Tom, who was drinking tea in the pharmacy.

Tom was about to speak when he saw George's expression darken. He stared at Megan. "Are you done? I've already said that the Walton family won't accept your apology and won't pursue your responsibility. Don't harass us anymore!"

Megan's eyes turned red. "But the kindergarten expelled me! It's because I didn't take good care of Amelia..."

George sneered. "The kindergarten expelled you because you dated three boyfriends at the same time and ruined your morals. It has nothing to do with our Mia."

Old Madam Walton's expression was not too good either. "I'm impressed. You come to scam us every day and say that our Mia caused you to lose your job. What is the meaning of this?"

Megan said weakly, "I didn't..."

Tom was stunned when he heard this. Three? Three boyfriends? Other than him, wasn't there only Jack Blair? Moreover, Little Mango had said that she and Jack were not boyfriend and girlfriend. She was just afraid that Jack would commit suicide from depression, so she coaxed him first.

On the other side, Megan, whose gaze had been on George, still did not notice Tom, who had already stood up. After all, there was a shelf between them.

Megan was about to cry. "President Walton, Old Madam Walton, you've really misunderstood me. When did I have three boyfriends? I don't..."

Tom heaved a sigh of relief when he heard Megan's denial. That's right. He knew it. How could Little Mango be such a woman who had several boyfriends? However, in the next second, Megan's words stunned him on the spot.

Megan said, "I'm still single. I don't have a boyfriend at all. I don't even know what you're talking about..." She shook her head and wiped her tears sadly. "Mr. Walton, if you don't like me, you can just say it. There's no need to frame me like this..."

At this moment, in Shawn's live-stream, who was hiding in the dark and secretly taking photos, the audience looked confused and sent bullet comments:

"What happened? What's going on?"

"This Amelia, right? I heard that a female teacher in the kindergarten was expelled because of Amelia. It should be this woman in front of me."

"What do you mean? From what this female teacher said, the Walton family found an excuse in a fit of anger to get the kindergarten to expel her because she didn't take good care of Amelia?"

The audience in the live-stream was confused. At this moment, Tom's hands and feet were cold. He could not believe what he had heard. Little Mango actually said that she was single and did not have a boyfriend? What about him? Who was he!

George's expression was cold as he helped Megan, who had "lost her memory", recall. "Your boyfriend, Jack Blair, Tom Sterling, and Robert Dixon. What? You were still with Robert just now. Are you denying it so quickly?"

Amelia looked at her eldest uncle and then at Megan. Her master had said that she had to gather three boyfriends to catch the flirtatious ghost! She was still short of two!

As she was thinking, Amelia's eyes lit up and she saw Jack and Robert behind Megan. At this moment, Megan was still quibbling. "Mr. Walton, I think you've misunderstood. The three people you're talking about are just my good friends. Jack is a kindergarten colleague of mine. We get along better and might be misunderstood. As for Tom, he's just a friend who takes care of me. Our relationship is very pure. He sent me food on the way previously. I don't know how I was misunderstood. As for Robert... he's also a friend of mine. I'm not very familiar with him. Today, I went to the shopping mall and happened to meet him, so we chatted. Did you see it and misunderstood?" After saying that, Megan said very sincerely, "Really, they're just my friends.. If you misunderstand, I won't interact with them anymore... Actually, the person I've always liked is you..."

Chapter 242: Headache

At this point, Megan's face instantly turned red. She couldn't take it anymore. She began to imagine that George had misunderstood her relationship with another man because he was jealous and was questioning her... Then, she cried aggrievedly and told George that the person she liked was you. You baddie, you wronged me, you actually wronged me... Then, George's heart ached and he couldn't help but hug her to comfort her...

At the thought of this, Megan's heart raced. She looked at George shyly and...

saw Tom behind George at a glance.

Megan was stunned and panicked. What was even more panicked was that two familiar voices came from behind her.

Jack smiled miserably and said desolately, "So I'm nothing in your heart?"

Robert found it hard to believe that Megan, who was sleeping on the same bed as him last night, would actually say that they were not familiar with each other and that they were just friends?

"Little Mango, you..." Robert could not believe it.

Amelia was amazed. This Ms. Mango was amazing! Her face seemed to have a switch! It could turn red or white at once! It was too amazing!

Megan's mind was in a mess. She opened her mouth and said in a panic, "You, you... Why are you here..."

Robert was completely disheartened and almost did not have the strength to speak.

Tom said in disappointment, "Little Mango, why can't we be here? What did you mean just now?"

At this moment, Megan felt like she was being roasted by fire. She was in a terrible fix. "No, Tom, listen to me..."

Robert, Tom, and Jack stood in front of Megan. Looking at her flustered expression, they really thought that none of this was real.

Robert narrowed his eyes at Jack and asked, "You're Jack? Little Mango said that you have severe depression. I don't think so!"

