

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 141

Dorothy chewed on that sentence over and over again before finally getting the gist of it.

“So, you weren't drunk?”

The absurdity of it all made Everett laugh at himself. Wasn't he clear enough? Could she really not see what was going on in his heart?

“Yes. I was completely sober when I knocked on your door that night.”

“But don't you have someone you like?” Dorothy stammered.

She had seen the interview video Karen had sent her with her own eyes. In the video, Everett admitted that he had feelings for a woman.

“Can't that woman be you?”

Dorothy froze on the spot.

Was Everett confessing his feelings for her?

“From the very beginning, when I received your text message, knocked on your door, and proposed a marriage agreement, I had planned it all.”

When he saw Dorothy among a crowd o on a business trip, he had already started scheming about how to get close to her.

Then he received her text message and figured she was probably drunk. Despite his hesitation, he decided to seize the opportunity.

Missing his opportunity to be braver when he was young was something he didn't like to mention.

But, on that day, everything aligned, it was as if the universe were giving him a gift. So, when the chance was laid out right in front of him, he had no reason to hesitate anymore.

He decided to start by sweeping her off her feet, then make her his. He thought this was the best way to win her over.

Noticing that Dorothy was in a daze, Everett suddenly grabbed her hand

“Come with me”

He led Dorothy to his car and drove her back to Bay Residence. He went to the study and pulled out a letter from a neatly arranged stack of middle school textbooks.

Dorothy recognized it.

Wasn't this the letter she had accidentally found before? It even had 0825 written on it

“What is this?”

“Open it and see.”

With a puzzled glance at him, Dorothy tore open the envelope.

The first sentence of the letter read, “Dorothy, my deskmate.”

The letter was so old that the edges of the letters were a bit blurry, but the strong, confident strokes were clearly Everett's

“Is this letter for me?”

“Yes, I gave it to you?”

“But I don't remember” No matter how hard Dorothy tried, she couldn't recall any instances of interacting with Everett alone.

She even remembered that they rarely spoke to each other,

Despite being deskmates, she always kept her distance from him. She actually wanted the teacher to reshuffle the seating arrangement and put her at the very back of the class. She didn't want to be near him and his crowd of admirers, who were constantly chattering and delivering love letters, asking her to pass these messages to him. She didn't want to feel like a country bumpkin sitting next to the school's heartthrob, making him look even more handsome and esteemed and making her feel even more pathetic and poor.

“You just forgot This envelope was actually returned to me by you”

When Everett left the letter on her desk back then, he spent the whole class nervously waiting. When he was called out to play basketball after class, he returned to find her holding the letter. Her eyebrows were knitted together as she tossed it back onto his desk impatiently.

From then on, they never spoke again. Everett would always leave the classroom for the playground as soon as class ended.

“I probably didn’t know it was from you” Dorolly realized that was the only possible explanation. “There were so many love letters for you at that time. They were all over my desk, so L’

“So you thought this was another love letter for me from someone else?”

Dorothy pecked her head like a chick, murmuring a soft “uh huh.”

“Don’t be mad” She noticed that Everett’s handsome face seemed a bit stiff. She thought he was angry, so she quickly wanted to read the rest of the letter.

Suddenly, Everett’s long fingers swept away the letter.

“I think it’s better you don’t read it”

“Why not?”

“No reason” He really couldn’t bear to look at the stuff he wrote when he was young and inexperienced, let alone Int Dorothy read it right under his nose.

Dorothy was left puzzled. One moment he was showing her the letter, and the next he was taking it away

Suddenly, something occurred to het

“You said the letter was for me, then why did you write 0825 on it? What does 0825 signify?”

What did this string of numbers have to do with her?

She always thought it represented Heather and that the letter was written to her.

“On the 25th of August next year, I’ll tell you.

He wanted to tell her this year, but he missed the chance

Dorothy felt like that was a bit too far away.

"I'm tired. Let's rest. Everett left the study at a brisk pace.

With her sharp eyes, Dorothy noticed that his ears had turned red.

Wait, that was not the main point. "Hey, don't leave me hanging!"

Everett didn't explain the meaning of C825 to her but that night, he was the most demanding he had ever been. He was sometimes ruthless and sometimes gentle.

She could barely hear his faint sighs behind her,

In a daze, Dorothy could still see the tattoo on his chest. She asked in a voice broken by passion, Heather.... when is her birthday?"

"How should I know?"

"Not August 25th?"

His handsome face came down, and he punishingly bit her lip. If you had doubts, you should've asked me sooner,"

The fact that she could ask this question now proved that she cared about his relationship with Heather.

