

Chapter 570

"Fight back!" On the side of the mountain of the Tang family Citadel, the huge crossbow arrow began to shoot arrows. The helicopter in the sky was shot by an arrow and fell to the ground, causing a loud explosion.

Countless dense arrows were shot out from the mountain wall.

In the Tang family Citadel, there were traps everywhere.

The helicopter in the sky began to shoot fire.

The man in green slowly walked toward the Tang family Citadel. Some of the Tang clan's disciples shouted at him when they saw him. However, even before they were able to reach him, they were grabbed by throats and thrown away.

The man in green had a cold smile at the corner of his mouth. "This is boring. The Tang Clan is the most boring place. People here are too weak. It's not as fun as Radiant Island."

The patriarch of the Tang clan climbed out of the dust at a breakneck speed and jumped out of the Tang family Citadel. Just as he was about to attack the helicopter in the sky, he was stopped.

"Your opponent is here. Old man, don't be distracted."

The man in green appeared in front of the patriarch.

When the patriarch saw the man in green, his eyes narrowed. "Qi-controlling Realm!"

In a cave on a cliff in the Tang family Citadel, Henry could hear the sound outside the cave, but there was a huge stone blocking the entrance of the cave, so he couldn't see what was happening at all.

Violent explosions continued to ring out. As time went by, the lotus flower above Henry's head became more and more solid.

This was bound to be a sleepless night.

At dawn, the rumbling sound in the valley completely stopped. The rooster, which was supposed to scream in the early morning, did not make a sound today.

The whole Tang family Citadel was full of potholes. Corpses were everywhere, some of them belonged to Tang family disciples, and some belonged to the invaders.

The houses built on the mountain wall were all ruined at this moment, and the entire Tang family Citadel was destroyed entirely. The debris of countless helicopters fell on the ruins of the Tang family Citadel, proving the tragedy of last night.

There was a huge rock falling down from the mountain wall. The fierce battle almost caused both sides of the mountain wall to collapse.

There were nearly 300 Tang family members on the platform in front of the Tang family Citadel's gate. They were the only remaining members of the Tang clan, and all of them were covered in dust.

Uriah, who brought Henry here, was unconscious at this moment. His face was pale, and his back was stained with blood.

Teresa's face was also covered with dust, and there were many tiny wounds on her neck.

Ferdinand, the leader of the Tang clan, had lost an arm. His face was pale and bloodless. The reason why he was still able to stand here was because he was the master of Qi.

The patriarch sat cross-legged on the ground, with bloodstains all over his body. He was trying to recover.

The Second patriarch's hands were already black. She had produced a large amount of poison, and it was already beyond her limits.

There was also an older man whose arms were feebly hanging down at the moment. This was the Third patriarch of the Tang clan, who specialized in studying mechanical hidden weapons. At this moment, he had been disabled.

Everyone from the Tang family looked at the person in front of them with grief on their faces.

"Second Uncle, why?" A young man shouted in confusion.

The person who was called Second Uncle was the man in red from the Tang clan.

The man in red sneered, "The winner makes the call. The Tang Clan will decline sooner or later in the hands of this trash. It's better for me to carry it forward!"

"B*stard!" The Second patriarch said in a hoarse voice, "You are destroying the Tang clan!"

"So what?" The man in red's face was full of disdain. "Yesterday, my son was seriously injured. You, timid people, are willing to watch my son suffer and don't want to teach the outsider a lesson. It's okay to destroy this clan!"

"Young man, how is he doing now?" The Second patriarch was shocked. She had forgotten about Henry for such a big thing last night.

"He? He's already waiting for his death!" The man in red said with a disdainful smile.

The patriarch, who was sitting cross-legged there, slowly opened his eyes. "Our Tang clan has a long history and was always doing what was correct. Unexpectedly, such a thing happened today, and we couldn't keep you, Henry, safe. Our Tang clan's one-hundred-year reputation will be ruined."

"Old guy, don't talk nonsense. where is the thing?" The man in red stepped forward and stared at the patriarch.

