

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1459

In another wilderness, figures fell down one after another.

When they got up, they were still in a daze.

Everything that had happened just now was simply too shocking!

That God didn't die, and he even showed up and made a deal with that kid from the equal heaven Department!

A God spirit was actually making a deal with a Dao-severing brat. If they hadn't seen it with their own eyes, they wouldn't have believed it.

"A divine decree! That brat has a divine decree on him!"

This undoubtedly shocked them even more.

"I must have gotten it on the cyan Emperor stage!"

"The heaven-equal Department even declared that it's a formation map! Who are you trying to fool?"

Their eyes gradually turned red, and their breathing became rapid. Their faces were filled with extreme greed and madness.

The divine decree and the divine blood were both Supreme divine items that could make anyone go crazy. Even a master at the peak of the half-immortal realm couldn't resist such temptation.

"Where's that kid?"

They looked around, searching for the boy.

However, after looking around, he didn't find anyone, not even a single person from the equal of heaven Department.

“They must have been sent to another place by that God. Maybe they’ve already escaped!”

“Hurry up! Search it!”

They all flew up and scattered in all directions, starting to search.

There were people being teleported over continuously. After stabilizing their bodies, they rushed in all directions. These were all cultivators in the stomach of the God spirit and had all witnessed the scene just now.

Their expressions were fanatical, and they had all fallen into a state of madness.

In the land of the God’s descent, the people outside were all ignorant. When they felt the God’s corpse under their feet tremble and emit a shocking divine light, they were all stunned.

Then, they watched in horror as the “corpse” turned over and stood up.

“BOOM!” BOOM!”

The entire land was shaking, and the sound was extremely shocking.

“Oh my God!”

The group of xiuzhe almost peed their pants.

This godly spirit was still alive?

F * ck! Wasn’t this playing with them! Just now, they were all holding their swords and trying their best to cut off a piece of meat.

They trembled and wanted to close their eyes and faint.

Fortunately, the God didn't seem to have any intention of getting even with them. With a leap, his huge body suddenly turned into a seven-colored brilliance and soared into the sky.

In the blink of an eye, he had broken through the horizon and entered the vast starry sky.

"Hu!"

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief, feeling a sense of relief after surviving a disaster.

"Motherf * cker! I actually killed a living God and survived! It's so F * cking exciting!"

"This matter ... I can brag about it for a few hundred years!"

They were all a little excited. Although they didn't really cut down anything, just this matter alone was enough for them to brag about. It was enough for them to act tough for a few hundred years.

"Let's go! Let's go!"

They stopped for a while and then went out. They ran into many cultivators who were looking for Tang Hao.

"What? A divine decree? "That kid from the heaven-equal Department actually has such a divine item?" He even got ten drops of True Blood of God?"

Hearing this news, everyone was shocked, and then went crazy.

"So that's how it is!"

Many people exclaimed in realization.

At first, they were still wondering where this godly spirit came from, but now, everything was explained.

Previously, when that kid surnamed Shi was undergoing the trials at the Green Emperor mountain, he was bestowed with a peerless treasure by the Green Emperor stage. It was that divine decree.

It was also this decree that attracted the godly spirit here, and he obtained ten drops of godly spirit True Blood.

“This kid ... Has heaven-defying luck!”

They sighed one after another, their faces full of envy and jealousy.

Then, they also joined in the search, hoping to find the kid and snatch the divine treasure.

The two groups of people added up to tens of millions, and they moved in groups, creating a huge momentum.

Very quickly, this commotion spread. Those who heard it were all shocked and then went crazy.

“A divine decree and true Blood? Oh my God! How many years has it been since such a divine item has appeared in the world?”

“The heavens ... Are going to change!”

They had a feeling that a storm of blood was about to be set off around these two treasures. The three pure lands and the half-celestial Saints would all be swept in.

Originally, the descent of a God had attracted countless forces of various sizes. Now that the news had spread here, basically all the forces that were on the stage knew.

“The equal heaven courtyard? Hmph! So what if you’re from the three great pure lands? you want to monopolize the divine items? no way!”

The 3,000 ancient clans, various immortal sects, war god mountain, and primordial chaos Daoist Rite were all targeting the equal heaven courtyard.

They definitely wouldn’t let the heaven-equal Department monopolize so many divine items.

The news continued to spread, and soon, it spread throughout the entire Donglin sacred planet, causing a huge commotion.

For a moment, the boy surnamed Shi from the heavenly Academy became the center of attention again, and everyone was fervently discussing him. They all turned their eyes to the heavenly Academy, paying attention to the development of the situation.

On Donglin sacred planet, the wind was blowing and the clouds were gathering, as if a storm was coming.

The outside world was in an uproar, and the inner circle of the equal heaven Department was also not peaceful.

After they returned to the equal heaven courtyard, a quarrel started.

“These treasures belong to my disciple. What right do you have to make him hand them over?”

In the Great Hall, Wang Liang’s master and the others had Tang Hao surrounded and were confronting a group of elders.

“Hey! We didn’t say that these things don’t belong to your good disciple, but I think you should also understand how important these two treasures are. They’re enough to cause a great disaster. ”

“That’s right. If we weren’t one of the three great pure lands, our Mountain Gate would’ve been razed to the ground by now. I’m sure war god mountain and the primordial chaos Daoist sect won’t give up and will definitely come looking for trouble. And those ancient clans and celestial sects ...”

“Without our protection, this kid wouldn’t be able to keep a single treasure. So what if he takes out a few now?”

“Let’s talk about the decree. What kind of divine item is this? only when it falls into the hands of someone who has become a celestial or even someone who has gone through celestial tribulation can it display some of its power. What a waste of heavenly resources!”

“Also, doesn’t he have a lot of blood? so what if he takes out a few drops?”

“The way I see it, one drop is enough for him. The other nine drops should be taken out and given to the yard to benefit others! With these nine drops of divine blood, our heaven-equal Department will be able to produce many more world-shocking monsters.”

Those elders said righteously.

“What’s wrong with taking out a few drops?”

Wang Liang’s master screeched, “you make it sound so easy, because you don’t have a single drop of True Blood on you. If you did, would you have even one drop?”

The group of elders was stunned. They hesitated for a moment, and their faces turned slightly red.

“Of course I will! You’re doing this for the sake of our Qitian Academy!” They shouted.

“You’re thinking for the sake of the Qitian Academy? you’re taking advantage of others!” Wang Liang’s master sneered.

How could he not know that this was all an excuse? these people were tempted, and they wanted to get their hands on the divine treasure. Only by making his good disciple hand it over would they have a chance to get a share.

He didn’t find it strange. After all, this was a treasure of the gods, and not many people could resist such a temptation.
