

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 927

“Haha! He’s broken through!”

The people of Primeval Mountain were ecstatic.

The sect leader was the happiest of all. He was bursting with joy and laughter.

Dao Jiu was already powerful to begin with, and not many people in the younger generation could compare to him. Now that he had unsealed another chakra, he would be invincible.

Killing that villain and taking his shard would be a piece of cake.

If that happened, the sect would be able to exchange for a supreme cultivation technique.

Even he, as the sect leader of Primeval Mountain, could not help but drool when he thought of those tempting techniques.

“Damn! What a freak!”

The people from the other factions were jealous. They had unpleasant expressions on their faces.

Dao Jiu had unsealed seven chakras. The shard would not be theirs.

“When did you unseal your seventh chakra?” The sect leader asked kindly.

“I had a fortuitous encounter only a few days ago, and I haven’t found the time to report it yet. Please forgive me!” Dao Jiu cupped his fists and said.

“Good! You’re an exemplary disciple of our Primeval Mountain!”

The sect leader clapped his hands and exclaimed proudly.

“Quick, quick! Kill that villain and take his shard!”

“Don’t worry, sect leader!!”

Dao Jiu bowed and turned to Tang Hao. His eyes narrowed, and his killing intent soared. “It’ll be too easy to kill him!”

“My *ss!”

Tang Hao could not stand it any longer. He stomped his foot and shot out explosively with a punch.

“Hmph! You overestimate yourself!”

Dao Jiu grunted lightly and opened his eyes. Dazzling starlight burst out. The illusory stars around him suddenly materialized and shot explosively toward Tang Hao.

Each star was like an unstoppable bullet.

As the stars met Tang Hao’s fist, they exploded and slowed down Tang Hao’s advance.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The stars continued to explode, sending Tang Hao flying and crashing to the ground.

“Senior Brother Dao Jiu is mighty!”

“Senior Brother, I love you!”

The people from Primeval Mountain cheered excitedly.

The elders beamed with joy. There was hope! That was the first time the villain was injured!

“Is that all you’ve got?” Dao Jiu flicked his sleeves and said disdainfully.

“F*ck you!”

Tang Hao cursed and stood up.

‘That guy is quite powerful!’

He gritted his teeth and activated the power of the divine bone. His pupils shrunk and turned into those of a beast again, and his qi aura expanded.

Using the Fleetfoot Stride, his body flashed and appeared in front of his opponent, then he threw a punch.

Dao Jiu's expression changed. He dodged the attack and continued to bombard Tang Hao with stars.

Tang Hao's figure flashed as he dodged them. There were a few that he could not dodge, and he took those head-on.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The two of them continued to exchange blows, which raised wild gusts of wind and caused the ground to crack.

Everyone's eyes widened. They were extremely nervous as they watched the fight.

"We're going to win! If this goes on, that kid will be exhausted!"

Some of the more observant ones could tell that the situation was extremely disadvantageous for the villain. After all, he only had unsealed five chakras, and his cultivation base was weaker than that of Dao Jiu.

Moreover, he must have been tired after fighting so many prodigies previously.

If the fight continued, he would die from exhaustion.

Tang Hao also realized his predicament. He gritted his teeth, tapped into the power of the divine bone, channeled his strength into his fist, and threw a punch.

Bam!

Dao Jiu managed to block it, but he was not unscathed. His face twitched and paled a little, and his eyes widened with shock.

He was starting to be a little flustered.

His opponent's strength had completely exceeded his expectations.

The battle was much tougher than he thought.

"Just die already!"

Tang Hao roared, and his eyes shone with golden light. He had completely fallen into a berserk state. The bone in his chest became brighter and brighter, and the skies shook with a dragon's roar.

The silhouette of Rainbringer rose from his body and soared into the sky.

Tang Hao punched Dao Jiu again, carrying the might of Rainbringer. It was incomparably powerful.

Dao Jiu's eyes instantly widened. For the first time in his life, panic and fear flashed across his face.

He was truly frightened!

He retreated quickly while summoning stars to block in front of him. However, nothing could stop the villain's advance.

He could only helplessly watch as a dragon opened its maw and bit toward him.

Bang! He felt a punch land on his face.

His handsome face contorted instantly, and blood splattered from his mouth and nose.

He stumbled a few steps back. Before he could steady himself, another punch came.

“That’s for being a smug bastard! Bow to your might? How about you bow to my might!”

Tang Hao cursed angrily and aimed several punches at his face.

Dao Jiu spat out a few mouthfuls of blood.

He was losing his mind. He had been favored and respected all his life, and he had never been punched in the face like this.

In a fit of anger, he almost passed out.

The people who saw that were all dumbstruck, especially those from Primeval Mountain.

Was that person with the swollen face being ridden on and beaten really the unrivaled Senior Brother Dao Jiu?

“Damn! That’s pathetic!”

Some of the prodigies sneakily retreated into the crowd.

That villain was too scary. No one in the Ninth Region of the Void Realm could defeat him.

The Primeval Mountain sect leader was stunned at first. Then, his old face turned a deep shade of red from anger.

Every punch on Dao Jiu's face was a blow to Primeval Mountain's reputation!

"Stop! Stop!" He roared furiously.

Tang Hao ignored him. In fact, he punched even more violently.

"Alright, that's enough. Now get lost!"

He threw another punch, and Dao Jiu exploded.

"Wargh! That kid is too detestable! Kill! We must kill him!" The Primeval Mountain sect leader roared furiously.

"Kill him!"

The group of elders gnashed their teeth furiously.

"Everyone, charge at once!"

The other factions also shouted and were ready to make their move.

They could tell that this kid was exhausted. It was a good time to kill him and snatch the treasure.

Suddenly, a boom echoed across the sky, and the clouds stirred. A rainbow-colored beam of light shone down.

Everyone was stunned. They raised their heads and looked at the sky.

Their eyeballs almost popped out of their sockets when they saw the rainbow-colored light.

'Another beam of light? Did that villain break another record?'

"F*ck! Is this for real?"

"Where's the justice?"

Everyone wailed.
