

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1654

In the vast starry sky, a huge ship was speeding.

On the deck, many figures stood still. Each of them had a profound aura and was shrouded in a bright immortal radiance.

One of them was wearing a purple robe and had a dignified face, while the other was wearing a silver robe and looked extremely handsome. They were the divine Emperor of Da Chu and venerable Silver Dragon.

There were seven figures standing behind the two of them. All of them were in the Saint realm, and some of them were close to the perfection realm. They were all old monsters with very old qualifications.

The Chu Emperor said as he looked into the distance.

Linyue planet was just a small cultivation planet at the border of the central Galaxy. It was very unremarkable, but just a few days ago, there was news that there would be a lightning tribulation on linyue planet.

Moreover, this tribulation was very similar to the pill tribulation. It was also this news that attracted his attention. In the entire starry sky, there was only one person who could refine such a pill, and that person was that fellow surnamed Tang.

From this, he also deduced that after that surnamed Tang had killed people on the Eagle planet, he had hidden here to refine some kind of medicinal pill.

Originally, he had wanted to make more comprehensive preparations, but after learning that the man surnamed Tang was a young demon, he couldn’t help but immediately gather his men and set out to the planet.

“Hmph! If it wasn’t for that old ghost Qin, we wouldn’t have only this many people!”

The venerable Silver Dragon turned around and snorted angrily.

If old ghost Qin hadn’t released the news that that surnamed Tang had refined two Bodhi spirit-nourishing pills for him, those old monsters wouldn’t have rejected them and maintained a wait-and-see attitude. They had traveled all over the place and searched for a long time before they managed to pull in so few people.

The Chu Emperor waved his hand and smiled, “The few of us are enough! No matter how monstrous that brat is, he’s no match for us now. With the strength of the nine of us, it’s enough to trap and kill him!”

There was a strong sense of confidence in his tone.

Although the boy was freakish, he had not yet reached perfection. Moreover, because he was too young, whether it was in terms of skills or Foundation, he was slightly inferior to old monsters like them. The nine of them were enough to kill him.

The old silver Dragon gritted his teeth and looked resentful.

“That brat killed my good disciple. I must extract his soul and torture him. I want him to be unable to live or die!”

As he spoke, his face twitched and became sinister.

The Chu Emperor also snorted angrily, his eyes surging with hatred.

Behind the two, the seven Saints looked at each other. One of the black-robed elders said, “My two brothers, we have an agreement. As long as we kill that kid, all his things will be ours. You can’t go back on your word at that time!”

The other six nodded in agreement.

A young genius who had become a saint in his forties and now had the title of alchemy Saint. Ordinary saints would not dare to provoke him. The reason why they had agreed to the invitation of these two was because they had taken a fancy to the things on the kid.

The divine spiritual bone, the ancestor of technique’s divine eye, and two treasures of the true dragon ...

That kid had countless treasures on him, and each and every one of them was of the highest grade, making them drool endlessly.

If not for these treasures, they would not have agreed.

“Hahaha! Don’t worry, don’t you trust this Chu’s reputation?” The Chu Emperor laughed.

“Don’t worry, we only want that kid’s life, not the treasure!” Said Reverend Silver Dragon.

“That’s good!”

The expressions of those few people relaxed.

Just as they were discussing, the ship sped towards lingyue.

At the same time, in another part of the starry sky, another large ship was speeding along. Their target was also lingyue.

At the bow of the ship, there was a flag with a big word “Qi” on it. It was the symbol of the great Qi Dynasty, one of the five great divine dynasties!

At the bow of the ship stood a number of figures. The one at the front was wearing a Golden Dragon robe, had a thick beard, and was as majestic as hell.

Beside him stood a man in golden armor. He had an extraordinary aura. It was wutianhou.

“Your Majesty, the Chu Emperor and the others left half a day earlier than us. They should be reaching lingyue soon!” Said Marquis Wutian.

The Emperor of Qi looked ahead and stroked his long beard. “It’s about time. Let’s speed up! I think that kid is most likely on lingyue planet. When we get there, we won’t make a move. We’ll wait until great Chu’s people are almost done fighting with that kid, then we’ll make our move. We’ll be like the Mantis stalking the cicada, unaware of the Oriole behind!”

“What a brilliant plan! Your Majesty is wise!”

The group of people behind him immediately began to flatter him.

“Hahaha!”

The Emperor of Qi stroked his beard and laughed out loud, feeling proud of himself.

Previously, the Chu Emperor and the others had actually come to the great Qi Kingdom, wanting to join forces with the great Qi Kingdom to deal with that brat surnamed Tang. However, after some consideration, he rejected them. If he joined forces with the great Chu Kingdom, wouldn’t he be unable to obtain all the treasures on that brat’s body? it was better to sit on the mountain and watch the Tigers fight. He would only make a move when they were almost done fighting, and then easily snatch the treasures.

He might even be able to take the opportunity to trick that old Chu and severely injure great Chu.

“Emperor Qi, fellow Daoist Wu Tian, this is one of the three Treasures of the Hunyuan Daoist sect. It’s called the map of the universe and is a Supreme treasure for ambushes!” The person beside him walked forward with a map in his hand. It was none other than the primordial chaos Dao master.

Emperor Qi took a look and nodded. He praised, “I’ve also heard of the reputation of the three treasure maps of the Hunyuan dojo. The Map of Heaven and earth is the most amazing one.”

“You flatter us, Emperor Qi!” The primordial chaos Dao master laughed. “We’ll be able to track those great Chu people without anyone knowing if we use this treasure later!”

“Not bad! With this treasure, we’ll be even more confident!” The Emperor of Qi said with a smile.

The primordial chaos Dao master put away the treasure and looked into the distance with a sinister expression.

“You destroyed my primordial chaos dojo, forced me out of planet Dong Ling, and almost destroyed my sect’s heritage. I’ll never forget this. I’ll make you pay this time!” He muttered viciously, his eyes filled with hatred.

In the past, the Hunyuan Daoist sect had been glorious, but now, they had been forced to flee planet Dong Lin. They had suffered heavy losses and their vitality had been greatly damaged.

After coming out of Donglin, they had been wandering around, hiding here and there, living a life of fear. They were afraid that this kid would find them. It was only when they reached the central astral world that they could relax and settle down on a star.

He didn't expect that he would hear news of that Tang guy not long after. This guy had also come to the central astral and caused such a big commotion.

For the sake of revenge, he went to the Qi Kingdom and wanted to borrow the Qi Kingdom's power to kill that brat surnamed Tang.

Then, the ship trembled and accelerated towards planet lingyue.

Soon, the two ships arrived at lingyue one after the other.
