

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2917

In the deep starry sky, a large ship was slowly moving.

In all four directions, rings of stars were dazzling, magnificent and dreamy.

All the cultivators on the ship exclaimed.

Tang Hao, on the other hand, narrowed his eyes and studied the Rings.

With his array Dao attainments, he quickly saw through some of the tricks.

These formations might not be exquisite, but they were huge in scale.

Even though he had a cultivation of 95 Dao attainment, it was still difficult for him to lay out such a large formation. After all, no matter how many Dao attainments he had, he was still a ninth tribulation Saint realm expert, one step away from becoming a genuine immortal.

And that step was of utmost importance.

After knocking open the gate of immortality, the cultivator's soul and body would break through and enter another level.

Of course, there was still a lot of Dao attainment, but in the hands of a true immortal, the power exerted was not something that the nine tribulations could compare with.

"A true immortal!"

Tang Hao mumbled to himself as he looked at the ring of stars above his head.

Of course, he wanted to break through and become a true immortal.

However, he didn't dare to. Once he broke through, he would be noticed by the people in the immortal world above and he would have no choice but to ascend.

While he was pondering, the ship passed through the celestial ring region and entered the star field.

"We've arrived at planet black!"

"We've arrived at Planet Water separation!"

The ship sped up and stopped at the passing stars. Soon, they arrived at the center of the star field.

In front of them, a huge azure-blue Star appeared. In terms of size, it was only slightly smaller than the sacred beast planet. It was the central star of this Star Domain, where the main gate of the star Mountain was located.

Many people were heading toward the planet. Tang Hao followed them and entered the planet.

“This way!”

Sensing the aura of his true spirit, he determined the direction and swept in the direction.

At this moment, somewhere on the planet, in a mountain range, a figure was sitting on a towering ancient tree. His hands were supporting his cheeks as he looked up at the sky in a daze.

A pair of smooth Jade legs hung down and swayed.

“Al!”

She looked at the sky and sighed.

Once again, she regretted following them. With her little bit of talent, she would be despised even in the last-tier powers like the great fate sect, let alone one of the nine magnates, the stellar mountain.

After coming here, she realized that there were geniuses and evildoers everywhere. Even those who chopped wood and farmed were much more talented than her.

Her weak self-esteem had suffered countless blows.

“If I’d known earlier, I would’ve stayed in the great fate sect and been the sect master!”

She pouted and muttered.

“This place is suitable for xuexi, not for me ...” She looked up at the sky and sighed again, her eyes a little dim. “And the big liar, does he not remember me?” I’m the invincible Emperor now, the idol of so many people. How would they remember me?”

As she thought about this, her mood became even more depressed.

“I’m so silly. I really thought that he would remember me ...”

She mumbled as her eyes turned red.

“Yo! Isn’t this great sect master ye?”

At this time, a mocking laugh came from not far away.

A group of men and women were flying over from there. Each of them had outstanding horns and extraordinary bearings. With one look, one could tell that they were geniuses and monsters.

Ye Siyao’s expression changed when she saw them.

She wiped the corner of her eyes, her face darkened, and shouted, “What are you guys doing!”

“Nothing! What can we do!”

The group of people rushed over, and the blue-robed woman in front said with a mocking expression, “you’re great genius SU’s good follower, we don’t dare to do anything to you! Don’t you guys agree?”

As she spoke, she looked at the people behind her.

“Yup! What a good follower, you’re almost like a shadow!”

The few women laughed out loud, while the few men also had a mocking look on their faces.

Their gazes were filled with disdain and contempt.

The guy in front of them was just a waste. His talent was so low that it made people’s hair stand on end. If he were to be placed on those low-level stars, no one would want him. However, he actually entered the star Mountain and became an official disciple like them.

This also made them very unhappy.

As for the one with the surname su, ever since he came to the star Mountain, he had been doted on by many elders and had overshadowed many of them. They were also very unhappy.

And this guy was the follower of that su guy. He had entered this place because of that su guy, so he was even more hostile to them.

“Tsk tsk! You’ve been here for so long and you’re still at the 4th tribulation. You’re really a disgrace to our stellar mountain!”

“You’re cultivating like a pig, aren’t you?”

The female disciples screeched with a mean expression.

“Hmph! With such inferior talent, I don’t know what the elders are thinking. They even gave her the status of an official disciple. In my opinion, giving her the status of an errand boy is already considered high.”

“She even bragged to others that she knew the white-robed Emperor and had a good relationship with him! Hahaha! He was really too shameless! The white-robed Emperor was not even a hundred years old, yet he had already become an invincible Emperor. He was a heaven-defying figure! I don’t know how high her status is, how could she know this trash?”

The few male disciples also spoke sarcastically.

“I think she’s delusional and shameless!”

The blue-robed woman laughed, her face filled with joy.

There were rumors among the disciples that su and ye were related to the white-robed Emperor. However, no one believed them. Instead, they laughed at them.

The white-robed Emperor had a very noble status. Back in Cangliu, he had hunted down nine great overlords by himself, shaking the starry sky. Now, he had shocked the world with his battle and was given the title of invincible Emperor.

How could such a person be related to this trash!

Even if that person had once appeared in that small Cangliu sect and had interacted with them, how could he have cared about them?

“Bah! I think you’re the one who’s shameless!”

Ye Siyao gritted her teeth and stood up. She raised her hand and cursed.

“Hmph! His mouth was still so tight! I’ll see if you can still be so stubborn later!” The blue-robed woman’s face sank as she rebuked.

A mere good-for-nothing dared to speak so rudely to her, a heaven’s favorite of the sect. He really did not know his own place!

She flicked her sleeve, and a majestic aura immediately spread out and pressed forward.

Ye Siyao’s pretty face changed, and she immediately let out a low cry and flew backward after being hit by this aura.

He flew out a hundred feet before falling down.

The blue-robed woman smiled complacently. She raised her hand and another wave of aura blasted out. She was going to teach this trash a good lesson today and let him know what the consequences were for talking back to her.

However, as soon as this aura was released, another aura suddenly appeared out of thin air in front of her and slapped over, causing her aura to explode. Then, it slapped over heavily.

Her body trembled, and she immediately let out a muffled groan as she flew backward.
