

Chapter 182: Restructure the Entire Legal Department

He aimed to give Suzy, a woman with a sensitive nature who frequently hid her true feelings, the utmost support possible.

Suzy smiled as she looked at the man in front of her, who, despite his cold, dignified, and aloof appearance as the CEO of Park Group to others, spoke with such thoughtful and gentle words. The emotions stirring in her heart were beyond words!

She felt that even if in the future it turned out her mother was right, that Liam was just toying with her, this moment alone was enough!

She didn't want to ponder over anything else.

Sophia's abrupt resignation had a temporary impact on the legal department at Park Group. Several contract reviews were delayed because no one felt comfortable approving them without Sophia, and her replacement was particularly cautious.

If it weren't for the overload of work, her new replacement would have considered taking medical leave to avoid getting caught in the crossfire.

Everyone within Park Group was aware of Sophia's exceptional relationship with the CEO. Almost everyone believed that her resignation was motivated by jealousy over Suzy's arrival, suspecting that she had done it intentionally!

They believed that Sophia would return after a few days.

"Knock knock."

After knocking, Alec entered the CEO's office with a somewhat helpless expression. "Mr. Park, the pace of contract reviews in the legal department is too slow. If the acquiring company faces additional complications during this period, it would be problematic."

Liam paused slightly with his pen in hand upon hearing this.

"Settle it with the legal department, and if there are any further delays with the contracts, the legal team will have to bear the consequences."

Alec hesitated as if he had more to say but was holding back.

Liam stopped completely and glanced at him with his dark eyes before reclining in his chair. "Go ahead, say what's on your mind."

"Well... I was just wondering, did Miss Burns really resign?"

"Go to HR and see the resignation letter for yourself."

"Mr. Park, I didn't mean it that way! I was just wondering... is there a chance Miss Burns might return eventually? I've overheard colleagues discussing it privately since I arrived today.

"They're suggesting that Miss Burns is simply seeking some attention from you, hoping you'll persuade her to stay, and then she'll come back! So, no one in the legal department dares to fill Miss Burns' role now."

Liam's fingertips lightly tapped on the desk, then he tugged at his thin lips. "If no one dares to fill Miss Burns' role, then let's restructure the entire legal department."

"What?!" Alec was stunned, thinking he must be hallucinating.

"Go there yourself and tell them, if they were to continue delaying the process, I will disband Park Group's legal department and switch to an external law firm."

There are plenty of lawyers in the world!

Could Park Group really be hindered by one Sophia?

After a brief moment of surprise, Alec nodded silently in agreement and then exited the office.

He knew Liam was serious this time! And the chances of Sophia returning were almost nil.

Having worked so closely with Liam over the years, Alec was still surprised by this decision! After all, Sophia was just throwing a tantrum over the incident with Suzy, resigning merely to show Liam her importance to Park Group.

Well, that backfired...

Sophia wanted to give Liam a warning, but she didn't expect that Liam would not acknowledge their past relationship or her achievements at all, effectively preventing her from backtracking without any acknowledgment or respect.

Alec suddenly sighed, a bit frightened by the realization.

He had been foolish in the past, how had he not noticed how much Liam cared for Suzy? He even naively thought Liam's care for Suzy was due to their past relationship as ex-classmates.

Looking back now, the signs had been evident all along!