Everett was both happy and helpless

In Dorothy's eyes, there was still clear doubt. Even though he thought he had shattered many of her doubts today.

Afraid of getting angry again, he simply lowered his head to seal her lips as his hands gripped her harder, almost wishing he could melt her into his body.

Dorothy could feel the consequences of their sleepless night all over her body.

She barely got out of bed.

She gingerly walked into the dining room and poor. Her breakfast and his note were still on the table.

"My mom won't come anymore. You can sleep in here."

She sat down and looked at the breakfast Everett had carefully prepared with her mind still in a daze.

Did he mean that back in junior high, he already liked her? And all this 0875 stuff had to do with her, not Heather?

Every piece of this was making Dorothy feel like last night was some kind of hallucination.

She shook her head, trying to dispel all the things that were running through her mind.

Suddenly, the phone next to her rang.

She saw that it was a call from the hospital, and her heart unconsciously sank.

Is this. Ms. Sanchez? Something's wrong. Your mother is missing! She said she wanted to go for a walk in the hospital garden, and then she said she wanted to use the bathroom. The caregiver waited outside for a while, but when she didn't come out, they went in to check and found that she wasn't there!"

15:12)

...of the table.

Dorothy's brain buzzed in shock. She jumped up from her chair, knocking into the corner of *111 be right there! You guys should call the police!"

"We've already called the police. You better hurry"

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 143

Dorothy couldn't care less about breakfast. She made a beeline for the hospital

Bella seemed to have had a plan this time. Even her escape route was all figured out

"There's a back gate in our yard, and the gardener passes through it every afternoon to take care of the plants and trees. After doing the rounds, he leaves. That's when she sneaked out"

The hospital immediately took this matter seriously and pulled up the security footage.

The two bodyguards stationed at the door of room V1 were on pins and needles, fearing that Mr. Lopez would lay the blame on them. "This isn't on you guys. It's my mom who wanted to leave. Dorothy was worried and anxious, but she wouldn't let others take the fall for

If Bella wanted to make a run for it, no one could have stopped her

"So, what do we do now? Should we contact Mr. Lopez?"

"No, don't tell him. Dorothy shook her head, not wanting to distract Everett with this.

She sat down and thought hard.

Why did her mom suddenly want to leave the hospital?

Although she could move around after the surgery, each step was still painful. If she insisted on leaving despite this, there must have been something she needed to do.

What could it be?

Suddenly, Dorothy thought of Heather.

If she returned to Eldaria City, maybe her mom returned 100

Who else could have passed the note to her mom and told her about her daughter selling her body for medical expenses?

Dorothy quickly found Heather's phone number. But as she was about to call, she caught sight of her mom returning to the room.

"Mom!" She called out and rushed towards her.

Bella seemed shocked. She stared at her daughter for a while before speaking up.

"Did they... bully you?"

"Who told you that? No! They just want to upset you and cause your heart disease to act up!"

But Bella stubbornly looked at her and then pulled out a video.

Dorothy's heart sank when she saw it.

It was a video of people at the company gossiping behind her back. Someone had deliberately filmed it and sent it to her mom,

“Don’t listen to them. The company will make its own judgments. I don’t even care about it.”

“Is this the doing of that vixen and her daughter?”

“No, it’s just friction between colleagues.”

“Dorothy, I’ve seen that woman” Bella suddenly spoke up. “And her daughter”

Dorothy was taken aback.

“I knew something was off when you asked me about it that day, Don’t hide things from me.” Bella had gone out to see who this Heather was and if she was the daughter of that woman from years ago.

At first glance, Bella was already certain.

Dorothy felt a headache coming on as she helped her mom back to the bed.

“Mom, no matter what, you should focus on not letting these things affect your mind. Pretend you didn’t see it I can handle it.”

“They bullied me back then, and now they’re bullying my daughter. If I let this go, I don’t deserve to be your mother” Bella thought for a moment, then looked at her daughter. “Dorothy can you find me a powerful TV station? I’ve made up my mind. I’m going to tell the world about everything.”

The CEO’s Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 144

“Mom, relax. I went to do a paternity test on Heather’s DNA. We need the results before we can expose this. Otherwise, we’re just shooting in the dark. Heather could easily turn it around on us and sue us

After all, she was a lawyer by trade, so they had to play by the book.

“Alright! I’ll back you up when the time comes” Bella took her daughter’s hand and patted it. “I’m sorry you’ve been dragged into this. This feud was supposed to have ended by now.”

“Mom, I can take anything as long as you’re safe.”

Dorothy didn't want to make this public, but with Heather pushing her buttons, she had no choice but to fight back.

The video, of course, was sent to Bella at Heather's behest.

