

Chapter 1075

Henry looked indifferently at Hebor, who was under the stage, and said, "People of different principles don't work together. From the day you wanted to kill Flynn, you should have thought about the results."

"Haha! Haha! Haha!" Hebor let out a burst of violent and tragic laughter. "What a coincidence! I, Hebor Merrick, was defeated by you. However, Henry, I still want to see if you alone have the ability to kill me!"

Hebor's body shook, and the two artificial arms separated from his side.

The two arms formed out of Qi replaced the artificial arms.

Hebor rose to his feet, and his Qi surged. At the very last moment, he unleashed the full power of a late-stage Qi-concentrating Realm expert.

The strength of the bishop could be said to be the top strength in today's world.

When Hebor's power burst forth, everyone who was a short distance away from him was sent flying.

Gershoom, who was standing in the air, could not bear such pressure at all. A stream of blood flowed from the corner of his mouth and slowly fell to the ground.

The three Qi-concentrating Realm experts took several steps back, unable to get too close to each other.

There was only horror in everyone's eyes. How strong was this person! And how strong was Henry, who had chased him to the end of the road!

Henry held the sword with the tip of his finger. The huge sword expanded to ten meters high and then slowly agglomerated.

At that time in Holy City, Henry used the World Destruction Demon Sword to not only attract Hebor but also kill Dalton, so that he could show more power. Therefore, it was powerful and destructive. A huge sword with ten meters in height could destroy unparalleled enemies, but its killing intent was also scattered.

Now, Henry's sword was only for killing one person. A ten-metre giant sword started condensing. It had the same power, but it was more concentrated.

The ten-metre long sword was condensing at a speed visible to the naked eye. It condensed to five metres, then three meters. When it was condensed to two meters, it gave one the feeling that it was completely solidified. It was as if it wasn't Qi at all, but a physical object.

The body of the sword was shrouded in a dark purple glow.

Henry stared at Hebor, and flicked his finger. "World... Destruction! Go!"

The two-metre-long purple sword slashed at Hebor from the air.

"Hahahaha! Come on!" Hebor shouted and used all his strength to take Henry's sword.

Today was the lucky day that the Xiao Clan had chosen. The sun was shining brightly, but the wind was blowing all of a sudden. Dark clouds were all over the sky, blocking the bright sun.

A massive airwave swept across the area with Hebor as its centre.

In the airwaves, even the experts from the Transformation Realm couldn't stand steadily.

Sylvia and Milan were protected by Henry, so they were not affected.

The airwaves were strong. Numerous cracks appeared on the walls of the Xiao Manor.

"Let's go." Henry did not look at the result. He turned around and took Sylvia's hand. Looking at the beautiful face of the woman, he said softly, "Wife, I haven't seen you since April, you are still so beautiful."

A bright blush surfaced on Sylvia's pretty face.

"Henry, that's enough! Not only did you ruin my wedding today, but you're also here showing your romance?" Milan said with her hands on her hips as she rolled her eyes.

Henry glanced at Kurt, who shrank to the back of the wedding stage, and said with a smile, "You want to marry such a person? If so, I will organize another wedding for you."

"Humph." Milan glared at Henry angrily and said, "Forget it, I will choose someone else."

Henry nodded and said, "I don't think you would like this kind of good-for-nothing. Let's go, it's been a long time. Let's go to Yinzhou and relax?"

Before Milan could answer, Sylvia's eyes lit up. "Honey, are you going back to Yinzhou City?"

"Yes." Henry nodded. "The matter has been settled. It's time to go back. Is Lisa back?"

"She has been back for a long time." Sylvia covered her mouth and smiled. "As soon as she got home, she shouted that she wanted to see her daddy. I haven't seen her recently, and I don't know how she is now."

"With Dean Cui and Jenny, she will be fine. She is old enough. This time, we can send her to the kindergarten." Henry thought of Lisa's lovely appearance and couldn't help but smile. "Honey, have you finished building the kindergarten?"

"Yes." Sylvia nodded. "It was completed after the New Year, but I thought that there was some odour left after decoration, so it hasn't been opened yet. Now it should be okay. Some time ago, I asked someone to check it. But I haven't contacted my family for a long time, so I don't know the specific situation."

"Okay," Henry replied. "Wife, you and Milan go to rest first. I have something to do. When I'm done, we can go back together."

"Okay."

Sylvia pulled Milan. At the moment, the Xiao Clan did not dare to stop the two of them and let them leave.