The patriarch slowly shook his head. "Since the Tang clan is about to be destroyed, let it be destroyed together with us."

"Pa!" The man in red slapped the patriarch in the face.

"Old thing, don't play tricks with me!"

The slap from the man in red stunned everyone in the Tang clan.

"I'll kill you!" With scarlet eyes, Ferdinand shouted and rushed toward the man in red.

Before he rushed to the front, he was kicked away by the man in red.

"What are you? I've said a long time ago that even a dog would be a better leader of the Tang clan than you!" The man in red spat on the ground.

"All right." The man in green who was standing on the side said impatiently, "Leave your family business behind. Give me that thing!"

"Right away." The man in red responded, and then said to the patriarch, "I'll give you one last chance. Give me the thing, or I'll send someone to dig out the Tang clan's ancestral grave!"

"You!" Even the patriarch, who kept a straight face when had been slapped by the man in red, suddenly changed his look at the moment.

All generations were very respectful to their ancestors. The Tang clan, which had been passed down since ancient times, valued their ancestors even more.

"Don't doubt what I said. I'll give you one last chance. That thing or ancestral grave?" The man in red said again.

"B*stard! Beast!" The Third patriarch of the Tang family said and shook his head. "Our Tang family raised a beast."

The man in red snorted and said, "The winner takes it all. The weak will always find many excuses! Where is the thing?"

The Patriarch's face was full of sorrow.

So were the faces of all the Tang clan members on the platform. Some people couldn't believe that this was really happening. Last night, everything was fine, and everyone was still dreaming about the rise of the Tang clan in the joy of the valley full of Qi.

However, it had only been one night, and their hopes had been completely shattered. Everything was gone.

"The thing is.." The patriarch's face seemed to have aged in an instant. He looked at the ruins of the Tang family Citadel not far away. Just as he was about to speak, a loud noise came from the side of the mountain wall.

A huge rock burst directly from the mountain wall.

Seeing the crack on the mountain wall, the man in red's face changed. The middle-aged woman who followed behind him last night, as well as the man with the thin sword also looked at the mountain wall.

"Impossible!"

"How could this be?"

The eyes of both of them were full of disbelief. Last night, they tied Henry with the iron chain, which was made of dark steel and was extremely difficult to break from. No one could break free after being tied with it. How did he manage to do that!?

The sudden sound of the explosion made all the people in the valley, including the Tang clan members and the people brought by the man in green, look over there.

Henry shook his head and walked slowly to the entrance of the cave. The lotus that had been restricting him for two days finally disappeared!

Chapter 571

One night passed, and the lotus above Henry's head naturally dissipated. It did not really disappear. Henry tried, as long as his all muscles were used at the same time, the lotus would reappear on the top of his head. Different from being planted on his head before, now it would float 30 centimetres above his head. A curtain of Qi would fall from the lotus and protect Henry's whole body.

At this moment, Henry stood on the edge of the cliff and looked down. He finally knew what caused to the violent explosions last night. No wonder the man in red would be so bold to do that to him. He had planned to overthrow the Tang Clan.

"Young man!" The patriarch and the others exclaimed when they saw Henry.

Henry jumped lightly from the cliff and landed on the ground. The disappearance of the lotus made him feel relaxed.

He jumped like a bird and landed not far away from the platform.

"Young man, my friend, get out of here!" The patriarch shouted. This was the matter of the Tang clan. He really didn't want to involve Henry. The reputation of the Tang clan that was built for hundreds of years could be destroyed in an instant.

"Run away?" The man in red sneered. "Could you run away?"

"Who said I'm going to run away?" Henry shook his head and looked at the man in red curiously.

The man in red opened his arms and sneered. "Haha, do you think you can fight against so many of us just because you had entered the Qi-controlling Realm?"

Behind the man in red, there were still dozens of helicopters flying, and hundreds of people wearing white masks around, and the weapons in each of their hands were covered with blood.

On the man in red's face, there was absolute confidence! The Tang family disciples on the platform all shook their heads. Even if Henry were a god, it would be impossible for him to reverse the situation by himself.

