

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1612

“Are my eyes playing tricks on me?”

The burly man was a little dazed.

But then he realized that this place wasn't real, so how could he be seeing things!

That thing was real!

“Oh my God ...”

He couldn't help but let out a groan. The thing in front of him was too big, so big that it was a little terrifying.

“How can it be so big?”

He lowered his head and looked at the ground beneath his feet. When he raised his head again, the corner of his mouth twitched and he had the urge to vomit blood.

F * ck!

How could they compete! This was a small broken island, and that thing was a supercontinent. The difference was countless times, and there was no way to compare.

“Where did this monster come from?”

The burly man laughed bitterly and was extremely depressed.

Previously, he had been a little proud of himself and felt that he had done a good job. However, compared to that guy, he was nothing.

“Heavens! What's that?”

“It's so big!”

In a few other directions, many people had discovered this continent, and they were all extremely shocked.

They were all trying to guess who this person was. Was he one of those old monsters with Nine Cauldrons, or one of those young alchemy geniuses? because only these people could achieve such a level.

What shocked them even more was that this supercontinent was still expanding in all directions at a terrifying speed. It grew bigger by the day, which left them speechless.

They all felt that it was a bit inconceivable. It should be known that expanding the land consumed a lot of essence. Where did this guy get so much essence to support his crazy expansion? was his essence all picked up for free?

“Why isn’t it stopping?”

“This is crazy! He was completely crazy! To what extent does he want to expand!”

Every day, they had been hoping that this guy would stop, but not only did he not stop, he even expanded faster and faster.

“What kind of monster is up there?”

Everyone was even more shocked.

When that continent grew larger and larger, they gradually realized that things were not looking good. If that guy continued to expand, he would bump into them.

“Al! Stop!”

“Brother, we’re going to crash!”

They all shouted in that direction.

However, that continent was simply too big. Furthermore, it was shrouded in smoke, making it impossible for people to see the situation inside clearly. No matter how loudly they shouted, no one answered.

“I’ll F * ck your Grandpa!”

“Bastard!”

They were so angry that they stomped their feet and cursed.

They had stopped planting medicine. Every day, they pointed to that continent and cursed that guy’s eighteen generations of ancestors.

However, this could not stop that continent. It was still expanding, and it was getting closer and closer. They were also getting more and more panicked. If this continued, they would really be hit and crushed to pieces.

They all felt that it was ridiculous. They were probably the first batch to be eliminated in such a way.

“Motherf * cker! We’re really down on our luck!”

“This is too humiliating!”

They were all extremely depressed.

Finally, the continent came and crushed a small island. In front of this super giant, the small island had no power to resist at all. It was crushed in the blink of an eye.

“Ah, Yingluo!”

A heart-wrenching scream came from the island, followed by an angry curse, “I’ll F * ck your ancestors ...”

As the island shattered, the figure on it also disappeared.

When he came back to his senses, he was already in the square.

In an instant, countless gazes from all around the square swept over and landed on him.

These gazes carried a trace of suspicion.

In this stage, there were very few people who were eliminated during the test. Usually, at the beginning, some inexperienced people were too impulsive and planted high-grade plants at the beginning. If they didn’t grow them, they would lose their essence and be eliminated.

However, it had already been a day and a half, which meant that a year and a half had passed in there. How could such a situation still happen?

Faced with these gazes, the man’s face turned red and he didn’t say a word. He was too embarrassed to say that his land had been crushed by others. No one would believe such a strange thing.

“Eliminated!”

The elder from the pill Hall shouted.

He stood up in a daze, flew out of the crowd, and landed in the surrounding grandstand area.

After everyone was puzzled for a while, they didn’t pay too much attention to it. After all, there were many people, and all kinds of strange situations could happen.

They continued to wait. Half of the time had already passed, and there was only one and a half days left before the end.

They were all trying to guess who would emerge as the winner of the stage of plants and vegetation.

“In my opinion, the older the ginger, the spicier it is. In the field of plants and vegetation, the older generation definitely has an advantage. Pill wave sect’s monk Yun Guang, diandan sect’s Taoist Ling Yun ... These people all have a chance.”

“That’s true. The Dao of plants and vegetation emphasizes accumulation. I think the older generation will win.”

Everyone discussed for a while and felt that the younger generation didn't have much chance. This round was still the world of the older generation.

While they were discussing, the Pearl in the sky suddenly shook and a ray of light shot out into the crowd.

One of them opened his eyes and cursed loudly after waking up.

Everyone was stunned. Why was there another one?

"Another one! It's really strange!"

"What's going on?"

Everyone was a little confused.

After cursing a few times, this fellow did the same thing as the previous one, closing his mouth tightly and not making a sound.

"Two in a row, that's strange!"

The pill Hall elder muttered as a look of surprise flashed across his eyes.

However, he didn't pay too much attention to it and shouted "eliminated" at the man.

However, it didn't take long for the Pearl to shake and another ray of light to shoot out.

"F * ck your mother!"

Someone in the crowd opened his eyes and cursed.

"Another one!"

"What's going on?"

There was a commotion in the crowd.

"What happened to you?"

That elder couldn't help but step forward and ask.

"No... Nothing! It's true!"

The man's face was red as he stammered.

Being crushed by someone else, how could he say such an embarrassing thing.

Seeing that he didn't say anything, the elder had no choice but to wave his sleeve and shout,""Eliminated!"

Not long after, a few more people were eliminated in succession. Their reactions were almost the same. They didn't say a word, as if they were too embarrassed to speak. This also made everyone more and more puzzled.

But fortunately, after half a day, the situation disappeared and everything returned to normal.

A day's effort passed in the blink of an eye, and this stage was finally over.

"It's time for the results to be out!"

The elder flicked his sleeve, and the Pearl in the air trembled slightly. A ray of light shot out, and it was a golden board. It was blank, but soon, a ray of light flashed on the board, and a line of golden words appeared. Someone had been listed.

Then, lines of golden words flashed.

In the grass and wood World, there was the sound of a bell ringing, indicating that the time limit was up.

Islands and continents in the vast area started to move and gather at the center. A golden stele stood there, radiating a dazzling light.

As soon as the islands and continents entered the range of the golden light, they would automatically calculate the vegetation on them and be listed on the list.
