

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 190

Night fell.

In the countryside of Provincial City, a mansion was bustling with activity.

Cars regularly stopped in front of the mansion, and lavishly-dressed people stepped out of the cars. The males were all dressed in trim business suits and carried noble auras, while the females were dressed in elegant and beautiful evening gowns. Everyone was dressed for the occasion.

Soon, the entrance was packed full of cars and the scene became more crowded than ever.

The mansion was owned by Han Chenglin, the president of Yu Lin Group.

Yu Lin Group was a corporation with several billion yuan worth of assets. They might not be as big as the bigger companies like Tai An Group or Luo Enterprises, but they were quite famous and well-connected in Provincial City.

Many prominent people of the business world in Provincial City were invited to the dinner party that night.

The front hall of the mansion was filled with people, gathered in small groups of two or three and chatted happily among themselves.

A figure came down from the stairs.

She was a woman in her early twenties. Her body was slender though her looks were plain. Her makeup had made her more beautiful.

She walked casually down the stairs, the tail of her pure-white evening gown trailing on the floor behind her.

Her evening gown was low-cut and displayed a shallow cleavage. The diamond necklace that she wore sparkled brilliantly under the lights.

She also wore lavish jewelry on her arms and ears.

Many people stopped talking and turned their gaze to her as she walked down the stairs.

Their gazes were full of admiration and approval. Some young people even looked at her with love.

Her name was Han Lu, and she was the young princess of Yu Lin Group.

Han Lu felt satisfied as she noticed everyone's eyes on her. She enjoyed being the focus of attention ever since she was young.

"Lulu!" Many people came up to greet her as she walked down the stairs. Especially the younger men, who were eager to please her.

They had their eyes on the young princess of Yu Lin Group.

Han Lu returned their smiles and briefly greeted each of them.

"You're here, Lulu!" Two women about her age came to greet her after the crowd was mostly gone.

One of them was tall but had a plain appearance. She wore a blue evening gown and looked rather mean. The other was slightly shorter and plumper, and she wore a red evening gown.

“You’re so pretty tonight, Lulu!” The plump woman said flatteringly.

“Your dress is so beautiful!” The tall woman’s eyes fell on Han Lu’s dress.

Han Lu tilted her head upward and smiled. Then, she twirled around to flaunt her dress.

“My dad gave this to me as a present. It cost one hundred and fifty thousand yuan!” She said happily.

“Wow!” The two women exclaimed.

“You’re like a princess tonight, Lulu!” The plump woman said.

“You don’t have to flatter me, Jiaojiao!” Han Lu replied, feeling incredibly pleased with the praise.

The two women were Han Lu’s best friends. The taller woman was named Yang Hui, and the shorter woman was named Wu Jiao.

“Lulu, I’ve heard that many handsome boys are here at the party tonight. You have to introduce them to me,” Yang Hui said with a smile.

“Don’t worry! I’ll send them along your way,” Han Lu replied.

Then, her face darkened and she furrowed her brows as if she had suddenly remembered something. She swept her eyes across the crowd as though looking for someone.

“What’s wrong?” Yang Hui asked.

“I’ve heard Dad say that the woman will be here tonight!” Han Lu said with a sullen face.

“Your elder sister?” Wu Jiao blurted. She then covered her mouth after realizing that she had misspoken.

Han Lu’s face became even more sullen than ever. “That woman is not my elder sister! I don’t have an elder sister. The Han family only has one daughter.

“Who is she? Can she compare to me? She’s just a filthy whore. She’s not qualified to step through the Han family doors, much less be my elder sister!

“She’s just a little more beautiful than me, but she’s a whore that seduces men for their money.

“I don’t know what’s so good about her, and why so many men like her. She’s so poor, yet she behaves as though she’s pure and innocent. She’s just an opportunistic whore.”

Han Lu became angrier as she spoke.

She hated her so-called ‘elder sister’ very much.

As the sole daughter of the president of Yu Lin Group, she had been spoiled since young. After she grew up, someone had told her that she had an elder half-sister who was more beautiful than her. She could not accept it.

Furthermore, her half-sister came from a poor family. She detested poor people.

She felt strongly superior to that half-sister of hers, but at the same time, she was incredibly envious.

She had thought that she was the perfect woman. Unfortunately for her, her elder sister was more beautiful than her, and she saw how men regarded her elder half-sister differently.

Her envy reached a peak when Luo Feng fell for her half-sister.

Luo Feng was the Second Young Master of Luo Enterprises and was an incredibly handsome young man. She was attracted to his looks and family background.

Instead, Luo Feng was not attracted to her but fell for her elder half-sister. The fires of jealousy raged in her heart when she saw how eagerly Luo Feng had looked at her elder half-sister.

That had caused her to be resentful toward Han Yutong.

The two women shut their mouths and did not make a sound while Han Lu complained.

Han Lu felt better after cursing her elder half-sister, though her face was still as cold as ice and as sullen as murky water.

She looked around one more time and said arrogantly, "That filthy whore still isn't here! I'll teach her a lesson when she's here!"

Yang Hui laughed. "That filthy whore knows no shame! What business does she have here, other than asking for money from your family?"

“That’s right!” Wu Jiao agreed. “She doesn’t deserve to be present at this dinner party. She ought to know how worthless she is.

“If she’s going to show up in bargain bin clothing like last time, she’ll be laughed out of the mansion!” Wu Jiao said while chuckling maliciously.

“She is a shameless b*tch alright! Even if no one invited her, she’ll still find her way here. Come, let’s go outside and wait for her.”

Han Lu turned around and walked toward the entrance.

They waited at the entrance for a while, but they did not find who they were waiting for. They were becoming impatient.

Suddenly, they noticed a white Lincoln stretch limousine coming from afar.

As it neared, it attracted the attention of many people.