

Chapter 81

Henry and the other two were respectively recorded by different police officers, and the killers were all dealt with by the police.

It was Helen who was taking notes for Henry.

"Captain Han, there are a total of five killers. Four of them have their hands and feet broken, and one of them is dead, whose neck has been pinched. There is no surveillance video on the scene, but according to the investigation, all of the five murderers have criminal records. Two of them are fugitives." A police officer reported.

"Okay, I know." Helen nodded. She didn't have to think about it. She knew that Henry was the one who broke killer's neck.

Helen was a martial arts practitioner. She knew very well that it would take a lot of strength to break a person's neck. Normal people could not do that at all.

Helen made some notes hastily, and her eyes were fixed on Henry's right arm.

"How did you get hurt?"

"Alas, I was careless." Henry sighed and said, "Alas, it's a pity to fall over a ship in a ditch."

"Really?" The corner of Helen's mouth curved into a mocking smile. "Even if you fall over a boat, you won't fall over in such a small ditch. You wanted to protect your wife, didn't you?"

"Hehe." Henry gave a fawning smile. He didn't know how to explain.

"All right." Helen put away the record book with an unhappy face. "You take your wife back first. The police will call you at any time if you need anything. Moreover, if you encounter this kind of thing next time, don't kill people. Try not to kill people. It's not good for anyone if things get worse."

"Understood." Henry nodded repeatedly.

"Okay, let's call it a day!" Helen waved her hand, twisted her sexy waist, and returned to the police car.

The silver-gray fast-moving car was driving slowly on the way home.

"Henry, why do I feel that the policewoman is looking at you with a strange look?" Sylvia looked at Henry with a suspicious look.

"Really? I think you're wrong, hahaha." Henry said with a laugh.

Sylva looked at Henry doubtfully for a few seconds, then shook her head and did not choose to continue this topic. "Do you want to go to the hospital first? Such a deep wound may need stiches."

"I'm fine." Henry made a bow with his hands. "There is a first aid kit at home. I can do it myself. It's too troublesome to get stiches."

Seeing Henry's insistence, Sylvia didn't say anything. As a grown-up, she already knew how many wounds she had.

This assassination incident was quickly passed to Nelson. He immediately called to ask about Sylvia's safety.

When they got home, Sylvia changed into pajamas and went to the living room. She saw Henry sitting there alone, wrapping his arms with gauze, and the head of the gauze could only be bitten with his mouth.

"Let me do it." Sylvia sat down beside Henry, took over the gauze and bandaged Henry's wound.

She moved very slowly. It could be seen that it was her first time to do such a thing, so her movements were very clumsy.

Henry could smell the fragrance of the woman's hair. He looked at the woman in front of him who was cleaning his wound and felt the woman's slender soft. At this moment, there was nothing in Henry's eyes.

The blood gradually seeped into the gauze, making a circle of blood on it.

Sylvia clumsily wrapped a circle of gauze around her waist and frowned. "It's strange. Why can't the blood stop... Ah!"

Sylvia suddenly exclaimed. She suddenly found that her left hand had been squeezing the wound on Henry's arm and because of that she couldn't stop the blood.

Sylvia looked up and glanced at Henry. She thought Henry would show some pain or dissatisfaction, but what she saw was that the man was looking at her with a smile. In his eyes, there was no dissatisfaction.

Such a scene made her heart, which had been quiet for a long time and had just relaxed, began to beat fast.

For the sake of me, he did not hesitate to block that knife.

He once said that people could do anything to him, but if someone was a little disrespectful to me, Henry would become a mad lion.

He would take me home late at night.

He would specially prepare that piano song for me.

"He would satisfy any unreasonable request of mine. He would wipe the floor with a rag and wash my feet."

He...

"Does it hurt?" Sylvia gently stroked Henry's arm.

"No." Henry shook his head and replied softly.

Sylvia unconsciously blushed and carefully bandaged Henry's wound.

Henry was also enjoying such a time.

"Well, you can have a good rest these two days. Don't run around. Don't go to the company." Sylvia took the gauze and tied a bow on Henry's arm. "Go back to your room and rest. Thanks to you today."

"Thank you for what?" Henry asked with a strange look.

Sylvia's eyes were full of gratitude. "If it weren't for you, I would have been stabbed to death."

"Oh, that's what you're talking about." Henry covered his forehead and said, "Anyway, since both of us have got marriage certificates, you are my wife. It's natural for me to protect you. You should thank me for this?"

"It's right and proper?" The words in Henry's words stunned Sylvia.

In this world, she was used to cheating others, and in Lin family, she had also suffered from hostility.

It was right and proper. Who had the right to make such a request?

It was right and proper. Who would make such a sacrifice to someone like this?

Sylvia looked at the sincere smile on Henry's face. At this moment, she suddenly felt that she seemed to have a good impression of this man.

The night passed quietly.

Early the next morning, when Sylvia got up, she found that Henry was on the ground, carefully cleaning the floor, and all her toiletries were ready. They were neatly placed in the bathroom.

Looking at the white gauze in Henry's hand, she felt that he was like a wicked man.

Sylvia shouted behind Henry's back, who was carefully wiping the floor, and said, "You don't have to do this in the future. I'll just invite housekeeper to do it."

"Ah, you're awake." Henry turned around and smiled at Sylvia. "Don't ask for help. I wake up early every day. I have nothing to do anyway. It's better to clean up."

"Aren't you tired?"

"Hey, it's cleaning, how can I get tired?" Henry wiped the sweat on his forehead and continued to wipe the floor.

Sylvia stood there. After a long silence, she walked into the bathroom.

In the past, when she washed up, she picked up the washing supplies that Henry prepared for her very naturally. But today, she felt that all her movements were so awkward.

"Whoosh!"

She took a deep breath and washed her face. She decided to get up early for an hour from tomorrow and do housework with Henry.

When Sylvia went out, she found that Henry had already sat in the car and was waving to her. "President Lin, let's go. We have to be at work at 8:30. You can be late, but I can't."

Chapter 82

"Didn't I tell you to have a good rest? Why are you still going to the company?" Sylvia opened the back door and took the initiative to sit next to Henry.

"It's boring to stay at home. It's better to go to the company. It's good to see you occasionally." Henry smiled and patted the driver's seat. "Anna, let's go."

Anna smiled and looked at Henry through the rearview mirror. "Mr. Zhang, is it really good for you to show off your affection?"

When he arrived at the company, Henry went to report in the business department first. He didn't use Sylvia as connection. Instead, he was like an intern. On the first day of work, he read company's brochure and got familiar with company's culture.

The business part of Lins Group was divided into several large sections. Henry's section mainly focused on the cooperation and cooperation with some foreign companies. This section was newly established by Lins Group. Sylvia arranged Henry here for two reasons. One was that Henry could start learning from the most basic aspect, and the other was that he knew a little French.

Recently, Lins Group had reached a preliminary cooperation with a French enterprise. If this channel could be opened, Lins Group would complete a cross-step and turn itself into a multinational company from a local enterprise.

The salary of the employees of Lins Group was enviable in the entire Yinzhou city. Not to mention that the salary was paid on time every month, the subsidies were more than 20% of the salary of other companies. Even in the working environment, it could not be compared with that of many companies.

Each employee would be equipped with a single computer and a desk.

Henry's position was assigned to a corner of the office. On the first day of work, he spent the whole morning reading the company's rules and regulations, as well as the business rights. Henry did not even look at the management laws and regulations. As for the business scope, he was very interested in it.

The Lins Group had a special staff restaurant for the staff's lunch.

After lunch, Secretary Lee went to Henry and told him that Sylvia was waiting for him in the parking lot.

When Henry arrived at the parking lot, he found Sylvia sitting in Anna's car.

"President Lin, are you looking for me?"

"Get in the car and I'll take you somewhere." Sylvia waved to Henry.

Henry sat in the back seat expertly. As soon as he got in the car, Sylvia handed Henry a paper document.

"Take a look. This is the project we're going to talk about. You can read it later. Do you understand?"

"Yes, I understand." Henry nodded. He picked up the document and glanced at it. He roughly understood what the project he had been waiting for.

In recent years, there had been a great development in Yinzhou. The government had also issued various welfare policies. The most eye-catching one was the medical industry. However, there had been no news about this project. However, some time ago, the government released news that all the major companies would vote for a cooperation to select a company to complete the medical project.

The medical project of this time would be a total of four hospitals in three districts and two counties in the city.

The profit of the medical industry was so great that even those who didn't do business all had their own advantages, which was definitely a piece of meat. Everyone wanted to have a taste of it.

However, this round of bidding was not determined by reading the books as usual, but by the provincial medical association.

Those who could make a name for themselves in the Ning Province Medical Association were all famous elders of medical skills, and they were very prestigious.

Today, Ning Province Medical Association would hold a meeting. In this meeting, not only were these elders of medical skills present, but also many new talents in the medical field. There were even rumors that Mr. Lewis Yan, a famous Chinese medicine practitioner, would also attend it.

In this medical meeting, it was not only a chance for the doctors to communicate with each other, but also an opportunity for the medical association to decide which official team should cooperate with each other.

Almost all entrepreneurs with a little ability in Yinzhou would attend this meeting. And they would bring their professional teams. Everyone was ready to fight and prepare.

What was the profit of this project?

It was no exaggeration to say that a person who could earn more than a million dollars in a short year could reach more than a hundred million dollars!

The medical exchange was held in an ancient Chinese medicine clinic. When Henry arrived, he found that not only did Sylvia bring him here, but she also brought the whole team. She was also determined to get this project.

Lins Group brought a business elite group of ten people. They had done enough homework and made a comprehensive analysis of the advantages and disadvantages of each group. They even made a detailed and accurate guess on which group they had given gifts to.

At this moment, there were already a lot of people in the Chinese Medicine Clinic.

The whole Chinese Medicine Clinic was filled with a white and concise style. There was a plaque hanging on the wall, like a hanging pot, a medical holy hand and so on.

When Sylvia walked into the clinic, she immediately attracted a lot of hostile eyes.

As the leader of the Yinzhou, Sylvia was the public enemy of everyone at this moment.

She seemed to be accustomed to this kind of situation. She didn't care about it at all and looked calm.

"Let's wait and see how they negotiate. Remember it." Sylvia said to Henry next to her.

He nodded and said nothing.

The whole Chinese Medicine Clinic had made a new arrangement for the sake of the bid for the medical conference this time.

The hall was divided into three circles inside and outside. All the rings were separated by tables, just like the party held in classes when students were in school.

The circle in the middle, which was about ten square meters, was for the work of sales. In the second circle, there were more seats. There was a nameplate on the table in front of the seat, on which the names of all the doctors were written, as well as which hospital the other party was working in.

The third circle had the largest number of seats. On it was written a certain company, which was specially prepared for entrepreneurs.

The medical meeting this time was divided into three stages, the first stage, the technical stage, the second stage, the academic demonstration, and the third stage, which was the time for the entrepreneurs to bid.