When the air calmed down, there was a huge deep pit in the mansion of the Xiao Clan. A figure was lying in the deep pit, and there was no life in it left.

Morvyn came to the deep hole and looked at Hebor lying inside. He sighed. Although he had chased Hebor for a long time, his purpose was to kill this person. But at the moment of Hebor's death, he still had a lot of feelings in his heart. After all, he had seen Hebor defend the South Continent for dozens of years.

They had once been together, but now, one of them had fallen. The era that belonged to them had passed, and the rest of the era would be handed over to the young.

Branley, Elyot and others came to Henry.

Branley rushed to Henry and cupped his hands. "Brother Zhang, since this matter is over, I'll go back first. Soon, we'll meet again at the Eastern Continent's grand meeting."

"Thank you, senior Branley." Henry also imitated his movements and said with cupped fists.

"Haha. Young lord Zhang, you're going to attend the Eastern Feast this time. I'm afraid Dong Ying and others will be disappointed. They've been staring at Lord Sanford for a long time. They've been ready to take over Lord Sanford's position. But it seems that they don't have a chance." Elyot laughed out loud. "I'll go first. See you at the feast."

"Okay." Henry nodded.

The rest of the Qi-concentrating Realm experts also came to Henry and said goodbye one by one.

Henry also thanked them one by one.

After all the people left, the members of the Xiao and Mu clans walked up trembling, including the underground forces who had stood in the wrong team and shouted Henry to submit to the clan. They came one after another, surrounding and subservient.

"Mr. Zhang, we..." Hadwin opened his mouth but didn't know what to say.

Gershoom Xiao also came over. He was not as arrogant as before. He saw clearly that Henry killed Hebor. He thought that if he was killed by this sword, he would not be able to keep his body in one piece. The strength he thought was nothing in front of this young man.

Henry glanced at them and said, "From today on, I don't want to hear the names of the Xiao and Mu Clan. In Xi Du, Xiao's family is still Xiao's family. As for your Mu Clan, I don't want to hear about you. Don't let your descendants get in my way, understand?"

"I understand, I understand." Hadwin nodded his head repeatedly without the slightest reluctance. The strength that Henry had displayed today was not something even his clan could afford to offend, not to mention the experts behind him.

Gershoom nodded as well, indicating that the Xiao Clan would retire and live in seclusion.

Chapter 1076

"My clothes are soaked with a fresh rain, but I don't feel cold."

It was drizzling. In this south of the Yangtze River, the weather was always weird, and it might rain at any time.

Henry stood in front of an old tree with his hands behind his back. There was a soft mound on the ground in front of the trunk, which had just been spread out.

Morvyn patted off the dirt on his hands and said, "That's enough."

"Are you sure you want to bury Hebor here?" Henry raised his eyebrows.

Morvyn nodded and said, "Hebor was protecting the Southern Continent for a long time. It is convenient and suitable to bury him here. Many years later, some dandelion will grow here and he could fly to other places."

Henry had been staring at Morvyn.

"What's wrong?" said Morvyn, feeling a little uncomfortable being stared at by Henry.

Henry rolled his eyes and said, "Uncle, why are you so sentimental? Why do you want him to become a dandelion?"

"Haha." The man laughed and said, "I am old and I had to say goodbye to an old friend. It's inevitable that I have some strange ideas. Let's go. I think this time there will be a lot of internal turmoil. You, on the other hand, just clap your hands and you will be able to stand on the throne. No one will care about you. I don't know how many troubles I'll be entangled with when I go back."

Henry shrugged his shoulders and said, "You have said that you are old, but it is better to settle the things now. In this way, Flynn will have a much better future."

"Thank you very much. Robbin's change has indeed exceeded my expectation." Morvyn waved his hand to Henry. "Let's go. If there is a chance, I'll go to Yinzhou to find you. You don't need to worry about Andrew. I've already told you about it when we left Holy City last time. I'm afraid that you won't be able to see him again. Don't forget our agreement."

"Don't worry." Henry patted his chest. "When everything is done, I will take the initiative to contact you."

"Okay, then let's cut the crap." Just as Morvyn was about to leave, Henry stopped him.

"By the way."

"What?" said Morvyn, glancing at Henry.

Henry took a deep breath and said, "You should know that the goal of Demon's training is to train one's mind. Flynn's means and temperament are much tougher than before. But he also has inner demons. You should pay more attention to it."

