

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2884

“Good treasure!”

Tang Hao praised sincerely as he walked into the tower and circled around the divine gold.

This was a piece of metal that had been refined for over ten thousand years, it had long reached the level of an immortal material.

It was three thousand feet long and two to three feet wide. It was like a long Dragon hanging high in the tower. Endless immortal Qi was drawn in from all directions and enveloped the divine gold.

The immortal Qi in the tower was dozens of times more than the outside. The closer it was to the immortal metal, the denser it was.

There was an invisible force that was pushing the immortal Qi into the immortal metal.

“The star Devourer beast is like a planet,” he said. “It can absorb vast amounts of immortal Qi in the starry sky. After it devours the planet, all of its immortal meridians and spiritual objects will be absorbed and transformed into the purest immortal Qi.

“This place is the best place to refine treasures!”

Tang Hao walked around the pagoda again and figured out the structure of the pagoda.

This tower could extract the immortal Qi from the star-devouring beast and compress it to create a place with extremely high immortal Qi density, comparable to the era of true immortals. It could be used to refine divine materials and upgrade them to the level of immortal materials.

The time when this Pagoda was built should be not long after the birth of this starry sky, before the establishment of the immortal world.

At that time, true immortals and Saint realm cultivators were all in this starry sky. They were separated after the establishment of the immortal world.

This True Monarch of many treasures had naturally gone to the immortal world, so this thing had remained until now.

“I just happened to benefit from it!”

Tang Hao grinned. He was extremely happy.

To him, such a large piece of divine gold was more precious than a divine artifact.

After all, the celestial artifact had already taken shape, and this piece of celestial gold could be refined into any treasure he wanted.

Moreover, it was an essential item for Dao and immortal Ascension. He didn't need it himself, but the people around him would need it in the future.

"If I can find the ring, this will be the third immortal material!"

Tang Hao reached out and took the immortal material, putting it into his clear sky ring.

In the black and yellow tower, he had obtained many immortal items. There were immortal items, black and yellow ancient Qi, and two immortal materials. One was an immortal turtle shell, and the other was an immortal sword bone. The immortal gold was the third.

"Tortoiseshells can be refined into defensive treasures, sword bones can be refined into sword-type and needle-type treasures, and this divine gold can be used to refine combat weapons and armor."

Tang Hao pondered.

Then, he searched in his ring, took out a section of the gold iron vein, and placed it in the center of the tower.

In a few hundred years, or even a thousand years, this divine material would turn into an immortal material.

Of course, this had nothing to do with him.

After a few hundred years, he would definitely not be in this world.

"Argh! Oh right, I almost forgot about the three of them!"

Tang Hao suddenly thought of Ji Ruyin and the others, so he summoned them from his mobile abode.

"A treasure refining Pagoda set up by an ancient true immortal?"

The three girls were extremely shocked when they heard him explain the situation.

They had never expected that there would be such a mystery in the star Devourer beast's body!

"Young master Tang's attainments in the Dao of arrays are truly amazing! He can even break the arrays and restrictions set up by true immortals with ease!" Ji Ruyin was even more shocked.

She knew very well that places like this were extremely dangerous and difficult to enter. But young master Tang had easily broken through all the obstacles and entered this place. It was enough to show how high his attainments in array Dao were, comparable to that of an ancient true immortal.

"We'll go out later. That star Devourer beast has already woken up. Also, those old monsters outside will definitely stop us. It'll be troublesome."

Tang Hao said to them.

After saying that, he began to casually walk around the tower.

He had investigated it. The pagoda itself was not a particularly good treasure, and it was only made of divine materials, so he did not take it.

“Eh? There’s another heavenly passage!”

After walking around for a while, his expression suddenly changed as he examined the structure of the tower’s formation. He found that there was a hidden space in the tower at the highest level.

He opened the passage and walked in.

Inside, there was a relatively spacious room with a futon and some tables and chairs.

There were some scrolls scattered on the table.

He picked them up and took a look. They were all refining blueprints for treasures. Some were only half-drawn and were scrap drafts.

It was obvious that these were all designed by True Monarch duo Bao.

He scanned through them and put them away.

He walked around again and left after finding nothing.

“Let’s go out and take a look!”

After waiting for a long time, Tang Hao put the three women back into the cave abode and left the space.

As soon as he entered the blood sea, he rushed up.

Whoosh!

As soon as he got out of the blood sea, he saw a black shadow coming from above. It was a pitch-black Octopus-like tentacle.

His body swayed and he dodged.

But then, from all directions, even in the sea of blood, countless tentacles like this stretched out and wrapped around him.

“Hmph!”

His body shook, and his aura exploded. He reached out, and a giant Golden Palm condensed and slapped out.

Peng Peng Peng!

In an instant, he struck out hundreds of palm strikes in all directions.

Endless golden light exploded, lighting up the dark void.

The huge tentacles were sent flying, but they were not damaged. They were unbelievably hard. Then, the tentacles continued to grab.

Tsk!

Tang Hao could not help but grin when he saw that.

This giant beast was indeed a little terrifying. He had a cultivation base of twenty Dao attainment, but he couldn't even break one of its tentacles with one palm.

"No! I can't fight it head-on. This beast's strength is probably at the immortal level!"

"Oh right! There's the aura of a true immortal on those scrolls, and they might be able to shock this guy!"

He quickly recalled the scrolls he had found in the tower.

In the face of the tentacles coming from all directions, he waved his sleeve, and scrolls flew out and unfurled.

In an instant, the tentacles all around stopped.

Gulu!

A strange sound came from the void above.

Soon, the tentacles all retreated, and the surroundings returned to calm.

"It's that easy to use? Has this star-devouring beast been tamed? or was it raised by True Monarch many treasures?" Tang Hao mumbled.

Then, he grinned.

"You're really a warm-hearted senior! First, you gave me a rare immortal material, and now you're giving me an immortal level giant beast!" Tang Hao said happily as he played with the scroll in his hand.

With these scrolls, he didn't need to be afraid of the giant beast anymore. He could come and go as he pleased.

And this was a good place. It could be said to be the safest place in this starry sky.

"I'll open a cave abode here. Even true immortals will be wary of it and won't dare to rashly enter. From now on, this will be my base!"

Tang Hao did not leave. He sank back into the blood sea and returned to the space.

He decided to expand this space and build his own immortal's cave here.