"Hey, isn't this President Lin? Even she has come to participate in this project. It seems that our small companies don't have a chance!" A strange voice sounded behind Sylvia.

Henry turned his head and saw that the speaker was a middle-aged man. He was wearing an expensive suit.

"President Huang, you are wrong. In this bid, you, the Sunshine Medical Company, should be the winner, right?" While speaking, Sylvia quietly poured the water on the other party.

In this case, it was likely that there would be a scene of many small companies joining together to suppress a large enterprise. The reason why she flattered him here was not to show respect, but to make the enemies for him.

As soon as President Huang came, he said that the small company was no match for Lin Yayan. It could be said that he directly made Sylvia the target.

This time, Sylvia helped herself and made President Huang stand out.

Chapter 83

Henry remembered that he had just read from that document that this Sunshine Medical Company had always been the leader of the medical industry in Yinzhou. Almost all the medical equipment came from them. It could be said that he had made a lot of money. This time, he was the most dangerous and the most competitive one when he came out of the new medical project.

After all, in the aspect of medicine, Sunshine Medical was the major, which was even inferior to Lins Group.

President Huang laughed loudly and said, "President Lin, you think too highly of me. Compared with Lins Group, I have no chance to win.

Such language attacks would almost always take place in every generation.

Henry found the position that belonged to the Lins Group and sat down on it, quietly watching the people fight with each other openly and secretly.

As time went by slowly, there were more and more people in the clinic. In the second round seats, a lot of doctors had been seated, and the voices of entrepreneurs talking to each other became lower and lower.

In the second circle, almost every doctor who was seated was followed by a young man, whose face was full of excitement. With their qualifications, it was a rare opportunity for them to participate in such a meeting. Whether they went to college in this meeting or took it out as a topic of conversation in the future, they all made them proud. For the quota of this meeting, each of them had put in a lot of effort.

A middle-aged doctor with a square face, wearing a white coat, came in from the door of the Chinese Medicine clinic. At the same time as the doctor appeared, the voices in the department became quieter.

"It's President Ma, the president of the provincial medical community of Ning Province!"

The appearance of President Ma caused most of the people in the medical department to focus their eyes on him. At the same time, the entrepreneurs also said hello to President Ma.

The official project was handed over to the Medical Association to decide. Everyone knew very well who was the decision maker of the Medical Association.

President Ma nodded at these people and sat on the seat of honor in the second circle.

Once he arrived, it was time for this gathering to begin completely.

"President Ma, shall we begin?" A doctor asked.

"No hurry." President Ma shook his head. "Master Lewis Yan hasn't arrived yet."

When they heard the name Lewis Yan, the doctors present subconsciously showed an expression of admiration. This was definitely a person who could make people feel awe after hearing his name.

"Will Master Yan really come?" A doctor asked in disbelief.

With Master Yan's status in the Chinese medical field, he would be invited to participate in almost every medical exchange meeting in every place. But he never shows up. Most of these meetings were held with his name that he was likely to be present.

But there were still many people who took part in the meeting countless times for this extremely small possibility.

In this provincial medical meeting of Ning Province, everyone only regarded the name of Master Yan as a gimmick. Heard what President Ma said, would Master Yan really attend this time?

After guessing that Mater Yan would really come, these doctors, who were sitting casually, adjusted their sitting postures slightly. They sat straight, just like primary school students waiting for the teacher to walk into the classroom.

The appointed opening time of the meeting was two o'clock. Now it was already two o'clock and five o'clock. None of these doctors had an impatient look on their faces. Instead, they were nervous and expectant.

"Creak."

The door of the Chinese Medicine clinic made a soft noise, which made all the doctors present look at the direction of the door expectantly.

Three completely different footsteps sounded. An old man in a black Chinese tunic suit walked over with the company of a man and a woman.

This old man was the current master of Chinese medicine, Master Lewis Yan .

"It's really Mster Yan!"

"Master Yan is here!"

The doctors' faces were full of excitement. The disciples standing beside them couldn't hide their excitement.

After he appeared, he immediately scanned around with his eyes and scanned every new doctor's face. As a result, he was very disappointed that the young man that day was not here at all.

As for the place where the entrepreneurs sat, he directly ignored it.

"Master Yan, we are really honored to have you here!" President Ma quickly stood up and strode to greet Master Yan.

The other doctors also stood up.

Master Yan nodded. "President Ma, you're welcome. And everyone, please sit down. Today, we are discussing academic affairs. There are not so many polite things."

"Yes, yes." President Ma nodded repeatedly and invited Master Yan to the main seat, while he sat down on the side.

Henry sat at the outermost edge of the crowd. Looking at the arrival of Master Yan, he felt a chill in his heart.

Henry had seen Master Yan's medical level. He was very accurate at acupuncture, and his understanding of acupuncture points was also accurate. In general, this was an old Chinese medicine doctor with a very simple and strong ability, but his brain was too pedantic and did not know how to adapt. The method he used to put needles was completely the textbook level. There was no mistake, but he had a lack of spirituality and encountered some difficult and complicated diseases, which were very difficult to deal with.

Now that such a person had become a so-called master, it seemed that Chinese medicine had begun to decline.

When Henry was studying medicine, he promised that he would carry traditional Chinese medicine forward and carry on a new reform in this field. He would not forget his roots and start a new one at the same time.

When Master Yan arrived, the meeting officially began. First of all, it was the physicians who took out some difficult diseases and put forward their own opinions. And then they discussed it together. This kind of discussion was very helpful for their own improvement.

The entrepreneurs present couldn't understand what these doctors were talking about, but they all remembered carefully.

"Henry, you have to remember what they said. These things may be useful when bidding later." Sylvia looked at Henry, who was sitting next to her and felt a little flustered, and reminded him.

"Don't worry, these things are useless. It's just some minor symptoms. Why do you keep them in mind?" Henry waved his hand and said indifferently.

For Henry, the difficult and complicated diseases proposed by these doctors were just some small problems, and the medical treatment methods discussed by these doctors were also in some aspects, and there was no new one at all.

Henry had always maintained an objective attitude towards what was on the subject.

Reality was not a textbook. If it was a book, it could be used, but in reality it couldn't be used. If it was learned, it was just to let everyone explain it in a reverse way.

Sylvia shook her head regretfully by seeing this. It seemed that this person's mind was not in line with his thoughts. She looked at him a few times and said nothing more.

Chapter 84

The meeting was going on like a fire, and the doctor's discussions were also very intense.

Suddenly, Master Yan opened his mouth. As soon as he spoke, the whole Chinese Medicine clinic quieted down, and everyone listened quietly.

"I have a case here, and you can use it for discussion."

"Master Yan, please go ahead." President Ma gestured him to go on.

Master Yan glanced around and said, "There is a patient who suddenly falls into a coma at the age of 70. His pupils gather together and he is cold-blooded. His fingers are white and his pulse beats slowly. Doctor takes the needles and places in the four main acupoints man's head. It has no effect on stimulating the nerves and it is difficult for him to wake up. Do you have any methods to save the patient in a short time?"

What Master Yan said was exactly the patient he met in the mall yesterday.

After hearing his story, many doctors frowned and pretended to think.

The sudden coma stimulated the four acupoints, which was a very common treatment method. The concentration of the pupils and the lack of oxygen were also the characteristics of coma. The smooth pulse proved that the brain was temporarily in a state of shock. If it were them, they would also choose to stimulate the four acupoints. However, Master Yan said that it was difficult to wake up with the twirling needle method.

Many doctors were thinking that in their seventies, the human body's physiological system had already begun to decline.

"You can try the western treatment method and drop oxygen for the patient." A doctor said.

"That's right. First, let's check the patient's brain nerves for oxygen loss and cooperate with drug treatment."

"It's improper." Master Yan shook his head. "The patient is too old, and we are discussing how to rescue the patient in a short time. What if we don't have time to send him to the hospital?"

"Well..." The doctor who had just spoken looked embarrassed. He really couldn't think of a solution.

As time went by, some people proposed a way, but all of them were overthrown by Master Yan.

The doctors thought hard, but they couldn't think of a way to cure the patient on the spot.

Master Yan spoke again at the tenth minute.

"Alright, let's end this."

When the doctors who were thinking hard heard this, they all showed regret on their faces because they knew that the reason why Master Yan said that the discussion was over was that the patient could not hold on any longer.

If there was such a patient in front of them just now, they could only watch and do nothing. As doctors, this was the most powerless thing for them.

A doctor showed a fighting expression on his face. After a few seconds of silence, he said, "Master Yan, to be honest, if the case really happened just now, the patient should have no chance of survival. Even the needles can't stimulate the nerves. It's very likely that the patient's nerve has been deformed."

As soon as the doctor finished speaking, another doctor continued, "Yes, this brain nerve necrosis is a kind of death in medicine."

Master Yan looked around and said, "Do you all think so?"

When the other doctors heard that, they all nodded.

Seeing this scene, Master Yan did not blame them. Instead, he sighed deeply. "It seems that what he said is right. We are all too pedantic..."

"Master Yan, do you mean... someone can cure it?" President Ma heard something, and his face was full of disbelief. Just now, he had simulated countless methods in his mind, but they were all overturned by himself.

"Not bad." Master Yan nodded. "The case I just told you was the case I met yesterday. At that time, I tried to stimulate the patient's acupoints, but I couldn't do anything about it. As a result, a young man rescued him. Just now, you ignored a problem. The patient's fingers, blood loss, and pal face were all ignored yesterday!"

"All of us subconsciously believed that when he was in a coma. It was normal for his fingers to have white blood loss, so we ignored this. But it was also because of this that we lost the breakthrough point. That young man told me that the patient was not in a simple coma. Apart from the possibility that his fingers were white because he was in coma, or he was in a coma because of his fingers were white. Then there was another possibility!"

"It's fake death!" As soon as Master Yan's voice fell, a doctor couldn't help shouting, "The patient is too old. Because of the lack of Qi and blood, he has a lack of oxygen in his brain, which causes his nerves to fall into a state of suspended animation and lead to coma!"

"Good." Master Yan nodded. "If this is the case, there will be a new idea in front of me. Just yesterday, the young man showed me his magical acupuncture skills. In the face of such a patient, he first put the needles together. He stimulated Heyu and Renzhong first, without leaving no needles. Then he stimulated Baihui and Shaoshang gently. After getting the Qi, he left the needles and use the needles at intervals. In this way, he can wake up and save his life."

After Master Yan said that, there was a hint of admiration in his eyes.

All the doctors present opened their mouths wide.

"Master Yan, this... is too risky. The Baihui acupoint is the end of the brain nerve. He should do to the Hegu and Renzhong first and then Baihui. It is very likely that he will die directly because of this. If he is not careful, he will become a vegetable."

"Yesterday, I also had the same idea." Master Yan showed a self-deprecating smile. "Why would he say that I was too pedantic and didn't know how to adapt? Traditional Chinese medicine practitioner, once the whole body is stimulated, he would first take the combination of Heyu and Renzhong acupoints to strengthen the nerve stimulation and make it further strengthened. However, he left a needle to stimulate the end of the nerve to wake up the patient. This is absolutely..." Master Yan's tone paused slightly. "Innovative!"