Morvyn shook his head and said, "It's said that everyone has their own inner demon. We'll see if he can get over it. Anyway, I trust him a little bit. I will leave now!"

As soon as he finished his words, he disappeared in front of Henry.

Henry shook his head helplessly, looked at the mound under the old tree, and then walked away.

In the evening, a private jet of Lins Group took off from the Xi Du Airport.

Henry changed into clean clothes and shaved his beard. Holding a glass of red wine, he gracefully sat on the wide sofa in the cabin and enjoyed the unique fragrance brought by the wine, lingering in his mouth.

Milan sat opposite Henry, shaking the red wine in her hand. It could be seen that Milan had been particularly depressed during this period of time. After sitting on the plane for a while, her pretty face turned a little red with a bit of drunkenness.

"Sylvia, you've been holding your computer while having dinner with my dad today. Why are you still holding it? What's so urgent?" As Milan spoke, the aroma of wine was coming out of her mouth.

Today, the Xiao Clan gave the Xiao Group back to Chris, and they changed the name to Ratings Group. This change meant to tell Henry that the Xiao clan had completely given up here. Moreover, all the people of the Xiao Clan left Xi Du today and went to live in seclusion.

The reason why Henry and others left this late was that they had a meal with Chris.

Sylvia stared at the computer screen and said, "I've been away for so long this time, and I haven't been able to contact the outside world. There are a lot of things in the company waiting for me. I've seen so many emails in the mailbox, so I have to deal with these things quickly."

Milan rolled her eyes and kicked Henry, who was sitting opposite her, with her slender legs. She said, "I say, Henry, you are so rich, you should let your wife enjoy her life. Do you really want her to make money to support the family? If other men have such a beautiful wife, they would support her every day."

Henry smiled and said, "What money do I make? I got married into her family. It must be my wife who is responsible for making money to support the family. I'm responsible to stay handsome."

"You're really shameless." Milan glared at Henry.

"If I am not shameless, how can I marry such a beautiful wife? Haha." Henry smirked.

Milan was looking at Henry. Now he was so cheerful, but this morning, he used a Qi-blade to kill a person. Was he really the same person?

While Henry was enjoying the red wine, under an old tree in Xi Du.

A person took a shovel and dug out the mound under the old tree.

At the bottom of the mound was a wooden coffin. When it was tilted up, the person lying inside suddenly took a deep breath.

"Hiss! Hiss!"

"Lord Hebor, how do you feel now?" The figure who had dug out the mound hurriedly helped the person in the wooden coffin sit up.

The one lying in the coffin was Hebor, who had been confirmed to be dead by Henry and others, and was buried by Morvyn himself.

Hebor shook his head and his voice sounded very weak. "That Henry is indeed not to be underestimated. He has such strength at such an age. He has chased me for tens of thousands of kilometres and didn't stop until I died. Thanks to the Pulse Locking Pill you gave me, I could enter a state of temporary death. Otherwise, I would really have died this time. This time, I owe you a favour."

If Henry were here, he would have been shocked by the scene in front of him. According to Morvyn, Andrew was not a threat, but now he was here and dug up the already dead Hebor.

"Lord Hebor, we're on the same frontline. There's no need to say that. That day, after you left, Morvyn sent more than ten commanders to kill me. If I hadn't prepared beforehand, I would have definitely died. But now, they think I'm dead. From now on, the two of us are their mortal enemies!" said Andrew with hatred.

"Bring me to heal first." Hebor sighed. "My strength has been greatly reduced after both of my hands were cut off. Based on my current condition, the revenge will have to wait."

"Don't worry, Lord Hebor. I've already contacted some brilliant people. There's still a chance for your hands to recover."

"Really?" Hebor's face lit up with joy. How could the hands that had been cut off recover?

"Bishop Hebor, with the gene skills of our Alvin League, you can rest assured." In the darkness, a figure walked over.

"The Alvin League!" Hebor's pupils constricted. "Andrew, you want to cooperate with the Alvin League?!"

"Lord Hebor, the enemy of the enemy is a friend. We can't go back to the Recluse Association right now. We have to find another backer," said Andrew with a smile.

Chapter 1077

The end of May was probably the best period for the entire Northwestern region of China.

At this time of year, there was no sand or wind, and the temperature was pleasant, not too hot or too cold.

In Yinzhou, it was slightly cool at night.

Henry, Sylvia, and Milan got off the plane side by side.

