

Chapter 179: Suzy is my Bottom Line

The implication was clear: she shouldn't sacrifice her last bit of dignity.

After hearing this, Sophia smiled.

"You will beg me because your father has already decided to make a move against Miss Chase."

Liam's face, usually composed, showed a hint of shock for the first time as he furrowed his brows deeply, "What did you say?!"

"Liam, you're not the same as you used to be," Sophia paused before adding, "You have a weakness now."

Suzy was now his weakness!

Once a person has a weakness, they are no longer invincible and will have their reservations.

After Sophia left, Liam had just returned when he saw Suzy hurrying out of the kitchen, "Something happened to my mother, I need to go there right away! I won't be able to join you for dinner."

"What happened?"

"I'm not sure of the details, the doctor called me. She got agitated again and had a heart attack."

Liam, remembering what Sophia had just said, insisted, "I'll come with you."

"No need." Suzy looked up at him.

"My mom hasn't accepted you yet, and if she were to wake up and see you, she might get agitated again! Just wait for me at home, I'll come back once everything is sorted out there."

"Then I'll drive you to the hospital."

Seeing his insistence, Suzy couldn't refuse and nodded.

Once they arrived at the hospital, Suzy barely had time to say goodbye before rushing inside.

Liam watched her disappear from view, then stayed outside and called his father.

After a few rings, the call was answered.

"What is it?"

"It was you who targeted Suzy's mother."

William only laughed and did not respond, "Son, when will you realize the vast difference between you and that Suzy? You two are not suited for each other."

"I've said it before, Suzy is my bottom line, she is off-limits!"

Liam's hands clenched the steering wheel tightly, veins popping on his arms, and his eyes darkened in rage.

"If your mother heard this, she would be heartbroken. You're neglecting your own mother's life for a woman. As your father, it is my duty to discipline you," William spoke succinctly, not dwelling on the matter.

"Moreover, I've already compromised. You just need to pretend to be a couple with Sophia in front of your mother. I don't care what you do privately with that Suzy! If you can't even accept this..."

"Then.. don't blame me for being cruel. You can protect Suzy, but you might not be able to protect everyone around her, nor her reputation and credibility in the business world."

As the chairman of Park Group, destroying Suzy would be easy!

Even with Liam supporting her, the power of public opinion is fearsome; no matter what efforts Suzy makes, they will go unnoticed and uncared for! In the eyes of others, she would simply be seen as a decorative object.

Given Suzy's personality, she would likely go mad.

Liam was now certain that the incident tonight with Suzy's mother was orchestrated by his father.

"Don't target her." Liam gritted his teeth, his jawline sharp with tension. "...I will consider it."

"Good, after all, I don't want things between us to get too strained, becoming a joke for others to see."

Not long after hanging up the phone, Liam saw a message from Suzy on WhatsApp.

"I see your car is still downstairs. You can go back, my mother is fine, don't worry! She just got a bit startled, that's all."
