

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 711

“Shut up, both of you are not good people!” Tang Hao reprimanded.

As he spoke, he walked forward and snatched the ring. After fiddling with it for a while, he sneered, “How smart! I didn’t know you could smuggle drugs and firearms with Artifacts!”

“It... It really wasn’t my idea!” The plump man said in a trembling voice.

When his gaze landed on that blurry face, his heart trembled.

How scary!

That guy was definitely stronger than Grandmaster Khunka! Otherwise, why would the grandmaster be so scared? Could that guy be the monster he mentioned earlier?

He gulped hard, and his face became paler.

‘Dammit, this is my unluckiest day ever!’ He cursed in his heart.

Tang Hao walked over and opened the crates one by one. Seeing all the drugs and firearms inside, his expression became gloomier and gloomier. How many people would be harmed by all these things?

“How long has this been going on?” He turned to them and asked coldly.

“Not... Not very long!” The plump man hurriedly shook his head.

“You’re not telling the truth!” Tang Hao raised his hand and slapped him, sending him flying.

Then, he took out his phone and informed General Bai about the matter.

“What? There’s such a thing? F*ck, these Nanyangese are too despicable! Just wait. I’ll send someone over right away.

“We’ll have to thoroughly investigate this. No one shall be spared!”

General Bai was furious.

Drugs and firearms caused great harm to society.

The Agency would not be involved in a usual smuggling case. However, they had to intervene because cultivators were involved.

Tang Hao put his phone down and thought for a moment. He decided to call Zhao Qingxue instead of Zhao Wuyang.

It was a major case. It would be a great service to crack it.

At that moment, Zhao Qingxue had just returned home from work. She took off her shoes, fell on the couch, and moaned comfortably.

“Finally, I can sleep well!”

She stretched and rolled on the couch.

Suddenly, her phone rang. She frowned and mumbled, "Don't tell me there's another case!"

She saw the name on the phone screen and was pleasantly surprised. "You finally have the time to call me!" She answered cheerfully.

"There's a case..." Tang Hao said.

"Huh?"

Zhao Qingxue was stunned, and her expression sank. "Another case? Just when I thought I had the time to rest, you hand me another case!"

Tang Hao did not say anything.

"Forget it, tell me about the case." Zhao Qingxue sat up and said seriously.

"It's a major case..."

Tang Hao told her everything.

Zhao Qingxue's jaw dropped. She was completely dumbfounded.

A mountain of drugs and firearms?

Transported into Huaxia using supernatural methods?

Such a thing was unheard of!

Then, her expression turned grim. "Wait there. I'm coming!"

She put on her shoes and left in a hurry. Twenty minutes later, she arrived at the dump.

She was stunned when she saw the mountain of drugs and firearms.

"Oh my god, all these drugs! Someone is going to face the firing squad. And these firearms, they're all brand-new... this is really a major case!"

"I'll leave this guy to you. As for the other guy, he's a Nanyang shaman and not a mundane person. Someone from the military will be coming over to help later," Tang Hao said.

Zhao Qingxue took out her phone and called the provincial headquarters.

The provincial headquarters was in an uproar!

The superintendent, the head of the narcotics squad, and all the other important figures were alarmed.

"This is a major case with supernatural influences!"

"Eh? Comrade Zhao again? She was the one who caught the thief the last time, right? I heard that the process was quite interesting."

“Oh! Zhao’s daughter is quite capable!”

“Not bad! Not bad at all!”

The police cars set out of the provincial headquarters. Sirens rang out as the cars drove toward the suburbs.

This motorcade shocked the people on the road.

With so many police cars, it must be a major case!

The people from the Agency arrived before the police. They had stationed several people in Provincial City.

“Damn! These Nanyangese are pretty smart for coming up with that!”

The two people from the Agency were shocked.

Then, they angrily grabbed Grandmaster Khunka and beat him up.

“Dammit, how dare you cause trouble here!”

“You have a death wish, Nanyang whelps!”

They cursed while beating him up.

“Take this ring as evidence. Give it back to me when you’re done!” Tang Hao handed the ring to them.

The ring contained a pocket dimension and was extremely precious. Tang Hao would not want to let it fall into another party’s hands. He would give the ring to Qin Xiangyi.

“Don’t worry! We’ll send it over when we’re done!”

The two agents bowed respectfully and took the ring.

They continued to beat up the grandmaster until they were satisfied. Then, they restrained him.

After a while, the sound of police sirens could be heard from afar. One after another, police cars came to the front of the dump and stopped there.

The car doors opened, and a lot of police officers came out. There were also many fully armed special forces police officers.

The squad leaders led the way in.

“This is outrageous!”

They were furious when they saw the mountain of drugs and firearms.

“How much harm would all these drugs bring?” One of the veteran leaders said bitterly.

“It’s not the first time they’ve done this. I’ve been wondering why drugs are suddenly more readily available in the province and the surrounding provinces over the past few years. We could never find the root of the problem.”

Then, they walked towards Zhao Qingxue.

“Thank you for your hard work, Lil Zhao!”

A warm smile appeared on their faces as they reached out and shook hands with Zhao Qingxue.

Zhao Qingxue smiled awkwardly and said, “I didn’t do anything! It’s all him!”

As she said that, she pointed at Tang Hao.

“Oh, that must be Comrade Tang Hao! I’ve long heard of your name!”

One of the leaders stepped forward and warmly shook hands with Tang Hao.

Tang Hao’s name was well-known among the top brass of the provincial headquarters.

Earlier, the military had blockaded the provincial headquarters because of him, and he even caused the superintendent to fall from grace. Tang Hao’s name appeared in many cases.

“Thank you for your hard work, Comrade Tang Hao!”

The other leaders came up and shook hands with Tang Hao.

“Don’t mention it. It’s thanks to Comrade Zhao...” Tang Hao said with a smile.

Zhao Qingxue was stunned and was about to speak.

Without waiting for her to speak, the police captain said, “Thank you for your hard work, Comrade Zhao! I thank you on behalf of the organization! Don’t worry, there will definitely be commendations. You’ll lead the investigations for this case!”

Zhao Qingxue was stunned.

She had not done anything!

Furthermore, she was going to lead the special task force on this case?

She was getting a little fearful.