The three men were at loggerheads the moment they met.

Megan was still fantasizing about the men fighting because of her. At the side, she kept shouting, "Stop fighting, stop fighting..." The flirtatious ghost on Megan's head chuckled.

Megan was confused by the scene in her mind and said loudly, "Alright, stop arguing. Don't quarrel for me..."

The three men instantly stopped and turned to look at Megan.

Megan: "... Oh my god, what was she doing? Shouldn't she run away quickly?"

Megan: "President Walton, I still have something on. I'll leave first..." As she spoke, she hurriedly wanted to leave, but her three boyfriends stopped her!

Tom said, "Little Mango, who are the two of them? You have to make it clear today!"

Jacks eyes were filled with sorrow. "Is this how you explained it to him? You said that I had serious depression?"

Robert clenched his fists and said with difficulty, "Little Mango, tell me that none of this is true. As long as you tell me, I'll believe you." After all, she was still in his arms last night... Robert thought that no matter what, Little Mango's first time was for him. He could forgive her past mistakes as long as she was willing to be with him properly.

Megan looked from one to the other and said weakly, "What are you doing... You're all my good friends. I've always treated you as brothers..."

Jack was extremely disappointed. "Brother? Then you said that you wanted to marry me back then?"
Was there a sister who married her brother?

Tom didn't accept this either. "That's impossible. If you only treat me as a brother and a friend, then why did you sleep with me and have sex with me?" Megan was shocked. Why did he say such a thing?!

Just as Megan was about to defend herself, Robert said in shock, "Impossible! Little Mango was still with me last night. I can swear on my life that when she was with me last night, she was still a virgin!"

Jack: '

Tom: '

The two of them felt as if they had been struck by lightning. There was a green grassland above their heads. The two of them looked at Megan together and it took them a while to find their voices..

Chapter 243: Shocked

Jack said with difficulty, "When Little Mango was with me, she was also a virgin."

Tom clenched his fists. "Me too."

At this moment, no matter how stupid the three of them were, they knew what was going on. No wonder after she had sex with them for the first time, she refused to have sex again. When she was anxious, she cried and said that it hurt, that she was afraid... At that time, they thought that she was innocent, shy, and embarrassed. They did not expect that even that layer of hymen was fake!

Robert looked at Megan in disappointment. At this point, there was nothing he did not understand. Megan was actually two-timing! And they were actually stupidly played by her. Previously, they thought that Megan was innocent and cute, but now it seemed that they were the innocent ones!

Jack felt very tired. He took a step back, his eyes resolute. "Since we're only colleagues, everything ends here. Megan, take care of yourself in the future." With that, he left without looking back.

Megan immediately felt as if her heart had been cut apart. She choked and shouted, "Brother Jack!"

Jack paused and did not turn around. He quickly disappeared into the crowd.

All kinds of sad songs sounded in Megan's mind. She felt so sad. She stretched out her hand and pressed it against her chest. Boohoo... He treated her the best. The person she loved the most was Jack. However, she did not expect that the person who left the most decisively was Jack.

Megan wanted to chase after him and escape this place, but Tom grabbed her wrist and pulled her back. "Little Mango, aren't you going to give us an explanation before leaving? You still can't let go of Jack, right?"

Robert immediately grabbed Megan's other hand. "Tell me who the person you love the most is!"

Tom also pressed, "Jack has already left. Now, do you choose Robert or me?"

Old Madam Walton was shocked. Young people nowadays... were starting to play like this? These two men had already seen Megan's true colors, but they still chose to forgive her and continue to be with her?

Shawn, who was hiding in the dark, looked at the live-stream happily. He was getting more and more excited.

At this moment, the audience in the live-stream finally understood the situation. They were shocked!

"Oh my god! This woman is amazing!"

“These two men are already so green, but they still can’t let go of this woman? They even asked her which one to choose. Is there something wrong with their brains?!”

“She’s actually two-timing! No wonder she was expelled from kindergarten!”

“I’m dying of laughter! Her relationships are too chaotic. She was discovered by the school and expelled. Then, she kept apologizing to Amelia. Why? Does she want to slander Amelia for causing her to be expelled?”

“Come, come, come. Let’s bet on which man this woman will choose in the end!”

For a moment, many people placed bets. Some guessed that Megan wanted both, while others guessed that Megan did not want either and wanted George!

Seeing that his live-stream was so popular, Shawn was anxious to death. He had miscalculated. He should have taken this opportunity to sell goods!

However, it didn’t matter if he wasn’t prepared. He had to keep this popularity!

Shawn said, “Come, come, come. Viewers in the live-stream, click on it if you haven’t hit the follow button yet. In the future, I’ll bring you to watch such an exciting plot every day!”

Most of the audience in the live-stream liked to watch the show. When they heard this, they instantly followed Shawn. Shawn’s fans kept rising.

