

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3226

As soon as he entered the Imperial City, Tang Hao went straight to the heaven seeking Pavilion.

He returned to the bright moon Palace after getting the items.

“You’re back! Come, come, come, I’ll treat you to a good meal.” Upon seeing him, tantai Mingyue greeted him warmly.

“You guys eat! I still have things to do! By the way, where’s the thing I told you to get?”

Tang Hao shook his head.

It wasn’t long before the fight for the position of Saint. Time was tight, and he didn’t have time to eat, drink, and play.

“As long as it’s half done, 5000! You don’t know how much effort I’ve put in to obtain these five thousand Saint spirit pills. My Imperial father didn’t agree to it at first, but when he heard that I was going to participate in the fight for the Saint position, he gave it to me and said that I could play with it.”

Tantai Mingyue said.

“Five thousand? It’s alright!”

Tang Hao nodded.

In the beginning, he did not expect to really get 10000.

Then, he smiled.

That Saint Emperor really doted on this little girl, taking out five thousand Saint spirit pills just like that for her to play with.

“There! Take it, do you really need that much?”

Tantai Mingyue took out a storage ring and passed it over as she asked curiously.

The effect of this elixir was very strong. After cultivating a five-aperture origin core, thirty to forty of them would be enough to reach the Golden immortal realm. Even if it was a four-aperture origin core, a hundred of them would be enough.

Where did this person get so many origin cores!

Even her Saint spirit dynasty didn't have many origin embryos because they were extremely rare. In an immortal stone mine, one could only be born once every several hundred or even a thousand years, and they might not even be of high quality.

“Of course!”

Tang Hao took it and opened it. He took out a Saint spirit pill and examined it closely.

“Not bad!”

He nodded his head.

He could roughly estimate the medicinal power of this pill. Five thousand pills should be enough.

He still had a lot of spiritual essence, and he had just bought a lot from the heaven seeking Pavilion.

When he arrived at the palace that tantai Mingyue had prepared for him, he activated the formation and started to gather the immortal Qi of this small world.

Then, he sat down cross-legged.

With a flick of his sleeve, the great void divine furnace flew out and hung high in the air.

The immortal Qi accumulated in the Great Hall rolled and surged toward the divine furnace.

BOOM!

The divine furnace trembled and the divine fire within burned.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

In the next moment, countless beams of divine light flew out from his sleeves and into the furnace.

They were colorful immortal stones with different shapes and materials. The only thing they had in common was that they were extremely rich in immortal Qi.

Then, Tang Hao flicked his sleeve again. Countless beams of divine light shot out and poured into the furnace like a flood.

These were all spiritual objects that had to be refined into immortal stones to help nurture the nascent soul. Among them, the most important one was the immortal spirit.

Immortal spirits were things with spirits that were born from immortal veins, and they belonged to the category of Holy Spirits.

And this origin core also belonged to the Holy Spirit.

Fang Jinghong's method was to merge the immortal spirit into the immortal stone and use the method of refining a weapon to create a man-made origin core.

In Tang Hao's eyes, his method was still a bit rough and had many flaws. He had made some improvements, added many materials, and designed many formations.

According to his method, he would be able to refine an origin core of a higher quality.

"Let's start!"

After all the materials were stuffed into the furnace, he took a light breath and closed his eyes.

In the furnace, the divine fire was blazing.

Under his control, all the materials were refined and fused into the immortal stones.

There were many immortal-level plants, and many rare materials from the bloodlines of the ancient times, such as the blood of a real Dragon, the marrow of a Phoenix, the blood essence of a Qilin, and so on, all of which could enhance the quality of the original embryo.

His spiritual sense was crazily engraving rune arrays on these immortal stones.

Soon, the corners of each immortal stone were refined and they became oval eggs. The divine light on them was even brighter, and there were countless illusionary runes lingering around them.

After the carving was completed, the next step was to refine.

He had to keep on cultivating for three months before these origin cores could take shape and break out of the stone.

“There it is!”

And so, a month later, he could sense the aura of life coming from these stones.

If he looked carefully, he could see tiny life forms being nurtured in the rocks.

As he continued to refine, these little lives also grew, and their auras also grew stronger.

As soon as they were born, they were in the Saint realm, followed by the first tribulation, the second tribulation, the third tribulation, and their auras kept soaring. Soon, they broke through to the immortal level, and advanced to the earth immortal and heaven immortal.

When he threw in almost all of his spiritual essence, the auras of these origin cores had all reached the heaven immortal level.

He had been in the immortal world for more than ten years, and he had accumulated too much spiritual essence.

He had bought them himself, stolen them from the major powers, killed many Immortals to Rob them, and refined too many.

“It’s done!”

After a few more days, he stopped.

Those origin cores had already matured. Next, he would have to wait for them to break out of the stone.

Kala! Kala!

After a while, one of the immortal stones began to shake. Then, cracks appeared on it, and bright purple light burst out from it.

Bang!

The next moment, the immortal rock exploded, and a purple human figure appeared.

He was a mid-stage heaven immortal.

The figure stood there, moving his hands and feet. His appearance began to change. At first, it turned into his appearance, but very quickly, it changed again into a tall and strong middle-aged man.

“Fellow Daoist!”

He bowed slightly and called out to the outside of the furnace.

Before the birth of the origin core, Tang Hao had fused a part of his soul into each immortal stone. Thus, these origin cores became his clones as soon as they were born.

“Eight apertures! Man-made immortal spirit vital embryo!”

Tang Hao used his divine sense to examine him, then nodded in satisfaction.

According to Fang Jinghong’s method, he could only form a seven-aperture origin core, which was close to the eight-aperture realm. However, with some slight improvements, he entered the eight-aperture realm.

An eight apertures master was already a legendary origin core, which was comparable to the five elements origin core.

Kala! Kala!

Then, more and more immortal stones cracked in the divine furnace, and more and more figures appeared.

They changed their appearances and appearances.

“Greetings, fellow Daoist!”

After they stood still, they would call out to the outside of the furnace.

An hour later, all the energy embryos broke out of their shells.

Tang Hao was overjoyed when he looked at them.

A total of 3000 eight aperture nascent souls!

All of them were mid-stage heaven Immortals!

He still had 5000 Saint spirit pills with him, which was enough to upgrade 1000 of them to the Golden immortal realm. After that, he could collect some spiritual essences and upgrade the remaining 2000 to the peak of the heaven immortal realm.

A thousand gold Immortals and two thousand peak heaven Immortals!

This was an extremely terrifying combat strength!

Furthermore, these incarnations were familiar with his divine arts and combat techniques. When they gathered together, they could unleash an even greater power.

“Take them all!”

He smiled and flicked his sleeve. Countless divine lights flew out, and they were dimensional rings.

In each ring, there was a set of equipment that he had prepared, which could fully arm these origin cores.
