

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 713

“Bad news!”

General Bai said grimly after the call was answered.

“The people from the Agency were attacked. They barely escaped with their lives. We had an intense fight at the border, and they injured many of our border guards.”

Tang Hao’s expression changed drastically.

Two days ago, the Agency sent people across the border into Nanyang to kill the shamans involved in smuggling.

Grandmaster Khunka was not the only shaman involved. Many other Nanyang shamans had entered Huaxia as accomplices to the smuggling ring.

The Agency sent five people. They thought that it would be enough, but they did not expect to meet with resistance.

How dare they attack the Huaxianese and hunt them down at the border? That was a brazen act!

Tang Hao’s eyes narrowed, and a shocking killing intent erupted.

“Who did it?”

He took a deep breath and said coldly.

“It’s Mulla’s men! Mulla is one of the most powerful figures in the Nanyang cultivation world. He has about three hundred men under his command. That’s about half of the Nanyang cultivation world.

“He’s the most powerful person in the Nanyang cultivation world. Khunka and those guys should all be his minions,” General Bai said.

“We’ve only just arrived there and haven’t done anything before they attacked us. Mulla himself must’ve been behind this.

“The people who came after us were all experts!”

Tang Hao’s expression became increasingly gloomy. “How dare they! Are they planning to start a war?”

“That should be it! Those Nanyang whelps are too much!” General Bai said angrily.

“Not only are they smuggling drugs and firearms to bring ruin to Huaxia, but they are also hunting down our people. This is simply intolerable! We have to fight them, Comrade Tang Hao. Otherwise, they’ll think that we’re pushovers!”

“If a fight is what they want, then we’ll bring it to them!” Tang Hao said.

His expression turned harsh and cold. “Let’s declare war on them!”

General Bai immediately became excited. “Good! That’s the way! Declare war and fight!”

“Gather everyone. I want the Nanyang shamans to disappear from this world!” Tang Hao’s tone was full of killing intent.

He never had a good impression of Nanyang shamans.

In the past, he would kill them if they were caught. However, ever since Operation Witch Hunter, Nanyang shamans had all but disappeared from Huaxia.

Who would have thought that they would run into each other again? That was the perfect opportunity to uproot the entire Nanyang cultivation world!

“We’re wiping out the entire Nanyang cultivation world?”

General Bai was slightly shocked. Then, he became even more excited.

“Notify the cultivation families and Dragon Tiger Mountain. Anyone who doesn’t show up will be banished from Huaxia!” Tang Hao said coldly.

“Don’t worry! I’ll personally deal with those that don’t show up. The previous battle marked the rise of Huaxia. This time, it’s the battle for Huaxia’s honor!” General Bai said as he thumped his chest.

After hanging up, Tang Hao called Taoist Master Qian Ji.

“What? Those Nanyang whelps have gone overboard! Good! Let’s fight them! Destroy them!” Taoist Master Qian Ji jumped from his seat.

Then, starting from the peak, the entire Mao Mountain was in an uproar.

“We’re going to war!”

Excited cries could be heard everywhere.

“F*ck! What war?” A Taoist master came out of the toilet, clutching his behind as he limped. When he saw the situation outside, he could not help but be stunned.

It felt as though the entire world changed while he was in the toilet.

“A war with those Nanyang whelps! We’re wiping them out!” Someone shouted.

The Taoist master’s mouth opened but he was unable to say a word.

‘F*ck! Wiping out the entire Nanyang cultivation world?’

That was a life-and-death war between two cultivation worlds. Neither side was going to give up until the other was destroyed!

Such a grand event had not appeared for many years!

“This is too awesome!”

He was immediately caught up in the excitement!

He forgot the pain of his hemorrhoids. He followed the crowd and rushed toward the main hall.

“Kill the Nanyang whelps!”

“Kill the Nanyang whelps!”

They shouted in unison with excited expressions on their faces.

All the Taoist masters, young and old, gathered outside the main hall.

Taoist Master Qian Ji walked out accompanied by a group of white-haired Taoist masters.

“Those Nanyang whelps once bullied Huaxia and committed countless crimes in our country... Today, under Fellow Cultivator Tang’s call, we will declare war on them!”

“Which of you is willing to follow me into battle? Destroy them and spread the glory of Huaxia!”

Taoist Master Qian Ji shouted patriotically.

“I’m willing!”

“I’m willing!”

The crowd was in an uproar.

“Alright!” Taoist Master Qian Ji swept his gaze across the crowd and nodded in satisfaction. “Then, all of you, follow me!”

The Taoist masters packed their luggage and left in a hurry.

They rushed to the airport, chartered a few airplanes, and flew to South Beach.

At that moment, Dragon Tiger Mountain also received the news.

However, the atmosphere was entirely different. The heavenly masters frowned in despair.

“Sigh! This’ll be tricky indeed!”

The heavenly masters were worried!

A battle between two cultivation worlds would be a bloody one. Huaxia might have a big advantage, but casualties were inevitable. What if any of them got hurt?

“How about... we skip this battle? Mao Mountain is enough! We don’t have to go and be their burden!”

“Yes, yes! We’re peaceful people! Mao Mountain will take care of it. It’s none of our business!” The elderly heavenly masters said.

“No! General Bai said that if we don’t send two hundred people, he will order a missile strike and raze Dragon Tiger Mountain to the ground! Also, Spiritual Master Tang said that if we don’t go, we can’t stay in Huaxia anymore!”

“Then... let’s go!”

The elderly heavenly masters said reluctantly.

The other heavenly masters either pretended to be sick or ran away. It took them a lot of effort to gather the required crowd.

All of them looked sick and listless.

When the news reached the cultivation families, they all had different reactions. Eventually, they gathered enough people and went to South Beach.

Tang Hao also boarded the plane and flew to South Beach.

When he got off the plane at the airport, he saw a military vehicle waiting outside. After boarding the vehicle, he was directly taken to a naval base.

After getting off the vehicle, Tang Hao met General Bai and many people from the Agency.

His eyes instantly fell on a beautiful figure.

She was wearing a military uniform and looked valiant. That was none other than Mu Xintong.

She looked over as well. Her indifferent gaze sparkled.

Try as she might, she could not calm down.

After all, the two of them had shared intimate contact.

Tang Hao smiled at her.

Her pretty face stiffened, and she averted her gaze.

Tang Hao instantly felt awkward. He went to greet General Bai and the others. After that, he was invited into the battle command center, where they discussed the battle plan.

Not long after, the Taoist masters, the heavenly masters, and the cultivation families arrived in batches.

Almost all of Huaxia's cultivation world was gathered!
