

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1232

“Green Lotus?”

Everyone’s expression changed, and their eyes were burning with desire.

The green Lotus was the most precious Lotus in the world. It was hard to find it. Moreover, according to this senior, if the green Lotus was still there, it must have a history of tens of thousands of years.

The ten-thousand-year green Lotus was a legendary treasure.

“Other than the green Lotus, the Thunder clan had many other good things back then ... However, don’t hold too much hope for now. I only said that there might be some. After all, it has been so long.”

At the north gate.

“We understand!”

Everyone hurriedly responded.

As they spoke, the ship sped all the way to the South.

Ten thousand miles away, the split soul sat upright and continued to track the large ship.

In the ultimate West Realm, Tang Hao’s original body opened his eyes.

“The ancient alien race and the green Lotus ... It seems like I have to go there personally.”

Tang Hao’s interest was piqued.

Then, he frowned.

That soul was a huge problem!

A Saint with the soul of a half-immortal was really tricky!

Dao hun didn't have much power. When he possessed Ji Wu last time, he only managed to raise Ji Wu's realm to the late stage of Dao seeking. However, his memories, skills, and even experiences were all treasures.

Coupled with Ji Wu's amazing luck, this pair was a bit abnormal.

He had many enemies now, including the ten great sects, the ten great honored families, and the descendants of the untainted land. They were all top forces. However, these enemies were not that scary to him.

Only this soul made him feel a sense of danger.

This was equivalent to having a half fairy as an opponent, so he could not help but worry.

"This guy must die! It's best if we can devour him. That way, not only can we devour his memories, but we can also create an empty God."

Tang Hao pondered.

A moment later, he stood up, jumped up, and rushed into the air.

With a flash of light, the Thunder firmament battleship flew out.

He boarded the ship and traveled through the void, heading south.

At the same time, all the split souls in the southern part of the first continent received a message to monitor the group of people closely. No matter where they went, they could not escape Tang Hao's eyes and ears.

A day later, this group of people entered the sea and flew for a few more hours before stopping.

“If I’m not mistaken, the entrance is there!”

At the bow of the ship, Dao hun raised his hand and pointed at the sky ahead.

Everyone looked up and was stunned.

There was nothing there.

“Senior, this ...”

They all looked at Beimen Yi in confusion.

“Take a closer look,” Beimen Yi said with a smile.

“Nothing! If I have to say, there’s a cloud.” Sect leader Tongtian said.

“That’s right, this is the cloud!”

“What? The ruins are in the clouds?”

Everyone was extremely surprised.

“That’s right, the Thunder clan’s territory is also known as the world within the clouds, and they’re hiding in the clouds! However, I only know the general location and not the specific one, so we still have to look for it!”

At the north gate.

With that, he gently floated up and flew towards the clouds.

Everyone quickly followed. They first released their psyche and searched the clouds. Seeing that they did not find anything, they spread out and searched carefully.

They searched for more than half an hour. Suddenly, an elder of the Jiang family pointed at a cloud in front of them and shouted, "come and see! Something is wrong here!"

The crowd immediately gathered around.

Bei men squinted his eyes and took a closer look. Then, he laughed in joy, "There's no mistake, this is the place. This is where the entrance to the world within the clouds is."

"You guys, use your treasures to bombard this place. Remember, don't use too much force."

He looked at the Jiang family's master and the others.

They took out their treasures, controlled their strength, and blasted forward.

Peng Peng Peng!

When these attacks arrived in front of the cloud, they immediately encountered an invisible barrier. The next moment, ripples appeared in the void, twisting like water waves and spreading in all directions.

On top of the cloud, there was a tall stone door.

The stone gate was ancient and somewhat dilapidated. There were two ancient seal scripts engraved on it.

"Thunder World!"

Someone read it out loud.

"Come, let's go in!"

The group activated the stone door, opened the passage, and entered.

About two or three minutes after they entered, a stream of light swept into the passage. It was a split soul, and it had gone in first to Scout the situation.

After a while, Tang Hao's real body appeared and entered the tunnel.

After passing through the passage, the scene in front of them suddenly brightened up, and a vast and boundless world appeared.

At a glance, it was boundless, without an end in sight.

Tang Hao had seen many small worlds, but none of them were as big as this.

His mind flickered, and he immediately swept to the left.

In that direction, there was a towering tree that stood in the distance. It was like a giant mountain that reached the sky and stretched between the heaven and earth. On the branches, there were many palaces.

It was obvious that this was the center of the Thunder World.

At this moment, Ji Wu and the others had climbed up the tree and started to search.

After so many years, these palaces had long been in ruins. Some of them had already collapsed. Moreover, it seemed that someone had visited this place before. They had searched all the way here but found nothing.

"Someone's here!"

The Jiang family head said.

"The existence of the Thunder World isn't an absolute secret. After so many years, someone will definitely discover it," said bemen Yi.

"That's true!"

Everyone could not hide their disappointment.

Beimen Yi smiled. "Don't be too disappointed. If you're lucky, you can still find treasures. Places like those where real treasures are hidden are either hidden very well or guarded by something. Ordinary people can't get them."

With that, he led the way and continued to sweep away.

Soon, they arrived at the top.

There were countless palaces here, and in the middle was the most magnificent Palace, surrounded by clouds and mist, and shining with a hazy light.

The group of sect Masters were shocked when they looked at it.

"Heavens! It was a Palace! Those ... Those were all mystical materials and extremely rare treasures. Oh my God! Even the floor tiles are used. This is too extravagant!"

Their eyes widened and they were all speechless.

It was a Palace built with precious mystical materials!

How extravagant was this!

"The palace is intact and hasn't been touched. There must be more treasures inside!"

Everyone became excited when they realized this.

They all sped up and headed toward the palace.

"Look, there's a pond over there, and there's a lotus flower in it! It's definitely a ten-thousand-year-old green Lotus, a peerless treasure. "

When they got closer and saw the situation inside, their eyes turned red and even their breathing became rapid.

A ten thousand year old green Lotus was a rare divine item.