Henry took a deep breath. Although the air quality at the airport was not very high, it still made Henry feel like he was enjoying it.

"When I left, the earth was covered in snow, and now, it is already spring. It felt like it had been a long time." Henry sighed with emotion. He could never find this feeling of home when he was outside in Yinzhou.

Sylvia nodded slightly, "It's been a very long time."

"Haha." Henry laughed and said, "But the trouble has been solved. Enjoying life is more important. Honey, let's go home!"

As soon as Henry finished speaking, he picked up Sylvia and rushed out of the airport.

At this time there were many people at the airport looking their way.

Sylvia's pretty face turned red. She pounded Henry's shoulder with her fists, "Put me down. There are so many people watching."

"No." Henry shook his head firmly. "I'm holding my wife. They can watch all day long. What's the matter? Is it illegal for me to hold my wife?"

Seeing Henry's smug look, Sylvia knew that it was impossible for Henry to let her down. Sylvia was not as shameless as Henry, so she simply buried her head in Henry's chest.

"You two are so cheesy. Can't you take my feelings into consideration?" Milan followed Henry and complained. "I was about to get married, but you ruined my wedding."

"All right, all right, don't be a dissatisfied woman." Henry smiled and said, "If nothing, I'll introduce you to a tall, rich and handsome man, okay?"

Milan raised his eyebrows. "A dissatisfied woman? Henry, why don't you explain to me what you mean by a dissatisfied woman?"

As Milan spoke, she raised her hand and was about to hammer Henry.

Henry laughed and ran out of the airport with Sylvia in his arms.

These months have been too harsh for Henry. He went through too much killing. The moment he set foot on the land in Yinzhou, Henry felt his heart suddenly calm down.

Who would have thought that a ruthless character who had been in Holy City, chasing the bishop for tens of thousands of miles, would now look like this, having fun with others?

A vehicle had been waiting at the airport for a long time. When Henry got on the car with Sylvia in his arms, he found that the woman had fallen asleep. She was lying in his arms and breathing evenly, and her body was curling up subconsciously.

Henry sighed. He had also heard about what had happened to Sylvia and Milan recently.

The two girls were under house arrest by the Xiao Clan. Although they did not say anything, how could they not be afraid? Maybe they had not had a good rest over the past few months.

Henry touched Sylvia's soft long hair. He remembered Silas's words to him. "If you want the people behind you to be safe, you have to be strong and trample everything under your feet. When people hear your name, they need to tremble and fear. Otherwise, there will always be someone who wants to attack you. There will always be someone who thinks you are easy to bully, and there will always be someone who will deal with your family."

"Let's go home." Henry clenched the hand of the sleeping woman and whispered to the driver.

The villa located in Luxury Village had been unoccupied for three months. Henry entered the room with Sylvia, who was still sleeping. The room was covered with a thick layer of dust.

In the northwest, even if doors and windows were closed, there was no protection from the sand.

Henry shook his head. It seemed that they could not stay there tonight.

Looking at the time, it was only eleven o'clock in the evening. Henry chose the Maserati parked in the courtyard for a long time and threw the key to Milan. "Let's go to Lins mansion."

Milan, who subconsciously took the car key that Henry threw at her, was stunned.

"What are you looking at?" Henry opened the door and sat down with Sylvia in his arms. "My wife is sleeping in my arms. You drive."

Milan gnashed her teeth and said, "You better watch out when I get a boyfriend!"

Henry shrugged his shoulders and didn't say anything.

In spite of her resentment, Milan sat in the driver's seat and drove toward Lins mansion.

At this point, the streets in Yinzhou were empty. In more than 20 minutes, Milan drove into the courtyard of the Lin Family.

As Henry speculated, at this point, the lights in the mansion were still on, and Channing and Daisy, the two young people, began their nightlife at this point. Although they didn't go out to drink and have fun, they were still relaxing at home.

When Henry walked into the main hall with Sylvia in his arms, he saw Daisy, who suddenly screamed from excitement. Channing also ran out of his room in a hurry.

Nelson and other people who had already fallen asleep, also got up from the bed. Even Robert showed up.

Since the incident in the capital last time, Henry's position in the Lin Family was very important. Even Sylvia, who had been unhappy with Henry before, now looked at Henry with a smile.

Sylvia, who had been sleeping soundly in Henry's arms, woke up after hearing the excited voices of everyone.

"Sylvia, you must have dreamed of something delicious." Milan said in a sneaky voice as she moved closer to Sylvia.