Everything was orchestrated to bait Bella.

At this point, their words meant nothing. No one would believe them, especially if this blew up. Dorothy's reputation would be tarnished, and even the news of her betraying the company could reach Amanda's ears. The Lopez family would never accept such a woman.

"Heather, I'm here to see you" Outside the hospital room, Amanda walked in wearing a light purple mandarin gown, making her look elegant and noble. She was carrying a pot of chicken soup that was specially cooked for Heather.

Upon seeing Amanda, Heather struggled to get up.

Amanda quickly moved to stop her. "You just got out of surgery; don't push yourself. You should've told me you were in the hospital. I had to pry it out of Everett."

"I didn't want to worry you. Heather replied weakly as her pale face showed her frailty.

"You should've told me anyway! What happened? I thought your surgery was successful."

Heather looked up, hesitated, and then carefully asked, "What did Everett tell you?"

"He's been busy with work and didn't mention a thing. On my way here, I called him, and he said that you accidentally reopened your surgery wound."

Accidentally?

Heather's lips moved, but she lowered her eyes. "Oh, he said that?"

"Is that really what happened?" Amanda sensed Heather's evasion.

"Yes, he was telling the truth."

With that, even Amanda knew her son was just brushing her off.

She sighed and gently touched Heather's hand.

"Sweetheart, I know Everett has made things difficult for you, but once you marry into our family, I promise we won't mistreat you. Everett has been very busy lately. When I went to his place yesterday, it was dark, and he still wasn't home."

Amanda went to Everett's place?

"You went into Bay Residence?"

"Yes." Amanda recalled the maid.

"Everett even hired someone to clean for him. I was quite surprised. He has changed a lot over the years. I believe he'll treat you better in the future. After all, your contribution to the Lopez Corporation is undeniable."

Heather chuckled. "Everett told you that the girl was hired to clean?"

"The maid herself told me." Amanda saw Heather Jaughing and frowned. "Why do you seem like you're doubting this?"

"Don't overthink." Heather quickly responded. "Your health isn't good, so you shouldn't get upset"

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 145

But there was no use saying this now

Amanda wasn't a fool. She quickly picked up something fishy from Heathers tone and body language

"Who's that gil"" She demanded

"She's his cleaner, really"

"Don't try to pull the wool ever ny eyes, Heather You should be on my side! How could you cover this up for Everell Amanda was pissed off.

The very idea that this woman had free access to her sor's home meain she was no nidinary person.

She actually thought that it was a good thing that her son hired a cleaner. She knew her son was too busy with his work, so he might not have time to clea" "is room, and since he was a neat freak, a cleaner was just the thing he needed

But after watching Heathen stammer today, she was certain that the wasn't a clearer

Heather hung her head biting her lip in discomfort.

“You should ask Everett if I tell you, he’ll be mad Everett doesn’t like people gossiping about him if I tell you this, he might not do anything to you, but hell definitely give me a hard time.”

Amanda jumped to her feet. Her face showed her increasingly annoyed expression

“Fine, I won’t ask you to ask him now!”

Amanda

Heather reached out to stop her, but Amanda was already storming out of the room

It was clear she was livid

Once Amanda was out of sight, Heather’s troubled expression faded, and it was replaced by a cold smirk

Jeffrey was right. If she kept waiting around, she’d just watch Everett and Dorothy’s relationship deepen. She had to use her trump card

The Lumina Bay contract was at a crucial point. Everett was sitting inside the conference room, discussing the contract details with Kevin online

Everett decided to catch a morning flight to Lumina Bay the next day and if everything went well return that night

It was a hassle, but he couldn’t leave Dorothy now

Firstly, her framing incident was still unresolved, so anything could happen Secondly, there was Kenneth around Dorothy

He had to be cautious

“Mr. Lopez, should we delay submitting the signed contract Key was hoping to get Dorothy’s name on this project too.

This was a rare opportunity for a newbie in the investment banking industry if she missed it, even if she was proven innocent later, the opportunity wouldn’t come again, and no one could change the names on the contract

Kevin nodded. He was about to log off when Everett added, "Include Dorothy's name!

Huh?

Kevin was stunned "But...

'I will sort out Dorothy's issue before the names are announced"

After saying this. Everett logged off from the company software.

Leaving Kevin, on the other side, baffled

This was risky Mr Lopez never did things like this.

It would have been manageable if he wanted to postpone the contract submission since there was no risk involved. But to include Dorothy's name now was troublesome.

If he couldn't clear up the issue before the names were announced, the Lumina Bay side would definitely kick up a fuss.