Innovation!

This word, like a time bomb, exploded among this group of doctors.

Chinese Medicine was something left by the ancestors. For a long time, everyone had been thinking about how to restore it, how to restore it, what kind of disease it encountered, and how to treat it in classical time. But no one had ever thought about Novation!

The difficulty of the Chinese Medicine industry was only understood by those who understood Chinese Medicine, surpassing the ancients, surpassing themselves!

Sylvia sat on the outermost floor and looked at the shocked faces of the doctors. She asked Henry, "You also know Chinese medicine. Can you understand what they said?"

"Of course." Henry nodded. "These are just some simple things."

As soon as Henry's voice fell, a chuckle came from beside him.

"Ha-ha, you're really boasting. What a shallow thing! You're worthy of being a member of the Lins Group. You dare to say anything."

Henry glanced at it. It was President Huang who had just had a verbal fight with Sylvia.

Henry rolled his eyes and said, "Oh? Does President Huang have any other opinions?"

"I don't have any opinion, but I suggest one." President Huang crossed his arms in front of his chest and said.

Chapter 85

Hearing the word suggestion, Henry put on a smile and said, "I'm all ears."

"I suggest that you guys get out of here as soon as possible, because you may make a fool of yourselves." President Huang sneered.

Sylvia sat next to Henry and listened to President Huang's words clearly. When she was about to refute, she heard his voice.

"Oh, this is the advice. I thought it was something nutritious, but it turned out to be a dog barking. I also have a suggestion to tell you, don't talk to me again, or I'll beat you to death." After saying that, Henry deliberately rolled up his sleeves, revealing the muscles on his arms.

Sure enough, President Huang did not dare to speak again. He just looked at Henry with more malicious eyes.

Sylvia was sitting next to Henry, covered her mouth and chuckled. Although Henry's words were vulgar, it really made people feel good.

Henry stretched out his finger and glanced at Sylvia's arm. "If you're happy, laugh. Don't hold it back."

"You, you, don't make trouble." Sylvia blamed him, but her expression didn't mean to blame him.

The medical meeting in the field was gradually coming to an end. During the exchange, they also specifically asked for the wishes of the two patients and treated them in public. Lewis Yan even showed his acupuncture skills. The patients who couldn't be cured by president Ma were getting better and better in Master Yan's hands.

This made many physicians understand why Master Yan was called the holy hand of traditional Chinese medicine. The technique of acupuncture and the degree of mastery of acupuncture points were indeed beyond what they could compare with. At the same time, they were more interested in the young man Master Yan mentioned. What a great man Master Yan admired!

It was time for entrepreneurs to bid after the end of the doctor exchange meeting.

This time, President Ma had made special arrangements for the entrepreneurs to bid at the exchange meeting. He also had his own intentions.

First of all, doctors would put forward their views about doctors at the meeting, that is, life would always be placed in the front line. Secondly, it was also a public fair vote. So many doctors were present. No matter which place successfully won the bid, no one would say it was because of President Ma.

Master Yan had no interest in bidding for this kind of enterprise. At this moment, it was not easy to go. He found an excuse to go to the bathroom and went to the outside of the Chinese medicine clinic.

In the clinic, President Ma first gave a speech, and then let the major companies say their views on this project.

The moment Chairman Ma's voice faded, President Huang was the first to stand up. As the largest medical equipment company in the whole city, President Huang was the most familiar with this field. At the same time, he was very familiar with President Ma and the others.

"Gentlemen, our Sunshine Medical Company have always paid attention to the contributions to the medical industry. The large hospitals who have cooperated with us all know that we, the Sunshine Medical, have always been based on honesty. All the medical equipment is sold at the lowest price. At the same time, we have the most experience in this field and have done better than others."

"That's not right. President Huang, everyone knows that your company is for medical equipment. It's totally different to open a hospital and sell equipment." A company's boss stood up and said, "Masters, our G&Y Group has vast resources. We also have done a variety of tests. We have done a lot of work, including collecting large database, blood collection, and sample collection. This official hospital project is to benefit people's benefit. The sooner it is finished, the better it will be. The people can enjoy it earlier."

For a time, the major companies began to speak. Almost everyone was talking about their own advantages and suppressing other companies.

The doctors were also thinking carefully. This was the first time they had experienced such a thing, so they looked very serious.

They had to admit that the official's way of doing this was also a wonderful thing.

For a long time, social medicine was a topic of dispute. This time, Ning Province Medical Association would decide the development of the project and eliminate most of the disputes. At the same time, it was also very likely that the doctors who reached a consensus would participate in this project. At that time, the hospital project could easily recruit famous doctors and official decisions would take a big step in their official achievements.

Sylvia sat there. Seeing it was the right time, she nodded to her team.

An elite business member of the Lins Group took a deep breath and stood up. "Everyone, our Lins Group has several welfare primary schools across several fields. They support dozens of orphans to go to college for free. They once run welfare hospitals and help free of charge. Our Lins Group has always paid attention to honesty. Now..."

"Forget it, your Lins Group is so honest. You're really generous!" President Huang directly interrupted the elite business member. "If your Lins Group is honest, then the fraud group can be called a business company! Everyone knows that Sylvia is cold-blooded and deliberately framed her cousin. She sent her family into prison for the sake of the president position of Lins Group."

"Yes!" Another boss stood up, who was the one who had unilaterally removed the cooperation relationship with Lins Group. "Lins Group is so profitable that we entrepreneurs are most clear about it. Even if we don't start the project this time, Lins Group should not be able to get it. Otherwise, there are too few people in Yinzhou who can afford to get sick."

"Yes, our purpose of coming here today is not to get the development rights of this project, but to uncover the true identity of Li's Group!" The manager of Deming Business Company stood up. "Our several companies jointly resist Lins Group's participation in this project. We are willing to pay for this project and let everyone take medicine at a low price, at the same price, not at the high price!"

"Yes, that's our purpose! We don't want to make money, we just want to resist the Black-Heart Company in Yinzhou City!" The head of Huilong corporation said.

"The medical industry is the most important thing in the people's livelihood. We don't want the black-hearted hospital to appear in Yinzhou City. Today, we will resist the Lins Group!"

"Yes, resist the Lins!"

One after another, the heads of the family stood up. These people were the people who had unilaterally terminated their cooperation with Lins Group when they had cooperated with Richard Wong.

Now, Richard Wong had completely fallen from power, and Sylvia was in charge of the power of the Lin family. These people couldn't sit still anymore. If the Lin family continued to develop, there would be no place for them to survive sooner or later. Therefore, there was a scene that they jointly resisted the Lin family.

Of course, there had to be a mastermind behind this.

Henry glanced around and found that the people of Chow's were coming, but they didn't say a word. Henry also didn't expect that the people of Chow's dare to do that. So the most likely messenger this time was the Sunshine Medical Company.

Chapter 86

Since so many enterprises had jointly suppressed the Lins Group, they must have made sufficient preparations.

He found that Sylvia 's face was very ugly now.

The team members of Lins group were about to talk, but they were stopped by a doctor.

"Businessmen, please give us some time. We have to discuss it."

Seeing the doctor's attitude, the people in charge nodded with satisfaction and sat down again.

The team member of Lins Group quickly communicated with his team to find a solution.

About three minutes later, the hushed whispers of the doctors ended, and everyone looked at them.

"Everyone, we have reached a conclusion after discussion. The medical industry is different from others. It is not the purpose of profit-making. The most important thing is to cure the disease and save lives."

President Huang stood up and said, "Doctor Wong, we have obtained Sunshine Medical Company supply channels. It can be said that the medical equipment that can be transported to Yinzhou City by lower price. Even Lins Group needs to cooperate with us. But I will never cooperate with Lins Group for the rest of my life!"

"The reason why Lins Group is able to do this is by means. The richer the company is, the more money it will make. How cheap will Lins medical equipment be in terms of medical science? But we are different. We have a low cost and have built a low medical price. At this point, we are completely beyond Lins Group. At the same time, I have made a cooperation with several pharmaceutical factories. All the hospitals have gotten medicine. It is definitely a manufacture price. There is not so much difference between us. The price is 50% cheaper than those on the market!"

"Yes." The doctor surnamed Wong nodded and said, "President Huang, if you can really do that, it will benefit society."

"Of course, I'll do what I said!" A satisfied smile appeared on his face.

Sylvia was sitting there, looking at the statistics report that her team had given her. The doctor Wong who was speaking now received 30 thousand yuan from Sunshine Medical. There were many names on the list and next to each name was amount of money.

"President Lin, we may really be defeated this time..." The sales elite looked regretful.

This time, they were faced with joint attacks from all sides. Even if they had tens of thousands of forces, it would still be difficult for them to display their full strength.

Sylvia shook her head and said, "It doesn't matter. This matter is expected. Thank you for your hard work this time. Go back today and have a good rest. It's not your fault."

"Alas." The team member sighed, and his eyes were full of self-blame.

After the discussion of a group of doctors, the result was soon announced.

President Ma stood up and said loudly, "Then next, we announce that the development of this project will all be handed over to the Sunshine Medical Company. Our Ning Province Medical Association will play a role in monitoring it. We will try our best to guarantee that everyone will be treated at the same price after that."

"Good!" Someone shouted, and a burst of applause rang out.

President Huang looked at Sylvia proudly with a smile on his face and made a throat-cutting gesture to her.

"That's funny! You're so funny!"

All of a sudden, a loud shout came from the crowd. The shout was deafening, and the applause of the whole restaurant could not help but stop.

Sylvia looked at the man beside her. She didn't understand what he was going to do.

Under the gaze of everyone, Henry stood up and glanced at the entrepreneurs present. "Applause? How can you people applaud? Why are you so proud?"

"And you!" Henry turned his eyes to the doctors sitting in the middle. "You are doctors! What do doctors do? Treat the disease, save people! What are you thinking? You don't check the patients, nor do you give them the medicine! What you need is not a cheap medicine, but a better medical technique! To ensure that there are fewer and fewer patients in this world, but not to ensure that the medicine in this world is more and more cheap!"

Henry kicked away the chair in front of him and strode toward the inner circle.

"There is a pharmacy in ancient times that wrote: "I hope that no one in the world is sick, and there is no need to worry about medicine." But now, how do you talk about how to make medicine cheaper? Are you really doctors?"

A sardonic smile appeared on Henry's face, which was particularly obvious.

"Young man, who are you? You don't have the right to speak here!" A doctor burst out on the spot. "Get out of here..."

"Don't." President Ma reached out his hand to stop the doctor from continuing speaking. He sighed, looked at Henry, and said, "Brother, I understand what you mean. As a benevolent doctor, how can we hope that there are no more problems in the world? But where do you think we can get better medical skills?"

Henry raised his arm and suddenly pointed at Sylvia. "In the Lins family."