"Boy, make your own choice. Hand over the thing or I will disable you, and then interrogate slowly?" The man in red's eyes flashed with coldness. "Otherwise, what do you think you can do alone?"

"He's not alone." The man in green standing not far away from the man in red suddenly spoke.

The man in red suddenly turned around and looked at the man in green in confusion.

The man in green took two steps forward, and his burnt face faced Henry. "The Conqueror, I think that your people are not far away."

"The Conqueror? What do you mean?" The way that man in green addressed Henry puzzled the man in red.

The patriarch on the platform suddenly narrowed his eyes when the man in green spoke. "The Conqueror, is he..."

Before the patriarch came to his senses, Henry let out a long howl.

The roar went straight to the sky, full of strong penetrating power, making people feel pain in their eardrums. Some of the weaker disciples of the Tang family unconsciously reached out their hands to cover their ears.

With this roar, a white figure appeared above the valley. Her long robe floated up, and she looked like a mystic fairy falling from the sky dressed in a white silk cloth.

Henry looked at the figure in the air. Who else can be except Future?

Behind Future, there were countless black dots gathered. Like Future, they flew from the sky. The paraglider allowed them to travel freely through the valley. There were more than a thousand dots.

Before the black dots fell on the ground, they started firing and went straight to the people who were wearing white masks. There was no need to waste time.

Behind Future, four barrels stretched out and fired at the same time. The flames rushed to four different directions and directly knocked down four hovering helicopters.

The war was about to break out.

The burning fire spread to the sky and made people feel a stream of heat spreading through the valley.

"The Conqueror, I don't know if you still have that kind of potion today!" The corners of the man in green's mouth curled up, and he rushed to Henry.

Last time, when Henry took the liquid, he became so powerful that the man in green couldn't defeat him. He didn't think that Henry would still have the liquid that could make people become so powerful in an instant. The side effects must be enormous. And that kind of strong drug could not be produced quickly.

"I don't need it to kill you." Henry's eyes turned cold. When the man in green rushed in front of him, Henry suddenly made a move. With a simple movement, he easily grabbed the man in green's throat.

"Impossible!" The pupils of the man in green shrank.

In just one move, he was grabbed by The Conqueror. It was unreal. It had been less than a month since the last battle between the two of them. At that time, he could easily crush The Conqueror. But this time... How could this be possible?!

"I said, I don't need it to kill you." Henry's mouth curved into a smile. Last time, when the man in green used Qi, Henry couldn't even see his actions clearly. But now, in his eyes, he was as slow as a snail.

Seeing this, the patriarch took a deep breath. He had fought with the man in green last night, so he was very clear about his opponent's strength. Even he was no match for him.

But now, just in a face-to-face fight, he was defeated by the young man.

It turned out that he had been hiding his strength from the beginning!

The disciples of the Tang family also swallowed hard.

They had seen the man in the green shirt fight last night. He was definitely the strongest person present, but he was no match for Henry at all. How strong was Henry? He was just as old as them!

Henry grabbed the man's Adam's apple and pinched it hard. With this action, the man's pupils suddenly contracted, and then gradually dispersed. His whole body suddenly became weak.

A master of Qi-controlling Realm, a master who couldn't be defeated by Henry a month ago, died in Henry's hands just by one simple move and was absolutely outclassed by Henry.

"How could it be! Impossible!" The man in red and the other two shook their heads in disbelief. They had fought with Henry last night. How could this happen?

The helicopters in the sky were constantly exploding. In the terrain of this valley, the mobility and flexibility of the helicopters were far from the Reapers using paragliders. Future stepped on the flames and changed her flying styles freely. She could destroy these helicopters by herself.

After numerous Reapers landed on the ground, they did not waste any time talking. Instead, they drew out their swords from behind their waists and charged at those who were wearing white masks.

Henry threw the man in green whose throat had been squashed to the side and looked at the man in red with a smile. "Do you think I need to run away?"

