

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2796

“Come! Come into the furnace!”

A loud shout.

The hand reached out, and the shark’s body was sucked into the divine furnace.

Seeing this, the old flood Dragon and the old crab nearby were scared out of their wits.

It was too terrifying!

This method, this aura, this was a super great fiend! They had never seen a human with such a terrifying aura before. No wonder that senior didn’t dare to show his face. If he did, he would probably be refined by this guy.

“You guys don’t leave either!”

The white-robed figure swept over, smashing one furnace at a time, then collecting them.

BOOM!

As the divine fire inside was refined, the three ferocious beasts immediately dissolved and turned into the purest golden divine liquid.

“These three are pretty strong!”

Tang Hao opened his mouth and swallowed the divine liquid.

The strength of these three fierce beasts were all at the late stage of the eighth tribulation. The old dragon’s bloodline was even more powerful, so the effect of its flesh was naturally better.

“That old man ... Is he still not going to show up?”

After absorbing the divine liquid, Tang Hao turned around and spread his divine sense in all directions.

Before he refined a ferocious beast, he had heard that there was indeed a nine tribulations beast in the sea. It was The Guardian of the sea beasts. Once a human nine tribulations beast came to massacre them, the nine tribulations beast would take action.

However, after killing so many of them, there was still no sign of the nine tribulations.

This made him very disappointed!

The flesh and blood of a ninth tribulation beast could heal many of his cracks.

“No, I didn’t!”

After searching for a while, he shook his head in disappointment.

There wasn’t even a trace of a ninth tribulation beast. He only found some eighth tribulation beasts that had concealed their aura and disguised themselves as low-level sage realm beasts.

“It seems like he’s hiding and not planning to show his face! Alright, then let’s see how long you can endure this!”

“Hmph!” Tang Hao snorted and continued to hunt, refine, and devour the eight tribulation beasts.

“No more!”

After sweeping the area and not finding any more eighth tribulation beasts, he found the crack that led to the cemetery and entered it.

The passage at the bottom of the ocean was a little twisted and full of forks. He released many split souls to find the correct path and enter the cemetery.

This was an extremely vast underwater space. There were skeletons of giant beasts everywhere, ranging from thousands of feet to tens of thousands of feet, hundreds of thousands of feet, and all kinds of sizes.

Tang Hao looked around and was a little disappointed.

The highest level of these corpses was at the 8th tribulation and there were very few of them.

8th tribulation beasts would not die naturally. If it was a fight between giant beasts, the dead would be devoured, flesh and bones, leaving no skeleton. Those who could die here must have fought with xiuzhe and suffered unhealable injuries. Then they came here and slowly died.

This was why there were so few eighth tribulation corpses here.

For Tang Hao, the bones of a mere eighth tribulation beast were not of much value. He had refined the flesh and bones of the previous eight tribulation beasts in one go.

There were some remnant souls around that were still useful. He raised his hand and collected them all into the furnace.

He had already collected 500 to 600 eighth tribulation beast souls in the furnace.

When he was fighting the nine-colored tribe, he didn’t think too much about it and refined the nine-colored Supreme gods along with their souls.

Now, when he was refining fierce beasts, he would separate the souls. He didn’t need them himself, but in the future, he could give them to his subordinates to use, and they could create many Supreme martial artists.

“That brother must have dug it up from here!”

Tang Hao flew over and saw a similar black object among the bones of an eighth tribulation Transcender. Just as he had guessed, it was the skeleton of a giant whale.

After looking around and seeing that there was nothing else, he continued to sweep forward.

After walking around and not finding anything useful, Tang Hao was ready to go back and see if there were any other eight tribulation beasts.

At this time, a cliff in the corner of the cemetery attracted his attention.

When he used his divine eyes to scan the area, he found that there seemed to be a gold and iron mine behind the cliff.

He swept over, and with a wave of his sleeve, the cliff wall was shattered. In an instant, a bright silver glow bloomed.

“This is ... True gold of empty nether?”

Tang Hao’s gaze froze when he looked at it.

In the next moment, a fiery red color erupted.

This dark void true gold was a divine material. It was also a top-notch material used to refine dimensional rings and all sorts of small worlds. The beast taming token spaces and portable herb gardens were all refined from this type of material with spatial attributes.

This type of material was extremely rare, not to mention that it was one of the top ones. No matter where it was, it was a rare and priceless item.

He had obtained quite a lot of Kongming true gold in the past, but not as much as this one. This was an entire mine.

Tang Hao’s eyes shone as he followed the mine vein and continued to explore.

This mine vein seemed to have no end, winding all the way down, deep underground.

“I’m rich!”

Tang Hao mumbled. He was overjoyed.

The value of such a mine was immeasurable.

With this mine vein, he no longer had to worry about money. As long as he sold this mine vein, he would have enough money to buy as many soul crystals as he wanted.

“And the mother!”

He used his divine sense to search and found a fetus mother in the center of the mine.

The so-called fetal mother was the oldest piece of ore that had formed in the beginning. It was often the highest quality ore in the ore vein.

“I’ll keep the mother for myself. I can make a few immortal rings in the future. Such a big piece is enough to make more than ten. I want one, and so do sister Xiangyi and the others ... I have to think about how to make it.”

Tang Hao pondered.

He naturally knew how to make things like rings, and he had made some before, but they were far less than battle armors, flying swords, and other items.

Not to mention, the grade couldn’t be low, it had to be refined into an immortal ring.

“Let’s take it first, then talk!”

With a wave of his hand, he completely shattered the mountain walls in all directions. Then, he stretched out his palm and grabbed the entire mineral vein, extracting it out as if he was extracting a Dragon.

“It’s too big, I can’t fit it!”

When he was about to store it, he realized that the grade of his rings was too low. The space inside could not hold such a huge mine.

Tang Hao smiled wryly. He had picked up these rings from a beast cave at the bottom of the ocean. They were probably left behind by low-level Saints, so their grades were not high. They were miles away from his immortal execution king ring.

“I’ll just casually refine one for now. It won’t be too late to refine the immortal ring after I’ve thought of the design plan and collected the materials!”

He muttered to himself for a moment before sitting down. With a casual wave of his hand, a piece of Kongming true gold fell from his hand and was thrown into the divine furnace.

When he was refining the true gold, he had gone through the method of refining the ring in his mind.

With some slight modifications, he had the complete refining method.

After the true gold was refined, he took it out and kneaded it with his spiritual will, forming a simple silver ring.

Then, he began to draw the talisman matrix.
