

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2860

“Yo! Isn’t that the fellow Daoist from the heaven of great joy?”

A few figures stood on the ten thousand beast warship.

They had long noticed this rapidly approaching divine light. When they got closer and took a closer look, they were a little surprised.

It was an elder from the heaven of great joy.

The strange thing was that this person actually looked extremely terrified and scared out of his wits.

This was too strange!

One had to know that this person’s cultivation level was at the Dao condensation realm. On the Azure meteor star, he would be a top expert. Who could scare him like this?

“Fellow Daoist, hurry up and drive! Let me go up, that demon is about to catch up!”

The evil monk in front of the warship said anxiously.

“Devil?”

The people on the ship were stunned for a moment, then burst into laughter.

This person from the sky of great joy actually dared to call someone else a demon? weren’t they the biggest demons in this starry sky?

“Can’t you guys just celebrate the day of great joy? You can’t even deal with the people on the Azure meteor star!”

One of them sneered.

However, he felt that the people of da Huan Tian were too arrogant. They had sent one person to suppress those nine tribulations forces, but they did not expect that he was not strong enough. Instead, he was beaten up and fled, coming to them for help.

This was a joke!

“Hahaha!”

The group of myriad beasts sect members behind him also laughed out loud.

Among the nine magnates, the joyous sky was the most annoying, so they naturally didn’t like it.

“Fellow Daoists, I’m begging you, hurry up and drive! It’ll be too late if you don’t open it now!” The evil monk turned around and shouted at the ship, almost going crazy with anxiety.

“Let him come up!”

An old voice came from the pavilion on the ship.

A green-robed old man stepped out and shouted at the bow of the ship, “I know you don’t like him, but don’t forget that the nine superpowers are now in a cooperative relationship. We should help him when we need to.”

“Yes, elder!”

The group of myriad beasts sect disciples immediately bowed and responded.

Immediately, someone opened the shield and let the person in.

“Phew! We’re finally saved!”

The evil monk rushed up and collapsed on the deck. He heaved a long sigh of relief, looking as if he had just escaped death.

“Fellow Daoist, why are you in such a sorry state? Did you run into some troublesome person?”

The green-robed elder asked doubtfully as he descended.

Logically speaking, this should not have happened!

With the strength of the nine magnates, they could easily destroy all the forces on this planet. How could this Dao gathering realm elder of the great joy heaven be beaten up and forced to flee?

There was such a character on the Azure meteor star?

“Devil! He’s a terrifying demon!”

On the deck, the evil monk shuddered. His eyes were wide open with extreme fear.

“He’s dead! They were all dead! That demon ... Is too terrifying!”

He trembled as he muttered, his face completely drained of blood.

Seeing this, the green-robed old man was stunned.

A terrifying devil?

There was such a person on this Azure meteor?

All dead?

What did that mean? could it be that all the people who loved the sky were dead?

'How ... How is this possible?'

The strength of the people on that ship was about the same as his myriad beasts sect. A high-level elder was leading the group, followed by a dozen mid-to low-level elders. This kind of strength was already very shocking. What kind of demon could kill them all?

He really couldn't imagine it, so he felt it was even more ridiculous.

The other people on the ship were also stunned.

Someone from the sky of great joy actually died?

This was too scary!

"Fellow Daoist, You must be joking!" The green-robed old man regained his senses and forced a smile.

He still couldn't believe it.

"Do I need to joke around? Dead, they're all dead. If I hadn't run fast enough, I wouldn't have been able to get here ... Look, it's him, he's that peerless demon!"

As the evil monk spoke, he suddenly looked out of the ship and screamed in horror.

He used both his hands and feet to crawl back in a panic.

Everyone on the ship was shocked. They turned around and saw a white-robed figure outside the ship.

He stood in the air, his robe and black hair fluttering in the wind. A shocking aura enveloped his body.

"Isn't he ... Only at the Dao condensation realm?!"

The green-robed elder was stunned when he saw it.

He had thought that this so-called peerless and terrifying demon would be a Dao integration or even more powerful old monster. He had never thought that it was only a Dao condensation realm!

How could a mere Dao condensation cultivator kill the spirit-devouring evil child of the heaven of great joy and the other nine tribulations elders?

Was this a joke?!

"Fellow Daoist, I know that you're being chased away and that's very embarrassing, but you can't lie to me! Look, a mere Dao condensation expert was praised by you as a peerless demon. Is this even appropriate? Who would believe this! Do you think we're three years old?"

The green-robed old man scolded with a stern face.

“You’re still cursing your happiness, saying that they’re all dead. I’ll have to have a good talk with fellow Daoist spirit Devourer when I see him later.”

“I’m telling the truth! He’s really a devil ...”

The evil monk said anxiously, “quick! Let’s go! We can’t fight him!”

The green-robed old man’s face sank and he was somewhat unhappy.

Was this guy from the heaven of great joy looking down on the strength of his myriad beasts sect? it was just a small Dao assembly, and he couldn’t even take care of it?

This white-robed fellow actually dared to resist, and that was going against the nine leaders. As an elder of the myriad beasts sect, he had the duty to kill him as a warning to others.

“Everyone, get ready! Kill him!”

He waved his sleeve and shouted.

“Yes, elder!”

Everyone from the myriad beasts sect immediately responded in unison.

They all looked relaxed. He was only at the Dao condensation realm. How strong could he be? with the strength of the myriad beasts sect, they could easily kill him.

“No... Don ‘t! You guys run!”

The evil monk looked at the bow of the ship and shouted in horror.

The white-robed devil had made his move!

He threw a punch at the ship under his feet.

“Hahaha!”

The myriad beasts sect’s people all laughed.

Was that guy in white an idiot?

He wanted to shake his myriad beasts sect’s Starship with such a light punch? Wasn’t this an ant trying to shake a tree, overestimating its own ability!

However, in the next moment, there was a loud explosion.

The ship under his feet suddenly trembled and shook.

The laughter stopped abruptly.

The faces of everyone on the ship froze.

Then, it turned into horror and became completely distorted. Pairs of eyes were wide open and filled with extreme disbelief.

Cracks started to appear on the huge ship under their feet as it continued to collapse.

“Devil! He’s truly a terrifying demon!”

The green-robed old man was stunned for a moment. When he looked up at the white-robed figure in front of him, his expression was already extremely fearful.

With just one punch, he had blown up his ten thousand beast warship!

Such strength was simply terrifying beyond compare!

What the guy from the day of great joy said was true.

“Quickly run!”

He used all his strength to roar, then turned around and ran away madly.

If the people from the sky of great joy were dead, then the people from the myriad beasts sect would definitely not be a match for them. If they were to fight head-on, they would probably be destroyed.

The only way was to find the people of the other big shots and team up to fight against this peerless demon!
