

Chapter 174: Sophia's Resignation

As they were about to continue their conversation, they suddenly looked up and saw Sophia standing ahead.

The direct gaze indicated that she had heard their conversation just now.

"Did the Park Group pay you to gossip?"

"Sorry, Miss Burns..." The two female employees immediately stood up, bowing apologetically in panic.

Sophia glanced at them. "You don't need to apologize to me. I'll report this matter truthfully to your department head, and you can explain it to him."

With that remark, she turned and headed straight to the CEO's office.

Sophia had already checked with Alec and confirmed that Liam was in his office. So, she knocked on the door before entering.

Hearing his voice from inside, she pushed the door open.

Liam glanced up for a second before returning to the documents in his hand.

His attitude towards her had changed drastically from when she first returned to the country!

Although their relationship wasn't particularly warm back then, at least he treated her as a trusted colleague, a good partner at work.

It was all because of Suzy, that mere employee!

Sophia narrowed her eyes slightly. She took a step forward, walked to his desk, and handed him the envelope she was holding.

"Liam, I know you've already made up your mind and believed that I framed Suzy. No matter how I explain, it's useless. So, I won't waste any more time. I choose to resign from my position as the General Counsel. Here's my resignation letter."

Upon hearing this, Liam finally reacted. He looked up, "The truth isn't something I can determine."

"But your judgment is all that matters to me! They can all wrongly accuse me, I don't care. In the past, no matter what people said about me in court, I never took it to heart.

"Even now, the gossip about me in the company, I can ignore it. But—your favoritism makes me feel like everything I do is in vain."

Sophia's eyes never left Liam's face.

It was true that Liam had invested a lot in Suzy, treating her with utmost care.

However, Sophia's contributions to Liam weren't any less!

Throughout the years since the establishment of Park Group, the company had faced various challenges.

It was her sleepless nights spent gathering evidence and finding solutions that made everyone in the industry aware of Park Group's formidable legal counsel!

Everyone came to know not to provoke their legal department because of her.

She really thought that the worst Liam would do was to remain neutral in this incident.

She never expected that he would wholeheartedly believe Suzy.

This made Sophia feel like all her years of hard work were a joke! A huge joke!

"You know whether you're guilty or not, and the company won't wrongly accuse you. It all hinges on the evidence."

"Do you have evidence that I framed Miss Chase?"

"I'm investigating."

Sophia chuckled. "You're just using the 'investigation' as an excuse to look for evidence against me. Now, for the sake of Mrs. Park's health, I'm willing to resign.

"You can blame me or whitewash Suzy. However, I only have one condition: pretend to be my partner in front of Mrs. Park."

Seeing Liam remain silent, she furrowed her brows.

"You know very well about her condition and whether she'll survive her next meltdown."

Sophia knew Liam might not agree.

However, she also knew Liam understood that it was the only option for now.