If anything went wrong with the project, the Lopez Corporation would be in the firing line

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 146

It seemed like Mr Inpet was using the interests of the Leper Corporation as a guarantee for Dory

Would anyone do this for a classmate or a close friend? How deep would that friendship have to be?

Everett left the conference room to find his assistant already waiting outside the door

"Mr. Lopez your flight's booked. We haven't scheduled the return flight yet. Once you're done with your business in Lumina Bay just shoot me a message and I'll book it for you"

Everett nodded and took a few long strides back to his office. Just as he pushed open the door, he was surprised to see his mother sitting on the sofa looking all fired up.

He turned his handsome face and gave his assistant a look, who quickly closed the door and left the offer.

“Mom, do you need something”

“Don’t you think I deserve to know that you have another woman staying at your house Amanda went straight to the point. “The girl i met pesterday, she’s not just some cleaner, she’s the mistress you are keeping at home isn’t she

Everett didn’t like the word mistress caused his eyebrows to furrow

“That’s my business”

“So you admit it, huh?” Amanda stood up and walked over to him, scolding him loudly “Are you trying to kill me? Heather is your face! How could you do this to her? Only Heather could put up with that She even covered it up for you”

Faced with his mothers wild accusations. Everett showed little reaction other than a frown.

He knew this day would come. He had no face it, he just didn’t expect it to be so soon

Aher pause. Everett walked behind his desk and sat down

“Mom, I dont have romantic feelings for Heather”

“You’re going to be heartless, huh? Heather has made such a great contribution to the Lopez Corporation. Even your dad said that marrying her would be greatly beneficial to your career. Plus, you guys have known each other since you were kids Heather’s mom and your dad are close friends, if you’re not marrying her, who are you going to marry? That cleaner Amanda got angry as she spoke Suddenly she covered her chest.

Her face turned increasingly pale.

It looked like she couldn’t catch her breath

Seeing this, Everett immediately stood up to support her and then shouted, “Call an ambulance

“I’m going to the office of anger. Even in this state, Amanda didn’t forget to be angry

But her son wouldn’t budge. He just only pursed his lips all the way until she was loaded onto the ambulance

Fomunately her heart condition wasnt that seniaus, but her depression seemed to be flaring up.

On the way to the hospital, I wrett noticed has mother was scratching her own palm with her nails so hard that she was now bleeding

He tried to pull her hand away but Amanda seemed to be using all her strength to do this. He couldn't use too much force, womed that he would hurt her fingers..

This was her state when her depression acted up. She would harm herself, stab herself with a knife, headbutt the wall, and display many mossell harming behaviors

Finally they arrived at the hospital

Everett waited outside

She was rushed into the emergency room while Everett v

Suddenly, his phone beeped

He glanced down and saw that it was a message from Dorothy

Why did it have to be at this time?

you coming home tonight? Uh, I don't mean anything by it. I just wanted to say that if you're not coming home. I'm going to Karen's place

Everett sted at the words on the screen with a furrowed brow feeling a massive headache coming on.

This wasnt how he had pictured Dorothy meeting his mothat. Before he could even introduce them, his mother was already vehemently against it. How was he supposed to tell her they were already married?

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 147

Hinderers paused for a moment before he replied

Aight, pick you up when I get back tomanne

Not long after he put down his phone the doctor came out of the emergency room. Upon seeing Everett, the doctor's expression lapsed.

"Mr. Lopez your mother's condition is rather peculiar. Once she falls into a deep com like this, she loses all will to live. It's likely due to some kind of shock. I checked her records, and she has severe depression, which is a serious matter."

"I understand," Everett replied. He was well aware of his mother's situation. "How is she now?"

"She is out of immediate danger for now. We'll have to see how her vitals are, and if she remains stable, she'll be moved to a room!"

Everett gave a sigh of relief upon hearing this.

"Thank you for all your hard work."

"I'm just doing my job, Mr. Lopez. There's no need for thanks." The doctor spoke with a smile.

As he was about to leave, he turned back and said, "Please avoid causing her any more stress. Try to go along with her wishes as much as possible. Remember, she is

After a doctor's weren't miracle workers. There was no guarantee that they could save her again if something like this happened again.

As Everett watched the doctor leave, he rubbed his temples.

His phone had several missed calls from Kevin.

Clearly, there was something urgent.

But how could he possibly leave the country in a moment, given the current situation?

Finding a quiet spot, Everett called Kevin back.

"Mr. Lopez is there a change in your schedule tomorrow?

let you know tonight?"

"Well, Kevin knew that if Mr. Lopez could make it, he wouldn't let work slide if he couldn't, must mean something major must come up. There was no use in emphasizing the urgency of this matter to Mr. Lopez.