"Ha ha ha ha! Ha ha ha!" President Huang laughed exaggeratedly. "I thought he was such a character. After saying so many righteous words, in the end, it turns out that he is from Lins family."

"President Lin, he is..." The member of Lins Group looked at Sylvia in confusion. They didn't have any advanced medical skills at all. Even if they boasted now, as bargaining chips, they would still be exposed in the future. At that time, they would laugh at her, and their faces would be even more ugly.

"It's okay. Let him handle it." Sylvia waved her hand and looked at Henry suspiciously.

President Ma patted Henry on the shoulder. "Young man, you can't talk nonsense. Do you know what medical skills we have to use when we have so many doctors sitting here?"

Henry replied, "It's an advanced treatment method that can cure people you can't cure."

"What a joke!" Dr. Wong shouted, "To cure the person we can't cure, boy, Master Yan is here today. Do you want to say that the medical skills mastered by your Lins family are better than Master Yan's?"

Dr. Wong directly used Master Yan as example. With Master Yan's name, it was enough to tell people who had better medical skills, and they would retreat when they knew the difficulty.

Unfortunately, Henry disappointed Dr. Wong. After Dr. Wong spoke Master Yan's name, he still nodded.

"That's right. Our Lin family's medical skills are far ahead of the world!"

"What a big talk! What a big talk!" A doctor smacked the table on the spot and said, "I hope that your Lins Group will not make trouble!"

"Yes, taking the lead of the whole world? Do you know what is taking the lead of the whole world? Do you know medicine?"

"You've said that you can surpass Master Yan. You're really a boy who should keep his mouth shut!"

One doctor after another banged the table and stood up, his face full of anger.

Master Yan's reputation was too well-known in the medical field. Now, any unknown young man said that he had mastered medical skills that were inferior to Master Yan's. How could he not be angry?

"To surpass my master? Do you know what you're talking about?"

"It's ridiculous!"

Master Yan's apprentices also spoke at this time.

Chapter 87

At this moment, almost everyone was targeting Henry.

"Sylvia, you can really do whatever you want. How can someone random talk so big?" Mr. Wong said with a sneer.

Several team members of the Lins Group were anxious to see this. They originally thought that although this project had been obtained by the Sunshine Medical, with their level, they could still come up with some other mediocre projects. But now, after being messed up by this person, even if they had great abilities, the people of the Medical Association would not be able to meet them again.

All the doctors looked at Henry angrily.

"Boy, this is not a place where you can boast without shame. Now, you have to apologize to us. Apologize for your arrogance, apologize!"

"What are you talking about?" Henry asked back, "Do you think that your medical skills are better than anyone else's, so that's what you're talking about?"

"What a joke. We're not so stingy. It's just that you're a little too arrogant." Dr. Wong shouted angrily.

"Yes, there are only a few people in the country who can surpass their masters. Who do you think you are?" Master Yan's male disciple said.

"Get the hell out of here! What kind of joke did the Lins find?"

"Get out!"

Such a sound came from the seats of those who were in charge of the business.

Seeing this scene, Henry disdainfully smiled and shook his head. "No wonder the traditional Chinese medicine is declining like this. You guys are arrogant and look down upon everyone. You're hopeless!"

After that, Henry didn't even look at these doctors. He turned his head and left.

"Boy, do you want to leave like this? All the people in today's Medical Association must seek justice!" Dr. Wong reached out to stop Henry.

Henry raised his eyebrows and said, "What's wrong? You're a doctor, but do you want to restrict my personal freedom?"

"I ask you to apologize!" Dr. Wong stood in front of Henry and said in a loud voice.

"Apologize? Am I not allowed to say that my medical skills are better than yours? It's ridiculous." Henry pushed Doctor Wong away.

"You must apologize to my master." Master Yan's male apprentice also stopped in front of Henry.

Henry asked with a strange face, "Why? Your master's medical skills are ordinary and he doesn't know how to adapt. To be honest, Lins medical skills are far better than his. Why did you apologize to him?"

"Bullsh*t!" Master Yan's disciple cursed loudly and questioned, "How dare you say that my master's medical skills are ordinary?"

"What's wrong? Am I wrong?" Henry asked in reply.

In the circle, the doctors and Henry were quarreling fiercely. Sylvia stood in the outer circle, looking thoughtful.

Just now, when the major companies worked together to suppress the Lins Group, the result was doomed. The official cooperation this time was not destined with the Lins Group.

Sunshine Medical medicine was right. They mastered all the medical equipment purchase channels in Yinzhou, so it was impossible for them to forge more instruments than they did. If Lins family was excited at that time and said that the price was absolutely lower than Sunshine Medical, they would definitely lose money in the future.

But Henry's words made things turn around. He was different from the previous price battles, but he reproached everyone loudly. He only thought about the price on the establishment of the hospital and said words like "Trueness". In an instant, he raised the medical height of this project to the high point, which gave Lins Group a chance to breathe. From this point of view, Lins Group would negotiate with him from a professional point of view. At that time, the medical association's conditions might be that the people who could take out the first-hand medical technology would be chosen within a limited time. In this way, the Lins Group would have a great chance to get the cooperation power with the official group.

There was absolutely no problem with Henry's way of thinking. At this point, even Sylvia wanted to give him a thumbs-up. However, Henry was still inexperienced and impulsive. He was too full of words. He directly said that Lins company had better medical technology and that the doctors here were not good enough. He even dragged Master Yan in, so that the cooperation negotiations would come to a stalemate again.

Anyway, Sylvia was happy in her heart. Henry had proved that he was different from ordinary people. From this point of view, he was very cultivated.

Sylvia's feelings for Henry had changed a lot. She was a normal woman, but because of her experience, she buried her heart deeply. She was not a stone without feelings. Although Henry was poor and illiterate, she knew clearly what he had done for her. She couldn't say that she wasn't touched by Henry's actions.

Now, Sylvia still could not accept the fact that Henry was her husband, but she did not reject him as much as she did at the beginning. She had gradually adapted to this man.

All the doctors present, as well as Master Yan's two disciples, were very angry because the young man in front of them was too arrogant.

If he looked down upon Master Yan, that was to say, he looked down on the medical community of the whole Chinese Medicine. On what basis did he have to do that? How could he have the confidence to say that?

"Well, stop arguing." President Ma, who had not spoken for a long time, suddenly reached out his hand to stop everyone's angry voice. He also looked at Henry with an unhappy face and said, "Brother, I think you are young and ignorant. Those who don't know are innocent. Today's medical association will not blame you. Now, please leave with the Lin family. Our medical association doesn't welcome you."

As soon as President Ma's voice fell, there was a loud noise in the place where the head of the family sat, "Ha, ha, ha, go away! Lins Group really can use any means to find such an arrogant boy to say these words. Does he deliberately disgust us?"

"That's right! Get out of here as soon as possible! You're not welcome here!"

"President Ma, you've seen it, haven't you? This is the Lins Group. They look fresh on the outside, but they are more dangerous than anyone else in their hearts!"

Taunting sounds rang out one after another.

The team members of Lins group looked extremely ugly. They were specially engaged in business, so they knew very well what kind of character it was to slander the competitors in terms of cooperation. It was absolutely a shameful behavior for everyone in the industry.

"Haha." Henry chuckled and shook his head. He walked toward the gate of the Chinese Medicine clinic and said, "Arrogant means lead to destruction. You are all like this. No wonder doctors of Chinese Medicine are so lonely!"

Sylvia also got up and went out of the clinic.

"President Lin, may I advise you to find someone with brains next time? I thought that your Lins Group was good at playing chess, but in the end, I found that you are a fool, hahahaha!" President Huang's smile could not be concealed at all.

The voice of sarcasm sounded again and again. Some enterprise who had not cooperated with Lins Group before felt that Lins Group was so childish at the moment. It seemed that Sylvia also had an undeserved reputation. If it weren't for the blessing of her elders, how could she call the wind and the rain in the business world?

Chapter 88

Master Yan stood at the door of the Chinese Medicine clinic and smoked a cigarette. He was still thinking about what Henry said to him yesterday. Now he really wanted to see the young man. The young man's speech and insight had an epoch-making effect for the present traditional Chinese medicine, and his medical skills. If he could take them out and let everyone know what he knows, it would be a great joy for the whole medical community.

But Master Yan also knew clearly in his heart that it was not easy to meet again in such a big world.

Master Yan sighed and walked into the clinic. As soon as he entered the clinic, he heard the noise in the clinic. A group of people kept shouting and shouting, "Get out", "brainless", and so on.

"What's going on?" Master Yan muttered to himself doubtfully. Looking forward, he happened to see Henry coming out of the crowd.

This time, he was so excited that he quickly ran a few steps.

"Young master! Young master!"

Master Yan ran and shouted, rushing to Henry.

"Young master, what a coincidence. I didn't expect to meet you here."

Master Yan's face was full of excitement, and the wrinkles on his face seemed to have stretched a lot because he saw Henry.

"It's not a coincidence, is it? What's the matter?" Henry asked impatiently. Today, seeing these doctors of Chinese Medicine had such character, his heart was cold. They could not accept those who were better than them. The development space was already doomed. Although these people could not represent all the doctors of Chinese Medicine, they could also represent most of the people.

Master Yan was about to tell Henry that he hoped Henry could hold a meeting to tell the Chinese medicine practitioners of the country about his philosophy, but he was interrupted before he could open his mouth.

"Master, do you know this brat?" Master Yan's male disciple walked over.

"You're so rude!" Master Yan rebuked him on the spot. "Who do you think is a brat?"

"Master. Yan, do you know this man?" The doctor surnamed Wong also came over, with doubts in his eyes.

Sylvia, who was about to leave, saw this scene and stopped not far away, with a thoughtful look on her face.

"Well..." Master Yan chuckled twice. "I don't know him. Do you still remember the case I just told you? Yesterday in the mall, it was the young master in front of me who treated the patient in time. Even I feel inferior to him in terms of medical skills!"

When Master Yan spoke, he did not notice the shocked expressions on other people's faces at all.

Sylvia was standing not far away. She heard Master Yan's words clearly. The corners of her sexy mouth unconsciously raised into a smile. It was not because of Master Yan's words that the project had a turnaround, but simply because of Henry, because Henry had once again exceeded her expectations.

"Master Yan, is that the young man you just mentioned?" President Ma couldn't believe it.

"Yes." Master Yan nodded and sighed. "Yesterday, if it weren't for this little master, I would have watched a life disappear in front of my eyes. The medical skills and medical concept of this young master are something that all of us here want to learn."

The doctors present widened their eyes at Master Yan's words.

"Don't bother." Henry waved his hand. "I can't teach a conceited person."

Henry said and as soon as he finished, he ignored these doctors and strode out.

"Wait, young master!" Master Yan quickly stopped Henry. His way of stopping Henry was different from Dr. Wong's fierce attitude. He was very sincere. "Why did you say that, young master?"