The man in red looked at Henry in front of him and was afraid. He shouted, "I'll kill you!"

The man in red knew that he had no way back. There was no other way but to risk his life. However, because of the huge gap of strength, no matter how hard he tried, he could not reverse the situation.

Chapter 572

The fight lasted only ten minutes from the beginning to the end.

When all the helicopters hovering in the sky fell, the people wearing white masks were beheaded, and the man in red was lying in a pool of blood, the people of the Tang clan finally realized what had happened.

They looked at Henry who was standing not far ahead. Ferdinand, the leader of the Tang Clan, was glad that he didn't listen to the slander and that he was not greedy for the Spiritual Stone. Otherwise, if he were to attack this young man, the Tang clan would be really destroyed!

In the crowd, Teresa looked at Henry. She still remembered that when she first met Henry, she was even thinking about how to teach him a lesson and how to snatch the stone from him. But now she found out how naive she was at that time. She was also from a young generation, but her achievements could not be compared with Henry's. Even young people from other clans could not compare with him.

The middle-aged woman who had attacked Henry last night, as well as the man with the thin sword, knelt on the ground, begging for mercy.

"Patriarch, we were fooled, please have mercy." The man with the thin sword kept kowtowing to the patriarch. The middle-aged woman was full of remorse. Who would have thought that an outsider would destroy the perfect plan!

Who would have thought that such a young man was the Conqueror with such terrifying strength?

The patriarch shook his head. Just as he was about to speak, a bloody mist burst out.

"Sorry, I don't intend to spare you." Henry shook his head. After his voice fell, two headless bodies slowly fell in front of him.

At this moment, the battle was over completely.

The death of thousands of people caused the whole Tang family Citadel to be filled with a strong smell of blood. Some people were initially highly concentrated, but now as soon as they relaxed, they were immediately affected by the strong smell of blood and retched.

The patriarch of the Tang clan looked at his own descendants who kept retching, and then looked at Henry, who looked calm and sighed in his heart.

The patriarch slowly walked up to Henry. "Young man, if it weren't for you, the consequences of this incident would be unimaginable. I bow to you!"

As the patriarch spoke, he held his hands in front of his chest and kneeled on one knee.

"Patriarch, please don't." Henry quickly held the Patriarch up.

"Young man, you saved our Tang clan!" The patriarch insisted on kneeling.

Henry showed a trace of anger on his face. "Patriarch, you are looking down on me by doing this. The Tang clan and I have been allies since we made the deal. Allies help each other whenever there is a need for that.

Why should we thank each other? It's supposed to be like this."

"We're... allies..." Henry's words stunned the Patriarch.

"What? Does Patriarch think I am unworthy of being his ally?" Henry deliberately showed an angry expression.

"Young man, I can't agree to this!" The Patriarch sighed heavily.

Although the Tang clan had existed for a long time, their current strength was definitely not as good as Henry's.

What's more, what the man in green called Henry just now reminded the patriarch of another thing. He remembered that many people kept mentioning a name during the clan competition. That name was the Conqueror.

At that time, when they mentioned this name, most of them showed disdain on their faces, thinking that they were just a social organization.

However, the patriarch knew that they did that just out of the self-consolation. Since they had mentioned it, they must have attached great importance to the Conqueror. It was absolutely a good thing for the Tang clan to form an alliance with the Conqueror.

"Boss, what should we do now?" Future came over from Henry's back.

Henry said to the patriarch, "Patriarch, you can't stay in Tang family Citadel. So many people have died, and soon there will be another group of people coming to fight with you. I think you should move on, like move to another place."

"Another place?" The patriarch's face was gloomy. "Young man, that is complicated. The clan doesn't have contact with the outside world. It's not easy to find another place."

"I have a proposal." Henry's eyes lit up. "Have you heard of Radiant Island? "

"Radiant Island?" The patriarch was unfamiliar with this place.

At noon, the sun was shining, and there was still a strong smell of blood in the valley.

Dozens of transport helicopters took off from the valley, facing the blazing sun.

