

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3268

“The world has really changed!”

“Yup! It was chaos! There were opportunities everywhere, and everyone was going crazy! I’ve heard that many old monsters have come out, and some of them are extremely fierce and ruthless.”

“There are also the demonic cultivators and the untainted tribe. This world is really a mess!”

In the restaurant of the immortal City, it was noisy.

Everyone was discussing the recent situation. Some were worried, while others were excited.

The turbulent times and the chaos in the immortal world were not good news for many people, but for those who were bold, this was a once-in-a-thousand-years opportunity.

Originally, they had to work hard to earn immortal crystals to buy Dao attainment or raise immortal slaves to slowly improve themselves. But now, as long as they got an opportunity, they could save thousands of years of hard cultivation and reach the sky in one step.

As long as he could grasp it, he would not be far from the Golden immortal realm.

“Hey! How can an opportunity be so easy to get? can we, true immortals, compete with those old golden immortal monsters? haven’t you heard that many people have died, refined to death by those old golden immortal monsters?”

“That’s because they’re unlucky. It’s not the same!”

Many people started to argue.

“What dark night King, Heavenly Dragon King, these old monsters of the demon race have all appeared. They are all heavenly venerable rank great demons with extremely terrifying means. I heard that many people have been eaten by them.”

“No one cares about this?”

“Hey! At a time like this, who would still care! The celestial Venerables of our human race are all busy snatching opportunities! Who would bother to care about those Yao!”

“Al! In this world, it’s better to hide. Just stay in this city and don’t go out!”

“Isn’t that so!”

In a corner of the restaurant, a white-robed figure was sitting upright and drinking by himself with an indifferent expression.

He had heard too many such discussions in the past few days.

In a short half a month, the immortal world had changed greatly and was in chaos everywhere.

Many names that he had never heard of before jumped out. There were humans, demons, and people of the primordial bloodline. The demons, in particular, had appeared the most recently.

In the past, they rarely saw demons.

“The more chaotic, the better!”

He took a sip of wine and muttered to himself.

The previous immortal world was too peaceful. This was what a real cultivation world was like.

After drinking for a while, his expression suddenly changed. He raised his eyes and looked in a direction.

His vision had already stretched out thousands of miles, and he saw a beam of divine light falling from the sky, emitting a shocking aura.

At this moment, perhaps half the people in the state could sense this aura.

“What’s that?”

“Is it an opportunity?”

The restaurant was soon in an uproar.

Everyone activated their divine eyes and Dharma eyes to look over, their expressions extremely excited.

Such an opportunity would only appear if one was fast, and not if one was slow. Not long after it appeared, it would be snatched up, so generally, only people from the local continent would have a chance.

Now that the place where the divine light had appeared was not far away, they all had a chance.

“Go! Let’s go and take a look!”

At that moment, many figures jumped out of the restaurant, turned into divine light, and rushed into the sky.

Figures from all over the immortal City also rushed into the sky.

“Let’s go take a look! It just so happens that I’m still lacking a Taoist connotation!”

Tang Hao stood up, threw a few immortal crystals on the ground, and left the restaurant in a flash.

At this moment, he could see divine light everywhere in the sky, and they were all rushing in the same direction.

Ten minutes later, he was close to his destination.

The beam of divine light had already fallen, and a divine mountain could be vaguely seen inside. It was completely black and exuded a cold and eerie aura. Some strange buildings could also be vaguely seen.

From all directions of the divine light, there were people constantly rushing in.

As they plunged into the divine light, they disappeared without a trace.

Tang Hao was not in a hurry to enter the divine light.

“There shouldn’t be any problems!”

He muttered after staring at it for a while.

If what the night Immortal King had said was true, and these opportunities were created by the various immortal kings for the common people to obtain so that they could create zenith heaven Immortals or even immortal kings, there wouldn't be too much risk.

Moreover, there had been many opportunities in other places, but he had not heard of any danger.

Around the divine light, there were many people like him who stopped outside and didn't rush in.

They stared at the divine mountain inside with vigilance.

Many people gathered together and began to discuss the matter of joining forces.

Tang Hao scanned his surroundings, then moved to enter the mountain.

At this moment, a beam of divine light shot over from not far away. It was so powerful that it attracted the attention of many people.

When it got close to him, the divine light stopped and an immortal ship appeared.

"It's the heaven desolate Palace!"

Tang Hao recognized it immediately.

He was quite familiar with the symbol of the heaven desolate Palace.

"It's the fellow Daoist from the heaven desolate Hall!"

Around them, there was a small uproar.

Many people looked over, and their eyes lit up with eagerness.

In the immortal world, the name of the heavenly desolation Hall was well-known and well-known. It was not weaker than the human Sovereign Xuanyuan clan and the primordial sect. In fact, it was even higher in status.

This was because the name Tianhuang had come from Emperor Tianhuang, who had created the immortal world.

Then, several figures flew toward the immortal warship.

“Fellow Daoists of the heavenly desolate Hall, it’s dangerous inside. Why don’t we join forces?”

The divine light covering the immortal ship gradually faded away, revealing a dozen or so figures. They all looked quite young-eight men and four women. All of them had extraordinary auras. The men were tall and handsome, while the women were charming and graceful.

With a glance, it made one’s eyes shine.

These people looked around and whispered to each other, then nodded to these people.

These were all golden Immortals with extraordinary strength. If the strong joined forces, their chances of obtaining the opportunity would be greater.

“If you haven’t reached the Golden immortal stage, then forget it! My heavenly desolate Hall doesn’t need trash!”

Seeing that there were still people coming over from all directions, but their cultivation bases were only at true immortal realm, a man in a green robe could not help but sneer.

He looked around, his eyes filled with strong contempt and disdain.

The figures of the people approaching from all directions paused, revealing a look of shock.

Although they were a little angry at being humiliated like this, they could do nothing about it.

It was their fault for not being strong enough. Furthermore, the other party was from the heaven desolate Palace. They had indeed overestimated themselves.

“You, move! Move! What are you doing there!”

“Are you blind? Don’t block the way! Hurry up and get lost!”

The immortal warship restarted and headed toward the divine mountain. When the men on the ship saw Tang Hao standing in front of them, they could not help but poke him and curse at him. They had arrogant and haughty expressions on their faces.

Tang Hao, who was about to turn around and enter the room, stopped in his tracks.

He turned around and looked at the group of people from the heaven desolate Palace. He stood there and did not move.