Master Yan called him "Master", because he really recognized Henry's medical skills. As for academic skills, the one who reached the highest level was the first. Even if Master Yan was more than 50 years older than Henry, he did not dare to regard himself as a senior.

After Master Yan asked, he found that Henry did not pay attention to him. He also noticed that his two disciples looked pale, and so did the other doctors.

"Tell me, did you offend the young master just now?" Master Yan glanced around everyone and asked on the spot.

"Master Yan, it's like this. Just now, this young master, he..." President Ma smiled awkwardly at Master Yan and stated what had just happened.

"What a mess! What a farce!" With a bang, Master Yan slapped the wooden table in front of him. "No wonder the young master said that you are arrogant. You are so arrogant. If you are not arrogant, then what are you?"

"Teacher, it's not our fault." Master Yan's female disciple, showed a look of grievance. "How can we know that he is the young man you mentioned yesterday, the one who treated that man, and he said that your medical skills are ordinary. Of course, we were angry."

"Why were you angry?" Master Yan glared at his disciple angrily. "You are really frogs at the bottom of the well, watching the sky from the bottom of the well. You don't know that there is always a mountain higher than a mountain you see. There are many talented people in this world, better than me in medical skills. There are many people. Do you all want to be a failure?"

Master Yan was furious here. It was not only the doctors' were not good, but also those who were in charge of the business.

They were also listening to the exchange just now. Although some professional terms could not be understood, everyone could understand Master Yan's admiration for the young man. No one could expect that the person who was just called stupid and crazy was the one Master Yan mentioned!

Such a big reversal was beyond anyone's expectation.

Among them, Doctor Wong's face was the most unnatural one. Just now, he scolded the most fiercely and asked Henry to apologize to them.

Doctor Wong said, "Master Yan, in my humble opinion, it's not that I don't believe your words. It's just that this person is too young. Yesterday in the mall, someone suddenly got sick, and you happened to be there. You can't cure the patient's condition, but he was cured by this young man. Today, he represents the Lins Group to participate in this tender. It's really a coincidence."

Before Doctor Wong could finish his words, he meant that everyone could hear what he said. He was saying that everything that happened yesterday could be a part of the plan. All of it was can be a part of Lins Group's plan.

"Yes, Master." Master Yan's male disciple, also said, "You have always told us that traditional Chinese medicine values experience the most. He is so young. Even if what happened yesterday happened coincidentally, could it be possible that he happened to encounter symptoms before, so he could treat them? A patient can't prove anything. The depth of medical skills needs to be proved many times."

As soon as he finished speaking, he heard Henry snort. On the table in front of him, there was a row of silver needles. Henry picked up a few silver needles with his index finger and thumb firmly, and then stabbed them hard on the table.

The silver needle was ten centimeters long and half of it sank into the table.

This scene seemed normal in the eyes of those government officials, but it was completely different in the eyes of those doctors.

Chapter 89

President Ma was the first to lose his mind. He let out a cry of shock, and his eyes were fixed on the silver needles that had sunk into the table.

The rest of the doctors were also like this.

"This is 'three points of entering the wood'!"

In the field of traditional Chinese medicine, entering the wood was a technique that was very rare seen.

The so-called "three points of entering the wood" referred to the doctor who inserted a needle into the wood with two fingers. Anyone who could do that must be a famous doctor. In the field of medicine, he had made great achievements!

Henry inserted seven needles in a row into the table in seven seconds. This was really eye-opener for the doctors present!

"Is there any other proof needed?" Henry slightly smiled. For him, it was a simple entry-level skill.

"Incredible! It's incredible!" President Ma shook his head and murmured, "How old are you? Even if you started learning in your mother's belly, it would still be impossible for you to do this!"

Master Yan's two disciples widened their eyes. They had practiced entering the wood countless times, so they were very clear about the difficulty in it. Even as Master Yan's disciples, they only hoped that they could do this before they were forty years old. But now the person in front of them was only in his twenties! The gap between them was too obvious!

Henry's ability was what the doctors here were all pursuing.

Dr. Wong shook his head and said, "No! That's impossible! How can a man at such a young age be so good?"

"That's not right! It's not entering the wood!" President Ma suddenly frowned.

This sentence also made other doctors set their eyes on President Ma.

Master Yan's two disciples even breathed a sigh of relief. They felt that the pressure on them had lessened a lot.

Doctor Wong burst out laughing. "Ha, ha, ha! Trick! I guess it's just a trick. How could he be so good at such a young age? Boy, even if you are a liar, we can see through it and you date to come to the Chinese Medicine clinic to deceive us?"

"Yes, it's not entering the wood!" Master Yan also said. He took a deep breath and shouted, "It's a shaking needle, a shaking needle!"

The shaking needle!

Master Yan's roar rang in everyone's ears. When the doctors heard the word "shaking needles", their first reaction was to not believe it!

The shaking needles were recorded in classical Chinese Medicine. It could be said that no one was able to do it in the modern world.

"When acupuncture is used to treat patients, Chinese doctors need to constantly twist needles to stimulate acupuncture points. Generally speaking, when a patient needs multiple acupuncture points to be stimulated, one doctor is not enough. He must have many doctors to assist him and treat more acupuncture points at the same time."

The effect of the shaking needle was that when stimulating the acupuncture points, it could tremble on its own to achieve the effect of stimulating the acupuncture points. If a doctor mastered the shaking needle, then one doctor could treat many people. In the absence of enough people, it would play a great role.

But this shaking needle required a special technique. Although it was recorded in classical books, no one was able to use it. It could be said that it existed only in name but not in reality. Some people even doubted whether the method of shaking needles written down by the ancestor was true or false.

Today, they saw it with their own eyes.

Henry stabbed the seven silver needles into the wooden table at a very fast frequency and with extremely small effort. They were trembling. If you didn't look carefully, you couldn't see them at all.

"It's really shaking needles! Oh my god! It turns out that the ancestor's records are true. There is really such a thing as shaking needles!"

"Unbelievable! It's unbelievable!"

"I can't believe I've seen a shaking needle! It's a shaking needle!"

Cries of surprise rose one after another.

Master Yan's two disciples were completely stunned there. The shaking needles! The shaking needles!

Dr. Wong listened to the exclamation in his ear and felt his face burning fiercely. Just now, he screamed the most fiercely. When President Ma said that he was not right, he was also the first to laugh. His proud appearance could be seen by everyone. But now, it was as if a big hand was fiercely swinging on his face. With the slapping sound, he didn't even dare to look at the seven silver needles on the table.

Henry snorted and looked at Master Yan's apprentice. "In this case, did I prove it?"

Master Yan's disciple took a look at Henry, but he was too embarrassed to speak, so he could only nod repeatedly.

"In the future, don't look down upon no one. The knowledge of Chinese Medicine is far from what you understand. The extraordinary people in this world are also not what you believe they are." Henry left this sentence and strode away.

At this moment, no one dared to have any other thoughts. They all looked at Henry with embarrassment.

Master Yan opened his mouth several times and wanted to speak, but he did not speak. Before, he thought that Henry's medical skills were brilliant, his insights were unique, and he dared to create a new one. But now he found that this young man had dumped him in the field of medical skills. With this shaking needle, this all the doctors of Chinese Medicine in the world wanted to worship him as a teacher. His little achievement was nothing in front of this young man.

To put it bluntly, even if he wanted to worship him as her teacher, he didn't know if he could regard himself as Henry's student.

"President Lin, let's go." Henry walked to Sylvia and said, "I'm sorry that I didn't help you today."

"You've done a great job." Sylvia shook her head. "I didn't expect that your medical skills can surprise these famous doctors."

"Famous doctors?" Henry turned back and looked at all the doctors who worked in big hospitals and were not always available to help people. He shook his head and said, "They are just a group of people who have only learned a little. Their horizon is too short to become famous."

When Henry spoke, he did not deliberately cover up his voice. When his words reached the ears of these doctors, no one refuted him. They all lowered their heads in shame because they knew that what Henry said was the truth. They really had a short-sighted vision. Otherwise, why would they be indignant when they heard the young man say that Henry was inferior to them?

Henry and Sylvia were about to walk out of the clinic together.

"Wait!"

A loud shout suddenly rang out.

The owner of this cry was not a doctor, but the boss of the Sunshne Medical Company, President Huang.

President Huang straightened his suit and stood up.

"President Huang, what can I do for you?" Henry stopped and squinted at him.

"I just want to say that some people are too hypocritical!" President Huang sneered and said loudly, "Just now, someone said that they were righteous and upright. In the ancient pharmacy, there was a saying that they hoped that no one in the world was sick, so they didn't care about the medicine. But now, they clearly mastered brilliant medical skills, but they were so selfish to share? Why didn't they contribute to the society? Could it be that someone was just talking big just now?"

As soon as President Huang finished his words, some doctors looked at him with contempt.

The shaking needle, this traditional Chinese medicine technique, could definitely be called a priceless treasure. And it is very difficult to obtain it.

"President Huang, you are exaggerating. If that's the case, can your Sunshine Medical sell all your property and donate it to the society for free?" President Ma asked in return.

Chapter 90

President Huang was at a loss for words. After a few seconds of silence, he said again, "President Ma, you misunderstood me. What I'm saying now is some people's hypocrisy and boasting. He just satirized all of us. He only mentioned money, not saving people, but refused to pay for it. What's the point of doing that?"

"You're just messing around..." President Ma was just about to speak when he was interrupted by Henry's voice.

"Who said that I'm not a man of my word? Who said that I don't want to contribute Chinese medicine to society?" Henry asked back.

Henry's words made all the doctors in the hall focus their eyes on him. At the same time, these doctors' hearts were beating faster at the same time. Did he really want to teach them the shaking needle technique? This... was amazing! If it was spread out, it would definitely be a sensation throughout the country!

Henry smiled and said to Sylvia, "President Lin, I'll make a decision for you on my own. Don't blame me."

After Henry finished speaking, he announced loudly before Sylvia could speak, "Our Lins Group's original purpose is to invest in several hospitals, for an association of traditional Chinese medicine, and teach the treatment methods of traditional Chinese medicine to others. I will personally teach them. In the next period of time, Lins Group will look for partners in various provinces all over the country. After that, the local medical association will be informed. If they can pass the review of the local medical association, I will definitely teach them all I have learned. I will teach them what I have learned without reservation. That's all."

As soon as Henry finished speaking, he turned around and left.

Sylvia's pretty face was stunned at first, and then she smiled. She immediately understood Henry's meaning and walked out of with Henry.

When the doctors heard Henry's words and saw that Henry was going to leave, they couldn't calm down.

They will look for a medical association in other provinces for cooperation and start a research. Then it will be examined by the provincial medical association. In the end, whether they can learn it or not is up to others to decide. Such a good opportunity, if the people of Ning Province Medical Association would lose it, they will never forgive themselves!"

"Hold on, President Lin, hold on!" President Ma ran over.

Sylvia stopped, turned her head and blinked. "President Ma, what's the matter?"