"Delicious?" A look of doubt surfaced on Sylvia's pretty face.

Milan pointed to Henry's chest. It was the place where Sylvia had just buried herself in her sleep. The clothes on Henry's chest were all wet by Sylvia's saliva.

Sylvia's pretty face suddenly turned red. She hurriedly walked to Henry's side and stretched out her hand to grab his collar. "Come, give me the clothes."

Sylvia wanted Henry to take off his shirt as soon as possible. How embarrassing it would be to let others see her drool when she was sleeping.

To her surprise, as soon as Sylvia grabbed Henry's collar, Milan laughed and said, "Haha, Sylvia, I know you haven't seen each other for a long time, but don't be so anxious. You don't have to take off Henry's clothes as soon as you enter the door. What? You didn't like sleeping with me these few months?"

The direct words of Milan made Sylvia blush all of a sudden. She quickly took back her small hand that just grabbed Henry's collar and stood there, looking a little flustered.

The whole family burst out laughing. They hadn't seen each other for a long time, but they were a family, so they were unfamiliar with each other.

The Lin Family also knew that Sylvia had been missing for three months. This afternoon, when Sylvia got out of trouble, she contacted them and found an excuse that she had gone on a business trip. The Lin Family did not ask too much. After all, Sylvia was already capable of handling things on her own. If they asked too many questions, it would only add to their troubles.

Although it was late at night, the whole family was not sleepy because of the return of Sylvia and Henry. Sylvia even went to the kitchen to prepare some night snacks.

Henry looked out of the door and said, "You talk first, I'll go out for a walk."

After that, Henry walked out of the hall.

Chapter 1078

It was dead silent in the manor. There was a chirp coming from a planted tree in the courtyard.

After walking out of the hall, Henry looked at the dark sky. Tonight, dark clouds covered the moonlight.

A woman, dressed in a long white dress, sat on the treetop with her two slender legs exposed in the air, constantly swinging back and forth.

"During the Recluse Association Grand Meeting, you crushed all the inheritors of bishops and declared war with bishop Hebor. You and Morvyn killed countless Transformation Realm masters and nearly 20 Qi-concentrating Realm. Brother Henry, your achievement is really amazing."

She had silver long hair, which was soft as silk.

Her voice sounded playful, and it was not difficult to hear a kind of comfort from her voice.

Henry looked up at the woman sitting on the treetop. "You are quite well-informed."

The woman raised her silver hair and smiled. Everything around her was overshadowed by her smile.

"Brother Henry, the four major forces in the world have been inherited for more than two thousand years. In these two thousand years, which one of them do you think could avoid being penetrated by the other side? There are people from the other side in each of the four great forces, and none of them is inferior. What you've done in the Recluse Association, all three of them know."

Henry touched his nose and said, "It seems that I'm famous now."

Cesia jumped down from the treetop. Her eyes were like the Milky Way, which made people couldn't help but be immersed in them. She stood in front of Henry. The distance between them was less than 20 centimetres, and their eyes met.

In the eyes of Cesia, there was a kind of doubt and also a kind of heartache. "Brother Henry, is it worth it? During this Recluse Association Grand Meeting, you deliberately suppressed all the bishop candidates and killed one bishop. You just want to attract all the attention and put yourself in the centre of the storm. Do you want to protect the woman behind you? Now you don't have the power of bishop level at all, right? What you need is the time! You shouldn't stand out so early!"

Henry smiled and said, "Your task wasn't to come all the way here just to tell me this, right?"

Henry's face was full of smiles, but the meaning hidden in his words was full of indifference.

Task! Cesia was there because of her task!

A trace of anger flashed in Cesia's eyes, but soon she was forced to hold back, Cesia turned around and said, "My purpose of coming here this time is the same as last time. Now there is an underground palace in Yinzhou. The major forces, as well as several top clans, are acting in secret. But also they are ready to come out of the world. It can be expected that their next moves will be more sudden and violent. Give me the key to Emperor's Mausoleum, or explore the mausoleum with us, and I will tell you the secret of the clans, how about it?"

Henry shook his head and said, "I don't have the key."

"Brother Henry, you'd better think about it. You can relax for the time being. But I think the trouble will come sooner or later. Since you have made such a big trouble, it will not be easy to deal with the trouble that comes to you again."

Cesia turned her head and left Henry with a perfect side view, then leapt and disappeared into the night sky.