At this moment, Megan’s mind was still in a daze. What should she do? They were all trying to snatch her away. She was so frustrated! She didn’t know what to choose. She loved every single one of them! She couldn’t make a choice!

Megan looked at the two men who were fighting over her and was in pain.

“Tom, Robert, don’t force me... I can’t do it. Boohoo, I really can’t..” Deep in her imagination, Megan forgot about her new target, George.

At this moment, Megan grabbed Tom and Robert’s hands with tears in her eyes. “Can you stop fighting? Don’t force me to make a choice between the two of you. Can’t the three of us live happily together? I can’t even give up on any of you.. I’m in so much pain... I beg you, can you turn your fight for me into secretly taking care of me?”

Chapter 244: Remember What’s Important

Tom: ‘

Robert:

The audience in Shawn’s live-stream: “...” Everyone was shocked.

A viewer sighed. “So the plot of the television dramas is real!”

Some of the audience’s worldview collapsed. “The three of us live happily together... Oh my god, my worldview is about to shatter!”

Amelia quietly approached Elmer Stevens and asked softly, “Master, is this the

Old Madam Walton was shocked by the scene in front of her. When she heard Amelia’s words, she subconsciously replied, “No, this isn’t a Mary Sue story. This is a melodramatic story that destroys one’s worldview!”

Amelia nodded. "I understand!"

Elmer Stevens's mouth twitched as he reminded, "Don't just watch the show. Remember what's important!"

At this moment, the flirtatious ghost on Megan's head was overwhelmed. It looked at Tom one moment and Robert the next.

Elmer Stevens narrowed his eyes and whispered to Amelia, "Master will teach you a new move today. It's called Spirit Binding. Spirit Binding uses our own spiritual qi to transform into a rope to restrain the ghosts. Listen carefully..."

Amelia learned seriously and muttered. Then, she threw something out with all her might, but nothing was thrown out...

Elmer Stevens encouraged, "It's okay. When the most talented person first learns Spirit Binding, they have to try a few times to successfully throw a rope!"

Amelia tried again. "Hey!"

There was still nothing!

Amelia was unconvinced and held it in again. Her 'hey' was extremely loud!

George subconsciously looked at Amelia, but he realized that she seemed to be throwing something.

What George could not see was that as Amelia threw it forcefully, a large red net flew out and accurately wrapped around the flirtatious ghost!

Elmer Stevens instantly shut up! He even wanted to slap himself! He deserved it! Why did he never learn?! What heaven-defying genius could compare to Amelia?!

The flirtatious ghost was wrapped in a red net and instantly came back to her senses from the fantasy she had created. Then, she looked up and saw that the person restraining her was actually a brat?! She roared angrily and struggled with all her might. Unexpectedly, the red net tightened!

Amelia used all her strength to pull the rope. The flirtatious ghost struggled with all her might and roared heart-wrenchingly, "Let go! Let go of me!" She tore at the red net with all her might and almost threw Amelia to the side!

George hurriedly supported Amelia, who had almost fallen.

Elmer Stevens's eyes were slightly cold. He moved his fingers, and the red net immediately emitted a red light, suppressing the flirtatious ghost and making her unable to move!

Amelia seized the opportunity and used all her strength to finally pull the flirtatious ghost off Megan's head!

So heavy! There was a huge harvest today! Amelia was overjoyed!

At this moment, Robert was prying Megan's hand away. He said, "Enough.

Since you have no choice, I'll withdraw." He was too sad. Last night, he and Megan were still hugging sweetly and fantasizing about a happy life in the future. Today, reality gave him a heavy blow. He should have known that

Megan had never thought of treating him wholeheartedly from the beginning.

Robert sighed and turned to leave without looking back.

Megan had just come back to her senses when she saw Robert leave. Thinking of the sweetness between the two of them last night, she subconsciously shouted, "Robert..."

Megan threw herself into Tom's arms. "Wuwuwu, Tom, you won't leave me, right? You said that you would love me forever..." With her two boyfriends gone, Megan felt empty and extremely uncomfortable.

Tom pushed Megan away and said firmly, "No, I just want to tell you to move away everything you left with me when you get back."

Megan was stunned. "No, you can't do this... You said that no matter what I did wrong, you would forgive me and stay by my side..." She just lacked security and wanted a lot of love. What did she do wrong?

Tom pushed Megan away. "No, I've changed my mind now." He looked at Megan deeply. "I'll take back the bank card. Take good care of yourself in the future.."

Chapter 245: Selling the House overnight

Megan was shocked. This wouldn't do! If Tom took back the bank card, she wouldn't have any money. How would she live in the future?

"Tom..." Megan wanted to return to Tom's arms, but Tom pushed her out resolutely!

There were already many people gathered outside to watch the show. When Megan was pushed out) a group of people immediately pointed at her, making her feel embarrassed.