After hanging up Amanda was finally wheeled out of the emergency room mind was

Not long after she was moved to her mom, she opened her eyes. But she still looked out of it. It was as if her body was made, but her mind was

Everett stood by her bed, holding her hand. "Mom, do you recognize me?"

Upon hearing his voice, Amanda turned her head and slowly nodded. "Tiffany Heather"

He was truly at a loss for words.

As expected, that was the first thing she brought up

"Marry her" Amanda was insistent, even though she was slurring her words, she kept repeating this Everett's lips moved instinctively wanting to refuse. But after remembering the doctor's advice, he could only nod and remain silent.

Perhaps sensing her son's resistance. Amanda seemed to have an epiphany

"You're in love with that cleaning lady?"

"Mom, you've just come out of the CR Rest now call Dad and let him know he should come back as soon as possible to take care of you"

"No"

"Then go back to Elysian Country to recuperate. My work here is really busy, I'm afraid I won't be able to take care of you"

Amanda moved her lips, clutching Everett's hand lightly. "You want me to leave, so you can marry someone else?"

"The doctor said you're not well and need to relax. Let us deal with these things later"

"Everything else is negotiable, but Heather has to join the Lopez family. Amanda stared at her son unblinkingly. "I will not accept that cleaner"

The CEO's Hidden Love Midnight Temptations and Deep Desires - Chapter 148

To Amanda Dorothy wasn't a person whose name she needed to know. Belonging to her as 'The clearer' was rough.

Amanda thought she could win her son's approval, but this time. Everett just stared at him with his thin lips solely pined, unwilling to mention anything Heather in such a situation.

Neither mother nor so spoke. Their gazes met, each with their own thoughts.

The atmosphere seemed to freeze for a moment.

Thankfully. The doctor came over to call for a family member to sign some papers. It was then that Everett mused that he'd go check it out and left the room.

Amanda's situation was a bit special. She had the type of condition that could relapse anytime and anywhere. So, after the doctor had him sign, he repeatedly reminded him to along with her wishes because the mortality rate for this self-destructive type of depression was way high.

When Everett turned to the mom, he found another person.

Amanda must have called her.

Hearing footsteps, Heathered around and saw Everett start walking at the doorway.

Her mood wasn't good either.

His handsome face was locked tense with no visible emotion. But after so many years of being together, she knew his mood was.

"Are you here?" Although he guessed the answer, he asked indifferently when he spoke.

Heather hung her head low She was about to turn and leave, but Amanda was quick to intervene

"She's part of the Looe family too. There's nothing she needs to shy away from"

Seeing that mother and son were about to lock horns with neither willing to back down, Heather quickly stepped in "Amanda, I just remembered that I left some work undone. Now that I see you're awake, I'm relieved. I go back to work and come visit you aber I'm done."

She took a few steps back, then left the room, closing the door behind her

In an instant, only Amanda and Everett were left in the room

The medical equipment was still beeping away, and the smell of disinfectant lingered in the air, accompanied by an undercurrent of tension

Ever since Amanda was dropped and rescued she had fallen into a state of depression

Everett was always compliant with her requests, except for one thing marriage.

That was the only goal

"What's wrong with Heather? What does that cleaner have that makes her good enough for you?"

"You should know Eve'll's ice was low and hearse. He was unwilling to confront his mother.

Especially right after she just woke up.

"Everett, I'm being you. Please marry Heather

He must marry her Otherwise. She did even dare to think of the consequences

Everett left the hospital, got in his car and before he could even start the engine, Jellney drove up and cut him off.

He got out of his car andanocked on Everett's window

"How's your mem?"

Jeffrey sighed 'Didn't you say you were going to keep this a secret? Well now that Amanda's back home, indeed hard to keep hidden"

"Yep" Although it was sudden, Faetett had been prepared for her Ending out ever since she returned home

"But really need to tak to you. Why are you being like this? If it really dont work out you can just pretend to late to Amanda. I believe Heather would be more than happy to play along. At the very least, you can't let your moms curton watten tires, Dorothy wont know!

As a good buddy Jeffney know Heather's feelings and truly cared for DeNIT

But her couldn't understand why Everett was so stubborn. He was so flexible in handling less affairs. It was clear that the situation today could have been avoided.

Jeffrey did catch the meaning of this and nodded enthusiastically "Of course if you can't let go of Dorothy and want to appease your mom at the same time, my plan can make everyone happy. You might even lose interest in Dorothy. You're just being defiant because everyone's telling you to break up with her. Once she really falls for you, you might find her annoying. That's how I am when I'm chasing someone. They seem great, but once I have them they're boring"