The moment when Cesia left, the dark clouds in the sky suddenly dissipated, and bright moonlight shone on the ground.

"Why are you standing here alone?" Sylvia's gentle voice came from behind Henry, "Come. The snacks are ready. We are waiting for you to go back to eat."

Sylvia stepped forward and took Henry's arm.

Henry nodded and followed Sylvia into the house. He found that several bowls of noodle soup had been placed on the table, and there were several simple cold dishes. Nelson and others were sitting at the table. When they saw Henry, they immediately waved their hands.

"Come on, Henry, come and sit down. Let's have a drink."

Henry took a look and found that his glass had been filled with wine.

The feeling of being coveted made Henry's heart warm. If Cesia was still here, Henry would definitely answer the question she just asked.

"Of course it's worth it to stand in the centre of the storm and protect the people behind me! They are all my family!"

Drinking was a very strange thing. When drinking with people with who one got along well, one would be able to stomach even the screws coved in the sauce. On the other hand, when drinking with people one didn't get along well, even the best delicacies would be difficult to stomach.

Today there were only a few small dishes, a bowl of plain noodles, but Henry and others were enjoying.

After few rounds of drinking, everyone was slightly drunk.

Nelson shook his head, looked at the empty glass in front of him and said, "I can't drink anymore. I can't drink anymore. I can't compare with you young people."

"Go rest." Sylvia's aunt sat at the side. "They still need some private time. They can't always be with us."

After she finished speaking, she kept winking at Sylvia.

How could Sylvia not know what her aunt meant? She blushed and almost buried her head under the table.

Nelson laughed out loud and said, "Haha, yes. We should leave some space for the young. Sylvia, take Henry to have a rest. We've had enough."

Sylvia lowered her head and replied. Her voice was like that of a mosquito's.

Sitting by the table, Milan was almost drunk. She casually said, "Henry, why don't you take your wife back to your room? Don't you want to take the initiative?"

Henry was really unable to resist the character of Milan. He quickly got up, grabbed Sylvia's hand, and ran to the room as if he was escaping.

In each room, there was a separate bathroom. As soon as Henry entered the door, he lay directly on the bed.

"You stink. Go take a shower." Sylvia dragged Henry from the bed.

Henry looked at the woman in front of him and felt happy in his heart. He got up and went to the bathroom. Just when he turned on the shower and got wet, he heard Sylvia's voice coming from outside the bathroom.

"Honey... Well, how about you don't take a bath?"

"Ah?" Henry was confused.

"I... I..." Sylvia said bashfully, "My period suddenly came."

The sound of the water flowing in the bathroom was continuous, but obviously, Henry's bathing speed slowed down a lot.

In the early morning, Henry came out of the bedroom with a gloomy face. A beautiful wife was next to him, and it was a night without anyone disturbing them. However, for Henry, it seemed that this thing did not go smoothly...

Chapter 1079

"Honey, I have to go to work today. Lisa is in the welfare home. You can go to accompany her today if you have nothing to do." Sylvia kissed Henry hard on the face. Seeing the bitterness in Henry's eyes, Sylvia pouted like a little woman. "Honey, I can't control this kind of thing. You should be able to endure for a little longer?"

"Endure?"

Henry couldn't help twitching his mouth.

"Sister, brother-in-law, breakfast is ready. Come and eat." Daisy saw the two people coming out of the bedroom and greeted them.

Sylvia giggled and pulled Henry to the dining room happily. She didn't know why, but when she saw Henry's depressed look, she felt exceptionally happy.

After breakfast, Sylvia went to the company with Milan. Milan had resigned from the imperial palace and wanted to work for Sylvia.

Henry curled his lips. This rich family's child was headstrong. With the current position of Ratings Group in Xi Du, she could live for dozens of lifetimes.

Henry, Sylvia, and Milan went out together. After taking the two girls to the company, he rushed to the welfare home. Henry had not seen Dean Cui and the others for a long time, so he couldn't imagine what they would do.

After Sylvia's reconstruction, the welfare institution had taken on a brand new look, and all the facilities were in perfect condition.

When Henry arrived at the welfare home, he saw the children standing on the playground, lining up in a neat formation and doing morning exercises with the light music.

At the front of the line, Jenny was wearing body-strengthening sportswear. A pair of slender legs were revealed, leading the children to make all kinds of movements. It was beautiful scenery.

Sitting in front of an outdoor stone table, Dean Cui looked at the children on the playground with a pleased smile in his eyes.