Tom looked at Amelia and George. Without a word) he packed the Chinese herbs they had chosen and handed them to Amelia. "I'm sorry, the shop is closing early today. I'll give these herbs to you." After a pause, he looked into Amelia's eyes and said, "Thank you."

Old Madam Walton held Amelia's hand and said, "Let's go."

George pushed Old Madam Walton's wheelchair and the group passed Megan and walked out. Amelia was still holding that flirtatious ghost in her hand. She felt so tired! This flirtatious ghost auntie was too heavy!

Old Madam Walton turned around and asked curiously, "Mia, what are you carrying?"

Amelia recalled how frightened her grandmother was previously and immediately shook her head. "I didn't take anything! Grandma, I'm playing!" Old Madam Walton was suspicious, but she did not ask further.

Along the way, Amelia stopped a few times. Although she caught the flirtatious ghost, she did not forget Eldest Uncle and Grandma's medicine. She went to a few pharmacy shops and bought all the herbs she needed before walking towards the parking lot.

Just as they reached the parking lot, Megan stuck to them again. She cried. "Mr. Walton, I'm so sad... I'm really sad... I don't know what to do now, and I don't know where to go. Boohoo... Can you lend me your shoulder? Just to lean on it..."

Megan looked at George pitifully and thought to herself that she had already cut ties with Robert, Tom, and Jack for George. Now that she was really single, he should accept her, right? After all, she was so pitiful...

When George heard Megan's words, his fists hardened! Seeing that Megan was shamelessly trying to lean over, he elegantly raised his leg and kicked her out! Megan happened to hit the trash can and knocked it down. She even fell into the trash can with a bang! Old Madam Walton:

Amelia:

After kicking Megan away, George tidied his clothes and said indifferently, "If you dare to pester me again, I'll kick you every time I see you!" After spending too much time with Alex, his body was more or less stained with his bandit aura...

Old Madam Walton and Amelia were stunned!

George picked up Amelia and placed her in the car. He then stepped on the pedal and pushed Old Madam Walton up. With a bang, the car instantly disappeared, leaving only the exhaust.

Megan lay on the ground and watched the luxury car leave. She cried until her heart was about to break. A scene couldn't help but appear in her mind: The male lead had misunderstood the female lead and heartlessly abandoned her by the roadside. He drove the car away. The female lead cried sadly and fainted on the ground. Then, the male lead, who was driving halfway, regretted it and returned in time to hug the female lead tightly...

Megan lay on the ground and waited for a long time. It was not until dark that she realized that she had been abandoned. She cried all the way back. In the end, when she arrived at Jack's house, she realized that he had actually moved overnight. The house was still there in the morning, but the house was sold in the afternoon?

Megan was speechless. She wiped her tears and went to Tom's house. Tom was the owner of a pharmaceutical store in the Chinese medicine trading market and had a small company of his own. He was also the richest among her three boyfriends. He lived in a high-end neighborhood. When Megan arrived, she realized that Tom had changed the lock. Tom was not at home, but her things were all at the door. When the cleaning lady saw her, she even asked if she wanted these things. If not, she would sweep them away.

Megan had no choice but to drag her suitcase and take a taxi to Robert's house. Robert was in a bad mood. The Walton Corporation had actually fired him because of such a small matter! He could not figure it out. He was clearly a victim too! Moreover, he had only brought Megan into the company... At the thought of this, Robert regretted it. It was all Megan's fault!

Therefore, when Robert saw that Megan still dared to look for him, he locked the house and carried his bag back to his hometown. No matter how Megan cried and begged him, he did not look back..

Chapter 246: That Woman Is Disgusting

Megan was at her wits' end and wanted to find a hotel to stay in for the time being. In the past, her three boyfriends would take turns to give her money. The hotels she stayed in were also four-stars and above. But now, she had to take the money herself. She looked at her savings and realized that it was not even enough to pay for the room!

Megan couldn't help but squat by the road and cry. She felt like the pitiful female lead in a television drama who was targeted by all parties. She was weak, helpless, and pitiful. The male lead even misunderstood her and ignored her... She could only live on the streets and suffer. When the male lead found her again, her eyes no longer had the dazzling brilliance of stars. She was like a marionette...

Megan cried and felt so pitiful. She did not feel that she was in the wrong. Shouldn't a man who really loved her love everything about her? Shouldn't he accept all her flaws? Therefore, at this moment, Megan felt sorry for herself. She felt sad and pitiful, but she did not feel that she had done anything wrong at all, nor did she regret what she had done.

At this moment, a taxi drove over quickly and pressed against the waterhole beside it. With a splash, Megan was splashed with dirty water, and something flew into her mouth. She retched crazily and vomited for a long time until she had no strength left. She hugged the bus stop sign and cried...

On the other side, Amelia dragged the flirtatious ghost back to the house and tied her to the head of the bed.

