

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2011

“Strange!”

Young master Li’s brows were tightly furrowed. Her gaze was fixed on the pill embryo, as well as the Dragon and Tiger that were circling around it.

This was the most common alchemy technique, which condensed the flame into the shape of a Dragon and a Tiger to burn the pill embryo. Almost all alchemists knew this.

However, in brother Tang’s hands, this extremely ordinary alchemy technique seemed to be a little different.

“Oh right! It’s the dragon and the tiger!”

After observing for a long time, she finally made some discoveries.

The route that the Dragon and Tiger took was very mysterious.

At first glance, this Dragon and Tiger seemed to be casually running around the pill embryo, but in fact, every time they circled, they were extremely exquisite, burning every corner of the pill embryo.

Such a technique could be said to be at the point of perfection.

Also, this Dragon and Tiger were also very particular about themselves.

They were formed by the Red Lotus primordial fire. Their power had been pushed to the extreme, reaching the highest temperature.

Even an alchemy Saint wouldn’t dare to do this with the help of a cauldron, because it was very dangerous. The slightest mistake could cause the pill embryo to be damaged. Even if the furnace didn’t explode, the final pill would be incomplete.

However, this brother Tang is very bold. He still dares to do this even without a pill cauldron.

“Rather than being bold, it’s more like extreme confidence!”

Li gongzi muttered.

She knew in her heart that this brother Tang must have had absolute confidence to dare to do this.

She just stood at the side and watched.

The more she read, the more serious her expression became, and the shock in her eyes grew stronger.

Although he did not use any fancy techniques and everything seemed very plain, his peak-level techniques were hidden under this plain scene.

Whether it was his understanding of the materials, his control of the flames, or his grasp of every tiny detail, he had done it to an absolutely perfect degree. She believed that no one could do it better.

She couldn't do it, and neither could the older pill Saints of the Vermilion Bird pill Dao.

They might be able to do it with some low-level pills, but this was a six tribulations pill!

"He ... How did he do it?"

Li gongzi found it hard to believe.

He was clearly so young, just like her, a junior in the world of alchemy. However, his alchemy skills had already reached a realm of perfection, surpassing many of the older generation and reaching a level that was difficult for others to reach.

This was truly unbelievable!

"He's so young. Even if he doesn't cultivate and instead refines pills every day, it's impossible for him to reach this level! Plus, his cultivation is so high, so he obviously doesn't refine pills every day. "

She was a little puzzled.

"So fast!"

After she pondered for a while, she came back to her senses and looked at the pill embryo again. She was shocked.

In just over two hours, this pill embryo was almost complete!

"How could it be so fast!"

She gasped in shock.

It would take at least a day to refine a six tribulations pill! But how long had it been? it had only been two hours!

This speed was too terrifying!

After another hour, the embryonic pill was finally finished. Tang Hao shook his palm, and the embryonic pill shot up into the sky. It disintegrated, turned into a Dragon, and soared into the clouds.

In an instant, the wind and clouds moved, and the color of the world changed.

Endless spiritual Qi and immortal Qi were drawn from the sky and the earth, and then swallowed by the Dragon.

This situation continued for quite a while.

When the Dragon landed on Tang Hao's palm, it turned into a pill.

It was a round, pitch-black, and huge dan!

There were no patterns on the pill, no fluctuations of immortal Qi, and not even a trace of smell.

"This ... This is ..."

Li gongzi stared at the pill, his face full of shock.

This pill was too strange. At first glance, it did not look like a pill at all!

After a while, she seemed to have thought of something. Her whole body trembled, revealing a horrified expression, and she blurted out, "This ... This is the true seal pill?"

"That's right!"

Tang Hao smiled. He lifted the pill and examined it. He looked satisfied.

"It's a watertight pill! It's truly airtight, there's no smell at all!"

Li gongzi took the pill and looked at it carefully, and his mind was more and more shocked.

The airtight pill!

This was a legend in the alchemy world. It represented the highest realm of alchemy.

This pill didn't have any immortal Qi fluctuation or smell, because all the immortal Qi and medicinal power were locked in the pill, without any leakage.

It was extremely difficult to refine such a pill! It was extremely difficult!

She had never heard of anyone in the current alchemy world who could refine such a perfect and seamless pill!

"Brother Tang, I'm really convinced!"

After a while, she came back to her senses and looked at the pill in her hand. She laughed bitterly.

To think that she was even hailed as the Vermilion Bird pill Dao's once-in-a-thousand-years genius. Compared to this brother Tang, she was nothing!

With her pill refining skills, she was still thousands of miles away from him!

"I've embarrassed myself!"

Tang Hao smiled and took the pill from her.

This time, he was quite satisfied with the pill refining, and he had displayed his best standard.

He was highly accomplished in alchemy and made rapid progress. When he was in the lower realm, he became an alchemy Saint and even refined the creation divine pill for him. After coming to Pangu and entering the medicine God mountain, he gained some experience from the alchemy God and made great progress in alchemy.

His alchemy skills had long reached a state where he was no longer as simple as he was. He had tried to refine a seamless pill.

However, the leakless pills that he had refined in the past were not perfect. Some of their aura had leaked out. It was only recently that his alchemy skills had improved again that he could refine such a perfect leakless pill.

“Brother Tang, how did you do it?”

Li gongzi asked curiously.

“It’s nothing much. I’ll naturally learn it after refining more!” Tang Hao said with a smile.

In fact, in terms of talent, his little talent in alchemy was not necessarily at the top of the world. There were definitely many people who were more powerful than him, but he was definitely the one who refined the most and read the most alchemy books.

He had that magical Jade bottle that could continuously produce rare spiritual medicine. He could even continuously produce the materials for the creation divine pill.

How could the other alchemy geniuses have such conditions!

The Holy Son of the Yao clan and this young master Li in front of him both had a big force behind them, but even such forces could not compare to his magical Jade bottle.

Moreover, his conditions were very special. He had come all the way from Qiyuan, and the alchemy books he had read were far more than these alchemy geniuses.

The more he accumulated, the more he refined, and that was how he achieved his current alchemy Dao attainments!

“You refined a lot?”

Li gongzi laughed bitterly and did not believe it.

She never thought that Tang Hao would have such a magical Jade bottle on him that could continuously produce rare spirit herbs.

However, she didn’t pay much attention to it and just took it as brother Tang’s humble words.

“Brother Tang’s talent is truly unparalleled!”

"In my opinion, with your level, you can definitely be ranked in the top three in the current alchemy world," she said.

"Oh?"

Tang Hao was surprised. "You think so highly of me, brother Li?" Also, who are the other two people?"