Henry silently walked to the side of Dean Cui and sat down. He smiled and said, "Dean, you look more and more energetic."

When Dean Cui heard Henry's voice, a look of surprise appeared on his face. "Henry! When did you come back?"

After the New Year, Dean Cui and the others came back and looked for Henry. But at that time, Henry had already left, which made Jenny lost for a long time.

"I just arrived last night, but it was too late. I didn't want to bother you." Henry smiled and said, and then he looked at the playground. "It seems that Jenny is almost a part-time associate dean now."

Dean Cui shook her head with a smile on her face. "It's not the vice dean. Now the dean of this welfare home is Jenny."

"Ah?" Henry was stunned for a moment.

"Jenny, this girl, is kind-hearted and likes children. After we returned from the capital, we went to the government to handle the formalities. Now I have retired and gave the welfare home to her. I am relieved that she can take care of these children better than I do." Dean Cui looked at Jenny with gratification.

Henry looked at Jenny, who was full of energy on the playground. In a trance, the scene of Jenny being locked up in Li's Village suddenly appeared in his mind. The helplessness and despair that the woman was trapped in the cage were like sharp thorns that stung Henry's heart.

Henry's eyes became fierce unconsciously, full of evil spirit. "The Li Clan... This matter must be solved!"

"Henry! Henry!" Dean Cui stretched out her hand and waved in front of Henry.

"Ah?" Henry quickly shook his head and dispelled the bloody scene that had just emerged in his mind.

"What's wrong with you?" Dean Cui looked Henry up and down. Just now, Henry gave her a very strange feeling and made her feel a bit afraid.

Henry shook his head and explained, "Nothing, I just thought of something."

After the explanation, Henry was puzzled in his own heart. "What happened to me just now? Why did I suddenly get so angry? And why do I have an impulse to find trouble with the Li Clan?"

At this time, the music in the playground had ended. The children cheered and ran away to play.

Standing in front of the team, Jenny looked at the place where Dean Cui was sitting. This glance made Jenny stunned.

"Dad!" A childish voice came. Lisa wore a small floral skirt. She cheered and ran to Henry's side, directly falling into Henry's arms.

Henry held her in his arms and then threw her high up.

The pair of lively big eyes smiled into the shape of a crescent moon. When she fell back into Henry's arms, her small lotus-root-like arms were tightly wrapped around Henry's neck, and she refused to let go.

"Dad, I missed you."

Lying in Henry's arms, she performed exceptionally intimately.

Henry stretched out his hand and rubbed her little head. She grew up in the welfare dean's office, and she was more mature than her peers.

"When did you come back?" Jenny's voice came from not far away.

The woman had already clenched her sweaty palm, which proved her current mood, but she still looked calm on the surface.

Henry put Lisa on the ground. He looked at Jenny and said with a smile, "I just arrived last night, and I came here to have a look. I heard that you have become the dean. Isn't the company on the right track?"

Jenny looked at the kids running around and said, "The company has a clear direction of development. Just leave it to someone to take care of it. I don't have too much ambition, as long as the company can run normally. As for myself, compared with doing business, I prefer to be with the kids. They are like little angels. Just looking at them makes me extremely happy."

Henry nodded. "By the way, I heard from Sylvia yesterday that kindergarten was completed. How is it going now?"

Dean Cui and Jenny, who were happy because of Henry's appearance, couldn't help sighing when they heard this sentence.

A hint of gloom appeared in Jenny's eyes. "It's all my fault."

When Dean Cui heard Jenny's words, she immediately got up and said, "How can you blame you? That guy threatened you with the children. Even if you agreed, I wouldn't!"

When Henry heard what Dean Cui said, he immediately realized that something was wrong. "Dean Cui, what happened?"

"It's nothing." Jenny quickly waved her hand and then changed the subject. "By the way, The Children's Day will be in two days. I'm going to do an event for the children. Do you have any good ideas?"

Henry could see through Jenny's words and looked at Dean Cui.

Dean Cui sighed. "Hey, Jenny, I don't want you and Sylvia to be in conflict."

"Conflict with Sylvia?" The more Henry listened, the more he felt strange. "Dean Cui, what is going on?"

Dean Cui looked at Jenny, who was standing on the side, full of remorse, and said, "Sylvia's kindergarten has been enrolling students. This girl, Jenny, went to help the children get through the formalities, but none of them was completed."