Those helicopters were full of people from the Tang clan. After this battle, there were less than 400 people left in the Tang clan. Everyone's face was full of sadness.

As the helicopters soared into the sky, there was an explosion above the valley. Numerous rocks cracked from the mountain walls and fell into the valley.

Not far away from Mountain City, people could hear what was happening there, and the earth shook for a short time because of this.

After shaking, the valley was completely buried, and all the traces of the Tang clan disappeared under the huge rocks. Unless the earth's surface changed, the world could no longer see the Tang family Citadel.

In the helicopter.

Some young people from the Tang clan were wondering where they were going.

"I heard from the patriarch that we are going to a place called Radiant Island?"

"Radiant Island? I've never heard of it before."

"Is that a good place for us?"

"I don't know. I'm afraid that because it's a new place, we need to start from scratches."

The younger generation of the Tang clan was puzzled, so were the higher-ups of the Tang clan, including the Patriarch. They had never heard of the island, and they had never been there.

In the helicopter where the patriarch was, a high-level member of the Tang clan frowned. "Patriarch, do you think that Radiant Island is suitable for us?"

The patriarch sighed. "We'll talk about it when we see it."

"Patriarch, our clan has never been in contact with the outside world. If the island is full of people, it will not be a good thing for us."

"Yes," another high-level member said, "and with this lesson, the place we are going to look for next must be super well-hidden and have good defence measures. Patriarch, these problems have to be considered."

The patriarch nodded and shook his head. "These things are indeed crucial, but now, we have to find a place to stay first."

These helicopters were all modified by Future, so those could travel at a very high distance.

The battle lasted for an entire night. Everyone was exhausted and fell asleep unknowingly.

Flying in the helicopter, Future, who was sitting next to

Henry, asked: "Boss, are you really going to arrange all these people to stay on the island?"

"Yes." Henry nodded. "Is there any problem?"

"Boss, I think you've planned this beforehand, haven't you?" Future squinted her eyes. "You've not closed your mouth since we took off."

"Haha." Henry laughed and patted Future shoulder. "Girl, you'll be busy for a while."

Chapter 573

Future couldn't understand why Henry said that she was going to be busy.

Henry smiled mysteriously. It was not purely out of good intention that he brought the people of the Tang clan to Radiant Island. Now the strength of the island was in urgent need of improvement. This was not only because he was eager for the ten kings to be improved, but also because everything needed to be improved.

Everything included everyone's strength, their knowledge of Qi, and the defence of the island.

The patriarch of the Tang family could offer help to the island. He was not as simple as a master of Qi-controlling. The patriarch could solve everything that was incomprehensible about the Qi.

There was a saying: "It's better to listen to people's words than to read for years". Some of the patriarch's understanding of Qi could save people a lot of misunderstanding.

After all, the patriarch was the only one who had the Qi in the Tang clan. He had lived for decades and knew a lot of things.

If the clan moved to Radiant Island, people from the island would be able to enjoy the Qi through the Energy Emitting Formation. If they were lucky enough to have a few more masters of Qi-controlling Realm, their strength would be improved by leaps and bounds.

The last point was the most valuable for Henry.

The Tang clan's inheritance of poison and hidden weapons were definitely the best among all the clans. Their hidden weapons were mentioned in countless TV shows and novels. If they could be mentioned like this, it was not groundless. If it could be applied to the fortifications of Radiant Island, it would definitely make Radiant Island impenetrable.

Henry could even imagine how effective Future's high-tech would be combined with the most sophisticated hidden weapons of the Tang clan.

Time passed by.

When the dozens of helicopters arrived at the sky above Radiant Island, the sun was just rising.

On the helicopter where the patriarch was, the pilot let out a sound through the microphone.

"Attention, everyone. We are about to land."

The voice of the pilot rang in the ears of the patriarch and others. When they woke up from their sleep, they opened their eyes in a daze and looked out of the window. Below them, there was an endless sea. The deep blue sea water met with the sky, and they could not see the end of the sky.

