

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1727

This nameless Alchemist had caused quite a stir in the past. He had vaguely heard people talking about him, but he hadn't paid much attention back then. He had thought that he was just a low-grade Alchemist that wasn't worth paying attention to. However, he didn't expect that this so-called low-grade Alchemist would shock the entire medicine God mountain with a single brilliant feat.

The Vermilion Bird pill had been sold for five hundred and fifty thousand. This had never happened before in the history of the ancient wilderness 'alchemy world.

Moreover, the 550 million Yuan total from a single auction also won the first place, surpassing the alchemy Saint and taking first place in this year's pill Wave Gathering!

"Unbelievable! It's really unbelievable!"

In another cave dwelling, an old man in ragged clothes stroked his long beard and praised.

His appearance was unkempt, and he looked a little crazy.

It wasn't just these few cave abodes. On the various peaks of the medicine God mountain, almost all the alchemists in the cave abodes had heard the news.

Was that pill really a useless pill?

Who was that nameless Alchemist?

These two questions troubled everyone.

It caused the three clans to go crazy and bid for it at a shocking price of 550000. This didn't seem like a useless pill. However, if this wasn't a useless pill, then the people from the pill wave Hall must have made a mistake. But how could this be possible?

Could it be that with their level, they still couldn't appraise the quality of a pill?

One had to know that those who could work in the Dan LAN Palace were at least Masters and tyrants. One person might be wrong, but it was impossible for so many people to be wrong.

And the identity of this nameless Alchemist was becoming more and more confusing.

Previously, they had judged that this was a tier 8 or tier 9 Alchemist, possibly a newly joined Alchemist. But now, this nameless Alchemist's level was a mystery, and his identity and tier were naturally even more difficult to determine.

"Next time, I'll definitely test it and see what this pill is made of!"

In the pill wave Hall, everyone held their breath.

They didn't believe that with their skill level, they would be wrong.

The outside world was also paying close attention to the pill waves Hall. They were waiting for them to receive the pills and examine them in detail to solve their doubts.

Just like that, a few days later, when the deadline for pill collection arrived, they immediately put away the pill box. The first thing they did was to look for the pill box of this nameless pill refiner.

When they found it and opened it, there were still nine Jade bottles inside. It was exactly the same as the previous three times, with 999 pills.

“That’s right! This pill’s appearance is extremely poor. It doesn’t even have a trace of pill rhythm or pill fragrance. It’s indeed the worst pill!”

They each picked up a pill and carefully examined it.

However, the results of their investigation were the same as their previous conclusions.

They were immediately puzzled. If this was really a low-grade waste pill, the elders of the three clans were not stupid. Why would they fight so fiercely for it and bid for it at a high price of five hundred and fifty thousand?

Deacon MA held a pill in his hand and stood there. He pondered for a long time and said, “There’s another way to test the effects of this pill. It’s also the most accurate and simple way!”

“You mean ...?”

Everyone was stunned at first, then came to a realization.

To test the effects of a pill, there was nothing more effective than swallowing it.

“Hey! Why didn’t I think of that!”

Everyone cried out in frustration.

Then, they each took a pill and swallowed it.

“How ... How is this possible?”

“This medicinal power ... How can it be so strong?”

Immediately after, their expressions changed and they all cried out in shock.

This pill looked extremely poor quality, but once it entered his stomach, the pill dissolved, and a surge of medicinal power spread out in all directions. According to their estimates, this medicinal power was at least thirty to forty times that of an ordinary Vermilion Bird pill.

They were completely and utterly shocked!

This wasn't a useless pill at all, but a Supreme-grade treasure pill. They had all been wrong.

"At least thirty times! It's unbelievable!"

"I remember that the most powerful one was only twenty times more powerful! How can it be thirty to forty times?"

They were in disbelief.

The difference in medicinal efficacy between ordinary-quality pills and Supreme-quality pills was usually more than ten times. The top grandmasters might be able to achieve a difference of more than twenty times, but they had never seen a pill that was thirty to forty times better.

"I'm afraid this is Saint level!"

Said attendant MA, clicking his tongue.

"I don't think it's that exaggerated! Saint level alchemists are only legends. There are only a few in the entire ancient wilderness, and we only have a few in the medicine God mountain. How can we have more than one?" Someone immediately said.

"That's true!"

Attendant MA was stunned for a moment, then he smiled bitterly.

Alchemy Saint!

He was a figure who stood at the peak of alchemy. The number of alchemy Saints in the entire ancient wilderness could be counted on two hands. Every one of them was a world-shaking figure. How could the medicine God mountain suddenly have another one?

"The level of skill with this pill is simply amazing. I'm afraid it's at the realm of returning to the original, where all the essence is contained and not a single bit is missing. This is the so-called flawless pill. That's why it looks so ordinary, and why we were wrong!"

"This person's level might not be at the Saint level yet, but he's probably not far from it. He's one of the top figures and can stand shoulder to shoulder with those five."

The crowd picked up another pill and carefully identified it. They were all amazed.

The five people they were talking about were the five most famous people under the alchemy Saint of the medicine God mountain. They were dan Kuang, pill maniac, pill demon, pill demon, and pill madman. Each of them was a top-tier Alchemist whose name shook the entire ancient wilderness.

"He ... Who is he?"

Everyone became more and more curious, more and more eager to know who this nameless Alchemist was!

“This person has never appeared before. His first appearance was at the pill Wave Gathering a month and a half ago. Could he have entered during that time?”

They began to investigate and investigated all the people who came in during that period of time, but they had no leads.

The medicine God mountain was a sacred ground for alchemists in the ancient wilderness. Many people came to visit every day. On average, twenty people were admitted a day, which meant that there were more than six hundred people in a month. How could they investigate? they couldn't just ask each and every one of them!

This was too rude. What if he offended this person?

At that moment, they were also at their wits 'end.

This pill box was anonymous. As long as this person didn't come forward, they would never know who this person was.

Very quickly, the news spread.

After everyone heard this, they were shocked again. The nameless Alchemist they had laughed at before was actually such a powerful expert. It was really beyond their expectations.

“I knew this Grandmaster Wu Ming wasn't an ordinary person. Think about it, he concocted nearly a thousand Vermillion Bird pills in half a month. I already knew he was an expert!”

Many people took advantage of the situation and started to praise this nameless master.

And not long ago, they were mocking this person everywhere.

“It seems that our medicine God mountain is going to have another top Grandmaster!”

Everyone sighed.

This news had also spread to the outside world, causing a sensation among the great clans.

In the pill Wave Gathering that followed, these 999 Vermilion Bird pills were placed at the top, causing a frenzied bidding. The price even surpassed the previous bid, reaching 570000 for each pill.

The name of this nameless Alchemist also became more and more famous. He was like a comet that rose rapidly in the ancient desolate alchemy world and his reputation spread.