President Ma smiled and said, "President Lin, I want to talk to you about the cooperation this time."

"Didn't all of you decide to cooperate with Sunshine Medical?" Sylvia deliberately glanced at the place where President Huang was.

"President Lin, we haven't decided on the cooperation yet. We are more willing to cooperate with Lins Group!" Such a great temptation was in front of them. President Ma didn't even have time to say polite words and directly expressed his intentions.

President Huang just saw that things were not good when he saw President Ma chasing after them. Now when he heard what President Ma said, his heart sank completely.

"It seems that someone went for wool and came home shorn." The voice of the Chow's representative sounded behind President Huang.

Before Chow's people came, they had been specially told by the president that they must not have a conflict with Lins, and they must try their best to make a good relationship with them. Now that they had this opportunity, the representative of Chow's would not let it go.

After ridiculing President Huang, representative showed a kind smile to Sylvia.

Sylvia nodded and said nothing.

Of course, President Huang knew very well what Chows meant by saying that he went for wool and came home shorn. Just now, Sylvia was about to leave, but he was so mean by saying such words. Now, association gave another people a chance. His cooperation this time was completely ruined!

At this moment, President Huang was angry at himself. Why did he have to say so much? Originally, he wanted to laugh at others, but now, everyone was laughing at him. He glanced around and found that there were many company leaders who were laughing at him. He knew that after today, he should become a laughing stock in this silver industry.

The doctors of Ning Province Medical Association all looked at Henry nervously. What Henry said next was very important to them.

It was the same with President Ma. Although he had told Sylvia about the cooperation, in the end, it still depended on Henry's will.

Because of Henry's excellent medical skills, the roles of today's bid had been completely overturned.

Originally, all the major companies would explain their own principles to the medical community and ask for cooperation. But now, it was the medical association who requested to cooperate with Lins Group.

Henry folded his arms over his chest and rolled his eyes. "Don't look at me. It will be as President Lin decides."

"Then, let's have a successful cooperation." Sylvia took the initiative to reach out her hand to President Ma.

It could be seen that almost all the doctors present showed a happy look.

As for President Huang's face, it was so ugly that it looked as if he was in tears.

Henry didn't need to care about the next step of cooperation. The professional team of Lins Group and the Medical Association would finish the discussion later.

Master Yan came over and said to Henry, "Well, young master, I don't know if you can accept to teach my two stubborn apprentices, also..."

"It's not my decision. Master Yan, you have to ask President Ma."

Henry inadvertently gave respect and said that it was handed over to President Ma, which meant that the two disciples would also become the part of the program. At the same time, also made President Ma happy, and it would be more convenient for them to cooperate with each other in the future.

None of the enterprises that arrived today had expected that Lins Group would turn the tables with only one person.

Many people came to congratulate Sylvia.

"President Lin." President Huang walked up with a smile.

"President Huang?" Sylvia also smiled at him.

President Huang said with a somewhat embarrassed face, "President Lin, you see, I've been working with this medical equipment for many years. Looking around, there are only a few medical equipment companies in Yinzhou. We, Sunshine Medical, have always been following the principle of justice and less profits. Do we have a chance to cooperate this time?"

To be honest, President Huang really didn't want to shamelessly talk about cooperation, but there was no other way. He worked with medical equipment. Next, the four hospitals, which were going to be built in Yinzhou, were absolutely the most important. For Sunshine Medical, this might be a big opportunity that could only be seen once in a lifetime. If they didn't get it, it was not just that they couldn't make money, but it was very likely that their medical equipment was replaced by another company.

Therefore, President Huang had to put on a face like this.

"Alas." Sylvia sighed. "President Huang, it's not that I don't want to cooperate with you. It's that you just said that you will never cooperate with our Lins Group."

President Huang's face changed. "President Lin, we're all in the same city. You see each other every day. You shouldn't go too far."

"Haha, President Huang, you're really interesting. If I don't cooperate with you, then I do it to the extreme. Then, I'll completely change my Lins Group to charity foundation. Henry, let's go." Sylvia chuckled and walked out.

Henry also grinned and followed Sylvia.

President Huang stood there, looking at Sylvia's back with a fierce look in his eyes.

Chapter 91

After leaving the clinic, the afternoon sun was shining bright.

"President Lin, where are we going now? Go back to the company directly or..."

Henry said, but he found that no one replied to him. When he turned his head, he found that Sylvia was standing behind him.

"President Lin, why did you stop?" Henry asked curiously.

Sylvia's beautiful eyes looked up and down at Henry carefully.

"What's wrong?" Henry strode up to Sylvia and reached out his hand to swing in front of her eyes.

Sylvia took a deep breath, stroked the hair on her forehead with her white and tender hand and asked, "Who are you?"

Henry frowned. "Who am I?"

"Just now, although I don't understand what you have done to those doctors, I could see that with your medical attainments, you didn't have to come to our Lin family to be son-in-law. You have a better future. What's your purpose?"

"Oh, that's what you're talking about." Henry patted his forehead and said with a smile.

"You told me before that you didn't have a good family, so you have done everything. Don't tell me that you have achieved the current medical achievements just by learning it casually!" Sylvia's beautiful eyes were full of vigilance.

Henry held his hand and explained, "I have medical skills, but I don't have a Physician's Qualification Certificate. Or in other words, I can't get a Physician's Qualification Certificate. In the early years, I became apprentice of an old Celestial Empire medicine doctor, and he died three years after teaching me. President Lin, do you know that there is a kind of profession in the world called roving doctor?"

"A roving doctor?" Sylvia's face was full of doubts. She had never heard of such a profession before.

"Among the ancient doctors those who could cure hundreds of diseases were called roving doctors. This profession has been passed down to now." Henry looked up at the blazing sun in the sky and sighed. "However, roving doctors have never been recognized by the Medical Association. In many people's eyes, some treatment methods of roving doctors are risky."

"Risky?"

"Mmm." Henry nodded and stretched out four fingers to Sylvia. "We fight poison with poison. Just like yesterday. If I hadn't met Master Yan yesterday, any doctor might have stopped me from treating the patient. My method was very risky. If I was not careful, I could directly kill the patient."

Sylvia's face was full of confusion. "Then why are you still doing it?"

"I'm confident." Henry smiled and said, "But only I know practice. If I go to take the Physician's Qualification Certificate, I will be eliminated in theory. In general, people think that I'm nothing when it comes to medicine."

Sylvia's small mouth was slightly open. What Henry told her today was indeed something she had never been in contact with.

After a few seconds of silence, Sylvia said, "Henry, what you just said about program..."

"My good president Lin, you are always very smart. What's wrong with you today?!" Henry smiled bitterly. "I only know these techniques. The program is just a cover. You have to build up the hospitals during this period. At most, one year. After a year, they can learn all these techniques."

Hearing Henry's words, Sylvia also realized that today's herself seemed to be not smart enough. She was completely different from usual.

"Okay, let's go." Henry stepped forward and grabbed Sylvia's arm. "If we stay here longer, those people will come out and ask me something, and I'll be exposed."

Sylvia just let Henry pull her, walked to the parking lot, and got into Anna's car.

In the car, Sylvia's mouth curved into a smile. She took out her cell phone, opened calculator, and kept pressing the screen with her slender fingers.

"President Lin, what are you counting?" Henry put his head close to her.

"It's your commission. Do you want to know how much your commission will be with this cooperation?" Sylvia looked at Henry with a smile.

Henry's expression froze, and then he waved his hand. "It's all family business. It doesn't count as my commission. Just give me a commission of 18 million yuan."

"You're so funny, you're so greedy, 18 million yuan!" Sylvia stretched out her jade finger and pointed at Henry's head. "But to be honest, this is your first day as a salesman, you got such a big deal on your first day of work. You broke record after such a big deal. Well, in the next period, you'll first be responsible for the training program. You can directly contact Secretary Lee if you need to."

"Okay, absolutely no problem." Henry made an OK gesture.

Back at Lins Group, Sylvia was busy for the first time. She was busy taking over all the projects about the hospital, including all kinds of planning.

As soon as Henry was about to go to the business department, his cell phone rang. When he saw the caller, he grinned. It was Helen Han.

Henry owed a lot to the policewoman, Violent Dragon.

"Hello, Helen..." Henry was interrupted by a roar as soon as he answered the phone.

"Hey, Mr. Zhang! Come to the Rosy Night CLUB! I'm going to be killed!"

Henry's face changed. After saying to wait for him, he directly hung up the phone and rushed to the club.

In the past period of time, the Rosy Night CLUB was the focus of Yinzhou police. Once there was any trouble, the police could always arrive in the first place.

In the past two days, the personnel of the police monitoring the Rosy Night Club had all been transferred.

The door of the club was tightly locked. Behind this tightly locked door room was filled with a thick cloud of smoke.

The bar was full of people. It could be seen that these people were obviously divided into two groups, each occupying half of the bar, being in a confrontation.

Leopard Kurata leaned his head on the sofa with his arms drooping on both sides of his body weakly. His face was full of pain and his forehead was sweating.

Sneaky Viper's right hand was wrapped in gauze. Blood oozed from the gauze and dripped to the ground. On the table in front of the Viper, a bloody pinkie was particularly eye-catching.

Wearing a tight black suit, Helen looked at the person sitting opposite with a livid face.

"Little girl, your Green Leaf can't defeat this many of us. I'm afraid that these good-for-nothings won't be able to do that." A man with flattop haircut, who looked to be in his thirties, was trimming his fingernail with a dagger in his hand.

Beside this man stood a young man in black, playing with a butterfly knife in his hand. He kept glancing at Helen with his eyes, and from time to time, he showed a sinister smile.

The man with the flattop haircut lit a cigarette for himself and took a deep breath. "In one night, the Big Circle Society disappeared. My fifty-plus Black Thunder brothers all went in. You little girl do have some courage. But I don't know what method you have to save yourself today?"

Chapter 92

Helen looked at the man in front of her. This man, who was called the Black Thunder Second Leader, was strong and terrible, the stories about him were true. His subordinates subdued Leopard Kurata within three movements. They disabled his arms and cut off the Sneaky Viper's pinkie.

The man with the flattop haircut looked around at Rosy Night Club and commented from time to time, as if he was the owner of the bar.

"This Green Leaf Society is really getting bigger and bigger. You even dare to attack us, Black Thunder?" The man with flattop hair had a smile on his face. "Little girl, I really don't understand, where did you get the courage to sit opposite me today?"

Helen sat there without saying a word. The current situation was completely controlled by her opponent.

For a long time, she had been working on defeating the association. She clearly knew that Black Thunder was the underground leader of the whole province, but she didn't expect that there was such a huge gap between Green Leaf and Black Thunder.

Although Leopard Kurata was old, his skills were still one of the best among Green Leaf's. However, his arms were disabled with just three moves.

The atmosphere in the whole bar was particularly depressing.

At this moment, there was a knock on the door, and a crisp female voice came from outside the door.

"Is there anyone here? Is the bar open?"