Looking ahead, there was an island. Around the island, there was a high black wall. The dark colour made people feel depressed.

Through the window, the patriarch and others looked at the high walls around the island and couldn't help opening their mouths wide. The work amount needed to build this high wall was enough to shock them.

Above the high wall, the four radars were slowly rotating, and countless barrels slowly stretched out from the high wall and aimed at each helicopter. The black barrels made people feel cold and powerless.

The high-level member of the Tang clan, who was saying that Radiant Island might not be suitable for them, was shocked at this moment. He muttered incredulously, "This is... Radiant Island, isn't it?"

Compared with the valley before, the defence fortifications of Radiant Island were much stronger. The sea around Radiant Island itself avoided most of the risks.

Although Tang's people lived in the valley, it didn't mean that they didn't know anything. They knew very well what the radar was used for.

If the situation had been the same as yesterday, those helicopters would have all crashed before they were within 300 meters of the fortifications.

The thick wall slowly opened, and the helicopters passed through the gap and came to Radiant Island.

As soon as they passed the wall, they could see the blooming flowers on the island. The island gave people a sense of real nature. The green plants spread all over the island, forming many beautiful gardens.

Some people said that if the island were open to the public, it would definitely be the world's most beautiful tourist attraction.

Clear water, mountains, thousands of blooming flowers were spreading their fragrance, the birds' twittering around. It was just magnificent.

Flying birds rested on the treetop. When the countless birds felt the helicopter's airwave rolls, they soared into the sky, forming a beautiful scenery.

Before they came here, the people of the Tang clan had imagined how Radiant Island looked like. They guessed that it might be a deserted path. Everything would be minimalistic there, and they assumed that they would have to live with a large number of people. However, they never thought that it was such a fairyland!

On the ground, a child with a corolla was running, with a happy smile on his face.

The island was something out of this world.

"Is this Radiant Island?" Teresa was lying in front of the window and looking at the girl on the island. She was standing on the beach, dancing in the sea breeze.

Dozens of helicopters slowly landed.

When the cabin door opened, the people of the Tang clan walked out. Almost everyone who came down was looking at the island.

The huge fortifications, beautiful scenery, superior geographical position, everything was beyond their expectation.

An older man had been waiting here for a long time. When the people of the Tang clan got off, he strode over and said in Chinese, "Patriarch, welcome to Radiant Island. From today on, this is your home. Let me introduce myself. I am the major-domo of this island. You can call me Peze."

"Greeting, Mr. Peze." The patriarch stretched out his hand to him.

The two of them shook each other's hands and said, "Patriarch, the trip was long, and I have already prepared rooms for all of you. You can have a rest first. I'll introduce the island to you after the meal. Please!"

"Thank you." The patriarch gave a fist and palm salute to the front of Peze.

Before they came here, Henry had already told Peze that everything should be ready on the island and that no one could treat the people of the Tang clan badly.

If there were no accident, from today on, Tang Clan and Radiant Island would be completely bound together.

This was a big step for Radiant Island, a big step toward forming a clan. When the Tang clan completely merged into the island, Radiant Island would not only be the holy land of the underground world.

The disciples of the Tang clan followed behind Peze and looked at the island with curiosity and longing. They lived in the valley for so long and had very few opportunities to leave the clan. These things were totally new to them.

"Patriarch, you can ask Peze for anything you need. I hope you can live here comfortably." Henry walked to the patriarch and smiled at him. "The environment here is a little different from that of Tang family Citadel. I hope you can adapt to it slowly."

"Young man, what are you talking about? For our Tang Clan, this is the best outcome. If it weren't for you, I really don't know what would happen to us," the patriarch said sincerely.

"Patriarch, we are allies. Let's have a good rest first."

Radiant Island prepared three different places for the Tang clan to choose from.

Henry didn't relax until all the people of Tang's clan settled down. This meant that the Tang clan could accept this place.

"Boss, bad news. Future is arguing with the Third patriarch of the Tang clan." As soon as Henry just found a place to rest, he saw the strong black man, Alex, running over in a hurry.