The flirtatious ghost: "Damn it! Let go of me! Let go!" She was an evil ghost! Was it reasonable to tie her up like a dog?!

Amelia: "Go ahead and shout. No one will hear you even if you shout until your throat breaks." Therefore, no matter how much the flirtatious ghost shouted, she could not disturb her family.

The flirtatious ghost was even angrier and shouted even harder!

The parrot, Seven, flapped its wings and walked in with a cackle. "So noisy, so noisy, so noisy!"

William stuck his head in and asked curiously, "Mia, what did you catch this time?"

Amelia looked at him and said, "Brother, you don't want to know."

William:

After dinner, Amelia played downstairs for a while before returning to her room. At this moment, the flirtatious ghost's throat was already smoking from shouting. She lay on the floor lifelessly and did not move.

Amelia greeted her with a smile. "Auntie flirtatious ghost, have you calmed down?"

The flirtatious ghost: "Hmph!"

Amelia moved a small stool and sat opposite the flirtatious ghost. She said excitedly, "Alright, it's time to listen to the story!" She held her chin and looked at the flirtatious ghost eagerly.

William followed her for some reason. He quickly ran over and set up his ghost camera. Then, he carefully turned it on and took a look. He happened to see a female ghost in red looking straight at him. He was so frightened that his legs went limp and he hurriedly ran to Amelia's side. "Mia, let's sit together!"

Elmer Stevens's mouth twitched. He waved his hand and said, "Alright, explain. What's your name? What are your birth characters? Where were you born? How did you die?"

At this moment, the flirtatious ghost had already calmed down a lot. Thinking back to the time when she was lying on Megan's head, she could not help but curse!

“That woman disgusts me to death!” The flirtatious ghost said angrily. “Do you dare to believe that I, an evil ghost, was actually deceived by her fantasies?”

Elmer Stevens was confused.

Amelia. “???”

The flirtatious ghost was on the verge of tears. “I originally attached myself to Megan because I wanted to absorb some Yin energy. I didn’t expect her to be so good at fantasizing!” After staying on Megan for so long, the flirtatious ghost had almost forgotten what she was here for. If word got out, it would be too embarrassing for the evil ghost!

Elmer Stevens sneered. “Then when we caught you, you still shouted to let go of you?”

The flirtatious ghost’s face was filled with unhappiness. “That’s another matter.” If she was caught, she might be destroyed. That time, she could leave Megan and could completely find another host! In this world, was it not easy to find flirtatious men or women?

The more the flirtatious ghost thought about it, the angrier she became. “There are so many flirtatious people in this world. I can easily find one that matches my eight characters, but I’m blind and actually chose Megan!”

Elmer Stevens:

Amelia:

She was indeed quite blind. This was the first evil ghost that Amelia had encountered that was affected by the host. No matter how she put it... it was a tragic ghost!

The flirtatious ghost continued to cry, “You don’t know! It should have been Megan’s desire and greed that turned into murderous aura to nourish me, but in the end...”

Chapter 247: Don ‘t Insult Me!

The flirtatious ghost was indignant. “The murderous aura on my body has become Megan’s nutrition! I’ve been a ghost for so many years, but I’ve never seen such a brainless woman! She fantasizes all day that she’s the female lead in a television drama, a noble princess, the number one beauty in the world that everyone loves! She also fantasizes that her hair becomes curly when she’s happy, straight when she’s unhappy, that it rains when she’s sad, and that petals float in the sky when she’s happy... It’s as if the entire world revolves around her!”

The more she spoke, the louder the flirtatious ghost’s voice became. “Although I’m a flirtatious ghost, I’m not an idiot! But Megan! She’s a flirt and an idiot! I feel that her brain is different from ordinary people!”

The flirtatious ghost complained for a long time, as if she wanted to complain about the grievances and resentment she had accumulated!

Amelia asked curiously, “So how did you die and become a flirtatious ghost? Were you like Ms. Mango in the past?”

The flirtatious ghost exploded. “Bullsh*t! Don’t insult me!” After saying that, she seemed to have thought of something and had an indescribable expression... She regretted it! Why didn’t she realize how stupid love was until she died?!

The flirtatious ghost said faintly, “Let me tell you a joke. In the past, there was a zombie that loved to eat people’s heads. At this moment, a woman passed by.

The zombie grabbed the woman’s head and bit it. Then, it spat and kicked the woman’s head far away. It even said angrily: Ptui! Love brains, even dogs don’t eat them!”

Elmer Stevens:

Amelia:

The flirtatious ghost sighed. "My name is Faye Newton. I was born in Norfolk City. Although my family isn't rich, I have some money. My parents have a villa in the wealthy district. Because I'm the only daughter of the family, my parents transferred that villa to my name."

Before Faye went to university, she had always been a girl who studied seriously and had an obedient personality. Her parents were very assured of her, but no one knew that she was suppressing a surging presumption in her heart. After entering university, Faye broke away from her parents' supervision. She felt like a free little bird.