A member of the Black Thunder, who stood at the entrance of the bar, stood up and looked at the man with flattop haircut inquiringly.

The man with a flattop haircut waved his hand. The member of the club nodded his head and opened a crack in the bar's door. "The bar is closed."

"Fk, move, don't pretending you didn't hear me!" A slightly impatient male voice sounded from outside the bar. Black thunder member who stood outside the bar's door was pushed away from the outside.

A beam of sunshine came in from outside the door.

A man and a woman walked into the bar. The man was handsome, wearing a Versace-style shirt and a pair of sunglasses, like some young celebrity.

The woman had long hair and wore a long white dress. Her facial features were impeccable. There was a faint smile on her face, which was eye-catching.

"Gentlemen, this place is closed. Don't you understand?" Another Black thunder younger member stood up and shouted.

The man and the woman didn't seem to have heard his words. The man removed his glasses and looked around the bar.

"Gee, it's so foul. May I ask who is Miss Helen?" The handsome young man was the one who went to find Henry.

"I am." Helen stood up.

"Sister-in-law, let me introduce myself. My name is Wade White. My big brother asked me to come. This is Thorn Ci." The handsome young man said softly to Helen.

"It's my honor to meet you, sister-in-law." The beautiful woman in a long white dress bowed to Helen, and her eyes and tone were full of respect.

Helen looked at the two people with a puzzled look on her face. "The big brother you're talking about is... Henry?"

"Yes." Wade nodded. "Big brother said that there are some people that have come to make trouble for my sister-in-law. He asked me to come and take a look."

Wade lit a cigarette for himself and pushed away the Black Thunder in front of him. "Come, come. Please make way for us."

The man with the flattop haircut looked at the man and the woman with contempt in his eyes. "Little girl, is this the help you asked for?"

"You are too weak." The young man standing next to man with flattop haircut curled his lips in disdain, and the butterfly knife in his hand turned quickly.

Black thunder member, who was standing in the bar's aisle, didn't give way to Wade.

Wade frowned. "Brothers, what do you mean? You don't allow us to walk this way, do you?"

"Let them." The man with flattop haircut shouted and waved his hand.

When the followers of Black Thunder heard this, they made way for him.

"Thank you very much." Wade smiled at these Black Thunder minions and walked towards the place where Helen was.

Thorn Ci followed behind Wade. Those Black Thunder minions touched her with their hands lewdly. But she didn't say anything, just let these people touch her body.

Seeing this scene, the man with the flattop haircut smiled more widely.

"Little girl, you didn't find two people to relieve our boredom, did you? Hahaha! Max, what do you think of this girl? Let us carry her up and have fun with her?"

"I like this more." The young man who played the butterfly knife stared at Helen, and his eyes were full of aggressiveness.

Wade passed through the crowd and came to the front of Helen. On Thorn's piercing white dress, there were countless black handprints.

On the side of the Green Leaf Society, there was a man sitting all the time, and he was also in his forties. From beginning to end, he did not speak, but kept smoking cigarettes. At this moment, he stood up and said, "Helen, I feel like you are joking with me."

"Fourth, what are you doing?" Leopard's eyes were fixed on this man.

This man was the fourth master of the Green Leaf Society, and his nickname was Fourth.

"What am I doing?" Fourth asked, "I want to know what is the purpose of this woman surnamed Han. Thunder Monster said that he didn't care about Green Leaf, but handed it over to a girl. Has he ever asked us old brothers? I am not convinced! Now, we are all trapped here, and these two people are helpers called by her?"

Fourth pointed at Wade and Thorn and said, "Are you sure that she didn't play with us on purpose?"

"Fourth, don't talk nonsense here!" Viper shouted.

"Hehe, it's up to you. Anyway, I don't intend to serve you anymore. It's better to destroy such a big club than to be in the hands of a little girl!" Fourth waved his hand and said indifferently.

"What did you say?" Viper exploded and grabbed Fourth by the collar. "Say it again!"

"Look, are you still in a hurry?" Fourth laughed disdainfully, "I am not afraid to tell you that Black Thunder's men are hired by me. I am just dissatisfied that this girl is sitting in this position. Third brother, don't say that I don't care about brotherhood. Today, you have to honestly apologize to Brother Knife, and you will have a chance to live. In the future, I will be the boss of Green Leaf, and you and Second Brother will still be in charge. What do you think?"

"Fk you!" Viper waved his fist and smashed it on Fourth's face. This punch made his right hand, which was already bleeding, hurt more.

Fourth had to step back two steps and severely spilt a mouthful of saliva with blood. "Well, third brother, I gave you a chance. This is your own choice. Don't blame me for being heartless!"

"I don't have a brother like you!" Viper raised his fist again and rushed to Fourth, but was kicked down by Max.

Fourth didn't even look at Viper. He walked to the man with a flattop haircut, bowed his head and said, "Brother Knife, I will be responsible for the businesses in Green Leaf's. You don't need to keep these people alive."

Chapter 93

"Not bad." The man with flattop hairstyle patted Fourth's face with satisfaction.

Fourth showed a flattering smile.

Now, Helen's face was very ugly.

One reason was because of the retaliation of Fourth, and the other was because of the appearance of Wade and Thorn.

In fact, although Helen spoke fiercely, she was a woman who lacked a sense of security. Since her mother died in a gang fight many years ago, the so-called sense of security was getting farther and farther away from her.

When she applied for the police academy, she abhorred evil as hatred and acted violently. In fact, all these were just a sign of her lack of security.

In fact, Helen herself did not understand what type of relationship she had with Henry.

She didn't deny that her behavior that night was impulsive. After the incident, she also regretted it in her heart. It was just that her character made her not show it. She blamed herself. She did such a thing when she knew Henry had a wife. She tried to stop herself from disturbing Henry or contacting him. If not for what happened today, she didn't know when she would take the initiative to call him.

She was a very contradictory woman, just like she had arrested her father. When she really caught him, Helen was not sure if she could do it, but she had been doing it all the time.

After she called Henry just now, she regretted that and the most important reason for her call was that the little woman's psychological worry. She wanted to know whether he would come to protect her when she was in danger.

When Helen saw Wade and Thorn, she was disappointed. She understood that she was not so important in Henry's heart. He loved his wife, and it was just a misunderstanding between them. Otherwise, he would not have found these two people to treat her like a perfunctory fool.

She was disappointed, and a self-deprecating smile appeared on her face. She thought that she was not so important at all.

"Little girl, don't say that I won't give you a chance. Today, you have to take the initiative to play with my brother, and I will spare your life. What do you think?" The man with flattop hair said playfully.

Max looked Helen up and down, stuck out his tongue and licked his lips.

"Choose a way to die." Wade's calm voice sounded.

"Hmm?" The man with the flattop haircut raised his eyebrows and looked at Wade. "Boy, are you talking to me?"

"That's right." Wade nodded. "You choose a way to die, and I'll help you."

"I didn't hear you clearly." The short-haired youth looked at Wade as if he had seen a ghost. "Say it again?"

Wade turned around and looked at Thorn behind him with a puzzled look on his face. "I'm speaking Mandarin, right?"

"Yes." Thorn nodded.

"My voice is not low, is it?"

"Not low."

"That is because he heard it. He doesn't want to choose it by himself. In this case, you choose one for him." Wade made a gesture of "please".

"I understand." Thorn said with no change in her expression. She took a step forward, and then a cold light flashed. In the cold light, ten fingers flew up at the same time.

The hands of the man with the flattop haircut were red.

This sudden scene left everyone in a state of confusion.

The man with the flattop haircut screamed like a pig being killed. "Hands... my hands... my hands!"

He stretched out his palm with fear in his eyes. There was not a single finger on his outstretched palm.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk." Wade shook his head. "So you chose to let him bleed to death. Sigh, women are too terrifying."

Wade looked at the man with the flattop haircut with regret. "I told you to choose yourself. If you listened to me, you would die in one shot. You'll have to suffer this torture now."

The face of the young man named Max suddenly changed. He held the butterfly knife in his hand and fiercely went toward Thorn.

Thorn waved her arm and hit on the crook of Max's arm. The butterfly knife, which was originally aiming for Thorn, changed its angle at this moment and stabbed Max's throat. The sharp tip of the blade penetrated Max's throat without any hindrance. Max, who had been arrogant just now, lost his life in a flash.

This scene happened in only a moment. Until Max fell to the ground, Helen and the others didn't react. When they looked at Wade and Thorn, their eyes were completely different.

Wade smiled apologetically at Helen. "Sister-in-law, according to logic, Big Brother should have sent us here. How to deal with these people is up to you. But before coming here, Big Brother told us if anyone says something bad to you, kill them all, so..."

Wade embarrassedly scratched the back of his head. At the same time, Thorn also moved.

Dressed in a long white dress, she was like a ghost, shuttling among the crowd. Wherever she passed, there was a piece of blood. She was dancing in the crowd. The blood formed a flower and danced with her.

This time, Black Thunder brought more than 30 people. Moments ago, these people rushed to touch Thorn's. Now, when they saw Thorn, they looked as if they had seen a ghost. With fear on their faces, they had no time to hide.

Two minutes!

In just two minutes, the night bar's floor was dyed red with blood.

The white dress on Thorn's body was not stained with a single drop of blood. Only her slender fingers were dripping with blood.

If one looked closely, they would see that her red nails were covered with shining cold light, hiding blades one by one.

Leopard Kurata swallowed hard. Since he met Henry, it was not the first time that he had seen such a scene, but he still could not maintain his inner peace. These were only two young people. They looked harmless, but they killed so many people while talking and laughing. Their facial expressions did not change at all. Obviously, they had been used to such things.

The man with the flattop haircut looked at Wade and Thorn with fear on his face, and he stepped back again and again.

Fourth was so scared that he sat there, and his pants were wet.

Helen looked at the miserable scene on the ground with dull eyes. She was shocked. Who on earth was Henry?

Last time in the Roman Holiday Inn, Helen felt that Henry was well prepared. But this time, she called him. In less than fifteen minutes, Henry had sent two people here. Looking at their expressions, they were absolutely respectful to her.

"Thorn, let's get someone to deal with this mess." Wade waved his hand.

Thorn nodded and whistled loudly.

As the whistle fell, more than a dozen people walked in from outside the night bar. Each of them wore black clothes and covered their faces. After entering the bar, they did not say a word. They skillfully picked up the bodies on the ground and raised their heads to the outside of the bar. These people did not make a sound, as if there were some rules pressing them in the dark.

"Sister-in-law, the matter has been settled, and we will leave first. If we stay here, we will bring you unnecessary trouble." Wade gently said hello to Helen.

"Sister-in-law, I'm leaving." Thorn bowed respectfully towards Helen and followed behind Wade as he left the bar.

Chapter 94

In the Rosy Night Club, all the members of Green Leaf, who were left, were staring at each other.

The man with the flattop haircut rolled on the ground in pain. He kept screaming, and his hands were bleeding.

Fourth was hiding aside with his head in his arms. He was trembling with fear.

