

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1477

This voice was not loud, but it was clear as day as it entered everyone's ears.

In an instant, the cheers of the entire place came to an abrupt end.

Everyone was taken aback, and a look of confusion appeared on their faces.

A mere ... Bone fragment?

There's no mistake! That was a piece of inextinguishable, inborn God's bone! It was the Supreme Being of bones. No real Dragon Bone or real phoenix bone could compare to this piece of bone.

But now, someone actually used a disdainful tone and sneered at him for being a mere bone crusher?

Such a tone was a little too big and too arrogant!

After being stunned for a while, the crowd burst into an uproar, and the entire square was in an uproar.

Everyone turned around and looked in the direction of the voice.

The triumphant expression on the Yuchi clansmen's faces froze, before turning gloomy.

This tone, he was clearly deliberately looking for trouble!

They had never expected that with the current prestige of their Yuchi clan, there would actually be someone who would dare to intentionally find trouble at their grand ceremony!

Their faces were all sullen, and their eyes darkly swept over.

Everyone's eyes scanned the area and quickly found their target at the outermost area of the square.

It was a man in a black robe. He sat there in a dignified manner, holding a bowl and drinking wine. His movements were bold, and his expression was calm and composed. He completely ignored the gazes of the crowd.

Beside him, many people revealed a look of horror as they hurriedly stood up and retreated.

Many people were so flustered that they tripped over tables and chairs, fell to the ground, and fell over.

They hurriedly got up and waved at the crowd, saying anxiously, "I don't know him, really. I have no relationship with him at all!"

At this moment, they even wanted to cry.

Motherf * cker!

This fellow had been chatting happily with them while drinking. It was very normal, but he suddenly said something like that, which scared them to the point of peeing.

At the Yuchi clan's Grand gathering, mocking the other party's undying bone as a piece of bone, wasn't that just courting death!

This was a complete lunatic!

Everyone's eyes fell on this person. They narrowed their eyes and carefully sized him up, trying to identify him.

It was obvious that this person was here to cause trouble on purpose. This person definitely had a grudge with the Yuchi clan. Otherwise, he wouldn't embarrass the Yuchi clan at such an important occasion.

However, after carefully sizing him up, they could not recognize him.

"Who is this guy?"

"I don't know him! I've never seen him before!"

They whispered to each other.

“I ... Have no impression of this person!”

“I have a vague impression of him. He came in with a small sect. He must have hidden his identity and sneaked in on purpose.”

The Yuchi race’s people also carefully sized him up, but they didn’t recognize him.

“Who dares to cause trouble here?”

On the high platform, an elder of the Yuchi race slammed his hand on the table and stood up as he angrily shouted.

“Causing trouble?”

The man laughed in a teasing manner. He put down the bowl, picked up the wine jar, and began to drink heartily.

Bang!

He put down the wine jar and laughed, shouting, “I’m telling the truth, how am I causing trouble?”

“The truth?”

Everyone was stunned for a moment, then burst into laughter.

“Hahaha! Was there something wrong with this guy’s brain? That’s clearly an indestructible God’s bone. If you insist on saying it’s bone-breaking and that it’s the truth, do you really think everyone else is stupid?”

The Yuchi Clansman’s expression turned increasingly unsightly.

“Hmph! I think you’re deliberately causing trouble!” The elder of the Yuchi clan snorted angrily.

The man drank his wine and his expression did not change. “I was right. That’s a bone fragment!” What, you don’t want me to say that it’s broken?”

“Bone crusher? Hahaha!” The Yuchi race’s elder was so angry that he laughed and shouted, “if this is still a bone that can be broken, then is there any good bone in this world?”

“Tell me, what bone in this world can be better than the undying divine bone of my Yuchi clan!”

He questioned the man sternly.

Everyone’s eyes turned to look at the man with a bit of ridicule.

They were all waiting to see how this guy would answer this question. Because in this world, there was no bone more powerful than the undying divine bone. This was the Supreme Being of the bones!

This guy dared to mock this bone, which was a joke.

Seeing that the fellow didn’t make a sound, the sneers on their faces became even more pronounced.

But at this moment, the man took another sip of wine, wiped his mouth, and shouted, “There are! Of course I do!”

Everyone was stunned again.

The elder was also stunned, but he continued to sneer, “Tell us clearly what bone it is. Don’t make it up. Don’t take us for fools!”

“Say it!”

The crowd was also jeering and shouting, their faces full of ridicule.

That Yuchi family's patriarch laughed in spite of himself as he shook his head, revealing a disdainful expression.

He could sense that this person wasn't even a Lord of heaven. He was probably just an insignificant person. There was nothing to worry about. He could just sweep him out later.

Today was the Yuchi clan's Grand gathering. It was a joyous day, and it wasn't suitable for blood to be spilled.

No! It would be too easy on this guy if he was chased out just like that. He had to cripple him first and then throw him out.

He quickly made a decision.

He turned around and whispered to the elder.

The elder nodded and agreed. He was about to find someone to cripple that guy and throw him out.

At this moment, the man spoke again with a smile, "Nonsense? How is that possible? because...That bone is with me!" As he spoke, he raised his hand and pointed to his chest in front of everyone.

In an instant, the square fell silent.

Everyone's faces were filled with shock.

Slowly, their gazes changed from sneers to disdain.

"Damn it, he's a lunatic!"

"F * ck! Where did this lunatic come from? his brain must be abnormal!"

They cursed out in anger.

They had thought that this was someone who had a grudge with the Yuchi race and was here to cause trouble. But now, they realized that this was a F * cking lunatic!

He dared to say that he had a bone that was more powerful than the undying divine bone. If he wasn't crazy, what was he?

There was no such bone in the entire Eastern Region of Donglin, no, in the entire great astral world of Donglin. Even in the history of the Holy planet of Donglin, there had never been a bone that surpassed the undying divine bone!

This was a Supreme martial artist!

How could there be a bone that surpassed a Supreme martial artist in this world!

"F * ck! He's really a lunatic!"

That elder couldn't help but roll his eyes. He beckoned to the people behind him and said, "Hurry up, throw him out! Don't let him continue to cause trouble!"

A few elders of the Yuchi race immediately rushed over.

At this time, the man put down the wine jar and slowly stood up, saying, "Since you don't believe me, I'll let you see it for yourself!" After saying that, he took a step forward and walked towards the battle stage in the middle of the square. Step by step, he pointed his sharp gaze at Yuchi Xuan, who was standing on the stage.