Faye: "During that period of time, I often went to bars, karaoke, and played. Because I was rich and good-looking, I had many suitors around me. One of my boyfriends was from the same city as me, and his family background was similar to mine. After we were together for half a year, I suddenly felt bored."

Amelia scratched her head. "Why?" Adult feelings were so difficult to understand! Why did she suddenly not like it when she liked it?

The flirtatious ghost said, "Maybe it's because I was tired of it after a long time. I know the other party's entire personality and his shortcomings. It's as if I can see the end of the future at a glance." Then, she felt bored.

At this moment, another boy with a completely different personality from Faye's boyfriend walked into her line of sight. Faye said, "This boy's family is from the countryside, but he's very obedient. He's so obedient and sensible that it makes one's heart ache. He's like a little rabbit and sticks to me every day. I really like his personality." Hence, she quickly broke up with her first boyfriend and got together with her second boyfriend.

Amelia nodded. "Then you chose the boy you like this time. You'll be together forever, right?"

Unexpectedly, the flirtatious ghost shook her head. "No, we broke up in a month."

Amelia was stunned. "Why?"

The flirtatious ghost said, "Because he's too obedient, not challenging at all, and too clingy!"

Amelia: "... But didn't you like him to be obedient and clingy from the beginning? Why did you hate him to be obedient and clingy in the end?"

Amelia pursed her lips, thinking about something.

Elmer Stevens asked the flirtatious ghost, "And then?"

The flirtatious ghost said, "After breaking up, I realized that if I didn't fall in love, my heart would feel empty. At this moment, I felt that my ex-boyfriend was good..." She wanted to find her ex-boyfriend to get back together. At this moment, another senior appeared beside her. The senior was gentle and handsome, bright and cheerful, and very caring.

Amelia nodded. She had already guessed it. "So you got together with the Senior?"

The flirtatious ghost sighed. "I didn't want to, but Senior is really too handsome. Compared to my ex-boyfriend, everything about Senior feels fresh.."

Elmer Stevens was speechless. "You're indeed fickle."

The flirtatious ghost defended herself. "You can't say that. I was 100% invested in every relationship.. I was sincere!"

Chapter 248: Ex-Boyfriend and Ex-Ex-Boyfriend Ran

Away

Every time she talked about a new boyfriend) the flirtatious ghost felt like she had changed into a new dress. She liked him from the bottom of her heart, especially during the honeymoon period of the first month. She was glued to every boyfriend and even had to carry a backpack together. She wished she could become a conjoined baby.

The flirtatious ghost really liked the feeling of being in a relationship. She didn't even have a brain when she was in a relationship. Nine out of ten sentences would be about her boyfriend, and she often stayed in the rain for her boyfriend and did things like washing his underwear.

"Then were you hacked to death when you changed boyfriends?"

The flirtatious ghost: "... That's not necessary." She sighed. After she graduated, her family began to urge her to get married. Suddenly, they found out that she had been with her first boyfriend. Coincidentally, both families knew each other, so the parents of both sides began to matchmake her and her ex-boyfriend.

"At that time, I was in the stage of having an empty relationship, so I agreed," the flirtatious ghost said. "Perhaps I was tired of playing, but I also wanted to settle down. Soon, I began to discuss marriage with my ex-boyfriend. Although I wasn't as close to him as before, it was quite sweet. At this moment, I suddenly realized that there was a long-term side to relationships. I could also be very happy... I was willing to step into the grave of marriage."

At this moment, William, who had been silent, suddenly asked, "You should stop now, right?"

The flirtatious ghost shook her head. "At this moment, my second very obedient boyfriend came to look for me. He said sadly that he had not been able to forget me all these years and even forced a smile to wish me well. He brought me to see the fireworks and made a wish that I would be able to live a peaceful and happy life in my next life. When the fireworks bloomed, I saw him cry quietly."

Amelia hugged the parrot, Seven, and said, "He's a very good brother."

The flirtatious ghost: "Ptui! My death is related to him!"

Amelia. "???"

Elmer Stevens and William. "???"

The flirtatious ghost gritted his teeth and said, "At that time, when I saw his tears, my heart ached. I suddenly realized that I still loved him! But I'm about to get engaged, and I also love my fiancé deeply. What should I do?"

Hence, the flirtatious ghost went on a date with her obedient boyfriend while preparing for her wedding with her fiancé. The thrill of secretly dating made her have the illusion that she loved her obedient boyfriend even more.

"I felt that I owed him and let him break up with me, but he rejected me. He said that as long as he could be with me, he would be willing to be nameless for the rest of his life." At this point, the flirtatious ghost cried. "I was so touched that I cried. How could I let my obedient boyfriend have nothing? So I transferred the villa my parents gave me to his name and even used my savings to buy him a car. But after a few days, he stopped contacting me. At that time, I was preparing for the wedding and was extremely busy. I didn't think too much about it. I thought that he was in a bad mood and deliberately hid. When I got married to my fiancé and exchanged rings, I was still thinking about him. But later on, I found out that this scumbag sold the villa and car! He exchanged them for cash and ran away overnight!"