Helen's cell phone rang just as she was about to speak. Helen looked at the caller and frowned. After thinking for a while, she picked up the phone.

"Master..."

"Now come to the team quickly. There's something important to do. Put down all the work!" On the phone, a middle-aged man's voice sounded with an anxious tone.

Helen put away the phone, glanced around, said couple of sentences to Viper and then strode away.

In Yinzhou police station.

In a small conference room, a few people gathered. At first glance, these people were about forty years old. The stars on their shoulders symbolized their positions, the lowest of which was above the grade of the department.

When Helen came over, she saw that the director was also in the conference room. However, the director was not sitting in the main seat, but the side seat.

"Helen, sit here!" A middle-aged man waved to her. The middle-aged man had a square face. In the whole conference room, he was the only one wearing casual clothes. There was a scar on his face, which was ferociously cut from the right corner of his eye to the chin.

"Master." Helen nodded to the middle-aged man and sat beside him honestly.

Helen's master, Jammy Zou, was the chief of the provincial bureau's criminal investigation division. He had solved many major crimes and made countless contributions. Even the director of Yinzhou police station would be polite to him.

"Master, what happened?" Helen asked with a puzzled look.

"The red document sent by the higher-ups stated that Sharp Knife's people will come. The confidentiality of this meeting is very high. You just listen. Don't talk too much." Jammy's face looked very serious.

"Sharp Knife?" Helen's eyes widened and she couldn't help opening her small mouth.

During the training in the police school, Helen had heard of the name of Sharp Knife. It was a mysterious force in the security system of China. It was said that every year, the national police team would pick the elite of the elite to participate in the selection of the Sharp Knife. However, in the selection, the chance of passing was less than 1%.

What Sharp Knife dealt with were all some special emergency situations. An ordinary case would not allow them to take action at all.

For a long time, Helen had only heard of the name of this army and knew nothing about other things. Now when she heard that they are coming, how could she not be surprised?

"Well, don't ask more questions. You can sign this first." Jammy took a document and put it in front of Helen.

She glanced at it and it turned out to be a confidentiality agreement.

"When you hear what they said, you are not allowed to reveal it to anyone. If you sign this confidentiality agreement, you can continue to stay here. No exceptions are allowed." Jammy threw a pen to Helen.

After taking the pen, Helen wrote her name on the confidentiality agreement without hesitation.

There were not many people in this small conference room. Almost all of them were asked to sign agreement.

About ten minutes later, the door of the conference room was pushed open. There was a man and a woman. Two young persons in casual clothes came in. They walked in with vigorous strides, and their bodies exuded a faint momentum.

The director of the police station was the first to stand up and welcome them.

"All right." The young man in casual clothes stretched out his hand and made a gesture of stopping. "I won't say too much. Those who can still be here must have signed a confidentiality agreement. Let me introduce myself. My name is Nat Jin and I belong to the third team of Sharp Knife. And I am the captain. This is my partner, Eden Tian."

"Hello, everyone." Eden greeted the people present. She took out a suitcase, opened it quickly, and took out a tablet computer and a small projector.

Nat's eyes were like torches, sweeping around the whole conference room. Under his gaze, no one dared to look at him, including Jammy.

Helen could only feel that Nat was like a wild beast that could erupt at any time. His eyes were as sharp as a blade.

"Everyone, I've received an order from my superiors. I'm here to deliver a message to you. Please take a look." Nat made a gesture of invitation.

Eden controlled the projector and showed a picture on the wall.

There was nothing else shown except for a black card with a mask on it. The mask looked like a ghost with two sharp teeth. It was sinister and terrifying.

Nat said, "In principle, with your status, you can't get in touch with this information. But suddenly, what I said next, you should pay extra attention. You may see this symbol in the next period of time. Once you see it, you should report it immediately. My partner and I will stay here for a period of time."

"What's this?" Jammy asked in confusion.

"The Reaper." Nat pointed at the grimace mask and said, "There is a group of people, who claimed to be the Reapers and claimed the name of the ruler to harvest the souls of evil. Who is the leader of this organization? The whole world is investigating, but no country can find out. These people are very powerful and their means are extremely cruel. Sharp Knife has been paying attention to their whereabouts. Recently we have received news that the Reapers have appeared in the Yinzhou. Therefore, during this period of time, everyone must be on guard!"

While everyone was listening attentively to Nat's explanation, Helen was in a daze. She remembered very clearly that those people who appeared outside the Roman Holiday Inn that day wore masks like this!

"The person that will show now is our next key search target. Once you find something, you can't do anything privately. Report it immediately!" Nat winked at Eden.

Eden nodded and fiddled with the tablet. The projector showed a woman.

To be precise, it was a woman's back. The woman was 1.7 meters tall, with long hair and a military green camouflage uniform. Through the photo, it could be seen that the woman's skin was very good, and there was a cold light reflected between the woman's fingers.

"This person is a sub-chief of the Reapers. She is cruel and powerful. She has appeared in the Yinzhou recently. Once again, you absolutely can't act on your own when you meet her. You must report it to us immediately, understand?" Nat's words were simple, quick, and his eyes were full of solemnity.

"Captain Nat, I have a question." A section chief raised his hand.

"Go ahead, please."

"If I really meet this person, if I make any mistakes in the process of reporting, this person may escape."

"Just let her escape! You absolutely can't do anything yourself!" Nat said the same words.

"Why?" Jammy asked.

Nat glanced around and said, "Because I don't want to add casualties for no reason."

Chapter 95

Jammy's face was full of displeasure. "Captain Nat, I don't understand what you mean. Although our police team can't compare with Sharp Knife, but our team is also very well prepared. It seems that you've gone too far by saying that."

"Sorry, I've always been straightforward." Nat smiled at Jammy and then waved at Eden.

Eden changed the images that were shown on the wall.

This time, it was no longer a figure, nor a symbol, but a picture of the ruins. The picture showed smoke, and there were deep pits all over the ground. There was a big fire, and broken limbs and arms were everywhere. The heavy weapons were scattered all over the ground, and there were even two tanks that had been blown up to pieces.

Nat explained, "This is a private armed base in the Golden Triangle. There are about 400 mercenaries armed with loaded guns in the base. They kill people without blinking. There are two armed tanks in the base that are ready to be fired at any time. As a result, one person wiped out the whole private armed base within one and a half hours. She is the person you have seen just now. Now, do you still question the number of casualties I have mentioned?"

In the conference room, everyone was looking at the scene on the wall with their mouths wide open.

"This..." Jammy moved his mouth, but he didn't say anything in the end.

What Nat said was beyond his knowledge. This was not a role that ordinary police officers could deal with.

Indeed, in the face of such a horrible character, the ordinary elites were no match for him at all. She was a professional murderer!

At this moment, Helen's mind had gone completely blank. She had heard what Nat had said very clearly. She had been in the dark for so many years and had seen many ruthless people who liked to kill each other. However, compared with Nat's narration, these people were just child's play!

Moreover, although Helen only saw the back of the woman, she was hundred percent sure that woman was Thorn Ci! Today, she came to Rosy Night Club to solve the trouble. She was one of Henry's men!

In the meeting, Nat said a lot of things to the people present, but Helen didn't listen to him. She only thought of one question, "Who is Henry?"

After the meeting, Helen walked out of the meeting room in a daze and walked out of the police station.

The meeting lasted for a long time. The sun was setting, and the horizon was burning red.

Helen walked out of the gate of the police station and saw a long shadow extending to her feet. She looked in the direction of the shadow and saw the man standing there. It was Henry!

"Done with work? Let's have dinner together!" Henry put his hands in his pockets and said to Helen with a smile.

As soon as she saw Henry, what Nat said just now appeared in her mind. One man, an hour and a half, destroyed an armed base. And that man was also Henry's subordinate!

Helen walked up to Henry with an unnatural look on her face. After being silent for two seconds, she said, "I have a question for you."

"What's wrong? You were holding an emergency meeting. Did someone gave you information about Thorn?" Henry asked with a smile. He seemed to have an uncertain prophet.

Helen asked subconsciously, "How do you know?"

"Thorn has performed a lot of tasks, so she has shown up a lot. Today's fight will definitely be discovered. The Sharp Knife will definitely not sit by and do nothing. How many captains have come here this time?" Henry's expression was calm, and everything was under control.

"Did you know that Thorn would be discovered?" Helen did not answer Henry's question and asked.

"She will definitely be found out. You have never been involved in this aspect, so you don't understand the international influence of Thorn. She has always been the focus of Sharp Knife." Henry held his hand and said as expected.

Helen looked at Henry with wide eyes and said, "Then why did you ask her to..."

"I can't watch you fall into danger." Henry clenched his teeth and took the initiative to reach out his hand to hold Helen's arm. "Anyway, you are my woman. From now on, no one can bully you."

"Come on!" Helen shook off Henry's palm and said, "You clearly have a wife, so I don't want to get involved in your family affairs. That night, I drank too much. Let's just pretend that nothing happened. Don't just say that I'm your woman. If you have morals, you would get the divorce first, and then you would be able to say these words!"

"Uh..." Henry looked a little embarrassed and didn't know how to answer her.

When it came to fighting, killing, and blasting, Henry's heart was beating steadily, and he didn't even blink. But in terms of romantic relationships, he really lacked experience. All the women he had met in the past were just for fun.

But now, Henry's attitude towards feelings had long changed.

"All right, don't just stand there. Didn't you say you would treat me to a meal? Where are we going to eat?" Helen looked impatient.

"I booked a table in hotpot restaurant. It has good reviews on the Internet."

"Then let's get a taxi." Helen pushed Henry.

"Oh." Henry nodded, turned around, ran to the roadside and took a taxi.

Looking at Henry's back, the impatience on Helen's face gradually disappeared. Instead, a happy smile appeared between her eyebrows. It was undeniable that when Henry said that she was his woman, her heart beat faster.

During the meal, Helen did not ask any more questions about Henry's identity. Everything seemed very normal.

When Henry got home, it was almost nine o'clock in the evening. He found that Sylvia had not returned yet. He took a taxi and went straight to Lins Group. The whole building was dark, and she had already finished work.

Henry looked puzzled and called Sylvia and found out that she had turned off the phone.

"What's going on?" Henry waited for a while in front the building. Just as he was about to make a phone call to Milan, he heard a faint sound upstairs. The sound was extremely faint. Only he could hear it.

"There's someone upstairs?" Henry narrowed his eyes and looked around.

The main entrance of the building had been locked, but it couldn't stop Henry. He found a way. He sprinted and jumped up. He grabbed the window of the second floor, and with another push of his arm, he had reached the window of the second floor. His movements were as smooth as flowing water, and even the actors in the movies couldn't do that.

Henry gently pushed the window open.

"Sure enough." Henry smiled. In such a hot summer day, few people would close the window.

He jumped into the building with ease from the window and entered the building. He could hear the obvious sound coming from upstairs. Because of his previous experience, Henry did not choose to take the elevator, but went upstairs through the stairs.