Amelia, Elmer Stevens, and William:

At this point, the flirtatious ghost became more and more excited. "So be it, but later on, I found out that he ran away with Senior! My ex cheated me of my money and eloped with my ex-ex. Is this something that can happen in real life?!"

Elmer Stevens:

Amelia. “???”

William: “!!!”

The flirtatious ghost cried. “These two liars!” Her villa had been sold, and her family and husband quickly discovered it. After asking, her husband was almost angered to death! When his wife was sweetly preparing for their wedding, she was actually dating another man. He was wearing a green hat!

“My husband wanted to divorce me at that time.” The flirtatious ghost choked. “But after experiencing this, I realized that my husband was the one who loved me from the beginning to the end. I didn’t agree to the divorce, but my husband was determined to get a divorce. I had no choice. I begged him bitterly, but he wouldn’t let go... Later, I climbed up the tallest building in the neighborhood and threatened... I didn’t want to jump off the building. Who knew that it would rain those few days? The roof was too slippery.. I accidentally fell down!”

Chapter 249: There’s a Little Brother Inside

The flirtatious ghost’s face was ashen. “Do you know how terrified I was the moment I tell? I didn’t want to die. I was so frightened that my soul dissipated. Before I landed, I was scared to death. Then, I watched helplessly as my body hit the ground, and my brain exploded...”

At this moment, the flirtatious ghost’s ghost had yet to completely leave her body. She could still feel the pain in her body. The most terrifying thing was that she saw her brain spurt out and even spray in her face as a ghost! That was an indescribable fear and regret!

The building chosen by the flirtatious ghost happened to be built in the area with the most Yang energy in the middle of the mountain. It was the biggest building, and it was also the place where the Yang energy in the entire neighborhood gathered. After the flirtatious ghost died, she could not leave at all. She jumped down from the roof day and night, repeating the fear of being sprayed with brain matter! For a full ten years, she only left that place when she turned into an evil ghost!

"I'm so miserable..." The flirtatious ghost wiped her tears. "I'm so miserable..." She looked up at the ceiling with tears streaming down her face. "Once, there was a sincere love in front of me, but I didn't cherish it. If the heavens could give me a chance to do it again, I would say to my past self... F*ck you, those who cheat on others will die a horrible death!"

Elmer Stevens, Amelia, and William:

Amelia stammered, "So?"

The flirtatious ghost looked at Amelia pitifully. "So on account of my sincere repentance, can you not destroy me? Although I've become a ghost, it's better to live than die..."

The corners of William's mouth twitched. She had already turned into an evil ghost. Was she still alive?

Elmer Stevens was speechless as he wrote a few words in his booklet. Then, he heard Amelia pat her chest and promise, "Alright, I won't destroy you. Then come in yourself?"

The flirtatious ghost: "Where are we going?"

Amelia raised the Soul Retrieving Gourd. "In the Soul Retrieving Gourd, there's an ugly auntie and a little brother who loves to eat candy."

At the mention of the little brother, the flirtatious ghost's eyes lit up. "Sure, sure!" With that, he flew into the Soul Retrieving Gourd willingly.

Elmer Stevens silently crossed out what he had just written and wrote again.

Amelia raised the Soul Retrieving Gourd and shook it. "Master, is the Soul Retrieving Gourd full?"

Elmer Stevens did not even look up. "It's still early. Last time, one slot was filled. This time, it's two."

Amelia supported her chin. "But we caught a few ghosts. Why did it only increase by one bar?"

Elmer Stevens: "Because not every ghost is destroyed." The Soul Retrieving Gourd needed to refine the murderous aura of the evil ghost. If the evil ghost had obtained Amelia's permission, entering the Soul Retrieving Gourd was equivalent to entering a safe space. It could not be converted into the murderous aura needed by the Soul Retrieving Gourd.

Amelia lay on the bed and stared at the Soul Retrieving Gourd. No one knew what she was thinking.

William took out his notebook and began to formulate and calculate... In the end, when he saw the results, he sighed. No, he had to find more ghosts.

Inside the Soul Retrieving Gourd, the ugly auntie and the cowardly ghost were playing rock-paper-scissors. The defeated ghost took a sip of 'Ganges River water'. Then, the flirtatious ghost came in with a smile. For some reason, the cowardly ghost suddenly trembled.

The flirtatious ghost greeted them as if they were familiar with each other. "Hello, what are you playing?"

The ugly auntie and the cowardly ghost:

On the other side, the barbecue stall in the city village was filled with people. They were holding beer and bragging. Occasionally, there were some vulgarities and loud shouts.

Past this noisy place was the densely packed self-built housing area in the city. There was a plaque hanging on one of the buildings. Colorful running lights flickered on it. On the plaque were two large words: Rich Apartments!

In a studio apartment on the fourth floor, Shawn was excitedly editing a video. He was editing today's live broadcast. He carefully selected the edited scene and wrote the title: Coincidentally meeting Amelia and personally witnessing the scene of a three-timer!

This title was too dirty. When people who didn't know better saw Amelia's name, they would think that Amelia was three-timing! They would definitely click in curiously to take a look! Other than the title, there was also Amelia's figure in the video, as well as the scene of Megan's three-timing large-scale. Therefore, as soon as this video was released, the number of views exploded! The number of comments and likes increased exponentially, and the popularity was still rising!

Chapter 250: A Money Tree

There was also a small program link behind Shawn's video. This was the small program promotion mission he had accepted from the Mission Square. As long as there was enough exposure, he would be paid according to a certain ratio!

The last video had more than nine million views!

"I'm rich! I'm rich!" Shawn's eyes lit up. He edited a few more videos according to the keywords "Amelia, three-timing". He planned to post one a day. Every video had a different delivery link. After he had more fans, he could accept missions with higher rewards... Seeing the increasing number of fans, Shawn seemed to see a pile of money waving at him. He sighed happily. "This Amelia is indeed a money tree!"

The next morning, Shawn couldn't wait to get up. The first thing he did was to look at yesterday's video earnings. 3,368 yuan!

Shawn jumped up in joy. "More than 3,000 yuan a day... That's more than 100,000 yuan a month..." What kind of work was this?! He decisively resigned from his job and only wanted to grab Amelia, the money tree.

At this moment, the door was knocked on. "Shawn from 404! It's time to pay the rent!" The landlord's muttering voice came from outside. "You've been late for a few months!"

The landlord was a woman with curly hair wearing a T-shirt and pants. She was wearing flip-flops and had a lollipop in her mouth. She knocked on the door in front of her again and shouted, "You're not paying the rent again, right? Shawn, you've been delaying for six months! Every time I come, you pretend not to be around. Why are you so thick-skinned!"

This single room was in the corner of the fourth floor. The door was at the top of the stairs. There were many people going up and down every day, and it was very noisy. The light in the room was not good either. There was only a small window in the room, and the room number was still 404. It sounded the same as death, and it did not sound auspicious. Therefore, the rent of this room was the cheapest. It was only 450 yuan a month, which was 2,700 yuan in six months. Coupled with the utility bills...

"It's a total of 3,268 yuan, Shawn! Hurry up and pay!" Helena Walton knocked on the door again, but she did not have much hope in her heart. From the remnant memories of the Host, she knew that this tenant of 404 was especially poor. He was also lazy. His monthly salary was not even enough for him to smoke and drink. Moreover, he was especially good at showing off. His monthly salary was less than 3,000 yuan, and he even smoked cigarettes that cost 50 yuan a pack... As a result, the Host she possessed kept thinking about collecting the rent of this house even until her death.

Helena knocked on the door again. After a while, there was actually a rustling sound coming from inside, followed by an impatient voice. "Wait!"

Helena raised her eyebrows. Oh, he actually agreed?

The original name of the original owner of Helena's body was Hall Walton. Her parents had passed away a few years ago because they were too tired, leaving behind these 40 buildings as her inheritance. These 40 buildings were Hall's memory for her parents. She had always taken good care of them. Sometimes, she would even do the cleaning herself. When the doors and windows were broken, she would personally repair them. However, not long ago, Hall accidentally died from overwork because she stayed up late to make some money and calculate the rent!

Hence, Helena transmigrated. Helena looked at Room 404 in a daze. She felt that her memory seemed to be incomplete. When she transmigrated to this body, she was clearly thinking about something very important, but no matter how she thought, she could not remember what this important thing was...

“Forget it, I’ll collect the rent first...” Helena held a lollipop in her mouth. Since she had occupied Hall’s body, she naturally had to be more professional. No matter what, these 40 buildings had to be maintained well.

At this moment, the door of 404 opened with a creak. Shawn walked out sloppily. With heavy dark circles under his eyes, he asked angrily, “How much is it?”

Helena narrowed her eyes and looked at Shawn’s broken left finger without a trace. It was still wrapped in gauze. This was... cutting off his finger to exchange for money?

Helena retracted her gaze and sneered. “What’s wrong? You’re rich now, and your back is stiff? You’re the one who owes me six months of rent, and you’re still looking impatient?”

Shawn found it a little strange. Usually, his landlord was not like this. She was a good person. Although he was late in payments for six months, every time he could not avoid meeting her, he would plead with her. She would not pursue the matter and let him continue delaying, as if she was afraid of making him angry.. But now, why was she so unyielding?
